FIVE MEMBERS OF JOE SUTTON FAMILY BURNED IN BUTANE BLAZE IN FAMILY PICKUP, SATURDAY

B. E. (Joe) Sutton, Bledsoe, and his four-year-old daughter, Velinda Sue, were injured seriously and his wife and two sons also painfully burned in the flare-up of butane gas flames at the Sutton home late Saturday.

All of the Sutton family were treated for burns, but B. E. and his daughter were hospitalized, and the little girl was battling for her life early this week with burns covering from 50 to 60 per cent of her body. Joe had severe burns on his right arm and hand, and other painful burns on his face, chest, and his other arm and hand.

The mother, who helped Joe in getting the small girl out of the back of a burning pickup truck, suffered burns on her hands and arms and both boys, Mike Lynn, 9, and Steven Elmo, 6, had almost identical burns on their left hand.

The accident occurred as Sutton was readying his pickup truck for a little family vacation. He was attempting to hook up a butane stove to the butane tank on the truck. The regulator was allowing a good flow of butane and Sutton in an effort to get it corrected, had stopped to make a phone call to Morton.

When the explosion and flash of fire occurred, Sutton was standing near the pickup truck. The daughter was in the back of the pickup, where Sutton had rigged up a bed. The two boys were in the yard, one sitting atop the family's home butane tank. The mother was just coming out the back door of the house.

A puff of flame seemed to envelop nearly the whole yard. Sutton began to run toward the house and a quick thinking shout by Mrs. Sutton.

A late report Wednesday on the condition of little Velinda Sutton was that she was "doing as well as can be expected."

By Sen. LYNDON JOHNSON

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, summing up activities of the present session of Congress as it approached an end, said Sunday that of all the bills passed during the session the most important to Texas were those that dealt with water.

"Water is the most important issue before the people of our State," Senator Johnson declared in his weekly radio report to Texans. "Every dam, every flood control project, every irrigation project is important to the people of our State."

In his weekly newsletter, Senator Johnson pointed out, "Waco can look forward to construction of a badly needed reservoir. The Cooper reservoir leaves the planning stage & enters the construction phase. Planning work will go forward on Lampasas reservoir. Construction on the Ferrells Bridge Reservoir insurance for the future — an investment in the future."

The Senator gave examples to back up his contention that the most important single thing that can be done for Texas is to produce a workable plan for developing the State's water resources.

"The other day I received a memorandum before me informing that Texas now has the world's largest synthetic rubber plant," he observed. "That plant is on the Texas Gulf Coast because of water."

"Texas is the world's largest producer of cotton, beef cattle, and other farm products. But Texas cannot hold those records unless we learn to control our water supply."

"Our cities are booming. They grow larger every day as people from other states are attracted by the opportunities we have to offer. But those cities will shrink to villages if we cannot find adequate supplies of water."

In his weekly newsletter, Senator Johnson pointed out, "Waco can look forward to construction of a badly needed reservoir. The Cooper reservoir leaves the planning stage & enters the construction phase. Planning work will go forward on Lampasas reservoir. Construction on the Ferrells Bridge Reservoir will advance almost to the completion stage.

These are the tangible results of the Public Works bill. But something far more important is involved. It is money for surveys of the Texas streams.

Texas stands on the threshold of tremendous growth. The Gulf Coast may well become the industrial center of America. Already we have the world's largest synthetic rubber plant; a petrochemical industry second to none; a hustling and progressive steel company.

But industry — like agriculture and individuals — cannot live without water. And Texas still lacks adequate control over its water resources — in fact, some experts estimate that we are still 25 years behind the other western states.

Look for action in the field of water. The Bureau of Reclamation & the Army Engineers are finally working together. They have promised an overall plan — or the beginning of a plan by next Spring. It will represent a big job. It may take 25 to 30 years — plus one, and one-third billions of dollars in Federal funds. The money will have to be matched by State and local contributions.

This is one issue upon which Texans must not be divided. Texans must unite to approve this program and bring it to reality.

But big or little, it is a job that must be done. The future of Texas rests upon the outcome."

D'Rene Danforth Winner Again In 4-H Talent

Winning the State 4-H Talent Hunt in Las Cruces last week at the 33rd State 4-H Club Camp was D'Rene Danforth, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danforth of Texico, New Mexico, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hap Rogers of Morton.

She was awarded a bronze plaque from Jerry Chaves, State 4-H Leader, at an Awards Banquet on Friday night at the cafeteria on the A and M College Campus.

D'Rene won the right to go to the State Camp after winning District title in Roswell and County title in Clovis, in the Senior Division in July. She was Junior Division winner last year in both the County and the Southeastern District, but Junior winners do not go beyond District level.

As Southeastern District winner, the young high school student did an aerobic routine at the State contest, competing against three other district winners. Judges announced at the conclusion of the program, that all talent was of such fine quality, they were presenting blue ribbons to each contestant & top winner would be announced at a banquet at the close of the camp.

While in Las Cruces for the 4-H camp, D'Rene was among a group of eight young performers taken to El Paso to present a TV show over Channel 4.

Performing about 16 times on stages in the past 12 months, a little oftener than once a month, D'Rene has entertained approximately 3500 spectators with her aerobic routine. She has given TV performances in Lubbock, El Paso, and in Clovis and was a winner of Meads Talentine Contest in Clovis last winter. She was a pupil of the late Jimmie Allman.

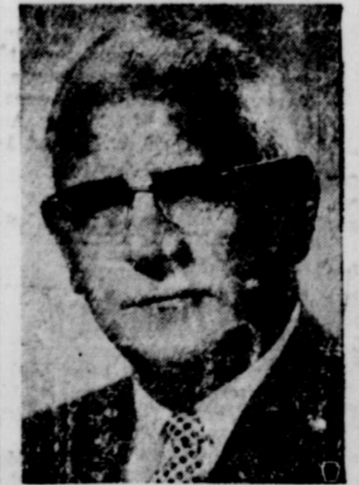

Completing 8 projects in the past four years, D'Rene remarked that being allowed to attend the State 4-H Camp gave her a clearer idea of the limitless opportunities in this work.

"I learned so much about cooking, demonstrations, meeting and getting along with people, and having fun — it's worth every effort to win a trip to state camp."

She is enrolled in Junior Leadership, Baking V, Sewing III and Health this year. This petite miss takes an active part in her school, is a majorette with the school marching band, plays saxophone in concert band and piano.

"I want to thank all the judges at County, District and State contests for their consideration — she said — this was truly a big honor for me."

Pine Accessories Dress Up Yard

Trellises, sunshades, and fences not only will dress up a yard, but present an opportunity for the homemaker to exercise considerable ingenuity in design and planning.

Some are purely decorative, some provide privacy for outdoor living, while others offer protection against the weather or support for climbing plants. Whatever the purpose or design, most are simple enough to be made by the homemaker who has but little skill in woodworking.

Because they are easy to work, modest in price, and resistant to the elements when properly treated, the ten varieties of wood from the western pine region are popular for outdoor living accessories, and design possibilities are virtually unlimited.

If you have windows that are exposed to the glare of the sun, a decorative trellis can easily be built that will support a vine, will cut down the heat, and also dress up and add interest to the exterior of the house.

The Western Pine Association recommends that portions of the wood to go underground be treated first with a pentachlorophenol formula preservative.

Science Scores With Miniature Marconi

A major upsurge in youth's interest in science is sweeping the country, national educational authorities report. With the need for scientists greater than ever before, and with pay higher, teachers are finding keen interest among students who once seemed bored. Teachers and parents share the credit for the boom in science interest. They are stressing the fun of learning about science, and encouraging children to begin learning at an early age. Some youngsters have indicated amazing hidden talent. For example, Ellen Shuman, 11, puts the finishing touches on a crystal radio set she received for her birthday. Officials of the Heath Company, a subsidiary of Daystrom, Inc., a company that manufactures this and other popular kits for home construction, call Ellen Shuman their youngest customer by a very wide margin. With America's urgent need for scientists growing by leaps and bounds, youth's growing interest in science comes as a mighty welcome news.

MAPLE TAKES OUT MULESHOE, MORTON SCUTTLES LEVELLAND IN SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS; TWO IN FINAL SERIES STARTING TONIGHT

Morton will try what they have found it most difficult to do all season long, beginning tonight, as they try to beat Maple in the final round of the Morton Softball League.

The finals of the playoffs will begin tonight and should be completed this weekend. Maple, as was expected, won the semi-final round with Muleshoe by hammering out a 12 to 11 verdict Tuesday night to give them the best of three series, two games to none. But Morton completed the big upset by taking their second straight game from Levelland, a 3 to 0 shutout twirled by Johnny Vandeventer.

Maple started Ed Neutzler on the mound and had a 6 to 3 early lead but when Neutzler got wild they called on their strongman, Don Lamar. Don just barely was able to get Muleshoe under control. Two home runs pulled the game up real close after Maple had taken a 12 to 1 lead.

Vandeventer pitched some of the best clutch ball that has been seen here this year. Levelland got six hits, three walks, and two errors. But in the clutch John bore down to leave three men on base in the first and second innings and two on base in the third and seventh.

Elvin Johnson pitched equally fine ball for five innings but finally Merle Newman cracked a single driving home Vandeventer and Morton went on to tally 3 runs in the 5th. That was all the scoring there was. Morton had only seven hits.

Tonight's first game of the final round is slated to get underway at 8:30.

Maple rolled over Muleshoe with apparent ease, 14 to 3, but Morton upset Levelland, 7 to 3, in the first two games of the Morton League softball playoffs in Morton Monday night.

Maple's Don Lamar gave up only four hits — three of them for extra bases, as Maple scored two runs in each of the first three innings to ice the issue early. Lamar was touched for a double and a triple by Parker and a home run by Richards.

Maple, meanwhile, took advantage of several walks and three Muleshoe errors to go with a 14 hit attack.

Levelland played catch up all night long and never managed to get there. Three hits & a wild pitch in the first inning gave Morton a 3-0 lead. The Hockley Countians did manage to whittle the margin to 3 to 2 in the second inning but from there on Morton pitching was nearly airtight and the infield was exceptionally tight. Most, if not all of Morton's errors were in the outfield, 3 on the left fielder who charged two ground balls and had trouble picking them up, and one in left and center on fly balls that should have been caught.

But the errors were far less costly than many Morton fans have been making this season, and basically, the Morton team turned in their best performance of the season.

Especially on bunted balls, Levellanders were thrown out at first base several times, and Kernell was unusually effective at getting batters to pop up.

Levelland's errors hurt them considerably, plus a tendency to mentally lapse.

Maple Wins Littlefield Tourney

Maple, after ousting Morton on Thursday night, 7 to 3, in the Littlefield Invitational Softball Tourney, won the tourney championship on Saturday night with a 6 to 0 win over Levelland.

It was a happy win for Don Lamar, Maple hurler, who has had a lot of trouble with Levelland in the second half of the local league's play. He hurled shutout ball at the team that had advanced to the finals with a narrow 1 to 0 win over Anton on Thursday night.

All four local teams were entered in the tournament.

Lamar outpitched Carl Kernell in the Thursday game, ousting Morton, 7 to 3. Usually it was infield hits, bunts, that beat Kernell. In all, Maple got five hits on bunted balls, Joe Sowder collecting three himself.

Athletic Boosters Meet Monday

The first meeting of the year of the Morton Athletic Boosters, is to be held Monday, August 26th, in the Banquet Room of the County Activities Building.

The meeting will get underway at 8:00 p.m., being started later than usual to give football boosters ample time to attend.

All those interested in the fortunes of Morton Athletics — especially football — are urged to be on hand to help plan future meetings of the group.

Louis F. (Snooky) Russell will be in charge of the meeting.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

There are growing signs that Congress is growing rather tired of the State Department attempting to run so many affairs of government.

In fact, it might well be possible that in the course of events, Congress will go to work on some very substantial curtailments of State Department authority.

A case in point comes from California where the cultivation of some 500,000 acres of grapes is a major industry. Now the advertising and promotion of wines varies in each state, according to local laws. But in addition the Federal government, through the Alcohol Tax Unit, also exercises authority over the content of advertising copy in wines.

For many years the fiction has been built up in this country that no wines produced in America can equal those produced in Europe. This was never too much of a problem until the past few years, when European nations, especially France, taking advantage of the low tariff structure on wines, started depressing the market by constantly increasing shipments of wine into the U. S.

Now it is important to bear in mind that France is almost drowning in wine, while production of milk suffers. Yet, a French alcohol trust, which virtually dominates the French government, forces the French government to subsidize its wine exports.

ernment to keep hands off, other than produce a subsidy.

But a lot of inferior French wine has and is being dumped on the American market done up in fancy packages and sold at ruinous low prices.

Out in California, the grape growers and wine makers, most of them small operators, decided to combat this by holding over the country wine tastings. Experts, and others, have given both the best of California wines and the best of foreign wines blind tastings.

In a majority of cases, the verdict has been in favor of California wine, sometimes by a ratio of 3 to 1.

But hardly had the first of these verdicts been rendered than the Alcohol Tax Unit, known as ATU, issued an edict that no domestic wine advertising could in any way make use of the results of these tests. In other words, these small California operators are forbidden by government fiat to make mention of the excellence of their products as compared to imports.

No one knows exactly just how the ATU came to issue such an order, but it is rumored around Washington that foreign interests first made some pretty strenuous protests to the State Dept.

Apparently, after rummaging around, State Dept. found it had not authority to stop Americans from putting forth the truth about their products. But they knew the fellows that could.

Thus, it is felt around Washington that it is a pretty sure bet that State Dept. conferred with ATU and out of these cozy little talks came this order.

And this is just but one of many, many incidents that are getting Congress more than a little irked with the State Dept.

Indians Will Open Practice On Monday, 26th

The 1957 edition of the Morton Indian Grid Squad, certainly a big question mark at this stage, will begin to form Monday as coaches Vernar Alexander and Bobby Travis conduct their first workouts.

The team has already received a rough blow with the advance word that Gary Middleton, quarterback, and the teams only deft passer in games last year, will not play football. Both coaches and fans are hoping Gary will change his mind, but if he doesn't, that gap will be the hardest one to fill. Jackie Neal Brown would seem to be the most logical contender for the spot, but coaches will have every position "wide open" as the tryouts begin.

The Indian eleven will have two weeks to work out before the opening game, Sept. 6th, at home, against Seagraves.

With the advent of a new scholastic setup — a three year junior high and three year high school — a new sports program may also go into effect. Freshmen, or 9th graders, may play on the junior high team, or Morton may have a freshman team with a schedule of their OWN, AS MANY LARGER SCHOOLS DO. But all of these things will have to be worked out, the coaches stating only that suits will be issued and workouts will begin August 26.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Several cooperators in the Cochran Soil Conservation District have already secured their seed for the planting of winter cover crops.

Some of these cover crops they are planning, are Madrid and Hubam clover, winter peas, vetch, alfalfa and some of the small grain such as rye.

The McCasland brothers, who are farming the Mrs. Era McCasland place, say they are pleased with the cover and protection that Madrid clover provided last winter & spring. The clover was seeded in middles of grain sorghum before the last irrigation and the sorghum stubble was left standing for protection until the clover got started. They are planning to follow the clover with cotton next spring and they are going to plant more cover this fall.

Kenneth White, a cooperator with the Cochran Soil Conservation District, near Lehman, is going to use vetch as a cover crop this fall.

Kenneth is planning to seed vetch in the middles of cotton before he puts on his last application of water.

On the sandier soils, many farmers are planning to use a small grain such as rye for winter cover. Rye seeded at the rate of from 45 to 60 pounds provides good cover and is very effective in controlling wind erosion. The best planting time for rye is from August 15 to October 31.

The local ASC office provides cost-share assistance on the establishment of these cover crops.

Most of the cooperators with the Cochran Soil Conservation District who have land in the conservation reserve part of the Soil Bank have completed seeding their crop to be used for dead litter into which grass will be seeded next spring. For better insurance of getting a good stand of grass next spring, it is very important that this litter crop does not make seed this fall. If seed are produced, then next spring they will germinate and as they come up they will compete for moisture with the grass plants.

Most of the participants are planning now to mow the litter crop to a stubble height of 10 to 12 inches if it starts to seed before frost. This will let it fall back on the soil to provide litter and a better condition into which grass can be seeded.

Jaycees Hear Talk On Chest Drive

The Morton Jaycees entire meeting Monday was taken up with a discussion on the good points and theory behind establishment of a Community chest.

No vote was conducted on this issue, the session being held mainly to get local folks ideas and to give them an understanding of how a community chest works.

Burnett Roberts, Hockley County Farm Bureau man and Gene Yeager, Piggly-Wiggly manager from Levelland, were in charge of the discussion.

Four local businessmen attended the luncheon meeting and heard the discussion as guests of the club. Eight others invited could not be on hand.

EVERY YEAR, when automobile inspection times rolls around, we hear lots of questions and lots of gripes from folks who scoff at the importance of the law—a law many folks insist was put on the books to make mechanics rich, and which mechanics stoutly maintain is much more of a burden to them than a help.

here are a few . . . FACTS RELEASED by the Department of Public Safety in a recent memorandum. You put them together and be the judge.

INSPECTION PERIOD, which ends September 1st, 3,750,000 vehicles were inspected by 4,700 inspection stations. Of these, 43 per cent needed something done in order to pass inspection. Twenty-nine per cent needed headlight adjustment; ten per cent needed brake adjustment. The average cost for inspection, per vehicle, was $1.89.

INVOLVED IN fatal accidents has been reduced from 13 to 18 per cent — to just 3 per cent per 100,000,000 miles.

1958 INSPECTION PERIOD begins September 1st (15 days earlier) and ends April 15 (same). On April 16th it is a misdemeanor to operate a vehicle on a public highway without 1958 inspection sticker and punishable by a fine of $1.00 and costs up to $300 and costs up to the discretion of the judge.

ITEMS are checked on a passenger car: (1) the motor number, (2) both headlamps, (3) one tail light, (4) foot brakes, (5) the stop light, (7) two rear reflectors on the newer cars, (8) the horn, and the (9) windshield wiper.

OVER LAST YEAR dwell mainly on brakes which will get a much more thorough check; and headlamp checks. A lot of folks wondered about paying the dollar — that is for the inspection and not for the sticker. You'll have to pay the dollar, regardless of whether or not you have your car fixed so you can have a sticker.

SURPRISE VISITOR the other day, Supreme Court Justice Euel Walker, who has just completed his third year on the Supreme Court of Texas, was in Plainview on a visit and decided it was a good time to visit the smaller towns he seldom visits and renew acquaintance with lawyers and other friends in the area.

DISCUSSION, the other day at Jaycee meeting, on the possibilities of forming a Community Chest in Morton, and eliminating the need for conducting a lot of drives each year — instead lumping them in one big drive on which everyone is supposed to work.

CONSIDERING whether or not to sponsor a Community Chest, they were just listening to how the idea is worked. Later, if enough people seem interested, they may vote to join in such a project. If it were worked properly, it would be a good thing. But we doubt whether it

With Your... COUNTY AGENT

By Homer E. Thompson
DONT OVERLOOK ALFALFA

Alfalfa is one of the most versatile of farm crops. It is important to Texas as a source of hay, seed pasture and also as a soil improving crop. Alfalfa does best on fertile, well drained, neutral to alkaline soils of medium texture, according to E. M. Trew, Extension Pasture Specialist. However, it is being grown on some acid sandy loam soils of East Texas with the addition of lime and plenty of fertilizer. Alfalfa needs plenty of phosphorus & potassium as well as adequate calcium. A soil test is best for determining its needs.

Ranger and Buffalo are grown in the Rolling and High Plains areas for seed, but we have no advantage over the "common" varieties in forage production.

A new variety, Labontan, is expected to become important because it is about 75 per cent resistant to the spotted alfalfa aphid. Some seed will be available this fall.

Fall seeding is best for alfalfa. The weed problem is greater with spring seeding. The seedbed should be firm, clean and moist. Drill 15 to 20 lbs. of seed per acre. Plant two to three pounds when planted in 36 to 42-inch rows for grazing in dry areas. Use certified seed and inoculate them before planting.

Trew says that the spotted alfalfa aphid has severely damaged stands in some areas. The insect can be controlled with Malathion or Parathion spray. The new variety, Labontan, will also be helpful in this control.

loration in Section 7:

Answer: To prevent undue deterioration eggs should be held at a temperature not higher than 60 degrees Fahrenheit with relative humidity of not less than 65 per cent.

Answer: No.

Answer: No.

Answer: Primarily at retail outlets. However, inspections will also be made at wholesale, dealer and processor establishments.

Answer: If this firm meets the definition of all three, then the law requires he be issued three separate licenses.

Answer: When he handles eggs for purposes other than hatching.

Answer: The owner or lessee must obtain a retail license.

Answer: All available sources of information such as records, invoices, etc., will be used by inspectors to determine when eggs should be labeled "cold storage."

Answer: The fact that a plant is using USDA supervision does not affect the enforcement of the Texas Egg Grading Law.

Answer: No. The eggs must be of the same standard but you cannot use the prefix U.S. unless official USDA grading service is installed in the plant under direct supervision of the USDA.

Answer: Yes.

Answer: No descriptive advertising terms may be used in connection with them.

Answer: Any individual purchases eggs for his or her use of consumption.

Answer: Twenty percent, as prescribed in USDA standards.
