Although the Morton School Board had not met to confirm it, the word was out this week that Morton has found a new football coach.
Supt. John Barnes, queried this week about J. P. Jones of Memphis, who was looking the situation over, said that he would be the new coach, but that the board would not meet until next month for official action.
The new coach, a native of Lubbock, coached the Memphis Cyclones to a district championship year before last.
His full name is John Paul Jones, he is 31 years old, married, and has three children.

M. C. Ledbetter Expected to Be Named New 121st District Judge

It was considered highly probable here today that Governor Price Daniel would sign the bill creating a new Judicial District for Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yukon Counties, and would name Cochran County Attorney M. C. Ledbetter as Judge of the District.
Although nothing official has been confirmed, since there are a lot of details to be worked out before the new district can be put into operation, the action is expected to take place within the week.
After the Governor signs the Bill creating the new District, he will appoint a District Judge to serve until the next election, at which

ALDERMANIC vs COMMISSION CITY VOTE SLATED TUESDAY

Voters will go to the polls in Morton next Tuesday to determine whether or not Mortonsites favor having five aldermen and a mayor in place of the present two commissioners and a mayor.
What looked, two weeks ago, like it might create a lot of interest and a heavy vote, now appears to be headed for a light vote with little talk about the voting being done on the streets.
The voting will be at the City Hall with polls closing at 7 p. m. Tuesday night.
If a majority of those voting favor the different system, then an election will be called within a month to name a trio of aldermen. The present commissioners and mayor would stay on until the regular election date, next April.
Briefly, the arguments on the two sides of the issue are:
FOR —
Those for the new form of government point out that with five aldermen there will not only be a more representative group, but the broader experience of five should be able to do a better job than the two commissioner plan. They say it would be more difficult for a special interest group to control things.

ASSAULT CHARGES ARE FILED AGAINST BULA SCHOOL TEACHER

There is no word today when the trial for Jimmie G. Moore, Bula teacher, charged with assault, will take place.
Moore is charged in a complaint filed in Bailey County, May 11th, with administering too severe a whipping to a boy, Riley Pearson.
The boy's father signed the complaint.
Two other parents of boys also whipped during the same incident had indicated earlier they would also file charges but have not done so.
Moore is free on a $500 bond and the school board has stood behind his action.
The trial was originally set for May 25, but Moore was expected to be granted a continuance.
The incident came up over the conduct of the boys in the school's lunch room.
Although, under Texas laws, a teacher may whip a student, the father, J. C. Pearson charges the whipping was too hard.
Moore was reported looking for a new position, although he has been re-hired. Supt. H. A. Reynolds resigned earlier this year, and a successor has been named, in Joe Turner.
The whipping incident is one of several issues that have plagued the school this year. Rumblings of unequal taxation have been heard.

to the city's excellent financial condition and say "why change." — "we're doing fine the way it is." They say it would be more difficult to get agreement on any issue, and would be an increase in expense through salaries.

Who Makes The Laws Here, Anyway?

Does Congress make the laws that govern this country, based on the needs of the majority of citizens who live therein, or are we governed by a small — but fantastically powerful — dictatorship of men who run certain unions? Judging by the news, it would seem that the unions are in charge of the governing.

Just look at the record. The McClellan Committee uncovered endless abuses in unions . . . and throwing, blackmailing, picketing, violation of democratic rights, vicious evils . . . Laws to reform these evils were obviously necessary.

Senator Kennedy introduced a bill supposed to correct these abuses. It is not an effective bill, not by any means, and it has since been even further watered-down from its original state because of "sweetening" concessions to unions.

But there has to be an end to it somewhere.

When a man like George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO, comes right out and says that the Federation will not support the Kennedy-Ervin bill if certain concessions he wants included are not in it . . . well, the time has come for some kind of concrete action.

Are we going to sit by and just watch powerful labor bosses threaten and dictate to the Congress, just the way they do to their own members?

Are we going to allow people in Congress who want to put through worthwhile laws to be intimidated by the support or non-support of the Meany's and the Reuther's and the Hoffa's? And they are not the only ones . . . this growth of fascist unionism has got to stop. What are we building here? How far are we going to allow this tyranny of unions to grow? Unfortunately, though it started out with the best intentions in the world, the current Kennedy-Ervin bill is not the way to stop union abuses!

It is worse than a weak bill. It is simply ineffective. Instead of setting-up laws that make unions behave, it "requests" that they act like gentlemen.

Instead of a bill with the "teeth" to correct abuses, it asks the union only to report their constitution (many unions don't even have a constitution) and the names and addresses of their officers. Instead of protecting small business so that the cult of unionism-at-any-price will not coerce people into joining unions, it allows them to continue what they now do — and hog-ties an employer's efforts to bring his case to his workers.

Instead of telling-off a man like Meany: "This country is governed by the people, represented in Congress!" . . . it allows his unions to directly or indirectly own stock in the very companies he is unfairly picketing . . . allows him to tell Congress he will "not support this bill unless!"

The kind of law Mr. Meany and his pals are insisting upon will only extend his power . . . make unions more powerful.

If this continues, what can the individual worker or the small business man do? How can he maintain his rights against unions allowed to spend millions more tyrannical . . . while the employer must report anything that can be construed as an "influence" on his employees' right to unionize — even as small an item as a coffee break?

Are we to sit back and let men like Mr. Meany and their pressure groups make the laws?

Are we to settle for a Kennedy-Ervin bill and piddling reform . . . when this country needs a strong measure to rout evil? Mr. Kennedy knew what was needed — punishment that fits the crime! How did it get bogged down?

And who makes the laws in this country, anyway?

Adaptability of Sesame Is Undergoing Tests

Adaptability tests on some 200 preliminary strains of Sesame will be conducted this year on the Blacklands and on the High Plains of the Texas Panhandle in a continuing search for new and improved varieties of the oilseed crop which produced nearly one million dollars for the farmers of Texas last year.

The tests will be conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture on sites furnished by Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. and Tom Watson on his farm at Blossom in Lamar County and by Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., at Muleshoe in Bailey County. Dr. Geo. W. Rivers, research agronomist stationed at College Station, will be in charge of the projects.

"Our farmers are growing Sesame for a steadily growing market," says Robert L. Parker, executive vice president of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., "and one of our greatest needs is for research which will provide us with better strains of Sesame and more information about its culture and growing habits. We are pleased to cooperate in these studies with the Department of Agriculture and believe that Dr. Rivers' work will produce much immediately useful knowledge."

At Blossom an experiment will compare the yields of 30 advanced test strains of Sesame with presently available commercial varieties. Consideration will be given to yield, plant height, disease (if present), maturity, oil and protein content. The same kind of experiment will be conducted at Muleshoe on 30 advanced test strains.

Similarly, tests will be conducted in both areas to evaluate the adaptability of preliminary varieties planted under field conditions. Approximately two hundred strains will be checked in each locality.

Plant spacing, levels of fertility, frost damage studies and other research information will be sought by Dr. Rivers in additional experiments at Muleshoe.

Dear Friend:

For the ninth straight year, juvenile delinquency has increased nationally. And this is a problem that extends right down to the street on which you live.

The experts can give us a lot of reasons for juvenile delinquency. And in too many cases the delinquency can be traced back to the day when something went wrong in the heart or the head of an adult — not a child.

Much is being done. The situation is far from hopeless. But we also know there is no easy solution.

The entire subject of juvenile delinquency is under intensive study by a Senate subcommittee. This is good, but — alone — it is not enough.

We must — as Americans and as Texans — as fathers or mothers, first look to ourselves individually, and then examine as a group what we have been doing to meet this problem.

Our goal is simple: to prepare the coming generation to assume the responsibilities that we shoulder today. That's a job that belongs to all of us.

Delinquency will never be cured by putting new laws on the books

— whether at the local, state or national level. We need much more. We need a return to an old-fashioned quality called neighborliness.

The lasting solution, I'm convinced, must be found in the field of human relations — at the basic level of community and the family.

We have the resources to meet this challenge. Doing the job is up to us.

Together, working at every level, I believe we can get it done.

ANNUAL 4-H ROUNDUP SET FOR JUNE 9-10

"4-H Leads the Way" is the theme of the 1959 Texas 4-H Roundup to be held on campus of Texas A & M College on June 9-10. An estimated 2,000 4-H members, adult leaders, county extension agents, friends of 4-H and others are expected to attend.

While major emphasis and activities of the Roundup will be devoted to determining state winners in 25 different judging and team demonstration contests, plans have been perfected for other features. The feature of the general assembly on the evening of June 9 will be an address by Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer for General Motors, Topeka, Kansas.

Always a highlight of the Roundup, the Chuckwagon Barbeque sponsored by the Texas 4-H Club Recognition Committee, will be the opening feature of the second evening's program. A general assembly will follow the barbeque and will feature an address by President M. T. Harrington of the Texas A & M College System. Entertainment for the evening will be provided by 4-H members when selected acts from the Share - the - Fun program will be presented. Members of the State 4-H Council will participate in both general assembly sessions.

June 10 will be a day long remembered by the 4-H members. They will be competing for state honors, and in some cases, the right to represent Texas in national contests. All contestants won the opportunity to participate in the state contests by winning first place or second in their respective district contests.

The Rifle Team, composed of Tommy Morrison, Gary Coffman, Bill Ed Thompson, and Warren Norris will represent Cochran County and District 2 at Roundup.

The youth phase of Agricultural Extension Service work in Texas is now in its 51st year. Last year 106,239 boys and girls were members of the State's 4,926 local clubs.

4-H CLUB MEETINGS IN MAY

All 4-H Clubs met during May except the two clubs at Whiteface. There were 182 4-H members attending all meetings.

Three meetings were held on safety and home accidents. Each club boy was given a sheet entitled, "Is Your Home Safe?"

INFORMATION CONCERNING COTTON CONTEST GIVEN AT CLUB MEETING

At the 4-H Club meeting at Bladsoe after 4-H Leadership singing, how to start a demonstration according to each boy's interest was discussed. For example, those who want to enter the 4-H District Cotton contest should get their dad to give them at least 1/2 interest in 5 acres of cotton. Before July 1st they should make a sketch of their farm showing location of cotton on farm, give variety and advise whether irrigated or dryland. This information should be submitted to the County Agent's office by July 1st. Some boys wanted beef calves, some swine, and some wanted to enter the Sears Essay Contest to win a Hampshire gilt.

"Over Ginning" Is Damaging Cotton's Spinability, Ginners Are Told Recently

A South Carolina textile manufacturer told the Louisiana-Mississippi Cotton Ginners' Assn. recently that a recent test has shown that certain ginning practices are increasing cotton processing costs as much as 14 percent. He also said that there has been a "serious degradation in the cotton delivered to the mills" over the last 10 years.

And J. L. Delany, general superintendent of Joanna Cotton Mills Company, Joanna, S. C., added:

"This extra cost may mean life or death for a marginal mill."

The test referred to by Mr. Delany was run at Joanna under the supervision of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, National Cotton Council, the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute and the Institute of Textile Technology.

The test was undertaken to examine complaints from the textile industry that cotton quality was being seriously impaired by overheating and excessive cleaning in high grade which pays him up to 22 percent more for his cotton. But the fiber is irretrievably damaged.

"The mill then must pay more to buy, and more to process, and in our low margin of profit industry, this extra cost may well mean life or death for a marginal mill."

Based on USDA figures compiled at Joanna, we arrived at a price index of 100 for minimum gin treated cotton. For the higher grade, maximum gin - worked staple, our price index came to a whopping 114 percent.

"No industry can endure such a lack of control over their raw materials."

Mr. Delany confronted the ginners with a series of charts that showed the increase in ends down (breakage of yarn during the spinning process) and loop stops caused by overginning.

Rural Carriers Begin Work on Stock Census

Postmaster Murry Crone announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing, June 1st, 1959 Livestock Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about May 21.

This mid-year livestock survey is the first of three which your Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Department cooperatively make each year. The June 1 survey provides basic information to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin for estimating the 1959 calf crop; what the spring pig crop actually numbered and a preview of farrowing intentions for the fall season.

Also, poultrymen will get information on number of chickens raised during the spring. Those chickens will be the coming fall and winter's laying flock.

To be sure our community is well represented in this survey, Postmaster Crone urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return to his mail box.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are C. F. Winder and Walter Taylor.

Hale Center, Tex., Farmer Reports— 8100-pound Average Grain Sorghum Yield

J. C. Hurt, successful farm owner of Hale Center, reports unusually high yields of grain sorghum. He says: "Planning with J. W. Trimmier, Sr., tenant, on the proper use of Phillips 66 Ammonia and water really paid off for us."

"On one plot of 18 acres, we planted our sorghum on 20-inch rows. We side dressed it with 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia when it was five inches high. Then, following careful use of our water, we cut an average of 8100 pounds per acre from this plot. On another 300 acres, using 100 pounds of ammonia and the right amount of water, we averaged 6000 pounds."

"Without ammonia, the average yield around here is about 3000 pounds."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Cotton Week is slated May 18-23... theme is "It's Cotton Time U. S. A."... start right now by asking your merchants if they plan any sort of special promotion... let them know you are interested in seeing cotton goods pushed... a suggestion from a local customer will do more good than anything else we can think of... it's surprising how many cotton producers and handlers don't take the time or trouble (and it wouldn't be much) to promote cotton in every day contact... it wouldn't be much trouble to add... single line at the bottom of every letter you write saying, "Have you seen what a fine job is done on the new wash-and-wear?"... "Guess you know cotton wall covering is the latest style"... or some such thing that promotes the use of the world's finest fiber... one thing, though... cotton can only be sold on its merits... any promotion based on "buy cotton and help the cotton industry" is unsound...

... fortunately cotton can do many jobs so much better than anything else that there isn't any problem there... the only reason anyone should ever buy cotton goods is because they will give more service or comfort for the money than anything else.

Evidence
There's evidence that cotton is gaining in consumer use now... last year man-made fibers failed to expand their share of the market... but they did hold their own... but synthetic's failure to expand sales has only happened twice in 16 years... cotton now has 65.9% of the textile market... that's a 4% increase over 1957... remember when cotton had 81.7% of the textile market?... let's see, that was in 1942!!!

Times Change
If anything indicates how cotton farming has changed, it's the questions to be asked on the government agricultural census... conducted every five years... for the first time in history the farmers won't be asked how many mules they have... could anything indicate better the changing pattern of cotton farming???

New Weed Killer
A new "lay-by" weed spray for cotton is showing lots of promise... used in the West it has replaced two cultivations and a hoeing... savings amount to $12 to $18 per acre... experiments in Mississippi Delta look good, too... needs plenty of moisture to work, though.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

According to all official estimates, the Federal government will have a deficit in the 1959 fiscal year of $12 billion.

Since World War II only one year has the deficit been higher, and that was in 1946 when the war costs had not yet been stopped.

In fact, the 1959 deficit promises to be at least 20% higher than the deficit in peak year of Korean War.

This situation has prompted government on several occasions recently to caution business to hold a price line. Part of these statements are due to the fact that the value of the dollar, in terms of what it will buy, has shrunk from a little over 71 cents in 1946 to 48 cents in 1958.

Yet, in all these official pronouncements, no mention is made of the fact that taxes have been the greatest factor in the devaluation of the dollar.

It is more than of passing significance that the dollar rose to its highest value in 1946, the year the foreign give away programs started, and that every year since then, as the bills along the nation's Main Street have been tapper for more than $50 billion to throw away around the world, the value of the dollar has constantly declined.

It still seems obvious that you can't rob Peter to pay Paul.

While as it is argued, it may be to the American interests to have everybody fat, sassy and happy, 170,000,000 Americans cannot provide Utopia for almost 3 billion people and remain solvent.

And while it may be true that if the U. S. taxpayers provide flush toilets to every Hindu family, the Indians may have a happier outlook on life, it does not necessarily follow that unless after 6,000 years or so, they have modern plumbing all of a sudden, they are going to go communist.

And every dollar diverted to such high-sounding projects just reduces by that much the capital needed to start, or expand fresh American independent enterprise.

The nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business has on several occasions gone on record as favoring the ending of the foreign give away programs.

These expressions have not been based on a lack of knowledge of the poverty existing in many parts of the world.

But as businessmen, they know that no family, no business, no nation, can long survive on a system, whereby continuously more is spent than is taken in.

And as businessmen, they also know that even if they are running in the red at the present, it is a plan to the bank showing how they plan to get back into the black again in the near future, they will get sympathetic interest and attention.

In addition, as evidenced by the current news, 12 years of paying blackmail have done little to insure peace and security.

Instead, judging by recent events at the North Pole, it appears American security rests with men of ingenuity and courage such as Admiral Rickover, supported by the resources of a free enterprise system, rather than relying on prevailing whims of some desert Bedouin.

SENATOR YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

May 7, 1959—

Particularly in these times of widespread unemployment, the program for distributing surplus food to needy persons has quite often meant the difference between life and death.

However, I feel that this program, which is now merely a side-light of the Agriculture Department, can be improved. For example, more attention should be paid to providing a balanced diet. For this reason, I am joining in sponsoring a bill to improve the program for distributing surplus food.

This proposed new law would place the responsibility of administering the program on the Department of Health, Education, & Welfare, which has good contacts with welfare agencies in the local areas.

Under this new plan, the bulk of the food distributed would still come from government stocks. However, more emphasis would be put on providing a balanced diet. To help provide this, $150 million would be authorized for other purchases.

Certain standards would be set by state and local governments. And financial assistance would be given to communities for distributing the food locally and, where necessary, storing it.

The Department of Agriculture's responsibilities for price support and the acquiring of commodities would not be taken away by the bill.

The surplus food program has been a fine thing for this country in that it has helped people who needed extra food to live. However, I believe this proposed new bill will enable the program to be run more efficiently and will provide a better balanced diet for persons in need.

May 14, 1959—

The members of the Foreign Service of the State Department represent America overseas. Peoples of other countries form their opinions in a great part from what they see of these U. S. governmental employees.

And because of the highly specialized type of work which these people are called upon to perform, I believe they should be given the finest training possible. The actions of these Americans can go a long way in helping prevent World War III. The current talks at Geneva illustrate this.

I am co-sponsoring a bill to establish a Foreign Service Academy to train people who will represent this country overseas. It would be a post-graduate school which would help people prepare for their extremely important roles in representing America.

The Academy would be set up under the Secretary of State. Each diplomatic cadet would be required to pass entrance examinations. In addition, to insure the training would be used as it is intended, each cadet would be required to sign an agreement to complete the course of study, unless the State Department separates him from the school before that. The agreement would also provide that he or she would have to serve with the Foreign Service

This Week In Austin

Who is to blame for the special session of the Texas Legislature? In these first days of the 30-day special session, factional leaders are looking for a "whipping boy" to take the responsibility of the costly session.

The state still faces the problem of retiring a general fund deficit and raising some additional $150 millions to balance the budget for the two-year period starting Sept. 1st.

Plans to increase taxes in the regular session were met by various opposing groups.

The natural gas industry voiced bitter protests in public hearings against the governor's "severance beneficiary" levy, and the House revenue and taxation committee substituted an increase in the natural gas production tax.

Bankers of the state appeared in Austin against, and therefore took the blame for killing the so-called abandoned property law.

Big business brought all the pressure it could muster in order to sidetrack the proposed new franchise tax formula to be applied against their inter-state operations.

These activities alone give the governor a lot of ammunition for public barrage in behalf of his tax program. It is also not difficult to predict the directions the governor will look to find his "whipping boy."

New Special Navy Enlistment Change Is Announced

The Navy Department has just announced that applicants who have served in services other than the Navy may now be enlisted in the Navy in pay grade E-4 if they at the time of discharge held a rate in pay grade of E-5, 6 or 7, and no more than twelve months has elapsed and experience gained in the service is closely related to one of the Navy's open rates. Also regardless if applicant was discharged with a rate higher than E-3 he can enlist in pay grade E-3. Applicants of a service other than the Navy that were not discharged under a rate higher than E-3 can enlist in the Navy in that discharged pay grade providing he can pass the requirements of the mental and the physical exam.

All Navy men who have not exceeded more than two years since discharged may reenlist in the rate held at time of discharge if they were in one of the many open rates. For more information concerning this please contact your local Navy recruiter located at the Post Office Building, Lubbock, Tex.

was not a great surprise to the many legislators who, when the general session opened last January, predicted that a tax and deficit problem of the magnitude of Texas' in early 1959 could not be solved in the 120-day regular session. And there were many legislators who predicted that the special session would be called at that date.

The governor's tax proposals, because of their variety and complexity, required almost full attention of the legislature, and not possible with the Legislature split so many ways in the philosophy.

"ORTHOcide Soil Treater X gave me a perfect stand of cotton..."
says cotton grower Virgil Burnett of Brownfield, Texas

Referring to last year's conditions, Mr. Burnett adds: "This was in spite of cold, wet soil during planting. The soil temperatures averaged 58 to 59 degrees which is pretty cold for cotton. ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X more than pays for itself in stronger plants and more of them. It gave me strong early season growth and an earlier harvest."

ORTHOcide Soil Treater X is the best insurance against the high cost of replanting. It creates a protected zone in the furrow allowing the tender seedling to develop normally in spite of cold, wet, infected soil. The early maturity and better stands which result can bring greater profits from higher yields of top grade cotton.

Governor, President Seek Public's Ideas on How to Help Nation's Youth; White House Conference Coming up Soon

Most all Texans have ideas about the problems of children and youth, but they seldom get a chance to tell it to their President. Now they can, by filling out the Public Opinion Poll on this page and mailing it to Governor Price Daniel in Austin.

President Eisenhower and Governor Daniel want each citizen's ideas about the nation's future citizens. President Eisenhower has called a White House Conference on Children and Youth, Daniel told his appointees. "Our purpose is not to go to Washington for someone to tell us what to do about our children. Rather, it is to generate public interest in how we in Texas can meet the needs and problems of our youngsters. Responsibility rests upon our homes, churches and our schools to give training to qualify our children for citizenship."

Governor Daniel has asked that every Texan use time and thoughtful interest in expressing his ideas through the poll on this page, and mail it directly to him. The results will be tabulated and will represent Texas' demand for attention at the White House Conference.

At the first meeting of the 129 prominent Texas civic leaders on the Governor's Committee for the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth, Daniel told his appointees. "Our purpose is not to go to Washington for someone to tell us what to do about our children. Rather, it is to generate public interest in how we in Texas can meet the needs and problems of our youngsters. Responsibility rests upon our homes, churches and our schools to give training to qualify our children for citizenship."

Governor Daniel has asked that every Texan use time and thoughtful interest in expressing his ideas through the poll on this page, and mail it directly to him. The results will be tabulated and will represent Texas' demand for attention at the White House Conference.

Look at the difference made by NEW JOHNSON GRASS CONTROL!

Pictured above is the Otto Steinberg Farm, Plainview, Texas. The cotton on the left received one application of ORTHO C-56 Johnson Grass Control plus one hoeing and three cultivations. The crop on the right received three hoeings and three cultivations but no ORTHO C-56 Johnson Grass Control.

Grower of the crops pictured above, Farm Manager Jim Williams, says: "ORTHO C-56 really did a job on Johnson grass in our cotton last year. One application saved us two hoeings. This year I plan to follow up the first treatment with two lighter dosages and eliminate hoeing completely."

ORTHO C-56 JOHNSON GRASS CONTROL — a new powerful oil spray additive!

When mixed with kerosene or fuel oil, ORTHO C-56 dissolves the waxy coating of the plant and aids penetration into the plant tissue. It has no systemic or residual effect, therefore eliminates danger of incurring soil sterility. Apply by spot treating method using Texas blade and jet gun, slide gun or gravity-flow sprayer. Ideal results obtained when applied during seedling stage, before young shoots are 6 inches tall. However, Johnson grass can be controlled in all stages of growth with ORTHO C-56.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Cattle On Early Pasture Crave Salt

Years ago at the Kansas Experiment Station Dr. C. W. McCampbell and associates observed that cattle on early pasture consumed more salt than they did later on as the grass became more mature.

At the Illinois and Iowa Experiment Stations cattle fed liberal amounts of roughage of any sort ate more salt than when they were on a heavy grain or fattening ration. This peculiar behavior of these and other farm animals as well, has caused nutrition scientists to speculate as to the reason for it.

It is known that forages, whether pasture, hay, straw, corn fodder, or silage, have far more potassium, or potash, than they have sodium, the element that we have in salt. There may be from 5 to 30 times as much potassium as sodium in the roughages.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
 By C. WILSON HARDER

There are many indications that the present Congress in session is taking a greater interest in U. S. foreign policy than perhaps past Congresses have taken for some time.

It would appear that it is slowly becoming apparent that whatever the U. S. foreign policy is on the economic front has an effect on U. S. jobs and business.

Recently in Congress Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York pointed out in a sudden move, described a bolt out of the blue, that Germany levied a tariff on imported coal of $4.76 per ton.

In a normal postwar year, this country ships to West Germany something like 16 million tons of coal. This suddenly imposed tariff duty will knock out this market for American miners, creating further unemployment and hardship in the coal mining areas which have already been hard hit by previously unrestricted imports of foreign low grade fuel oil.

There is an interesting angle to this, which appears to be in direct opposition to those proponents of free trade, reciprocal tariff treaties and other measures designed to break down the U. S. protective tariff system. It has always been said that the U. S. could produce at a lower rate. From the testimony of Rep. Celler, there does not seem to be some substantiation for this viewpoint.

© National Federation of Independent Business

The German government reputedly put this tariff through to protect its own coal mining industry in the Ruhr Valley. Despite the lower German wages, and the coal deposits in Germany itself, it has been possible for American industry to mine coal and ship it across the Atlantic to Germany for presumably less cost than the German product. It fact, the purpose of this new German tariff is to make U. S. coal more expensive in Germany than the native product.

Thus, assuming that in certain areas, such as in this one, greater U. S. efficiency does overcome wage differentials, it seems hopeless battle from start.

Of course, anyone who argues for protection for American business and employment is usually labeled an isolationist.

Yet on several occasions the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have opposed cutting U. S. Tariffs. By and large, these are men who are alert to the changing world conditions.

On the other hand, as businessmen, they know you cannot cut your own nation's protection in the pious hope that others will do the same. A deal has to be a deal that has some equity to both parties.

Yet, among the idealistic visionaries who have been running the U. S. policy, the thinking for over 20 years has been that if America leads the way, everybody else will be so overcome with the American good heartedness that they will follow suit. And it is especially interesting that West Germany, which was put on its feet largely by U. S. aid, would take such punitive action without warning.

Corner on Cotton
 BY BOB COLLINS

Cotton's lower price supports and the increased subsidy for export should mean a wide open market for this year's crop... especially abroad... looks could be deceiving, however... the export subsidy is fine except that it is subject to change by the USDA before the season's cotton is sold... this means that foreign mills will buy as little cotton as possible hoping to hold up American sales until an increase in the subsidy is announced... thus by living a hand-to-mouth cotton operation they will hope to influence the price of U. S. cotton... this could be stopped by the announcement of USDA that the subsidy is firm and the price of cotton will not be cut during the season... one other thing: If the merchant must buy government cotton "sight unseen" and have no chance of getting an adjustment when the cotton is not as described, this, in effect, increases the price... the merchant will have to figure that out... he buys cotton... some experts think this risk is worth as much as two cents per pound... why won't the USDA also sell cotton without guaranteeing it to be an open market... why should the government???

Senate has passed a bill...
 Crib sheets for the law are now being made of printed cotton... fitted corners kept from being smooth and wrinkle free... they need no ironing.

Acree's Law...
 Senate has passed a bill... farmers with cotton allotments of less than 10 acres... same county... a total of 50 acres... this isn't a law yet because the House of Representatives hasn't moved on it... there will be strong opposition there... we don't if it can be passed in the present form.

ACSA To Meet...
 American Cotton Shippers Association will meet in New Orleans on May 8-9... that the USDA... support subsidy will likely... the group... Charles M. Shingleton, vice president of the... system, stated as principal spokesman.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

Sox Take Over Little League Lead With Pair of Runaway Victories Last Week

Events in the past week of play elevated the Sox into first place in the Morton Little League as they pinned the first defeat of the season on each of the two nearest competitors...

Lodbetter collected four hits and teammates Gary Franklin and Robert Decker got five between them to head up a powerful attack...

Power hitting was the feature of the Sox attack as they pummeled Pirate and Card pitching for a total of 5 home runs...

But hitting wasn't all they had. Two fine pitching jobs by Charlie Lodbetter and Pat Risinger were great to watch...

Here's how the five games for the week were unveiled:

Thursday - With Charlie Lodbetter hurling 6-hit ball and his team collecting 15, the Sox opened their season last Thursday with a 24 to 5 win over the Pirates...

Saturday -

Risinger fanned 8 and was aided by two double plays. The Sox collected only 7 hits off Robert Walker, Joey Newsome, & David Newsome but 8 errors allowed most of the runs...

For the second time in two games the Sox' Robert Decker and Charlie Lodbetter hit back to back home runs and Decker homered another time and doubled in four trips to the plate...

Sammy Nichols was the only other Sox to collect a hit. But Pat's hurling was easily the standout feature of the game...

Monday - In the best pitched game of the young season, by both teams, the Pirates bounced back from their first defeat to hand the Giants a 5 to 2 killing...

Charlie Hill hurled three hit ball for the winners, fanned 8 and walked only two men...

Penn Tom Burke was almost as effective. He allowed only six hits and only two earned runs as he fanned two men, walked none and the tying runs...

The Cubs, paced by Terrell's 3-run homer, won the game in the top of the 6th with 5 runs. Terrell had two hits and Bill Sakora threw to lead the Cubs at the plate...

hit one batter. He was the third pitcher in this young season to give up a single base on balls, a really unusual thing for Little League baseball...

There were no hitting stars. Sherrill Griffith got two of the Giants singles and drove in a run and Mike Doss had a single and a double for the winners...

It was also the first game of the season where both pitchers went the full route and only three substitutes were used in the game...

the games played this season by the Cubs. Manager Dossie Terrell's boys were guilty of 10 errors, his pitchers allowed 14 hits, gave six bases on balls and fanned five. One of the bows was a home run by Robert Walker...

Little Eddie Lyon was the real hitting star. He bashed out four hits including three doubles, good solid drives to the fence he batted in two runs and he batted in a total of five...

Three scattered singles were all the Cubs could collect but they let a lot of chances to score go a glimmering. They got three walks and left nine men on base in the first four innings...

It was also the first game of the season where both pitchers went the full route and only three substitutes were used in the game...

Pat Risinger pitched superb 4-hit ball, didn't walk a man, and seldom was behind as the Sox dealt the Cards their first defeat, 11-1...

Risinger fanned 8 and was aided by two double plays. The Sox collected only 7 hits off Robert Walker, Joey Newsome, & David Newsome but 8 errors allowed most of the runs...

For the second time in two games the Sox' Robert Decker and Charlie Lodbetter hit back to back home runs and Decker homered another time and doubled in four trips to the plate...

Sammy Nichols was the only other Sox to collect a hit. But Pat's hurling was easily the standout feature of the game...

Monday - In the best pitched game of the young season, by both teams, the Pirates bounced back from their first defeat to hand the Giants a 5 to 2 killing...

Charlie Hill hurled three hit ball for the winners, fanned 8 and walked only two men...

Penn Tom Burke was almost as effective. He allowed only six hits and only two earned runs as he fanned two men, walked none and the tying runs...

Mrs. John Barnes reviewed Parliamentary Procedure bringing out the most used procedures in club meetings. A question and answer session followed.

10¢ Pen Theft Could Prove Mighty Costly

There is a severe penalty for the willful damage or theft of U. S. Government property, Murray L. Crone, Morton Postmaster, warned this week.

The postmaster said that a person engaged in this kind of pastime is taking a "very big chance for a very small gain."

The maximum penalty for shooting or otherwise willfully damaging a rural mail box is $5,000 and/or three years in the penitentiary, he said.

Regarding Post Office supplies, he said that the maximum penalty for taking a 10¢ Post Office writing pen is $5,000 fine and/or one year in the penitentiary.

"Before committing such a felony," he observed, "it would be well for a person to balance the gain against the possible loss."

Break Ground for New Building at Lubbock Christian

Ground-breaking for the second permanent building on the Lubbock Christian College campus has been announced for 3 p.m. Saturday.

Among those expected to attend from here will be Byron Willis, a member of the college's advisory board.

The new building will be a girls dormitory. Although there are other temporary buildings, the only other permanent building now erected is the administration building.

Saturday's schedule calls for crowning of the "May Queen" at 4 p.m., open house from 5 to 7:30 p.m., and band concert and chorus program at 7:50 p.m. Those desiring to eat with the students in the dining hall may do so for 75¢ between 5 and 7 p.m.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given Sunday evening at 8 p.m. The public is invited. It will be LCC's first graduation class.

A BOAT TRIP UNDERGROUND

An underground boat ride along a river, its banks formed of fantastically shaped and artistically illuminated stalactites and stalagmites, is a treat in store for visitors to Lebanon this summer.

The Jeita Caves, an hour's ride from Beirut along the scenic rim of the Dog River Valley, will be opened to the public this spring. The boat trip, which takes about twenty minutes, is made in specially constructed flat-bottomed aluminum boats, which carry their passengers comfortably through a fairyland of chalk-white cathedrals, rose-crested pinnacles, bronze "Buddha" statues, and dozens of other stalagmite fantasies. Skillfully placed lights illuminate the banks at every turn. Sometimes lighting is from behind to highlight a particularly unusual "monument" — sometimes the lights float on the water, and as the oarsman tosses spray on them, and sometimes the lights illuminate stalactite wonders more than 300 feet above the river.

The Lebanese Tourist Office has been more than a year preparing the Jeita Caves for their opening this spring, and prior to this a study was made of caves in Europe in order to offer sightseers the very latest in cave illumination and transportation.

The Jeita Cave trip is an exciting adventure in cave sight-seeing, the only one of its kind in the Middle East.

This year awards were made to 116 candidates in 14 southern states. Stipends range from $17-

00 to $2500 plus tuition and supplements for dependent children. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Sybert of Morton.
