Morton - Price College Grid Game To Be Played Friday Afternoon; 3:00

The Morton vs Price College grid game originally set for 8 p.m. Friday - has been changed to an afternoon game, it was announced here this week.

Supt. John Barnes said that kickoff time would be at 3 p.m.

The change was made earlier this week by mutual agreement between the two schools.

Morton requested the change in time due to the bad weather we had here the past few weeks, Barnes said.

Morton had been toying with the idea of playing an afternoon game for some time.

Local school officials theorized that since the game is a non conference affair, and means only a mark in the year's won or lost column, it would be wiser to take as many precautions as possible to protect the boys' health and save their strength for the District Title clash with Friona next week.

The Morton team, an unusually small team in numbers, can ill afford the loss of even one regular due to a cold that might be prevented by playing a day game. The chances for warm weather being so much greater.

The afternoon game will also make it possible for fans in the area who are following another team regularly - to see Morton play - and of course will allow Morton fans to see an important title clash elsewhere on Friday night. Many will probably want to go to Sulan to get a preview of Friona in action.

Linda Cole Rites Set For 2:30 Today At Methodist

Funeral services are to be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church for 15-year-old Linda Cole who died early Wednesday morning in her home here after battling the crippling and paralyzing effects of a fall 64 months ago.

Rev. Clarence Stephens, now of Seymour, who was Linda's pastor in 1952 when the accident occurred, will conduct the services assisted by RRev. J. E. Harrell, pastor of the Morton Methodist Church.

Burial will be in the Morton Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Singleton Funeral Home of Morton.

It wasn't the accidental fall five years ago that actually caused her death, Linda, her condition weakened by the accident, just didn't have the physical strength to fight complications that set in after a cold she developed recently. The cold or flu developed into pneumonia which caused her death.

It was on the evening of July 3, 1952, that black-haired, blue-eyed, Linda, with her two sisters and a friend, stood on the edge of a cliff at Ruidoso, N. M., where the family had gone to spend the holidays. Suddenly the rocks under Linda's feet seemed to give way and she plummeted 25 feet to a pile of rocks. She was immediately paralyzed and was unable to move.

After a quick check with a local doctor, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Cole took Linda to the Providence Memorial Hospital in El Paso where she remained in critical condition for several weeks. She had suffered a fracture of the fifth cervical vertebrae—a broken neck.

Ever since the accident Linda had battled long hours to regain the use of fingers, hands, arms and had hoped to someday walk. She remained cheerful and bright-eyed even in her bed-fast condition and her rare courage swept her into a place in the hearts of people all over the area who heard of her plight.

Residents built up a Linda Cole fund that swelled to over $1,500 and Linda confidently told her hundreds of visitors that she would walk again and she would ride a horse. But it was not to be and the months of bed-fastness turned slim "Bitty" Cole into a frail, lean 15-year-old who had difficulty eating.

She complained little of her suffering, of which she had plenty. She made every effort to continue her normal activities and her father carried her to and from meetings of her Camp Fire group and even to athletic contests.

Linda was born in Levelland, June 20, 1942. She moved with her parents to Morton in 1950.

Survivors include the parents and two sisters, Glenda and Brenda, all of Morton.

Two Escape Serious Injury in Auto Mishap Last Night, Near Whiteface

Two persons narrowly escaped serious injury in the county late Wednesday night as the car in which they were riding skidded on the wet, muddy pavement of Highway 125 and rolled over into a telephone pole with terrific impact.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fly of Lubbock, she is the daughter of the C. G. Nesbitts of Morton, were driving around and had planned to come to Morton when the accident occurred.

The couple were driving on the highway, 5 miles west of Whiteface when suddenly Mrs. Fly, who was driving hit a soft shoulder. The car skidded sideways and went into a roll, smacking into a telephone pole and continuing to roll over again.

Actual injuries were very slight. The car in which the pair were riding was a 1933 Plymouth.

The force of the impact demolished the car, according to Sheriff Hazel Hancock who helped investigate the mishap. The time of the mishap was placed at 10:30 by Night Patrolman Marvin Ray who alerted other officers.

Hancock said the top of the car was nearly severed. He said it was fortunate indeed that anyone was able to crawl away from the wreck.

Rushed to the hospital by a Singleton ambulance, Mrs. Fly was believed to have suffered one or two cracked ribs, but otherwise she had no cuts or bruises.

Mr. Fly had a deep cut on his leg and one cut on his head. She was hospitalized and he was treated and released.

Injured In Mishap In Nebraska

The condition of Mrs. Maude Wilson of Elm Creek, Nebraska, the mother of Mrs. Bill Harris of Morton was reported "not so good" yesterday as she failed to respond to treatments for injuries she sustained in a bad car accident in Nebraska a week or so ago.

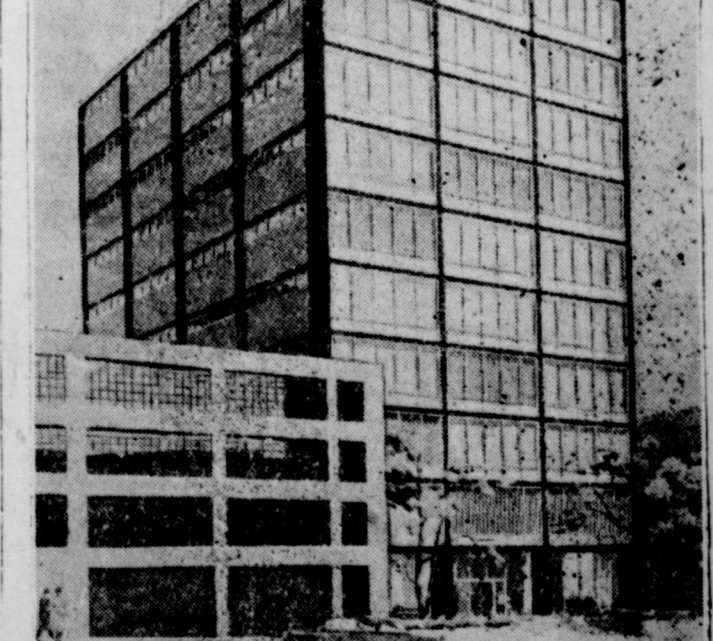

Six persons were injured in the mishap and the two cars involved were demolished. At first Mrs. Wilson, who has visited Morton several times, was thought to be doing okay, but Wednesday doctors said she was not responding well.

OUT OF SURGERY

Mrs. Bob Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrison of Morton, underwent surgery in the Cochran County Hospital Wednesday morning. Early Thursday morning, as the Tribune went to press, she had not come out of the anesthetic.

Junior High Principal, Elmo Smith was especially enthusiastic in hopes that most of the patrons who visit the school will stop by the Junior High building.

Principal Jerry Barton of the grade school also invited parents reminding them that especially in the lower grades it would be nice for parents to drop by during class hours and sit in part of the days teachings.

Last year's evening open house was an outstanding success and it of the educators said it was the biggest turnout of its type they had ever seen.

Morton Indians Roll Over Springlake 34-6

(229 NOTE) This story reprinted from our Dollar Day paper in the interest of our 300 or more out of the seven readers who get the Tribune regularly but are not on the Dollar Day Special mailing list and who have an doubt been kept up with the progress of the Morton

Indians previous game. The Morton Indians wrapped up their seventh victory of the season and their third straight conference win in a hurry, Friday night rolling up a decisive 34 to 6 halftime advantage over Springlake and then looking extremely sluggish in a scoreless second half. The Indians rolled to their best offensive effort of the season in the first half as the passing of quarter back Jackie Neal Brown reached a high degree of effectiveness. But with the game wrapped up the Morton team let down considerably in the second half and the visitors won the marbles for the second half of play. The Wolves also scored a second half touchdown on a fine 46 yard run but it was nullified by a penalty. Morton marched to three first downs and 71 yards the first time they had the pigskin and it was Eddie Thompson who skirted left end for the final yard and the score. Ed Dewbre's wobbly kick skidded over the center of the bar for a 7-0 count.

Recovered the ball on the two. Seaney it was who got the honor of legging the final two yards for the TD. His kick for the point was blocked and it was 27 to 6 with 6:03 left to play in the half.

Morton had one more drive left before the half. After an unsuccessful fourth down attempt by Springlake, Morton took over on the Wolverines 45 yard line with four minutes to play. Jackie Brown tossed a 29 yard aerial to Freddie Thompson who was hauled down on the 15. Willingham got a first down on the six and three plays later it was Seaney who burst over from the two for the final score. Seaney's kick was straight as an arrow.

Dewbre recovered a fumble to give the Indians one more chance with 44 seconds left to play in the first half. Brown tried two passes, completing one to Seaney for 11 yards as the half ended. The first half was marked by several vicious body blocks and obviously the Morton boys were instructed to be careful the second half. They haven't enough men to be able to afford a bad injury to one or two key men. The result of this let up was lethargic. The Indians looked sluggish the entire second half, failing to block as the

Here it was that the Indians got their only shock of the game. After the kickoff and one play, fullback Richard Moore, on a quick opener, spurted through the Indian line and was gone quickly for a 67 yard touchdown romp. The Wolverines pulled big 250 lb. Keith Leannart out of the line to the fullback position to attempt a PAT but he was racked up one the one yard line. Morton took the kickoff to their own 42 and rolled up three first downs and had the ball on the 2 yard line when the quarter ended. One the first play of the second quarter, Butch Nairn took a handoff for the score and this time it was Seaney who booted the PAT. After holding Springlake, the Indians took over on their own 29 yard line and took one minute and 27 seconds to run four plays for the touchdown. Eddie Thompson swung wide around left end for 15 yards and a first down. Brown then found Seaney open up the middle and threw a 30 yard aerial. The little halfback scooted 11 more yards for a 41 yard overall gain. Eddie Thompson then circled the other end for 22 yards and fumbled as he came to the goal line. He

Civil Defense Man Rescues Drowning Boy, 3, from Ditch

A three-year-old boy in Waterbury, Conn., was saved recently from drowning by the training and quick action of a civil defense worker. Richard Lawson, a Waterbury civil defense worker, spotted young George McLean as he tumbled while playing into a water-filled seven-foot-deep sewer excavation. Aided by a friend, Lawson fished the boy out of the ditch and then applied artificial respiration for 10 minutes before he responded to treatment. In addition to first aid training, Lawson also has taken the basic civil defense rescue training course.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

Gov. Price Daniel's legislative program is on the way to being completed with additions and changes and there.

The House passed a bill differing quite a bit from the governor's measure, but the measure the governor recommended.

Gov. Daniel asked for a state planning division with an appropriation of $1,024,000. He asked for state authority to regulate water storage in federal waters.

The House Bill was the same as the governor's provision. Appropriation was reduced to about $1,000,000.

The appropriation to the state planning division was approved and the proposed new authority to do research, to formulate an overall plan for water conservation storage, and other things, but only if they were approved by the Legislature.

When the members tried to insert an amendment that would allow landowners to use water from small tanks for irrigation. Present law allows water to be used for domestic purposes only except with a special permit.

There was a city vs. farm battle about the water that has developed over water programming efforts. Amendment was added to the House.

LOBBY PROPOSALS — After all the bills, both House and Senate, the lobby bills looked pretty good. Both would require registration and lobbyists and reports on how much they spend to influence legislation (over $50 in the Senate and over $25 in the House bill). Neither would require details on how the money was spent.

A second substitute measure in the House would make the lawmakers responsible for reporting money spent on them by lobbyists.

SECRET STUDY PROPOSED — Members of the crime study commission were dismayed at the fact it took in the House.

pected to be faced with a deficit and the necessity of putting new taxes on someone.

But commission members emphasized they would present no recommendations for new taxes, only facts on current one.

EARLY END — An early freeze caused a sharp halt in crop growth for about half the state. It damaged some sorghum fields, reports U.S.D.A., and hit all areas which still had late cotton crops to be harvested. Other areas reported raised maize and damaged grazing.

Freeze was not mentioned in the Panhandle said USDA, but it came unusually early for many of the south central counties.

AT IT AGAIN — For the third time in a row, a new Travis County grand jury has set to work with the charge to discover any possible misconduct by state officials. Gov. Price Daniel urged no investigation. "Wild and unwarranted charges do great harm," he said, "and the makers should be given opportunity to put up or shut up."

Judge Mace Thurman echoed this view at the swearing-in session. Any citizen with information on malfeasance in office has not only the right, but an obligation to go to the grand jury, he said. Object to indict the guilty and clear the innocent of charges from "insinuation or rumor."

PRISON EDUCATOR HONORED — Some 100 Texas notables attended an Austin luncheon honoring Dr. George Beto, credited with giving Texas the nation's first school behind bars.

Dr. Beto, a member of the Board of Corrections, is given chief credit for establishing a program, when by men in state prison can complete a high school education. Some 188 have received diplomas.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers, who appointed Beto to the board, served as master-of-ceremonies for the luncheon. Governor Daniel also joined in the tribute. Beto is president of Concordia Lutheran College in Austin.

SHORT SNORTS — State Health Department sounded a rather note of caution to fall hunters. Gun accidents killed 168 Texans last year. Department suggests hunters study firearm safety rules, go easy on drinking and avoid getting excited.

After study directors of the State Bar of Texas said they didn't agree with the American Bar Association canon prohibiting photographic coverage in courtrooms. Control should be with the individual trial judge, they said.

Marco Stewart, University of Texas and Princeton University graduate, has been appointed to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's staff.

MISS 1957 CHRISTMAS SEAL—Carolyn Calvert of Austin, Miss Texas of 1957, aids her mother, Mrs. Robert W. Calvert, in preparing Christmas Seals for mailing over Texas. Mrs. Calvert is a long-time member of the board of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, and she and her daughter have spent many pre-Christmas seasons working with Christmas Seals. Miss Calvert is the first named Miss Christmas Seal of Texas, adding another title to her previously acquired Miss Texas title.

430 MILLION CHRISTMAS SEALS BEING MAILED BY TB GROUP

AUSTIN, NOV 10 — Texas' increasing population is reflected in the 430 million Christmas Seals which are being mailed for mailing in the State Friday.

This is the greatest number of seals mailed in Texas in the 50 years tuberculosis associations have been organized here.

What, exactly, do you buy when you buy Christmas Seals?

You buy a share in the fight to curtail the dread disease of Tuberculosis. You buy a share in the vigilance necessary to keep this disease from each home in each home town.

True, you can purchase less expensive seals or your Christmas cards and packages, but they do not bear the magic message that the fight against TB continues, and that you are a part of that fight.

You buy research when you buy the seals, research which has already resulted in the wonder drugs which are helping curtail this illness. None of these drugs, unfortunately, works for all patients, and none is an absolute cure. Further research, it is hoped, might someday accomplish these aims.

It is estimated that about one-third of all the people in the U. S. have TB germs in their bodies. Not all of them will develop active cases of the disease, but some of them will break down. In the U. S. last year 15,000 died of TB. But many more are spending their lives as chronic invalids as a result of this off-recurring illness.

Of your Christmas Seal dollar, six cents goes to the National Tuberculosis Association which supports year-around research. The remaining 94 cents stays in Texas,

Critics Hit At Relaxing of Safety Check

Relaxing of standards for testing brakes on Texas motor vehicles "makes a mockery" of the State's Automobile Inspection Law, the Highway Safety Council has charged in a letter to the Chairman of the Public Safety Commission.

Executive Director G. C. Morris, of the 1,000-member Highway Safety Council, protested the Commission recent ordering of cancelling the directive that authorized inspection stations should "pull wheels" to inspect brake linings, condition of drums, and fluid level on hydraulic systems.

"It is a recognizable fact that you cannot check brakes by road test only," Morris told Dyche. "As a result of the action taken by your Commission, the inspection of brakes becomes a farce because brakes can now be tightened sufficiently to pass inspection when there is little, if any, brake lining."

Morris disputed the Commission contention that there is no way to check the adequacy of brake linings and said that there are methods by which this can be made "an in-form and not left to chance."

"Under your decision," Morris wrote, "a braking system could be approved which did not have any fluid in it and such a condition makes a mockery of the purpose of the law."

Morris expressed the desire that the Highway Safety Council be given an opportunity to present "the side of safety" to the Commission on this decision.

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. Four air pillows literally soak up the bumps! And Ford's new air suspension relieves the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling, now. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! Come in and try it!

Come in today... Action Test America's only world-proved car!

BACK FROM DESPAIR

Cameron Rebuilding Better Community on Ruins of Old

Cameron is coming back. The town which felt the brunt of Hurricane Audrey's assault on the southwestern Louisiana coastline last June is rebuilding rapidly after being nearly leveled.

CAMERON IS COMING BACK

in many ways—through disaster funds administered by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, and through $3,000,000 from the Red Cross and gifts from many parts of the nation, including even donations of labor by contractors and construction unions from nearby Texas.

Cameron is also coming back through its own efforts. What is one of the nation's first disaster planning commissions has been set up there. It will oversee the rebuilding of most of Cameron within nine months, allocating gifts and other resources as it sees fit.

In time, it should be a better town than it was. In the past, Cameron and its neighboring communities, Creole and Grand Chenier, each had a tiny town. Now they will have a new Cameron Memorial Hospital, built with the help of Federal funds, the American Legion, and others. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will build a public library, which the town has never had.

Even 34 college students, whose resources were wiped out by the hurricane, will be able to continue in school through help received from the Louisiana Department of Education.

He Built a Dream into World's No. 1 Airline

No Interest in Aviation he once Claimed Men who make America great

By LOUIS JAMES

The biggest airline in the world—American Airlines—has another name. It is, simply, "Smith". To be more specific—C. R. Smith.

Cyrus Rowlett Smith, a 58-year old, six-foot-one drawing Texan, who helped hatch, nurse and feed a couple of old biplanes into today's giant commercial airline, is also known in the airplane business as "Mr. American Airlines."

Thirty years ago, when his boss in Dallas (he was an accountant then) ordered him to take charge of the books of a nearly defunct bobcat airmail line (assets: two battered crates) Smith protested:

"I'm not interested in aviation," he cried, in the understatement of the Century.

"Look 'CR,' you go ahead and take over," said the insistent boss. "If you don't like it we'll get someone else."

And did he like it?

An energetic traveler

A few weeks later he learned how to fly and has been flying—one way or another—ever since.

He once was American's best customer, logging more than 100,000 air miles annually. He still spends much of his time on airplanes, but the tremendous growth of his company forces him to stay closer to his New York office.

He doesn't own or drive a car. When off on a flying visit, "CR" travels light, except for three necessities—a hunting rifle, a fishing rod and a copy of the Wall Street Journal.

"CR" is a Texan who never left the West. His New York apartment (he averages only three dinners there a month) looks like a museum of the Southwest. Furniture is of cactus wood, drapes of "chaps" leather; buffalo heads and bleached cattle skulls line the walls while Navajo and bear rugs hug the floor near the adobe fireplace.

Started to work at 9

Smith was born amid meager circumstances in Amarillo, the eldest of seven children. At 9 he went to work and has been at it ever since—and that includes working his way through college. Leaving his alma mater, he became an accountant and that is how in 1928 he happened to take over the books of the bush league Texas Air Transport.

In 1930, when the Aviation Corporation swallowed up the line, "CR" had proved himself

Made Major General in World War

such an organizer he was placed in charge of the southern wing of American Airways.

It was Smith who first demonstrated that passenger service was the future of the airline business. In 1934, he was made president of the almost bankrupt line which he reorganized, caajoled and pushed out of the red with the aid of the famous DC-3.

During the last war, "CR" was called to Washington by Air Chief General Arnold to conceive the Air Transport Command. By war's end, he wore the stars of a major general.

When daring and vision are needed, "CR" is usually there "fustest with the mostest", primarily because he loves air travel and has an abounding vision of its future.

Air travel only beginning

"Air passenger transport business is in vigorous shape and will grow bigger in five years," he promises. "Jets and propjets will replace present planes, and will cut the time in half for the long-distance non-stop runs."

Some day, while flying in an American Airlines plane, you may strike up a conversation with a large, loose-boned man with a slow drawl who will offer his hand and say:

"I'm C. R. Smith, president of this airline. Are you havin' a good time?" You'll probably shake your head in an affirmative.

Then he will go to his seat, pull out his newspaper or a paperback detective yarn, sit back and relax.

One of the features of the convention will be the finals of the TFB queen contest scheduled Monday evening at 7:30 in the Crystal Ballroom of the Baker Hotel.

The Tuesday morning session (beginning of the convention proper) will feature an annual report by TFB Secretary-Treasurer Loy D. Barbour, Iowa Park; and the annual address by TFB President J. Walter Hammond, Tye, Rowlett.

District caucuses of voting will be held at 4 p.m. that day to nominate directors. Williams will be banquet speaker that evening. A dance will be held after the banquet.

Proposed New Home Of Texas Tech's Red Raider Grid Teams

Mahon Disturbed Over New Method Of Determining Cotton Allotments

Rep. George Mahon of the 19th District said this week he was greatly disturbed over a proposal to change the method of determining cotton allotments in Texas which is now pending before officials of the Department of Agriculture.

Mahon said in a statement from California, where he is currently on an emergency inspection tour of the nation's missile program in his capacity as Chairman of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, that he had been alerted to the proposal about two weeks ago.

"I appealed over the telephone to USDA officials in Washington to eliminate the proposals which would be discriminatory toward West Texas cotton growers," Mahon said. "I have wired officials in Washington and Texas once again, urging that the whole matter be carefully reviewed and that the history basis of allotment be followed. This would give West Texas its equitable share of cotton acreage allotments to the state."

Mahon explained the history basis, if followed by the State ASC Committee, would be helpful to West Texas by reason of the fact many East Texas farmers have not been planting their cotton acreage allotments.

"I had asked Washington officials to hold the acreage reserve figure for the 1958 crop year to 2 per cent and under no circumstances to allow it to be more than 3 per cent," Mahon said. "The pending proposal would provide for a reserve of about 7 per cent and would 'freeze' each county's 1958 cotton allotment at not less than 98 1/2 per cent of the 1957 allotment."

"I shall continue to keep in close touch with the situation," Mahon said, "and I will do everything in my power to prevent West Texas cotton farmers from being saddled with such an unfair distribution of allotments for the 1958 crop. I would like to urge W. Texas farmers and farm organizations to continue to make their views known to USDA officials, and I would be pleased to have the benefit of their views and suggestions at anytime," Mahon added.

The West Texas Congressman is in the midst of a nationwide tour designed to iron out difficulties in the lagging US missile program and keep the country abreast of Russian scientific developments. Highlight of the tour will be a meeting Nov. 20 at the Pentagon in Washington with Defense Secretary McElroy and others.

BETTER SCHOOLS -- AND YOU

by HENRY TOY, Jr., President National Citizens Council for Better Schools

WHAT MAKES A SCHOOL "GOOD"?

Americans just don't stay in one place. I've moved four times since I've been married and I'll bet I'm not permanently settled yet. We don't just move from one house to another in the same town.

either. Like many Americans who move, we change states as well as houses.

This mobility of our population creates problems for the schools and for the parents of school children. Here's just one problem the schools face. Many of the school districts today that need classrooms, teachers, textbooks—just about everything—didn't even exist a few years ago. They're new housing developments in suburban areas and nobody anticipated how many children would be crowding into schools.

There's the classic case of an enormous housing development put up for G.I.'s after World War II. Thousands of houses were built and everything was thought of by the engineers. They made space for a community swimming pool, super markets, churches, police stations, fire house. The only thing they left out of the blueprints were schools. Those G.I.'s were young married men and they bought the houses, moving in with their wives and kids. It was years before they got a regular school where the children could go full time.

Parents who have to move for one reason or another write us and ask whether the schools are good in the communities they're going to. This is an awfully hard question to answer with a yes or no. But there are some yardsticks you can use to measure a good school.

Find out how many teachers a school has for how many students. Find out if the students are going to school full-time or if they have to go on half-day sessions. Find out what courses are offered. Find out, if you can, how much of an interest the community takes in its schools. If it's an alive community that recognizes the importance of its schools, chances are your child will get a better education there.

But there's another side to this question of a moving population. People are moving into communities as well as out of them. Are your schools the kind that attract new people?

A few years ago, we asked major corporations what they looked for in deciding where to build a plant. To a man, these executives told us that one of the first things they found out was how good the schools were.

A community that lets its schools go to pot is one that's keeping new blood and new industry out of town. No wonder so many Chambers of Commerce and other local businessmen are getting behind programs to improve their local schools.

If you'd like information on how you can help improve your schools, drop me a postcard. Just send it to Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, New York 16, New York, and I'll let you know what other communities are doing.

COTTON SEED FOR 1958 PLANTING MAY BE SCARCE.
Good planting seed with high germination may be scarce next spring. If you are to save some of your own seed for planting in 1958, you should harvest it when dry—and seed is not soft. This is not enough if a wet winter prevails—you should carefully store your planting seed. This may be one season when planting seed even with a low moisture content cannot be placed in storage and forgotten about until next spring. Good seed is low in free fatty acid content, & if stored in bulk should contain less than 12 per cent moisture. Small quantities of seed should be turned and sacked.

To reduce weight you must eat less (fewer calories) and when we do, we may feel the uncomfortable, almost painful pangs of hunger. We may also become nervous and irritable because of the lack of sufficient vitamins and minerals in a restricted diet. With Kessamin Tablets, Formula #14, and the Kessamin Reducing Plan this can never happen!

SEE WHAT THE KESSAMIN REDUCING PLAN OFFERS!

1. A reducing diet (The Kessamin Reducing Plan) prepared by a physician and a dietitian to give best possible diet.
2. Vitamins to prevent deficiencies which cause nervousness, irritability and that tired, dragged-out feeling. Also supplemental minerals and iron to help prevent nutritional anemia.
3. Vitamins plus the built-in Carbonyl Hydrochloride, to stimulate normal normal elimination.

Large quantities of bulk seed should be cured by aeration to maintain quality. A portable fan and duck system can be used to draw air through the seed—on sun shiny days. 13 1/2 per cent moisture in cotton seed is the critical point beyond which storage may quickly become disastrous. Stored bulk seed should have moisture content down to 10 or not over 11 per cent.

Have a germination test run on your seed before planting. Eighty percent or better test is very good. The seed for germination test should be stored for 30 days minimum before testing, as this is the normal test period for freshly ginned seed.

All sections of the cotton belt are hit by wet spells this harvest season and the eastern section is worse than West Texas area; so good seed will likely be scarce for next year; and seed from this area could bring a premium by ginning your good varieties in blocks. Save and identify these seed, advises County Agent Homer E. Thompson.

The speakers will cover such subjects on the first day of the conference as, "Significance of Irrigation on a Changing Texas Agriculture," "Texas Water Supplies for Irrigation," "Soil, Water and Plant Relationship Under Irrigation," "Movement of Irrigation Water Through the Soil Profile," "Pumps for Irrigation," and "Power Units for Irrigation."

The first three speakers on Friday morning will discuss subjects dealing with sprinkler irrigation and the last two will discuss subjects relating to efficient surface irrigation. The final afternoon session will feature the economic side, including the financing of irrigation farm-

BLACKEYED PEAS

J. E. Culpepper, "the Blackeyed Pea King," Mr. Culpepper deep broke his land last winter where he grew certified California blackeyed peas this year. Mind you this land was not pre-watered, but the peas were watered twice after planting.

Mr. Culpepper is now known as the king blackeyed pea grower because he harvested over 1700 lbs. of dry blackeyed peas per acre. He grew 21 acres. There was no fertilizer used, but cotton burrs were pu on part of the 21 acres during winter. Mr. Culpepper says the peas made the same on land where no burrs were applied as where there were burrs applied.

Here is what he did—he planted 21 acres of certified California Blackeye peas at the rate of 40 lbs. per acre on July 3, 1957. Watered the crop twice, and had the peas harvested and delivered by October 17, 1957. The 21 acres harvested 36,000 pounds of peas. A hauler followed the combine doing the harvesting and 770 bales were produced from the pea vines.

The land is now in better condition to produce another cash crop next year whether it be cotton or grain sorghum said Mr. Culpepper. Besides the value of the crop of peas this year is next to cotton in money value. He thinks that he will continue the production of black-eyed peas advises the County Agent Homer E. Thompson. It will be interesting to check the cotton crop following peas for yield as compared where no peas were grown next year.

CIVIL SUIT AGAINST MORTON SCHOOLS IS DISMISSED BY DISTRICT JUDGE AFTER DISMISSAL MOTION BY LAWYERS FOR THE PLAINTIFF

(ED NOTE: This story reprinted from our Dollar Day paper in the interest of our 300 or more out of the area readers who get the Tribune regularly but are not on the Dollar Day Special mailing list and who have no doubt been kept up with the progress of the suit up to the trial which was set for last week.

The much-discussed civil suit brought by Fred Stockdale and wife Alice against the Morton Independent School District, ended abruptly in dismissal, Thursday morning, a few minutes after it was scheduled to get underway.

But the dismissal order had nothing to do with the request for summary judgment which had been granted by the court.

The dismissal order was issued by Judge Victor H. Lindsey of the 72nd District Court after a motion for dismissal was filed by the Plaintiff.

In the motion for dismissal, attorney Earl Allison, of the firm of Allison and Allison, Levelland, representing Fred Stockdale and wife Alice, said their decision to ask for dismissal was prompted by a desire to have portions of the school policy which can not be condoned, corrected by the best method.

It went on to say that many patrons of the school had asked the suit be pushed in order to straighten out these methods, but claimed to be desirous of saving the school "unjustified expenses" that would be incurred if the case were carried further.

Then it recommended these affairs could be straightened out by the patrons' fundamental right method, in the election of school trustees.

Judge Lindsey granted the dismissal and adjourned the District Court for Criminal Cases and Wednesday for Criminal Cases and had been held over an additional day, Thursday, in case the civil suit was tried.

The Plaintiff also agreed to pay the court costs and in Judge Lindsey's order it decreed the Plaintiff would pay the expenses of the proceeding, thus far.

So ended the Court Discussion of the suit filed against the Morton School District when the Board failed to offer a teaching contract to Mrs. Fred Stockdale for the current school year. While the Plaintiff paid the court costs — which up to the moment of dismissal figured "around $15" according to Tom Clinton, lawyer for the school — the school district was still out the expenses for hiring a lawyer to defend them ($500). And the taxpayers of Cochran County were "out" approximately $185 in Jury fees paid to the petit jurors who had to stand by, but were never used.

One outlet would remain open for the schools to get their money back. They could sue for damages (the cost of their lawyer) — if they wished to be involved in further suit.

Although the Plaintiff, through its lawyers, had offered an out-of-court settlement, and the defendant had made a counter offer, no agreement of any kind was reached.

And the two points of law that had never been previously settled will remain for the time being, unanswered.

(1) Is the policy manual, drawn up individually by most schools and soon to be mandatory for all schools in Texas, a part of the teacher contract?

(2) And, are the policies set out in the manual, rules which the school board itself cannot change, or what it considers due cause?

Almost all members of the School Board, and those connected with the school, were glad to see the suit dismissed. Though they failed to give one inch in their original decision, they had expressed concern over the fact that the schools should have to go to court to preserve their rights.

The amount of money saving to the school district by the dismissal would have depended on whether or not the decision was appealed. The School District would have had to pay additional lawyer fees if the case were appealed by either side, and the more times it was appealed, the greater would have been the court cost incurred. The loser would have had to pay these costs which could have amounted to a considerable sum. As it was, the only court costs, were the filing fees, preliminary to the case.

The request for dismissal also prevented Judge Lindsey from having to make a ruling on a request for summary judgment by the defendant in which they claimed there was, in fact, no case.

Order for Suit Dismissal

Here is Judge Lindsey's Order for Dismissal, in which is included most of the text for the Plaintiffs plea for dismissal.

IN THE 72ND JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT of COCHRAN COUNTY, TEXAS

Civil Action File No. 1155

ORDER OF DISMISSAL

On this the 31st day of October,

1957, came on to be heard the above entitled and numbered cause, wherein Alice Stockdale and husband, Fred Stockdale are Plaintiff and Morton Independent School District is Defendant, and came the parties by their respective attorneys and upon the call of the case, the Plaintiff made and presented to the Court the following motion to dismiss said cause:

"Plaintiff respectfully makes and presents this motion for dismissal and as grounds therefor would show to the Court the following:

"Although some portions of the policies of the present administration of the Morton Independent School District can not be condoned, the best method of correction must be considered. Many of the patrons have urged this action as the proper step for correction, but the continued prosecution of this action would force an unjustified expenditure of the common funds of the Patrons of the school.

"THEREFORE, Plaintiff prays that this action be dismissed in order that the patrons of the school may have the opportunity of pursuing their fundamental right in directing their system through the election of

Edward Westbrook Promoted to Cpl. In Marine Corps

Edward E. Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Westbrook of Star Route 2, Morton, Texas, has been promoted to Corporal in the United States Marine Corps recently. It was revealed here this week.

Cpl. Westbrook joined the Marine Corps July 12, 1956 and has been stationed at Ft. Torro, Marine Air Base, Santa Ana, California since last November when he completed his basic training at Camp Pendleton.

Cpl. Westbrook is in personnel work with the Corps.

He is a 1956 graduate of White House High School.

PONTIAC'S PERENNIAL FAVORITE is this big, luxurious and exquisitely styled Star Chief four-door Catalina designed to make the heart of every motorist beat fast. Solidly built on a 124-inch wheelbase, the Star Chief Catalina is synonymous with big car styling and comfort, and is available in four models: two and four-door Catalinas, a four-door, slim pillar sedan and a four-door Custom Safari station wagon. Among the fine features of this series is the big "Tempest 395" V-8 engine and "prestige" interior of glamorous leather and fabric.

PONTIAC CELEBRATES 50TH YEAR, FRIDAY, 8TH, WITH PUBLIC VIEWING OF THEIR 1958 MODELS

Sixteen all-new models in four series—headed by a "dream car" series of two family sports-type cars—are presented by Pontiac in 1958. General Motors' Golden Jubilee year.

A new body, new chassis, new "Tempest 395" V-8 engine, new optional equipment and a new Bonneville series of family size "dream cars" mark what the division calls "the boldest advance in 50 years."

These bold new cars are both a tribute to GM's Golden Jubilee, and our own 50th Anniversary. S. E. Knudsen, GM Vice President and General Manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said in announcing the new cars.

"Fifty years ago America's pioneer motorists welcomed the new Oakland, predecessor car to Pontiac. But outside of having wheels, engine and a body of sorts, the 1908 Oakland bore no resemblance to the sleek 1958 Pontiacs we will present in our dealers' showrooms on November 8th. These cars are longer, longer, wider and combine high performance and comfort with high style and luxurious interiors." Knudsen said.

In addition to the top-of-the-line Bonneville convertible and sport coupe, Pontiac offers other new innovations for '58. Among them are a convertible in the lowest priced Chieftan line, air-ride suspension as an option on all models, along with improved fuel injection, introduced by Pontiac last year.

The new "Tempest 395" V-8 engine is bigger than ever, with displacement increased from 347 to 370 cubic inches, and designed to deliver power where most needed—in the traffic range.

Pontiac engineers list 88 new features in the 1958 models and 135 separate safety features.

Striking "New Direction" styling accentuates the car's longer, lower, wider look. The low, horizontal grille is topped by dual twin headlamps and rises above the heavy bumper, which incorporates massive parking and signal lamps. A new gold, rectangular crest featuring a "V" on a grooved background above the name, PONTIAC, in block-style lettering, is positioned in the left side of the grille. Delta wing ornaments ride atop each front fender with twin wing-splints continuing along the fender.

The missile-type side moldings sweep back to conceal flares in the rear fender and frame distinctive series markings. The Bonneville has, in addition, four simulated front fender louvers.

From the rear the 1958 Pontiacs will be immediately recognizable by dual twin tail lamps above oval chromed, back-up lamp posts, and the simply styled trunk lid bears chrome handles on each side of the superbly fashioned name plate.

In addition to the five-passenger Bonneville and convertible and the sport coupe, Pontiac has for 1958, the Star Chief series consisting of two and four-door Catalinas, a four-door sedan with slim center pillar, and a custom Safari station wagon. The Super Chief line includes two and four-door Catalinas and a slim pillar four-door sedan. The Chieftan series is led by the convertible, new in this line; two and four-door Catalinas two- and four-door slim pillar sedans, and a two-seat and a three-seat, four-door station wagon.

A total of 21 solid colors and 56 recommended two-tone paint combinations are offered, some in the new acrylic lacquers, while interiors are color-matched in fabric and leather.

On 122 inch and 124 inch wheelbases, the new Pontiacs are as much as 4.5 inches lower in height, 2.2 inches wider and as much as 8.7 inches longer, overall. Passenger leg room has been increased by 4.5 inches, ample head room is retained, and luggage space is enlarged.

A new sculptured instrument panel has key instruments grouped before the driver for quick, safe reading through the deeply recessed, two-spoke steering wheel. A non-glare instrument panel paint protects against glare.

Leading an exceptional parade of optional equipment for the new cars is air-ride suspension, new for passenger cars in the middle price range, which gives an ever-level ride regardless of load or road conditions. Pontiac's fuel injection, introduced last year, has been improved and tailored for the new, bigger engine. Super Hydra-Matic transmission, power brakes, power steering, power operated windows, four-way power seat with a new "memo-matic" control device, which returns it to a pre-selected setting, are other extras, as is a new "safeguard" speedometer, which buzzes when a set speed is exceeded; a new "soft-track" differential, which eliminates rear wheel slip; a new split front seat back lock to prevent seat tilt on sudden stops; a new door lock warning lamp, and a new combination car and portable transistorized radio.

Notable too, is the availability of radio rear seat speakers on convertibles as well as station wagons, a special door option on Chieftan models and a new adjustable inside sun visor. Clearly identified accessory controls are conveniently arranged on the instrument panel within easy reach.

This Week in AUSTIN by Senator Preston Smith

Many of the state's newspapers are a little confused over a recent House Bill which makes secret meetings mandatory for a committee studying ways to combat ever increasing crime in the state.

Newsmen cannot understand, one put it, why lawmakers in the midst of a legislative "revival to restore public confidence" should resort to secrecy.

"Secrecy in government always carries with it the connotation of smoke-filled rooms, double-dealing and corruption," a newsmen said.

The measure in question, HB 5, authorizes a committee "Which shall have the authority to make full and complete studies, investigation recommendations & reports to the governor and the legislature on ways and means to improve law enforcement and crime prevention, including recommendations for improvements in the penal code and code of criminal procedure." The bill specifically provides that the "committee shall not investigate any specific law violation alleged against any individual person."

These two provisions definitely define the scope of the law enforcement study committee, confining it to the purpose for which it is being created: to determine why Crime in Texas is on the increase, why the prison population has grown far in excess of the ratio to normal population growth and seeking to offer suggestions for crime prevention.

This study, if House wishes (107 to 0) are followed, must be conducted in executive session, behind closed doors, with none to see or hear, until an official report can be made to a future legislature for scrutiny. The House rejected any provision that would allow such a study committee to require persons testifying before it to take an oath. Therefore, according to the argument of Rep. Harold G. Kennedy, a politician could go before the committee, fabricate any kind of story without fear of penalty of perjury, and conduct a smear campaign.

This a House Bill, favored overwhelmingly, is creating some problems in the field of public confidence. Just how the whole matter will turn out is anybody's guess.

Morton Man In Red Cross 1st Aid Instructor's Course

One Morton man is among the volunteer Red Cross first aid instructors from 14 counties who are preparing for an intensive first aid training program in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Under the direction of H. H. Gilliam, Red Cross safety service representative from St. Louis, Mo., 54 men and women are taking a refresher course in first aid instruction with 18 persons enrolled in the original instructor training. Elzie H. Browne, Highway Superintendent from Morton is the local enrollee. Counties represented by the group include Lubbock, Hockley, Hale, Terry, Dickens, Yoakum, Swisher, Castro, Lynn, Ochsman, Gaines, Crosby, Floyd, and Lamb.

The Lubbock Public School System has 24 enrolled; the State Highway Department is represented by 16 persons; and the Highway Patrol has four men in the class.

Their aim is to make Red Cross first aid training available in 18 towns and in 18 industrial and service organizations in an area extending from south of Lubbock to north of Plainview.
