WOODWORK BY DALTON

I READ in the Fort Worth Star Telegram the other day that some guy paid $3,250 for a quarterhorse at the Fort Worth Stock Show. This seems all out of reason to me, but I guess he can spend his dough and way he pleases.

I once paid a whole lot less than that for a half beef. Blamed if I would pay such a price for only a fourth of a horse.

CONTINUING in the livestock division, I also noticed that Russia has reported that a 2-year-old white breed sow named Beatrice gave birth to 34 piglets at a collective farm in the Ukraine. I really don't know if this is a new record, but it seems reasonable that it would be, if true. Russia always has to claim all the superlatives.

They're probably sneering that the capitalistic pigs in the U. S. can't match that record.

A RECENT headline in the Avalanche-Journal proclaimed that "Dust Season to Be Worst in Years" or something like that, and then Sunday's Littlefield Paper had a story titled "West Texas Dust Reaches Wide Area." Now I don't like to call my fellow newspaperman to task, since I am vulnerable in many areas myself, but it seems to me that we newspaper people must do our own policing. We have to report what happens, but it does seem we could play down these horror stories.

I firmly believe that to dwell on such obscene topics is sadistic, and I've got enough sand in my craw to say so.

around," writes Paul M. Angle of the Associated Press, "we are told what Lincoln would do, or think, if he were here today."

Angle goes on to point out that in truth, nobody knows what Abe would do or say about today's current problems, because no problem presents itself in the year 1965 in the form it assumed 100 years ago. On the simple matter of integrity, for example, we today are confronted with lapses from strict standards everywhere—in government, business and society, as Angle points out.

Lincoln exemplified high moral qualities to such an extent that even in his youth he was given the nickname "Honest Abe." He spent his lifetime in occupations susceptible to temptation, yet not even a suspicion of scandal ever touched him.

It's a sad commentary on our present society, but one fact the AP writer doesn't mention is this: Lincoln probably would have no chance at all of being elected president today. He wouldn't be able to compromise his standards with the things a politician must do to curry favor with the right people and get elected nowadays. Finances, alone, would prevent his being elected now, because a political campaign on a national scale is a costly project undertaken only by persons who have considerable personal wealth as well as the support of others with fat wallets.

So if there are any Honest Abes around today, the chances are we'll never know about them. Unless, they happen to be named "Rich (But Honest) Abe."

FACULTY—SENIORS SET VOLLEYBALL TUESDAY

The Sudan school faculty will take on the senior class members in volleyball games for men and women at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the school gymnasium.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Two More Grades To Be Integrated

Sudan school trustees Monday night agreed to submit a plan to the Texas Education Agency blurring local intentions to integrate all grades of the school system.

The action was taken after the TEA notified the school that it must show it is complying with the provisions of the Civil Rights Act, with the loss of federal funds implied if the school does not submit a definite plan for integration.

Sudan integrated the top grades, starting at seventh grade, last year, and brought in the sixth grade students from the Hugo school beginning at midyear this year. The plan to be submitted will call for integration of the fourth and fifth grades this fall, and "integration of the first, second and third grades as soon as classroom space is available."

The board set April 3 as the date for the election of two trustees. Terms of Guy H. Walden and W. B. Jones Jr. are scheduled to expire.

Hospital Seeking To Fill Vacancies

South Plains Hospital officials moved this week to fill several vacancies on the staff, and an interview was scheduled Wednesday night with an applicant for the post of administrator. Board president Bob Clayton of Amherst has been temporarily holding the job since the death of Administrator Norman Snyder.

At a meeting last week, the board accepted the resignation of L. L. Lockhart, laboratory technician, who will take a post at Sherman. Efforts to obtain a new technician were being made this week.

Clayton also said the board had talked with one doctor who indicated he definitely is interested in joining the staff of the hospital, now served by only one resident physician, Dr. J. W. Chatwell.

SNOW BRINGS RARE MOISTURE TO REGION

A snowfall which generally measured around three inches throughout the area brought much-needed moisture to farmland Monday and Tuesday night. It was the first measurable moisture in some time for most of the area.

Marvin Bowling has returned home after undergoing surgery at a Lubbock hospital.

MISS HANCOCK NAMED TOP HOMEMAKER

Rudjean Hancock is this year's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Sudan High School. She scored highest here in a written homemaking examination taken Dec. 3 by 552,704 senior girls in 14,236 of the nation's high schools. She is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged competitively. From this, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named, and will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc. In addition, her school will be awarded a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The second-ranking girl will receive a $500 educational grant.

Cage Teams End Season

Sudan basketball teams closed out their poorest season in years Tuesday night at Hale Center won over both squads here.

For awhile it appeared that Coach Henry Hall's boys team might wind up on a winning note. The boys trailed 14-11 at the first period and 31-27 at half, but came back with a big third quarter to lead 45-44. Early in the fourth, Mike Smith, Corley Baker and Danny Martin hit goals only to see them matched each time by the Owls. Finally, Sudan missed one and Hale Center quickly took a lead which they carried to a narrow 63-59 win. Mark Laney had 16 for Hale Center and Corley Baker 22 for Sudan. Smith scored 20 for the Hornets.

The Sudan girls, failing to win district for the first time in nearly a decade, were swamped 47-20 as Loretta Tiffin scored 18 for the visitors, and Nancy Hayes had 9 for Sudan. Only in the third quarter, when the Hornets scored 13 points, did they look good. Sudan scored only 3 points in the first period, and 2 each in the second and fourth.

Crop Economically Feasible, Belief: First Bale Of Summer Planted Cotton Ginned In Valley At Nickels Gin Co.

(The following story regarding cotton ginned in January appeared in the February issue of Cotton Digest. Owner of the gin named is Guy Nichols, who owns gins in this area, and who is one of the owners of Central Compress and Warehouse Co. in Sudan.)

A NEW PAGE was added to the Valley's agricultural history when the first of approximately 18 bales of cotton was ginned at the Nickels Gin Company in Edcouch, Texas, in January.

The event was the result of one of a series of tests conducted in the Valley late last year to determine whether summer planted cotton could be profitably grown in this area.

The cotton, which came from the Art Beckwith Farms at Progress, reopened the way for a different cotton growing season in the Valley, should that season ever arise, according to Art Beckwith, owner of the land on which the test was conducted.

The Beckwith trial proved out in sharp contrast with some of the other trial plots, as it produced approximately one and one-half bales per acre, and at a cost somewhat below that reported by many Valley growers in last year's regular season.

The cotton was harvested from a plot planted to two standard varieties of seed, last July 1, Beckwith reported. "We used a chemical weed control and had to cultivate only once," he said. "We had to make 20 applications of insecticide, which is not much more than some growers use in a regular season anyway."

"From what I have seen in this test I believe we could produce a late planted cotton crop in the Valley if ever the need arises. I would not recommend that someone jump out there right now and try it, but if ever we have to in the future, I think it can be done."

Mr. Beckwith said the tests, thus far have at least given Texas Valley growers an amount of information as was gained in similar tests on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande during the last three seasons.

The tests were instituted late last summer through the cooperation of Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, John C. White, the Texas A. & M. Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and several Valley cotton farmers. Some of the trial plots were located near Edcouch and Lyford, with most of the remainder concentrated on the Beckwith and Jack Holcomb farms, and A. & M. tests plots, all near Progress.

Recent reports from the A. & M. research men working with the late planted tests had indicated that the later season in the Valley apparently was going to prove economically unfeasible, because of the high cost of insect control. Records indicated that such costs might prove even higher than those encountered by some growers in the regular growing season.

However, the results of the tests on the Beckwith Farms give hopes that the contrary might prove true.

The first of the bales turned out at the Edcouch gin weighed 490 pounds and was supervised by Ebb Nattinger of Elas, manager of the gin, and Otha Joyce of Mercedes, manager of Nickels' other Valley gin at Progress.

While some talk developed about the initial bale being "a sure winner of this year's first bale prize," it was quickly pointed out it was not eligible. The Harlingen Chamber of Commerce First Bale Contest is sponsored annually for cotton planted and grown during the year of the contest.

First bale honors in past years generally have been won by bales turned in during the latter part of May or early June.

The cotton ginned will be sold in regular channels as soon as proper grade and staple cards and other requirements for such bales have been obtained, Mr. Beckwith said.

COTTON SIGN-UP BEGINS

Cotton producers who wish to participate in the domestic allotment program for 1965 are given from Feb. 8 through March 26 to make their intentions known to County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services offices.

Lovene Mangum, acting office manager of the Lubbock County ASCS, says "This sign-up is a new development for cotton farmers, and for that reason a special effort is being made to get the word around." A domestic allotment program was in effect last year, but no sign-up was required, giving farmers the opportunity to gauge yield prospects before deciding whether or not to participate.

Farmers have the choice of planting within their domestic allotment — thereby qualifying for a payment of 4.35 cents per pound on the farm's established normal yield times the acreage planted for harvest in 1965 in addition to the price support of 29 cents per pound basis middling one-inch at average location — or planting within their effective allotment. Effective allotment is total acreage allotted after any release and reappointment, and farmers electing to plant their total effective allotment qualify for the 29 cent price support only, without the necessity for signing up.

Domestic allotment on most High Plains farms is 65 percent of the 1965 effective allotment, but on small farms for which 1965 allotments are not released to the County ASC Committee, domestic allotment is the smaller of 15 acres of the 1965 effective allotment. Farms on which the domestic and effective allotment are the same are not required to sign up for participation in the domestic allotment program, but all others must sign up prior to March 26 in order to participate.

Those who elect to plant within their domestic allotments may grow other cash crops on the remaining part of the effective allotment, but if the effective allotment is over 15 acres they cannot plant feed grains in excess of their feed grain base and still qualify for supplemental payments.

PERCENTAGE OF ALL DEATHS FROM HEART AND BLOOD VESSEL DISEASES, BY STATES

HEART AND BLOOD VESSEL DISEASE are the leading cause of death in each of the 50 states, as shown in map. In the nation as a whole they are responsible for 54 per cent of all deaths. Differences among states can be explained to some extent by such factors as age, sex and ethnic composition of their populations. The nationwide attack against these diseases is spearheaded by your Heart Association, supported by your contributions to the 1965 Heart Fund. The month-long campaign reaches its high point on the weekend of Heart Sunday, February 21, when more than 1,750,000 volunteers will visit their neighbors to distribute heart-guarding information and to receive Heart Fund contributions.

No window post.

No radiator.
No power steering.
No power brakes.

(Some of the things you don't get in a Corvair are among your best reasons for buying it.)

'65 Corvair Monza Sport Sedan

Corvair by Chevrolet

The beauty of it, of course, goes deeper than the things you don't get. There's the other side of the coin — what you do get in their place.

Take the no window post, for example. What you do get is hardtop styling — with curved frameless side windows — in every Corvair closed model.

The transmission and driveline hump you don't get means more foot room. Thanks to Corvair's rear engine, the floor is practically flat.

No radiator — the engine's air-cooled — also means no water, no antifreeze and no hose leaks to worry about. All of which add up to some more important pluses.

Power steering? Power brakes? Corvair needs them like a centipede needs crutches. With most of the engine weight on the rear wheels, the front ones are free to steer easily. And stops are quick and sure — with no nosediving.

DO YOU KNOW GOD?

Scriptures: Psalms 30: 3-5; St. John 20: 31; 1 Corinthians 13: 20-22; St. Matthew 17: 26.

In the human heart there is a hunger for God. Sometimes it seems strange that this restless hunger will take so many different ways of seeking fulfillment. However, God will not allow man (who was made in His own image) to be anything but restless until man finds rest in his eternal Father.

Faith in God—this is the Victory that overcomes the world. Without God, man in his restless seeking, either seeks in the right way or the wrong way. Sometimes he fills his life with activities, sports, social clubs, hobbies, etc. or superstition, or immorality—but still the soul is restless.

But faith in something man must have. Sometimes he has faith in God, get without much knowledge of what God is like, so in the testing time, when he needs faith by which to actually live, it sometimes fails, or else he seeks God until faith suddenly begins to grow.

"Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief." This plea from a father reveals the picture of this kind of faith. This man believed that Jesus was God's Son, who could do what He claimed that He could do. But, apparently recognizing this was only the beginning of faith and wanting to fully believe, he sought to know more about Jesus and faith, so he prayed "help thou mine unbelief."

To fully believe in God, one must continually grow in knowledge and wisdom by association or contact with Him. By reading His Word, in prayer, in fellowship with God's other children, and in obedience to the guidance and comfort of the abiding Holy Spirit, we find renewed faith.

So, we must study and learn, and grow up in Christ Jesus feeling the joy of having our hearts warmed by the inner assurance of God's Spirit. Always trusting in the ultimate dependability of God to keep His promise.

How is your faith? Have you faced a testing time, and found your faith growing instead of failing to be sufficient?

If you have faith "to a point of inward seed"—but the inward seed is only a beginning. When it is planted and cultivated, it grows into a green plant and produces many more inward seeds. A little faith is still faith, but in testing it grows if we seek God and the comforting help of His ever present Holy Spirit. For the Holy Spirit will show us the way when we cannot know what to do, if we will. So, trust in the love of God the Father, His faithfulness, and in His eternal and Almighty power.

Not my will, but thine, be done.—(Luke 22:42).

In our acceptance of the Lord's perfect plan of goodness, we must not attempt to inject our personal will into things; we should have faith in the knowledge that He is the best judge of what is good and right.

The Future Farmers of America organization is sponsored nationally by the Agricultural Education Branch in the Office of Education, and Welfare. FFA is an educational program, conducted in the public schools.

National FFA week is scheduled in February to honor George Washington, who was an outstanding farmer as well as a great leader.

SHORT AND SWEET

The recent holiday season saw some 15,000 bi-eyebirdwatchers from the United States and Canada taking part in the National Audubon Society's Christmas Bird Count which is aimed at recording bird population trends and migration patterns.

The volunteers each covered a 15 mile area and stood on the lookout for all the birds that were detectable between dawn and dusk.

Ducking for apples was first done by the Irish and Scotch who used it to commemorate an ancient New Year's rite. They would tie a lighted candle on one end of a stick and an apple on another, suspend it from the middle and then set it spinning. The idea was to bite the apple as it swung past to avoid getting burnt by the candle. The custom is representative of the fire-lighted on the hills during the Druid celebrations.

Recent statistics reveal the laws of averages in some areas of American family living. The average American is bombarded with 100,000 pounds of rain and snow a year. The average U.S. farm is 250 acres. The average American uses 157 pounds of paper a year and eats 37.2 pounds of candy a year. The average person spends only 25 minutes a day in articulated speech. The rest of his conversing time is spent grimacing, smiling, frowning, shrugging or in other body motions. The average taxpayer works 117 days a year to meet federal, state and local taxes.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

BRUXISM is the scientific name for grinding the teeth during sleep and, according to a study by the University of Chicago, is usually an indication that the sleeper is dreaming. Bruxism occurs in one out of every 10 people.

CRYOGENIC refrigeration for trucks and other forms of transportation involves use of intensely cold (-320 degrees F.) liquid nitrogen. A new system developed by National Cylinder Gas, Chicago, does not inject the nitrogen directly into the cargo compartment but passes it through channels in the wall, floor and ceiling insulation. The compartment is kept nitrogen-free.

Star-spangled
your baby's future

Suppose somebody had started off your future with a U.S. Savings Bond. And kept adding more Bonds as your birthdays added up.

You would have had a nice send-off when you set out to conquer the world! It's still a great idea. And if you have any new boys or girls in the family you can put it into action now.

The cost is small. Only $37.50 for each $50 Bond—or less than 11¢ a day to buy one every birthday.

U.S. Savings Bonds will save more than money for your baby's future, too. They'll help Uncle Sam safeguard his future freedom.

Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. You don't have to wait for a birthday, either.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks the Advertising Council and the participating banks for their patriotic support.

After six great years like this what could Pontiac possibly come up with next?

The 1965 Pontiac: Car of the Year!
That's what!

We had to reach a climax somewhere along the line. And what better climax for a car than to win Motor Trend's Car of the Year Award for 1965? Nothing could please us more, except maybe the way people are buying our cars. And they are. Drive one and find out why.

Mission of Ysleta by E. M. Schmetz

THE MISSION OF YSLETA The Church that changed sides!

When the Indians revolted against Spanish rule in 1681-2 in the upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, refugees sought safety at the mission at El Paso del Norte (now Juarez). One group settled on the Mexican river bank and named its community Ysleta del Sur (South). This settlement was established in 1681 and a mission was completed the following year on a small island in the Rio Grande.

The Rio Grande changed its course and the site is now in Texas. Ysleta and its mission are generally given the distinction of being the oldest permanent settlement in Texas . . . truly a church that changed sides!

CHOOSE THE SIDE OF FREEDOM...with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Thus, Ysleta del Sur, the refuge of the oppressed, became the earliest of settlements to identify itself with a brave, new land of freedom.

Today, millions of Americans choose the side of freedom and they do something about it — by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every dollar you invest in Savings Bonds gives Uncle Sam exactly that much help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty for yourself and your family. Buy Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.

Keep Freedom in Your Future with
