WOODWORK

BY DALTON

AUTO WORKERS who currently are trying to get a new contract with the nation's big car makers aren't asking for the moon this time. They would consider settling for the stars and all the rest of the galaxy.

I've always been for the little man, since I'm one myself, but somehow I can't generate much sympathy for a bunch of guys who are averaging $7,500 a year, who already have guaranteed sick leave and retirement pay, and who want a guaranteed 39 minutes a day for coffee breaks out of the 8-hour schedule.

Granting that the auto manufacturers are making money, we all know that any increase the workers get will be passed along to the poor guys who already have to go $99 a month for 48 months to buy a car which is sure to break down before it's paid for.

ONE-WOULD judge from some of the recent race incidents reported from Mississippi and Alabama that the officers in those states couldn't find a fat man in a telephone booth. Of course, the real reason is that they don't want to. When something happens to somebody they don't like, they don't exactly break their necks trying to enforce the law.

IT HAS BEEN predicted that in the next ten years, 38,000 Americans—an average of one person from each household in the country—will be killed or injured in a traffic accident.

CAN YOU SWIM? Surprisingly, at least half the people in the nation would drown if they had to swim for their lives. Last year, 6,500 persons drowned, and about 50 per cent of all people are nonswimmers. National safety officials are urging all Americans—adults as well as children—to learn to swim.

This I suppose is a good idea, even if some of us do look sort of like King Farouk in a swimming suit.

W. L. FOUST HONORED AT BIRTHDAY DINNER

W. L. Foust was honored with a birthday dinner Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Beauchamp of Bovina. It was Mr. Foust's 82nd birthday.

Weekend guests in the Foust home included their children, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Workman of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Foust Jr. of Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beauchamp, Gary, Karen and Michael of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. George Whitworth, Kirk and Karla of Lubbock; their grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Foust and Connie Jo of Morton; their nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Foust, Diann, Linda, Wanda of Fort Worth.

back on its word to the taxpayers in this district. When the board pushed hard last year for passage of Senate Bill 116, a measure which allows the board to set the tax rate at whatever amount is necessary to operate the schools, taxpayers in the district were promised that this would eliminate any necessity for a general increase in valuations. However, action of Southwestern Public Service Co. since that time may force the board to bring in professional appraisers to re-evaluate all property in the district with the almost certain result being that farm land in particular would be increased considerably in valuation for tax purposes.

The board doesn't want to do it, but SWPS claims it is paying more than its fair share of school taxes in the district and has hinted at possible legal action to force the school board to re-evaluate.

We all hope that neither court action or re-evaluation is necessary, and that some kind of compromise which will be fair to everyone concerned can be worked out, perhaps at next week's meeting of school officials with SWPS representatives.

ALL-STARS PLAY FRIDAY — Shown here are the Intercity Little League All-Stars. The All-Stars are scheduled to play at 8 p. m. Friday at Plainview against the winner of the Olton-Muleshoe game Thursday. If the Sudan-Amherst team wins, it will be in the finals Saturday. (Staff Photo)

Cynthia Withrow To Aid Teen Magazine

Miss Cynthia Withrow of Route 1, Sudan, Tex., has been selected by the editors of TEENAGE CHRISTIAN magazine to serve on the TEENAGE CHRISTIAN Advisory Council.

Miss Withrow is one of 10 teenagers from across the nation who were selected for the position on a competitive basis. Applicants were required to submit to the editors an essay on a topic of their own choosing and a brief biographical sketch.

As a member of the Advisory Council, Miss Withrow will serve TEENAGE CHRISTIAN in an editorial and advisory capacity for two years. The primary function of the 10 Council members will be to reflect to the editors current trends of teenage thinking and interests.

Miss Withrow is a junior at Sudan High School where she is a member of the Future Homemakers of America and is in the school Pep Squad. She is a member of the Church of Christ.

TEENAGE CHRISTIAN is a monthly magazine published by Fidelity Press, Box 1739, Abilene, Tex. Now in its 5th year of publication, it has more than 8,000 subscribers in the U. S. and overseas.

Dyanne Curry has returned home after attending the first summer semester at Tech. Other college students home during the weekend included Linda Williams, who returned to the University of Texas for the second summer semester, and Kandy Miller who attended the first semester.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burck of Langhorn, Penn., visited this week in the homes of his sister, Mrs. Marvin Tollett and family, and with his mother, Mrs. L. R. Burck.

Sudan school board and tax equalization board, faced with a many-horned dilemma regarding valuations of property for school tax purposes in the district, will meet with representatives of the complaining Southwestern Public Service Co. next Tuesday night.

The school board, meeting Monday night, heard the recommendation of the equalization board that the district should have a re-evaluation of all property within the district as soon as possible. The school board did not act on the recommendation, but did talk with a professional appraiser who is to submit an estimate of the cost of such a re-appraisal.

The whole issue of tax valuations in the district was brought up several weeks ago by Southwestern Public Service Co., which had its own survey made by a reportedly independent firm. The report was shown to the board and used by SWPS officials to support their claim that the power company is paying more than its fair share of school taxes within the district.

Ice Cream Supper Set

The Senior class of 1964-65 of Sudan High School is giving an ice cream supper Saturday, July 18, 1964 at the Community Center from 4 until 7 p. m.

A 50¢ ticket will entitle you to all the ice cream and cake you can eat.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from any member of the senior class.

Mr. and Mrs. Macky Ballard visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cole in Lubbock.

Mrs. Arnold McManus of Key West, Florida arrived the first of the week for a month's visit with her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Slate and Mr. and Mrs. Lester LaGrange of Amherst.

John Dean has been confined to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Mrs. J. A. Graves visited last week in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Randell Gilcrease in Lubbock.

Visiting during the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graves were Mr. and Mrs. Don Graves and children of Albuquerque. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Randell Gilcrease, Mr. and Mrs. Don Graves, and J. A. Graves were at Alamogordo Lake.

SWPS officials at that time told the board that the appraisers' survey showed most farm land in the district was being taxed on an average of about 16 per cent of its actual market value, rather than the 25 per cent it is supposed to be taxed on. This, said the power company, was because farms in the district are listed at a total value much less than they are actually worth.

(At the time of that meeting, the company's contentions on values of farm land as compared with values of power companies drew considerable argument from board members, especially those in the farming occupation.)

The company said its own Plant X was being taxed at about 25 per cent of actual value. It noted, however, that some urban property in Sudan is taxed at an even higher rate, based on the survey's judgment of what property is really worth.

In other action Monday, the school board accepted the resignations of three teachers and hired four new teachers, which still leaves five vacancies at the present, according to Supt. W. E. Hancock. Resignations were accepted from Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moore, who will teach at Sanford-Fritch, and from Kermit L. Sorrells, who has accepted the position of elementary principal at Smyer schools.

Tex Paris of Lubbock, who appeared before the board, was hired as high school social studies teacher. Also hired were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowen of Marble Falls, who will teach high school math and fourth grade, respectively, and Mrs. O. C. Terrell of Lubbock, first grade.

Still needed are teachers for first, second and fourth grades, high school English-Speech, and high school English-Spanish.

The board authorized repairs on the backstops of the school tennis courts and indicated that it would look favorably toward construction of new courts, possibly this fall, provided the district does not suffer too much financially in the upcoming talks with the power company.

August 31 was set as the first day of school this fall, with no time out for Labor Day. A one-day holiday is planned during the Pashville-South Plains Fair at Lubbock and a two-day Thanksgiving holiday was set.

County Has 14 Rural Smashups

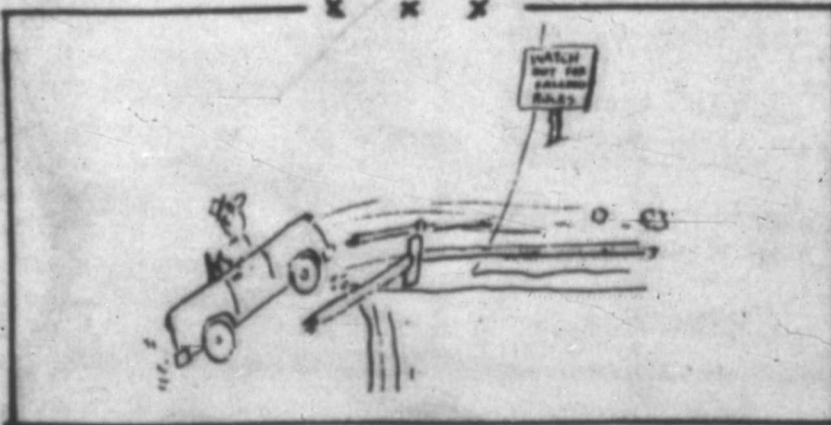

The Highway Patrol investigated 14 rural traffic accidents in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one death, two injuries, and estimated property damage of $10,620.

The rural traffic accident summary in Lamb County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 62 crashes resulting in six persons killed, 21 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $59,875.00.

"As of July 3, there had been a total of 1,060 fatal crashes in Texas taking the lives of 1,288 persons," the Sergeant stated. This is 174 more traffic deaths than for the same period of 1963. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities, not only exceeding the 1963 all time high of 2,729 deaths but going over the 3,000 fatality mark.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor stated, "This is not just a probability, but a possible reality, unless the motoring public becomes more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws which would break the rising trend."

CAPROCK BOLL WEEVIL FIGHT CONTINUES

Light boll weevil infestations exist in at least two areas above the Caprock.

During the last ten days punctured squares have been found above the Caprock in Dickens County about 14 miles east of Crosbyton and also approximately 7 miles south of Crosbyton in Crosby County. It is likely other infestations may show up soon, says county agent, W. R. Kimbrough.

These light weevil populations now appearing above the Caprock should be controlled at once in order to prevent a buildup and spread of the weevils. Most of these early populations above the Caprock are confined to small areas and can be controlled without spraying the entire field.

Light boll weevil populations are present in Garza, Wilbarger, Jones, Fisher, Nolan, Motley and Dickens counties below the Caprock. Punctured square counts are increasing in these counties.

In order to avoid the heavy populations and late season migration which occurred last year, good control measures must be carried out above and below the Caprock. The success of a diapause control program this fall may depend on how well the boll weevil infestations are contained during the season.

DOMESTIC ALLOTMENTS

The effects of bad weather may have caused some farmers to revert to the domestic allotment, which in most cases is 67 percent of the farm's effective allotment. For farms with allotment of 15 acres or less, the domestic allotment is the same as the regular allotment.

The farmer who is within his domestic allotment will be eligible for a price support loan based on 30 cents a pound, middling 1 inch at average location plus 3.5 cents a pound x the normal yield x the planted acreage not in excess of the domestic allotment.

Acreage not planted to cotton because the producer chose the domestic allotment plan may be planted to other crops and harvested (except that the farmer's acreage of feed grains may not exceed the feed grain base if the farm has an effective allotment of more than 15 acres,) thus providing an additional source of income.

Any farmer that may desire this plan and is now in excess of the Domestic Allotment should let the ASCS Office know by August 15, 1964.

COOL CAFE AU LAIT LOAF

Warm weather desserts should be as light as a breeze, cool as a running brook and refreshing as a summer shower. Cafe au lait loaf which uses coffee with chicory as an ingredient to give it a new flavor dimension is light, cool and uncomplicated. The rich creaminess of evaporated milk creates a smoothness in texture, so desirable in this type of dessert, and adds valuable nutrients as well.

CAFE AU LAIT LOAF

- (Makes 8 servings)
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 3 tablespoons instant coffee with chicory
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 3 eggs, separated
 - 1 1/2 cups water
 - 1/2 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 24 chocolate wafers

Mix together gelatin, 1/4 cup sugar, instant coffee with chicory and salt in saucepan. Blend in egg yolks, then water. Cook and stir over medium heat until gelatin dissolves and mixture coats a metal spoon. Chill until slightly thickened. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges (10 to 15 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice; whip very stiff (about 2 minutes). Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar, beating until stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture, then whipped evaporated milk. Spread 1/4 of mixture in a waxed-paper lined 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Cover with 8 wafers. Repeat layers ending with coffee mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold and remove waxed paper. Garnish with whipped topping, if desired.

As the perfect partner to the chilled dessert loaf, hot coffee with chicory, served either black with a twist of lemon, or with a cinnamon stick, will give guests a choice of their favorite brew.

QUESTION

Do you find you can eat within your budget at the World's Fair?

THE ANSWERS

Mr. J. A. Sewell, Melbourne, Fla.—auto mechanic; Outside Chun King.

"It depends on your budget. At Schaefer's we had a sandwich, and it was pretty good. You can't do much sit-down eating, but oh, you can see there are six of us. This is our first visit, and we haven't been to see many exhibits, but I feel anyone can "sandwich" and "hot dog" here without it costing too much."

Mrs. Hazel Meyer, Santiago, Calif.—Retired; Meadow Lake Bridge.

"You sure can, I did. I had a hamburger for lunch and it was delicious. For dinner I had a Chinese dinner, and it was inexpensive. You just sniff those places out as we did while on a bus tour of the Fair grounds."

Scripture: I Corinthians 4:1-2; St. Matthew 25:15.
"To every man according to several ability..."
In thinking of talents, there is the talent of "peacemaking". Did you know that peacemakers get very little notice or glory, in this world, but Jesus said "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall see God." What credit, or reward, or glory could be greater. So when one of you can figure in a loving way to bring about peace where you are—remember, Jesus knows. Then there is the talent of being able to bring out the best in others—maybe never talking so much, as just in God's own fashion, to be able to make others feel that they can do, and will do, something for Jesus. Then the talent of healing, and there are many wonderful doctors and surgeons in this world. Where do you, or where do they think they got their talent of healing? Someday God will ask, "What did you do with the talent or talents which I gave you?" There is the talent of giving a smile to a fellow who needs a friend. There is the talent of listening; the talent of prayer—being able to pray as God wants us to pray "according to our several ability..." The talent of business ability, "a natural born business man" the world says. The talent of singing, or of music; the talent of teaching; the talent of understanding many mysteries, knowledge and wisdom; the talent of tongues—many languages—the gift of speaking them. The gift, or talent, of prophecy — one of the largest combined number of talents—and a responsibility in speaking for God leaves one without a word to describe it. Humbleness, I think, comes closest. Perhaps, the talent that all of us have from God, is the ability to love, and to show love, to a world that is so full of hate. All other things fail, but "Love never faileth." It is true that some are richer in gifts, or talents, from God than others—but that is no credit to the gifted ones, except to be thankful, and to use those gifts, remembering that God is the Giver. There is a product on the market these days that is called a Soil Cleanser (Corilliam, I believe is the name of it) when used it both cleanses and restores the soil so that it increases the fruitfulness, or the yield, 100 percent. Through prayer and meditation the Holy Spirit cleanses our hearts anew and as our talents are dedicated and used for Him, He increases the yield, or the fruitfulness. Our job is to be Steward over the talents God has given us. And, all of us, each of us has a talent. Let us remember the words of our young people's song: You have a Talent Use it for the Lord— If you do not use it You will surely lose it. So—you have a Talent Use it for the Lord.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.—(Matt. 5:9).

The more we promote peace personally, the more we contribute to peace universally. The more we eradicate fear, hatred, and intolerance from our own heart, the more we help to eradicate them from the world.

Fleet Feature Service

A Polaris submarine has returned to the United States, completing the first phase of what is probably the most remarkable military weapon system ever devised.

The submarine is the nuclear powered fleet ballistic missile firing USS GEORGE WASHINGTON (SSBN 598), the first to carry POLARIS missiles.

Gone from the United States for the past three and one third years, the WASHINGTON spent a total of more than two years beneath the surface of the ocean, hidden from friend and foe alike.

The ship returned to New London, Connecticut June 11 for an overhaul which will double her missile striking range. She will by then have completed 15 two month deterrent patrols. During her patrols 14 of the WASHINGTON's 16 missiles have been ready to fire 100% of the time, 15 have been ready over 99% of the time and 16 have been ready 95% of the time.

It was to the GEORGE WASHINGTON and her sister ships that the late President Kennedy referred during the Cuban missile crisis when he said: "... I don't think there is a danger that we fire based on incomplete and inaccurate information... I think the Polaris alone permits us to wait and to make sure that we are going to have sufficient (retaliatory missiles) in hand..."

WASHINGTON was the first of a planned force of 41 FBM submarines. By the end of this year these submarines will be operating in the Pacific as well as the Atlantic and Mediterranean. The entire force will be operational in 1967.

Returns to drydock by GEORGE WASHINGTON does not mean her job is finished. On the contrary, after she has been overhauled she will be a much improved submarine with at least 15 years of life left.

While in the yard at the Electric Boat Company in New London the WASHINGTON will be outfitted for the newest version of the Polaris missile, the 2,880 mile range A-3. She now carries the 1,380 mile A-1 Polaris.

One of five submarines of her class, the WASHINGTON is 389 feet long and displaces about 5,900 tons. There are two larger classes of FBM submarines, ETHAN ALLEN and LAFAYETTE. Each submarine carries 16, ready-to-fire POLARIS missiles. All FBM submarines are powered by water-cooled nuclear reactors.

WASHINGTON was a unique ship from the beginning. She was actually laid down as the USS SCORPION but the urgency of the POLARIS program made it necessary to cut her in two and add a 130 foot mid-section to house the missile tubes.

She was the first submarine to launch a POLARIS missile, proving it could be done on July 20, 1960. Her deployment for operational patrol later in 1960 was three years ahead of schedule.

Though WASHINGTON has been gone from this country for well over three years, her crew has not. Like all FBM submarines, the WASHINGTON has two complete crews, called Blue and Gold. The crews alternate on long deterrent patrols with the off-duty crew returning to homeport in the United States for scheduled leave periods and refresher training.

By use of two crews and submarine tenders anchored overseas, the Navy gets maximum use of each Polaris submarine.

Commander E. W. Cooke of Fond, Iowa is skipper of the Blue crew, now missing the submarine, and Captain D. P. Brooks of Orange, California, commands the Gold crew. Each crew has about 120 officers and men.

ALERT — A torpedoman stands watch in the forward torpedo room aboard the USS GEORGE WASHINGTON, first of the nation's Nuclear-powered missile launching submarines.

PREPARED — Crew members responsible for controlling the preparation of the Polaris Missile for firing, check out equipment in the center missile level station aboard the USS GEORGE WASHINGTON.

"LET'S GO!" ... see centuries of change in General Telephone Country

Palo Duro Canyon State Park

Etched deeply in the high plains of the Panhandle, just south of Amarillo, lies a spectacular gorge, widely renowned for its scenic beauty. This is Palo Duro Canyon, a great 15,000 acre state park of Texas. You enter it on a road which winds for miles along the bottom of the vast gorge. You see many remarkable formations such as the "Lighthouse" and "Balanced Rock" which have been formed by centuries of erosion which created the Canyon. As you drive slowly along the Canyon's beauty is enhanced by constant changes in delicate coloring. Coronado explored the Canyon in 1541, and in 1876 Col. Goodnight drove the first wagon train down a huge rock slide into its great gulf. Palo Duro Canyon is easily reached on major highways through many of our towns, and is a high spot in places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.
