Lightning Strikes R. E. Dodd Home; Storm Brings .28 Inches of Moisture

An official .28 inches of rainfall was received during Tuesday late afternoon and early night storm which passed over Cochran County, but did more damage in other counties of the South Plains.

The storm brought only "near hail" to this county, sleet being reported in two places.

However, two freak mishaps, one of them very costly, was attributed to the electric storm.

Late in the afternoon the fire siren suddenly began to wail, interrupted for several minutes, sending folks scurrying to shelters in anticipation of a tornado. As it turned out, evidently lightning hit the city hall, or the circuit there, causing the alarm to ring the master switch to stop the siren.

Less than an hour later they had to open the master switch again to beckon firemen to a real fire. The home of R. E. (Red) Dodd, south of Morton, was struck by lightning, probably at the TV antenna. Dodd told firemen he was watching a TV show with Indians rushing at him on the screen, and suddenly the TV set just blew up and scattered debris all over the living room.

The bolt of lightning caused severe damage to the house in addition to starting a fire in the walls which was doused. About two hours later firemen returned to the same place where they found a fire under the floor of the house, and this destroyed a swath about 6 feet by 10 feet before it was put out, firemen reported.

The wind did not reach the intensity in Cochran County that it did in neighboring counties.

PURCHASE IS URGED . . . Water Conservation Stamp Goes On Sale In Morton

The Water Conservation Stamp, put the new 4c stamp on sale Friday, April 22nd, as he got together with three members of the area water conservation units. O. L. Castle, Chairman of the Cochran County Water Conservation Board of Supervisors got the honor of purchasing the first stamp and W. M. Butler, Jr., secretary of the Cochran County High Plains Water Conservation District 1 made the second purchase.

The stamp was first put on sale April 18th at Washington D. C., at the National Watershed Congress meeting, and was slated for nationwide sale on the 19th. The local sale was held up until the proper water conservation and soil conservation folks could be rounded up to coordinate the publicity on the release of the stamp.

Ed Thomas, local Soil Conservation Service worker took the picture shown, on page one. With 88 percent of all persons living in this country, city residents and only 12 percent living on farms, the issuance of the water conservation stamp has a two fold purpose.

It is hoped it will make the 88 percent conscious of the water conservation practices that are necessary by the 12 percent in order to provide produce for the entire nation. Secondly, it is hoped the 88 percent will understand what farmers have long understood, about the need to be careful with water, our most precious natural resource . . . to use it carefully and sparingly, and to be conscious of ways and means of conserving it.

Area folks are asked to make sure, the next time they buy stamps, that they get some of the water conservation stamps, and use them on their letters, to help foster and promote this understanding.

OVER BACK-COUNTRY ROADS AT 45 WITH A SKY-HIGH LOAD OF TIMBER

Chevy middleweight shows the big rigs how it's done!

That's a 6303 medium-duty Chevrolet powered by a 283-cu-in. V8. But there's sure nothing medium-duty about the load. Mr. J. E. Blankinship, Arkansas logging contractor, says both of his torsion-spring 6303's "move along at 40 to 50 miles per hour with 55,000 pounds gross weight and maintain a 5-trip-a-day schedule with no trouble at all." Figure the money you save when you've got a medium-duty truck that can cover 30,000 back-country miles a year with a high-tonnage load!

We've never seen anything like the amount of praise truck owners are heaping on Chevy's new torsion spring suspension. Owners like the fact the truck handles a whole lot easier, can move faster off the road without beating the driver to death and shaking loose all the sheet metal. They like the idea of extra thousands of miles before trade-in! . . . Drive a '60 Chevy just once. It's a whole new experience.

Chevy middleweight averages 200 miles of back roads a day dogging timber out of the woods and delivering it to the mill at Crossett, Arkansas.

Robert Calvert Seeking State's Chief Justice Position

Robert W. Calvert of Hill County, candidate for the post of Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, has been active in civic affairs since entering the practice of law in Hillsboro in 1931.

Judge Calvert was first elected to the post of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court in 1950, defeating two opponents in the primary with a majority of 100,000 votes. He was re-elected to that post in 1956 without an opponent.

Judge Calvert is now seeking advancement to the position of Chief Justice.

A native of Giles County, Tennessee, Judge Calvert moved to Texas in 1913.

His father died six years after his birth, and upon coming to Texas Judge Calvert was placed in the State's Orphan's Home at Corsicana. He was graduated from high school there.

After saving enough money to enter college, he enrolled in the University of Texas from which he received his law degree in 1931.

He served six years as a member of the Texas House of Representatives from Hill and Navarro Counties, being twice re-elected without opposition. He was elected speaker of the House in 1937.

He served as county attorney of Hill County for two terms.

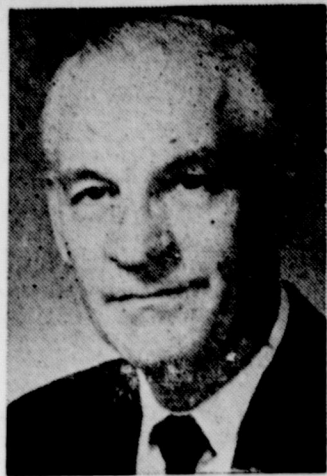

Judge Calvert was elected chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee in the September convention held in San Antonio in 1946. He resigned from that office at the 1948 September convention in Fort Worth.

During his residence in Hillsboro he was a member of the First Baptist Church, a member and president of the Rotary Club, and served seven years on the Board of Trustees of the Hillsboro Schools.

Judge and Mrs. Calvert have two children, Miss Carolyn Calvert, a student at Texas Tech, and James Porter Calvert, a senior in Austin High School.

Needs of Aged to be Studied Friday At 3 p.m. Meeting, Open to the Public

The Cochran County committee of the Governor's Committee, White House Conference on Aging, will hold its first meeting on Friday, Nov. 29th at 3 p. m. at the District Courtroom county chairman announced this week.

He said that the county organization would be perfected and committee assignments given at the meeting, which will be in the nature of a community forum. He urged all persons in the county who are interested or directly concerned professionally with the health, welfare, housing or any other problem of the aged, to be present at the meeting.

"We particularly want to interest our senior citizens themselves in taking a part in this study, because they know from personal experience many of the problems of the aging," the county chairman said.

He estimated that many persons would attend the meeting. "We need a large group of our citizens to complete this project," he said. "First, an adequate number of persons participating will assure a thorough fact-finding job, without undue hardship on a few persons. Then, there is need for a representative group so that no one phase of the study will overbalance any other."

The county chairman said that generally the resources and needs of senior citizens in the county would be investigated from six aspects: 1) Population Trends, and Research and Training, 2) Income and Employment, 3) Welfare, 4) Health, 5) Education and Recreation, and 6) Housing.

Separate committees will be named at the meeting to study each of these areas, he said.

He said information gathered in the county would be forwarded to Austin and incorporated with other county reports for a State-wide conference this fall. The material then will go to Washington to be used in a national survey. In addition to survey facts, the Texas report will contain recommendations on how problems should be solved.

Thompson said he had received calls since his appointment as county chairman, from persons interested in helping to conduct the survey.

He expressed the belief that the county committee's work would result in improved community services for the aged, as well as providing information needed for action at the state and national levels.

Supporters Feel Encouraged Over Present Outlook Of Lyndon Johnson's Chances for Presidential Nomination

By Robert E. Baskin

Washington Bureau of the Dallas Morning News

WASHINGTON — Supporters of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for president continue to be heartened by the way his delegate strength continues to mount while other contenders are having their ups and downs.

The Johnson forces can now count a bedrock backing at the July Democratic National Convention of 425 delegates. With a little figuring, they can raise the prospective total, on second and third ballots, to between 500 and 600 votes. Nomination requires 761 votes.

Johnson has the certain support of these states, with the number of their delegates:

- Alabama, 29; Arkansas, 27; Florida, 29; Georgia, 33; Kentucky, 31; Louisiana, 26; Mississippi, 22; North Carolina, 36; Oklahoma, 28; South Carolina, 20; Tennessee, 32; Texas, 56; Virginia, 32; and West Virginia, 24. Total — 425.

This does not include some votes in western states that are considered to be ready to back Johnson at the right time. These include Arizona and New Mexico with 17 delegates each; Nevada with 15; Utah, with 13; and Wyoming, with 15.

Given these states, the Johnson total rises to 502 delegates.

Here is the way the picture is shaping up in some other states.

Washington — Sen. Warren Magnuson, the real Democratic power in this state, recently gave his top administrative assistant, Irv Hoff, a leave of absence to work for Johnson's nomination. The state has 27 delegates.

New York — There is a hard fight ahead between liberals and moderates for control of the 114 man delegation which is certain to be uncommitted on the first ballot. The issue will be decided in an election June 7. Democratic National committeeman Carmine Sapio is reported to feel Johnson is the strongest man in the contest but faces difficulties in supporting him because of Johnson's geographical origins. Two New York City congressmen, Victor Anfuso and John Rooney, are working hard for the Texan. How many delegates Johnson will get from here is uncertain, but he is sure to get some.

Maryland — Gov. Millard Tawes is a reluctant supporter of Sen. John F. Kennedy, who threatened to enter the Maryland presidential primary against a Tawes led uninstructed delegation unless Tawes agreed to back him. The 24 man delegation is expected to break away after the first ballot with a sizeable vote for Johnson.

Ohio — This is another reluctant Kennedy State, and Gov. Michael V. DeSalle is considered likely to open the door after the first ballot. Ohio has 64 delegates, some of whom undoubtedly will be favorable to Johnson.

California — Johnson may get some delegates here, but Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown will want to carry most of the 81 man group elsewhere.

New Jersey — The situation here is wide open. Gov. Robert Meyner will head the 41 member delegation, probably as a favorite son. He is noncommittal on whom he favors for the nomination.

Pennsylvania — The strong man of Democratic politics in this state is reported to be Congressman William Green, although Gov. David Lawrence is the titular head. Green, in eastern circles is viewed as a moderate, with no love for the liberal wing of the party. The 81-man delegation will be held back until the convention picture clears, after which it may split in several directions.

In three Kennedy states the Senate majority leader has strong potential support from colleagues in the Senate. They are Montana, with Sen. Mike Mansfield; Indiana, with Sen. Vance Sen. Thomas Dodd.

In fact, it is Johnson's friendships in the Senate that give him intimate political contacts all across the country.

The outlook for Kennedy at present is that he will have in the neighborhood of 400 to 500 sure delegates on the first ballot.

But this picture could be drastically altered by the May 10 presidential primary in West Virginia, which is a popularity contest only and not binding on delegates. If Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) defeats Kennedy, the Kennedy bandwagon will roll to a halt.

The delegation is certain to be under the command of Sen. Robert C. Byrd, who is strong for Johnson. The Texan will have the benefit of winning this state without having to enter the primary.

While Johnson now sits in a very strategic position, he still faces great difficulties. The final 50 to 100 votes needed to get the 761 ballots necessary for nomination undoubtedly will be hard to come by.

But the Johnson camp is continually encountering things that lend encouragement.

In a recent mock convention at the nation's largest Catholic University, Notre Dame, Kennedy was nominated for president. He received 934 votes, but Johnson was second with 501.

When a motion was made, as is customary, to make the nomination unanimous, the Johnson backers refused out of enthusiasm for their own man.

This event was regarded as somewhat surprising in view of the religious connotations.

This little farmer will inherit 49 empty tummies!

Grandpa fed 10 people. Dad produces for 25. But our skyrocketing population will force baby Bill to provide 53,655 meals yearly for 49 people. And he'll do it with the help of modern science, farmer know-how, and push-button electrical power.

Today, nearly 1,000 non-profit Rural Electric Systems—owned and operated by local people and financed by REA loans—are bringing better health and a touch of city living to people in rural areas. These same Rural Electric Systems are building lines to help Bill and other future farmers feed 175 million more people by 1995. And they have plans to install bigger transformers, and string heavier lines to fill future rural power needs which are now doubling every five to seven years.

Rural electrification is food insurance for all. Its cost, however, is borne by the people who use it. Already Rural Electric Systems have paid more than $1 billion in principal and interest on their $3 1/2 billion REA loans . . . added proof these locally-owned systems are one of the best investments our Nation ever made.

Audrey Faye Ward, Don Fortenberry Exchange Vows at Seymour, Texas

Miss Audrey Faye Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ward of Seymour, and Donald Fortenberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fortenberry of Morton, were married at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ward, in Seymour, Friday afternoon, April 15, at 3:30 p. m.

Rev. W. R. Korkalits, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Seymour, read the double ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged before an arch of foliage and greenery centered with a cluster of white wedding bells.

Vernon Roberts, music and education director of the First Baptist Church of Seymour, sang "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Miss Phyllis Gardner of Morton who also played two piano solos, "Oh Promise Me" and "Because".

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a street length dress of blue lace over blue taffeta. Her tiara and her shoes were covered with blue lace to match her dress. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of white roses. Her veil and tiara were trimmed with white seed pearls and she carried out the theme of something old, which was a string of gold beads nearly two hundred years old, something blue and something borrowed.

EDITORIAL BY ORLIN STARK

The following is an editorial by Orlin Stark, Cashier of the First National Bank at Quitaque, Tex. "Sometimes we become extremely provoked when we see some of the one sided writeups about farm surpluses. Almost always the farmer turns out to be the goat, and from the tone of some metropolitan editorials you'd think that the only subsidy the government does out goes to Agriculture. Just think for a minute and see how many times you can remember articles that belabor the help that the government gives to airlines, the petroleum industry housing, or shipping, to mention only a few. You never hear much about them but they (and countless others) are helped considerably by the government! In fact, during the past fifty years, for every $1,000.00 this country has spent for subsidies, the American farmer has received only $5! Is it any wonder then that farmers and the agricultural industry as a whole gets awfully tired of hearing these 'experts' elaborate on how much the farmer costs the government? You can pick up almost any newspaper or magazine and read countless articles on how much the United States spends per day on grain storage, and how much for wheat, and cotton, and butter, and wool, and other agricultural commodities; and a lot of people seem to know the exact number of dollars that is tied up in price supported crops. After reading all this you get the impression that the United States must have enough surplus stored away to last a lifetime! We have always thought it strange that only one side of the political fireball is ever presented to the public. We have yet to see an article showing the net cost to the government after it resells these commodities and for that matter very few articles that even point out that we receive a big portion of the price support back after the commodity is resold. That's one reason we were so pleased at the recent Soil Fertility Day when Edwin Cross who is Chairman of the Caprock Soil Conservation Board of Supervisors read a letter from Representative Poage that was written to A. C. Spencer of the Texas State Soil Conservation Board. The letter dealt with farm surpluses, and it was indeed an eye opener to the crowd on that occasion, and we believe the information may prove to be a "real shocker" to most of our readers. Mr. Spencer has asked for information concerning the "disappearance rate" of various farm commodities - that is, how long it would take to consume them - if production were immediately suspended. The official figures he received from Rep. Poage are hard to believe even for those of us located in the heart of agriculture production, for we too have been lulled by the propoganda aimed at agriculture. At any rate here are the OFFICIAL FIGURES, straight from Washington, showing how long our present 'surplus' would last if we had no further production: - The Cotton 'surplus' (as of 8-1-59) - would last less than 7 1/2 months! - The grain sorghum 'surplus' (as of 10-1-59) would last less than 5 1/2 months. - The wheat 'surplus' (as of 7-1-59) - would last less than 15 months. - The corn 'surplus' (as of 10-1-59) would last less than 5 months.

NATIONAL HOME DEMONSTRATION WEEK
Next week we join the more than 7 million homemakers throughout the nation who are observing National Home Demonstration Week from May 1 to May 7. More than 30,000 Texas homemakers are taking time out to tell of their work and invite other homemakers to join them in improving their homes and communities. Cochran County Home Demonstration Club women will observe National Home Demonstration Week with a tea and style show Thursday afternoon, May 5, in the Banquet room of the County Activity Building. A very special guest will be Mrs. Wilmer Smith president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. Mrs. Smith was invited by President Eisenhower to attend the recent White House Conference on Children and Youth. She will tell of some of the discussions by the young people of the nation - what they consider their chief problems and their ideas on what can be done about them. Some of the sharpest young people of the land were there. Their ideas should be most interesting. Visitors are welcome to attend the program on May 5. It will begin at 2:00 o'clock.

DWI Guilty Plea Accepted By Phone
A DWI case which has been "hanging fire" in the Cochran County Court for several years, was completed here by telephone last week, according to County Judge Glenn W. Thompson.

Three hundred and seventy five delegates and visitors registered. Attending from Cochran County were Mrs. Lewis Walker, County THDA Chairman, assisted with registration. Delegates attending were Mrs. Edward Brownlow, Mrs. F. Z. Payne, and Mrs. Woodrow Self. Others attending were Mrs. H. T. Gardner, G. C. Keith, Bill Gilmore, T. J. Capps, C. D. Arnold, Stanley Henderson, L. U. Thompson and Miss Leila Petty.

Frozen strawberries are generally cheaper not because of the new crop coming in. This recipe for Strawberry Preserves may be used with fresh strawberries or strawberries frozen without sugar.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES
1. Boil 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water together until it begins to form a thread.
2. Add 1 pint of strawberries and cook 10 minutes.
3. Add another pint of strawberries and 1 cup of sugar sprinkled over the top.
4. One or two teaspoons lemon juice added at this time helps retain color.
5. Boil continuously about 10 minutes, or until it reaches a jelly stage.
6. Remove from the fire and shake the kettle gently until foam collects in the center and can be easily removed.
7. Then pour into a flat container and let cool and clamp before putting into hot sterilized containers.

QUITE OFTEN, during the past year, we have been short of space for news stories and have had as many as several galleys of type left over when the paper was published.
each time...
WE TRIED to hold up the final two runs so that the type we had left over would not be local stories. But we couldn't always do it.
last week...
WAS A GOOD example and we had exactly 27 short local items left over, which we had no room for in the paper. The question then is always asked, why not put them in place of some of the stories and columns such as "Highlights and Sidelights from Austin", "Lyndon Johnson Report," etc.
and the answer...
IS THAT four pages of the paper are printed on Tuesday, and in the future, may be printed as

Home Demonstration Agent

April 22, Mrs. Opal Massey and Mrs. Gilbert Lynch attended a previous meeting. These leaders will work with small groups of 4-H Club girls on their cooking projects. Food preparation, planning, nutrition, good manners, safety and record keeping will be part of each meeting. More subject matter leaders are needed for all the different phases of girl's 4-H Club work.

R. C. STRICKLANDS VISIT IN MERIDIAN
Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strickland took Mrs. Strickland's mother, W. A. Wilson to her home in Hamilton, Saturday where she plans to stay for a while. The Stricklands went on to Meridian where they visited Chester's mother and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Strickland and children of Irving met them at Meridian and visited Sunday.

THE DOLLAR DAY...
PAPER WILL BE, frankly in favor of a Chamber of Commerce. Not just in favor of a meeting, but in favor of a Chamber. For we are sold on the need for a Chamber of Commerce. We are sold on the fact that if we don't form a Chamber of Commerce, we'll continue to miss opportunity after opportunity, to grow.

THOSE OF YOU who do favor a Chamber of Commerce, will help us try to do a selling job in the Dollar Day paper. It would appear to us that nearly everyone is "sold" in one way or another way. But this "on the fence" attitude just won't get the job done.

specialist in company with Jim Middleton and Company. A check of the 844 entries indicated a lot of folks had a few too many clues. Among them were "16 years of experience," "Made in England," and "Lara-Lynn." Again there was a bit of clue double trouble. That was the clue "Once lived in county seat of county named after famous Texas governor." Though absolutely correct, Harold had forgotten that Hebronville was in Jim Hogg County, and had been advising folks that he had never lived in a county named after a famous Texas governor. How many he'd told - he said the phone almost came off the hook - one couldn't guess, so the clue was counted right or wrong. (Remember, if a clue is partly wrong, count it wrong and you won't go wrong.) The Who's Who awarding was conducted at Rose Auto and Appliance. Entries were gathered from Woolam Implement Co., Herb's Gulf Service, the Morton Tribune and Rose Auto.

clues circled in red, drop by any one of the firms in which a box was placed last week. Here are the clues to the identity of Harold Wesley Drennan, teacher in the Morton Schools and director of music at the First Baptist Church, Morton: Middle name same as last name of founder of Methodism, (Wesley); A nickname, Da Da, (earned while playing football for the Cleburne Yellow Jackets); Once lived in a county seat of county named after famous Texas governor, (Hebronville, Jim Hogg County), a clue that had to count either way; Has lived in Yoakum County, (prior to moving here); Attended school at site of the oldest junior college in the U. S., (Decatur, Baptist College, established in 1897); Past president of civic club, (Jaycees); Drives a modern "Tin Lizzy", (Ford); Born at Lone Willow, near Haley Branch, (Johnson County); Worked at the Kozy Kitchen, (right near, as Baylor fans may know, Baylor campus); Admires Robert Anderson, (a fellow Cleburnite, more or less); Plays golf, (now and then); Favorite sport, football; Appeared before congregation at Friendship, (preached there, Johnson County); Home faces south, (and, we could have said, has a roof); Mate attended school in Cochran County, (Bledsoe); Mate 5 feet, 5 and one-half inches high; Attended Alliance presided over by Dr. George W. Truett, (in 1937 in Atlanta, Georgia); Viewed township where lady threw dishwasher out back door, and was sued when same came down neighbor's chimney, (now wasn't that a silly clue, but the place is Eureka Springs, Ark., and you might just want to visit in Arkansas sometime); Advised basketball team once, (coached basketball at Covington, Johnson County); Active in Little League, in younger days, (coached here); Wed in county seat of South Plains County, (Cochran County); Once listened to the "Great White Father," (a give away to Baylor folks, a title of honor given former governor of Texas and former president of Baylor, the Honorable Pat Morris Neff); Saturdays; Mate attended school at Shacktown, (Dawson County, now termed Welch); Worked as swamper, (in Yoakum County); ybe you're the one... it's all in fun... and sometimes more fun for the publishers than expected, but "O, you kid!"

Where to LOOK for CLUES... RULES

Clues may be hidden in ANY ad in this group ad. When a "Star" appears in any of these ads, it means that additional advertising for that merchant appears elsewhere in this issue of the Morton Tribune, and additional clues may be hidden in any of those ads, also! Clues will be scattered... there may be from one to five clues in any ad... or none. This is a contest of skill... and we intend to do our best to outwit you. We invite you to do your best to outwit us!

Grid of advertisements for various businesses including Stricklands, Doss Super Market, Butler Motor Co., Morton Floral and Greenhouse, Lindsey Feed and Seed, Ray Hudson Texaco Distributor, Willis Food, Morton Laundry, First State Bank, St. Clair's Department Store, McMaster Tractor Co., Bedwell Implement Co., St. Clair's Variety, Flash-O-Gas, Ideal Gift Shop, Derwood Texaco Service Station, Morton Malt Shop, Cobb's, Chevrolet Allsup Chevrolet Co., Jackson Farm and Ranch Store, Nu-Way Cleaners, Luper Tire Service, Raines Cash Food, Merritt L.P. RULES

1. This is a family fun contest. Entries welcome from every member of the family old enough to fill out his or her own. You may submit one entry per person at any or all of the Sponsoring Merchants whose ads are in the row that is heavily bordered this week... but only one entry per person at any one store (more than one will disqualify all entries of that person for that week). Anyone can enter unless a member of your family is employed by the MORTON TRIBUNE. Sponsoring merchants, their families, (and their employees and families) are most welcome to enter EXCEPT during weeks that entries are brought into the Sponsor's place of business.

2. Nothing to buy. Use slip of paper for entry blank. DO NOT put your entry in an envelope. Not necessary to be present at the drawing to win.

3. WHO'S WHO may be anyone in the Morton trade area. Clues to his or her identity will be hidden ONLY in ads of Sponsoring Merchants (this means any ad in this section or any ad of the same merchant elsewhere in the paper). When star(s) appear in any ad in this section, it is your warning that other ad(s) of the same merchant (in which there may be clues) appear elsewhere in the paper. Clues will be scattered... many ads will have no clues while others may have as many as five. Beware of false clues; there may be some! This is a contest of skill and we intend to do our best to outwit you. We'll be delighted if you succeed in outguessing us, in spite of our best efforts.

4. If, by coincidence, the name of WHO'S WHO (or other facts about him or her) happen to appear in news items, editorial matter, or other places in this newspaper, these will not count as clues.

5. To enter, write down the name you think is WHO'S WHO. List all the clues you can find in all the ads of the Sponsoring Merchants in this issue. Don't forget your own name and address!! Then drop your entry at the business location of any Sponsoring Merchant WHOSE AD IS BETWEEN THE HEAVY BORDERS IN THIS SECTION. You may enter at all four if you wish. There are no other places where entries will be accepted... and MAIL ENTRIES WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.

6. This week's contest starts when you receive this issue, and closes at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday of the following week. At that time (4:30 p. m., Tuesday) a drawing will be held. The first entry drawn that correctly identifies the WHO'S WHO will win $10.00. If THAT entry also lists every correct clue, (and no false clues) hidden in all ads of Sponsoring Merchants, the Bonus Jackpot of $66.00 will be given. Whenever this bonus is not won it will be added to next week's BONUS... which will continue to grow until it is won! Winning the BONUS requires a PERFECT list of correct clues... the exact number and all copied correctly.

Family participation gives you a better chance to win the jackpot. Your wife, husband, or some bright-eyed youngster MAY spot a clue that you miss! Got any detective blood in you? Think you can outwit us? Remember you can't win if you don't enter... Fix up your entry NOW!

LAWN ESTABLISHMENT AND MANAGEMENT

A nice, well kept lawn adds a great deal to the attractiveness of a home.

E. M. Trew, Extension Agronomist, says good lawns just don't happen - they're products of considerable time and effort.

Some lawn grasses adapted to Texas are:

1. Bermuda - most widely adapted to Texas conditions.

2. St. Augustine - recommended in the Eastern half of the state.

3. Buffalo - recommended where watering facilities are not available, except in East Texas and the Gulf Coast.

4. Common Ryegrass - sometimes used with Bermuda grass to give green lawn when properly fertilized.

5. Perennial ryegrass - tall grass and sometimes Kentucky bluegrass are used in the Panhandle area for permanent lawn grasses under irrigation.

If you are planning on putting a lawn, check with this office and ask for bulletin 203, "The Home Lawn", which contains the necessary information for good establishment and maintenance.

HOW DO YOU USE CREDIT?

How much did you charge to your accounts last month? The average customer came closer to $10 than to $100, according to Mrs. Lila Newman, our Extension Home Management Specialist.

Debt can be constructive or destructive depending upon your credit capacity and management.

It would not be wise to mortgage needed income tomorrow, next month or next year to satisfy desires and comforts that are being consumed today. A fine product that gives good value far beyond the last payment date may be worth the extra charge for credit.

Many young families have taught themselves to save by buying installment plans. Planned saving is the secret to sound use of credit. There are advantages and disadvantages in using credit. Paying cash for little things, when the bill is due, limiting the number of accounts will make for smoother financial sailing.

Try to keep charge accounts under control. The amount of credit you can use depends largely on: 1. Ability to meet financial commitments; 2. The prospect of continuing employment or income.

LOW CALORIE FOODS CAN BE DELICIOUS

Low calorie foods can be tasty provided you select and prepare them for fine flavor. Fresh fruits, vegetables, cottage cheese and the lean meats are cited as examples. All are the makings of good meals, and not necessarily fattening ones. Remember that you add calories value to these foods when you dress them up with mayonnaise, whipped cream, gravy, rich sauces or other fats or sugars. Specialists suggest weight watchers use spices to season vegetables instead of rich cream sauce, butter or margarine. Use a little salt and vinegar or lemon juice on your green salad instead of salad dressing. Or use low - calorie dressing. Each tablespoon of mayonnaise adds 90 calories.

Fruit is always a wise choice for dessert. Have an apple or an orange at 76 calories, a half of grapefruit for 45. Choose apple pie or a piece of cake and you get approximately 350 calories. Remember that daily meals should include the basic foods necessary for good health - milk, meats, fruits, vegetables, cereals and breads. Go slow on pastries, candies, fats, salad dressings, and rich sauces when you need to cut calories.

LISTENS TO THE PEOPLE... Ramsey Has Sense of Humor, Plus Popularity With the Texas Public

(The following news release was prepared by a newsmen who has known the lieutenant governor for many years.)

Ben Ramsey, the first man in our state's history to be honored with five elective two-year terms as Lieutenant Governor, has been termed the least politician-like man in the state's political history. It may be true. The quiet and easy mannered East Texan on the surface does less campaigning but gets more votes. Instead of shouting oratory and making promises, he listens to voters, who, incidentally, have proven they like to vote for him.

And he acts more solemn but provokes more mirth than probably any other Texas Lieutenant Governor.

The lawyer from San Augustine — who still maintains a true, old fashioned East Texas country law office — has consistently won voter approval and just as consistently has been able to say in each succeeding campaign he has helped guide through the Legislature to final enactment major planks of his platform in the interest of helping the people. It has won him their respect.

Campaigning, Ramsey makes what appears to be a leisurely tour of Texas. To many, it may be at a leisurely pace, but not to Ramsey. He is up early and goes about his work without fanfare. He listens to the people and as presiding officer of the Senate he sees to it that what he hears the people say they want gets translated into legislative enactments.

Ramsey's retiring nature and slow speech hide an innate ability in the role of peacemaker that has enabled him to accomplish the legislative reforms for public protection he has advocated. Back in 1955 when just about every faction of Texas Democrats were feuding with one another, Ramsey was the only one all could agree on who would be fair in the role of Texas' Democratic National Committeeman. So in October, 1955, he was named to the post.

His role as peacemaker in the sometimes turbulent Senate is recognized widespread. His dry wit contributes much.

His rulings on hotly disputed issues are speeded with juicy bits of dry wit, usually muttered in a low-pitched voice. Sometimes though, the whole Senate can lay aside bitter differences for a good laugh and begin anew in more moderate vein.

Example: A Senator heatedly tried to question another who was speaking and would not yield for interruption on the grounds, under parliamentary rules, he was afraid he would lose the floor.

Ramsey banged the gavel and solemnly announced: "The Senator refuses to yield because of fright."

All has not been on the laughing side for Ramsey. The second son in a family of four boys and three girls, Ben stayed out of college three years to work in the law offices of his father, former District Judge W. C. Ramsey, and on the family farm near his mother's present home, before entering the University of Texas Law School. He mastered his courses and passed the bar examination before graduation. Given his law license, he decided there was no need to delay starting his practice in San Augustine.

In 1931 he came to the Legislature as a member of the House of Representatives and served two terms.

Ten years after election as representative, he was elected Senator, re-elected for another term and again retired to his law practice. In 1950, after serving as Secretary of State under the late Governor Beauford H. Jester, he was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1950. Since then he has been re-elected.

His record of popularity with the people reflects their appreciation of his frankness with them and his concern for the economic welfare of all Texans.

He has devoted his leadership to accomplishments in water and soil conservation highway development, insurance and securities reform to protect policy holders and investors, and stiffer penalties for violators of the narcotic laws.

During his administration, the public school and higher education systems have made their greatest gains.

Ramsey is a devoted family man who spends as much time as possible with his wife, the former Florine Hankla, and their three daughters, Rita Rhea, 9, Ann Hankla, 7, and Mariben, one year.

Typical of his feelings toward his family was question two years ago on election eve, when he was asked if he would make a closing speech that night.

"Well, I really don't know."

he drawled. "I'm going to take the children down to the barn and saddle up the horses and take a little ride. If they want to hear a speech, well, I'll make them one."

WHITEFACE HD CLUB HAS DEMONSTRAT'N ON QUICK MEALS

"Cooking with your hat on", was the subject of the day when the Whiteface Home Demonstration Club met April 14 in the home of Mrs. H. J. Knox. Miss Leila Petty discussed and demonstrated quick meals that were attractive and delicious, as well as nutritious and balanced. With careful planning and a little advance preparation, there is no need for quick meals to be just alike, she reminded. Modern foods and appliances make quick meals easier than ever.

"My biggest blunder as a bride", as an answer to roll call evoked many memories from the past.

Proverbs 15 gave many thought provoking lines of wisdom.

Members present were Mesdames L. U. Thompson, F. Z. Payne, T. J. Capps, W. S. Gilmore, G. C. Keith and the hostess, Mrs. H. J. Knox. Miss Petty gave the program.

The next meeting is to be with

Mrs. W. S. Gilmore on April 28 when the program will be on Crafts, especially on making Plastic Flowers. An apron exchange has been planned as an extra activity.
