ACCORDING to a report issued last week by the Agriculture Dept., roll-your-own cigarettes are still popular, and accounted for about 31 per cent of the 67 millions pounds of smoking tobacco used last year.

This is incredible, and hard for me to believe. Checking around, I could find only one person who knew anyone who still rolls their own regularly. In this region, anyway, if he's the only one rolling his own, he's doing a powerful lot of smoking to account for his 31 per cent.

APPARENTLY the old days of practical joking on April Fool's Day are over. Either folks have just become resigned to being fooled every day of the year, or the practical jokers just don't have time to operate any more.

Who can remember the last April Fool's Day he stooped to pick up a wallet only to discover it was attached to a string held by a youngster ready to jerk it away? Or shaking hands with some smart aleck only to get an electric shock from a hidden buzzer?

Of course, it may be that such antics aren't safe anymore, since almost nobody can take a joke. Makers of gag gadgets say there is no special demand for gag items on April Fool's Day, and hasn't been for quite a few years.

Some of the funny card makers, however, have tried to revive the observance, with gag cards for the occasion.

For a couple of years in a row--1960 and 1961, I think--we printed a special April Fool's edition of the Sudan Beacon News, and readers of the edition generally said they enjoyed it tremendously. But like everyone else, it seems we've just become too busy or lazy or something to continue the practice. Maybe one of these years...

THE FEDERAL government, which we sometimes suspect is more interested in taking all the fun out of driving than in making autos safer, wants automakers to put speed control devices on cars, automatic governors which would limit the speed of cars somewhere around 80 mph. The car manufacturers, though, have suggested as an alternate a warning device, which would sound at about that speed.

The manufacturers said studies showed that less than five per cent of injury accidents occur at speeds of 70 mph or higher.

Among other Lamb County boys and girls entering the show at Lubbock were Sue Noles of Sudan; Daany Carter of Amherst; Bobby Blair of Amherst; Tracy Bowling, Jimmy Fields, and Greg Burgess, of Sudan.

PHIL PARMER, Sudan-FFA, is shown with his lamb which placed Reserve Champion Medium Wool at both the Lubbock Livestock Show and the South Plains Junior Livestock Show in Littlefield.

Four Men Billed For Murder And Robbery

Four men were billed for murder and robbery at the meeting of the grand jury Monday in Littlefield, and bond was set at $10,000 each.

Charged in the examining trial Thursday, March 21, with murder and robbery in the death of John Evrett Knox, 71, of Sudan on March 3, were Richard Duain Rush, 22, and Odell Howard, 19, both of Muleshoe, and Cecil Lee Mooney, 23, of Sudan. John Wayne Hall, 18, of Needmore, who is free under $5,000 bond after waiving his rights to the examining trial, was also charged in the case.

The four men were bound over for grand jury which met March 25 when they were billed on the charges of murder and robbery.

Two Mexicans, brothers from Muleshoe, were also charged in a February beating and robbery of another Mexican man seven miles west of Earth on Highway 70. The grand jury charged them with assault and robbery and set their bond at $4,000 each.

Sudan School Bonds Sold

A special called meeting of the Sudan Independent School Board of Trustees was held Monday night to receive school bond bids, and the recently voted Sudan School bonds were sold to Dittmar and Company of San Antonio with effective interest rate of 4.33299 per cent.

Dittmar and Company submitted the lowest interest rate bid, Superintendent W. E. Hancock stated as he announced all bond bids received as follows:

Dittmar and Company of San Antonio and Lubbock, 4.33299; Rotan Moore-Dallas Union, Inc., Houston, Texas, 4.38162; The Fort Worth National Bank, Fort Worth, Texas, 4.401425; Columbian Securities Corporation of Texas, Amarillo, Texas, 4.48319; Rowles, Winston and Company, Houston, Texas, 4.51578; The First Southwest Company, Lubbock, Texas, 4.577983.

The State of Texas Permanent School Fund has an option of purchasing the bonds at the lowest bid rate should they desire to do so. However, Superintendent Hancock commented that he doubted if the State would pick up the option since they were able to invest their money in securities bearing a higher rate of interest than was bid on these bonds.

Devotional

BY HAZEL HOUSE

St. John 11: 38-44; Romans 10: 8-13, I John 2: 25.

"And he that was dead came forth."

Are you in near despair over one whom you love that is lost and separated from God without Christ as Savior, without hope? Read about Mary and Martha and Lazarus and Jesus.

Are you this one who is lost--Are you dead in sin? Read the above stated scripture.

No man has life, except in Christ Jesus. All of us have sinned and come short of the glory of God--God made us in His own image, in perfection to be His glory--so we are all dead in sin until we come to know that Jesus did truly die on the Cross for our sin and accept Him, turning from our sin to Him and giving ourselves just as we are to Him. Then He saves us; we are born again, we are His new-born child. Just a child, not full-grown, we grow up under His protective, guiding, loving, comforting providence. He provides both food and shelter and delight and joy, and strength as we follow Him. But we must continually seek Him that we may receive His power, His mercy, His forgiveness, His cleansing, so that He can come in and live in us, that others may see Him in and through our lives.

We come forth from death into life, even as Lazarus came forth, when we hear Jesus speak to us to "Come, follow me". And we come just as we are, bound hand and foot by sin, but we must come, as He said.

When Jesus called Peter and Andrew his brother, who were at work as fishermen, He said, "Follow me" and they left their fishing nets, and followed Him. Have you really left your "fishing nets"?

Then Jesus sets us free! But like all freedom, we must nurture it and avail ourselves of its highest privilege if we are to keep it. We stay free only as we "follow" Jesus, as we stay near Him; read God's Word, believe it, seek fellowship and worship with other Christians, pray, and in love for Jesus, look for something to do that He would do if He had a physical body, if He were present, as He is!

How do we hear Jesus call us to come? In many and varied situations, but if you have read this far, you are hearing His call to come and follow Him. So, do it! Whether it be to new service in His name, or if you are hearing Him for the first time. Determine to leave the sin that possesses and binds you, knowing full well that you cannot by your own strength. But God is stronger than any sin, any temptation, and He promises in His Word that He will make "a way to escape" (See I Corinthians 10: 13).

Jesus died because He loves you and me, and He arose that we might know His power to give eternal life. Since He said He could save you from sin and death, then He can and He will keep that promise. I know He will, for He has saved me and brought me from death into eternal life.

Will you trust Him, believe He is what He said, and come to Him for the abundant eternal life you need? Are you grateful that God would care about you enough to die that you might live? The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ. Will you accept the gift, take Jesus as your personal Savior and let Him save you and keep you?

Come, just as you are, and follow Him--give yourself to Him and He will make you His own child forevermore! This is His promise.

All of us want to let love take possession of our spirit; we want the peace of mind, and the flow of blessings into our life that loving spirit brings. A GOOD PRODUCING COTTON WITH A HIGH TURNOUT

If there is any one thing that has been on farmer's minds for the past 50 years it is a cotton with a good turnout, and this is certainly emphasized when a farmer has to take 3,000 lbs. of stripped cotton to the gin to make a bale in the fall of the year. Likewise, he also wants a high production cotton along with that good turnout. But where will you find such a cotton? Our new Gregg 45 will meet all the requirements of high production and high turnout.

In 1965 the first year that there was a seed block of Gregg 45, Mr. Troy Pritchard of Plainview produced 90 running bales (avg. 505 lbs. compress weight) produced from 38 acres of Gregg 45; and it took 695 lbs. seed to make a 500 lb. bale. The turnout was 26.5%. 1965 was a fair year for growing cotton, however, it did turn rather cool after the 15th of September.

Mr. Robert Tipton who lives in Plainview, farms in the Halfway community, and is a director of the Halfway Co-Op Gin, has had excellent results growing Gregg 45 the past two years (1966-67), two very adverse years for cotton farming. In 1966 he had practically all of his farm in the 45, and it did so well that he planted it again in 1967, but was hailed out on all but one farm. In '66 some of his cotton made 2 bales to the acre, and in '67 the field of 58.8 acres that was left made 1,004 pounds lint to the acre, net weight after deducting bagging and ties.

In looking through some experimental tests in which the new Gregg 45 has been included we find one on the Plains in 1965 with 1189 lb. production; one in Oklahoma in '65 with 1,066 pounds, with a 31.1% turnout hand pulled; and one at Chickasha 1966 (dryland) with 777 lbs. This last mentioned is very impressive for dryland production.

Halsell Center Dedicated At Trinity University

The Ewing Halsell Administrative Studies Center at Trinity University was dedicated on March 14, 1968.

The continuing development of academic programs and the institution of additional programs in administration by Trinity University demand a physical setting for teaching and research.

The Ewing Halsell Center will answer that urgent need at the university.

The three-story building, with 23,000 square feet of floor space, dedicated as part of the University's $50 Million Centennial program will house graduate-level academic programs in business administration, health, government and education administration.

The ground floor of the Center contains the computer center with its attendant offices and storage rooms. The remainder of the building includes classrooms, academic offices, and seminar rooms. The third floor is not yet finished, thereby allowing for future design to meet experimental programs in administration.

Plans are being made for new and experimental programs in administration, programs which relate the specialized areas and transcend departmental fields. And the administrators and faculty believe that these programs ought to be more than "technique" programs.

Such programs are being planned and Halsell Center will provide the needed facilities for seminars and scholarly research.

The main feature of the entranceway to the Center is a large mural by artist Peter Hurd of San Patricio, New Mexico, created especially for the Halsell Center and depicting the Texas cattle industry. One of the figures in the scene is recognizable as the late Ewing Halsell.

The Halsell Center was provided by the Ewing Halsell Foundation, endowed by the late Ewing Halsell, one of the Southwest's most famous and colorful cattlemen and philanthropists.

Halsell was born on a ranch in Wise County in 1877, the son of W. E. Halsell, a pioneer cattleman, and Mary Alice Halsell.

He devoted his entire life to cattle ranching.

About the turn of the century, the elder Halsell purchased 300,000 acres of the old XIT Ranch in the Texas Panhandle and sent his son with his young bride to look after this pasture.

Mrs. Halsell, the former Lucile Fortner, the daughter of an eminent Oklahoma physician and surgeon, helped her husband pioneer there. They lived in a sod house for nearly a year.

In developing this Panhandle area, Halsell founded the communities of Amherst and Earth, and encouraged hundreds of farmers to settle the country.

He expanded his own ranching operation to Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, and South Texas.

In later years, Ewing Halsell was considered the dean of the cattle industry and often was

ACCIDENT REPORT FOR LAMB COUNTY

The Texas Highway Patrol investigates six accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of February, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer,

Swinging At The Fair

When Hemisfair '68 opens April 6, in San Antonio, Texas, visitors will note one point: this is a fair in motion. Fairgoers will be able to enjoy a stately gondola glide down the San Antonio river—where Victorian houses along the banks—some 100 years old—have been restored and will be used as restaurants for various nations.

For a little faster-paced action, the Swiss Skyride will fill the bill. In cars suspended overhead from wires, riders will see a bird's-eye view of the Fair—and be able to get to any fair point almost instantly. Movers who like their action sitting down can go to the revolving restaurant atop the Tower of the Americas—a staggering 622 feet above the ground—for a view of the South Texas landscape as well as the Fair, itself. This highest revolving restaurant in the Western Hemisphere will make one complete turn every hour.

But, perhaps the most swinging event at the Fair will be at the Frito-Lay/Pepsi-Cola pavilion.

There, Los Voladores, the Flying Indians of Papantla will perform their spectacular feat of climbing a 114-foot pole and "flying" to the bottom. Secured only by ropes around their waists, Los Voladores will turn in a series of 32 dizzying revolutions until they reach the ground. This flying dance has been a tradition of the Totonacan Indians for centuries and will be performed exactly as it has been done in the past—with one important exception. Originally, some provision had been made for the flyers' security. But, at the Frito-Lay/Pepsi-Cola presentation, Los Voladores will be on their own.

Lovers of perpetual motion will find what they want at the Fair. For all ages, Hemisfair '68 will be a swinging event.

Headline House

A house constructed of newspapers—approximately 100,000 copies—is a tourist attraction at Pigeon Cove, Mass.

The "log" wall structure consists of 215 thicknesses of newspaper, showing readable headlines. The furniture also was built from newspaper rolls of different sizes.

The headlines make mention of World War I, Hoover's presidential campaign and Charles Lindbergh's Paris flight, and include newspapers from various state capitals and many from foreign countries. The newspapers can be unwound and the print inside will be preserved, since neither glue nor varnish was used while making the paper rolls.

PAMELA KENT HONORED WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

day, March 23 in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kent. The children played several games led by Jeannie Baker and then watched the honoree open her gifts.

The table was decorated with Easter decorations, with the birthday cake in the shape of a piano. Refreshments of cup cakes and koolaid was served.

Favors of surprise easter eggs, whistles and party hats were presented to Derek Hill, Cindy Powell, Ray Dudgeon, Marilyn May, Gary Brown, Sherrie Ray, Curt Cain, Jana Carpenter, Paul and Perry Kent. Other guests were Jeannie Baker, Polly Kent, Mrs. Joe Kent and Phil, and Mrs. Calvin Baker.

March 13, 1634 - The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company was chartered in Boston, Massachusetts, one of the first military units founded in the colonies.

Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $3,005.00.

The rural traffic accidents for this county during the first two months of 1968 shows a total of 15 accidents resulting in three persons killed, five persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $11,245.00.

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 52 per cent of the registered vehicles in this county have been inspected," stated the Patrol Supervisor.

In order to avoid the inconvenience of the last minute rush and the possible shortage of seat belts, motorists are urged to get their vehicles inspected promptly.

Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1968 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law and is punishable by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars.
