WOODWORK BY DALTON

SOMETIMES we wonder why the government feeds us all such a line of doubletalk, especially about some issue as vital as the Viet Nam conflict.

One thing that should strike anyone is the continuing reports describing American casualties as "moderate". This is a nice elastic phrase which means usually, that our losses are moderate for one battle, perhaps as compared with the sinking of the Titanic, or some such. Or, perhaps the government figures that if we lost 100 men in a fight and the Viet Cong lost 300, our losses are "moderate." But in the eyes of most Americans, one American life is not worth a dozen Viet Cong. This admittedly is not the Christian way to look at it, but certainly it is a widespread feeling. And certainly I would hardly try to tell some parent who has lost a boy in the Viet Nam conflict that his sacrifice was worth it because he killed 12 guerrillas before he died.

In one dispatch regarding the big groundbattle of last week, American losses were described as moderate, and in the next paragraph it said dozens of helicopters were required to move the wounded and dead from the scene of one skirmish.

I certainly don't mind the view of the Viet Nam situation. There is something to be said for the viewpoint that we ought to try to kill everybody and something for the viewpoint that we ought to bring all the boys home and stay out of war, killing nobody. And both viewpoints are wrong, too.

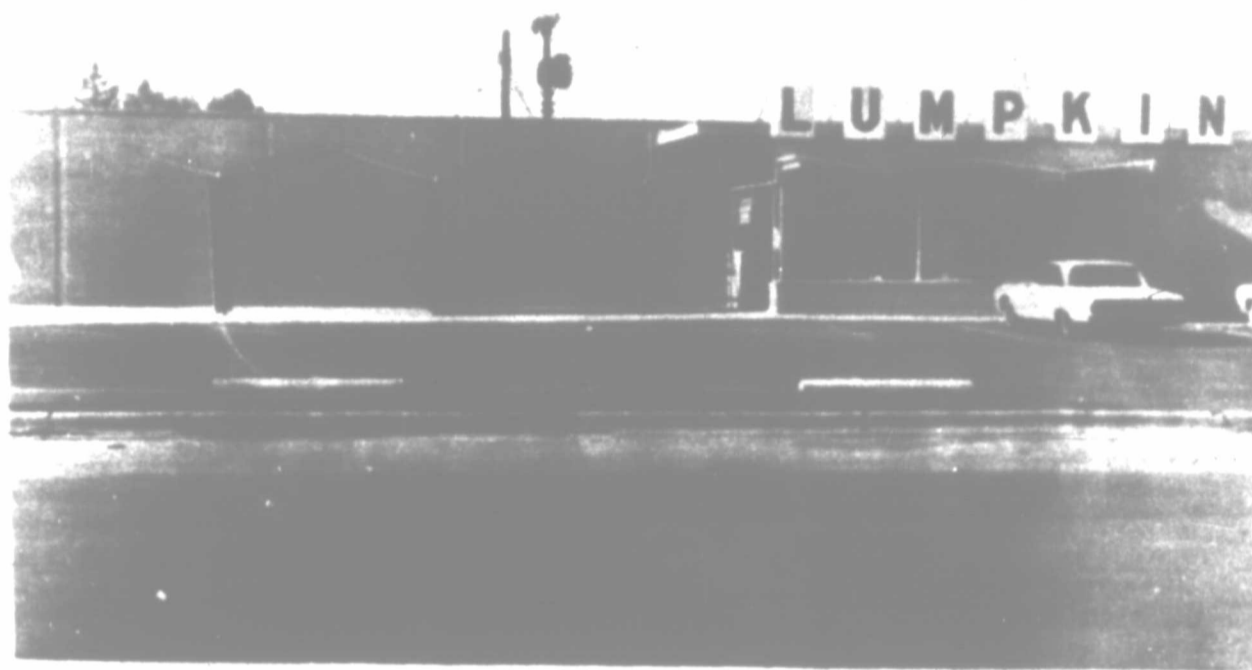

However, I do know that we have a right to know how many are being killed, when we lose a fight, and all about what is going on. I believe the news services are doing a good job of reporting, but sometimes they can only report what the briefing officers tell them, and that may not be much.

RECENTLY I heard one of the best illustrations in my experience of why people should go to the polls. State Rep. Debrin Jones of Lubbock was speaking, and he said this:

Suppose you hang a piece of string from the ceiling in a room full of people and ask each one to guess the length. Although the answers will vary widely, if you take their sums and divide by the number of persons guessing, you will come amazingly close to the actual length (I haven't tried this, but it sounds logical).

This proves, Jones said, that when a group of people give an opinion, using their own judgment as best they can, they usually come up with the right answer.

He then made the obvious conclusion that this is why everyone should vote, on every issue, regardless of how they feel. If enough people vote, generally the right answer will come up. But if some don't, you could get a distorted minority opinion.

NEW BUILDING IN SUDAN - Shown above is the new Lumpkin Food Store which will observe its Open House on Saturday.

Lumpkin Foods To Observe Open House Saturday

Lumpkin Foods of Sudan will observe the formal opening of their new store on Saturday, Nov. 27. The new building is located at the corner of Main and Third.

A Lubbock construction firm constructed the steel and brick veneer building which has 7,000 sq. ft. of floor space. It is air-conditioned, has central heat and also offers stereophonic music which is piped-in for the entertainment of their customers.

In mentioning some of the outstanding features of the new store, Noel Lumpkin, owner and manager, stated that the frozen food space has been more than tripled in size and has twice as much space for ice cream and dairy foods. He also mentioned that new facilities have been used throughout the market.

The store has 22 feet of refrigerated produce rack, 14 feet of dry vegetable rack and 50 ft. of shelving for drugs, notions, candies and school supplies. Seven shopping guidelines are featured throughout the store.

Noel Lumpkin started in the grocery business in Sudan on March 20, 1949. He and his partner, H. M. Nichols, operated what was known as "The L&N Food Store" in the building presently occupied by Sudan Beacon-News.

Lumpkin Food was established in January 1962 when he bought out his partner and went into business for himself. He remained in the newspaper building until Dec. 4, 1964, when he moved to the building recently vacated by the firm. He opened for business in the present location on Wednesday, Nov. 17, 1965.

Included on the staff of the grocery store is Gary Roscoe, butcher, who has been employed by Lumpkin for four years. Roscoe, a graduate of the University of Texas, has been with the firm for a short time which includes, Fresh Dairy, has worked for Lumpkin Foods for 5 years. Stock boys, Johnny and Cecil Aills, have been working part and full time for the past three years.

Lumpkin invites the public to come in and look over the new facilities. He feels that with added merchandise and new facilities he will be able to better serve his former customers as well as the new ones.

Everyone is especially invited to come in for the formal opening and register for the free prizes to be given away at the drawing Saturday at 7 p. m. There will be prizes and surprises for all. Prizes include a portable television, an electric mixer, a cordless toothbrush, baskets of groceries, and numerous other prizes.

The committee is to report at the next club meeting which will be announced at a later date.

cookies and making candy. Many hours will be spent in the kitchen getting ready for family and friends you'll be entertaining at this festive time.
We hate to mention it but burns and knife cuts seem to go hand in hand with this stepped-up pace in the kitchen.
Just in case the inevitable should happen although we hope it won't we recommend you have a can of B.F.I. first aid antiseptic powder within easy reach. B.F.I. is quick and easy to use—just sprinkle on and the germ-fighting agents go to work to soothe, promote healing and to protect the burn or cut.

IN ALL THINGS
GIVE THANKS

Scripture: I Corinthians 13; I John 2: 15, 25; 3: 10, 11.

"... And though I give my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing."

Have you read this 13th chapter of I Cor. and looked at the power and great need of love? How much do you love? Is your service to man given because of love — love of God and love of your neighbor as yourself?

Have you ever heard anyone say, "But they do so many good things..." How long will it be before we will grow in Knowledge of God enough to realize that it is not first what we do, but what we are and our motives for what we do that is of first importance.

If love is so important, so necessary—why do you suppose there is so much hate?

Let's look at this chapter on love and what it can do. We can speak in many languages, make beautiful speeches, understand all mysteries and knowledge, even have enough faith in God to remove mountains, give all our goods to feed the poor, and to give our bodies to be burned, and if we have not love, it is nothing and profiteth us nothing. So, what is this perfect love, the kind for which a Christian strives? This love, which is in a Christian's heart because while we were yet sinners Christ loved us and willingly died for us. How much have you grown up in your love for Christ Jesus the Lord?

What is the evidence of this love within our hearts? Love suffers long and is kind, envies not and is not puffed up. Love seeks not her own, but seeks for her neighbor's good; is not easily provoked, is not glad for sin, but rejoiceth in the truth. Love engendereth in a person faith, patience, hope, and all things. Love never fails.

"When I was a child I spoke as a child..." Have you begun to put away childish things?

Doing good works is fine, desiring to serve God is well and good, but first pray and worship! Follow after love, because God looks on the heart, and only love gives the gift of service any value. God is Love.

Faith, hope, love — but the greatest of these is love. "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord."

Is Jesus Your Savior and Lord?

Have you praised God for His love and blessings today — even for life itself? Let us be Thankful!

Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you.—(John 14:27).

When we pick up the newspapers and read the disquieting fearful things about the world around us, let these words of Jesus take away all fear. The peace of Jesus Christ is here now, in our minds and hearts, and in the hearts of the people all over the world. His power is working now to re-make the earth. "Let not your heart be troubled: believe in God, believe also in me."

December 8, 1902—Professor Langley, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, failed in a second attempt to fly an airplane constructed according to his own plans. (Eleven years later the Langley machine was re-tested and successfully flown.)

CATTLE PRICES TO BE RELEASED

An authoritative report on the week of futures prices will be one of the main features of the 19th Annual Southwestern Cattle Feeding Conference in San Antonio, Dec. 7.

Highlighting the report, Bob Rierson, Project Leader for the Western Livestock Marketing Information Project, will center his remarks around the possibilities of cattle feeders engaging the normal Spring decline in fat cattle prices this year.

Rierson is recognized as one of the best informed livestock economists in the United States, and his comments are expected to be of considerable interest to ranchers as well as cattle feeders.

The Conference is sponsored by the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and Lloyd Bergama, director of the division, said that advance registrations indicate a record attendance.

The Cattle Feeders Division will hold a membership meeting the afternoon of Dec. 6, which will feature a panel discussion on "Whether Texas Should Have a Feedlot Licensing Law." It also is open to the public.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS TO RECEIVE CHECKS

Checks totaling $120,700 will go into the mail this week for the 1700 4-H Club boys and girls and Future Farmers who participated in the Junior Livestock and Poultry Shows and Sales last month at the State Fair of Texas.

"The support that the Junior Auction Sale Committee obtained from individuals and firms in Dallas, Fort Worth and other Texas cities made the 1948 Junior auction the most successful in the history of the State Fair," Roy W. Wilson, State Fair livestock manager, said.

The checks, which include the final sale proceeds and prize money, cover sales by the youngsters of 302 steers, 450 lambs, 423 barrows, 72 turkeys and 1,470 broilers — a grand total of 2,700 head.
