FORTY-THIRD YEAR NUMBER 28

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

WOODWORK BY DALTON

A COUPLE OF GEMS from the National Foundation for Highway Safety reached our desk this week. One says "If you expect to see 90, don't look for it on the speedometer." The other is a poem:

There once was a guy named Dutch,
Who depended on liquor too much;
As he stepped on the throttle,
He slipped from a bottle---
Now Dutch works his clutch with a crutch.

A FEDERAL agency, the Office of Economic Opportunity, has set up a program costing $208,741 to teach Zuni Indians how to make jewelry. This very much disgusts the Zunis, according to reports, because the Zunis already are recognized as the finest Indian master craftsmen in jewelry. It's sort of like setting aside that much money to teach Jack Nicklaus to play golf.

Passing thought: $208,741 would buy two million ice cream cones for underprivileged newspapermen.

REPELLING NEWS: Spray-on dog repellents, touted as a means of keeping Fido away from all sorts of forbidden pleasures, are turning out to be more bark than bite, according to a sheet called "The Insider's News Letter". Scientists at the Department of Agriculture have been running tests to determine whether the aromatic sprays, which are supposed to irritate the dog's nose, really affect him enough to persuade him that treated garbage cans and flower gardens are something to stay away from.

So far, the tests show that some dogs are repelled and some are not, apparently because rather than irritating the dog's nose, the spray just masks the usual odor. This confuses some dogs, and they go off hunting elsewhere. But those dogs which know a full garbage can when they see one are not fooled, and the spray may not work at all.

With careful training and strict discipline, say the USDA scientists, dogs may be taught to be repelled by the repellent. Says the newsletter:

"All you have to do is tell Fido 'no, no' when he approaches the garbage can, give the can a spray, maybe hit him with a newspaper and if he's a smart dog, he eventually will catch on."

$72,000.00 APPROPRIATED FOR LAMB COUNTY ROAD

According to a report this week from the Texas Highway Commission, $72,000.00 has been appropriated for .6 mile of farm to market road in Lamb County.

The report does not state where the .6 of a mile of construction is to be located, but will be under the supervision of Rhea E. Bradley of Littlefield.

The work is part of the Highway Commission's road improvement for 1968 which will include 5,182 miles of construction at $39.8 million and right of way costs of $137.5 thousand and will involve some 212 Texas counties.

METHODIST DEDICATION HELD SUNDAY

Five former pastors of Sudan Methodist Church, Bishop O. Eugene Slater of San Antonio, a former pastor's widow who came from Washington, D. C. and several other Methodist leaders were present Sunday for dedication services of the local church.

Bishop Slater presided over the dedication and preached the sermon in the morning worship, with the pastor, Rev. Robert Brown, leading the program.

Approximately 275 persons were present for the morning service and luncheon which was served in the Sudan school cafeteria.

Mrs. Caradine Hooten, widow of a well-known minister who once was pastor at Sudan, spoke briefly to the group at the school, as did former ministers present and Plainview district superintendent W.A. Appling. Layman Joe Salem served as master of ceremonies at the luncheon program.

Mrs. C. M. Furneaux, a charter member of the church, was presented a corsage at the morning ceremony.

Some 300 guests registered at the reception in the church fellowship hall from 3 to 5 p. m.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS FRIDAY AGAINST SUNDOWN

The 1967 football season officially opens Friday night for the Sudan Hornets when they meet the Sundown Roughnecks at Sundown.

Coach Troy Chitty, who has been scouting the Roughnecks, reports that Sundown, like many small towns is short on available athletes; but he added they have a lot of experience and carry a lot of weight, which could prove a very good combination for their side.

The Hornets have 25 boys on their traveling squad and Coach Jim Cain reported that the probable starting line-up Friday will be:

Others on the squad are Bobby Drake, Randy Pierce, Monte Roberts, Harvey Willeby, Wayne

Gilreath, Pat Minyard, Clinton Jones, Bryan Hulcy, Joe Hines, Morris Jefferson, Ricky May, Rex Boyles. Out with injuries at this time are Gary Gatewood and Van Seymore.

Assisting in coaching duties are Chitty, Bill Adams and Tommy Laceywell.

The Hornet Band is scheduled to perform during the half-time activities. This will be their first performance under the direction of Jimmie Strange, band director.

Leading the band will be Drum majorette Sharon Wilson and majorettes, Sheryl Watts, Kathy Minyard, Sharon Baker and Kathy Rice.

Directing the cheers for the Hornets will be cheerleaders Nancy Lance, Donna Gaston, Connie Lance, Angela Pickett, Jeanne Baker.

Game time is 8 p. m. and all residents are urged to attend and support the Hornets in their first victory of the season.

Featured on the program was a film of the 1966 Sudan-Sundown game which was followed by a scouting report given by Coach Troy Chitty.

SENIOR CITIZENS MEETING SET

STORM DAMAGE ESTIMATES REACH INTO THOUSANDS

Damage from the Sunday night storm here is running into the thousands of dollars as reports continue to come in at press time.

Probably causing the most damage was the strong tornadoic winds which accompanied the deluge of rain and large hail. The storm which struck the city at approximately 8:45 p. m. causing power failure for up to five hours for some parts of town, caught most residents unprepared for the forceful wind which blew down trees and fences, broke windows and caused some damage to almost every residence and business building.

Hardest hit was Central Compress, located on the west side of town, where one warehouse was completely destroyed, another badly damaged, and tin and glasses blown from others. The wreckage from the demolished warehouse was scattered across Highway 84. Property damage alone (not including water damage to stored cotton) is estimated at $100,000.00.

Also receiving considerable damage in that section of town was Nix & Grigsby Delinting, Garcia Cafe and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Dudgeon. Other businesses reporting damage include Gordon Gulf where large windows were broken. Waymon Gordon, owner, reported that a desk drawer was sucked open and accounts receivable from M through W where blown over a large area.

Show windows were also broken at Baccus Chevrolet and damage was estimated at $1250.00 including loss of accessories and water damage.

Three motel houses were reported to have been destroyed at Farmers Co-Op Gins.

A large pole supporting lights at the football stadium was snapped off at the top of the ground showing the great wind velocity.

The only injury reported was of Mrs. Joel Thompson who resides west of town, who was hospitalized from injuries received while making her way to a storm cellar. Many residents were stranded while going to storm cellars by tin, barrels, trees and other debris which littered the streets during and following the storm.

As clean-up operations progressed, Mayor Joe Rone, announced that city trucks will collect all tree litter if residents will pile it beside the streets. He added that it is not necessary for residents to take the branches to the alley, but that scattered branches in the yard will not be picked up by city employees. Workmen pushed the debris from city streets early Monday to provide residents clear transportation.

The extent of damage to area crops was not certain at press time but it is expected to be severe in some areas south of town.

which was torn from the Garcia Cafe. At the right is a photo showing some of the damage done to trees. There are reports of several trees
