DON'T BELIEVE that any of the stations around here are doing it yet, but some of the gasoline retailers in California and Nevada and such out-of-the-way places are beginning to charge customers for road maps, and some even have started charging a dime to wash the windshield.

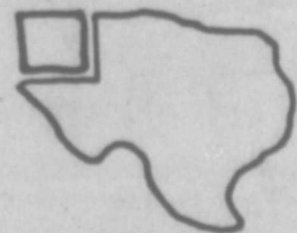

Personally I don't think they ought to charge for washing the windshield, but I see nothing wrong with paying a dime or 15 cents for a road map if you want one. One of my pet peeves has always been the station where they don't wash the windshield, even if you buy a full tank of gas. The good stations always do, but some places you always have to ask them to do it.

The reason that some gasoline stations are thinking about charging for maps and other services normally considered free (pay toilets, too) is that they aren't being allowed to make a fair return on their gasoline sales. They claim they are squeezed by government restrictions on prices at the retail level, while the wholesalers can charge them about what they want to. That's why many stations, particularly out west, closed for a time in protest. And service station people right here and everywhere else are struggling to stay in operation.

Road maps, if needed, ought to be worth a dime to a motorist. They always have been free in the past, and one station man said he'd seen people get a load of road maps and put them in the floorboard to wipe mud on, or look at one, then crumple it up and throw it away.

Of course, I've thrown away a few, but only after trying every way I knew how to fold it back like it was originally. Road maps are like store-bought shirts; once you've unfolded one, it is physically impossible to put it back like it came.

My biggest complaint about the Texas road maps are these that have half the state on one side and half on the other, and those that have chopped off the state somewhere north of Lubbock and stuck the Panhandle over in one corner. It is extremely difficult to figure out where you're going if your route takes you from one main section to another, or from the rest of Texas to the inset. The Texas Official State Highway Map is one of those lopped-off jobs. It is a crime. I'm sure that we are raising an entire generation of kids who think Texas looks like this:

If you look at the Official Texas Map, you'll find Amarillo due northwest of Carlsbad, N. M., and Shamrock looks to be about 50 miles west of Plains. It's kind of weird, unless you know better.

IF YOU'RE buying a used car and a dealer misrepresents the amount of mileage or the model of a car, he can be liable for a fine. The same thing if he rolls back the odometer. Of course, none of our local dealers would do a thing like that, but you gotta watch some of those sharpies out-

WHAT HAPPENED? WHO HAS THE BALL? A scene from the Sudan-Hart football game Friday night at Sudan when the Longhorns outran the Hornets 32-14. (Staff photo)

LONGHORNS OUTRUN HORNETS, 32-14

The Hart Longhorns turned on their "speed-burners" last Friday night against the Sudan Hornets and didn't turn them off for 48 minutes as Jimmy Brown and his colleagues made shambles of the highly-touted Hornet defense 32-14. Statistically the game was dominated by Hart as they led in each of the following categories: first downs, rushing yardage, passing yardage and total yardage.

Jimmy Brown, Hart's All-South Plains tailback, accounted for most of the damage as he "bobbed" and "weaved" his way for 207 yards and 20 of the Longhorns' 32 points. Mark Hanna topped the struggling Hornet rushers with 45 yards on 16 carries; followed by Pat Hedges 43 yards on 14 carries; Mitch Chester, 25 yards on 4 tries; and Danny Williams, 22 yards on 8 attempts. Defensively, Hedges accounted for 15 Hornet tackles, followed by Craig Harper with 12, Terry Graves and Mart Davison with 11 each, and Roby Lynn 10.

Sudan showed promise in the early stages of the first quarter as their stubborn defense forced a Longhorn fumble on the Hornet 46. Noseman Mart Davison pounced on the pigskin for Sudan. Hart's defense, however, thwarted the effort as they held Sudan on downs and forced a punt. Punter Donnie Noles sailed a beauty to the "coffin-corner" that left Hart deep on their own ten-yardline.

On the fourth play from scrimmage, Hart displayed the type of speed that has made them one of the top ranked teams in the area as Jimmy Brown "powered" the ball off left tackle and sped 79 yards to the Hornet end zone. The extra points passing attempt went awry and the 'Horns led 6-0 with 7:19 still left in the first quarter.

Sudan gambled early on their next possession and it paid off as on fourth down and one foot, they elected to run for the first down on their own 40 yardline. Fullback Pat Hedges, behind the blocks of Curtis Chester and Richard Tamplin, plunged for three yards and Sudan had their initial first down of the evening. On the next play, Quarterback Mitch Chester pulled off a slick screen pass to Halfback Danny Williams who outraced the Longhorns defenders to the end-zone, 57 yards away. The Hornets, finding the passing game to their liking, decided to try it again on the conversion, and this time Mark Hanna drilled a strike to Split End Donald Johnson who had worked his way around the Longhorn secondary. Sudan led at this point 8-6 and they had more tricks still in the bag.

With the first quarter drawing to a close, the Longhorns attempted to pass but Cornerback Mark Hanna was in the right place at the right time and he intercepted on the Hart 41. Following a first block from the night but Hart was just getting warmed up, as the Longhorns scored three times in the last six minutes of the stans. Twice after the kickoff, Hart was faced with fourth down situations but managed to get a first down in both instances: one via a penalty after the Longhorns had been forced to punt. A little running room was all Jimmy Brown needed on his second touchdown as he raced 30 yards to paydirt to close the gap to 14-12 with 6:11 to play. Terry Graves intercepted the passing attempt for the extras and the Hornets held a razor-slim 14-12 edge.

The Hornets moved the ball into Longhorn territory on their next possession following a 17 yard sprint around left end by Mark Hanna but a fourth down running attempt fell short of the first down and Hart latched onto the ball once again. Two straight runs by Brown netted no yardage but on third down, James McLain hit Wingback Barry George on a deep pass up the middle and George rambled to the end zone 65 yards away. The extra points once again were stalled but Hart had taken the lead 18-14 with 1:44 left in the half.

Hart came right back moments later as they intercepted an errant Hornet pass and took possession at the Hornet 40. The 'Horns moved to the 15 and with only 0:04 remaining in the half, completed their second touchdown pass of the quarter. Brown ran for the extras and the Hornets, stunned by the scoring explosion of Hart headed for the dressing room to regroup, trailing 26-14.

The Hornet defense came to life in the second half but the

We've all heard about the low-mileage car driven only by a little old lady on Sundays (in the drag races). But my favorite used-car joke is the cartoon of a salesman pointing to a car and telling a prospect: "Now here's one with very low mileage—the last owner couldn't even get it started."

MULESHOE WILDLIFE REFUGE TO REMAIN OPEN

A foot-long, frozen hard-boiled egg roll which comes ready for use in all recipes calling for hard-boiled eggs is now available for institutional food service users.

iously awaited by West Texas naturalists and Audobon society members who took a sudden interest in keeping the refuge open following reports last July that it was programmed for de-staffing as a budget cutting measure.

Marcus Nelson, director of refuges for the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the Interior Department's region II in Albuquerque, N. M. said Monday he had received verbal confirmation from Washington that money has been allocated to continue operation of the facilities.

We've gotten word that the same monies appropriated in 1973 will be restored stated Nelson, but right now he thinks the refuge would probably continue in its present pattern until the end of the year.

The Muleshoe refuge was originally programmed to be closed July 1 and its management moved to the Bitter Lakes Wildlife Refuge near Roswell. It was being kept open under authority of the Interior Department until the new approval became law.

JV & Jr. Hi Football

Both the seventh and eighth grades and the Jr. Hornets as well suffered their second defeat of the season at the hands of the Hart teams last Thursday afternoon at Hart.

BOOSTER CLUB HOLDS MEETING TUESDAY

W. L. McNabb was named winner of the football contest for last week at the Booster Club meeting held Tuesday night. The win was on total points and point spread since there were several tied for the number of game winners guessed correctly. Following the film of the Sudan-Hart game, Coach Warren stated that the coaching staff felt that the Hornets didn't play as well as they could but that Hart was the best team they had met all season. Hart was in the state semi-finals last year and Warren feels like they have a better team than they did then. Commenting on this week's game, Warren said that the Hornets would be ready to avenge the loss to Bovina last year by a first down when the score was tied 14-14, as well as the loss to them two or three years ago when the score was 48-0. He also felt that Danny Williams who was injured in the Hart game would be ready for limited action in the game. Both the junior varsity and the feated by a score of 20-6, and the eighth grade was blitzed by a 30-0 score.

After falling behind 14-0 in the second half, the seventh graders played Hart evenly in the second half with Bob Graves getting the Hornet's TD on a 39 yard gallop.

The Hart eighth grade team scored on the second play of the game and did not let up as they completely dominated the contest finishing with a 30-0 victory.

Both of these teams play again Thursday afternoon at Bovina with the seventh grade kicking off at 4:30 p. m. The JV Hornets had their best effort of the year, before falling in a 7-0 losing effort. All the Hornet coaches cited Halfback Ronnie Harrison as having an outstanding ball game.

LONGHORNS OUTFRAN HORNETS

offense still sputtered lethargically as a punting situation arose in each of Sudan's first four possessions. The scoreless third quarter drew to a close with Hart owning the football deep in their own territory. Minutes later, Jimmy Brown scored the final points of the evening with a six yard burst around right end that capped an 85 yard Longhorn drive and sealed the eventual fate of the Hornets, 32-14.

The remainder of the game found Hart maintaining possession in most instances with the only bright spot being a fumble recovery by tackle Jimmy Fields in the waning moments of the game.

SCOUTING REPORT

The Hornets will be attempting to get back on the winning track tomorrow night as they clash with the Bovina Mustangs at 8:00 p. m. in Hornet Stadium. Last year, Sudan tied Bovina in a thriller 14-14, but Bovina received credit for the victory via a district rule that let first downs decide the winner in case of a tie. The Mustangs received their last first down with 15 seconds left in the game to "nose-out" the Hornets, 13-12 downs. This year Bovina is struggling with an 0-5 record against some tough opposition. They have lost to Friona, Plains, Vega, Sanford-Fritch, and Boy's Ranch. The only team which Bovina and Sudan have both played is Plains which the Hornets defeated 6-0 while Bovina lost 48-16. The Mustangs run 95% of the time from a straight-T formation. They mix in a lot of passes with their running and are led by one of the finest athletes in the area—Billy Shelby, a 175 pound senior. Shelby, after sustaining an ankle injury earlier in the year, has regained most of his "old form" and is operating the team at quarterback. Shelby has good speed, passes well, and likes to run the outside option. Others in the backfield are halfbacks, Alton McCormick, and Fullback Ray Martinez.

The Mustang offense line will outweigh Sudan 15 pounds per man, 181 to 165 average. The biggest man is right tackle Danny McKay, a 222 pound senior. The others are Center—Terry Sherrill, a 212 senior; Guards Joe Steelman, 179 pound junior, and Tony Serna, 181 pound senior; Tackle Robert Tienda, 160 pound junior; and Ends—Chuck Gilbreath, 149 pound senior and Roy Hartzog, 143 pound senior. On defense, the Mustangs run from a 6-1 alignment, with the key man—Billy Shelby at middle linebacker. Shelby was an all-district linebacker last year and is one of the best in Class A. The Hornets are expecting a tough battle with the Mustangs who will be out to snap their losing streak at five. Let's back the Hornets to victory!!

LAMB CO. AMONG TOP TEN IN PRODUCTION FOR 1972

Lamb County is in the top ten counties in Texas agricultural production for 1972, according to recently published statistics, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Lamb County farmers placed sixth in cash receipts with a total of $27,575,000 for crops. Total crops, livestock, and payments brought the total for agricultural cash receipts to $62,898,000.

The figures have just been published by the Texas crop and Livestock Reporting Service, a joint effort of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the USDA, Commissioner White said.

"Even with freezes, rains, and a fluctuating market Lamb County should enjoy another productive year in 1973. Cash receipts for the first seven months of 1973 show increases over last year," Commissioner White said.

Oatmeal Pancakes—A Breakfast Treat

Take two favorite breakfast foods—oatmeal and pancakes—and make (but of course!) oatmeal pancakes. These too will become a breakfast favorite, because they're so good and so good FOR you. Serve with a warm, tangy orange sauce, and you are serving nourishment as well as mighty good eating to that family of yours.

OATMEAL PANCAKES WITH ORANGE SAUCE

- Makes 6 servings
Oatmeal Pancakes: 2 cups milk, 1 1/2 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 eggs, beaten.
Orange Sauce: 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 cups orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup butter or margarine.

For pancakes, pour milk over oats; cover and let stand. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir eggs into oats-milk mixture. Add sifted dry ingredients and wheat germ. Stir in oil. Bake on moderately hot, lightly greased griddle (375° F.) or fry pan until golden brown, turning only once when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked.

For orange sauce, mix sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Stir in juices. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and clear. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; blend in butter. Keep warm and serve over pancakes.

Happy Haunting!

Halloween used to be something of a free-for-all, with small children roaming around the neighborhood till all hours. These days, parents often prefer to place the emphasis on safety. The trick to providing a good time and security for the kids is a Halloween party at home.

Make it a do-it-yourself party by involving the children from start to finish. They can make their own spook costumes and decorate the party room too. Parents should supervise unobtrusively, but only when needed.

Ask each child to bring an old bedsheet. Supply felt-tipped pens in different colors, washable paints, scissors and ribbons. The first step is the fitting, and here adult help is required. Place the sheet so that it covers the child completely, with his head in the center. Cut off the bottom, making the costume no longer than ankle length. Use a piece of colored chalk to indicate the position of the child's eyes, nose and mouth. Outline the position of the armholes. Remove the sheet, cut holes at the chalk marks, and it's ready to decorate.

A large area will be needed for painting and coloring. Clear floor space in the family room or wherever there's no carpeting. Cover the floor with newspapers. Help children spread out the sheets. They can paint on scary faces, hair, or even decorate the entire costume!

For decorations, get lots of small pumpkins. Have the children paint faces on these too—much safer than carving with knives. Then it's time to dress for dinner. To secure each costume, tie a ribbon lightly around the neck and perhaps around the waist as well. Check that the mouth hole is large enough to permit comfortable eating; the little ghosts will have worked up big appetites. The simplest dinner is always the most popular. Serve platters of hot dogs, rolls, baked beans and salad along with a delicious and nutritious beverage—Carnation Instant Hot Cocoa Mix. The milk's already in it. Just empty a packet in each cup, add hot water and stir. For dessert, serve candied apples. Finish the evening with a spooky costume parade complete with prizes. They'll all agree: happy haunting starts at home.
