MORTON TEXAS THURSDAY, MAY 30 1957 NUMBER THIRTEEN

MEXICAN NATIONAL IS COUNTY'S SECOND TRAFFIC FATILITY of 1957

A 29-year-old Mexican National laborer, who had been working in Cochran County for a long time, died at 8:03 p.m. Thursday in the Phillips Dupre Hospital. He had been injured in a car accident a few days earlier, southwest of Morton.

James Sostene Munoz, who was employed by Merlin Roberts, was driving a pickup truck when a fire on FM 17, 8 miles southwest of the city, overturned. The accident occurred about 5:30 p.m. as he was driving between two farms worked by Roberts.

The State Highway Patrol investigated the accident but officers were unable to determine whether the fire started first and the truck overturned or the truck overturned and the fire started. A heavy butane tank shifted weight and overturned the truck. The loose butane tank shifted weight and caused the fire to start.

Monoz was rushed to the Phillips Dupre Hospital. He was taken to a hospital in Dallas, Texas, where he died. He had been in Morton for about 18 months. He had previously worked in the area.

The Price of Freedom

by Billy Graham

MOST Americans are inclined to take their blood-bought freedom for granted. How lustily, in times of war, do we sing songs of patriotism, exhibit due respect to the boys in uniform, and pray for peace. Yet, when the smoke of conflict subsides, our respect and regard for those who bore the brunt of war's perilous sword quickly wanes and dies. But true gratitude for an earned peace should be as perpetual as is our freedom.

Freedom of any sort, it seems, never comes cheap. Our spiritual freedom was purchased at terrific cost by the most splendid youth that ever walked the shores of time, Jesus Christ the Son of God. It hardly seemed right that He of all men should die in the very prime of life and at the peak of His usefulness! But, in the wisdom of God, only those who are ready, able and willing, are called upon to bring life and liberty to those who are unable to secure it for themselves.

HEAVY RAINS IN AREA, TORNADOS MISS COUNTY

Although Morton gauges showed only .24 inches of rain on Saturday Sunday and Monday, and a trace of water on Friday, turbulent weather occurred all over the area and got some portions of the County.

Once again Cochran County was missed by the tornadoes — that is by tornadoes on the ground, but the Last Frontier Area was severely affected by the stormy weather.

In the far western part of the County, rains reached from an inch to two inches. A humorous, and yet disgusting note about the weather came from Carl Griffith who has one 4,000 acre block in the western part of this county.

In 1956 cotton variety tests at Lubbock, the top yielding varieties & amounts of lint produced per acre were as follows: Dry Land - Dunn 7, 267; Paymaster Stormrider, 276; Tanager, 555, 268; and Watson's Empire, 264.

Irrigated - Texcala 545, 824; Paymaster 545, 819; Dunn 7, 799; and Lankart 57, 775.

At Plainview (Paymaster Farm) - Irrigated - Paymaster 543, 764; CA 119, 673; Paymaster (101 Starquest) 648; and Lankart 57, 672.

At Tulla, irrigated - Blightmaster, 268; Gregg, 1024; Paymaster, 316, 806; and Northern Star, 894.

Note: Blightmaster is highly tolerant of the blight disease or angular leaf spot.

failed to increase the yields in the first year after application, but 4 tons of burrs per acre with 30 lbs. of nitrogen increased the cotton lint yield 75 lbs. per acre. The same test with 45 lbs. of nitrogen increased the cotton lint yield 100 lbs. per acre.

RESEARCH IN FARMING
In production research today we are putting greater emphasis on soil and water conservation. We are trying to find ways of cutting production costs. The experiment stations alone do not offer a solution to this problem, but it can furnish some important guidelines. Continuing research helps farmers lower their cost of production, improve the quality of their products and get new customers.

CONTROL OF HEAVY STANDS OF JOHNSON GRASS ON DRY LAND AREAS OF H. PLAINS
Johnson grass was eradicated during the fallow year of a wheat fallow - wheat rotation by sweep plowing by 2 to 4 week intervals from Johnson grass emergence in May to wheat planting in October. All plowings made with 30 inch sweep.

Chemicals did not completely eradicate Johnson grass, but both plowing and chemicals did.

COTTON INSECTS
Mr. W. L. Owens, Entomologist at the Lubbock Experiment Station is predicting that both thrips and fleahoppers will be with us this year to do severe damage to young cotton in the 4 to 8 leaf stage. The station has gone on record that it is good insurance for all farmers to do early season control work for these two pests. The cotton, when young and tender, will set its early forms and increase maturity, if insects are controlled. Three weekly applications can be done with less than $2.50 per acre for the total cost of insecticide for all three applications.

In 1954 early season control increased the cotton lint yield 102 lbs. per acre. In 1955 the estimated value increase per acre was $55. In 1956 the story was a little different. The estimated increase in dollars and cents was nothing but the maturity was increased which could prove valuable if an early freeze or frost occurs. To put the cost of insecticide for three applications for early season control in 1954 at $2.00 per acre, the increase for that year alone would pay for insecticide for a period of 51 years on early season control. That is real insurance not to be overlooked.

Remember - Late season control - don't apply insecticide unless needed. Recommend early season control in 4 to 8 leaf stages for insurance protection every year.

Chas. Spencer Had Overseas Leave

AUGSBURG, GERMANY (AHT NC) - Army Sgt. Charles W. Spencer, 22, son of Mrs. Sussie Spencer of Morton, Texas, recently spent a leave along the Mediterranean coast.

Sgt. Spencer, who is regularly stationed in Germany, is a clerk in the 408th Supply and Transport Company of the 11th Airborne Division's 11th Airborne Support Group.

Overseas since February 1956, he entered the Army in January 1955 and completed basic training at Ft. Ord, California.

Spencer is a 1951 graduate of Morton High School and a former student at the University of Texas.

Big-Time Producers

MILK PRODUCTION UP-Farmer Albert Amer, of Lexington, Mo., was expecting an addition to his Jersey dairy herd, but certainly not triplets from one cow. Cattle experts report triple births in cattle occur only once in 100,000 births. The calves were only one day old when this photo was taken.

NOT A YOGA EXERCISE-It would take a big man to handle this toothbrush and tube of toothpaste. The toothbrush is being used as an uncomfortable seat by the painter as he applies finishing touches to the tube. Both were used in a dental display at a children's show in Paris.

LUMBER SHORTAGE-It wouldn't take the lumber industry long to supply all the nation's needs if it had crews with giant axes like this fellow has. Onet Shandel, king-sized boxer, turned woodsman, portrayed the mythical Paul Bunyan at a recent lumber-jack gathering in Fort Bragg, Calif.

HERE'S A REAL PRODUCER-This International Drott machine can operate either as a clamshell, bulldozer, shovel, or bullclam merely by a flip of a lever. Its versatility makes it an economical utility machine for any earthmoving job.

Cards Edge Giants 8 to 7 In Opener Of Little League

Pushing across three runs in the last half of the seventh inning, the Cardinals climbed out on top of the Morton Little League standings for the first time in three years. Thursday as they edged the Giants, 8-7.

It was a game filled with nearly every kind of thrill - including a few rhubarbs with the umpires - but the teams, fairly well matched battled all the way. The Giants had a 2-0 lead but the Cards roared back for three. The Giants knotted it and went a head in the second but again the Cards tied it a 4-4. In the fifth the Cards went ahead but the Giants again tied it to send the game into extra innings. In the top of the 7th, the Giants pushed across two runs but the Cards roared back to win it with three in the bottom half.

Larry Dunler was the winning hurler for the Cards, relieving Hoque in the 4th. Jimmy Bilbrey started for the Giants and was relieved by Bucky Darisek in the 7th who was the losing pitcher. Gary McDaniel's four hits for the Giants led all batters.

Line score:
Giants - 220 601 2 - 7 10 7
Cardinals - 310 010 3 - 8 12 3

Cubs' Late Rally Nips Sox, 10 - 9 Friday Afternoon

Aided by a flock of Sox errors, the Cubs roared back from an 8 to 1 deficit in the Morton Little League here Friday night and notched a 10 to 9 win by coming up with 5 runs in the last half of the 6th inning.

The Sox were coasting, 8 - 1, behind Charlie Ledbetter's hurling as the teams entered the last half of the 5th inning. However, Ledbetter tired, and though the Sox paraded two more pitchers to the mound, the aroused Cubs wouldn't be denied. They pushed across three runs in the 5th, and in the 6th took advantage of four errors, two walks, and only three hits to tally five time and send the Sox down to defeat.

The victory completely reversed last year's standings which ended with the Sox and Giants leading by a comfortable margin over the Cards and the Cubs. This year, after the first two nights of play, the Cubs and the Cards were tied for the league leadership.

STRAWBERRIES PLENTIFUL

Two items that appeared on the May list of Plentiful Foods were canned peaches and frozen strawberries. In both instances there was a record size pack last year and supplies in storage are unusually large for this season. Dealers are attempting to move frozen strawberries just ahead of the peak of supply of fresh berries.

This would be a good time to buy the packaged fruit and store in the home freezer. Large cans of frozen strawberries are available in the markets. They may be stored in the containers they are in or re-packaged in smaller containers.

Frozen berries may be made into easy jams by using powdered or liquid pectin. Directions for these are given on the recipe sheets that come with the pectin.

ANT CONTROL
Are you bothered with ants? If you have ever been bothered with them in your lawn or your home, here are some suggestions from extension entomologists that should help you.

If you can find the entrance and where ants are commonly found, and spray this area with a two percent chlordane household spray, it will give temporary relief. It is also advisable to spray around window and door facings where the ants enter and around water pipe fittings of the sinks and wash basins. A more permanent control can be obtained by treating around the outside of premises to destroy the house and foundations to destroy the colonies of ants.

In controlling these pests on lawns, use a dust of five per cent chlordane on the entire area. This can be mixed as a spray if you desire. The spray should be mixed according to the manufacturers' directions on the container.

One guest Ernest Seale, Manager of the Cochran County Hospital, was on hand Monday for the weekly Jaycee meeting at which time a partial report was made on the finances of the Jaycee Golf Tourney. It appeared likely the final total would show the Jaycees just about breaking even on the project.

The President instructed John E. Holloman to reserve the Legion Hall for the location of the Chest X-Ray machine when it comes to Morton. The Activity Building was already reserved on the days the machine is to be here and it was felt the school is too far away from the center of town.

Sammie Leveritt and Bob Huckabay, Community Welfare Co-chairmen, were placed in charge of a project to collect clothing, furniture, etc. for Olton families who lost their homes in the recent tornadoes. The donations of items were to be collected Tuesday morning and delivered immediately.

Senator Preston Smith

Clomaxing 123 days of lively session, the 55th Legislature ended its activities on a not very important to most lawmakers.

The ultimate approval of the $399 pay raise for Texas teachers was an enjoyable development for practically every legislator here.

Within the last few years Texans have begun to look at their school systems with more appraising eyes and one problem became apparent... that teachers have been underpaid for doing a job that means probably more than any other in helping mold young people into responsible citizens, prosperous and happy.

I can't think of a better way to close the activities of the 55th Legislature than to pass a bill that will furnish our teachers a pay raise... that they certainly deserve.

The close of the 55th Legislature also brings this column to an end.

The purpose of the column has been to help keep you informed of what's going on from week to week in state government.

Just as I told the editor of this newspaper, this column will never be used for bone-nicking reasons, or to blow anyone's horn. We've tried to make it factual, accurate, and of value to the people of the 28th Senatorial District.

Your many cards, letters and personal visits have been very much appreciated. Legislators like to hear from the people they represent. Don't ever hesitate to contact them when it seems advisable.

Your State Senator considers this a full time position even if the Legislature is not in session. So, if you need to contact me for any reason you can write me at 2808-22nd Street, Lubbock.

Miss Betty Ann and Rueil Kirby Wed In Monument Lake Ceremony

GOODLAND, (May 29) — Stand- ing before an archway of emerald foliage flanked by baskets of pink gladioli and pink tapers in candleabra, Miss Betty Louise Ann Kirby became the bride of Rueil Kirby at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, May 19. Glen Williams read a double ring ceremony conducted at the Monument Lake Methodist Church.

Mrs. Kirby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ann of the Goodland area and Rueil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kirby.

Mrs. John W. Gunter played piano selections and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Jesse Motes of Lubbock.

The bride's father escorted her down an aisle marked by pink satin bows. She was veiled in an original model of white, imported lace and nylon tulle over net and satin, designed with a high neckline framed by an upstanding Mandarin collar. The fitted lace bodice featured a sheer yoke outlined with scalloped lace and long, notal-point sleeves. Storming from a pointed waistline, the fully shirred skirt was enhanced by scattered lace appliques and a center front lace panel. Two back panels of lace framed a wide panel of tiny nylon tulle ruffles.

Her silk illusion veil depended from a tiara-type cap of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses and stephanotis.

Miss Gail Ann of Lubbock attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. John Weaver of Grand Prairie, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Miss Ann wore a blue lace bandeau and carried featured blue carnations. Mrs. Weaver wore a similar dress in pink, and carried pink carnations.

Charles Abbe of Maple served as his cousin's best man. The bride's twin cousins, Dean and Gene Andrews of Childress and the bridegroom's brother-in-law John Weaver of Grand Prairie

SENTRY DUTY

In America every editor is a sentry duty, guarding constantly against all encroachments on the Freedom of the Press. It has always been like this. Ever since the press battled for and won freedom of expression, its guardians have had to be on the constant lookout for infiltration by the enemies of that freedom. Infiltration—pressure from powerful groups to take down comment on a situation—pulling of strings to keep a story from being published, prolonged propaganda releases.

But the press knows the importance of never giving up its freedom. For on freedom of the press depend all other freedoms that make up democracy. Therefore, the men of America's press refuse to recognize any check—except military security—on complete, unbridled and inviolate freedom to print the truth.

That is the challenge of today to the conscientious and the vigilance of these sentries of America's press.

World Beauty a Credit to Her Name

The new 46,000-ton Niarchos tanker, WORLD BEAUTY sails on her maiden voyage. Largest tanker ever built in the United States, she has been called "the handsomest ship since the days of sail." The keel of the record vessel was laid a year ago by Madeleine Carroll, famous actress and wartime sweetheart of the merchant marine, who also launched the ship in January. Capable of carrying 16,500,000 gallons—enough gasoline to drive to the sun and back twice, or 13,000 times around the world—the WORLD BEAUTY is first of a six-ship $90,000,000 order placed in America by shipowner Stavros Niarchos.

Cub Pack 101 Spends Weekend At Camp Post

Forty-two Cub Scouts and their dads from Morton, perhaps the largest pack representation of the weekend, attended Camp Post last Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning, as part of a total of 207 representatives of 8 Cub Packs.

Led by Cubmaster Charles Mc Dermott and his son Mike, the Morton group checked in at the Camp Headquarters around mid-afternoon, were assigned the Box R Campsite, and spent approximately 24 hours at the camp. Among the activities they took part in were holding a Committee Council until late Saturday night; hiking to Indian Mountain for Church Services Sunday morning; and hiking and swimming after the church services. The group headed back to Morton right after Sunday dinner.

One of the real highlights of the trip, as far as the wide-eyed Cubs were concerned, was the killing of a rattlesnake they encountered on the hike. Their guide killed the snake.

Five of the Cub Scouts attending were repeaters, back to their second trip. They were Charles Ledbetter and Rodney Williams, who were accompanied by M. C. Ledbetter; Mike Doss accompanied by Tauman Doss; Larry Miller accompanied by Erman Miller and Marvin Doss Ross, accompanied by Junior Ellinger.

Others who made the trip from the Morton Pack were Leon Chesney and father; Jerry Lyles and father; Benny Turner and Ronald Smart and Benny's father; Roy; Everett Bibbey and father; Lonnie Hamilton and father; Reggie & Woodie Self and father; Dennis Aycock and father; Carl Dupler and father; Lester and Larry Littlefield and father; Billy Bob Freedland and father; Freddie Turney, Terry Pace, and Jerry Mins with Mr. James Turner; Perry Lee Cozart and Nath; and Herman Mc Camish and uncle, Clark McCamish.

SMALL BUSINESS

The blackjacking of Congress by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has caused a lot of ire on Capitol Hill.

Actually, basically Summerfield used the same tactics to get money for the postal service that have long been used by the international clique to get more money to carry on global bondsworlding. For several years now, before Congress has had the opportunity to study the foreign aid situation, these who run the show go out and commit the U. S. to huge expenditures which Congress has felt it must honor, or imperil U. S. world reputation.

But the basis of Summerfield's threat, i. e., if cash were not poured up by a deadline date, third class mail would be stopped, is most interesting.

It is significant he said nothing about second class mail, which runs up a big postal service loss.

Newspapers, magazines and periodicals are mailed under second class. Under the provisions of this law, weekly newspapers under 5,000 circulation can mail the paper free to subscribers in the same county, although paying regular rates for those going outside the county. This provision was provided years ago by Congress to make sure that residents of a county would be able to keep abreast of the local happenings, especially in county government.

No one visualized at that time development of big national magazines, to say nothing of many "girlie" publications.

It is estimated last year the Post Office lost enough on handling just ten of the national magazines to equal extra money postal service asked.

For example, one weekly magazine on which the postal service is reputed to have lost over $9 million last year, has a subscription price equal to 15¢ per copy, yet the Post Office delivers it for 7¢ or less per copy, despite the fact that each issue carries never less than a half million dollars in advertising, often well over $1 million in advertising.

So Summerfield was content to turn a blind eye toward this money-sapping abuse and crack down on third class mail. While in the smaller cities and towns, weekly newspapers furnish a fine advertising medium to all businessmen, this situation does not prevail in the large cities.

A small neighborhood business cannot afford to advertise in the big metropolitan papers because he can only draw trade from his immediate area. So, third class mail is used extensively by these neighborhood small business enterprises to reach customers.

So instead of upsetting the multi-million dollar national magazine publishing concerns who enjoy a huge mailing subsidy at the expense of the taxpayers, Summerfield threatened to take action which would be of incalculable harm to the thousands of big city, small neighborhood business enterprises.

So Summerfield followed typical pattern of administrative agencies. First was the spending of more money than was on hand, forcing Congress to dish out more. Second, was planning so that if any drastic measures were to be taken, small business would bear brunt of them. Never before have so few conspired so mightily against so many.

USA denies it egged the Hungarian patriots on with "news" broadcasts promising imminent American armed force aid.

USA denies it egged the Hungarian patriots on with "news" broadcasts promising imminent American armed force aid. But there also appears evidence that by quoting certain American officials at the time, such as State Secretary John Dulles' talk of "rollbacks," considerable false optimism was created.

And of course, the Hungarians could not be expected to know that Dulles does a great deal of talking that is not in tune with the American sentiment.

Of course, for some time, members of Congress have expressed the feeling that the work of USA in Europe, Son J. Fulbright takes the stand, as well as Sen. Dennis Chavez, who made trip abroad to study operation and reported on return it had no value.

Thus, there is a growing fear in many Congressional circles against permitting USA to continue. Some observers even express the feeling that with disregard for facts, USA could propagandize the U. S. into a shouting war. So there is strong sentiment that not only is USA needless, it is probably dangerous as well.

TORNADO WARNING in time can spell the difference between heavy loss of life and light casualties when the twisters sweep into populated areas. Under the experimental Weather Bureau program for tornado tracking by radar and telephoned visual reports, adequate warning could be broadcast so that local civil defense, police and firemen could evacuate residents or advise them to seek cover in basements. This drawing shows how such a warning station at Lincoln, Neb., might alert the inhabitants of Dorchester, Neb., in the expected path of a twister. ore waters against times of drought.

The Senator added that the efforts of Congress to cut the President's $71.8 billion budget are directed at eliminating waste so there will be money to spend for essentials.

Pointing out that for years he has been a strong advocate of an adequate defense system, Senator Johnson said, "The real issue before us is not whether we will have an adequate defense. It is whether we are getting full value for our defense dollar and whether there are ways and means of being economical.

"There is much more involved than an economy. Our people look to their government to be not only prudent but efficient as well."

The elimination of waste is a job that can be done, he declared, adding: "Congress has shown that the budget can be cut without depriving this country of any essential services."

Feeding Millions For A Penny

A recent survey of super market customers showed they estimate the net profit of food retailers as high as 19¢ on a dollar of sales. Actually, the right answer is 1.2¢—according to a study just completed by the Harvard Business School for the National Association of Food Chains.

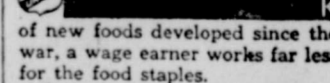

The surprising penny profit aspect of chain super markets is made possible by a number of developments. Self-service and "cash and carry" are two of the most important. But just as important are large volume, fast turnover and greater efficiency.

For example, because of improved equipment and methods, food chains can handle two tons of groceries with the manpower needed for one ton 10 years ago.

Food distribution costs have been going down steadily. The costs of food distribution have been cut by one-fourth since 1933 due to more efficient warehousing, transporting and record-keeping and to the advantages of modern chain super market operations. The remarkable thing is that this has been accomplished despite food industry wage increases which have tripled, freight rates which have more than doubled and similar boosts in other costs.

Moreover, the modern super market may offer as many as 7,000 items—ten times the number 20 years ago.

What does this mean to Mrs. America and her family? Besides the much larger assortment of foods, including out-of-season fruits and vegetables, delicacies from distant places and hundreds of new foods developed since the war, a wage earner works far less for the food staples.

For example, he works only 7 minutes for a quart of milk—where his father worked 21 minutes. To "earn" a dozen eggs he need only work 17 minutes—where his father put in nearly an hour and a half. What is true of milk and eggs is true of bread, butter, meat and most of the other staples.

Summing it up, the figures show he need work only one-third as long to stock the family larder as his father did 40 years ago.

People often talk about saving a "pretty penny." But, in the light of what you get in a modern food chain, the little more than a penny that you give to your super market is profit, you might call a pretty powerful penny.
