REPRESENTATIVE BOB BOWERS' ... WEEKLY LETTER

This week in Austin has been a busy, wet one. Coming from West Texas, I have never seen rain like we are having here. It has rained everyday for 18 days. I only wish we could get about one half of it in the Plains.

The attitude of the Legislature has really changed since Easter, which I am told is only normal. Since a session is only 120 days, our adjournment date is May 7. If we do not adjourn on that date our pay is cut off. Most of the members are anxious to get our work over with and be able to leave on schedule. Of course, this is a very difficult thing to do as the last Legislature to leave on time was in 1945, while the 1949 Legislature worked until July 8th.

Of the many bills that have passed the House this week, I think there are only a few that you are interested in. A bill that passed by a big majority, and that I was sorry to see passed, was H. B. 103. This bill provided that 1 per cent of the permanent school fund could be transferred to the available school fund. The Legislature in 1899, when the state was in a much poorer condition than it is today, decided it was a bad practice to dissipate the state's permanent school fund by dipping into it to meet current educational costs. They passed laws preventing the practice.

The great problem, as I see it, is not the immediate one of just taking 11 million or so from the fund, but the problem is the precedent set. Once the permanent school fund is tapped for any purpose there will be eager legislators to follow on who will want again to take from the fund to meet an immediate problem. I am hoping the Senate will not pass the bill.

Even though the session is nearly over, I will certainly be happy to hear from any of you. I am looking forward to the time when I can visit with you personally.

Sincerely,
R. L. Bowers, Jr.

The Fred Danforths Are Cited As Texico's Most Outstanding Citizens

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danforth, former residents of Morton, were presented an award for outstanding citizenship of the year at Texico, recently.

The surprise award was announced by Mrs. Agrie Jones, vice-president of the club at an appreciation dinner in the club building.

The Danforths thought the dinner was solely to honor husbands of club members and other special guests who had donated time, labor and money to make the new club building possible.

The award was a silver platter engraved "Texico Women's Club Citizenship Award for 1956 - 1957 to Charleyrene and Fred." Mrs. Danforth is serving as first president of the newly organized civic club in Texico. She and her husband are both teachers in the school system there.

Mrs. Jones remarked during her presentation speech, the club had voted to give a Citizenship Award each year to some outstanding person. She said it was hard to single out any one individual for the award but emphasized that the award was because of Mrs. Danforth's efforts for the City of Texico, for her work in organizing the club & her service as first president; for Fred's cooperation with Mrs. Danforth on projects and the many projects he had help sponsor and carry out.

The Texas Capitol is more than a seat of government. The huge granite building contains paintings, sculptures and documents that attract scores of tourists daily and more than 20,000 Texas school children each spring.

As a visitor enters the Capitol, he finds underfoot the names of Texas battles set in metal letters in the terrazzo tile floor of the foyer.

Treasures of the foyer come in pairs — two paintings, two statues, and two documents.

A painting of David Crockett, defender of the Alamo, hangs on the right wall and across from it, the famous painting of Santa Anna surrendering to Gen. Sam Houston.

The life-size statues in white marble of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston are masterpieces of Elizabeth Ney, German-born sculptress who received commissions from the royalty and great men of Europe before moving to Texas in 1872.

The document which claims the principal attention of visitors in the foyer is a photographic copy of the original Texas Declaration of Independence.

The rotunda is a popular interest point for visitors. There one has an uninterrupted view inside the great dome some 300 feet high.

On the walls of the rotunda, beginning on the ground floor and circling clockwise and in chronological order up through several floors are portraits of all Texas heads of state.

The House of Representatives & the Senate Chambers are located on the second floor of the Capitol and the third floor is given over principally to the judicial branch of the government.

A fitting end to any tour of the Capitol is a walk through the Capitol grounds to see the monuments, statues, canons and the Capitol Greenhouse. A tour of the Capitol and grounds is an experience that impresses even the most casual visitor with the courage of those men who made Texas great.

The Friendly Neighbor club met in the home of Mrs. Walter Sandefer on Wednesday, April 24th.

She had a quilt up so the group got it out.

Members present for the quilting were Mrs. Burl McCasland, Mrs. Cecil Kirk, Mrs. Tolbert Blackstock, Mrs. Harry Tapp, Mrs. J. W. Pond, Mrs. Neta Merritt, Mrs. Gilbert Wilson and daughter Joyce Mrs. Leon Stinson, the hostess and several children.

A refreshment plate was served during the quilting session. The next meeting will be at Mrs. J. W. Pond's, on May 8th.

Announcing!

A display of currency, May 18 through 24 showing money in use from the early days of our Country to the present.

In this interesting presentation is paper money from early Colonial days that in our imagination we might see as having passed through the hands of George Washington, Alexander Hamilton or Thomas Jefferson.

There is money that was in use when the White House was burned in the War of 1812 ... money that could have been used to buy or release slaves ... Texas' own Treasury Notes from the stirring period when this State was a Republic ... money used on both sides while the battle of Gettysburg raged. Practically all phases of history are represented by the money currently in use in each period.

"Well, if that is the case," said King Charles, "let them issue their own coins if they have a mind to. They must be honest dogs, after all, to use the Royal Oak."

You and your family are invited to view this display which, we feel, will prove both interesting and educational.

The showing is set for May 18 through May 24 — tentatively planned for display in the lobby of our new Bank Building ... there is no charge, of course. Plan now to see this great exhibit ... make sure your children view this outstanding array of real American history.

The Press Battles for its Freedom

JOHN PETER ZENGER was arrested "for printing and publishing several seditious libels dispersed throughout his journals or newspapers."

Zenger was a New York printer in the days when Governor Cosby ruled the colony. Governor Cosby ruled in such an autocratic, overbearing manner that several indignant citizens started a newspaper to arouse the public against his tyranny. Zenger undertook to publish the newspaper.

Zenger was thrown into prison, and his bail was fixed at 800 pounds, a large sum for those days and quite beyond his ability to furnish. He stayed in jail for months, and his situation appeared hopeless.

The case finally was called to the attention of Andrew Hamilton, a distinguished Pennsylvania lawyer, who took up Zenger's cause as a public service. Hamilton forced the case to trial, and his speech to the jury, which led to Zenger's acquittal, is a ringing statement of what the press in America must still vigilantly fight for.

All men have the right, Hamilton maintained, "publicly to remonstrate the abuses of power... and to assert with courage the sense they have of the blessing of liberty... and their resolution at all hazards to preserve it."

Today in our country encroachments by governments and private interests alike upon freedom of the press are counter to law. Nevertheless, even today the press must battle constantly to keep that freedom intact.

MORTON SOFTBALL LEAGUE SEASONAL RULES ARE RELEASED

Three teams have made plans to join the Morton Softball League for the 11th season of play, and the entry deadline is still open a week away.

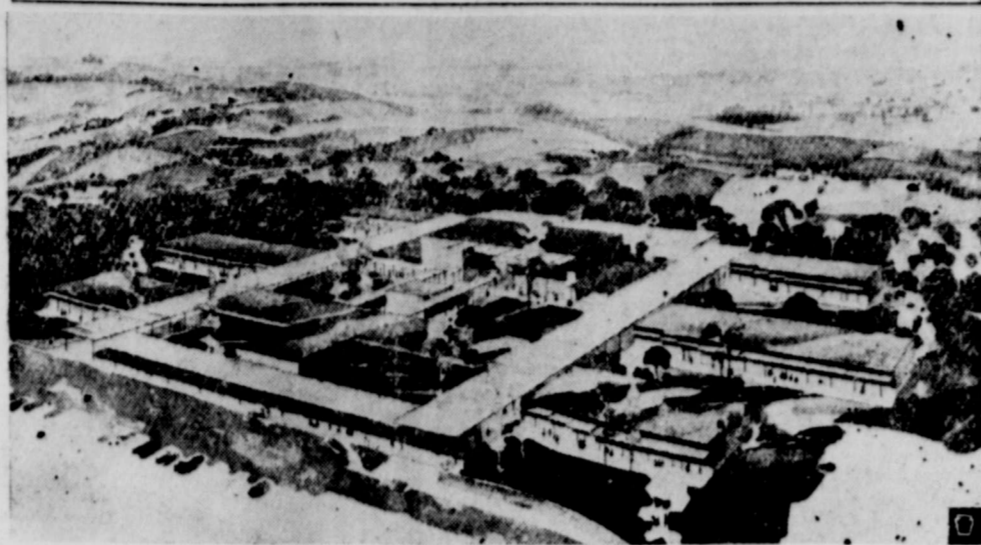

Representatives of Maple, Mule and a Morton team as yet unnamed met in the Fire Hall Friday to draw up rules for the season. There was no word as yet on the possibilities of Enochs, Bula or Whiteface entering. The Grande Gasoline Plant definitely will not enter.

The most pressing business at the meeting last Friday was to map out the rules which will govern the play. The date for the actual start of league play and the date for entry in the league, yet to be determined.

Five minutes prior to game time the scorekeeper shall call for roving players to fill out rosters of those teams unable to field a full team and these roving players will

1. No player, including pitchers, may be added to a team roster after two weeks before the playoffs.
2. Team rosters are limited to 15 men with no player listed on the team roster until he has actually been included on the box score of a game.
3. Any player dropped from a team roster must 'sit out' at least two of his team's games before he can be added back to the roster and eligible to play for that team.
4. Five minutes prior to game time the scorekeeper shall call for roving players to fill out rosters of those teams unable to field a full team and these roving players will

A NEW LOOK IN PUBLIC SCHOOL PLANNING

Even Tom Sawyer would have made class on time in this fairland of steel, concrete, aluminum and brick that will be completed this summer at Morrilton, Ark., as one of the nation's most unique elementary schools. Created as a joint project of Philanthropist-Industrialist Winthrop Rockefeller and the Morrilton School Board and financed by a grant from the former's Rockwin Fund, it is a teacher's and pupil's dream that glitters with the ultimate in educational design and equipment. The model unit has attracted national attention, while both the Federal and Arkansas Departments of Education have kept an enthusiastic eye on the project and contributed ideas.

The trim, three-story structure layout embodies design and facilities to serve the newest methods of teaching and child development, both curricular and extra-curricular, including special purpose classrooms for the exceptional, mentally retarded, handicapped child, a health center, auditorium whose wall opens onto a courtyard, covered walkways that double to reflect sunlight into classrooms, multi-purpose rooms and scores of other features.

Despite its many innovations it will cost less than many more conventional schools of comparable size. In keeping with the unique design, the construction pattern centers around unusual application of structural steel, most of which was shipped by the Birmingham, Ala. mills of U. S. Steel's Tennessee Coal & Iron Division. The steel frame structures were so designed by Ginocchio-Cromwell & Associates, Little Rock architects, that the steel serves both for support and decorative effect, and for further economy members are so placed that they also hold in the window panels generously used for walls.

Dickmann-Pickens-Bond Construction Co., Little Rock and Muskogee, Okla., are general contractors and structural steel was fabricated and erected by Arkansas Foundry Co., Little Rock.

SESAME PLANTING TIME NEARS

It's planting time for Sesame, the new cash crop on the High Plains which ranks second only to cotton as a money-maker.

"The recommended best planting time for Sesame is spread from May 5 to June 5," says Robert L. Parker, executive vice president of the Texas Sesame Seed Growers, "with most experienced Sesame growers planting between May 10 and 20. In general practice, most farmers follow their cotton planting with their Sesame."

Parker estimated that on the basis of commitments already made, more than 15,000 acres will be planted to Sesame in Texas this year—most of it on the irrigated High Plains.

About 5,000 acres were planted to Sesame on the High Plains last year, Parker said, and the results generally were very good, many growers grossing more than $110 per acre. This year our organization has conducted 15 farmer meetings on the plains, and on the basis of the enthusiasm and interest of farmers, we made this estimate. He said Plains planting should run to 10,000 acres and possibly could reach the 15,000 predicted for the entire state.

Parker said there is a general recognition among plains farmers with two and three years of experience in growing and harvesting Sesame that it has firmly established itself as their No. 2 money crop.

E. H. DANNER NAMED GENERAL TELO PREXY

Wright, who has been elected Vice President of Operations of General Telephone Corporation in New York.

G. Howard Briggs, now Director of Commercial Operations of General Telephone Corporation in New York, became Operating Vice-President of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, succeeding Danner.

Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Waller of Morton visited their friends Dr. & Mrs. J. C. Cross, Lubbock, who are recuperating from recent injuries sustained in an auto accident. Dr. Cross is head of the Biology Department at Texas Tech.

Following adjournment games of bridge were played. Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames Steve Monney, Dexter Nebhut, Sam Leveritt, Billy Glassford, Louis Russell, Buddy Hanna, Eddie Irwin, and the hostess, Mrs. Barton. WORKED OUT, it would be nice for by sharing the cost, and getting both leagues run, you can not only get more interest in the games and consequently better attendance and donations, but you also will get the whole operation's cost a lot cheaper than it would be to finance two separate operations.

THE IDEA of a citizen's group surveying the school's problem of integration or not, and other very pertinent issues, is a good one. Of course, we are the first to admit that the group will get out of the survey, only what they put into it. In other words, if the 21 persons who volunteered to help, really do make an effort to arrive at what they term the most feasible solution, without sidestepping the obvious issues that enter into it, they will get a lot out of it, and the job is worth doing.

One, what do they hope to accomplish when the Supreme Court has already made a ruling that will obviously have to be obeyed. The answer to that question lies in the fact that if the majority of people, both white and black, do not want integration, or at least spontaneous integration, or any one particular phase of integration, they must have solid reasons for not wanting it. If there are solid reasons behind their thinking, then we think they can and will find the solution to the problem, without doing what they don't want to do. Here is a problem, in case you haven't thought of it before, that goes far past the stage of just moral, or just social forces. This is a problem created by all sorts of forces, and the solution must involve lots of different phases of living.

PEOPLE OFTEN ASK concerns the basic reason behind not wanting to integrate schools suddenly. Some have said, if you aren't worried about the color problem, why aren't you worried about this? This answer too, is one involving many phases of life. A situation has developed, on account of many things, that finds the plane of education not always equal. Often times there are more students who haven't advanced as quickly in Negro groups, because economic factors have kept them out of school. To force their integration would create a serious problem which would hurt the students far more than anyone else. And we, as citizens, are here to help the children - all children, not to injure them.

THE LOCAL Ground Observer Corps gathering in Morton last Sunday was somewhat of a flop because of other conflicts. As it turned out the day was too damp and cloudy to send out planes so that no aircraft warning messages were necessary. But more observers are needed. More folks who will turn out and take a stand at "skywatching." It isn't a difficult job, nor is it even so inconvenient. But it is a job that should be done. It could mean the preventing of loss of lives in a severe weather alert.

 JAW AND TONGUE TROUBLE
 IN CATTLE IS TRACED TO MESQUITE BEAN DIET

Mesquite beans have long been considered "life savers" by ranchmen, especially during drouth periods. But a condition, which was first noted in 1941 south of Pecos, is now prevalent along the Pecos River in Texas and New Mexico and in many other parts of Texas and Oklahoma. The condition known as "jaw and tongue trouble" has been reproduced by feeding large quantities of mesquite beans.

Taking their cue from these facts the research workers started feeding trials in 1955 to determine if jaw and tongue trouble could be produced by feeding mesquite beans. It was.

It is the belief of the research workers that apparently, the remen bacteria which digest cellulose and synthesize vitamin B are destroyed when cattle consume large amounts of mesquite beans over a considerable period of time. The resulting malnutrition and vitamin B deficiency produce the serious malady in cattle.

The saliva of affected cattle hangings from the mouth in long strings and superficially resembles meringue. The feed trough or salt box will contain several quarts of saliva animals chew continuously, often holding their heads to one side as if chewing was painful. In some cases, about 25 per cent, animals protrude their tongues a half inch to four inches while from 10 to 50 percent of the animals may have swelling under the jaw and throat. These swellings may come and go. The salivary glands often are enlarged.

Animals are usually anemic and become emaciated, often losing 50 percent of their weight. Their hair coat may be very long, but after summer shedding large denuded areas appear. Too, animals are nervous and some have tremors especially around the face and muzzle.

When symptoms of jaw and tongue trouble appear, the damage has already been done, say the scientists. Often the ranchman does not realize that he is in trouble until the mesquite beans are gone and he starts feeding hay.

should be sold as soon as they are in good condition. Most point out scientists, will not be able to again digest dry roughage. It is advisable, therefore, to market cattle as soon as possible after the first symptoms appear.

High Taxes Do Most Injury to Non Tax Payers

WASHINGTON — High taxes do most injury to the persons who do not pay them, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States asserted in a recent tax study made public.

"The greatest help that could possibly be given to small business and new business in this country," the study continues, "would be to reinvigorate the field of risk capital for private investment through suitable revision of tax rates."

Striking at the popular belief that the rich can and do carry the heaviest share of the national tax burden, the study shows that high personal income tax rates actually produce meager revenue for the government.

"The number of individuals concerned is so small that little would be added to revenues if the government were to take all their income. If all rates above 50 per cent were eliminated, the net immediate loss to the government would be only $74 million, or slightly over 1 per cent of the federal budget (fiscal 1951). If all rates above 60 per cent were eliminated . . . the net immediate loss to the government would be only $375 million, or slightly less than 1/2 of 1 per cent."

The study says that while the Chamber does not at this time, under current circumstances of high business needs, advocate reductions of the current top rate to below 50 per cent, it does believe that a 50 per cent tax is a great deterrent to the production of income.

"We also believe," the Chamber adds, "that the present 20 per cent minimum income tax rate is much too high . . . but even a modest reduction of the minimum rates will cause an immediate loss of revenue of considerable magnitude."

The study concludes: "It is our firm belief that the surest and noblest way of achieving appreciably lower rates in the lower brackets is to first reduce the highest rates drastically. Only in this way can sufficient additional income be generated to permit reducing the rest of the rates to reasonable levels."

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR ANNOUNCES CHANGES IN BRACERO LAW

The U. S. Department of Labor recently announced that the minimum acceptable standards for housing Mexican agricultural workers employed in this country under the Migrant Labor Agreement with Mexico have been amended and re-evaluated effective immediately.

Charles E. Johnson, Field Director for the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security in Lubbock said the changes were made on the basis of (1) operating experience in the field and (2) consultations with the two committees which advise the Labor Department on farm labor policies and programs. These committees are the special Farm Labor Committee composed of agricultural representatives from each state, and the Labor Advisory Committee on Farm Labor made up of representatives of organized labor.

"The changes in the minimum standards include the addition of appeals procedures for employers and spell out in more detail than before the kind of housing and sanitary facilities that must be provided by employers for the Mexican workers they contract and employ under the terms of the Migrant Agreement," Mr. Johnson said.

"The amended standards cover adequacy of shelter, adequacy of space for worker, water supply, cleanliness, sanitation, ventilation, heating, and facilities for eating & laundry."

Regional Director Ed McDonald of the Bureau of Employment Security in Dallas was supposed to have mailed copies of the amended standards to all approved employers, & associations of employers of Mexican National workers. Copies are available at the field office or at the regional office in Dallas.

Exclusion from the standards is provided for bracero ranch hands while they are away from ranch headquarters. In such cases, living conditions on the ranch comparable to those under which domestic workers live are acceptable.

The source materials used in the development of the amended standards include the provisions of the Migrant Labor Agreement, state agricultural camp codes, and the suggested language for regulations of agricultural labor camps issued by the President's Committee on Migratory Labor.
