THE MOST violent political convention in American history was unveiled last week, and the repercussions from the Chicago police manhandling of the mob of protesters--and of newsmen--are still being heard.

The violence of demonstrations is nothing new on the American scene, but there was one big difference this time: the violence was not all on one side, because the police reacted swiftly and brutally to the actions of the mob. This was a new and shocking experience to the beatniks, hippies, yuppies and dippies who generally have rampaged unopposed wherever they congregate.

Police in Washington and other U. S. cities normally have been issued hands-off orders when the protesters start tearing up the town, so it must have been quite a jolt to the peaceniks (whose rallying cry is, "All right, team, let's get in there and surrender!").

The brutality of the police was admittedly too much, even though informed persons on the scene say they were provoked by curses, taunts, bottles and acid. It was interesting to read Chas A. Guy's comments in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Guy pointed out that before the demonstrations, a Chicago newspaper had learned that all of the upheaval was planned. There even was a definite plan uncovered beforehand to demonstrate "police brutality" before the convention at the exact time that the confrontation took place. In other words, many of the mob deliberately set forth to provoke the police into taking action that would appear to be brutality on the TV screen.

If their plan was to get clobbered, they sure succeeded. Like Isay, the police may have overstepped the bounds of decency and fair play in their manhandling of the protesters. But I'll bet any of those guys will think twice before they join another

ANTIQUE EXHIBIT PLANNED SEPT. 13

The Sudan Senior Citizens are sponsoring an Antique Exhibit, Friday, Sept. 13, at the Sudan Community Center.

The show will begin at 2:30 and special guests invited to attend will be members of the Muleshoe and Olton Senior Citizens organizations.

All who are interested are invited to attend, and any of the Sudan area residents are invited to bring antiques for display in the exhibit. Those who have items they would like to show are requested to have them at the Community Center by 10 a. m. Friday morning, Sept. 13.

There will be a pick-up service for any who have articles too heavy to carry, and for this service call Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Slate.

Those of the planning committee for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Griff Boyles, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Markham, Mr. and Mrs. John Milam, Mrs. Frances Blair, Mrs. J. D. Chester.

demonstration, especially in Chicago.

As for the convention itself, it was just an unnecessary bunch of baloney, just as was the Republican convention before it (only not quite so much so). After all the sound and fury of the two conventions has faded away, both parties wound up nominating just who everybody knew they would in the first place. But the public kept on hoping for the outside chance that at least maybe one of the parties would come up with something better than Humphrey or Nixon.

One bunch tried. I notice that Bear Bryant got a couple of votes for the nomination at the Democratic fiasco. Frankly, I think he'd be better than either one of the nominees.

HAIL DAMAGED CROPS--Shown above is Edward Fisher's cotton and grain fields after last week's wind, rain and hail storm damage. Crops on several farms were damaged in the Sudan and Amherst areas, mostly on farms located north to northeast of Sudan. Four inches of rain also was reported in that area with Sudan receiving approximately two inches.

Bob Wear, minister, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Taylor of Littlefield, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Ford of Sudan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white imported silk organza over tulle. The gown was styled with a portrait neckline, short sleeves, and modified empire bodice. The flowing chapel length train was attached at the waistline. The bodice, A-line bust, and chapel length train were enhanced with an identical pattern of Alencon lace. The hem and portrait neckline of the gown, and the edge of the train were finished in the scalloped pattern of the dress. She wore a veil of French silk illusion, attached to a coil coronet fashioned in Alencon lace accented with pearl and rhinestones-highlights. She carried a bouquet of frenched white carnations centered with a cattleya orchid and enhanced with white picot ribbon tied in love knots.

Carole Reed of Dalou was maid of honor. Mrs. Roger House of Huntsville was matron of honor, and bridesmaid was Marilyn Hill of Littlefield. The attendants wore rose pink formal length gowns with empire waistlines and A-line skirts accented by deep pink velvet ribbon which formed a bow with long streamers in the back of the gowns. They wore identical headpieces of deep pink velvet bows with veils of pink illusion, and carried bouquets of Scripture: Jeremiah 31:29-33, 32:38-40; St. John 10:9-11.

"And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good..."

What does Jesus Christ mean to you? Is He just someone the preacher preaches about on Sunday morning and is not even mentioned again all through the week? Is He really alive to you? Jesus of Nazareth died on a cross, but committing His spirit into the hands of God, the Father. He arose from the grave, alive, for death could not hold the very source of all life, and He arose Jesus Christ, the Lord! And He lives!

Jesus has no body for man to see, except yours and mine who have believed in Him and accepted Him as our Savior from sin and death — the Church! Together in fellowship with Christ and each other, we are one, the Body of Christ.

We are the new Israel, and God has made a new covenant with His people in the shed blood of Jesus Christ.

So He died for you, and arose victorious over death, that you by faith to believe in Him might also live forever.

Do you believe that? I can tell you what Jesus has done for me! He took me just as I am, and He never leaves me nor forsakes me! He shares everything I know, everything I do (except when I fail to consult Him and fall off the narrow way after Him, but then He waits for me and calls to me, and when I know I have gone away and ask His forgiveness and help, He is always there to lift me up and restore me to Him in love!); all that I am is His. In Him we "live, and move, and have our being".

Jesus is not just someone to talk about, although if we know Him we will talk about Him to others. He is Someone to be with, to share all things with every day; Someone to love, comfort, guide, strengthen, and keep us; Someone to worship, to praise, to let live in our hearts, to serve in love and thanksgiving.

In this kind of living with Jesus as Friend and Lord, we find the peace that passeth all understanding and eternal life.

Do you know another who can give you such love, and then the gift of life?

There is no other but Him. I plead with you: Don't miss Jesus, don't turn away now, or you've missed everything.

Jesus can save you!

Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward.

—(Heb. 10:35).

We all wish to have confidence, but sometimes we become confused about the source of the power that works through us. We attribute too much importance to the personality, when we should realize that it is through God in us that we are able to do and to be all things. Through Him we have the power and confidence that we need to cope with every situation.

pink camellias. Candles were lighted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Turner of Lubbock. Presiding at the guest book was Elaine Bridges of Littlefield.

Billy Ford, brother of the groom, was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Jimmy Ford of Portales, N.M., also brother of the groom, and Mark Baker of Sudan. The guests were ushered to their seats by David Baker and Billy Jack Bohanan, both of Lubbock.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Taylor wore a one-piece turquoise knit dress with three-quarter sleeves and matching turquoise accessories and a corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Ford chose a bisque brown suit of Alaska with champagne lace overblouse. The suit was accented with jewel buttons, and her accessories were champagne colored shoes and bisque brown feathered hat, and a pink camellia corsage.

A reception was held in the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white net edged in white satin over white, centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and pink carnations. A three-tiered white wedding cake trimmed in pink and topped with the traditional bride and groom, was served with the punch from crystal and silver appointments. The wedding cake was prepared by Mrs. J.B. Butler, Jr. of Dumas, aunt of the bride.

Serving the guests were Misses Karen Bridges of Littlefield, Connie Luttrell and Pat Luttrell of Lubbock, second-cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Jimmy Ford of Portales, sister-in-law of the groom.

For their wedding trip to San Antonio and Six Flags the bride wore an A-line dress of rose pink Alaskine with antique white accessories, and an orchid corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 2404 Tenth Street, Apt. 210 in Lubbock where the groom is employed by Southwest Tractor and Equipment Company.

The bride is a senior mathematics major at Texas Tech, and is a member of Pi Delta Phi and Kappa Mu Epsilon honorary fraternities. The groom is a junior at West Texas State University, majoring in Agriculture. Both intend to continue their studies.

LCC TO BECOME FOUR YEAR COLLEGE

Lubbock Christian College's new Moody Auditorium is nearing completion, a move which will bring the college a step closer to the establishment as a four year school.

After eleven years as a fully accredited two-year college, serving approximately 700 students each term, LCC has launched a massive plan to advance to the senior college level. Hopefully, the 1968 entering freshmen will graduate with a baccalaureate degree as of the class of 1972.

Named for William Lewis Moody, the auditorium will seat 1264 persons. It will be used for daily chapel periods, the annual LCC lectureships and public meetings.

The completion date was originally set for December, but has been moved up to October first.

The Moody Auditorium is just one of five new buildings

Vehicle Inspection

The 1969 vehicle inspection period began today in Texas according to Colonel Wilson E. Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"More than six-million vehicles are expected to receive the compulsory inspection prior to the April 15, 1969 deadline," Speir said.

Inspections may be performed at any of the almost 5,500 vehicle inspection stations in Texas, each of which displays the official vehicle inspection station sign.

Texas law requires inspection of the brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors windshield wipers, front seat belts in vehicles where part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle, steering and wheels and rims.

Special inspection provisions apply to trailers, semi-trailers, pole trailers or mobile homes having a loaded gross weight in 4,000 pounds.

The minimum fee is $1.75. This does not include the cost of repairs or adjustments necessary to enable the vehicle to pass inspection.

Speir said the new vehicle inspection sticker will be a two and one-half inch square replica of a DPS patrolman's badge with red background.

Motorists are urged to have the 1969 inspection performed as soon as possible to insure that their vehicles are mechanically safe for fall and winter driving.

scheduled to be built. Also under construction is the music building.

In the planning stages are a science building, arts and crafts building, health center, agriculture conference center, welding laboratory, agriculture building, and numerous campus improvements.

These will be added to the seven permanent structures already on the LCC campus.

The Southern Association of Junior College and Schools specifies facilities a junior college must have to advance to the senior college level. So Lubbock Christian College is planning to comply.

Faculty at LCC would also be altered to meet the association's specifications for senior college status. Required are 12 persons with Doctorates, 12 persons with three years beyond the Bachelor's Degree, and the remaining 15 with a minimum of a Master's Degree.

Once the plan is in operation, LCC will award two degrees: a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science, each in four divisions - humanities, science, social sciences, and teacher education.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY go together—and the modern girl stresses sports in her weekly beauty routine. For posture improvement, to develop grace and coordination, fencing is ideal, or you might try ballet lessons.

SWIMMING AND DIVING are, of course, ideal outdoor activities, giving a gal an attractive, sun-tanned golden look, as well as the gentle exercise that helps create a supple, willowy body that won't have the 'muscle-boy' look.

ROMANCE AND SPORT cannot be separated among the modern set, particularly with the new popularity of outdoor sports such as skiing and skating. Vigorous exercise—and closeness—however, mean emphasis on modern beauty aids like Desert Flower for the gals and Old Spice for the guys.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

Everybody knows that the new surtax law raised the amount of income tax that you will pay (7 1/2% this year) by 10%. What a lot of folks don't know is that the rules for paying estimated taxes have also been tightened up. Most of us work for wages and our employers withhold income tax and social security tax from our wages and pay it to Uncle, and we don't have to worry about filing an estimated tax return. However, those folks who are self-employed or who have income outside of their pay check, do have a problem. This type of taxpayers have been required to file an estimated tax return in the past, but there were lots of good excuses that wiped out a tax penalty if you did not file and you met the exception. Congress decided to wipe out and tighten up these exceptions. If you are self-employed or if you have substantial income on which you have not paid any tax, you better review the amount of estimated tax that you are due to pay on September 15, or find out whether you have to file and pay because your good excuse is gone.

This is the age of the machine, even in hunting!

Latest gimmick for outwitting wily wild creatures is an ordinary tape recorder.

Equipped with an appropriate distress tape, this compact little battery-powered machine will bring critters like foxes, coyotes and bobcats running toward the hunter.

In his book, "The Critters Come When Called," Russell Tinsley, outdoor editor for the Austin American-Statesman, points out that the tape recorder has replaced the portable phonograph as the best device for calling predators. Thanks to transistors, tape recorders today are small and compact in size, and some actually can be carried in the coat pocket.

However, the small recorder lacks the necessary volume for calling nature's killers from any great distance. To overcome this obstacle, the Burnham Brothers of Marble Falls, Texas, devised an amplifier-speaker system that plugs into a recorder to more than triple its output of sound.

All a person needs to do is wander into the woods, then switch on the machine and let the tape do the calling for him. And he'd better be watching with gun held ready.

Newest calling recorder is a cartridge-type job that plays continuously. No rewinding is necessary. Four different tapes are enclosed in a plastic holder that the hunter inserts into the machine. Caller simply chooses the distress sound he wants, by pushing a button, then switches the machine on and prepares for action.

But the recorder is just part of the story. Equally as important are the tapes themselves.

When electronic calling was in its infancy the available records were simply recordings of someone using a mouth-blown call. But today the records and tapes carry authentic distress sounds of animals and birds.

These recordings are made by capturing creatures alive, getting their distress cries on tape, then releasing them unharmed.

One very effective tape is the shrill of a woodpecker in trouble. The Burnham Brothers made this particular calling tape by placing a net over a hole pecked in the wood siding of a house and tapping on the plank until the bird flew out and into the cord mesh.

When so held, the bird shrieked piteously. A very sensitive tape recorder captured its distress cries. Then the woodpecker was released.

Similar tapes were made with jackrabbits and cottontails. One tape even has the clucking of a chicken on the roost. Promise of a tasty chicken for dinner is, obviously, one sound that no meat-hungry predator can resist!
