MEET SUDAN HORNETS

INDIANS TO OPEN GRID SEASON ON LOCAL STADIUM TURF FRIDAY

A speedy and veteran Sudan Hornet eleven will be the Morton Indians to Friday evening at 8:00 p.m. as the local kick off the 1958 grid season.

Most of the boys from the Sudan team Morton defeated last year as a conference foe, are back again. Notable exceptions are Dan Shannon and Dan Woods, who graduated. However, the Hornets still have speedsters like Macky Ballard and are reputed to have one of the swiftest teams in the area.

Morton, to the contrary, has less returning veterans and less speed, as well as far less boys "out" for the team, despite the fact that the Indians have moved into "AA" ball this year while the Hornets remained in Class "A".

The Indians, whose defensive strength was notable last year, have lost Freddie Thompson, Sharon Hawthorne, Eddie Thompson, Clayton Flanagan, and others.

Morton will be pinning its hopes on fullback Butch Nairn, halfback Perry Don Seaney and quarterback Jackie Brown, all of who played first string last year and one returning first string lineman, Max Hawthorne.

The Indians have picked up a sizable lead at center but are woefully weak at ends — as far as experience goes.

Morton's biggest problem this year is one that is not new to Indian teams — lack of manpower. Only around 20 boys are out for the team where the Indian's district opponents, Muleshoe, Olton, Abernathy and Lockney boast from 50 to 80 man squads.

One of the keys to Morton's success last year was the fact that they were able to go through the season with comparatively few injuries. This year we must hope for the same thing.

Fans watching the team workout have been high in their praise of the small squad's determination and hustle. But the Indians have already been tabbed by the daily papers as a "doormat" of the league.

Coch Alexander warns against being overly optimistic and expecting too much of our boys. But at the same time he has praise for their fight.

Services Sunday At Stamford For John Lindsey

Funeral services were conducted in Stamford, Sunday, at 3:00 P.M. for John Lindsey, 81, year old brother-in-law of Mrs. W. A. Lindsey of Morton, and uncle of two other Mortonites.

Mr. Lindsey, a retired farmer at Stamford, and the last remaining child in his family, died of a heart attack at his home.

He was an uncle to Cecil Lindsey of Maple, formerly of Morton; and also an uncle to Willie Cagle. Mr. Lindsey had been in poor health for several months prior to his death. He had retired from farming several years ago, and had come to the Stamford area to farm sometime in the '20's.

He is survived by his wife, who was too ill to attend the services; four sons and one daughter. Two daughters preceded him in death. Also surviving are 18 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Rites were held in the Chapel of Kinney's Funeral Home at Stamford with a Baptist Minister officiating. Mr. Lindsey was a member of a Rural Baptist Church.

Burial was in the Anson Cemetery. Mrs. W. A. Lindsey of Morton, her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lindsey of Maple, and his son Jimmy Lindsey and wife of Levelland, attended the services.

Roma Powell and Jimmy Hale of Arlington were visiting Mr. Cagle when news came of Mr. Lindsey's death. He was Roma's uncle and Jimmy's great uncle. They attended the rites with Mr. Cagle.

Refrigeration Man To Be In City On Wednesdays

Jake Wright, who has been employed in the refrigeration service business since 1938, has announced he will be at Smith's Furniture and Appliance here each Wednesday to service area air conditioners, refrigerators, deep freezers and gas appliances.

Wright's home and business are located in Levelland.

Coun. Club Gin Has First Bale

The Country Club Gin turned out its first bale of the season Tuesday afternoon around 4 o'clock. The cotton belonged to Mrs. J. A. Finckness of the Pettit community. Tubby Hilloman, operator - manager of the gin, said the seed cotton weighed in at 1770 pounds and turned out a 421 pound bale. The cotton was from dryland.

Bus Routes Are Mapped Out For South Plains College; Several from County Plan to Enroll

LEVELLAND, (Sp.) — As many as 21 students from Cochran County are expected to ride college buses to South Plains College at Levelland, where classes will begin for the first time Sept. 15. Dean Clyde Prestwood has announced.

Dean Prestwood says that every indication points to the prospect that enrollment at the new public junior college will far exceed all expectations. College officials first estimated that the college would have 150 full-time students during the first semester of operation, but this figure now appears highly conservative, Prestwood says.

Students enrolling in the college will attend classes in one of the most modern college plants anywhere in the nation today. A new plant, valued at more than $1 million, with all buildings fully air conditioned, has been built "from the ground up" on a 177 acre campus at Levelland.

Six school bus routes where college students can be picked up have been carefully driven out by automobile by Dean Prestwood. He says only minor adjustments will be necessary between now and the time college registration opens on Sept. 15.

Buses will start their routes at Earth, in north-central Lamb County; at Pep in Hockley County; at Lehman, in southwest Cochran County; at Plains in central Yoakum County; Spade in south Lamb County and Weiman in South Terry

City Commission Votes to Repair Old Fire Truck

The City Commission, Monday, appointed a three man board to pass on building permits issued by the City of Morton in the future.

The action came when the City found on one occasion a permit was issued for construction of a building in the fire zone that did not meet with requirements of the city's fire zone ordinance.

The owner was given 90 days to bring the building up to fire zone standards.

Hereafter the Fire Marshall, E. I. Reeder and the Fire Chief, Amos Taylor, together with City Secretary Joe Seagler will investigate all applications for permits to determine if the building is to be in (See COMMISSION, Page 6)

Curb and Gutter Is Completed

Curb and gutters on the new paving around four blocks of the Morton schools were completed as the students went back to their books Tuesday, and topping and paving is set for an early date.

Kerr and Middleton, well known area road-building firm, has the contract and also is doing the paving and widening of the Muleshoe Highway, in the north edge of the city limits.

Also well on the way toward completion at the school Monday, was the new fence to be erected around the athletic field and the bus grounds. Steel poles had been put in place before school got underway.

The four blocks of paving are expected to be a welcome addition to the town and will leave eleven blocks unpaved around the entire school area.

However, hopes for getting any of the other 11 paved, faded almost out of sight. At recent City Commission meeting, it was pointed out, the price per foot quoted on paving other blocks was such that not many property owners are believed interested.

Maple Baptist Revival Opens

Everyone is welcome and urged to attend the services during a revival now in progress at the Maple Baptist Church.

Services will be conducted at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. preceded by a prayer meeting each evening at 7:30. The revival will close Sept. 7.

Rev. W. H. Hughes is Pastor of the church.

Posse Captures Third Place In Levelland Ride

Though the Tribune slipped up and failed to learn of the Posse's latest trophy winning venture until two weeks after it had been made, the Cochran County Sheriff Posse has added another trophy to its collection.

With 21 riders taking part for the local group, Cochran placed third in the Levelland parade two weeks ago.

Santa Rosa's colorful group took top honors in the Hockley show, a week after the close of our rodeo. Plainview won second place.

A total of 10 posse entered the parade competition.

A 'Thank You' From Beverly

A heartfelt thanks was offered to Mortonites this week for their contributions which will help pay the doctor bills for a most unfortunate young school girl — Beverly Criswell, who lives with her grandparents, the W. A. Corders.

Young Beverly has learned the tragedies of life at an early age — but the generosity of her neighbors has helped her maintain an outer countenance that belies the fact she has been sick most of her life.

She only recently returned from her second major operation in a Roswell Hospital.

Beverly, a diabetic, has been fighting the after effects of the dreaded polio, which she had several years ago.

The Tribune knows only of the $31 that was turned into the newspaper office during the past week. However, other donations have been made to the Corders.

But, since it's the giving, and not the recording of what is given that really counts, let us simply say, for the Corders, thanks for your neighborliness, your generosity, and your encouragement of Beverly in her fight. These are the things that help what one day seems like a hopeless fight, turn into a winning battle.

Hospital Is Open Doctor Is In Town

If you'll excuse a little tongue-in-cheek chatter, we'd like to remind you, in case you are one who has been misled — the Cochran County Hospital is still open, and a doctor is still on duty.

From somewhere the rumor started, that the hospital is no longer open, and that we no longer have a doctor.

Ethically speaking, according to all medical associations, a doctor cannot advertise for business. It probably follows, that in the minds of medical men, it is also unethical for hospitals to advertise for patients. Let us get the wrong idea, we hasten to point out, neither the doctor or hospital is advertising. We aren't getting paid a penny for making this announcement — not even a discount on our next medical bill.

We're making this statement for the benefit of a nurse who is getting tired of answering the phone and assuring worried folks the hospital is still open — and for the benefit of that group which is so glib when it comes to rumors, that they are able to set out to drive to Lubbock in a sure enough emergency case, because they may think there is no doctor in town.

We certainly don't want you to get the impression Dr. Lee wants your business. Nor the hospital. Suffice it to say — the hospital is open and a doctor remains in Morton. Don't believe any rumor to the contrary. At least, not without checking for yourself.

Assembly of God Dedicate Building

Two years — from dream, to drawing board, to completion — that's the story of the construction of the new Assembly of God Church in Morton, which will be formally dedicated next Sunday afternoon with a special service.

That's the story, but only the bare essentials. The real story, including the disappointments that delayed the building and the faith that prevailed throughout, is the type of heartwarming story more often than not found in a small community.

Sunday will be a big day indeed for Pastor and Mrs. H. T. Clarke, and their congregation of hard workers in the Assembly of God Church in Morton — who culminate over a year of hard work, by opening an old time Gospel Meeting in the beautiful new church they have constructed at Third and Jefferson streets.

Students who live within the South Plains College district, including the Whiteface Public School District, may ride the buses at no extra fee.

Students outside the district will be charged $5 per month each to pay the expense of their transportation.

Buses will stay on main-traveled paved highways, taking students aboard at arranged pickup points. On the first day of school, stops will be made at the high schools in each of the communities, bringing students in for registration.

Buses will start their journey toward the college campus at 7:15 from Lehman; 7 a.m. from Plains and Wolfman; at 7:30 a.m. from Spade and at around 7:50 from Pop. They are expected to average 45 miles per hour, arriving at the college campus at 8:30 a.m.

The buses will leave the campus at 4 p.m. and should arrive back at the end of the line by 8:30 p.m. Preston said that drivers will attend a special training school which will be participated in by the Department of Public Safety and other enforcement officers.

He pointed out that the buses were especially constructed for college students with roomier and more comfortable seating. Drivers have already been secured in each of the communities.

Students from Cochran County who have already indicated an interest in attending the college and riding a college bus to the campus each day include:

- Joel Parsons, Charles Lyons, W. B. Snodgrass, Betty Carol Turney, Charles Smith, George Poopa, Verda Lou Wright, Fred Brock, Florence Eleanor Baldwin, Mrs. Opal Adams, Lindie Jean Brown, Gloria Fay Collins, Forrest Weidner Carbo, Richard Don Dickerson, Laura Mae Eads, Savannah Lou Henderson, Ronald Floyd Hunt, Charles Edwin Swinton, Juan Ramos, Ysidoro Ramos and Bobby Don Wright.

One of the highlights of the series will be nightly special children's services at 7:15 p.m. which will employ visual aid lessons to aid in the understanding of God's Word. Regular evening services are set for 7:45 p.m. each night.

No concluding date has been set for the meeting. Rev. Burgess has preached in some of the largest capacity arenas in the nation.

The dream we were speaking of, began in the summer of 1956, approximately two years after Pastor and Mrs. H. T. Clarke moved to Morton from Denver City to take the pastorate of the local church from Rev. Pace.

In March of 1957 the actual construction began, and the real story of trials and tribulations comes during the 10 months following the start of construction.

Completion came about a week ago when the interior of the church was finished and plans for Sunday afternoon's dedication services were made. District Superintendent J. A. Thomas of Lubbock will be here to deliver the regular Sunday Service at 11:00 a.m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 on the grounds at the old church building. Supt. Thomas will then deliver the dedicatory message at 2:00 p.m.

The revival series will start with the evening service Sunday night, though the evangelist Jack Burgess, and wife, will be with the congregation all day, Dedication Day.

The attractive new 40 x 100 foot structure compares to the old 28 x 50 foot building, which, incidentally, will be converted into a church activity building. The new auditorium building also contains five Sunday school rooms, an office, & two rest rooms.

The building contains all new furniture throughout and the beautiful Baptist picture was painted by Jess Shelton, local artist.

The construction of the building is of cement block. It is painted a cream color and the wine colored roof of asbestos shingles blends into the color scheme well. One of the most beautiful interior features is the indirect lighting in the auditorium.

PASTORS OF NEW CHURCH - Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Clarke are the pastors of the Assembly of God Church in Morton which has just completed a new building and will see it dedicated Sunday.

This has been a community and congregational project in every facet of the work - from the start to the finish. Local men of the church, plus a hired local builder, built the foundation, put the cement blocks in place and were well on their way toward victory when the disastrous spring winds of 1957 hit. One week they blew down the walls of a new grocery building being constructed by Joe Mohrhead. Just a short time later the walls of the new church crumbled under the terrific winds.

The loss was insured... except for the time element... which could never be replaced. Undaunted, the members started again, and by early summer it looked like they would reach their goal. The walls were completed and the roof construction began - then they ran into another obstacle.

The roof began to sag... the support just wouldn't hold. One, two, three different roofing firms, all well recommended, sent men to take a look at the structure and they just waved their heads in apprehension. Finally, the building committee ran across a man who said he could take what had been done, and solve the difficulty. Working together with the men of the church, he succeeded.

Where had the financing come from? Up until this time, two main sources of money had been secured. First of all, a building fund started two years earlier, had been tapped for all it contained. Then the WMC Ladies' (Women's Church Organization) added to this fund every chance they had. Twice they served dinner to the Star Route Co-operative Gin annual meeting. They raised $1,000 through a quilting project. Three times they sponsored a booth at election night, on the square in Morton. Numerous times they sponsored bake sales. And, on one occasion, they sponsored a community sing in the Activity Building.

The WMC ladies were assisted by the youth of the church, since the congregation is too small to have an active organization of both groups on projects of this kind.

And, the men of the church scoured their dollars... everything they could spare, into the coffers. A tremendous part of the overall cost was in donated labor, almost too much to estimate.

And, as a fitting touch, every cent of the $1,000 of the down payment on church pews was donated by a community group of its churches - by persons not members of the Assembly of God church. Certainly to members of the church, one of the most inspiring chapters of this story of faith deals with the way persons of other beliefs helped them furnish their church.

Directing the overall project was M. A. Tanner, chairman of the building committee. Serving with him were Johnny Scoggins, W. A. Lewis, Elmer Jones, and Ted Jones, secretary of the building fund.

To this hard working group goes the congregation's grateful thanks. And, also a prayer of thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Clarke, who almost since they came to Morton, were spearheading this drive for a new church edifice.

The old building was approximately 20 years old, having been built by Rev. Archie Boggs, first pastor of the local church, and now, pastor at Big Lake.

The present pastors, Mr. & Mrs. Clarke, are natives of Oklahoma, she from Snyder, he from Altus. They had spent a considerable time as traveling evangelists before, and after they were married in 1927, at Blair, Okla.

Their travels took them from Arkansas to California along the Evangelistic trail. In 1929 and 1931, they came to the Hub Community near Friona and Bovina, and pastored their first church there.

They resigned their church there and accepted a church at Snyder, Okla. From there they went to Wilson, Okla., resigning their work there in August of 1936.

From there they went to the community of Tokio, near Brownfield and Wellman, in Terry County. He farmed and she taught school at Wellman for three years. Their only child, a daughter, attended school at Wellman.

The daughter is now Mrs. C. T. (Opal Lee) Phillips of Irving, Texas, and has presented the Clarke's with their three grandchildren.

From Tokio the Clarke's moved to Denver City where they pastored the Pleasant Hill Church and got into the dry goods business. They sold that store and moved to Morton in 1952 and now own Clarke's Dry Goods in Morton.

And, another happy circumstance surrounding the story of the construction of the Assembly of God Church, probably could be classified as a fitting ending. Through their six years here the attendance has stayed approximately the same, Mrs. Clarke said.

And now, the first two Sundays

The Pastor and his wife and the congregation are understandably proud of the spacious new structure which has only recently been finished inside.

Evangelist Jack Burgess will be on hand to help show off this new structure to the public as he opens the Gospel Meeting series with the Sunday service.

One of the highlights of the series will be nightly special children's services at 7:15 p.m. which will employ visual aid lessons to aid in the understanding of God's Word. Regular evening services are set for 7:45 p.m. each night.

Make Little Cakes Beautiful With Sweetened Condensed Milk Frosting

Little cakes solve many refreshment and dessert problems. They are sure to be eye filling and appetizing if you use a tried frosting, like this peanut butter variety made with sweetened condensed milk. It doesn't dry out and it never "runs" and it has a fine, homemade flavor.

Have the trimmings ready to put on as soon as the frosting is spread. Halved cherries, nut meats, chopped nuts, colored sugar, silver shak, give variety and interest to the cakes. Most of the toppings, excepting on very, very formal little cakes, can be quickly put on, but it's a good idea to have a pair of small kitchen tweezers ready to work with if necessary. You can pick up the littlest ornament from the stickiest frosting with tweezers.

Peanut Butter Frosting
 (Makes about 1 1/2 cups)
 1 1/2 cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
 3 tablespoons cream style peanut butter

Gradually stir sweetened condensed milk into peanut butter in top of double boiler; mix well. Cook over rapidly boiling water, stirring constantly, until thick, about 15 minutes. Cool. Spread on cooled cake.

Let transports can now span the continent at more than 600 miles per hour. Less than a century ago, travelers were jolting across the country in stage coaches at 6 miles per hour.

By the start of the 20th century, the "iron horse" was in universal use at 40 miles per hour (a mile a minute).

but it was not until the 1930's that the "horseless carriage" completely replaced Old Dobbin.

Fascinating exhibits showing the complete history of all forms of transportation from 1830 to the present, from cart to jet, may be seen at Pioneer Village at Minden, Nebraska, on U.S. Highway 24. Pioneer Village comprises 20 buildings housing 20,000 different items showing man's progress in every field of endeavor.

API Golf Tourney Set In Levelland

LEVELLAND (Spl.) — More than 650 golfers — good, bad and indifferent — will converge on Levelland Friday and Saturday (Sept. 5 and 6) for West Texas' biggest golfing extravaganza.

The event will be the annual American Petroleum Institute bogey tournament and oilmen from all over West Texas, including Morton, will be on hand for the event.

This year's tournament will make this more than $5,000 in prizes offered to golfers in the API tourney last year.

Usually there's a lot more fun than rolling at the tourney, where the duffer will be right at home, and most of the prizes will be drawn from a hat rather than decided on the basis of golfing skill.

Money from the event will go to finance the South Plains API Chapter's $500 scholarship for some worthy student at Texas Tech each year. The chapter hopes to raise enough money to have two or more such scholarships within the next two or three years.

Levelland Country Club professional Paul Jones says entries from all over the area have been pouring in for the tourney. Jones, along with Co-chairmen Art Hall and Bob Lofland, of Levelland, is directing the big tourney.

Algerian Soccer Players Go Home to Join

Tunis, North Africa—When 13 Algerian soccer players from the professional teams of France turned up missing at the same time, the reason was not long in coming.

They were all Algerians who had decided to join their compatriots in the continuing war for Algerian freedom.

The decision was not easy for these mature sportsmen. Most were drawing good salaries. One of them, Bouabkar, a star guard, earned $350 a month, big money in the French sport world.

Some were married and had families. Zitoune, for instance, had to arrange a trip for his French wife—and their washer and refrigerator.

They set their rendezvous for Tunis. There they hope to recruit a team of Algerians and enter European competition. This would help, they say, to put Algeria on the map as an independent nation.

However, French opposition is scowling at them. The European soccer association accepts teams only from "sovereign" countries. French soccer authorities could invoke this rule against them.

However, judging from the latest news of the North African Federation (Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Libya), Algeria may not have to wait long before it has its own government. Then the Algerian team will be cleared for action.

Among the Algerian soccer players who chose to join national forces in their North African homeland were (from top, l. to r.) Zitoune, Meklaoui, Brahimi, and Ben Tifour.

Old before its time?

Just like people, a tire can get old before its time.

For example, the life of a tire may be shortened as much as 25% merely as a result of chronic under-inflation. Over-inflation is bad, too.

Best way to avoid premature aging of your tires is to let your Phillips 66 Dealer take care of them for you. He'll check them frequently, make sure they're properly inflated, and repair them if necessary. And, if a tire becomes unsafe, he can provide a new and dependable Phillips 66 Action-Tread Tubeless Tire.

Drive in at any station where you see the orange and black Phillips 66 Shield.

Safety Signs Are Erected In School Zones

Morton has four new school safety warning signs to put up at dangerous intersections this week. Thanks to the combined efforts of J. and B. Food Store of Morton and the Coca Cola Bottling Company.

The idea for the use of the signs locally originated with Billy Joe Mohrwood. He spotted some of the signs in Dallas last spring, with a traffic policeman with outstretched hand on one side, and the Coca Cola advertising on the other. He checked with the local Coca Cola salesman to see if any were available in this area. Sure enough, the salesman had some in the area and promised they would round them up for use here this fall.

The signs arrived early this week and Mayor Roy Tarver immediately saw that they were placed in the suitable places.

Of course the signs won't do the job by themselves, but they will help. Now, if only the motorists will cooperate, and remember to slow down as soon as they see the sign.

MENTED IN LUBBOCK

Wanda Angel and Jr. Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. Darley Roberts of Lubbock spent Sunday with Mr. & Mrs. Robert George of Lubbock.

It is quite significant that many Congressmen of late have in speeches deplored organized political pressure of Big Labor.

For example, Rep. Ralph Owen of N. Y. has suggested that businessmen organize a political machine. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Sen. Karl Mundt, S. D., and Everett Kirkson, Illinois, are among those who have made similar suggestions.

On the first blush, there C. W. Hooper seems to be considerable merit in these proposals as obviously labor has a strongly financed and active political organization.

Yet, paradoxically, during the time labor has been most active in the political field, Big Monopoly Business has made strong strides. Thus, it does not appear that a noisy pressure group is the answer to all problems.

It does not seem logical that Congressmen should be categorized as puppets controlled by some political action group. That is why the National Federation of Independent Business is non-political, non-partisan.

The nationwide membership of the organization, through mandate ballots, does keep Congressmen informed on the viewpoint of independent business on important issues, but there is a vast difference between informing and blackmailing.

After all, the American public is quite intelligent, and in addition, business in free enterprise. In addition, the American public is made up of labor, business.

men, farmers and other segments who dislike being bulldozed into a course of action.

While they make a lot of noise, there is a serious doubt that the political labor groups, despite the funds they have at their disposal, accomplish a great deal in this direction. Probably, if the truth were known, many union members, forced to contribute to a political campaign fund, vote just the opposite in silent rebellion against an attempt to make their political views and contributions compulsory.

Probably the greatest political force in America today is just plain common sense by an informed public.

Thus, it would not only seem morally wrong to bulldoze business to contribute to campaign funds to elect "captive" Congressmen, but in the end, would probably be a needless activity.

Because truth, like murder, will eventually out, and when it does, the people act accordingly at the polls. In addition, the political influence of the nation's unbiased independent press is strong as distinguished from the constantly weakening influence of the big press chains. People more and more recognize that the big chain press barons have political axe to grind.

However, in all decency it does seem logical Congress should pass measures which would curtail financial resources of labor political machine.

Anyone should be able to contribute to any union's political chest if so inclined.

However, compulsory contributions to support a political viewpoint are alien to the American way and should be made illegal as a matter of principle.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

Care in Ensiling Wilted Forage Saves Feed And Silo

To avoid having an upright silo burst when filled with highly succulent, early cut forage, it is necessary to dry or wilt the hay crop in the field for a few hours previous to putting it into the silo.

Instead of having 75 to 80 per cent moisture, the forage may, after being exposed to sun and breeze for 3 or 4 hours, have only 70 per cent or even only 60 per cent moisture.

Any time it has below 70 per cent moisture, the following silo-filling precautions should be observed:

1. Have a good, nearly air-tight silo, with tight fitting doors.
2. Set the field chopper or stationary ensilage cutter for the shortest practical cut, less than one-half inch if at all possible. The wilted forage packs tighter under these conditions and does not trap as much air which might give rise to excessive heating and molding.
3. Fill the silo rapidly. Do not let a day or more intervene between partial filling and completely filling the silo. A long interval would cause the top layer to get really hot.
4. Do a good job of distributing and tramping in the silo during the process of filling. This means that the distributor pipe should be brought down to within a couple of feet of the surface of the packed silage, with two men, if possible, doing the distributing and tramping.
5. Top off the column of silage with several loads of succulent or watered forage, to provide as much weight as possible for compacting the top layer.

6. For 5 to 7 days after completing the filling of a silo, tramp the surface of the silage, especially near the outside wall, so as to effect a good compact surface seal and in that way reduce the top spoilage to a few inches instead of, as sometimes happens, to a few feet.

7. Be sure when climbing into a silo for this purpose, not to jump into a pocket formed by more than one closed door on the surface of the settling silage. Remember that colorless, odorless gas may be deadly carbon dioxide, and yellow gas, nitrogen dioxide, is definitely poisonous. Yellow gas seldom occurs, but one should keep in mind its possibility.

Question: I have heard that salt can be used to stop cannibalism in chickens. Is there a really practical method of using salt for this purpose?

Answer: Yes there is. Both the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the University of Wisconsin have reported on the use of added salt to control cannibalism. U. S. D. A. Investigators used an additional 1 to 2 per cent of salt in the chick ration over a period of four or five days with good results. The added salt represented an amount over and above the usual 0.5 to 1.0 per cent salt normally present in recommended rations.

Wisconsin experimenters added one tablespoon of salt to each gallon of drinking water during one forenoon and repeated the treatment three days later. This stopped cannibalism in about 99 per cent of the cases. It was necessary to keep the birds away from their normal drinking water during the half-day treatment periods.

Questions from readers will be answered in the column or by direct reply. Please send your questions to Dr. Bohstedt c/o Salt Institute, 33 North La Salle St., Chicago 2, Ill.
