WOODWORK BY DALTON

LAST SUNDAY a group of singers called the Dave Clark Five appeared somewhere or other and almost touched off a riot. An acquaintance reported to me that the group was on the Ed Sullivan TV show, and was described as one of the nicest groups of singers, as compared to such biological throwbacks as The Animals and some of those.

I asked hopefully if they had haircuts, but she told me no, their locks were shaggy, just like all the unshorn unlovelies polluting the musical air these days.

It occurs to me that if singing groups wanted to look different, they should come out onstage with neat crewcuts and intelligent looks on their faces. This might start a new fad called neatness.

MANICED has made quite a few advances in the last century, science-wise. But there are many ways in which science could concentrate to make living a whole lot easier for most of us.

For example, although we can invest a bomb which could kill everybody at once, and can send men strolling around in space, man still needs

1. An eight-hour sleep pill. Something you can take which will leave you feeling as if you had slept eight hours, when you really can't seem to find time for a full night's rest.

2. A potion to stop whiskers from growing, forever.

3. A pill to drop in the gas tank and get 98 miles to the gallon. (Something along this line reportedly was invented several years ago, but Standard Oil of New Jersey is supposed to have bought the patent and destroyed it with a sigh of relief.)

4. A commode tank which will function properly for at least two years without repair.

5. Something to keep dogs away from the trash can.

6. Something to keep door-to-door salesmen away from everybody.

7. Individually air-conditioned clothing, so each person can adjust the temperature to suit himself without making everyone else in the building unhappy.

8. A completely automatic typing machine, with which a person can sit and stare at a blank piece of paper, and the thing that he is thinking of will appear. (This could cause some embarrassment, though, unless one learned to control his thoughts.)

9. A device which automatically cuts off the television set when the face of Jack Paar, Johnny Carson or Jonathan Winters appears.

Denny and Susan Parker, children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Caldwell, are visiting their great-grandmother, Mrs. Joe Taylor in Waco.

Senior Citizens Club Organized

Some 60 persons attended the Senior Citizens "Young at Heart" Club organizational meeting Friday at the Sudan Community Center, when Mrs. Simon Hay was elected chairman of the club.

Leaders for this meeting was a committee whose members were Mrs. Simon Hay, Mrs.

J. S. Smith, Mrs. Dick Gatewood, Mrs. L. E. Slato, and Jack Riley.

Regular meeting date for the club was set for the second Friday of each month, from 3 to 5 p. m. in the Community Center. The club invitation is "If you consider yourself a senior citizen, you are invited."

Other officers elected were Mrs. Dick Gatewood, secretary, Treasurer, and Mrs. J. S. Smith publicity chairman.

Jack Riley, minister of the First Methodist Church, gave a short talk, with Willie Hanzel, minister of the First Baptist Church leading the prayer. Mickey Blake, Church of Christ minister, brought the devotional message. The Woman's Society of Christain Service of the First Methodist Church served refreshments.

Vickie Maeston and Debbie Nix, vocal duet accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Burgess at the piano provided special music, after which Jack Riley led the club in group singing.

Susan James, Vicki Maeston, Cynthia Parrish, and Kathy Mynard attended Twirling School this week at Seguin Lutheran College in Seguin, Texas. Mrs. Truman Parrish accompanied them.

SENIOR CLASS TO HAVE CAR WASH

The senior class of Sudan High School will wash cars Saturday from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. to supplement their class funds.

The car wash will take place at Sudan Texaco and possibly two other establishments in Sudan. Residents who wish to have their automobiles washed may call 227-3281 for pick-up and delivery. The charge will be $2.00 per car and all work is guaranteed.

All members of the senior class are asked to call Paula Chisholm at 227-3281 for a work schedule.

WALKER FAMILY REUNION HELD

A Walker family reunion was held during the weekend when family members were guests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gaston and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Walker.

Present were Mrs. G. S. Walker and Paris Walker of Eden; Opal Walker of Miles, Texas; Katie Powers, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dimmick, Bellinger; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dimmick, Breton; Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Walker, Denny and Louise of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pison, Joann and Paul of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker, Pam and Kathy of Lubbock.

Mrs. Bill Cobb visited Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bechtel in Pleasanton. Returning home with her for a visit was their son, Gary.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Caldwell Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Noble of Plains.

THREE NEW TEACHERS HIRED BY SCHOOL

Three new teachers were hired Monday night at the regularly scheduled Sudan Independent School District board meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson of Clovis, N. M. were hired. Nelson will be assistant coach and teach junior high science. Mrs. Nelson will teach girls physical education and elementary science.

Mrs. Fatty Brannon of Amherst has been rehired to teach junior high English.

Mrs. Calvin Jordan had been previously hired as a second grade teacher.

F. E. Coon of Amarillo was rehired to audit the school's books.

One vacancy remains to be filled in the faculty. This requires a person to teach speech, English and Spanish.

There were five members present at the meeting with Nolan Parrish, vice president, presiding in absence of the president, Wiley Midgett.

Highlight of the business session was the setting of the school calendar for the 1965-66 school term. Following are some dates to remember:

Sept. 7 - School starts
Dec. 22 - Classes discontinue at the close of the day for the Christmas holidays.

Jan. 3, 1966 - Classes resume.
March 4 - District teachers meeting.

April 8 - Classes dismiss for Easter.

April 18 - Classes resume. (10-day holiday)

May 30 - School closes.

May 31 - Graduation exercises. There will also be a two-day holiday for Thanksgiving. The first semester ends Jan. 24 with the second semester beginning Jan. 24.

W. E. Hancock, superintendent, reported that all school grounds are in good shape. New grass has been planted on the playgrounds and both buildings and grounds are being readied for the opening of school.

Sudan Represented By Panel On TV

The city of Sudan was represented on television Monday by a panel composed of Mayor Joe Rose, Commissioner Marvin Tollett, Joe Salem and Hoyt Robertson. They were interviewed on "Community Close-up", a daily program on Channel 11, at noon Monday.

For many areas residents this was a surprise, a pleasant and a moment of deep-felt pride for their "home town".

When asked about the economy of Sudan, Mayor Rose pointed out that while cotton is still the principal crop and farming the main industry, Plant X, being situated in Sudan Independent school district, is of outstanding importance to the economy of Sudan both in taxes and employment.

Other enterprises sighted as having direct importance on Sudan economy were Central Company and Sudan Livestock and Feeding Company.

Central Company, who received thousands of bales of cotton last season, is one of the largest inland companies in the state, while Sudan Livestock, who feeds in the excess of 20,000 head of cattle, is the second largest feeding firm in Texas. Also associated with the feedlot is Feeders Grain Inc. who furnishes a ready market for the area grains.

Joe Salem, state director of CROP, told of a youth program that although it has not received much publicity has been in operation for some time. Mr. Salem has been furnishing work for the less-privileged youth of our community along with Christian leadership and guidance.

He has had tremendous success working with these youth who otherwise may have become delinquents.

After the interview, one local citizen was overheard remarking in an awed voice, "My, but Sudan sounds like a fine place to live."

SERVICES HELD FOR FORMER SUDAN RESIDENT

Funeral services were held Saturday, July 7 in the Myers Chapel of Portersville, Calif., for Lon Smith, 93, a former Sudan resident.

Smith is survived by his wife, Lois; two sons, Dolph and Ralph; five grandchildren; two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Ruby Mince has returned home after visiting relatives in Dawson.

Wilson Joins Hospital Staff

Pete Wilson, a West Texas boy raised in Lovelland has assumed his duties as X-ray and Lab Technician at the South Plains Hospital and Clinic in Amherst this week. Wilson says that after having lived in Houston for two years he feels like a West Texas boy who has come home.

Wilson received his American Medical Technologists Registry in the early months of 1964 from a lab school in Houston.

Prior to Wilson's entry in Lab School, he attended South Plains Junior College in Lovelland for two years and Texas Technological College in Lubbock for one year where he earned osteology.

Wilson's wife, Patricia, was also raised at Lovelland and attended South Plains Junior College in Lovelland for two years and Texas Tech in Lubbock for two years where she earned a degree in elementary education. Wilson stated that she has applied for a position on the elementary teaching staff at Amherst.

The Wilsons have been married for two years and have no children. Both Pete and Patricia are affiliated with the Southern Baptist Denomination. Pete said that while living in League City where he worked at a four doctor clinic as Lab and X-ray Technician, he taught a Sunday School class of Junior boys. He and his wife also worked as directors for a high school, college, and career group in Training Union at the Baptist Church in League City.

Wilson, in speaking of the South Plains Hospital and Clinic said that the staff is very warm and friendly. He said that he feels that the South Plains Hospital is one of the best equipped hospitals in this area. In his words, Wilson said, "I feel very honored to be a member of the staff at South Plains Hospital and Clinic."

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cobb visited Sunday with Mrs. Rose Williams in Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Glover of South Texas have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spivey.

HISTORIC RED SEA PARTS WITH PAST

Jeddah, Saudi Arabia — (HK) — Closest oil tankers and sleek freighters today ply the same Red Sea waters once controlled by ancient Egypt's colorful barges and Europe's spice-laden vessels.

Not since Moses parted the historic waters some 3,000 years ago has the Red Sea been the scene for such activity. Southward down the Suez Canal and northward from the Gulf of Aden come ships bearing cargo for the Saudi Arabian port cities of Jeddah and Yenbo.

Incoming freighters bring trucks and tractors from the United States, electrical appliances from the United Kingdom, chemicals from Germany, clothing from Japan and dairy products from the Netherlands. All are essential to Saudi Arabia's booming industrial economy and expanding population.

In return, tankers transporting oil, pumped from the earth by Saudi Arabia's rapidly growing oil industry, steam back to the industrial markets of the world.

The Red Sea is well suited to this increasingly heavy two-way traffic. From the foothills of Mount Sinai in the north, where Moses received the Ten Commandments, the Red Sea stretches southward 1,450 miles between the borders of the Arabian Peninsula and North Africa. Encompassing an area of 169,073 square miles of water, this busy ocean highway is comparatively narrow. Its widest point, at the Tropic of Cancer, is only 200 miles, and in places its eastern and western shores are separated by a short 14 1/2 miles.

Some sights along the shoreline remain unchanged. Fishing is still popular in Saudi Arabia's coastal towns. Sharks are the primary catch, though tuna, grouper, sardine, barracuda, shrimp, crabs and lobster also are taken from the sea. Each year 500,000 tons of fish are caught by Red Sea fishermen.

Perhaps the last vestige of bygone days on the Red Sea is the "dhow." These small fishing boats are built today with the painstaking care of Arabia's ancient mariners. Their slanted masts and colorful sails gliding across the Saudi harbors serve as reminders of the progress made over the past fifty years and the bright prospects for future growth.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny Henson was at Lake Buchanan the first of the week.

Louis Fields and son, Jimmy Lynn, Helen Pritchard and Jerry Miller, were among those dining in the grounds at Park Thursday afternoon. They also rode in the Grand Entry at the rodeo.

...Leave shades up so stronger lights inside the house can be seen.

...Look at windows and doors.

To make sure you have everything when you get to your destination, take these tips: pack the things you're going to wear first, on top, and you won't have to dig for them when they're needed. Never jam a suitcase; this will press wrinkles into clothes.

Stuff shoes with socks, this gets socks out of the way and helps keep shoes in shape. Unwrap a bar of soap and put it in your suit case. It will keep clothes from absorbing moisture.

How are you traveling? If train — don't stay away from seat and hand luggage when the train stops at a station. Disembarking passengers may take your things by mistake.

If car — give it a pre-trip of drive over with special attention on brakes, tires and steering. Your local auto repair man can also provide repair and other travel information. Make your trip more enjoyable.

And above all, don't forget to turn off the gas before you leave home.

HELPFUL HINTS for Vacationers

NEW YORK — (HK) — If you are going on vacation this summer and don't want any unexpected guests, namely burglars, police suggest the following:

- ... Stop newspaper and mail delivery.
- ... Notify neighbors that you are leaving.
- ... Ask one of them to pick up any mail such as circulars that land in front of the door.

TIME FOR FEDERAL RECREATION AREAS IN TEXAS ANNOUNCED

Federal recreation agency officials today listed areas in Texas where entrance charges will be required this year.

The list of 8 areas includes all National Forest recreation areas for camping and picnicking: National Parks, Monuments, and Historic Sites, and Wildlife Refuges where entrance charges will be made.

Special fees may be charged for use of cabins, boats, well-developed camp, picnic, and toilet facilities, and other services.

Many Federal areas in the State remain available for public use without charge. Under the new Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, changes are made only where there is investment in recreation facilities and where collection of fees is feasible.

Proceeds from the charges are channeled into the Land and Water Conservation Fund to provide additional State and Federal outdoor recreation opportunities. The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the Department of the Interior administers the Fund.

The entrance and special service fees apply to many Federal areas for the first time. However, a number of National Parks and other areas have been charging entrance fees for some time.

A new $7 Federal Recreation/Conservation sticker available this year will admit the holder and occupants of his car to all Federal recreation areas which require automobile entrance fees. The sticker will remain valid until March 31, 1966.

Persons not wishing to purchase the $7 sticker may pay one-day entrance fees. An individual area seasonal ticket also is available. This is valid only at a specific National Park or all charge areas in a single National Forest for which it is purchased until the end of the year. It is attractive to individuals who normally use only one particular Federal area.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

You've heard the slogan, "Take a boy fishing." I go for that!

But, as in everything else, there's a right way and a wrong way to go about it. A boy wants action. If he's fishing, he wants to catch fish. If he doesn't catch 'em often, he's going to tire of the inactivity real soon.

So introduce him to the bream... better known as the perch. It's a natural-born, boy-type of fish.

Bream are present in considerable numbers almost everywhere. They bite anytime of the day. They go for all kinds of bait.

Worms, of course, are the favorite bait for this kind of fishing.

Tackle should consist of the simplest ingredients... a pole, a line, a bobber, a very light weight and a small hook.

Select a light cane pole that the kid can handle. A 6-foot pole should be long enough to start with. Rig it up right for him and explain how and why you do it.

Te on about a 6 foot cord and fit it to the pole with a series of half-hitches extending back a foot or so from the tip.

At the end of this line make a small loop.

Into the loop tie some very light nylon leader, and let it extend to the other end of the pole.

The hook should be tiny, and a little split that will do for a sinker.

Put a bobber on some three or four feet above the hook, depending on how deep the bream are.

If you're serious about this kid-fishing business and really want to succeed at it, you will have gone out ahead of time and discovered a good fishing hole where the bream respect willingly.

When you get there with the youngster, you'll have to bait the hook for him, at first. Show him how it's done. Be very patient.

gins to lose the first blush of excitement, it's time to try something different.

My recommendation is that you remove the bobber from his line as the next step.

Explain that it's even more fun to feel the first nibble of the fish himself, by the tight-line method, rather than depending on the bobber to guide him.

So the next question is—how deep does he fish? Now here's where you get a little bit tricky.

Tell him that the big fish are sometimes down deep. Have him let his bait all the way down to the bottom, leave it there a little while, and then bring it up very slowly, jiggling it a little along the way.

He's still going to catch his share of bream, but you and I know what else is going to happen. One of these days he is going to snag something bigger—a catfish, a gaspergou, even a bass.

Don't forsake the bream all at once. Fish for them the way you have always done. But spend a little time casting, too, and thinking about bass.

Of course, you can fish for bream with the spin-cast outfit. Also you can use the old cane pole for a set line. Bait it with a gob of worms and let them rest on the bottom.

You and the boy have started out the simple, easy way. You have wandered no farther from home than the creek, and you have brought home a string of fish pretty regularly—mostly bream, with an occasional catfish. Soon you're going to be ready for a new thrill.

My suggestion for this one would be a fishing dock on the lake where the crappie and white bass are biting. Now the cane pole can be discarded. Or put away for another time.

Substitute minnow for the worm. Tell him how to hook the minnow through the lips and lower it, with his spin-caster, down to the bottom. Have him reel in a few turns and wait a little while. Then have him reel up slowly, jiggling a little.

If you're in the right place at the right time, you're going to catch crappie and white bass, maybe catfish, too. Once that young sport gets a top-pound white on the line, they are both hooked.

It's a fisherman's dream—do good.

Fish Like Candy, Too
 Take along a bag of gum drops on your next fishing trip. Not only will you enjoy snacking on them, but you might use a few as fish bait.
 Bass and catfish are both fond of gum drops. Simply cut one in half and use on hook as bait. If gum drops are of the small variety, use them whole for baiting.

Rust ruins hooks quickly—especially when stored for the winter.
 You can prevent this erosion if you will take the time to wash and dry each hook, then dip it in rubber cement.
 When ready to use, merely rub off the cement coating and your hook will be bright, shiny and sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wiseman returned recently from a trip to the New Mexico mountains.

Miss Bertha Vereen and Mrs. Tom King were Lubbock visitors Monday.

Mrs. C. M. Furneaux is in Dallas this week to attend funeral services for William Furneaux, a former Sudan resident.

COMMUNICATIONS — Your Tool for Progress

In case of fire, this telephone rings the alarm

In many of our towns, fire protection comes from a volunteer fire department. An effective communications system summons these volunteers by ringing all members' telephones at the same time. What's more, it is a distinctive ring which means "FIRE!" and brings firemen on the run. Here is another example of how Communications becomes a Tool for Progress—a communications service of great value to every town with a volunteer fire department. For full information about our many communications services, please call our Business Office.
