WOODWORK

Area Mules To Be Honored

MY FAMILY attended a rodeo the other night, up in Plainview, and they all enjoyed it. The kids had never seen a rodeo, and it had been years since their mother had been to one.

I didn't go myself, for various reasons, one of which was I never did care much for rodeos.

I can appreciate the fact that roping those calves and jumping out at those broncos in mid-air is a pastime that takes talent, not to mention fortitude. It does make one wonder sometimes at the small thin line between bravery and stupidity, however.

Probably my own antipathy toward rodeos stems partially from the last one I attended, about 18 years ago. I was a member of a rodeo band, and believe me, that was one of my most frustrating experiences.

I enjoy playing music, or anything that might pass as such, and playing for a rodeo band sure isn't my idea of fun. The music they gave us was fine, all marches, and very stirring. Only they wouldn't let us play them.

The idea was to play madly for about 10 to 15 seconds and then quit when the calf had been roped, the rider thrown, or time ran out. Just when we'd get started, we'd have to stop.

I'll bet we played the first three measures of the "Washington Post March" 37 times that night. To this day, I can't remember how the rest of it goes.

ON THE ANIMAL scene still, Muleshoe is about to have a big deal about dedicating the statue of a mule (a long-eared named Pete posed for the statue) this weekend. The mule is being paid tribute, I suppose, because it's getting nearly as extinct as the buffalo.

I PONDERED briefly about writing something about the plan to raise car insurance rates again so the companies can make more money, but it's difficult to discuss such a topic without becoming profane. One lawyer suggested he might make a court test of the proposed hike, though. He pointed out that Texas paid $404 million in premiums last year, while the companies paid out $198 million in claims and wondered what happened to the other $206 million.

If anyone is taking up funds to help fight the auto insurance racket in the courts, please call me for a donation.

HOLIDAY WEEKEND MEANS DEATH TO MANY

"This holiday weekend meant death to many" stated a Texas Highway Patrol spokesman. He stressed that all motorists be especially careful not to be careless in their driving.

LOCAL GROUP TO ATTEND STATE FFA CONVENTION

Four members of the Sudan Future Farmers of America Chapter will attend the State FFA Convention in Houston, July 14-16, 1965, according to Bill Black, President of the chapter. The three day meeting of representatives of over 900 FFA Chapters throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization.

Members of the Sudan chapter attending the convention are: Bill Black, Michael McWilliams, Jeryl Beller, and Rodney Bowling.

Black has been selected by chapter members as delegate of the Sudan chapter to the state convention. Rodney Bowling will serve as alternate delegate.

Mr. Don Ham, Vocational Agriculture Teacher will accompany FFA members to the Houston Convention.

Cubs Down Angels 9 - 6

Amherst Cubs beat the Sudan Angels 9-6 in a make-up Little League game in Sudan Monday night. Dennis Knolls pitched the entire six innings for the Cubs and was named the winning pitcher of the game.

Gregory McInabb was the starting pitcher for the Angels. In the second inning, Dennis West took possession of the pitcher mound and remained the Angels pitcher for the remainder of the game.

Mark Hume of the Angels slugged in the only home-run of the game. Lynn Ivory of the Cubs got on third base with a hit in the third inning. This was the best hit ball in the entire game for the Cubs.

Mudgett Named Outstanding Farmer

RECEIVES AWARD - Shown above is Wilely H. Mudgett after he received his Outstanding Farmer Award Tuesday night at the Rotary Club Banquet.

Wilely Mudgett of Sudan presented the District Conservation Farmer of Lamb County Award Tuesday night at the Rotary Club annual barbecue that was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Mox, Paul Larson, who is in charge of the Soil Conservation office in Littlefield, made the presentation. Only one such award is given to a farmer in each county every year.

"Conservation is both a bank and a savings account for my community," says Mudgett whose farm is three miles west and three and one-half miles north of Sudan. When Mudgett moved to this farm in 1952, very little conservation treatment had been applied.

The land had a variety of soils and slopes, including a shallow lake. The soils varied from a tight clay to a coarse sandy soil, and slopes varied from 0 to 3 per cent which created quite a problem with surface irrigation and increased the erosion hazard. With these conditions it was difficult to get proper use of the irrigation water and to prevent loss of rainfall and damage from water erosion. Mudgett made a detailed study of his farm and decided that a spotter system and other mechanical practices were needed to prevent erosion, conserve the rainfall and make the best possible use of his irrigation water. He saw that it was going to take a lot of planning and engineering work, so he contacted the Soil Conservation Service to help him with his planning and lay-out work.

A complete conservation plan was worked out for the farm. This consisted of 12,890 feet of underground pipe, a sprinkler system for 179 acres, 180 acres of land levelled for a surface irrigation system. With this plan, Mudgett set up his schedule to do a certain amount of work each year. He started his work in 1954, and expects more to be done each year until he finishes all his conserving work in the spring of 1964.

Mudgett, when asked what benefits he had received from conservation work, stated that his average cotton yield went from three-quarters of a bale to a little over two bales per acre and about the same per cent per acre for other crops.

In November, 1956, he was elected to the Lamb County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, and he has served as a member in all the offices of the Board. He regularly attends the local area SCD meetings and has attended several state SCD meetings.

Mudgett did his conservation work with several things in mind: to conserve the soil and utilize the rainfall, which helps save the irrigation water which will result in more uniform crops and even production; to utilize his crop residues and the use of burrs, mulches, and barnyard manure, thus maintaining the organic matter of the soil and protecting it from erosion.

Mudgett has three children, two daughters and one son. At the present time the son, Mike, and one daughter, Candace, are attending college. The other daughter, Penny, will be a freshman in high school this fall. He and his wife find time from farming activities to enjoy their hobbies of fishing and boating. He also coaches Little League or Pony League baseball, and is president of the board of directors of Sudan Public School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mudgett are active in school and church activities.

CHURCH YOUTH SOCIAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY

The Intermediate and Young People Departments of the First Baptist Church will have a special summer, Friday, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The event is to be held at the First Baptist Church parsonage. The department women invite all the young people to come and join in the "Fun and Fellowship."

Dr. Perez Joins South Plains Hospital

Doyle Lamb, administrator of the South Plains Hospital and Clinic announced that Dr. F. J. Perez has signed a contract with the hospital to become a new resident physician.

Perez, a native born Cuban, has been practicing medicine in the United States since 1962. He was previously employed in a hospital in Tennessee. At present he and his wife are visiting in Canada.

Mrs. Bertha Vance of Sudan, has been employed by South

Plains Hospital and Clinic to work as Dr. Perez's clinical nurse.

Lamb said that Dr. Perez will move to Amherst and begin his work in the hospital around July 10.

Another new employee of the hospital is Pete Wilson. Wilson has been hired as laboratory and x-ray technician. He has been working in this field for 2 1/2 years.

The Wilsons formerly lived in Houston where he was employed by a clinic. They have no children and are affiliated with the Baptist denomination. Mrs. Wilson is an elementary school teacher and has applied for a teaching position in the Amherst public school system. Wilson will assume his duties as lab technician July 1.

EPSILON DELTA CHAPTER CONDUCTS WORKSHOP

Members of the Sudan Delta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma met Monday, June 21, in the home of Thelma Wilson for a Workshop meeting when work was conducted on yearbooks for the following year.

A special luncheon was served during the meeting, including Douglas Smith, Gladys Clark, Alice Abney, Elizabeth Shanks Johnson, Dorothy Rodgers, Mildred Lewis Campbell, Ruth Ford, Elmer Jay Hodges, Florine Shivers, Audrey Pettis Brown, Mary Taylor, Sudan.

Walser - Roberts Vows Exchanged

Wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Sharon Lee Walser and Roy Gene Roberts, Friday, June 18 at 9:30 p. m. in the Church of Christ at Muleshoe with Mr. D. L. Thompson performing the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Walser of Sudan and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roberts of Sudan.

The bride wore a strap-length suit of white tulle with white accessories. Attendance was Henry Williams as best man, and S. A. Hovum as best man. Both the attendants are from Sudan.

After a short trip to Muleshoe the couple are at home for the moment, at 228 West 14th Street in Muleshoe, where the groom is engaged in farming. The bride and groom are both 1964 graduates of Sudan High School. She is now a student at West Texas State University in Canyon where she plans to continue her education.

Paula Chisholm To Attend Conference

Miss Paula Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chisholm has been selected to attend the Attorney General's Youth Conference usually held in Austin. This year conference will be held on August 20-22.

The purpose of the Attorney General's Conference is to have as many representatives as possible from different schools in Texas attend the conference and talk to them about juvenile delinquency. In turn, the youth who attend the conference will return to their homes and report to their fellow students about the conference and what they learned to prevent juvenile delinquency. The conference also is to inspire the youth to have higher moral standards.

The Attorney General invites the schools to send as many representatives as they wish to the conference. The students expenses to the conference must be paid by some organization in the community. The Rotary Club in Sudan is sponsoring

Paula Chisholm

Paula's trip to Austin.

W. E. Hincock, superintendent of Sudan Public Schools, said that Paula is a very good student. He also stated that Paula, who will be a senior the coming school term, is the new Student Council president, and has held many other important offices in high school. She is also Rotary Club sweetheart.

Paula's application has been sent to Austin. All further information involving the Attorney General's Youth Conference will be sent to Paula and to the Rotary Club president.

'YOUNG AT HEARTS' TO MEET FRIDAY

BY SENIOR CITIZENS COUNCIL

We all must admit that there comes a time in our lives when we just don't make the effort to do the things we really want to do—like visiting our neighbors, our friends; it seems so much easier to stay comfortably at home with our aches and pains and our years. So, how about getting together once a month—we who are "young at heart" even though the years have piled up on us—and having a good old get-together, a party as it were, when we can visit, perhaps sing a few songs or play a game or two.

If you are interested come to the Community Center, Friday, July 9, at 3 p.m. and we'll make plans and have a good time generally. Bring anyone you think would be interested and is a "Senior Citizen".

If you need transportation call any of the following numbers and transportation will be provided: Mrs. J. S. Smith, 227-4511; Mrs. R. P. Markham, 227-5782; Jack Riley, 227-4311 or Mrs. S. D. Hay, 227-4051.

Let's have a good group of "Sudan Senior Citizens—The Young at Heart" at the Community Center, Friday, July 9, at 3 p.m.

Martin-Underwood Hurl Team To Victories

Steve Martin pitched a 3-inning Saturday night when the Sudan Fire Department overcame Littlefield TV Radio Lab by a score of 9-0. Green Underwood pitched a home run to add the team to victory.

Tuesday night Underwood pitched a no-hitter against Littlefield Dairy Queen. Jerry Keller knocked a home run and the final score was 10-0 with the Sudan Fire Department on top.

The team still has more home games to play when they meet KZEM here Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Little League ball park.

STANLEY CORLEY FATALLY SHOT

Stanley Corley, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Corley was hurled in Sudan, N.M., Tuesday afternoon, June 22. Corley, 21-year-old nephew of Mrs. G. C. Ritchie of Sudan died Sunday on June 20 after a gun wound.

Investigating officers said that apparently Corley was walking through the bathroom with the rifle in his hand. The butt of the rifle must have hit the side of the bathtub causing the rifle to accidentally fire. The bullet from the rifle struck Corley in the right side of his head. Death was instantaneous.

Lynch, of Lubbock. Also guests in her home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Qualls and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Qualls of Fieldton.

Cynthia Wiseman was entertained with a family birthday dinner Sunday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Wiseman. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiseman, Mrs. Bill Turner, Mrs. Tommy Ross, Morton; Miss Paula Faye Wiseman, Sundown; and Kathy Kamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rogers have been in Lufkin where they attended funeral services for her brother-in-law the first of the week.

TOMATO SOUP GRILLS FLANK STEAK TO PERFECTION

Delight your family with juicy barbecued steak. Let Dad take over basting honors at the grill, generously brushing the steak with this "souper" barbecue sauce. (Of course, you've prepared the sauce early... using condensed tomato soup as the base... so it's ready to tote to the grill at the appointed hour.) Also at the grill wrap corn on the cob in heavy duty aluminum foil and roast over glowing coals 15 to 20 minutes, turning to cook evenly. Crisp relishes and fresh peach shortcake complete the menu.

Dad's Favorite Barbecue Sauce

1/4 cup chopped green pepper	1/4 cup water
1/4 cup chopped onion	2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 medium clove garlic, minced	2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil	1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 can (10% ounces) condensed tomato soup	Dash "Tabasco" sauce

In saucepan, cook green pepper, onion, and garlic in oil until vegetables are tender. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer about 10 minutes, stirring now and then. Makes 2 cups sauce.

TO BARBECUE FLANK STEAK (Outdoors): Prepare sauce. Score a 1 1/2 to 2-pound flank steak. Place steak on grill about 4 inches above glowing coals. Cook about 6 minutes on each side or until desired doneness, brushing often with sauce. Heat remaining sauce and serve with meat. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN GOD?

"Say, Bob, come on to church with me this morning."
Moving his head in casual precision as he set down the coffee cup, Bob replied, "Why? I don't believe in God."
Then as his friend watched him, Bob got up, took his two-year-old child lovingly by the hand, walked to the open door as the light that shined in perfect radiant days, and breathed deeply of the fresh early morning air. He looked with two eyes that functioned more perfectly than the most expensive camera lens, at the green trees and grass, and at the glowing sunlight of another day. He talked, walked, breathed.....

Scripture:

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth... and God said, Let there be light; and there was light... and God called the light Day.

And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. —Genesis 1 and 2.

... for the price of wisdom is above rubies... God understandeth the way thereof, and He knoweth the place thereof... And unto man He said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding. —Job 28. WHAT PRICE PATRIOTISM?

They were men of means and well educated — yet they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well the price they'd pay. What happened to them?

Five signers were captured by the British — traitors and tortured before they died. Twenty had their homes ransacked and burned. Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or the hardships of the war.

Carter Braxton, a wealthy trader, saw his ship swept from the sea by the British navy. He sold his home to pay his debts and died bankrupt.

Thomas McKean was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family eastward and to keep in hiding. His possessions were taken and he was reduced to poverty.

Fun in the Sun

Everybody loves a picnic. Fresh air, good food and outdoor games all add up to an enjoyable way to spend the day with friends and family.

Sometimes, however, in the enthusiasm of getting packed and out of the house, some of the "necessities" of outdoor life are overlooked. In order to insure a carefree day in the sun, advance planning is a "must." A picnic hamper or plastic-lined beach bag will be invaluable for packing items you want close at hand.

Bottle openers, gasket lotion and insect repellent are just some of the items that are most often left behind. Sweaters and head scarfs for the cool period at sundown are wise take-alongs, too.

For a multitude of uses before and during your day outdoors, a roll of "Scotch" Magic Mending Tape is an all-around friend. Sandwiches made at home and wrapped in plastic bags can not only be sealed with this tape for freshness but you can write on it to distinguish the ham-and-cheese from the peanut-butter-and-jelly.

Windy days are sometimes a bother at picnics but taping the table cloth to the picnic table will solve this problem. Also use your magic mending tape to secure a litter bag to the side of the picnic table to cut down on the trips back and forth to the rock bucket.

For most of us the best part of the day comes with the games. Check before leaving home to see if you have the "birds" as well as the rackets for your badminton game. You'll always be able to identify your own property, too, if you label the rackets by applying a strip of "Scotch" Magic Mending Tape to the handle, writing your name on it, and then covering with another strip of the tape for a permanent marking.

While "roughing it" is part of the fun of a day outdoors, thought to little details will mean a smoothly organized, memorable occasion that you'll look forward to repeating often.
