What About the Other Tax Payers?

A little over a year ago the Morton School system began work on compiling a card classification system on all taxable property in the school district.

The purpose of this was to institute a system by which a more accurate value could be placed on the properties, thus having a more equal tax system.

The major reason was not to raise more tax money; at this time the school budget was being met by the amount of money being collected, and state aid. But, because of the low values being placed by some individuals on their properties, the school district's valuation was extremely low.

Without more valuation, the district could build no more classrooms . . . and a need for more classrooms in the future, was clearly indicated.

To put a blanket evaluation raise on everything, would be merely to extend the present inequality.

Equalization was needed along with a valuation raise. With higher values, and a lower tax rate, the money to operate with would be kept about the same, but in case of the need for building, a bond election could be called.

Recently, work on the system was completed. Plans were readied to put the new tax system in operation.

A Board was appointed to check the information on the cards and to assign classifications to the property. Another Board, an Equalization Board, was named, because, by law, the tax payer had a right to appeal any mistake or error which had been made in computing his tax. His rights could be executed by meeting with an equalization board, which had full authority to change the value. But neither of these boards was to figure out the basic land values. This was up to the school board, this, and the duty of setting the tax rate.

The school board spent sessions of a two month period studying varying values which could be placed on types of land. After deliberations, they decided upon a set of values per acre of land, values on a type of building and values on a type of home.

By applying the information on the card to the set of classifications and multiplying the figure for that type of property, by the amount of property, the tax department was able to fix individual property values. A tax equalization board meeting date was set. Notices were sent out.

Here the carefully laid plans hit a snag.

Some persons said the values placed on the types of land were too high.

Some said values placed on houses were out of kilter.

Some alleged favoritism had been shown.

This group had one idea in common . . . their taxes, they felt, were too high.

Temper flared, chafes flew. A number of dissatisfied taxpayers called on the school board, individually, and in a body.

So loud was the clamor of protests, that a suggestion of a committee of three taxpayers, that the plan be stalled off another year, for further study, was adopted. The Board reasoned, something must be wrong.

But there were those who were not dissatisfied. There were those whose taxes had always been high enough. The new system showed no raise for them . . . even in some cases it offered a lesser tax. These persons, naturally did not "march upon the school board." These persons, with the "flip-flop" taken by the harassed school board, suddenly became the goats.

Perhaps the values were set too high.

Perhaps further study is needed.

But by what law of mankind, should an individual who has paid his fair share of taxes, be further penalized at the profit of those who have not, while we wait, and ready?

It is possible that a check of the past values on properties owned by those whose valuations suddenly increased 400 percent and more, would show that their values indeed, had been four times lower than they should have been. Why then let this occur another year?

If all persons are not attempting to pay their fair share, or even by accident or through ignorance do not have their values high enough, someone is carrying more than his share of the burden.

And that someone . . . or those someones . . . are now, because of pressure, and the sudden decision of a school board to reverse itself, asked to carry the load just

Board Named To Govern Use Of Act'y Bldg.

In a special trip last June, a group of interested citizens of Cochran County visited three neighboring counties with Judge Glenn Thompson, for the purpose of determining policies these counties maintain in their operation of the Community Buildings.

At a special meeting July 7th, the Commissioners' Court of Cochran County discussed this trip and considered copies of rules, regulations and charges, submitted by these counties.

Finding that these other counties operate their Community Buildings with a Board of Directors, and this system seemed to be more effective than the method used in Cochran County, the Commissioners appointed a nomination committee to name a Board of Directors and put such a plan in operation in this county.

Fourteen nominations were submitted to the Court, and seven members were appointed to the Board, to serve for one and two year terms.

Members appointed for one year terms were Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, and Mrs. Hume Russell, Morton and Mrs. Alvin Harris Bledsoe; Mrs. G. C. Keith of Whiteface and to two year terms; Vern Beebe, Whiteface; B. R. Stovall, Morton and Alton Ainsworth, Bledsoe.

On Thursday, July 21, the Board called a meeting and officially organized the Board, electing Vern Beebe, Chairman and B. R. Stovall, vice chairman. Mrs. J. C. Reynolds was elected secretary.

The Board worked on a set of By Laws and Regulations and these were submitted to the Commissioners' Court, read and approved by the Court.

The Court asked Judge Thompson to convey their thanks and appreciation to the Board members for their time and efforts.

Revival Underway At County Line Baptist Church

Rev. O. D. Holton, pastor of the Quail Baptist Church, is conducting the revival meeting which began Friday night at the County Line Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Montgomery of Plainview, who have worked in meetings at the church previously, are in charge of the song services. Weekly services are being held at 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday services will be at regular hours — Sunday School at 10 a. m., services 11 a. m., training union at 7 p. m., and evening services beginning at 8 o'clock.

The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 7. Rev. James A. Kelley, pastor of the County Line Church invites everyone to attend any or all of the services.

Rev. Holton was graduated in January from the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth.

On the closing Sunday, Aug. 7 there new deacons will be ordained by the church. The services will be at 3 p. m. at the church. To be ordained are Frank Davidson, J. D. Vick, and Henry Youne.

On August 1, the day the church will conclude its year of achievement program, the church will have an almost 100 new good completion record on 53 scheduled projects.

A meeting of the various elected County officials was held Friday morning to discuss the closing of county offices all day each Saturday during the month of August. Those present were Mrs. Denny, Tax Collector; Mrs. Silvers, County Clerk; Bill Crone, County Treasurer; Joe Nicewarner, County Auditor; Hazel Hancock, Sheriff; Grover D. Edgar, County Attorney and Glenn Thompson, County Judge.

The Judge called for a vote and all voted in favor of the motion except County Attorney Edgar. He voted against the motion.

The Sheriff's office will not be closed on Saturday, there being someone on duty at all times.

There is very little business coming to the courthouse on Saturday morning, but if anyone should need any county official then or at any other time, day or night, the sheriff's office will call for them and their phone number will also be affixed to the door of each respective office.

The offices have been closing Saturday afternoons for a number of years. After the matter was discussed for awhile, a motion was made and duly seconded that the offices close all day Saturday during the month of August to allow more convenience in the county officials and employees in taking their vacations.

A new game begins in this publication of the Dollar Day Special. Sponsored by B & C "66" Service, it lists someone's cartag. The person who's cartag is listed will receive a free change of oil at B & C.

Check inside for the advertisement listing the cartag number.

Recharge pumping was under way, Friday at the Country Club Gin's 200 foot water well.

The recharge, pumping is under the direction of the High Plains Water District. Bill Broadhurst, district water engineer, is checking the well.

The water is being pumped from the newly formed Country Club area lake into the well at approximately 500 gallons per minute.

Observers said Friday afternoon the water line of the lake was dropping.

The well was drilled some years ago to provide water for the gin.

Recreation Club To Expand In Near Future

Announcement was made last week of plans to enlarge and provide additional recreational facilities at the Morton Recreation Club, by owners and operators, George Auld and Don Lamar.

The club is located just west of the Cochran County square and next door to the Malt Shop.

In making the announcement, the two owners said they planned to open, next door, within the next month, space for snooker tables and some "all new" domino tables and chairs.

They also, see ad on page 8 of this publication of the Dollar Day Tribune, expressed their appreciation for the cooperation members have given them in operation of the pool club.

Hodge said he had no particular quarrel with anyone, but that after seven years of working in the tax field, he felt he wanted to get into another type of business.

Hodge had worked on the proposed new tax plan endorsed by the school board and Supt. Barnes for the past year and a half. A complicated system of classification cards had been assembled after a crew of workers made inventories of farm, homes, and businesses last summer. The data

Board Recinds Plans; Tax Change Delayed One Year

The Board of Trustees of the Morton Independent School District reversed themselves, Thursday, at a special meeting of the Board, at which a group of three citizens asked the Board to recall their new tax plan for this year and substitute the program already in use last year.

There were six members of the Board present when the vote was taken and they voted unanimously to take this action.

The meeting was held at 6 p. m. with the six board members present, the secretary Dub Hodge and three taxpayers, T. K. Williamson, J. D. Hawthorne and B. H. Tucker.

The group discussed the new tax program which was to increase the valuation of the school district to $12,000,000 and cut the tax rate from $2.00 to $1.20 per hundred dollar valuation.

After the group had asked the board to recind their action and rework the new tax program for 1961, Board member W. P. Houston presented this in the form of a motion, seconded by Board member Glen McDaniel.

In addition to these two men, present were Board President O. B. Huckabee, Jesse Clayton, Jim Clappitt and J. C. Reynolds. Babe Vanlandingham, the seventh member, arrived after the vote was taken.

Although only three taxpayers appeared at the meeting, another estimated more than 100 persons arrived after the action. The Board and the visitors, also heard a discussion from the two Pakistanians, Ghulam Zakriya Sk-sikh and Khan Ahmad Khan, who were introduced by Homer Thompson, County Agent.

Taxpayers kept filtering in for a period of two more hours before the actual meeting broke up, but the vote was the only action taken, though board members individually consulted with many of the persons who had come, presumably to complain about the tax value hike.

Supt. John Barnes was out of town.

Going back to the system used last year, presumably the tax rate will be $2.00 per hundred dollar valuation and property is to be rendered at 30 percent of its value. However, there was no explanation of what, if anything, would be done about the already admitted fact that much of the property is not being carried on the tax rolls at the prescribed 30 percent.

Presumably, unless a particular protest is made to the Tax Equalization Board on the prescribed August 31 date, the same tax values will be used.

Trip Behind 'Iron Curtain' Discouraging to Couple from County Line Community

BY EDDIE IRWIN

Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Ruzicka of the County Line Gin have returned from a visit behind the iron curtain . . . a visit which they cut short because of the disappointing picture they found upon arrival in Mr. Ruzicka's native land of Czechoslovakia.

The Ruzicka's (pronounced Ruz-is-ka) left on June 28th, motoring to Houston where they boarded a plane. They arrived back on July 23rd, and to say she was glad to be back is an understatement, according to Mrs. Ruzicka.

Leo, proprietor of the gin, was born in Czechoslovakia, and came to this country when he was seven years of age. Mrs. Ruzicka was born in this country, after her parents had come here from the old country. The two had never been back to his native land, and had a desire to return and try to locate members of the family who were scattered about the country.

Leo's mother died about two years ago, and since that time, no one in this country had any contact, even by letter, with the relatives in Czechoslovakia.

Their were 27 persons who made including Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Silhan, also of Pep. Behind the iron curtain a Communist lady served as their guide.

From Houston, the group flew to Montreal, Canada, stopped only for fueling, and then flew on to Amsterdam where they spent two or three nights. Of her impressions of Amsterdam, Mrs. Ruzicka said it was a very pretty and fascinating land. Her memories of Holland are far happier than the glimpses they caught of Communist controlled and dominated Czechoslovakia.

In the old country, the couple located Leo's uncle, his mother's brother, who by their standards was "better off" than most folks; and also, each located a cousin.

"My mind is so filled with unusual things I saw," Mrs. Ruzicka told a Tribune reporter, "that I can't tell it all. It would be better if you just ask me questions."

So we fired away. First we asked, what was the outlook in regards to security measures being exercised by the Communists.

People Are "Bad Off"

Mrs. Ruzicka shook her head sadly. The situation in regards to the people is terrible she said. Once, they could get across the borders and escape if they had a few breaks. Now, she said the guard is so heavy, escape is almost impossible. The people have practically no sense of freedom at all. She said that she had an almost continued feeling of being watched all the time she was there, and she recalled that practically no one ever even hinted at anything derogatory to say about Communism . . . not that they didn't want to . . . they didn't dare to.

She didn't miss an opportunity . . . though they only came rarely . . . to expound how well off we are in this country. Mrs. Ruzicka said, but she felt that most of her words fell on deaf ears. In her opinion people in Czechoslovakia have been so cut off from the truth, that they flat wouldn't believe anything anyone said nice about the situation. They were convinced that people in the USA live in a situation far worse than theirs . . . that any ideas expressed to the contrary are simply propaganda.

Tell's Them Thing Or Two

The was a twinkle in Mrs. Ruzicka's eye as she told of explaining to the folks over there that you don't see many baby buggies in the U.S.A. because folks all have cars . . . and as she remarked about the smallness of a TV screen which looked more like a toy than the real thing. "I told 'em, when I could," she said. "I'm not scared of them."

As for the treatment at the hands of the Communists. Mrs. Ruzicka said it was only the finest. In putting their best foot forward, they installed the American tourists in the best possible accommodations and fed them the best food. But, she noted, there just weren't many native people eating or staying at these nice places. The Americans were ushered into a secluded place to be fed so well . . . the Czechs weren't around to see what was occurring.

Another note she made was that in each instance where they were to stop, the guide would call ahead and "warn" of the impending arrival of the Americans. By the time they arrived, the situation was well prepared.

What is their main occupation? Mrs. Ruzicka felt that most of the men were employed in the coal and uranium mines. All have to serve in the Army. The average person makes the equivalent of around or less than 100 dollars per month, from which they pay to the government for everything they receive. The government took their homes, paid them a set amount of crowns (the monetary unit) and everyone pays rent.

Those who own (or did own) fruit trees pay the government for every piece of fruit they pick from the tree. There also is no such thing as a family living alone in a house, they must share the house with others, and the government gets the pay for the rooms. They must also report each person who lodges at their house.

Religion Is Gone

One of the things that of course did the most to disillusion Mrs. Ru-zicka, was the religious situation in Czechoslovakia. "Only old ladies go to church any more," she said. The young people who go to church, in a country that was once predominantly Catholic and Lutheran are punished by forfeiting their chances to advance in their economic living. They are given the hardest, least paying jobs, and they are denied an opportunity to further their education if they persist in attending church.

Consequently the morale of the entire people has been destroyed by a lack of spiritual values. With this has also disappeared the sense of humor the people might have once had. "You just don't see smiling and laughing on the streets of Prague (the capital city)," Mrs. Ruzicka said. There isn't anything done for fun or enjoyment. Everything is serious.

Propaganda Well Directed

Another cruel example of the state's propaganda is the releasing of information that the crops in the field have been nearly all harvested for a bumper crop . . . when in reality the crop was still mostly in the field. One might wonder how they could fool their people on such a thing. The reason is that those who are with the party and the government are the only ones who travel. Others live in small villages and venture only as far as the city limits, and workers as far as the farms in their area. When they are told the overall country has a good crop, they believe it, though they may see that their particular crop was poor. Mrs. Ruzicka said the crop this year was very poor.

No Modern Appliances

Do they have radios, cars, TV, anything modern? The answer in nearly every case is an emphatic NO. She saw radios only in the better class hotels, where the majority of people have no access to them. She saw practically no cars; only one TV with an exceedingly small screen, no modern household appliances.

Another alarming thing, though it might in the long run be the answer to solving this dictatorship's grip on the people of Czechoslovakia. She saw practically no pregnant women, very, very few children. Of course, it could be that the children are away in a school, or somewhere away from the small towns she visited.

Mrs. Ruzicka said she got tired of walking. Shops were in a great many instances up flights of stairs on a fourth or fifth floor.

Dress Is Shabby

As for clothes, this also impressed Mrs. Ruzicka. The people through their work and through government pensions, make just about enough money to provide food and pay for their lodgings, etc. They don't have enough money to buy clothes and what seems to be on the way to becoming a major problem is what will they do when their tattered garments give out.

They can receive clothes sent to them . . . if they are used clothes, but new clothes just don't find their way to the people, she said. She told of a man from Houston who sent 20 pairs of hose to the country and the person intended, received only to promote a product that can help boost the economy of the nation. She longed for a good cup of coffee. Looking back at the tour this Mortonte left no misconception. She was glad to be home, glad to be in a free land, as opposed to a Communist dominated land. She could look on the people of Czechoslovakia with compassion and pity . . . but it is hard to give this feeling the full measure of Christian understanding. An overall look at the Country and its people, finds the enslavement so hideous, the lack of religious faith so intolerable, the hopeless outlook of it all so deploring . . . that it is so much easier to turn one's back on it and simply say "too bad."

Trains Are Crowded

A train ride they took proved hot, stuffy, and very uncomfortable because of the huge numbers of people trying to crowd into the one train. She nearly passed out from the stuffiness, Mrs. Ruzicka said.

What were the houses like? All of them old, weather beaten, with thick, grimy walls. She saw no new houses.

She saw only a few tractors in the fields. Most of the plowing was being done by oxen and horses.

Prices for food for those who could afford it . . . including Americans, was very high. Quality of the food was pretty good, but there wasn't much of it. Mrs. Ruzicka missed vegetables, most of the meat served was pork, and she couldn't find a cup of coffee, except to be served after meals.

Great Beer Drinkers

"People just drink their own home produced beer," she said, "because this is government operated and pushed by the government."

This was something Mrs. Ruzicka found extremely hard to agree with. Not just because of a disagreement with the idea of beer drinking, but because the beer itself was of a very poor quality and because of the Communist way of pushing beer, drinking

Three Day Morton FHA Workshop Is Completed Here

The Morton Chapter of Future Homemakers of America conducted a three day workshop on business of the organization, in the homemaking department, July 26 to 27. The first session was devoted to the study of parliamentary procedure, the second day was devoted to the study of degrees of achievement. Friday, the final day, was devoted to planning the FHA program for the 1960-1961 club year. This part of the program was directed by Marieta Edwards, the second vice-president of the organization and program chairman. Sue Ramsey, club president, presided over all sessions of the workshop. The first two sessions were directed by the FHA chapter Adviser, Mrs. Mable Sanders. The youth portion of the summer Homemaking Program will be concluded with an achievement day to be held in the department August 12th. Those attending the workshop were:

Rita Baldrige, Barbara Akin, Kay St. Clair, Linda Key, Marieta Edwards, Glenda Chesshir, Ginger Stovall, Glenda Holloman, Janice Holloman, Beth Wemkin, Karin Haralson, Lauretta McCuiston, Treva Dunn, Patricia Egger, Judy Willingham, Sue Ramsey, Gloria Stroud, Beverly Wilson, Miki Hefflin, Laquita Masten, Barbara Ann Haley, Peggy Cheek, Linda Lynch, Kay Hodges, JoAnn Clampitt, Lynne Freeland, Carol McCuiston, Pauline Wood, Dwana Henry, and Cathy Huggins.

SOX WALLOP CUBS TO END SEASON

The Little League Sox ended their own season on a note of joy by gaining their only triumph of the season on a note of joy by gaining their only triumph of the season over the Cubs, Thursday, a resounding 18 - 10 win. It was an experimental game for both teams. Both used pitchers that will play next year, and both used boys in the key positions, who will be back next season.

This experiment was no doubt responsible for a lot of the scoring. Randy Kelly, given a long work out by the Cubs, was the victim of a 10 run first inning shelling, mostly because of his own wildness, but he got a lot of experience in that inning.

Rickey Monroe, who started for the Sox was also an early victim. But James Moore, relief pitcher for the Cubs, was also shelled every inning, but the last. While Don Van steadied the pitching for the Sox, considerably.

The Sox managed seven hits in the game while the Cubs banged out eight. It was the 6th win of the season for the Sox to give them a final standing of 6 wins and 11 losses.

This time Weldon and Jerry Jenkins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Jenkins of Morton, turned up with what appears to be a young "child of the earth."

They found the strange insect Friday morning, and Mrs. Jenkins brought it downtown for identification.

County Agent Homer Thompson identified the insect as a "Jerusalem Cricket."

Giants Win Two On Final Day Of Little League

The curtain rang down on the Morton Little League regular season Friday, with a double header, both of the games featuring the Giants as they made up their last two rained out games.

And they won 'em both, defeating the League winning Cards in the opener, 16-4 and decisioning the Cubs in a real close finale, 8 to 6.

Freddie Turney hurled the opener, throttling the Cards who were shy two players.

Fabian Flores pitched the first six innings of the second game and then had to retire because of league rules, and Lorenzo Green finished it up.

The second game went seven innings as the Giants took a 4-0 lead, saw the Cubs tie it up 4-4 at the end of four, and then carried a 5-4 decision into the bottom half of the 6th. But the Cubs once again squared the game, had the potential winning run thrown out at home plate, and the game went into extra innings. The Giants tallied twice in the extra frame, and won it.

The victories boosted the Giants into a tie for second place in the final league standings

(Note: The following is from the Quannah Tribune - Chief, Hardeman County, July 28, 1960.)

Hardeman County and its Deputy Sheriff, Chester Ingram, have both gained some complimentary publicity.

When Pranksters or soreheads put up a sign saying "Ingram Territory. Enter At Your Own Risk." 100 yards south of the Red River Bridge just inside Texas, little did they know they were paying the deputy a left handed compliment that would get him favorable publicity on area TV stations and newspapers.

One commentary reflected, "At least those people who travel Highway 283 getting to 'wet' Oklahoma to quench their thirst know where 'dry' Hardeman County begins."

SHERIFF AND WIFE RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Thirty years ago — November, 1930, to be exact — this original painting by Frances Tipton Turner appeared as part of a nationally known brush company's advertising for toothbrushes.

People all over the United States were so delighted with the picture of the little girl trying to get double-duty from her own toothbrush that over the years the Pro-phy-lac-tic Brush Company of Florence, Massachusetts has filled thousands of requests for reproductions of the beautiful water color. The picture has long been out of print, and the doggie in the picture may have long since passed into limbo — but the child model (unknown) may now be a mother with children of her own.

Science has brought some changes in the toothbrush too. Years of research have produced a real double-duty brush, not for doggies, of course, but for people of all ages. It combines two kinds of bristles, with inner rows of firm blue ones to clean the teeth, and outer rows of softer white bristles to massage gums gently.

"WHY," WE HAVE been asked, "won't federal aid to education help? Why all this bugaboo about liberals being wrong. We need proof," they say.

this we expected...

AND THE ANSWER is simple. Federal aid won't work because it will merely add to our deficit spending. And anyone who looks at the federal government today, objectively, must admit that our number one internal problem is deficit spending.

we can project...

AND CALL IT our number one overall problem, because in the midst of our struggle against Communism, the one thing that makes Communists say they won't have to fire a shot to outstrip the United States, is their knowledge that deficit spending will lead the USA to ruin, as it has countries before us.

how to meet...

RISEING COSTS of living, and provide increased money for armament so necessary, and for helping solve all of our social problems, is the biggest question that faces us today. The easiest, quickest, most political expedient manner, is deficit spending.

its the same...

DEFICIT SPENDING that we as individuals use in purchasing new cars, TV sets, and other comforts of this better living, without having money to pay for them. This, in turn, causes us to need more money to live... we go to all ends to get money to pay for things we never could afford to buy, but did buy, on deficit spending. And when we receive the pay boost, the cost of living again rises, and the process is all to do over again.

just as local spending...

IS BETTER THAN state spending, so state spending is better than federal spending. The bigger the government agency, the more money that is lost through "waste" which is precisely the reason we shouldn't allow the federal government to provide us with the things, that we as citizens need.

the only way...

TO CUT DOWN the waste is to spend the money locally, instead of trying to finance a group of people whose sole function is to apportion the money back to us.

yes, this...

IS OUR NUMBER ONE problem today. It is the same problem, whether you are talking about the needs for teachers, old age assistance, hospital and medical aid, or any other major social reform needed.

we must...

DECIDE UPON whether we, as citizens, will shoulder the responsibilities that are ours, as citizens, or whether we will allow the federal government to do our

In 1874, Chief Quanah Parker, son of the famous Cynthia Ann Parker, led some 700 picked Comanche, Cheyenne, and Kiowa warriors in battle against 28 brave frontiersmen and buffalo hunters in the Texas Panhandle.

He was defeated in this attempted "Alamo" style massacre by the small band of men that included the famous Bat Masterson and Bermuda Charlie.

This "Battleground of Adobe Walls" now rests peacefully just thirty miles north of Borger.

work for us. If we choose the latter road, which we have shown more tendency toward doing since the early 1930's, than we must pay for it. And sooner or later we get to a position when we can go no farther... we have nothing to pay for it with.

whether you be...

REPUBLICAN or DEMOCRAT makes no difference in this fight. There are conservatives and liberals in both parties. Both parties have strayed far too far to the liberal side with the selfish purpose in mind of perpetuating their party in office. Neither party stands for the approach back to a safe, carefully financed, self-governed people.

It's our job...

TO BRING THE party's back to their original purpose. The party that succeeds first (if any does) deserves the eternal gratefulness of the people of this country.

getting back to...

THE FEDERAL aid idea. We don't think it will work, but we DO think it's coming. It's coming because we haven't decided yet to do the job that needs to be done on the community or state level.

we also...

WERE A LITTLE opposed to the new tax program announced for the local school district, then postponed (or abandoned... we don't yet know for sure, which.) But we were opposed to it for a different reason than most.

we were opposed...

BECAUSE IT DIDN'T include enough tax to collect enough money to offer our classroom teachers an across the board raise in base pay. We still believe, if we are ever to be able to hold teachers in this community, more pay in the base salary is a necessity.

the specialists...

SUCH AS supt., principals, band, charol, coaches, etc., sign for a bonus salary here, just as they do in most schools. But the minimum pay for the classroom teacher still is not enough. And the minimum pay called for in the contract is a big factor in signing teachers.

you hear it said...

PEOPLE DON'T object to paying the teachers more. That's not the reason they kick about their school taxes. It's "this" or "that" reason, not opposition to paying teachers. But when a situation persists in occurring, you get to wondering.

the, pay boost...

HAS TO COME, and because we won't decide to do it ourselves, it's going to come from the Federal Government... and with it will come some very interesting instructions on how to teach school.

CHARCOAL ROT IMPORTANT GRAIN SORGHUM AND CORN DISEASE

The fungus root rot causes more damage than head smut in many areas. Close to 100 percent infection may occur in susceptible selections or varieties. Losses are apt to be heaviest during years of little rainfall with dryland farming.

Damage is noticed during June and July in South Texas. The disease appears in north Texas during August and September.

Damage is easiest to detect when the plants are approaching maturity. Charcoal rot damaged plants have poorly filled heads or ears with lightweight grain. Diseased stalks ripen and dry early.

Weakening of the stalks by the fungus, in many cases, causes them to lodge. Stalks are soft and discolored at the base with the pith disintegrated and shredded. Small pin-point, blackish, seed bodies (sclerotia) may be among the shredded pith.

Other crops affected by the disease are alfalfa, cotton, lespedeza, sugar beets, sweetpotatoes, watermelons, sunflowers, peppers, cowpeas (southern peas), beans and peas. Crops that have their seeding stages and those that mature in cool or rainy weather are not damaged seriously. Abundant moisture from rain or irrigation water in the latter part of the growing season practically controls the stem rot form. Crops appear to resist the disease in their period of growth when they have high vigor. Work is under way in an effort to develop resistant hybrids.

Contact your extension agent for additional information. Ask for a copy of B-192, "Grain Sorghum Production in Texas" or B-712 "Charcoal Rot of Plants in East Texas."

ECONOMY OF MECHANICAL COTTON STRIPPING IN BLACKLANDS STUDIED

Studies conducted recently by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that on the Blackland Prairies, harvesting cotton with mechanical strippers is more economical than hiring labor crews to pull or snap by hand.

These studies covered the growing seasons of 1952-56. This five year period included two "good" years and three "bad" years. During this period, the increased returns with machine stripping averaged $14 per bale, but varied from $10 to $25. The smaller return was realized in seasons of poor crops and the larger return was realized in good crop seasons. In good and bad seasons alike, the growers who used improved production methods throughout the season obtained the best results.

If a grower has 50 acres or more of cotton that will average at least 1/2 bale per acre, he can afford his own stripper. This would be more economical than hiring custom stripping at $1.00 cwt. hauled to the gin.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has published a bulletin which contains a complete analysis of these studies. This bulletin, B-649, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

MEDIATOR HELPS SETTLE ISSUE . . .

General Telephone Workers, Management In Agreement To Avert Major Communications Strike In This Area

The following is a joint press release by General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communications Workers of America as issued by Frank A. Lennberg of the Company and Marvin Collins of the Union.

The settlement includes a general wage increase for the 2,840 employees represented by the Union. Initial estimates are that the increased wages that are effective last Sunday will total to some $350,000. Included in the wage settlement is a shortening in wage schedule length to 72 months from 75 months. Excluding increases resulting from schedule shortening, general wage increases range from two cents an hour to fourteen cents an hour depending generally upon the job classification and the employee's length of service.

The settlement was reached after 13 weeks of negotiations which began April 21. In fact, the new contract is dated exactly 3 months following commencement of negotiations reached an impasse, Federal Conciliator Walter White, of Dallas, Texas, stepped into the picture in an attempt to assist the parties. At about the same time, the Union polled its membership, for authority to strike should the Union's negotiating team consider strike action to be necessary. Through the assistance of Walter White, the impasse over the Union's demand for Company paid extraordinary medical insurance was broken permitting the negotiations to proceed to the final settlement.

The Union's bargaining team consisted of Marvin Collins, CWA Representative of St. Louis, Missouri; L. A. Sykora, CWA Representative of Lubbock; Jo Ann Reed, Traffic Operator, Ralls, Texas; H. M. Pinkston, President Local 6183, Combinationman, Whitesboro, Texas; B. J. Limmroth, President of Local 6180, San Angelo, Texas; and C. E. Whitaker, Testboardman, - Texarkana. The Company's bargaining team consisted of Frank A. Lennberg, Chairman; D. E. Van Ness; W. H. Thomson; G. T. Sims; J. R. Caldwell, and A. L. Fenner, all of San Angelo.
