Local Quartet Plays for Opening of Swanky New Motel at Odessa, Sunday

Steve Bracken and His Drifting Tunes, a local quartet, took a step up the musical ladder this past weekend when they were booked for an afternoon engagement at the spacious and plush new Remada Inn, a Motel opening in Odessa, partly owned by TV comic George Gobel.

Steve, and his associates, Loy Kern, Wayne Bracken, and Frank Head, all of them good guitarists, provided about three hours of music for the crowd that flocked to the opening, and were well received. Sharing the entertainment bill with them was a man and wife violin and piano team that played classical music.

But the local four don't play classical music. They played a combination of old and new standard western tunes, some of Steve's own compositions, and modern day rock and roll favorites.

The quartet, and Mrs. Steve Bracken and Rita Kern made the trip Sunday.

The Remada is one of a large chain of Motels, which originated in California. Others are slated for the awards banquet last Saturday.

State Commended for Reduction In Motor Vehicle Fatalities During 1958

Governor Price Daniel has received congratulations from two officials of the National Safety Council for the 8 per cent reduction in traffic deaths on Texas highways during 1958.

Second preliminary estimate on the 1958 death list from the Statistical Service of the Department of Public Safety on February 18 showed 2,336 traffic fatalities as compared with the official total of 2,539 for 1957. This reduction of 203 represents one of the greatest improvements reported by any state according to NSC figures, and the Texas percentage reduction is double that of 4 per cent reported for the country as a whole.

NSC President Howard Pyle wrote Governor Daniel as follows: "I can think of no more pleasant way to begin my activities as president of NSC than to congratulate you and the people of your State on the reduction in your traffic accident record in 1958."

"We are keenly aware of the fact that the improvement in your State could never have been achieved in the face of increasing traffic if you and your associates, and the people themselves, hadn't teamed up in a real and continuing effort to make your highways safer."

The national figures quoted by the NSC president show that only Ohio, with a reported saving of 224 lives, and Illinois, with a saving of 221 lives, exceeded Texas in reducing highway deaths. The Illinois percentage of reduction was 11; Ohio's was 11; and Texas' percentage of reduction was 8.

All figures are subject to final change on March 15, when all States and the Nation close their traffic death books.

Meantime, NSC District Director Don Hill of Dallas visited the Governor in Austin to extend his congratulations also. Said Hill: "The outstanding leadership of Governor Daniel and the splendid response by public officials and the people of Texas, saved 200 lives in Texas' street and highway traffic in 1958."

"The most encouraging thing about this accomplishment is that it is a firm harbinger of what can be attained through sustaining the trend begun last year. It was substantially the result of a mere direction of attention, by government agencies and the public, to the State's appalling traffic toll and to the duties and capacities of public servants and private citizens to reduce it.

"The really sensational gains are in the future — if we keep the faith. Cumulative gains of 200 deaths prevented each year are possible, and can be sustained over an indefinite period, by implementation of proposals now advanced by the Governor's Highway Safety Commission and the Texas Safety Association."

Director Hill concluded with the estimate that if "better tools" are provided, Texas traffic deaths can be reduced from 2,500 a year to 1,500 a year within five years. He named the "better tools" as a tougher driver licensing law, a chemical test law for suspected drunk drivers, traffic courts of record, and of original jurisdiction, increasing the manpower of the Texas Highway Patrol, universal driver education in Texas public schools, and a stronger speed law.

SENATOR Yarborough's Report

In the 100 years since the drilling of the first oil wells in Texas and the United States, oil has become a major industry.

Texas had more than 179,000 producing oil wells in 1958 and there were 38 operating refineries in the state with a capacity of 2,300,000 barrels of oil a day — accounting for 27 percent of the nation's refining capacity.

However, in spite of all this activity, the oil industry in Texas and the nation is in grave danger of being flooded by a great inpouring of foreign oil.

This isn't an argument between big oil company tycoons. Much of the foreign oil flooding into this country comes from fields controlled by the international oil cartel.

The persons being smashed in this operation are the independent oilmen—the small businessmen of the oil industry—the drillers and other workers in the fields, and the people in a later day, such as in manufacturing.

I believe one of the best remedies for this problem is provided in a bill now pending which I have co-authored along with Senator Joseph C. Mahoney of Wyoming. Under this proposal, Congress would, by law, fix mandatory controls beyond any doubt.

However, I do not think this is the only answer to the problem. During the 1958 session of Congress, I introduced a bill to provide a tariff on all imported oil. I plan to introduce a similar tariff bill during this session because I believe this method holds the best long range solution to this grave problem.

Award Given
For Loan of Car
To Local School

A certificate of merit for lending an automobile in the high school driver training program was received this week by Allsup Chevrolet Co., authorized new car dealer in Morton.

The award was made to the dealer by the Texas Automotive Dealers Association, a state-wide association of factory franchised dealers whose members have for more than 10 years loaned cars to high schools for "behind the wheel" driver education. The vehicles are loaned without charge, as a public service.

The local company loaned an automobile to the Morton High School, which has instructors qualified to teach the fundamentals of actual driving, as well as the theoretical aspects of proper use of today's modern motor vehicle.

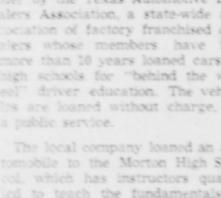

Officials of the state new car dealers association describe the driver training program as a most important part of the campaign to cut down the accident rate of teenagers and those in the arly 20's age group.

RODEO DATES SET:

Forest Stevens has been awarded the stock contract for the show, Gentry advised.

MR. PAUL BLACKWELL WRITES FROM ALASKA —

CELEBRATE 16TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY BY PACKING THINGS AND HEADING FOR BRAND NEW LIFE IN NATION'S 49TH STATE

then I asked him, and he said Mike, then I whistled at him and he replied with the biggest wolf whistle you ever heard. Quite a day we had, and I would encourage anyone going to San Diego to take a day and go out, as there is so much to see, turtles large enough for the children to ride on, bears, gorillas, lions, monkeys — and I could go on and on.

We also visited to House of Man — a museum where we saw many interesting things — And to add the bitter with the sweet we had to have a new clutch put in our car. — The only trouble we had on the entire trip — I might add we didn't even have a flat.

We departed from sunny Southern California on Friday about noon and drove to Fresno, stopped overnight there, and on Grants Oregon, Saturday night. As we went over Mt. Shasta the fog was so thick you could have cut it with a knife. Several big trucks were pulling over but we decided to chance it, so we felt our way down, just being able to see 3 or 4 of the white lines in the middle of the highway. I came awfully close to pushing the floor board out.

The rain had started in Northern California and continued through Oregon and Washington. Sunday night we got to Vancouver Wash, where Paul's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bruce, live. We enjoyed our visit with them, and our boys had a great time as they met two cousins their age, and they spent a good deal of time boxing, playing ping pong, and just having a general good time. — They have a large basement playroom and it was a perfect spot for the five boys.

Monday morning we left for Seattle and arrived there in the afternoon. We drove by Boeing Aircraft where Paul spent 2½ years in the Army. He showed the boys the very spot his gun position was located — atop the main plant. We drove into the city and I saw the place where I was employed, as well. It had been 15 years since we left there; Seattle was where we were married in 1943.

While there I called a very good friend who was a little more than surprised to hear from me. We talked of our families and I was amazed to find that her children had grown up and married and had families of their own.

We bought snow grip tires and tire chains, had the car checked and we on our way into Canada.

We entered Canada about 7:30 p.m. Sunday night where they checked birth certificates, car and trailer registration, etc. The rain was coming right down, we left customs, got on the wrong road, and almost entered the U.S. again — had to turn around and got to Chilliwack British Columbia around 9:30, where we got accommodations for the night. We called Fairbanks to let my sister know

We met some folks on their way back to Anchorage. They had been outside for 2 months and were anxious to get home. They say it's a great place, having made their home there for 12 years. The scenery in this area is unsurpassed, the pine trees were laden with snow, reminded me of Christmas card scene, I had seen.

A photographer would really have a holiday there. A little further on was the Frazier River Valley, and the Black Canyon — more beautiful scenery.

We made Dawson Creek about 5:00 p.m. and you talk about cold — It was 10 degrees below then. The clutch froze and I had to pull it up by hand, each time I had to make a stop.

Got a motel, got stuck in the snow, but got out, and dashed down to buy fur lined boots, wool socks and long johns. I can assure you we put them on as soon as possible. We had light weight oil put in the transmission and returned to the Motel.

Friday morning we arose fairly early, it was 40 below and when we found the bottle of Milk of Magnesia in the car it was frozen and of course broken. We got the car started and as we drove it was so utterly cold it sounded like it would break in two.

Dawson Creek is Milepost 0 and we were on our way up the Alaskan Highway with only 1527 miles to go to reach our destination. The snow was everywhere and the car was terribly cold, so we stopped and put an ice in the gasoline to keep vapor from forming in the block and causing the car to die. The sun came out brightly though and it warmed up some, had a good days driving except for the first few miles where we had a detour across a railroad bridge. The big suspension bridge across the Peace River was under repair — this was at Milepost 35. Most travelers are unfamiliar with the fact that this bridge is the remains of "Galloping Gertie" which in its youth danced with wild gyrations for a few days at Tacoma Narrows and then plunged into Puget Sound. For fourteen years it withstood the terrific beating of both military and civilian traffic and then in 1957 it fell in again. It was quite a thrill seeing it out there.

We journeyed on and I must say the Alaska highway is very well maintained even though it is solid ice. That day we saw a big truck jackknifed into a snow bank, heavily loaded, and a few miles on, a new Buick was stuck in the snow, a lady was out, but no one was hurt, and a truck had stopped to pull them out. Several people went off the road that day, but we were fortunate enough not to have joined them.

We met a fellow from Houston on his way to Fairbanks pulling a trailer house. He was coming up to homestead and put in a sawmill. They had had motor trouble and were waiting for a new one to be sent up from St. John, B.C.

At milepost 293 the weather was very cold. The windows on the car frosted over so that we could hardly drive. — The boys were awfully tired. Mark got car sick, and in general it was a pretty miserable day. Some of the lodges were closed for the winter and we had to keep driving. We finally got a place to sleep late that night. Made almost 400 miles that day.

Saturday morning we stopped for breakfast at a place called the Dew Drop Inn, met a man formerly from Albuquerque, N. M. We drove on to Lower Post Hotel, stopped for gas and the man told us that one day this winter the mercury had gone down to 85 below and at noon on that day it was 73 below. The coldest spot on record. We got to Whitehorse, Y. T., after 16 hours of driving, stayed at the only motel there, and left early Sunday morning, determined to reach our destination which was 595 miles. The roads were rough, chuck holes knee deep. We finally got to the Great State of Alaska around 8:00 p.m. where we went through customs again. Drove 5 more hours around mountains, until my directions are still thoroughly confused. We arrived in Fairbanks at 1:00 a.m. Monday morning, February 2nd. A very long, tiresome trip, and the only way I'd make it again would be to return to Texas.

Eddie also wanted me to give my impression of Alaska — I think I can do that in a few words — very cold, dirty, lonely, but the people are friendly. They're here from everywhere. The cost of living is much higher but wages are also much higher. There are lots of opportunities here for people who have capital.

There is a sufficient number of laborers already here until the country is more developed. I cannot see much for agriculture here as the winters are too long and only vegetables and small grains can be grown. Dairying and poultry farms could be very profitable but there would have to be a big investment in housing and feeds.

Real Estate is higher here as well. Every house has to be heated by a furnace and plumbing must be done so that it can be kept thawed by the heat.

Anyone with the pioneering spirit and plenty of muscle, might homestead and clear the land as the timber is quite thick, not so large tho. Land is available, but quite a distance from towns. What I have written is strictly my opinion — If you ever come to Alaska, your's might be completely different. — So I'll just say, drop by and see us, if and when you ever do come up. It was a pleasure knowing all our friends in Morton.

Sincerely, the Blackwells

$35 net increase per acre on cotton, despite limited water

Howard Moerbe (left), shown with Ira Clary, his Phillips 66 Ammonia distributor, says: "We have a water problem in this area, but even with this handicap, my cotton yields have been increased through the use of Phillips 66 Ammonia. My increases have averaged ¼ to ½ bale to the acre. Last year, with the least acreage, I got the biggest lint yield yet—amounting to $35 per acre net increase. You can actually see the difference when you use ammonia—the bolls are bigger, stalks taller and healthier."

"I apply my Phillips 66 Ammonia pre-plant, about 70 pounds to the acre."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be applied pre-plant or as a side dressing. It can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about leach resistant, concentrated Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

SHOW IS BIG SUCCESS

FAT STOCK SHOW HONORS ARE WELL DIVIDED AMONG 4-H and FFA MEMBERS FROM FOUR AREA SCHOOLS; 3-WAY GIRL HAS A WINNER

One of the most successful 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Shows, both from the point of the condition of animals exhibited and the prize paid for the animals by packers-buyers, was written into history, Saturday, March 14, after three days of highly interesting competition in three general categories.

One of the feature oddities and highlights of the show was the fact that two brothers claimed top honors in the calf division and an aunt uncle and nephew combination also all won first places in other divisions.

Morton had its own FFA show to open the three days of events.

Area breeders, including some of the FFA boys and 4-H'ers had a breeders show which caused a lot of good comment.

The regular 4-H and FFA Show highlighted the events.

General Supt. Raymond L. Lewis deservedly received a lot of praise for their efforts in making the show run smoothly, and the FFA and 4-H leaders got a pat on the back for the good quality of animals their boys raised and the fine way in which they showed the animals.

One of the nicer aspects of the show was the high placings won by students from four school districts. Morton FFA boys took home 9 divisional first places, Bula FFA had three firsts, 3-Way FFA, Morton 4-H, and 3-Way 4H each had a class champion.

Only Whiteface FFA failed to win a first place and that was probably due, more than anything else to the fact that they exhibited only a few animals — a lot of the Whiteface animals had been exhibited at the Hockley County Show a few weeks ago and sold on auction at that show.

Donald and Larry Shaw, brothers in the Morton 4-H Club, showed the grand champion and reserve champion calf.

In the swine division it was a pair of boys from Three Way and Bula who capped the honors. Mike Pollard of Three Way FFA had the grand champion and his nephew, Larry Pollard of Bula FFA had the reserve champion.

Kathy Pollard, of Three Way 4-H Club, a sister of Mike Pollard and an aunt of Larry Pollard, also kept the family name in the winner's circle with a first place showing in one of the swine classifications.

There were three champions in the sheep division. The champion fine wool was shown by Bill Stovall and Dub Waltrip had the reserve champion. Waltrip came back to show the champion Southdown and the champion medium or crossbred. Kenneth Patton had a reserve champion in both of these classes.

Another feature of the show was the packer-buyer auction on Saturday. Local officials, who always have expressed a debt of gratitude for the turnout of buyers and packers for the local show, were not disappointed. A nice group of out of town buyers were on hand to bid premium, over market prices on the animals, the hogs bringing and exceptionally good price.

Out of town buyers included — Mr. Berryhill, of Berryhill Packing Co., of Levelland, who purchased 62 head of hogs; Cone Green, of Green Grocery and Locker in Levelland, who purchased 4 hogs; Jim Warden of Abilene, representing Swift and Company; Elwood Harris representing Muleshoe Livestock Auction who brought a large group of lambs; J. W. McDermott, representing Edwards and Reed Packing Co., of Lubbock; a representative of Lamesa Packing Co., and one from Plains Hog Co., of Lubbock; and Collins Packing Company of Morton which purchased the eight calves.

The hogs brought about 70c per 100 over market price; the sheep went at about market price or slightly above; and the calves were

With Your... COUNTY AGENT

By HOMER E. THOMPSON
Donald Shaw, 4-H Club calf feeder with his first calf, produced the Champion calf at the annual 4-H and FFA Cochran County Fat Stock Show. Donald's calf weighed in at 855 pounds for the show April 12. There were four calves shown by the 4-H members, all of whom were feeding calves this year for the first time. Each did an outstanding job and the parents & friends of the show can well be proud of their efforts. The other 4-H feeders were Larry Shaw (Dons brother), Ray O'Brien, and Ricki Coffman.

Larry took the Reserve Champion honors with his calf and he weighed in at 865 pounds. Ricki's calf placed 2nd in the light weight class and Ray's calf was fourth in the heavyweight division.

Much credit for these boys' success must go to the parents. The boys did a superlative job because of their interest in feeding calves as well as having their parents' interest and backing.

This kind of team work is what makes America strong because the strongest tie in the nation outside the church is the family unit. The boys just pretty well did what they were advised to do. This hard work in the form of leading the calves on cold days and all — is a must to produce a good calf, advises the County Agent. These boys gained and learned by doing. They gained experience, worth more to them than anything else, even though the rewards were limited in monetary value.

The hard working foursome, Don Ricki, Larry and Ray took the show business seriously, by looking after their animals and keeping the stalls clean. This was done in an orderly and regular manner. When the herdsmanship award was given out by the judges the nod went to these four proud boys. The honor is worth more than the trophy received, hence their good deeds paid off. Congratulations and may your continued interest grow and multiply.

The following are the other 4-H Club boys showing division, breed, and placings:
In the Sheep Division, Fine Wool Class, Johnny Lloyd placed 4th, 5th, and 7th.
In the Swine Division, Hampshire, Light Class, Jimmy Gummels placed 11th; Bill Huckabee, 21st; and Johnny Lloyd, 27th and 28th.
In the Swine Division, Hampshire Heavy Class, Ray O'Brien placed 3rd and 4th.
In the Swine Division, All Other Breed, Light, Clem Kuehler placed 4th.

BUYS PUREBRED MILKING SHORTHORNS
Weidon Newsom, of Morton, has purchased Newday 262825, a bull calf, from Tom E. Johnson, of Levelland.

The new animal is a purebred Milking Shorthorn and the record of the transfer of ownership has been made by the American Milking Shorthorn Society at Springfield, Missouri.

General Superintendent of the Fat Stock Show, Raymond L. Lewis made the following statement last week:
"I would like to take this means to thank each and everyone who helped make the Cochran County Fat Stock Show the success it was. Especially our thanks to the divisional Superintendents, treasurer, judges, auctioneers, packer - buyers, and to all who served on any committee. This was without a doubt the hardest working and most cooperative group of men I have ever had the pleasure of working with. Our thanks also to the many people and merchants who contributed toward the show. Your cooperation and good spirit was the contributing factor in the success of the show. Thanks a lot."

Raymond L. Lewis
The directors of the Cochran County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show wish to thank the following firms and individuals whose cash donations made the $1,800 in expenses, including prize money possible.

POTTING SOIL FOR HOUSE PLANTS
House plants need moisture, air and food. Soil holds the moisture and air and releases nutrients gradually as the plants grow.

Directions for mixing your own soil are given by A. F. DeWorth, head, Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture, Texas A & M College. He suggests mixing one-half coarse peat and one-half good garden soil.

The garden soil contains the plant food; peat facilitates drainage and lets air get to the roots, and increases the water-holding capacity of the mixture.

This soil mixture should be suitable for most house plants such as geraniums, philodendron, ivies and begonias, says the specialist.

Plants such as succulents, cactus and sedums require a mixture with more and to provide necessary drainage. One-third sharp sand and one-third garden soil makes a good mixture for these cactus type plants.

Prepared soils are available from local florist shops and garden suppliers for those who do not have the facilities for preparing potting soils at home.

MORTON

By PAUL BELCHER

The Morton Chapter of Future Farmers of America have been studying soil conservation in class.

The boys received their chicks for their livestock program, Monday. The boys were pleased with the Fat Stock Show and the chicks they received.

The projects in show are coming along nicely. Some of them are finished and are ready to be painted. The others are done well.

Dash black pepper

Testing Soil Takes Guesswork Out of Fertilizing Crops

Testing soils has taken much of the guess work out of applying fertilizers, Dale E. Houette, manager of J. W. McDermott Fertilizer Company, pointed out this week.

But, he said, one has to remember that soil tests are no better than the soil samples taken.

To make money farming today, a farmer has to cut corners, he continued, and without proper soil management and soil testing, it is very easy to lose money by either putting on too much, too little, or the wrong analysis of fertilizer.

Sometimes, if too much of one element is added, it upsets the fertility balance and the result is lower yields, he said.

With the high cost of production, commercial fertilizer is still one of the cheapest ways to cut costs, he added.

Bob Pearce Gets Scholarship at Louisiana School

Bob Pearce, science teacher at Morton High School, has been chosen to receive a National Science Foundation scholarship valued at $1,270.00, it was announced this week.

Under the scholarship, which is an agreement with Northwestern State College of Louisiana, Natchitoches, La., Pearce will study biology and chemistry at the college this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearce and family plan to leave for the college sometime prior to June 5.

Selection was made on a basis of experience in teaching qualifications as a teacher, and past background of credits and grades already received.
