Eye Injured
In Mishap
While Fishing

S. C. (Sam) Kelly, Jr., was reported "doing better" Wednesday in a San Angelo Hospital after a fishing accident over the weekend in which a fishing lure was embedded in his eye.

Doctors now say that Sam's eye can be saved but it will take a long time to get well. At first it was thought the sight in the injured eye would be lost.

Sam was fishing with a group of friends Sunday and after a half hour on the lake, one of his companions was preparing to cast a lure. A hook on the lure caught him above the eye and hooked through the lid coming out under the eyeball.

The pupil was not punctured but was scratched. He held the lure in place while he was driven to a hospital and later to the San Angelo Hospital before surgery was performed to remove the hook.

Four stitches were required to close the wound.

Sam was able to go to his father's home today and can come back to the hospital each day for antibiotic treatments.

Kelly is a crop duster by profession and has been a resident of Morton most of his life.

FIRST POLIO CASE OF SEASON
IS REPORTED BY DR. BROWN

Cochran County has its first reported case of polio for 1958 — a three year old Morton girl, Polly Crockett, daughter of Mrs. Ludean Crockett, having been diagnosed as a victim of paralytic polio.

Dr. Dan Brown said Wednesday his diagnosis had been confirmed by a Lubbock doctor and the child has been transferred to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Dr. Brown said Polly had been ill for about a week, and had been treated at Muleshoe before being admitted to the Cochran County Hospital last Thursday, May 15. He said Polly had a slight limp as the only sign of paralysis, but added that she was still running a fever and chances of increased paralysis are greater until the fever has been broken.

He said he had performed a spinal tap on the child and sent it off for analysis. He said she had a slight limp in her left foot.

Polly was the only one of Mrs. Crockett's children who had not received her polio shots, the doctor said.

Men's Spring Club Golf Tournament

Thirty-two men tee off today in their first matches of the annual Morton Men's Spring Tourney of the Morton Country Club.

Winners, runners-up, and consolation winners will all receive trophies in the tourney. The only requirement as to teeing off time is that the final matches will be run off Sunday afternoon starting at about 1:30 p.m.

Here's how they are paired going into the tourney:

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry University of Wisconsin

Some Bloat Preventives

Wherever dairying is a major farm or community enterprise, alfalfa, clover, and other legume forage is considered almost indispensable. Legumes in many of the states are usually mixed with grasses, and there are several good reasons for this combination of crops, whether used for pasture, hay or silage.

There is, of course, the much greater danger from bloat when ruminants like cattle and sheep are grazing on legumes than on grasses. Much research work has been carried on in efforts to reduce or entirely eliminate cases of bloat on pasture. So far there is no practical preventive 100 per cent effective, however, salt-penicillin mixtures tested in the South have shown promise. In Mississippi State College tests involving 3,000 animals on 19 Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana farms the salt-penicillin mixtures effectively controlled bloat. Furthermore, the U. S. Food and Drug Administration has approved the use of specified amounts of penicillin in block salt and mixed feeds as an aid for prevention and control of bloat. The regulation limits feeding to animals on legume pastures.

Here are some management practices proven to be helpful in preventing bloat:

- Mixtures of legumes and grasses such as alfalfa and brome grass or timothy are less apt to cause bloat than are straight legumes.
- Start pasturing during mid-bloom rather than sooner.
- Turn cattle or sheep on legume pasture for the first time on a dry afternoon—a fraction of an hour the first day, longer the second and third days, then keep on pasture day and night except for milking.
- Partly fill up cattle or sheep on hay or silage before turning on legume pasture.

Where bloat actually occurs, these practices have been more or less effective: stand the animal facing uphill. Rub and knead vigorously the bloated part on the left side of the animal. Put a stick in the animal's mouth, tie or rope around back of the neck. Drench cattle with two ounces of raw turpentine or other suitable drench such as a mixture of neocaine spirits of ammonia, one pint mineral oil, and one pint water. Use trocar and cannula as a last resort, or instead a sterilized pocket knife in an emergency area (see habitations or suitable equipment). Your best friend in severe cases of bloat is likely to be a veterinarian.

Question: Can ground alfalfa take the place of wheat bran in a dairy mixture, since both are bulky and have about the same protein content?

Answer: This question has often been raised but the answer is no. The reason is that while bran has ten per cent fiber, alfalfa hay has 28 per cent fiber. More grain; does not make hay any more digestible. Ground alfalfa would therefore not have the same energy or productive value as bran, and if used would call for more grain to be fed to maintain milk production.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

According to reports, percentage-wise, the business slump has hit Canada to a greater degree than the U. S.

This is perhaps natural in view of the fact that so much of the goods sold to the U. S. by Canada have been sold at a price fixed on a basis by a Canadian monopoly. A case in point is the fantastic prices U. S. newspaper publishers must pay for newsprint. As a bulk of this paper comes from Canada, Canada fixes price.

And even though there are complaints across the border of slow business, it is significant no attempt has so far been made to perk up sales through the medium of lower prices.

Thus, it is of great interest to everyone, as everyone is vitally affected by newspapers, that Sen. William Premier, Wisconsin, has introduced a bill in Congress to give the Small Business Administration sufficient funds to set up a pilot test plant on making newsprint out of low grade hardwood from the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan.

Sen. Premier pointed out that in his state alone, almost half of the land, or somewhere over 13 million acres is covered with hardwoods with no other commercial value. The Forest Service has found that this low grade material makes good newsprint.

He also points out that besides building a workable industry and source of employment in these states, success of such a measure would be a most valuable contribution to the business.

MRS. THOMAS C. LYNCH

Nelda Louise Rountree and Thomas C. Lynch Exchange Wedding Vows in Double Ring Rites

In a double ring service performed at the First Missionary Baptist Church of Morton, Saturday, May 17, at 8 p.m., Miss Nelda Louise Rountree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rountree of Rt. 2, Morton, was united in marriage with Thomas C. Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lynch of Morton.

The Rev. Charlie L. Carroll performed the ceremony before an altar-decorated with palms, baskets of white mums and snapdragons set off by candelabra with pink tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was dressed in a ballerina-length white lace gown with net over taffeta and tiers of net ruffles in the back. The fitted bodice had scalloped neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. She wore a nylon tulle veil on a pearl bandeau and she carried pink roses and white stephanotis.

Misses Phyllis Garner and Brenda Brotherton sang "I Love You Truly," "Whither Thou Goest," & "Always," with Miss Gardner at the organ.

Maid of Honor was Miss Carolyn Cook who wore white net and taffeta, in ballerina length, and trimmed with pink roses and white roses.

Serving in the house party were Misses Brenda Brotherton, Darla Brotherton, Betty Keuhler and Phyllis Gardner were in the house party.

Mrs. Lynch wore a lavender sheath dress with matching jacket and white accessories on her wedding trip to Elephant Butte Lake and Cloudercroft. The couple plan to make their home in Morton.

Progressive Din'er Enjoyed by the Intermediate GA's

The patio of the Jim Kidd home was where the Intermediate Girls Auxiliary members of the First Baptist Church met to begin their progressive dinner with mint-pineapple appetizers.

Mrs. Amos Sedgwick presented the first three chapters of their new mission study book, "A Roving Report." They traveled with the author to the fields of mission work in New Mexico and California.

Mrs. S. A. Ramsey served the second course to the girls at her home. The main course was served at the Amos Sedgwick home and it consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, green tossed salad and hot rolls. Mrs. O. B. "Buck" Huckabee took them on an imaginary flight to many states where mission work is being conducted during the three chapters of the book which she reviewed.

The "Roving Report" was concluded with the final two chapters being given by Mrs. Dub Henry at the Truett McCuiston home. Also the fourth and last course was served by Mrs. McCuiston. This was the dessert and was home made ice cream, cake and lime punch.

Those taking part in the progressive dinner were Lauretta McCuiston, Judy Huckabee, Sue Ramsey, Shirley McMaster, Karen Harrison, Joyce Sedgwick, Dwana Henry, Mrs. Jim Kidd, Counselor; Mrs. Amos Sedgwick, Counselor; Mrs. Buck Huckabee, G. By HOMER THOMPSON FERTILIZER DEMONSTRATIONS

A number of farmers are working on fertilizer demonstrations for cotton. These include check rows where no fertilizer was applied & designated rows where varying quantities of fertilizer was applied. The tests require the same treatment of the entire area — records of rainfall to be kept along with other data, plus the harvesting separately of these checked and fertilized plots to determine the increase. Signs will be posted on highways where plots are checked. W. L. Foust, J. D. Hawthorne and C. A. Moore are a few who have established fertilizer demonstrations for cotton.

PREVENT SOIL COMPACTION

Observation — Cotton planted too early, when soil temperature indicates ground too cold. Most farmers have wasted seed and moisture. Few will get good stands of cotton and then slow in growing off. The temptation to plant cotton too early is serious, but the greatest temptation is to plant when the soil is too wet. Compaction of the soil to a concrete-like consistency is an increasingly common farm problem and one which is well worth avoiding. Wet plowing loses moisture, shuts air off, rots plants or seed in ground, and impairs future growth of intended crop.

Too, constant use of heavy machinery in farming operations tends to pack the soil into unproductive hardpans, or to form hard layers of soil just below the plow depth, hereby reducing the soils ability to absorb water at the surface and decreases permeation of moisture into the lower levels. Yes, too, normal root development of crops is restricted.

Prevent this from happening by keeping machines and plows off of wet soil.

Here's our BIG CHALLENGE:

IF YOU CAN FIND ANOTHER PICKUP THAT GIVES YOU SO MUCH FOR YOUR MONEY— BUY IT!

Go ahead—shop around. Take a long, hard look at what you get for what you pay for any other pickup in town.

Then—come in and give the GMC the same kind of going over. Check its 22 full-value features—features that would cost you plenty of dollars extra in other trucks. They're all standard equipment in a GMC.

How important are these features? One is a fast-ratio axle for overdrive's economy—without its cost. Another is the heaviest front cross-member of any pickup. Still another's the heaviest rear axle.

These are things that mean greater haul-ability—lower running costs—longer truck-life. Yet remember—a GMC pickup is priced right down with the lowest.

But come in and check for yourself. Let the FREE Truck E-Value-ator show you your biggest buy in trucks.

Don't put it off. Accept GMC's Big Challenge—today!

FREE! It's new—and yours FREE for the asking! It's the Truck E-Value-ator, a handy calculator that lets you simply dial the features you should expect to get in any pickup truck you buy. Take the gamble out of truck buying! Get your Truck E-Value-ator at your GMC dealer's today!

General Tire Announces Safety Contest

A nation-wide grass roots campaign to encourage more careful driving and to help combat highway accidents particularly during vacation holiday traveling has been announced by William O'Neil, president of The General Tire and Rubber company and Carlton Luper of the Luper Tire Service, Morton.

"We of General Tire," said O'Neil, "are appalled at U. S. highway deaths and accidents."

The National Safety Council has reported that 28,500 people were killed and 1,350,000 were injured on U. S. highways in 1957.

"We want to help do something positive about this sinful waste in life, limb and property," said O'Neil, "and we hope by this campaign to urge every American motorist to accept his responsibility on the highway and to wake up and live!"

"General Tire dealers across the country are cooperating in this campaign," said Luper. "Each dealer will concentrate on his immediate locality."

To draw broad attention to this national problem, said O'Neil, General Tire is setting up a plan for 20 competitive college scholarships. "This scholarship contest will be open to every boy and girl of high school age who is interested in greater highway safety," he said.

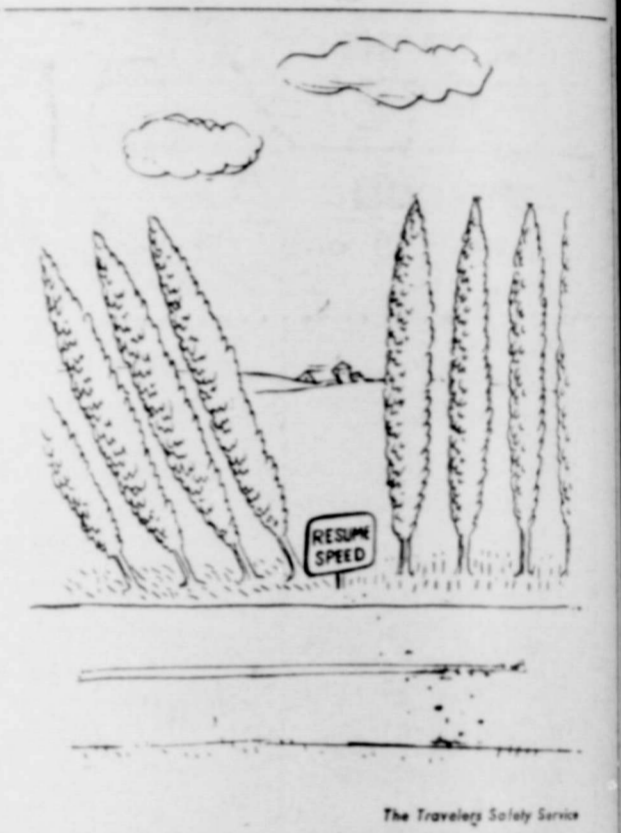

O'Neil said details will be announced July 19.

Dealers are distributing a series of booklets called "Wake Up and Live" as the first step in the safer driving campaign.

In one section a series of questions are listed for the reader to test his good driving habits.

Another section lists rules for the car and the home before departing on vacation.

One section refreshes the reader on the importance of various shaped signs on the highways.

Speeding caused 13,200 traffic deaths in 1957. Drive carefully . . . and look to us to keep your auto, truck, or pickup in top condition.
