THE LONE RANGER is still a favorite. And again, and again, never Hollywood writer Bob Thomas of the Associated Press, who reported "there seems to be an end to the western travels of the masked rider, who began his battle against frontier bad-ness a half of a century ago on radio."

The Saturday, the Lone Ranger will start appearing on cartoon form on television. He already has been on television for 15 years, and never has killed anyone yet, if my memory is accurate.

I don't want to imply that never missed an episode. It just seems to me that I had somewhere that the masked rider never was permitted to kill anyone, because of all the youngsters watching.

For all I know, he never has even shot anyone. Seems to me he generally shoots the gun out of their hands or bangs their nose in the head with one of Billy's horseshoes, or something.

There's no romance in the show, either. I don't believe with no sex angle and no violence and gore, I just don't understand why a typical, fun-loving, bloodthirsty little child of today would even watch the show, as millions have been doing on TV, in comic-cartoon form. Of course, they'll probably watch it as a cartoon. One thing we don't need is any more Saturday morning cartoons.

HOSPITALS are planning a 20 per cent or more increase in prices to private patients because of the heavier costs of the Medicare program, they say. Auto manufacturers are expected to hang higher price tags on new cars, blaming the auto safety standards law likely to go into effect next year, requiring them to put some extra stuff on the new cars.

There are other examples, but these show that just about everything the government does, even when it occasionally does something good, costs the people more money one way or another.

Of course, none of us has to buy a new car. But if we go to a hospital, we are expected to

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS FRIDAY AGAINST SUNDOWN

FALL IS HERE AND FOOTBALL IS IN THE AIR - The Sudan Hornet B team will begin their season next Thursday, Sept. 15 when they journey to Anton. The team is coached by T.P. Wingo Jr. and Troy Chitty.

Football season will officially begin Friday night when the Sudan Hornets will meet the Sundown Roughnecks in Masten Stadium at 8 p. m.

Coach Cain's Hornets have fared fine in two pre-season scrimmage games, the last of which was with Whiteface here Friday night. Sudan scored two touchdowns and made 19 first downs compared to no touchdowns and only 4 first downs for Whiteface.

Local Girl Serves As Camp Counselor

Miss Kathy Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Barnett, recently returned from spending eight weeks in Boston's "Southside" which compares to New York's Harlem. The population of the "Southside" is 30,000 made up of 90% Negro, 10% poor white, Mexican, Italian, and Porto Rican.

She was counselor of a day camp held in the Boston slum, and was a volunteer worker which meant she had to financially furnish all her expenses including transportation to and from Boston.

Kathy is a 1964 graduate of Sudan High School and is a second semester junior at Abilene Christian College majoring in math. She learned about the camp through a Harvard student who spoke at ACC.

This camp held at the House of Carpenter in "Southside" was started by four Harvard students in 1963. It is hoped that by next year an inter-denominational council can be set up to help with the expenses and perhaps start paying the counselors. The tenement building in which the day camp was held has been condemned and is being torn down. Another building is being bought.

Miss Barnett was one of twelve

WILL YOU ACCEPT A GIFT?

Scripture: St. Matthew 5:43-48.

Many people do not know what it is like to be a child of God, our heavenly Father. They have no idea of the joy and delight that is ours in the Christian family here and now as we "go and do" at our Father's direction.

It always gives me such joy when I see the wonder of spiritual understanding light up the face of a new convert, a newly born child into the family of God. And I wonder if they see the joy of service for Jesus lighting up my face and yours, who were born into the kingdom before them? As they begin to see and understand, will they see the experience of joy in us that comes as a result of obedience to our Father's guidance in His church here on earth?

Then, I take a look at our Christian family, and wonder how we can so worship, so act, talk, write, so "live as God's children in a way that will cause the world to see we have something too wonderful, too amazing to keep to ourselves.

We know a Friend who loves us all. Sinners that we are, He loves us all and when we come to Him as we are, because He loves us, He changes us into a new creation. And, He offers us a gift—the gift of Eternal Life! A gift which each and everyone of us need to know about, for we have all sinned and we need a Savior.

Then we learn another amazing thing, the more we share our blessings and what we have experienced and learned about Jesus, the more we learn and the more we receive.

Jesus said that we, as our Father's children, are to love our enemies (me? Love that guy, who said such mean things, the one who stole from me?), "bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you." He also said that if we love Him, we will keep His commandments. Even those who do not know Jesus love their friends; are we doing anymore than that? Are we showing love for those who show no love for us—as Jesus did love even those who crucified Him, praying "Father, forgive them..."?

Can we ever stop telling the wonderful news of salvation? Can we ever stop telling those who do not have eternal life about Jesus, about how much our Father loves us and wants us back again with Him to enjoy the beauty and perfection of heaven and His love.

God in Christ has done all to show us how much He loves us. In His suffering, on the Cross, in the Resurrection, then in giving us the Holy Spirit to abide with us until He comes again for us; His Spirit to comfort, to instruct, to guide, and the Bible for His Word to light our way.

The way of the Cross is a sacrificial way, but a hopeful, joyful way even so, for it is the way of the Cross by which Jesus went back home to the Father. And so shall we if we accept Him, for He said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

Jesus! He is the one, the only one, who can save you and me and give us hope and joy, peace and eternal life.

His promise is yours when you claim it:

"He that believeth on the Lord Jesus Christ shall be saved."

"And this is the promise that He hath promised us, even eternal life."

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

To hear some people tell it, the javelina stands ten feet tall and has a temper like a short-fused stick of dynamite, ready to go off at the slightest provocation. Probably no other animal, certainly none in Texas, has a reputation that is blown so far out of proportion to its actual character. Actually javelina, is a fairly small creature weighing 40 pounds or less that will flee at the first hint of danger. There are some people like August Timmerman, game warden at Hondo, who actually run the pigs down with dogs and catch them alive.

Timmerman debunks this talk about the ferocity of the javelina. He says it isn't vicious at all.

Probably much of this talk can be attributed to the javelina's poor eyesight. Often when one whiffs a human scent, it will take off through the brush, running right at the hunter. This is because it can't distinguish the human. Naturally, the hunter believes the little animal to be "charging" him. Thus the overblown reputation of the javelina gets another follower.

But despite its dubious reputation, the javelina is a sporting game animal. They are quite plentiful in the brush country of South Texas and it is fascinating to hunt them in this thorny environment.

One of the favorite ways to hunt javelinas is with dogs. Since a javelina leaves a distinctive odor behind, from the ably glimpse two or more of the pigs stealing into the open.

Another method is stalk hunting.

To me, this is the most fascinating method of all. You creep stealthily through the brush, always looking, listening and smelling. This is one kind of hunting where your nose is a definite asset. Often you can smell the pigs or hear them grunting and clicking their teeth long before you see them.

Probably more javelinas are bagged with deer rifles, by hunters out after deer, than by any other weapon. But actually, this is far too much firepower. The javelina isn't a tough animal and it doesn't require much bullet to bring one down.

When chasing them with dogs, most hunters prefer the ordinary .22 rimfire pistol. They move in close after the pigs have been brought to bay and shoot them in the head.

For stalk hunting, the .22 Magnum is a suitable cartridge. Also quite good is the .30/30 carbine, since most shots will be at close range and must be made quickly, before the pigs are swallowed by the dense brush.

The javelina is very quick on its feet, for short distances, but it doesn't travel very far in one spurt. Often you can stay on the trail of a herd and soon come upon them again.

Traditionally, javelinas are gregarious animals. Usually they'll wander in bands of five or more.

Despite what you might have heard to the contrary, the javelina isn't bad to eat. An old bear has a strong taste, but the younger ones are quite delectable.

A javelina is best barbecued. Its meat tends to be dry, so does the flesh of most wild game, so apply a liberal amount of barbecue sauce as you cook.

Fair officials said capacity of Fair Park Coliseum, where the "in-the-round" show will be presented, is 5,270 for each performance.

So far, over $5,000 worth of tickets have been sold and the fair association expects that the total number of tickets sold will still be accepted from West Texas area residents who may write to the fair association at PO Box 208, Lubbock.

Tickets are priced at $2, $2.50, $3 and $3.50 with children admitted for half price at all matinees. The show, also featuring the Young American Singers, is scheduled at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily through-

Thompson Seedless Grapes Are Ready

Thompson Seedless, the "easy-on-the-cook" grape, is back for another season. No peeling, no seeding—ready to use as it comes from the store. This grape is delightful in salads, desserts and dozens of meat dishes.

The 90 million vines which bear the huge Thompson Seedless grape harvest in California are the descendants of one little vine shipped, quite by accident, with a large order of grape cuttings to a Mr. W. Thompson in 1872. Seedlessness, plus excellent flavor makes this an all-purpose fruit bowl, white wine and raisin grape. Specially treated vines produce some 7,000 carlot equivalents of choice, golden-green clusters of de luxe size for the fresh market.

FRESH GRAPE MOLD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine	1 1/2 cups fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup cold water	1 1/2 cups Thompson Seedless grapes
2 1/4 cups boiling water	1/2 cup shredded fresh carrots
1/2 teaspoon salt	1/2 cup Shrimp salad
1/2 cup sugar

Soften gelatin in cold water. Stir in boiling water, salt, sugar and lemon juice. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in grapes and carrots. Turn into a lightly oiled 3-cup ring mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Just before serving, unmold salad onto a serving plate. Fill center with shrimp salad. YIELD: 8 to 10 servings.

GREEN GRAPE WALDORF SALAD

full-time counselors. The camp was held four times with each session lasting two weeks. Children from the ages of six to thirteen attended the camp with about 40 children attending the camp each session. Some attended more than one session. Kathy was co-teacher of about 11 boys and girls each session. During the morning the children were led in such things as devotionals, flag raising exercises, Bible class, personal hygiene, and swimming. The afternoon was spent in hand crafts or taking trips to such places as Plymouth or Cape Cod.

The children who attended the camp were from large families and had a need for love and security. The workers in the camp had to prove their sincerity before the children would accept them. The first few days the children were quite offensive, but as soon as the counselors broke the shell the children returned their love threefold.

The children have only asphalt playgrounds and only three of these even have such things as swings and slides. The schooling is very poor. The ratio of teacher to students is 45 to 1. There are only four churches in the "Southend" with very poor attendance. The Massachusetts General Hospital takes care of the people's medical needs. Many of the residents are born in the "Southend", raised and die there. Miss Barnett said many of the children had never seen the Charles River which is a mere ten blocks away.

The "Southend" residents are trying to help themselves through citizen councils, petition to city government. Their lack of education proves to be a great block to their forward movement.

Kathy remarked that she had many experiences and she would always cherish and she had learned to love and understand these needy people. Miss Barnett has spoken to various groups about her interesting summer and plans to give more talks.

Section 1. That Section 18, Article VII, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 18. For the purpose of constructing, equipping, or acquiring buildings or other permanent improvements for the Texas A & M University System, including Texas A & M University, Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at Prairie View, Tarleton State College at Stephenville, Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Engineering Experiment Station at College Station, Texas Engineering Extension Service at College Station, and the Texas Forest Service, the Board of Directors is hereby authorized to issue negotiable bonds or notes not to exceed a total amount of one-third (1/3) of twenty per cent (20%) of the value of the Permanent University Fund exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance thereof; provided, however, no building or other permanent improvement shall be acquired or constructed hereunder for use by any part of the Texas A & M University System, except at and for the use of the general academic institutions constituting such System, and all of the institutions constituting such System as hereinabove enumerated, shall not receive any General Revenue funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements, except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the uninsured loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of General Revenue funds.

"Said Bonds are severally authorized to pledge the whole or any part of the respective interests of Texas A & M University and of the University of Texas in the income from the Permanent University Fund, as such interests are now apportioned by Chapter 42 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the 42nd Legislature of the State of Texas, for the purpose of securing the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds or notes. The Permanent University Fund may be invested in such bonds or notes.

"All bonds or notes issued pursuant hereto shall be approved by the Attorney General of Texas and when so approved shall be incontestable. This Amendment shall be self-enacting provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing any obligation heretofore created by the issuance of any outstanding notes or bonds under this Section by the respective Boards prior to the adoption of this Amendment but any such outstanding notes or bonds shall be paid in full, both principal and interest, in accordance with the terms of such contracts."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment withdrawing Arlington State College from participation in the Permanent University Fund."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment withdrawing Arlington State College from participation in the Permanent University Fund."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.
