FORTY-FOURTH YEAR NUMBER 20

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

IN CASE YOU THOUGHT you'd heard everything, try this for size: Some department stores (not around here, I hope) are pushing "custom facial fuzz" for men (?). Say the ads: "Matches your hair color exactly. Available in any length or shape. Two weeks delivery." Price is $50 for sideburns, $20 for mustaches. Ad theme is "we dare you." Do you suppose the next item may be false hair for the chest?

The future is looking fuzzier and fuzzier.

ILL-WILLA TEEN-AGE MUST? Stop me if I've said this before, but a survey of 2,000 Midwest U.S. teens reveals these interesting bits of data: 1. Hostility peaks out among normal boys in their sophomore year in high school. 2. Girls who have a hostility crisis usually work up a big hate at age 18. 3. Mothers of 13-year-old girls with hate hangups should feel lucky that the problem doesn't come along later.

Maybe so, maybe not. I guess it's natural for youngsters sooner or later to rebel against the world, their parents and life in general, but the more stable ones get through this crisis without any lasting scars.

TAXES AND (of course) auto insurance are going up, food is going up, clothing is going up and many of us are in danger of going up (the creek without a paddle). State legislators agreed to raise the sales tax to 3 cents on each dollar purchase... or to four, if you buy something in one of the cities with the one-cent sales tax. The Congress has just boosted our income taxes by putting a 10 per cent tax on the tax. We knew that someday it would come to this--taxes being taxed. This is supposed to be a temporary thing, but chances are strong we'll have it forever, like so many other so-called temporary taxes. The government's purported argument for the surcharge was that we all had too much money, so they'd better take it away from us and thereby stop inflation. What they really wanted, of course, was more money for themselves.

And don't try to tell me the government and the people are not a "them and us" situation. Somehow, most of the things the government does, I just can't identify with.

DPS TRAINING SCHOOL STARTS JULY 30

A training school for 120 new patrolmen with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start July 30, Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander, announced today.

"We have several new benefits to offer qualified young men," Moore said. "For instance, the pay during training is $500 per month and upon graduation this is increased to $571."

"Also, our selection methods are more liberal in that an applicant is not required to live in Texas for one year prior to employment, and the entrance examination is given every day at our larger offices."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 35, not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in sound physical condition with good vision and must be a citizen of the United States.

"Among the many benefits that patrolmen enjoy," Moore pointed out, "are two weeks annual vacation, all holidays provided for by the Legislature, modern liberal retirement systems and group hospitalization and life insurance plans, traveling expenses and longevity pay, and uniforms and all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

For complete information concerning the position of patrolman, training and benefits, Moore asked that those who are interested contact the nearest DPS patrolman or DPS office. "In return," he said, "they will receive complete information in regard to the application and examination."

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dryden had as their guests last week, Mrs. Dryden's niece Johanna Parker and husband Carl and three sons,

COUNTY BARN BUILDING COMPLETED HERE

NEW COUNTY BARN -- Shown above is the recently completed county barn located north of town on Hwy. 303. Standing in front of building is Hubert Dykes, commissioner precinct 4.

Construction of the new Lamb County barn was completed about June 15, and equipment has been moved in, Hubert Dykes, County Commissioner precinct 4 said this week.

Contract for this 40 x 80 ft. all-steel building was let April 15 to Tusha Building, Inc. of Lubbock, at $8,164.00, not including wiring and plumbing.

This new county barn, located north of town on two acres which was the former Bellamy property, was constructed to house county equipment and also includes a repair shop. Up to now, Dykes said, equipment and parts were in three different locations.

Dykes stated that he thinks this building is definitely an asset to Lamb County, and will afford much saving on equipment and repairs.

The commissioner also said he wanted to express his thanks to the city of Sudan for the use of their facilities throughout the years.

Grass Courts

For the first time in the history of tennis, a court surface other than grass, clay, en-tout-cas or cement was officially used in American Zone Davis Cup finals at Charlotte, N.C.

This revolutionary man-made playing surface, which is called SUPREME-COURT, manufactured by the Gulistan Carpet Division in Taylors, S.C.

This recent advance in textile science has also won endorsement from another tennis group. The National Tennis League has selected this new tennis surface for use on tour of its professional group consisting of Rodney Laver, world's No. 1 ranking professional, Pancho González, Ken Rosewall, Roy Emerson and others.

The tennis court surface is fabricated from specially treated acrylic fiber to provide a smooth, felt-like playing area.

Facing Up To Spring

Caught between winter doldrums and warm-weather anticipation? Now's the best time to Spring a new look. Before you get involved in all the fun and activities of the new season—take stock of yourself facially so you'll be at your best at all times.

Because fashion this season means the new romantic look, you'll have to face up to this different mood. All the ruffles, frills and filmy organdy are designed to let the "real girl" in you come to the fore. Help this idea with a soft yet shining romantic face.

A delicately shaded eye framed by long, luxurious lashes and a pale, translucent complexion are all facially-sound ideas you'll want to explore to capture this look. But, the real star of the moment is the mouth. Gone are the washed-out, blah-looking lips that did nothing for anyone's face. Instead, bright, lively colors are taking over.

The biggest trick for making-up this new mouth is avoiding a lipstick that's too overpowering. After all, you don't want a big red mouth like mother used to wear. Instead, opt for one of the new Psychedelips, a tasty trio made by Tussy that combine high-frequency colors with a low voltage look. In Live Wire Honey, Electric Peach and 25 Watt Pink, they're just bright enough to dazzle, but not so bright they drown out the rest of your face.

Paying a little lip service to your mouth will give you a new turned-on, tuned-in face. With a lively, luscious lipstick you'll probably look so good, people will be hanging on your every word.

Taylor of 1114 West Seventh St. have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Betty Jean Taylor, to Donald Lee Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Ford of Sudan. Freezer-Easy Pie

Ice Cream Ripple Pie makes a guest-dazzling dessert, and it's "easier-than-pie" to make. Baker's Angel Flake Coconut and butter form the interestingly textured crust, and strawberry-ripple ice cream the filling. Toasted flaked coconut and prepared whipped topping finish off the pie and give an effect as showy as Baked Alaska. Other ice creams will work, too—try making a marbled filling using spoonfuls of both coffee and chocolate.

Ice Cream Ripple Pie

3 tablespoons softened butter
2 1/2 cups (about) flaked coconut
3 pints strawberry-ripple ice cream
1 envelope whipped topping mix

Mix butter and 1 1/2 cups of the coconut thoroughly. Spread mixture evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Bake at 300 for about 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool. Thinly spread remaining coconut in shallow pan. Toast in 350 oven for 8 to 12 minutes, or until golden brown. Stir coconut or shake pan often to toast evenly. Pack ice cream into crust, mounding slightly in center. Freeze until firm. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package; spread over pie. Sprinkle with toasted coconut. Note: Before cutting, dip pie pan briefly in hot water to loosen crust from pan.

Scripture: Galatians 6:7-9; Hosea 8:7a, 10:12.

"Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

This is as much a truth today as it has ever been, but when this verse of Scripture is quoted, usually it is thought of almost completely as a warning. Yet it is a promise, too, and we are prone to forget that.

Truly it is a warning, but let us look at the promise.

It is a great delight and joy to us (and will be to anyone) to realize that if we sow good seeds, we will reap a good harvest! The fruits will be good, just as surely as they will be bad if we sow evil. We know that, when we think of how surprised we would be, for example, if we sowed grains of corn and it came up cotton.

In our daily lives we are sowing some kind of seed. And we will sometime harvest the fruits of this sowing. What did you sow today?

Will you reap a "whirlwind" tomorrow? Then, if you know that you are now reaping some fruits of the seeds you have already sown, are you making sure that the harvest tomorrow will be good fruit, by sowing carefully and prayerfully today?

I know some people who are reaping a bad harvest today which are the results of some sin and mistakes (and I, too, have made many). But some of these same people continue to sow bad seeds, bitter and un-loving actions that will surely bring forth a terrible harvest yield.

And I know some persons who, with God's help are facing up to the results of past deeds. And in the power of the Almighty God are planting good seeds of kindness and love, already beginning to harvest some delightful and good results.

Jesus is the only one, the only power, the only way, for you and for me to be able to have an abundant eternal life. But, God is not mocked! Don't deceive yourself, for He knows all about you and me. He knows if we really love Him, and whether or not we are actually willing for Him to use us as an instrument to tell all mankind that Jesus came and died to save that which was lost.

What are you doing about your seed sowing now? Are you seeking God first in your life, that He may guide you and help you, never leaving you to find your way home alone? Or are you sowing "to the flesh"?

Sure you get ridiculed sometimes if you stand up for Christ, and we get discouraged sometimes, perhaps, until we look again to Jesus, our Savior and ever-present Friend, remembering who it is that we serve and whose Cause we have chosen to make ours because He loves us so much and we love Him now for what He is!

Do you know Jesus as Savior, as Friend, as Lord? He died to redeem you from sin and death, and He calls you to come by taking Him as your way into life. He is the only one, the only way. Will you take Him now by faith in His Word?

When I see Him, face to face, I'd like for you to see Him too. Don't miss Jesus, or you will miss everything worth having. Remember too, that God's word says--

"And let us not be weary in well

Dear Mr. Wood:

Aimeal Scott, our area conservationist at Lubbock, thoughtfully sent us a copy of your May 23 edition which featured soil and water conservation.

We noticed that more than half the entire newspaper was devoted to conservation articles, pictures, or ads. This is a liberal amount of space to devote to one subject and we appreciate it.

Newspaper men such as you are partly responsible for the success of the conservation movement due to the publicity you give to this worthy cause. All of us in the Soil Conservation Service know this to be true - and we are truly grateful.

Sincerely
H. N. Smith,
State Conservationist

Investing: A Full-Time Job

Anyone who has ever tended garden knows that it takes more than just "silver bells and cockleshells" to make a garden grow. Similarly, in the world of investment, it takes more than just money to make investments grow.

You might say then that gardens and investments have at least one thing in common—a need for constant care and, above all, careful planning.

Perhaps this explains why so many people today who want to invest have turned to mutual funds. Figures from the Investment Company Institute, the national association of the mutual fund industry, indicate that there are now well over four million Americans with more than $46 billion invested in mutual fund shares.

The mutual fund idea is a simple one. It provides a means through which people with similar investment goals may pool their money in an effort to achieve these goals. By combining their investment dollars, they are able to engage the services of professional investment managers at a cost which is divided among all the shareholders.

Thus, with an investment of $100 in one popular mutual fund the investor has an ownership in as many as a hundred or more companies. Diversification as broad as this is not possible for the average person to achieve on his own.

Further, the investor in mutual funds receives precisely the same management, the same diversification and the same opportunity for growth and income whether his account represents holdings of $100 or $1,000,000.

The Institute points out that the mutual fund shareholder should always look upon his investment as a long term program, practical and convenient for accumulating capital for such objectives as retirement, building an estate, or providing funds for the education of children.

Mother Of The Bride

This year, the bridal season finds me in the same boat with thousands of other women playing the role of the Mother of the Bride. Many women look forward to this event but somehow seem to cast themselves in the Leading Part; I feel this is one time when it's best to be happy with the role of Supporting Player.

While the bridesmaids' dresses are generally co-ordinated in color and follow the bride's preference, the Mother of the Bride's outfit is usually left to her own choosing. I think that she should select the subtlest, most inconspicuous outfit—something simple and elegant. The over-grown flowered chapeau, or wide-brimmed organza concoction only call attention to the Mother's desire for attention—and should be avoided. The thing to remember is—it's Her day—and not yours.

One of my daughters wanted a simple wedding in the judge's chambers, and the upcoming event for another of my children will be just the opposite—a large affair with all the trimmings. Each bride chooses her own style—and I think it's Mother's place to go along with her daughter's desires.

To me, a wedding is always a champagne affair whatever its simplicity or elaborateness. And for this once-in-a-lifetime occasion, get the best kind you can afford. Remember too, that children like to feel grown-up, so for ring-bearers, flower girls and all the young fry, you should provide ice buckets, napkin-wrapped bottles of Pepsi-Cola, and have them poured in champagne glasses. It's a nice way to let the little ones "toast" the bride and groom.
