School Annual Dedicated To Son Qualls

OUR PRESENT age should go down in history as the era of the Great Demonstrations. It seems that the popular thing to do nowadays when things aren't going just to suit you is to organize a bunch of other people with nothing better to do and pull off a demonstration.

A walk-in, sit-in, lie-in, sleep-in or just a plain old march carrying some signs is the rage. You just aren't anybody if you haven't been in on a demonstration.

Just last weekend, there were at least three big ones. One was in Korea, where 10,000 students in Seoul protested Korean relationships with Japan. A bunch of idiotic students in Texas pulled off a demonstration at the LBJ ranch, and a bigger bunch demonstrated in Viet Nam.

Students usually are involved in all types of demonstrations, making us wonder if they don't have enough studying in college to keep them busy.

The most famous demonstrations, of course, have been in the civil rights issue. But, encouraged by their success, others have tried the same tactic for and against practically everything.

Any day now, we may see husbands marching down the street protesting housewives who squeeze the toothpaste tube in the middle, or wives banded together to focus attention on worthless bums who tell them they'll be home for supper in 15 minutes, then don't get there for an hour.

The sad thing about these demonstrations that they seem to work. In general, I have always felt that mobs are wrong, whatever they are for or against. But people are getting things done that way.

A former policeman who in 1960 decided to break up a mob by turning the fire hoses on them has been pressured completely out of the country. He is moving his family to Ireland because of criticism he and his family got about that one incident.

Seems to me what we need to do is to organize a demonstration protesting demonstrations.

Our religious lesson this week is St. John 21:9-17, 21:1-17. Simon Peter, the fisherman, even after knowing that the Lord had risen from the dead, became restless in a time of "waiting" time, and decided to take some action of his own, so he said to the other disciples, "I go a fishing". Then Thomas, Nathanael, James and John and two of the other disciples said they would go along with Peter. Now there actually was nothing wrong in an overnight fishing trip—except for one thing: Peter forgot to ask the Lord first what the Lord wanted him to do, or to wait until he heard from the Lord. Peter evidently just got restless and decided to take some action of his own, and since fishing was what he knew how to do, he said he would go a fishing. There is a very important result to this fishing trip led by Peter—they caught no fish all night. Then, as morning came, Jesus stood on the shore (some of the disciples knew who He was). He asked them if they had any more, and when they said no, Jesus told them, "Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find." When they did as Jesus told them to do, their net was filled so full of fish that they could not draw it into the ship. John, seeing this result, recognized Jesus and said to Peter, "It is the Lord!" So, Peter forgot all about the net full of fish, and jumped into the water to hurry to the shore where Jesus was.

Have you ever thought certain things were a good idea, (even in church work perhaps) and you decide to do them without taking time to ask God what He wants done, and asking for His Power, and blessing and guidance? Have you in your individual life done things, made decisions, that looked good to you without asking God His opinion and will?

When we start out even in our church work without asking God to guide ("Cast your net on the right side of the ship") our results are likely to be as barren as Peter and the other disciples' all night fishing trip. But when we listen and obey God, He is the one who takes care of the results of our action. It is His right as our Father, to take the responsibility for the result of our actions, after we, His children do what He has told us to do. We ask in Jesus Name and He always hears, and answers our asking.

Then Jesus asked Peter the same question three different times (remember Peter had denied Jesus three times) after they had dined, "Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?" Only after the first time Jesus added, "more than these?" More than the fish that would bring Peter only physical food and material gain—more than the opinion or the companionship of the other disciples—more than anything? And Peter answered every time, "Thou knowest I love Thee." Then Jesus said, "Feed my lambs" once and said, "Feed my sheep" twice.

Are you ready for service for Jesus, or do you just get restless and decide to do things without waiting for His bidding? Can you say, as Peter said, to the Lord, "Thou knowest I love Thee"? Does Jesus know that you love Him? Are you as ready to recognize the Lord's work as John was able to recognize Him? Are you willing and prepared to feed the "lambs and the sheep" of God's flock, with the bread and meat that Jesus supplies?

These are some questions we all need to ask ourselves as we

KAY BAKER RECEIVED SCHOLARSHIP TUESDAY
Miss Kay Baker was awarded a scholarship Tuesday night by Sunday Young Homemakers at the style show and installation of officers performed by the local FHA chapter.

MISSION STUDY PRESENTED BY MRS. JAMES P. ARNOLD
Mrs. James P. Arnold Sr. gave the Mission study, "Baptist World Alliance" at the meeting of the WMU, First Baptist Church, held Monday afternoon. Present were Mesdames R. E. DeLoach, Arnold, L. F. Meeks, Oscar Vinson, Lindel Harlin, John Butch, Halbert Harbey, Willie Hazel.

take up our cross of service, daily denying ourselves, to follow Jesus. There is a surge of joy in my heart as I read how Peter tied his coat around himself, not waiting to dress or bring the ship in, and leaped into the water to get back to where Jesus was. When we can say truly, "Thou knowest I love Thee more than these", only then are we cleansed and made ready, made fit to be used in the service of our Risen Lord.

There's ever waiting side by side,
To be accepted or denied,
A right or wrong that fills each day,
That never fails
to come our way.
A task that we're to live, to do,
In making choice
between the two;
We find it's one continuous fight,
To always stand for what is right.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply. Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.
