

The greatest natural resource of the Friona area, according to Frank Tysdal, an lowa seed dealer, is the friendliness of the people. "I've been in most of the states and a good many foreign countries, and the people in Friona top anything I've seen for their friendly attitude," Tysdal says.

Tysdal explained that he flew to Friona with Earl Lewis of Creston, lowa, who installed the refrigeration at Missouri Beef Packers. He wanted to do some checking on the winter crops, and visiting with area seed officials, but was hampered by the lack of a car.

But as of Monday, this hadn't turned out to be as much of a problem as Tysdal expected. "People have told me --'There's my car and the keys are in it -- go ahead and use it." Where else would you find an attitude like this?" he asks.

Tysdal was primarily interested in the wheat and barley in the area. He predicted that because of various problems, wheat might be replaced by barley on the high plains.

But the lowa resident mentioned a new crop which, if suited for the Friona area, might take over the wheat land, in time.

. . . . The new crop, still in the expermental stage, is called Triticale. It is a corn-like grain, although smaller, which grows like wheat and has a much longer head, at least twice as long.

This grain has proven to be more than 25 per cent protein, and with the growing feedlot industry, could be a good money crop in this area, Tysdal thinks. "It can be grazed during the winter, just like wheat. It has all the advantages of wheat, plus the protein factor," he says.

Currently, there is such a small supply of the new seed that the price is "out of sight" the seed dealer says. However, by next year, Tysdal thinks it will be more reasonable and several test plots

Building Permits In Record Bid For April

Ten building permits were issued by the City of Friona during April, for construction estimated to cost $200,600. This was termed the largest single month's issue of permits since October of 1964, when the new high school permit was issued.

The month's spurt of business almost doubled the year's total to date, bringing the total construction for the first four months to $455,300. The total for 1968 is now just $50,510 less than that for all of 1967, so that the building in the first five months of this year could easily top that for all of 1967.

TRIBUTE TO MOM

Anyway You Say It -She's The Greatest!

Mother-Mom-Mama-Ma--what a wonderful institution moetherhood is, regardless of the endearing name by which you call the loving and patient woman who gaive you life and who continues giving to you as long as there is life within her body!

Woman-wife-mother -- the terms are almost synonymous. Every woman who ever lived has a yearning to be a wife and a mother. The maternal instincts in a woman are as natural and as certain as the sunrise and the sunset -- as natural as the blossoming of flowers in the spring.

A good wife and mother isn't at all afraid of work -- regardless of what it is. She gathers herself up and pitches in! The endurance and determination of a wife have put many a husband to shame. She buys quality merchandise; she works late at night.

* * * * *

She sews, she embroiders, she crochets, she does ceramics, she beautifies her home, she may do art work. The feminine side of the home is never lacking. The influence of the wife and mother is great.

* * * * *

The Salvation Army, the Crippled Children, Boys Ranch, and the various other agencies make their appeals, and the wife and mother responds. A good mother is always giving -- giving to her family, giving of herself -- giving to the poor. She gives to organized agencies, and she gives individually to those who are in need. You cannot call too often in the name of charity -- her great, soft mother's heart is never closed, her ears are never deaf to the pleas of those in distress.

It's nice that a day has been set aside for us to honor our mothers for all her work and all her giving. We shouldn't have to wait until Mother's Day to do this -- but let's not fail to honor her on her day.

Pause And Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

"For fools rush in where angels fear to tread" (Alexander Pope, 1688-1744).

Any attempt to define or to describe motherhood would be the ambition of a fool.

For countless ages poems have been written and songs have been sung, still the will-o-the-wisp that is mother love has defied description.

John Bartlett in his famous book of quotations makes no less than 108 references to Mothers.

In days of old the Mother of our Lord Jesus, observed the trials of her Son and we are told that "she hid these things in her heart."

Perhaps after all that is where we must look if ever we are to find the well springs of that elusive characteristic we speak of as Mother love.

Every now and then we catch a glimpse of the outward signs of this noblest of devotions.

The tiny South Vietnamese refugee hurrying along a jungle path, a bewildered big eyed infant clutched to her bosom. In the teeming tenaments of our lage cities we can see the white, black and brown faces staring out at the filth and noise and we can almost hear them wondering if this is the true meaning of life in America. Across the great wide open spread of the Western prairies, even in our Panhandle, the Pioneer Mother overcame the obstacles of poverty, drought and hostile Indians.

A Mother's love does not necessarily need a background of tragedy to become apparent.

Witness their entrance into the professional and business world in order to help provide a better life for their offspring. Maternal devotion may be compared to electricity - we all benefit from it but we are at a loss to explain it. Let's hope the dynamo never stops operating!

The disgusting spectacle at our nation's largest colleges and universities knuckling under to the demands of a few loudmouthed, belligerent, so-called students, is a prime example of a sickness that is entering into our modern society. To one who dreamed at being permitted the high privilege of attending college, then found it to be impossible due to the hard times of the early thirties, the actions of these riotous rebels demands that they be punished, not pampered.

What sort of example is this to be set before our young people?

How can they be expected to have respect for law and order? What about the serious student trying to graduate, who finds the rabble has upset the campus and even closed the school for a time during these last few critical weeks of the year? How must the parents feel who are working and practicing self denial to maintain a child in college? We had better find the answers to these and similar questions while there is time to do something about them. Today this scum topples the ivy-covered towers of learning, tomorrow their fellow travelers will again desecrate our national capitol.

. It strikes us as odd that several hundred "poor people," those hard core unemployed, can afford to go to Washington D.C. for an indefinite stay, while yours truly has to work 50 weeks out of the year to be able to make the same trip. Life gets tedious, don't it?

Dear Editor: When things get on your mind, Editor the only way to set it at ease is to talk or write. Since it is virtually impossible to backtrack my steps in such a short time, I take this means.

A week ago, I flew into Friona with Earl Lewis; who did the refrigeration engineering Missouri Beef Packers. on M.B.P. We checked into the Big Nick Motel. Lewis knew I wanted to get around and talk to a lot of people. He took me to John Bingham's Land office and explained my situation -- no wheels. John did one better than haul me around -- he loaned me a car. This took me by surprise as no one has shown me this kind of hospitality before. We had breakfast the first morning in the Snack Bar Cafe. Lewis introduced me to a few local farmers and feeders. They all offered to drive me around and show and exlpain local operations. J.B. Buske took me out several times to the Hi Plains Feed Yard. He explained the system. Nothing was left to chance. Every phase of the operation seemed to be planned and carried out to the nth degree. He showed me a lot of the area and crops. He then took me through a cotton gin. Since I am a Yankee, all I knew about cotton, was that it was used to make clothes.

Among my souvenirs, I now have cotton plants, bolls, furry seed and a hand full of cotton seed 1 stole from Steve Struve's planter box. (I later confessed to Steve).

I'm soon leaving here and I would like to take this means to thank all the people here at Friona who extended their hospitality to me. This is tremendous county as is all irrigation counties. But an area is no better than the people who live in it. I sincerely mean it and I'm speaking for Earl Lewis also, when I say there are no nicer peopler on earth than right here. If the rest of the people in the world were like you there wouldn't be any trouble. If things worked out, those of you I talked with are reasonably sure I'll return some day. Until then. Sincerely, Frank Tysdal

Elvin Wilson, Friona, Texas

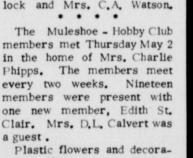

Many of last year's bumper yields came from small acreages. But Elvin Wilson had 735 acres-all Pioneer hybrid 820-that averaged 8,568 pounds per acre.

Good weather, good farming and good seed boosted Elvin's yields. He double rowed on a 40" bed, watered four times in addition to pre-watering, controlled weeds with Propazine, and put on 280 pounds of nitrogen.

Hybrid 820 makes the most of his good farming-shades the ground fast, produces big yields, stands right up to harvest. Isn't this the kind of sorghum you want, too? See me soon.

But in such dreams we should study the threads and realize the loom on which they must be woven. The qualities that give strength and beauty to a life come from thorough religious training!

So a mother's dream should not remain a secret. It must be her husband's dream, too. For together, with the guidance and help of the Church, they can provide the Christian home so necessary to the fulfillment of their hopes.

. Having Kenneth and Mickey Williams back in town is a pleasure for those of us who hated to see them move to Stratford a few years ago. For awhile these two are going to be busy busy busy moving. They are in the process of moving their household effects from Stratford to the T.E. Lovett rent house which was recently vacated by the Mack Ragsdale family. Then, they are in the process of moving their Ben Franklin Store from its present location just south of Bi Wize Drug to the newly re-decorated Rushing Building in the 700 block of Main Street.

Other moving Frionans this week include Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stephens. They have sold their home at the corner of Ninth and Ashland to the Jim Rules and are moving into the Elvie Jennings rent house on West Fifth Street.

"TEN CANNOT_MENTS"

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift."

"You cannot help small men by tearing down big men."

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

"You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer."

"You cannot help the poor man by destroying the rich."

"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income."

"You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred."

"You cannot establish security on borrowed money."

"You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence."
