The County Barn is a beehive of activity today, even though the Cochran County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show won't get underway until animals are officially weighed this afternoon.

Cause for the early commotion is the "tying-in" of two other shows, which started yesterday afternoon, Wednesday, with the preparation of all Morton FFA animals for a local FFA Show set this morning and a simultaneous breeding show.

All Morton FFA animals had to be in place by 6 o'clock last night for the FFA show which is being judged at 9 a. m. this morning. Local FFA boys are conducting their

Trustee Vote Set: Eight on Ticket At Bledsoe; 5 Here; 6 at Whiteface

Orders for a somewhat confusing welter of school election ballots have been placed this week, absentee voting will start in all three school district races and for county trustees, Monday.

Absentee voting will be in the Office of the County Clerk beginning Monday and continuing until five days before the election.

By deadline, last Thursday night, County Judge Glenn W. Thompson had petitions listing the following candidates in the school races:

For County School Trustee at Large, Ralph Bart.

For County School Trustee, Pct. Four, U. F. Wells.

For County School Trustee, Pct. Three, Loyd Brown.

All of these men are incumbents and no opposition will appear on the ballots, since they are the only candidates whose petitions were filed.

One of the most interesting races will be at Bledsoe where the names of eight men will appear on the ballot for Bledsoe Independent School District Trustee.

Candidates will be Buford Webb, W. C. Millsap, James Glascock, Ross Reeves, B. E. Sutton, M. W. Ellington, Jr., C. O. Bryant and C. B. Evans.

Three will be elected from this group. Evans and Bryant are incumbents.

At Morton, two petitions listing six names were filed, but since that time one of the men has scratched his name.

The names of Pegues Houston, James Masten, and Lem Chesher were included in a petition filed, but Chesher scratched his name. Listed as candidates last week were T. A. McCuiston, A. M. (Van) Greens and Jesse Clayton.

Houston, Roy Brown and Jack Wallace are the incumbents whose terms of office expire.

County Judge, Ex Officio Supt. Glenn Thompson said another letter arrived Saturday, addressed to the Commissioner of Pct. One, and listing three names for the school board, (didn't say which one). The judge said the letter arrived too late to be considered, wasn't mailed before the deadline, and anyway, had no signatures.

At Whiteface, the school is handling its own petitions and having its own ballots printed. Candidates for the three positions open are Lou Rork, E. C. White, Jr., Wade Taylor, A. J. Norris, Jr., George Martin and L. E. McDonald.

Rork, White and Taylor are incumbents according to H. D. Galvin, School Assessor - Collector.

The elections will be on Saturday April 4th in all school districts and in all Commissioner Precincts.

Dues in the organization are the effort it takes to go to the hospital and have your blood typed.

Benefits of the club could be in the form of a life saved.

The Town and Country Study Club, which is pushing the project, has asked everyone to go to the hospital sometime Thursday or Friday and have their blood typed.

The Study Club, Hospital Superintendent Dewitt Allsup, and doctors have emphasized the importance of having the card file on hand at the hospital and of knowing who to call when blood donors are needed. It could easily mean the difference between life and death they have reminded.

Members of the Study Club will be on hand to make out the cards and help with the clerical work involved.

Chemical Control of Shinnery Oak Is Becoming Popular

Chemical control of shinnery oak and range seeding is becoming more popular among the ranchers in the Cochran Soil Conservation District. A year ago, Mr. J. Frank Bennett started on a program of this type. Ranchers who are getting ready to start this year are Alvie Harris, Boots Fitzgerald and Joe Jack. These ranchers, who have basic conservation plans with their local soil conservation district, have developed Great Plains Conservation Program Contracts on their ranches with the assistance of local Soil Conservation Service technicians. The Great Plains Conservation Program gives financial assistance for permanent type practices such as brush control and range seeding. This program, based on a complete basic soil and water conservation plan, gives the farmer or rancher an opportunity to apply all needed conservation practices with substantial monetary assistance on the more costly, permanent ones.

New Windowless "Egg Factory" Made Of Colored Steel

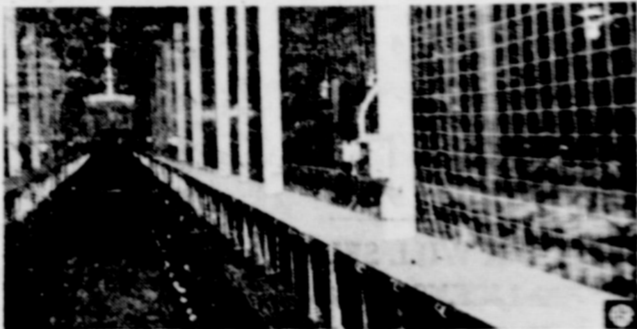

Higher quality eggs, less work for the farmer, and attractive appearance are the elements Poultry Research Experts have designed into new all-steel "egg factories" now being constructed throughout the country.

The first colored building to be built was this gleaming two-tone structure with rose colored walls and a sparkling white roof. The new protective color coating, available in six colors, is applied direct to the galvanized steel at the factory. The building, called the Stran-Master, is being produced by Stran-Steel Corporation.

Aimed at quality egg production, the entire operation is scientific and automatic. The area housing the hens is windowless so that lights can control their waking and sleeping hours. Insulation eliminates extremes of heat and cold, thereby promoting bird comfort and uniform egg production regardless of weather.

Feed supply is automatically controlled by time clock for desired feeding intervals, and the water level can be regulated in the water troughs. Ventilation units located in the side walls are controlled by thermostats to disperse fresh air and exhaust used air. A push of a button removes all droppings from the floor of the building by means of a motor driven scraper.

When the hen is ready to lay, she enters one of the many nests lining the central aisle, and the egg rolls to the front where it is collected. An egg grading and refrigeration room in the building assures delivery of high quality eggs to metropolitan markets.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

A lower price alone isn't going to keep cotton competitive... true, cotton must have a competitive price, but there are two or three other sides to the "cotton use" problem... one little thought of angle is a "constant source of supply"... you can't expect mills to promote cotton with large financial outlays for advertising etc., when they may find themselves without the fiber because of drastic acreage cuts or legislation that prices cotton too high for sales no matter what promotion is used... also, cotton's uses are challenged by new developments in other fibers... sometimes a new product can do a better job in a specific field... so cotton must keep looking for new markets... the only way this can be done is by research and development... if cotton is to survive, it must not only be priced at the right level but it must improve itself, just as other fibers are doing, and it must create demands by promotion... there's going to be a fight for markets as long as we have a free economic system... that's the reason we've progressed so much in the U. S... let's keep it that way... and let's keep cotton competitive.

More Stretch

Campaign is underway to put more stretch in cotton fiber... a couple of experts figure it's one of the most important areas of basic research for cotton... when cotton does become more elastic, it will be in a much better position to compete with other fibers in sweaters, winter suits and like markets.

Two Stomachs

Animals who have at least two stomachs such as cows, thrive on cottonseed products... but the poor chickens and hogs, who have only one stomach, can't match up to the food... fact is, an overdose to a chicken can be fatal... to the chicken, that is... why??... research is underway to find out and maybe correct it... what a market could open up!

HIGH PLAINS STATION EXPERIMENTS SHOW VALUE OF IRRIGATION WATER

How valuable is the irrigation water applied to the various crops? A study of the efficiency of water usage as affected by fertilizer was conducted at the High Plains Station at Halfway in connection with fertilizer research on both grain sorghum and cotton during 1958. Dr. T. C. Longnecker, Head of the Station, stated recently.

In the series of tests the dryland grain sorghum produced 2,289 pounds per acre. The same variety with 9 inches of water applied and no fertilizer produced 3,623 pounds per acre, in this test the water was worth $2.37 per acre inch. When 120 lbs. of nitrogen was applied to this variety with the yield totaled 6,506 per acre making the value per acre inch of water $5.71 after the cost of the fertilizer was deducted. The same variety of grain sorghum was used in each of the above studies.

Dryland cotton with no fertilizer applied produced 356 pounds of lint per acre. Three inches of irrigation with no fertilizer produced 526 pounds of lint cotton per acre. In this case the water applied was worth $15.87 per acre inch applied.

Fertilizer applied to the dryland test at the rate of 26 pounds of nitrogen and 78 pounds of phosphorus per acre produced 301 pounds of lint cotton. With 3 inches of irrigation and the same fertilizer application the yield arose to 621 pounds. Profit on the water applied, after paying for the fertilizer, was $26.92 per acre inch.

In the third test, dryland cotton had a fertilizer application of 66 pounds of nitrogen and 78 pounds of phosphorus which had a yield of 311 pounds of lint cotton per acre. To this same fertilizer application three inches of irrigation water was applied with a resulting yield of 697 pounds of lint cotton per acre. Here the value of an acre inch of water applied was $35.15 after paying the fertilizer cost.

With no fertilizer and 6 inches of water the cotton yield was 611 pounds of lint making the water worth $14.34 per acre inch applied. The addition of 26 pounds of nitrogen and 78 pounds of phosphate increased the yield to 775 pounds an the value of an acre inch of water to $20.68. With 66 pounds of nitrogen and 78 pounds of phosphate the yield jumped to 899 pounds of lint per acre and the value of an inch of water to $25.00.

Check Name On Refund Check Before Signing

"Don't fret if that refund check from Uncle Sam doesn't show your full name," says Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue Service.

Due to mechanical limitations on the high speed electronic machines now printing tax refund checks, only the taxpayer's first initial of the given name, or names, is being used.

In rare instances, where a taxpayer's surname is unusually long one or more letters at the end of the surname may even be dropped. The IRS representative advises tax payers to endorse their refund checks exactly as drawn. Then, if letters are omitted at the end of a surname, a second endorsement should be made showing the full surname.

Mahon Shocked at Drop In Support On All Sorghums and Feed Grains

WASHINGTON, (March 5) — Rep. George Mahon reports that the recently announced drop in support loans for feed grains has been a shock to the Members of Congress from grain sorghum producing areas.

The House Committee on Agriculture is making a study of the situation in preparation for a Committee hearing which will be held March 13. The support loan level announced for milo for the 1959 crop is 31 cents per hundred below the level for last year. The national average support for milo last year was $1.83 per hundred. The announced national average support for this year is $1.52 per hundred.

On February 18, 1959, the Secretary of Agriculture announced support loan levels for corn, milo, and other feed grains. In view of the language of the law, it was anticipated that the support price for milo in 1959 would be approximately the same as corn, in as much as both have approximately the same feed value. This is not the case, and an explanation is being demanded and ways are being sought to remedy the situation.

Mahon stated, "since the drastic drop in support levels for milo was announced, I have appealed to the Secretary of Agriculture and others in the Department to reconsider the action taken I have received complaints in regard to the situation from Mr. Frank Moore of Plainview, President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and many others. If the drastic cut in supports remains in effect, grain sorghum producers will sustain losses totaling many millions of dollars. A more effective program for all feed grains is needed, but action is made most difficult by reason of the well known attitude of the Secretary of Agriculture."

Dear Friend:

March 1, 1949

We must have one firm, clear policy for this Nation in relation to other nations. We must look to the whole strength of the Nation as by bits and pieces of our heritage of integrity and freedom. We can no longer sit by and see our strength — military, moral or economic — weakened by delay, defeat or retreat. We must trim from the Nation's wastefulness any bulge of wastefulness. We must fight for moral, spiritual, economic and military unity so as to squeeze out any waste of dollars, of manpower or of resources. The question is: Shall Berlin be remembered as the deathbed of democracy or as the graveyard of aggression?

I say: Let us use every minute, every second of every day to the best possible advantage to get this Nation as strong as we can, as fast as we can.

It is imperative as we approach the crisis of Berlin that we make this plain to the Russians: Once the decisions are made, this is a country united behind the President.

It is equally imperative in support of the President of the United States in the policy and doctrine of the Commander-in-Chief — Chief executive.

His Aim in Life — to Put America to Sleep

Simmons is tops in beds & mattresses

Men Who Make America Great

Four generations in the business

By LOUIS JAMES

For four generations Grant Simmons Jr.'s family has been counseling people to take it easy — relax — get plenty of good sleep.

Today the Simmons Company — makers of Simmons beds and mattresses — is the world's biggest: 18 plants in the United States and 19 abroad.

The first member of Simmons' family (Zalmon) got Americans off slatted beds and onto bed springs in the late 1800s. The second Simmons (also Zalmon) took Americans off solid mattresses and put them on coiled springs. The third Simmons (Grant Sr.), was responsible, more than any one, for twin beds and convertible day time sofas.

Wanted to be a scientist

Now, 38-year-old Grant Jr. — the number four Simmons — is going one better. He is bent on giving America bedroom comfort in the living room.

Taking his cue from our habits of TV gazing, reading, social gabbing, he is making upholstered furniture with a new suspension idea — a torsion device that adjusts to a person's weight and size — and pushing sleep into the main room of the house.

Tall, lean, handsome Grant Jr. — he is a carbon of movie actor Randolph Scott — never thought he would end in the family business.

"I was going to be a chemist

Men Who Make America Great

GRANT SIMMONS, JR.

or biologist," he says. "Then half-way through Yale I thought I would be a banker." But it didn't turn out that way. Grant joined the Navy instead, was promptly shipped off to manage the big naval air supply station in Brazil.

Out of the Navy with Lieutenant's stripes in 1945, Grant Jr. decided to work into the family business after all — from the lowest factory rung upward.

Starting with a stop-watch in the time study department 12 years ago, he went through various production departments. First pay check: $40 a week.

He loves bird-watching

His factory experience gave him an insight into problems of production workers and he eventually became head of industrial relations. Last year, on the basis of his record and his knowledge, he became president.

Grant Simmons' most obvious characteristic is a relaxed and patient manner. Asked how he keeps it under the tension of modern business, he grins. "I get it bird-watching."

It's true. Grant watches birds for fun. He is a lifetime member of the National Audubon Society and the American Ornithologist Union.

Grant will sit patiently for hours in a salt marsh or inland swamp, hoping to spot a rare specimen on the wing.

An avid reader, Grant studies reports and keeps up with industry news in trade papers and the Wall Street Journal during his daily commute to and from Greenwich, Conn. He catches the 7:45 to Grand Central after getting up at 6:30 and "waking up" all the children and my wife."

Has some daring plans

His plans for Simmons Company expansion are daring and original. Acting upon a shrewd analysis of the upholstered furniture market, Grant has decided to change policies that have characterized Simmons for years. Instead of central warehouse distribution, he will distribute from local plants. Instead of a diversity of retail outlets, he will select stores for their merchandising abilities.

In his own quiet way, Grant Jr. has set an 88-year-old business on a revolutionary orbit. Trade gossip is he will keep it going for a long time.

SENATOR Yarborough's Report

Our state today is generally a growing, booming area. But this prosperity in most places only serves to point up the hard times being felt by people in some areas of our state.

We have all seen these areas in Texas and elsewhere. Prosperity has passed them by, leaving behind it human hardship of more workers than jobs in the cities and near starvation income on the farm.

In our state, there are now about 70 thousand farm families — a total of more than a quarter of a million Texas living in some 36 counties who receive less than a thousand dollars a year net cash family income. This doesn't let a man earn enough money to keep his family even decently clothed, fed and sheltered, not to mention a chance to enjoy any of the modern conveniences of life.

The result is that thousands of families have been driven not only off their farms but out of the farming areas into our major cities. As a result, we have what the Department of Labor calls "substantial labor surpluses" — or more people than there are jobs for them — in cities such as Beaumont, Port Arthur, Houston, Texas, and others.

I am co-sponsoring a bill known as the Depressed Areas Re-development bill which I feel goes to the spot where the trouble is — the rural country — to help solve the problem. The bill would furnish funds on a loan basis and also provide planning assistance to rural communities to help build industrial plants. New industry for these areas would mean new jobs, new payrolls, new tax revenues, a better standard of living for everyone.

This Week in AUSTIN by Senator Preston Smith

Work of the 56th Legislature is continuing to try to solve the financial business of state government, and at the end of seven weeks of activity there will be little indication of whether increased taxes will take.

With more than 30 revenue measures on file, and considerable promotion of these measures within the Legislature, the state's general fund deficit has reached more than $50 million. It's anyone's guess about which revenue measure will ultimately capture the favor of the Legislature.

The governor's "emergency program" to apply $65 million against the pending year-end deficit total was lagging at last glimpse; and the Legislature in general showed no enthusiasm about moving into the revenue front.

Behind the scenes, the governor is working hard to gather public support for his permanent tax program, and Rep. Fates Seeligson continues pounding for his general sales tax measure.

And the pending revenue measures from other sources run the full pattern of type and taps all the way from liquor, beer and cigarettes to corporate income taxes, manufacturing taxes, trading stamps, soft drink syrup, stock transfer levies, gross receipts taxes on motels, hotels and rooming houses, gross receipts on airlines, and many others.

The source of revenue which will ultimately be used to eliminate a year-end deficit, has not yet been generally predicted by Legislators.

Meanwhile, needs of military installations of the state have been cautious in their reaction to proposals before the Legislature which would remove state tax exemptions on cigarettes and beer sold on military reservations. Some members of the Legislature, however, have been getting "the word" from civic leaders in cities where larger military installations are located.

Congressman GEORGE MAHON writes from Washington

By Cong. GEORGE MAHON

AGRICULTURE: — On March 6, I joined a number of other members of Congress in urging the Secretary of Agriculture to reconsider his action in slashing milk supports. We pointed out that the 33 cents per 100 pounds out in milk for 1949 was all out of proportion to the support price for corn and that the heavy reduction would be disastrous to many grain sorghum growers.

We called Mr. Benson's attention to the fact that milk was of about the same feed value as corn and that the law requires that relative feed values should be considered in fixing feed grain supports. Mr. Benson pointed out that under the law he has the authority to consider other factors. He gave the group no encouragement. The next move will be a hearing on the problem by the House Agriculture Committee on March 13th.

NATIONAL DEFENSE: — We are in the seventh week of hearings on the President's defense budget. Scores of persons have testified. So far the facts presented it is clear that the U. S. in the over-all, is militarily stronger than Russia. It is also clear that we are behind in the vital field of long range ballistic missiles. In the intercontinental ballistic missile race it is estimated that we will lag behind Russia through 1963. When we consider that the ICBM is, no doubt, to become the major weapon of the future, we cannot regard this second place role without concern. We are now giving much consideration to the problem of how to close the missile gap. The situation is disturbing but we must bear in mind that our bomber striking power is still quite capable of destroying Russia. In fact, each side is becoming increasingly more capable of destroying the other. This points up the urgent necessity for a genuine settlement of major international problems.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: Most Democrats and Republicans alike view the illness of Secretary Dulles as

TEXAS HOOPER COMMISSION

The House of Representatives spent much of its time in the past week debating at length House Bill 29 which would create a "little Hoover Commission" for Texas. This Commission supposedly would check into all the various boards and agencies of Texas and come up with money saving recommendations for future Legislatures.

POLITICAL PLUM

Of course, appointment to this Commission would be a choice political plum. These plums would be handed out by the Governor, Lt. Governor and the Speaker of the House.

It is my thinking that this measure will probably only cost the state money rather than saving any. Even a limited budget for such a Commission would cost $100,000 a year.

FEDERAL COMMISSION

The Federal Hoover Commission made wide-sweeping recommendations which have not generally been adopted by the Congress. I predict the same fate for this new Texas Commission.

BIGGEST EVENT

The biggest event of the week for us was on Tuesday of last week as my wife and I became the parents of an 8 lb. 3 oz. boy, Robert Bowers III. He was born at 3:19 p.m. March 3, at St. David's Hospital, here in Austin.

Light Leads Our People

Each day a new door opens. What it reveals on the other side, for the people who must pass over its threshold, depends upon the conditions under which they lived their yesterdays.

Those in some countries look through the door upon a new day shadowed with oppressions, where there are few freedoms, tyrannies abound and living is hard and cold.

Those of us in America are more fortunate. Opening the door each day, we are met by the light of freedom which has led our destiny for many years. Protecting that freedom has been - and always will be - a Press that will not succumb to dictation or overpowering despotism.

For the light that leads to all freedoms is Freedom of the Press: Education... information of all kinds... news of all that transpires... and the open discussion of opinions and ideas that sharpens understanding.

Complete freedom of speech and of the press is the light that builds understanding, helping all mankind to advance onward and upward through the opening door of each tomorrow.

4-H Battles Night Traffic Desperado

Have you met Black Bart—the demon of night driving?
He's a menacing and sneaky desperado representing perils of increased accidents after dark, a top safety problem.
Eight winners of $400 General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H safety activities have pledged all 4-H members to defeat Black Bart because three times as many accidents occur after dark as during daylight hours, in proportion to miles driven.
"Last year, 29,800 people were killed in nighttime accidents," they told newsmen recently in Chicago. "This is especially serious in rural areas where roads are dimly lighted."
Have Headlights Aimed Twice a Year
The national winners and all state safety winners received all-expense trips to the 4-H Club Congress from General Motors to recognize their superb farm, home and highway safety work.
Reducing speed at night, dimming headlights when meeting a car, and having headlights aimed twice a year are leading night safety suggestions of these teenage safety specialists.
Typical was Ralph Zanner, 17 year old national winner from Lakewood, Colo., who plans to become a traffic safety engineer.
"Most drivers don't realize that headlights on new cars well as old ones can be jarred out of line by normal road bumps and that up to 80% of the light needed for safe night driving is lost when headlights are improperly aimed," he said.
Nine Times More in Safety Work
General Motors is in its 15th year of sponsoring the 4-H safety program. In that time, participation has zoomed to 935,000.
Other National Winners include: Mary Ann Harrington, 17, Eustis, Fla.; Marie Hasfurther, 18, Genesee, Ida.; Virginia Partridge, 17, Allerton, Ia.; Karen Perrot, 17, Reserve, La.; Anita Hollmer, 18, Schuylerville, N. Y.; Andrea Suiter, 19, Tipton, Okla.; and Norman Warminski, 16, White Deer, Tex.
Their Plea: Cut Night Traffic Deaths—AIM TO LIVE!!

Jycees Nominate Officers for Coming Year; Election Set for Next Monday

The Morton Jaycees heard a reading of the list of officers nominated for the coming year and received nominations from the floor, Monday, in a very busy meeting of the group.
On notification that the state of Texas Jaycees had adopted 800 Korean orphans, the club voted to make a contribution to this cause.
The State Convention in Ft. Worth, April 29th through May 2nd was discussed as was the Houston
Ten Outstanding Young Farmers event.
Elwood Harris, on the Cochran County Fat Stock Show Board explained to the group that he needed to get the rest of the collection cards in for the Stock Show so the Planning Committee could set the prize money up at a Monday night meeting.
S. M. Monroe and Dave Beck reported on the Volleyball Tourney which is to begin March 23.
They said a total of 20 women's teams had already signified a desire to enter and 18 men's teams were being contacted. However, only 16 teams of each will be allowed to enter the tourney, the co-chairmen said, indicating that only 16 teams can be handled without extreme difficulty, and even then, they would have to use both gyms for the first round games on Monday night.
At next Monday's meeting, the Jaycees will be assigned nights to work at the tournament.
Joe Seagler brought up the question of the change in operation of the Activities Building and Secretary was asked to invite County Judge Glenn Thompson to attend a Jaycee meeting in the near fu-

Case Tractors To Be Premiered Friday, March 20

Woolam Implement Co., of Morton, J. I. Case Dealer for this area will hold his 1959 World Premiere Open House, Friday, March 20th, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. M. J. Woolam says that the open house will feature a new 30-minute color movie "The Case-O-Matic Story" filmed at Nassau, in the Banana Islands, where the J. I. Case Company recently introduced 32 new machines and implements to over 3000 dealers and wives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Woolam attended the Nassau World Premiere in November of 1958.

Among the new Case machines introduced at Nassau were the giant "1000" self-propelled combine, said to have the largest capacity in the industry, a new heavy-duty 3-wire-tie baler, two new forage harvesters, a new hay conditioner, new side delivery rake, new chisel plow, new disk-seeder, a complete new line of semi-mounted plows for Case-O-Matic Drive tractors and a low priced utility industrial loader and loader backhoe combination. Dealer orders at Nassau for the new Case equipment totalled over $376,000,000 — a new Case record.

Woolam Implement Co. extends a cordial invitation to all the farmers and their families of this area to drop in and see the new Case machines and implements for 1959. The new Case movie will be shown every hour continuously. Valuable door prizes will be awarded, among them a complete Farm Intercom System. Refreshments will be served.

The Morton chapter was awarded the Hurdman award for lambs and were complimented for the way they worked to maintain an attractive exhibit during the entire show.

The Board Members who are the sole managers of Girlstown, at this time, will be on hand to welcome guests and cake and coffee will be served.

Girlstown, recipient of some unfortunate publicity a year or two ago, is neither a penal institution nor an orphan's home, although it has been home for both orphan and wayward girls.

Rather it is a home for girls who need a home — girls who are unable to get the right kind of home life at their real homes because of broken homes and unusual and unfortunate circumstances. The girls do their general chores around the farm, and Girlstown raises most of its own needs in the way of food and cash crops.

Donations also help support institution and several other organizations have Girlstown as their annual projects.

Board members issued a statement recently that Girlstown was doing fine and what it really needs, most of all, is more girls.

Everyone is welcome to attend the open house but the invitation is even stronger than that. Board members sincerely hope a good crowd will turn out. They are anxious for area folks to get acquainted with Girlstown, and the program. They want area folks to accept them and the ranch as what they are, neighbors and friends of the South Plains.

Three Fire Runs In Four Days

Volunteer firemen had a busy week in Morton answering three fire calls in a four day period.

Saturday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock they were called to the Bob Pierce home on Main street where flames had burned a hole in the floor of a front room, used as a study by Pierce, a teacher in the Morton Schools.

Firemen - chopped a hole in a bottom plank of the outside wall and doused flames under the house. A box of clothes and rugs was burned and walls and ceiling were badly heat and smoke damaged.

Monday the firemen went to a fire southwest of Morton on the Barker place, farmed by Kenneth Watta, where a barn was almost half destroyed, just before the noon hour.

Wednesday, they doused a grease pit fire at Hawkins Oldsmobile before serious damage had occurred.
