POSSE CELEBRATES 4TH OF JULY WITH VICTORY IN WILL ROGERS RANGE RODEO PARADE AT AMARILLO

When the Cochran County Sheriff's Posse goes into riding competition at Earth today, they'll be aiming for their third straight placing "in the money."

The Cochran County Sheriff's Posse rode to one of the most sought riding victories on the South Plains, Saturday, July 4th, when they came home with the Will Rogers' Range Rodeo Rodeo Parade trophy.

Fifteen members of the Cochran Posse were on hand to take part in the parade and they had tough competition. According to Posse President Rob Richards, the Cochran group competed against about nine other riding groups.

The Hereford Riders placed second in the parade and the XIT Riding group was adjudged third. In their previous last ride they placed second in competition at Plainview.

With its victories this year the Cochran group is certainly one of the winningest riding groups in the country.

The victory in the coveted parade also spurred interest in riding performances for the group and they announced four more rides set for the near future, the first of which will be today, (Thursday), July 9th, at Earth.

Other rides slated for the near future by the Cochran County group are:

JULY 11 - Abernathy, for Abernathy Golden Jubilee Days

JULY 17 - Tulia, for Swisher County 89th Anniversary Picnic and Rodeo

AUGUST 1st - Hereford, for Hereford Rodeo

Eight Girls Are Vying for Honor of Being Named 1959 TLF Rodeo Queen

Eight girls have entered the Texas' Last Frontier Rodeo Queen's contest it was announced this week by Rodeo Officials — and the announcement signifies a little more courage than it has meant in the past.

For this year, not only the queen, but all of the candidates will ride horses in the rodeo parade and will take part in the grand entry on horseback, instead of riding in convertibles.

Winner of rodeo queen honors is to be determined by the girl who sells the most advance tickets to the rodeo — and they are already reported selling them like hotcakes.

Each of the girls in the contest is being sponsored by a local merchant and in addition to gaining the honor of being named queen, the winner will receive a fine pair of boots.

It takes a little nerve to enter the contest — for at least a few of the candidates already announced haven't ever been astride a horse.

Those planning to attend the rodeo are urged to buy their tickets early and help one of these candidates become 1959 "Texas' Last Frontier Rodeo" Queen.

The following girls and their sponsors have already entered the contest:

Imogene Bats, sponsored by Herb Hillman.

Mary Ruth Henry, sponsored by Forrest Lumber Co.

Pat Davenport, sponsored by City Floral.

Patsy Amyx, sponsored by Doss Super Food Store.

Judy Willingham, sponsored by Derwood's Texaco Service.

Nelda Faye Fincher, sponsored by Mar-Ket Poultry and Egg.

Bill Sniker, sponsored by the Morton Malt Shop.

Vivian Ledbetter, sponsored by Tarver Furniture Co.

Burn Victim Is Reported Better

Overton J. Fullylove, Lubbock Negro musician and employee of Jenkins Music Co., who was severely burned in a flash fire here a few weeks ago, was reported improved but still in serious condition at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

Fullylove, mistakenly referred to in an earlier Tribune article as Fully Love, was burned while helping install an organ and music box in the Missionary Baptist Church here. A flash fire suddenly filled the small room in which he was working, described as the dressing room to the baptistry, and he was severely burned about the upper chest, arms and face.

He was rushed to the John Sealy Hospital by plane. It was not known what caused the explosion or flash fire in the room.

As for the services he offers, we refer you to his announcement ad on page two.

Clarke's Dry Goods Was Open on '4th'

The Morton Tribune extends to Clarke's Dry Goods their apologies for having the store listed with the "to close" group for the 4th. The store should have been listed under the "open" stores.

The store is undergoing a complete remodeling and modernization, and work was carried on during the "4th."

"FIGHT" TO BE SHOWN HERE

Fight films of the "Patterson-Johansson" world championship bout will be coming to the Rose Theatre July 19, 20, and 21. It was announced this week by Bernie Haley, manager of the Wallace Theatres here.

Of particular interest to fight fans will be the "knockdown" in slow motion.

Residents Get More Services Here Than In Bailey, Lamb Counties

One of the more interesting phases of the recent hearings held with Cochran County and the Tax Representatives of oil firms with holdings in Cochran County, was findings of a Citizens Committee appointed by the Court to check whatever they could to find about the worth of various property in the county, to compare the county's proposed and past taxes assessed with other counties nearby, and to compare our budget with that of other counties.

The committee was appointed too late to delve into the entire matter they wished to check. One of the committee members went to Austin and came up with some interesting, but admittedly, inconclusive figures.

In the final analysis, committee members generally felt they hadn't had enough time to do a comprehensive job. And they felt they were not ready or able to give any kind of authoritative advice to the commissioner's Court. Thus, they adjourned without making a committee recommendation. But they did hold several meetings. And the final hearing they held, the night before the oil hearings, they did reveal some of the pertinent information they had come across... information that showed why Cochran County has been "running in the red." The information also showed Cochran County citizens have been getting a tremendous amount of services not provided by other counties.

For instance, of three counties compared, Lamb, Bailey, and Cochran, this is the only one with a county swimming pool, county activity building, county airport, county park, and county hospital. And these are only the major services provided by Cochran County to its taxpayers... through the taxpayers' money.

Such major items off the County payroll and it's easy to see how the budget could be pared down considerably. But do we want to do without these things? Chances are we do not. The three men who made the trip, Roy Hickman, Ralph Burt, and County Judge Glen Thompson found that both Bailey and Lamb have about two thirds of their farms irrigated, while only about one fifth of Cochran County farms are irrigated.

Lamb County was having no problem with oil companies. Only about $1,600,000 of their evaluation was on oil property (approximately 30 oil wells). The values set on land, for tax purposes, were from $10 to $16 on irrigated land and from $4 to $10 on dry land with no separate grass land value. In addition, irrigation wells were taxed and improvements were taxed on the basis of real value.

Lamb County also had a series of separate road district taxes paid by the residents of various districts.

Bailey County, recently had hired a man to inventory the farm and city property and bases its tax on one-eighth of the market value. They tax personal property on one-third valuation. They have an overall $2.12 tax as compared to $1.62 for Cochran County, the information showed Bailey County's valuation was $11,000,000. Their farmland values were around 40 per cent higher than Cochran County under its present set-up.

Nearly all the members of the committee who gathered at the final meeting were of the opinion this group could do further good and obtain further valuable information over a longer period of study. But opinions were so varied, they attempted to frame no composite committee report.

THREE CITY ALDERMEN TO BE NAMED TUESDAY

ABSENTEE BALLOTING ENDS FRIDAY

City of Morton voters will go to the polls Tuesday, July 14th, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. to cast their ballots for three alderman candidates who will be added to the present City Commission, forming a six-man City Alderman form of government.

The names of ten men will appear on the ballots, one of the heaviest lists of candidates ever to appear in a City of Morton election. In addition there will be three blank spaces on the ballot for anyone desiring to write in the names of candidates.

Voters are cautioned that according to Texas Election laws the legal ballot must have all other names crossed out leaving the names of the candidates for whom the voter wishes to cast his ballot.

Although discussion was heavy last month when the ten names were placed on the ballot, little discussion has been noted during the past two weeks, and little campaigning, indicating perhaps a light vote. The possible vote has been estimated at around 500, but less than half that many would be a whopper of a vote for a City of Morton election.

The names of the ten candidates as they appear on the ballots are: R. C. Strickland, Skinner Butler, G. G. Nesbitt, C. B. Jones, David T. Rozell, Robert Richards, Troy L. Coon, J. R. Ward, J. A. Love, and W. B. "B" Merritt.

Members of the present City Commission, who will serve until next April with the three elected, are Amos Taylor and Roy Gentry, Commissioners (to be aldermen) and Roy Tarver, mayor.

Absentee voting was extremely light, it was noted this week by City officials.

Four absentee ballots had been cast through Wednesday and those wishing to vote absentee were reminded that Friday will be the last day for absentee balloting.

For the benefit of those who do not know the candidates, here is a thumbnail sketch of each, and a sample copy of the ballot appears inside this issue of the Tribune.

R. C. Strickland is proprietor of Stricklands, a local cleaning establishment, one of Morton's older businesses. He has formerly served as Cochran County Judge.

Skinner Butler is proprietor of Butler Body Shop and also is a long time resident of Morton.

G. G. Nesbitt maintains a produce house known as Morton Produce, located on Main Street, just south of the spotlight, on the east side of the street.

C. B. Jones, a retired farmer, is associated in business with his son in the city at Morton Drug.

David T. Rozell, who has worked in Morton previously, is now an employee of the Cities Service Gasoline Plant below Lehman.

"Rob" to most of his friends, is proprietor of Morton Malt Shop located on West Washington Street, just north of the Veteran's Hall.

Troy L. Coon, who attended schools in Morton, is associated with his father H. L. Coon, in the trucking business.

J. R. Ward is also a retired farmer and ex-county official, having served for several terms as Cochran County Commissioner of Precinct One.

J. A. Love, known as "Johnny" Love to most Mortonites, is a farmer, with farming interests both in and out of Cochran County.

W. B. "B" Merritt is occupied with keeping books in R. J. Merritt and Sons, Liquefied Gas, located on South Main, in Morton.

Mothers who have been missing an item or two of clothing or some other article since their daughters returned from summer Camp Fire camp are given hope of retrieving the lost article.

Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter, who took it on herself to collect a box of articles accidentally left or tossed aside, will be glad for any of the mothers or daughters to reclaim same from a box of items at her house.

EXCAVATION STARTED HERE WEDNESDAY ON DOWNTOWN, TWO DOCTOR, MEDICAL CLINIC

Excavation was underway Wednesday afternoon in Morton on a quarter block location for a medical clinic to be occupied by Drs. J. Walker Davis and B. H. (Bill) Lee.

The quarter block area is located one block east and one-half block south of the Cochran County Courthouse — at the intersection of Southeast 1st and Taylor Streets, just northeast of the First Baptist Church.

The clinic, to be constructed for Dr. Davis by W. L. Breshers Construction Co. of Levelland, will provide ample room for two doctors, according to Dr. Davis.

"And," Dr. Davis said, "if necessary, in the near future, we could provide at least temporary office space for a third doctor."

The clinic is designed with the idea of being added to at a later date.

Dr. Davis will build the clinic and lease office space to Dr. Lee — this being considered, by both doctors, as the most efficient and least complicated procedure.

Estimated cost of the project is between $40,000 and $50,000. It will face toward the west, and designs call for 2,500 square feet of clinic space.

Dr. Davis hopes to have the building completed around September 15.

The masonry building will be completely air conditioned and offer space for x-ray, laboratory, and electrocardiography facilities. The waiting room is expected to provide ample space for about 30 persons and other rooms in the building will include a business office, private and public rest rooms, and storage rooms at either end of the hall.

B and B Jewelry Store Ransacked; $600 in Watches, Rings Are Stolen

County and City law enforcement officers found themselves investigating a local burglary for the first time in about a year, Sunday, when it was reported that B and B Jewelry, located on the northside of the square, first door west of Morton Drug, was burglarized sometime July 4th or in the early morning hours, July 5th.

Boaty Boatright reported more than $600 worth of merchandise — assorted watches, a set of women's diamond rings, a pair of gold wedding bands and a set of zircon rings were taken. He said other items might be missing.

The burglary was accomplished through the rear door of the building, Boatright said.

The break-in was noted Sunday by J. L. Nations who occupies the adjoining part of the same building, to the west.

The Sheriff's Department had little to go on in attempting to solve the burglary.

CITY COMMISSION HOLDS UP ACTION FOR MEETING WITH NEW ALDERMEN

Several matters were discussed but only a few were even considered for action, Monday, as the present City Commission decided to wait until the next meeting date when three new aldermen will be officially sworn in to help with city business.

The present Commission did read and approved the previous minutes and did pay the bills which had been received.

The City Clerk was also asked about what was being done to improve the service on some small water lines and was told the city workers are at the present time trying to replace the narrow lines whenever they can.

The Clerk was also asked about the status of installation of street markers and informed the Commission that no action had been taken since prices of new signs had been brought to the Commission, and no action voted.

He also told Mayor Roy Tarver that the city employees are proceeding in an attempt to rid the alleys of weeds, though rains have complicated the job some what.

The City officials were informed that Schmiedling and Associates, engineers, have completed an engineering survey of the city and are ready to discuss possible paving they were told a meeting with the present Commission and new aldermen will be arranged as soon as the new officials are named.

Mayor Tarver was informed that absentee ballots had been printed and were available to be voted.

City Clerk Joe Seagler presented information on prices of meter taps being charged by other cities, namely Muleshoe, Levelland, Littlefield, and Plains, in response to a request by the Commission at a previous meeting. The results showed Morton's price of the other four cities. The mayors are considerably below those or suggested that action wait until the complete five man commission and mayor meet next time.

The clerk brought up a recommendation by the auditors as to a change in the method of handling water department repairs, etc. Again he was told the action should wait until the complete new commission meets.

The subject of the possibility of the city paying for lighting of tennis courts to be built by the school was brought up and Mayor Tarver suggested they need to "check into it." All agreed they felt the public use of tennis courts would be fine for Morton, but weren't exactly sure whether the City could legally pay the cost of lights on school property.

The Commission, on the motion of Amos Taylor, and the second of Roy Gentry, unanimously created a Board of Equalization, members of which will be named later. The Board meeting is set for July 20.

Mayor Tarver adjourned the meeting.

Model "Water Use Act" Is Outlined as Important Step Toward Protecting Texas' Supply of Water

Lubbock, Tex. — Perhaps the most significant paper presented at the Texas University Water Resources Conference held in May at Lubbock was one that outlined a model water use act.

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws has drafted the model water use act, and it has been distributed to state legislatures throughout the nation.

The model water use act is "designed for widespread study and consideration by state governments in order to protect, conserve, fairly allocate for use, and where necessary reserve water resources in the interest of the health and welfare of the people."

The act would first recognize that all water resources of the state, both surface water or ground water, are property of the state and should be developed on a beneficial-use basis.

The act provides for a five-man Water Resources Commission to be appointed by the Governor of that state. This five-man Commission is to make recommendations as to the most beneficial uses for the water of that state. All water in the state would be under control of the Commission with the exception of domestic supplies. No water could be used by an individual before first having been granted a permit by the Commission for such water. Even riparian uses of stream water would be subject to permit requirements.

The Commission would have as its objective the most beneficial use of all underground and surface water resources of the state. The Commission's opinion in this instance might deviate considerably from the viewpoint of those taking a contrary outlook. To the industrialist who might serve on the Commission, industrial use of water would perhaps be the most beneficial; whereas, to the agriculturist serving on the Commission, the use of the water for irrigation might seem more beneficial; and to one serving who leans toward rapid municipal growth, the preservation of water resources of the state for future municipal use would perhaps be the most beneficial. It appears that if a water use act such as the one here described were employed in Texas it might have a drastic curbing effect on the growth of the state.

The Commission would be the official state voice in all dealings with the federal government on matters pertaining to the state water resources. Also it would negotiate and formulate all interstate water compacts.

Each permit granted by the Commission would be limited in duration. The duration of permit validity would be determined by the Commission. It can readily be seen that by limiting the time that permits will be valid might definitely impair the growth of an area. If permits were not valid for an appreciable length of time, the individuals granted permits to use water would perhaps not feel justified in spending money for improvements of their operation.

In granting permits the Commission would give no preference whatsoever to applications filed first in time, but rather it would be governed strictly by the standard of beneficial use.

At any time before the permit has expired, the permit holder may be required by the Commission to relinquish his rights to the water granted him by the Commission upon receipt of reasonable compensation for his loss. If the Commission should decide that one or more applications for permits have been filed that would create uses for water which are adjudged as more beneficial or would provide a more complete utilization of available water than the permit holder is making with the water, the Commission would then determine that the prior permit should be relinquished and be granted for the more beneficial uses.

A fee would be charged for each permit based upon the class of the permit, the duration of validity of the permit, and the capital investment to be made by the permit holder. The fee could be waived at the discretion of the Commission.

If a shortage should occur or if the ground-water table in any area of the state is progressively declining, the Commission may upon its own initiative establish rules, regulations, or orders forbidding the construction of any new wells or diversions facilities or by modifying the existing uses of water. The Commission may regulate the use of ground water by proportioning, limiting or rotating uses of water, or the Commission may even find that uses have ceased to be reasonable or beneficial. Even after having been granted the right to use certain underground or surface water of the state, the permit holders could still not be assured that his supply of water would not be taken from him.

It readily can be seen that by vesting such broad powers in a five-man Commission almost anything could befall our state. To base a priority for water on a criterion of most beneficial use and to allow the determination of beneficial use to be made by a five-man Commission, the future of any particular business in our state might well depend upon the prevailing moods of this Commission.

Emergency powers of the act outlines procedure which gives the Commission the privilege of establishing the rules which could prohibit the use of the State's water resources. The Commission could, under these same emergency powers, authorize any state or local governmental agency to enter upon public or private lands and remove any amount of water necessary to protect the public health, safety and welfare. In times of emergency the Commission shall give preference to users of water initiated prior in time unless by election of the Commission it determines that such be detrimental to the public interest in the utilization of the State's water resources.

The Commission would have authority to pass rules and regulations prohibiting the pollution of the waters of the state.

A breakdown of this water use act, which has been introduced to Texas for study and comment, is published to show how some people think and a view of things with which we will assuredly be faced in time to come. Because of a rapidly increasing trend toward centralized government control, it is most important that each of us as individual water users manage our water carefully and use every gallon that we pump to produce income. It will become increasingly important in the future for us to be able to point to our high plains area and be able to say that our problems are cared for adequately and that we do not have need for a centralized agency dictating policy to us. We have definite individual responsibilities in seeing that our water is managed properly and not wasted. We cannot expect to continue to exploit the water resources of our area and at the same time expect to retain private ownership of these resources.

Let's look at the problem realistically. Either we're going to take care of this underground water upon which we are most dependent, or someone else will do it for us. We cannot have our cake and eat it too.

Oil Depletion Tax Slash Defeated In Recent U. S. Senate Action

A fight over oil taxes recently rolled over the Senate floor in debate over extension of the excise tax bill.

Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) sought to introduce the 27 and one-half per cent oil depletion allowance, saying it would raise more than $300 million in additional oil tax money.

Senator Ralph Yarborough, (D-Texas) countered that to lessen the oil depletion allowance would lessen drilling for oil in the United States. This, he added, would throw men out of jobs and cause widespread unemployment in the oil producing states.

Yarborough agreed with Douglas on the necessity for raising revenue, and offered as a substitute a proposal to tax foreign crude oil imports at two cents a gallon or 84 cents a barrel. The Yarborough import tax would not apply to Canadian or Mexican oil. The proposal would raise more than $200 million per year if adopted.

After debate the Yarborough foreign oil import tax substitute was defeated. The Douglas 27 and one-half per cent depletion defeated.

Every Game You Bowl Brings Joy to Burgess

At 42 he has held many major jobs

By LOUIS JAMES

One of the nation's biggest boosters for the great American indoor sport of bowling is Carter L. Burgess.

It isn't that he's a bowling champion or anything like that. It's simply that he's president of American Machine and Foundry Co.—AMF—world's largest producer of bowling equipment—automatic pinspotters, lanes, pins, balls, shoes, etc.

If your favorite bowling arena has an automatic pinspotter, it's probably a product of AMF's Bowling Products Group which has installed over 40,000 across the country.

Men Who Make America Great

CARTER L. BURGESS

AMF is biggest in equipment field

then Defense Secretary, chose the husky, blue-eyed Eisenhower Democrat as Assistant Secretary of Defense in charge of manpower.

Over two years later he left to head Trans World Airlines, a post he held until he was called in by AMF as president.

A dynamic executive

Burgess seems to have just about all the virtues one would expect to find in a leader. He is a specialist in handling people. An expert exponent of order and efficiency, he knows how to simplify complex problems. He bubbles with an enthusiasm that infects those working with him.

Burgess is an inordinately close reader of the daily press. He's always "up" on the news. For business news it's the Wall Street Journal and the trade press.

Some people think of Burgess as a human dynamo who drives himself hard, seeming to run his motors on nothing more than a cigar and a coca-cola.

When he isn't popping up at the celebration of some new bowling installation of AMF machines, Burgess commutes to his Pelham Manor, N. Y. home to be with his wife and five children—all girls. Do they bowl? What a question!

A young president

But making bowling equipment is only a part of AMF's activities. The company also makes industrial tools, motors, packaging machinery, generators, and a growing list of defense products for the aircraft and electronics industries. Total sales in 1957—$261 million.

Its 38 plants and 169 offices in 163 cities here and abroad employ over 12,000 workers.

Burgess, who was named president in 1958, is a Virginian (born in Roanoke). He is young, an corporate leaders go, but far from a novice. At 42, he has been a key executive in the State Department, in the Army, in education and in business.

Brilliant army career

He put himself through Virginia Military Institute in 1939. When World War II began—he was then 25—he went overseas as an MP Lieutenant.

Pretty soon he caught the eye of Gen. Walter Bedell Smith and was promoted all the way up to Colonel, becoming secretary to the SHAEF general staff.

Right after the war, Burgess became assistant to the Secretary of State and helped organize the UN at San Francisco in 1945.

In 1953 he helped re-organize the administrative side of the University of South Carolina. A year later Charles E. Wilson,

Yarborough's Report

One of the great problems of time is planning and carrying to successful completion a program for care of our senior citizens.

Thanks to medical science advances, folks are living 20 years longer than they did at the turn of the century. But although they are living longer, many aren't living well. Too frequently they end life with years of illness, loneliness and hopelessness.

This is a problem that is occurring in varying degrees in virtually every community of our nation, and it is not easily solved. That's why it made me extremely proud to read recently that the citizens of one of our Texas towns - Dalhart, up in the Panhandle has taken a unique stride toward meeting this problem. Dalhart citizens are constructing the Coon Memorial Home, an 89 bed home for elderly people, which will be operated in conjunction with Coon Memorial Hospital.

Being built under the Federal Hill-Burton Hospital Act on a federal-local matching funds basis, the $800,000 facility will be the largest of its kind in the United States. It is a classic example of how our local and national governments can work together for the benefit of all our people.

The problems of assuring proper care for our senior citizens is brought into sharp focus by the rapid increase in their numbers. The number of Texans who are 65 years of age and over has risen 143,000 in the past seven years. The count in Texas is now 651,000 elderly citizens and nationally the number of citizens over 64 years of age is increasing by some 400,000 per year.

In the face of this mounting problem, it is good to see this civic pride and betterment demonstrated in Dalhart.

The Post-Korean or "Cold War" G. I. bill which could benefit 213,000 Texas veterans, has taken another step on the road to passage. The Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee has given a favorable report on the bill.

The proposal next goes up for debate on the floor of the Senate and, if it is passed there, it will go to the House of Representatives for consideration.

I am author of the bill and was chairman of the Veterans Affairs Subcommittee which conducted public hearings on the measure. In addition, I will also be manager of the bill during debate on the floor of the Senate.

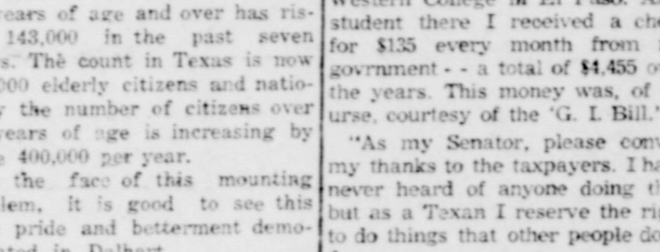

The bill now provides for educational and vocational training, including vocational rehabilitation for personnel with service-connected disabilities, and home and farm loan guaranties.

This program for the benefit of our old war veterans, who are often exposed to wartime hazards as we have seen in the attacks on unarmed airplanes and other incidents, is similar to the highly successful plans used for servicemen who returned from World War II and the Korean Conflict. The program includes the period from February 1, 1955 when the Korean G. I. Bill ended through July 1, 1963, the date of the end of the compulsory draft law. Also under this program, a great many old war veterans will be helped to buy their own homes or farms.

Great numbers of our young people, many of them veterans, continue to leave the farms because of conditions beyond their control, or upon request of any other bidder, require any bidder to submit satisfactory evidence of good faith, that he has the cash in hand or at his command to comply with his bid, and to furnish whenever called upon by the Commissioner's Court during the progress of the sale authenticated statement of some solvent member of the Federal Reserve System to the effect that the bidder has the means to purchase the lease. All bidders should come to the sale prepared to make such showing promptly when called upon. The Commissioner's Court will refuse to entertain any bid from any person who does not make a showing satisfactory to it in this respect. The successful bidder must announce at the time of the sale the name of the party to whom the lease is to be executed.

THIS NOTICE is issued pursuant to the Order of the Commissioner's Court of Cochran County, Texas, made on the 25th day of June, 1959, which embodies a copy of the lease that will be made.

ISSUED this 29th day of June, 1959.

Dear Friend:
Answering requests from the folks at home is one of the real pleasures of my job. But I've never had a request from a Texan that gave me more pleasure than the one contained in a letter that arrived the other day.

The letter came from Arles E. Howell of El Paso, a veteran and a recent graduate of Texas Western College.

His appeal was one that I believe came from the heart. It's a request that I want to fulfill. And I believe the best way to do it is to let you read Arles' letter to me.

I went like this:
"I am a recent graduate of Texas Western College in El Paso. As a student there I received a check for $135 every month from my government - a total of $4,455 over the years. This money was, of course, courtesy of the 'G. I. Bill.'"

"As my Senator, please convey my thanks to the taxpayers. I have never heard of anyone doing this, but as a Texan I reserve the right to do things that other people don't do."

"My family is not wealthy - nor am I, and it would have been very hard for me to make it through school on my own. I promise you and the taxpayers that it was money well spent - for I will be a better citizen and forever in their debt."

I'm frank to say this letter made my day a little brighter. It made me prouder than ever to be an American - to say nothing of being a Texan.

That letter underlined anew what I've known all along:
With young Americans like this coming out of Texas, the future is brighter than our past. And we can thank Arles Howell and thousands like him for making it so.

Dear Friend:
Justification of recommendations already made is the picture I get out of the President's Cabinet Committee report on inflation.

The report falls short of what is needed.

All I want is to fight inflation, and I don't know anybody who wants more of it.

The report virtually ignores one of the most serious aspects of inflation. That is the mounting cost of money.

The Administration wants to increase the rates on long-term government securities. But it is obvious this move would affect interest rates up and down the line.

Sooner or later, the result would be felt where such inflationary action is always felt - by the consumer.

I'm convinced that few things have contributed as much to inflation, as rising interest rates. But the only things the President's Committee had to suggest on this question was that the sky should be the limit.

Congressional skepticism over this White House proposal to boost interest rates is increasingly apparent, and the Senate, I'm confident, will take a long hard look before taking any action.

To many people, this looks like another way of boosting interest charges all down the line. If this move is necessary and if it will be for the best interest of all the people, Congress must be convinced of that fact first.

I refuse to believe we are as powerless to control our finances as some think.

I believe the cost of money can - and must - be kept within the reach of the average American. And this is a move to fight inflation, not foster it.

This Week in AUSTIN
by Senator Preston Smith

Attacks on the state's press for supposed "criticism" of the 56th legislature are actually being voiced by a loud minority. But the tension created by this so-called "criticism" of the press indicates a deeper and more serious situation borne faced by many lawmakers here.

I do not regard the comments of the state's papers as unfair, or as aggressive attempts to "give lawmakers a hard time."

It also seems pretty improbable that any legislature here would deliberately stall work in order to keep the legislature in session longer.

Most lawmakers are watching their records carefully, with another eye on the new, earlier primary election laws. Many election campaigns must be planned and underway by Christmas. And lawmakers now in office are very re-considered. That's how they'll run their re-election campaign. In other words, they are "under the gun" now, and doing the best they can. The delay of this financial legislation is not going to help anyone's campaign for re-election, and yet, lawmakers face this delay rather than rush through any tax bills that may disappoint their area.

In reporting this delay, the newspapers of the state have reported the news of the legislature. But the acute discomfort felt by legislators so conscious of their records comes from an awareness that potential opponents are going to take advantage of every word they will race in the campaign election. His opponent's exception to any voting measure take exception to any vote on Jeff Davis' birthday. He use his supporters' approval everything without taking use he has not had to take in legislative office. With these problems before the members of the legislature have not done the legislation confronting them with care. The legislature's duty of "get back some" respective areas for personal or business reasons.

Your Car Gets Attention at Edward's 66

"If I can accommodate you in any way, do not fail to call on me," says Cecil Edwards, operator of Edward's 66 Service, located on the Muleshoe Highway on North Main, Morton.

(Edward's 66 Service is directly in front of Windom Oil and Butane.)

And Cecil knows how to provide your car, pickup or truck with the best in tire service, the best in Phillips 66 gasoline, oils, greases, batteries, and accessories.

Among the accessories you'll find at Edward's 66 are car deodorants, car polish, car mats and flaps, cool cushions, tube repair kits, headlights, additives, etc.

Prior to moving to Cochran County, Cecil and Mary (his wife) resided at Childress where he was employed by the Smith Land and Cattle company as a ranch hand.

In 1948 the family moved to Texas' Last Frontier, settling on a farm in the western part of the county.

From 1964 to 1956 Cecil served as Constable of Pct. 4.

In 1957 they moved to Morton and Cecil joined L. A. Cochran's Texaco Service station — now Derwood's Texaco. He was employed there until May 20 of this year, when he opened Edward's 66 Service.

Cecil and Mary were wed in 1932. They have five children, Doris, Norma, Joyce, Sammy and Carol. Doris and Norma are married; Doris is Mrs. Romy Rollins of Amarillo and Norma is Mrs. Raymon Martin of Sherman.

Fishing is Cecil's favorite sport, but he always looks forward to this time of the year, because he still loves a good rodeo.

Returning to Edward's 66 Service — don't fail to drop by at your first opportunity if you're interested in giving your car the service available at a modern 66 station, and if nothing else, drop by for a visit, you'll enjoy passing the time of day with Cecil and he'll be pleased to have your company.

COTTON INSECTS

Cochran County Cotton Growers need to be alert for cotton insects which prevent fruit from developing on the cotton plant. The cotton generally is 10 days behind schedule. Thrips, fleahoppers and lygus bugs should have been controlled at least the last two weeks of June. To have to control them now means you are already late in setting your early fruit to produce early mature cotton. Secondly, now is the time that no control measure should be taken, because this should be the rest period for beneficial insects to build up.

The 1956 cotton is not up to the 1953 cotton maturity at this stage of the game. Besides moisture, there is another factor just as important in producing quality cotton. That is temperature. The latter is one prime reason why cotton is farther behind in maturity this year. The month of May and early June was extra cool. Cotton is a hot dry weather plant and does better at 85 to 90 degrees temperature.

4-H CLUB SVINE

Rodger Jeffcoat, a 4-H Club boy, was selected to keep the 4-H Sears boar. Two committeemen, Erwin Merrit and Ray Lewis and the County Agent visited several farms Thursday, July 2, in the Abernathy and Lubbock area to select a Hampshire boar pig. A boar pig was selected from the T. Kuler Liner farm at Lubbock, Texas Friday morning and delivered to Rodger on the J. W. Jeffcoat farm. J. W. and the County Agent delivered the boar pig.

Wednesday afternoon, July 3, at 5:00 p. m. all Sears pigs will be brought to the County Agricultural Building in Morton for vaccination. G. D. Lindsey, veterinarian, Levelland, will be here to administer the chlorea vaccine. Rovac or Swivax will be used because it is a safe vaccine.

Dr. Lindsey will visit the Jeffcoat farm to look over his premises with the County Agent immediately following the vaccination period.

In a year or two, we should have many good Hampshire pigs in the county, because the committee has given much toward advancing this program.

The Committeemen are: W. M. Butler, Jr., Chairman; Ray Lewis, Erwin Merrit, Ed Nieman, J. C. O'Brien, and G. W. Garrett.

Johnson grass control in cotton with spot spraying is a good method for controlling this pest.

Do it right after the lay-by cultivation. A jet-gun spray is recommended for spot spraying. If you use a jet-gun sprayer use either Dalapon, or C-56 chemical. Both are recommended. Follow directions on the can.

One pound of Dalapon mixed with 5 gallons of water; or 99 gallons kerosene, 1 gal. C-56 and 1 pt. dinitro. If grass is green or growing most any age is O. K. If grass is young shoot it in the twirl and plant by dampening it thoroughly. If on older grass, get it before its seeds mature and spray the crown thoroughly from the ground up to about 10 inches high.

NO. 179 PUBLIC NOTICE
PUBLIC AUCTION
 Property situated within the County of Cochran, Texas to be offered at public auction for lease for mineral development purposes by the Commissioner's Court of Cochran County, Texas.

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 5421p, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, the Commissioner's Court of Cochran County, Texas hereby offers to lease for mineral development purposes, subject to the right to reject any and all bids, at public auction in Morton, Texas, at the County Court House of Cochran County, Texas on the 20th day of July, 1959, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., the oil, gas and other mineral rights in and under the following described tract of land belonging to the County of Cochran, Texas, and being an undivided one-half interest in and to Labor 23, League 109, Abstract No. 88, Jeff Davis County School Land, in Cochran County, Texas.

The delay rentals shall be $160.85, with right of proportionate reduction, and the lease shall be for a primary term of five (5) years and as long thereafter as oil, gas or other mineral is produced from the land under said lease. All of the land described above shall be bid on as a whole and shall be included in one lease.

The lease shall provide that the royalties to be paid by Lessee, with right of proportionate reduction, are:

(a) On oil, one-eighth of that produced and saved from said land, the same to be delivered at the wells or to the credit of Lessor into the pipe line to which the wells may be connected. Lessee may from time to time purchase any royalty oil in its possession, paying the market price therefor prevailing for the field where produced on the date of purchase;

(b) On gas, including casing-head gas or other gaseous substance, produced from said land and sold or used off the premises or in the manufacture of gasoline or other product therefrom, the market value at the well of one-eighth of the gas so sold or used, provided that the gas sold at the wells the royalty shall be one-eighth of the amount realized from such sale; and where gas from a gas well is not sold or used, and said lease is not then being maintained by production, operations or otherwise, Lessee shall pay, at monthly intervals, as royalty (called shut-in gas well royalty) for each month a well is so shut in during or after the primary term, a sum equal to one-twelfth (1/12) of the amount of the annual delay rental payable under said lease in lieu of drilling operations during the primary term on the number of acres subject to said lease at the beginning of each such monthly period, and during the time for which Lessee is obligated to pay such shut-in gas well royalty it will be considered that gas is being produced from said lease within the meaning of paragraph number 2 of said lease; and

(c) On all other minerals mined and marketed, one-eighth either in kind or value at the well or mine, at Lessee's option.

The royalty shall have free use of oil, gas and water from said land, except water from Lessor's wells, for all operations under said lease, and the royalty on oil and gas shall be computed after deducting any so used. Lessor shall have the privilege at its risk and expense of using gas from any gas well on said land for stoves and inside lights in the principal dwelling thereon out of any surplus gas not needed for operations under said lease.

The Royalty shall be as provided in said lease and as above set out, no more and no less. Competitive bidding on the lease on said land shall be confined to the cash bonus offered over and above the royalties and rentals provided in said lease. All prospective bidders are referred to the Order of the Commissioner's Court of Cochran County, Texas authorizing this notice for the exact and detailed terms and provisions of the oil, gas and mineral lease which the Commissioner's Court of Cochran County, Texas will make, a copy of the lease which said Commissioner's Court proposes to make being included in said Order. The Commissioner's Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

In order to afford protection to all interests involved against irresponsible bidders, the Commissioner's Court may, on its own initiative, or upon request of any other bidder, require any bidder to submit satisfactory evidence of good faith, that he has the cash in hand

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Texas — Much more than just taxes is being written now at the State Capitol.

Political careers are being shaped — or broken. Climate is being determined for business development — or freeze. Cost of living for every Texan is involved.

That's what the edginess, temperament, fussing and name calling is all about right now.

Seldom, if ever before, have lawmakers been so sensitive to criticism — from governor, from press, from public.

For the first time in years, the House met on Saturday (June 20) to work on the long overdue tax bill. Knuckling down had come reluctantly, but surely, after governor and press had chided lawmakers for long Thursday to Monday recess during the short 30 day special sessions. Lawmakers fussed back earlier in that week but they stayed late.

For the last part, the fussing was all bark and little bite. House members who threatened to evict capitol news reporters from their capitol quarters and the House floor press table in reprisal weren't taken seriously. Reporting of legislative affairs is fundamental to the democratic better than do lawmakers.

In brief: pressure mounted . . . a safety valve blew . . . and work was resumed in earnest.

NEW TAX PROPOSAL — A 2 per cent "luxury tax" on items costing more than $50 is the principal new feature of House committee-approved revenue bill. Tax committee voted 12-10 to send the bill by Rep. Frates See-tington of San Antonio to the House floor.

Like several previous bills, it was an attempt to compromise the conflicts between the "sales taxers" and "business taxers." It would raise an estimated $170,000,000 for the biennium.

About $26,000,000 would come from the luxury sales tax. About $6,100,000 would come from a one per cent severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, and about $18,000,000 from increased franchise taxes on corporations.

Rest would come from increased levies or gross receipts of utilities and sales of automobiles, tobacco, wine and liquor.

In the showdown on taxes last session, the House refused to approve a bill heavy on sales taxes. Some committee members voted against this bill on the grounds that a two per cent sales tax, even though it was only on $50 or more items, would be ruinously unpopular.

A majority of the Senate, however, has shown definite disapproval of leading too much of the new burden on businesses. They feel heavy business taxes would shut out industry and cut off the source of new prosperity.

SPENDING BILLS RE-PASSED

Both houses re-passed the appropriation bills that went through the first special session. They went to sane conference committee that worked before a

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
 BY C. WILSON HARDER

The furor raised over the bill pending in Congress to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 per hour is an interesting one.

It is quite questionable whether Congress is on sound ground when it attempts to establish a wage rate by fiat. The majority of the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have long opposed wage rates set in this manner.

But a very cogent argument comes from a reader of this column, who also happens to be one of the independent businessmen voting against this proposal.

This gentleman points out that for some time, the nation has been worried over the escapades and more serious scrapes of the teen agers. This has often been referred to as the juvenile delinquency problem.

Now he goes on to point out that in his business, there are times when he could give odd jobs to inexperienced boys that would enable them to earn some spending money, learn something, and maintain their self-respect.

But if he hires a green inexperienced boy, at present he has to pay him a minimum of a dollar an hour.

Thus, for odd jobs, he prefers to hire whatever mature men are available as they usually have knocked around enough that they know how to perform simple jobs he has to be done without time being spent in instructing them.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Thus, due to Congressional action, youngsters lie on street corners although they would prefer to do something worthwhile.

Yet, there is a great drive put on Congress to set a new minimum wage law.

And by one of the strangest paradoxes of the times, many of the most vociferous proponents of establishing a minimum wage by law, are opposed to any law which permits a manufacturer to establish the minimum price for his brand of merchandise.

Bearing in mind that Fair Trade laws do not apply to an entire commodity but only to those brands which are usually advertised and represent the highest quality. Yet those who oppose letting such manufacturers set a fair price on their brands often believe that every person, regardless of aptitude, energy, ability, or integrity, should be guaranteed a minimum wage by law.

And unlike the need for Fair Trade laws, if there is to be any honest American merchandise on the market, the minimum wage debate is largely an academic one. It is quite unlikely during this period that any large number of people are working for the present minimum wage of $1 per hour.

But there is an inherent danger in establishing control of these matters by law.

With few exceptions, neither socialism nor communism come into power in a nation overnight. Long before this happens, there is a long, slow build up during which people are mentally conditioned to accept government control in certain areas as a natural thing. From this point, it is but a short step to the end of democracy.

Auto Insurance Rates to Drop Slightly After Aug. 1st, Insurance Board Says

Auto insurance rates will be slightly lower for Texas car owners getting new and renewal auto policies after August 1.

The announcement came last week from Penn J. Jackson, chairman of the State Board of Insurance.

After checking rate figures this week, a spokesman for the Williamson Insurance Agency said auto insurance cost reductions were being made in the following rates: bodily injury, property damage, comprehensive, and $50 deductible collision.

No change is scheduled for rates in regard to medical payments.

Although a slight reduction is set for autos with drivers over 25 years of age, the greater reduction will be in rates on automobiles where the drivers are over 25 years of age.

Rates for autos owned by farm residents are slightly under those for town residents. For autos operated by drivers over 25 years of age the new rates here will reduce bodily injury liability, coverage of $5,000 per person and $10,000 per accident, from $19 to $18 for town residents, and from $14 to $13 for rural residents.

Property damage coverage of $5,000 will be reduced for town residents from $16 to $14 and for farm residents from $12 to $10.

A slight general reduction will also be made in $50 deductible collision costs.

For an automobile in the low-price range, no driver under 25 years of age, coverage of bodily injury liability $5,000 and $10,000, property damage liability coverage of $5,000, medical payments coverage of $2,000, comprehensive, actual cash value, and $50 deductible collision, the reduction for a town resident would be from $166 to $153 and for a farm resident from $141 to $130.

In the medium price range, same coverage, the reduction for a driver over 25 years of age will be from $190 to $182 for non farm resident and from $164 to $156 for farm residents.

MRS. BETH REVIS WAS F.O.R. CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Beth Revis was hostess for the F. O. R. Home Demonstration Club which met in the regular session on June 24th at 2:30 p.m. Eight members were present and two visitors, Mrs. Nock and Mrs. Meadow. Presiding officers were Mrs. Oland Clifton and Mrs. C. D. Arnold.

A general business session was held and the members voted to sell candy to raise funds. A crafts workday was scheduled (and held) for July 1 in the home of Mrs. C. D. Arnold. Members met at 9:30 a.m. and everyone brought a sack lunch.

Members and families and visitors who attended the ice cream and cake supper on June 12 at Mrs. Revis' reported a very nice time. The games were lots of fun and everybody enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

After adjourning the hostesses served pineapple ice box cake to those present.

The next regular meeting will be on July 8 in the home of Mrs. Arnold. Miss Petty will meet with the club at that time.

ONE OF THE 7 BIG BESTS CHEVROLET GIVES YOU OVER ANY CAR IN ITS FIELD

- BEST DRIVING: Chevrolet establishes a new high in driving styling.
BEST BRAKES: In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCART, Chevrolet out-stopped both of the other leading low-priced cars...
BEST ROOM: Official dimensions reported to A.M.A. make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 6.9 inches wider than comparable cars.
BEST ENGINE: Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CAR ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price. BEST RIDE: MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

BEST TRADE-IN: Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."
BEST STYLE: It's the only car of the leading low-priced 8 that's unmistakably modern in every line.

INDIANS MOVE WELL OUT AHEAD OF FRONTIER BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Romping to three wins over the long weekend, the Morton Indians practically sewed up things in the Babe Ruth League this past week as they ran their undefeated victory string to nine league games.

Two of the weekend victories, on Friday and Saturday, came over the Tigers, their local rivals. On Friday they won an easy 11-2 triumph. But Saturday it was a different story. They edged out a 5 to 4 win, after trailing most of the way, 4 to 3, in a game called at the end of six innings because of league time limit.

Monday, with Glen Kuehler getting the only hit in the game, the Indians beat the Whiteface Cardinals 4 to 1, scoring all of their runs on passed balls.

Both Steve Middleton, who pitched the local's no-hitter, and Joe Henderson, who started for the Whiteface team, hurled fine ball for four innings. Henderson walked seven men, but at the same time he had a fine curve ball and a good change of pace pitch working for him, and but for the passed balls and errors could have very likely shut out the Indians.

Middleton was really impressive. He fanned 17 batters and walked only four and hit one batter. The only play that came near to being a hit off Middleton was a solid smash by the opposing pitcher Henderson, that Steve snared as it came through the box and fired to first for the first out in the second inning.

League standings were unavailable because of inability to get scores of games played at Sunday.

It was announced Monday night that on July 13 the Whiteface and Morton Tiger teams will play a double header starting at 6:00 p. m. debates this year is having its third round.

Rep. James Bates of Edinburg, sponsor, told the House tax committee the bill wouldn't change the escheat laws that have been on the statute books for years. He declared it would make the old law more workable.

Bates' bill, as introduced this session, would require banks and others holding money or property unclaimed for seven years, to report it to the state within 60 days after passage of the bill.

It would also give the state agencies the authority to examine the books and records of businesses to see if they are holding such property.

Bankers labeled it a "free hunting license into all bank accounts" and "unconstitutional search and seizure."

Bill was sent to subcommittee.

STUDENT FEE BILL MOVES — Making progress in its second legislative round is a bill that would allow state colleges to require students to pay an activity fee.

A similar bill died in the first special session.

It would allow the colleges to make mandatory a student fee of $20 a semester. This would pay for such campus services as hospital and medical care, book rentals, student publications and tickets to athletic and cultural events.

College presidents are supporting the bill. Those from smaller schools, particularly, say they need the extra revenue to stay in the black on these activities.

A spokesman for student groups opposed, said the poorer students would rather do without these services than pay fees.

Senate Finance Committee leaned toward the president's view and voted the bill out by a 2-to-1 majority.

NEW BEACH BILL — Senate has a simplified substitute for Rep. Robert Eckhardt's bill to protect public beaches.

The new bill says that no one shall get in the way of the public's right to go to or from public beaches. It leaves to the courts the job of defining where the line is between public and private ownership along the coast.

It would not, according to its Senate sponsors, cloud the title of privately owned land next to the beaches. Sponsors are Sens. Jop Fuller of Port Arthur, Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, Culp Krueger of El Campo, and Robert Baker of Houston.

At the House committee hearing on the Eckhardt bill, many came to testify for and against. Supporters of the bill said the only opposition was from "selfish land owners." Opponents called it an effort to "take land without just compensation."

— O —

AUSTIN, Tex. — About the only cheerful remark heard around Texas Legislative halls of late is "Think how bad it would be if it weren't air conditioned!"

(House and Senate chambers are cooled this year for the first time, though most of the rest of the Capitol is not as yet.)

Many remember summer sessions in pre-air conditioning days. Scorching extraordinary was the one in 1949 which ran to July 6, longest regular session in Texas history.

Lawmakers and reporters complained that the huge granite blocks in the Capitol walls collected heat like a Dutch oven. Coat and tie rules in the legislative chambers, added to the misery.

Some observers said that the 1949 Legislature (which also had a tax problem) didn't really quit. They just sort of melted down. A special session was called the next winter to clear up money problems.

For all its comforts, air conditioning hasn't taken the sweat out of passing a tax bill.

Both House and Senate have passed tax bills, and a new comference committee was put to work to try to piece them together. But the floor action preceding passage gave no indication that any of the conflicting groups is ready to give an inch.

House membership is split three ways into (1) those who don't want the majority of the new taxes to fall on business, (2) those who don't want a majority to be sales taxes and (3) those who apparently don't want any new taxes.

Each of the first two groups has been able to defeat the others proposals with the help of the "no taxes." Hence, despite public impatience and their own weariness, lawmakers have been ensnared in a one-step-forward and two-backward pattern.

SOMETHING OLD — SOMETHING NEW Given to the conference committee on taxes were a new bob tailed bill from the House and an old, nearly full-sized bill from the Senate.

The House bill would raise about $106,000,000 over two years about $70,000,000 less than is needed. Senate bill, designed to raise about $160,000,000, is the same one passed by the Senate in the first special session. It contains more sales taxes than business taxes which the House refused to accept the last round.

Cut from the House bill before passage was the $50 deductible sales tax (a 2 per cent levy on cost over $50) and the natural gas severance beneficiary tax. Both fell by the way side in one of the "if you kill my tax, I'll kill yours" sessions.

Remaining in the bill were levies on which the house has been able to agree all along — on cigarettes, liquor, auto sales and corporation franchisees.

"New wrinkles" added were (1) a licensing fee for private clubs that sell liquor and a 10 per cent sales tax on boats, motors and airplanes.

Bill also contains a provision to cut the sulphur tax from $1.40 to $1.30 a ton.

House conferees, none of whom served on the committee last session, are Reps. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen, Frates Seeligion of San Antonio, Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, Joe Ed Winfree of Houston and John Allen of Longview.

Senate conferees include four who served before. Sens. Rudolf Weinst, Dorsey Hardeman, Bruce Reagan and Jimmy Phillips, plus one new member, Sen. Wardlow Lane.

SENATE OKAYS BEACH BILL

After considerable haggling and several close votes, the Senate passed a bill to guarantee public access to public beaches.

Mustang and Padre Islands are exempted from the provisions of the bill. Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, who sponsored the amendment, said that the Islands were being developed with a systematic plan for public parks, beaches and recreation areas.

Opponents to the exemption said it would allow at least one-third of the beaches on the Islands to be under private control.

As passed by the Senate, the bill does not try to define boundary between state and private land, but simply affirms the public's right to come and go from state beaches by way of roads.

FREE BILL ADDED TO CALL

A bill to let state colleges charge a $30 a semester activity fee got a new lease on life when Gov. Price Daniel submitted it to the Legislature.

The bill had been introduced twice, but fizzled out in the Senate when Sen. Henry Gonzalez challenged it on two points: (1) it was not "within the governor's call" for the session and (2) in order to be considered "within the call," it would have to be regarded as a revenue-raising measure which must originate in the House.

Governor Daniel's action changed this, and the Senate went back to work on the bill. A similar bill was passed by the House last session.

NO DEADLOCK HERE — Earliest agreement of the session was on a bill appropriating money to pay legislature expenses.

Both House and Senate gave final passage to a bill transferring $400,000 from the cigarette tax fund to pay costs of the second special session.

This brings legislative expenses thus far to about $2,700,000.

LAND SALE APPROVED — House passed a bill that would allow the state to sell a tract of about 40 acres just north of the State Hospital in Austin.

State Hospital Board has declared the system does not need the land. Austin city officials would like to see it privately owned so property taxes could be collected on it. Location is such that it could be used for a shopping center.

Bill sets the minimum price at $1,500,000.

TEC TO MOVE — Texas Employment commission will be the first state agency to move into one of the new buildings being built north of the Capitol.

Beginning July 16, TEC will cart some 686 employees and 11,000 items of furniture and equipment from 11 rented buildings to its new headquarters.

Operation is to continue around the clock and be complete on July 20. Unemployment checks lay is expected to be made will not be issued July 17, but de end of the next week.

Corner on Cotton
BY BOB COLLINS

Recently some cotton organizations began talking of the need for over-all public relations in the industry . . . this was initiated, no doubt, by many of the erroneous statements concerning loans, "windfall profits" and any number of other things that make the farmers and merchants look like parasites on the national economy . . . when widely circulated magazines and newspapers leave the impression that federal aid to farmers is nothing but charity and when merchants are accused of "windfall profits" when they insist upon getting what they pay for, it's evident an information program about farming is long overdue . . .
