Red Tape Forces Guild to Abandon Nursery Plans

FIRST FROST CAME OCT. 8TH

Apparently Texas' Last Frontier received its first ice, Saturday morning, October 8.

The report comes from J. O. Scoggins of Route 1, Morton, who was cutting grain southwest of Lehman that morning.

According to records in the Tribune office, the first light frost was reported in this area last year on Sept. 13.

Scoggins said that ice was on the tractor seat when he went to work on October 8.

In a meeting held Monday night, October 10, in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church, the Wesleyan Service Guild announced that plans for a Guild sponsored day nursery for Negro children have been abandoned.

Mrs. Carl England, chairman of the day nursery committee, told the group that this conclusion was reached after a recent meeting in the office of Judge Glenn W. Thompson; when the committee and Judge Thompson met with Mrs. Frances Lyle of Lubbock. Mrs. Lyle represented the day nursery committee.

FOUR DAYS OF RAINFALL BRING 3 1/2 INCHES OF MOISTURE TO COUNTY

The official rainfall for the month of October went over the three inch mark this past week with four consecutive rainy days that brought most harvesting to a standstill.

Although, as usual, the rain varied a great deal within the county, farmers from most directions reported more than three total inches of moisture in the period which began last Saturday and rains continued to fall through Tuesday.

Here's how the Soil Conservation Office gauged the wet spell.

October 11	.11
October 15	.15
October 16	1.05
October 17	2.07
Oct. 18	.30
Total for October to date	3.59

The rain may have been a factor in holding off a killing frost in the area. As skies began to clear up the threat of an early freeze subsided somewhat.

Indians Face Rugged Olton Mustangs After Loss To Abernathy Gridders

The powerful Olton Mustangs, one of two teams picked to battle it out for the 2-AA Championship will provide the opposition Friday night when Morton attempts to win it's first conference game for an expected large Homecoming throng.

The Mustangs, with nearly all of its power-packed backfield from last year's championship team, still carrying the load, are unbeaten in six outings.

Randee Buchenau, the murrucy-footed halfback and Robert Priest, a fast and powerful driving fullback, are expected to carry the load against the crippled, weak defensive Indians. Olton will be favored to make a rout of the game.

Morton looked woefully weak at Abernathy last week, losing a 37 to 6 game to a team that hadn't been in the victory column until that game.

With it's two top defensive men, J. R. Wilson and Tootsie Davis injured, Morton just couldn't plug the holes against Abernathy.

Priest and Buchenau paced the Mustang win over Muleshoe last Friday night, the 6th straight win for the Olton lads. Only Floydada, also unbeaten, is expected to give Olton a fight for the title.

But Morton, which has summoned up three great defensive fights so far this season, certainly is due to hang on for a victory, if they

Bledsoe Schools Have 'Open House'; Display Repairs, Improvements

BLEDSOE (Sp.) — A good attendance was noted recently when the Bledsoe School held a Sunday afternoon "Open House" to display to patrons of the school improvements in the physical plant over the summer.

The open house, held from 3 until 5 p.m., October 9th, included the distribution of one page mimeographed brochure which called attention to all of the improvements as the guests toured the plant.

Among the improvements were the following:

The lawn was planted, filled in, and area bordering the street was curbed. Further landscaping and planting of shrubbery was to be completed within a few weeks. A connecting sidewalk was added between the two approach sidewalks, and two new steel front doors, equipped with all of the latest in panic hardware devices enhance the outward looks of the building.

The halls and stairwells have been covered with vinyl asbestos tile, with a rubber molding around the edges to seal the floor with the walls. The stairs have been covered with rubber covering and a chromium plated molding has been installed around the steps.

Classrooms were repainted and electrical outlets were installed for use in audio-visual and other related teaching aids. More bulletin boards were provided for classrooms.

Both of the downstairs restrooms received general repainting and new lavatories were installed.

Restrooms were installed upstairs by the conversion of a book room, which was moved to the balcony, sharing an area formerly used for storeroom purposes only.

The other rest room was installed in an area formerly used as a science storeroom.

The science department was the object of considerable summertime improvements. New ceiling lights, casting no shadows, better acoustical ceiling material, new science tables and display cases. Ten pupil stations in the laboratory. A swinging door connects the laboratory and the science classroom and slanted glass paneling between the two rooms makes possible the conducting of a class in the lecture room and the supervision of laboratory work at the same time.

Other additions include a new water reservoir and pump house. The reservoir is a 16 x 16 foot steel reinforced concrete reservoir with a capacity of over 30,000 gallons of water, making it possible for the school to have a lawn.

Supt. Otis Parr and the members of his school board are justly proud of the additions and repairs that have greatly enhanced the looks and usability of the school plant.

Among those who attended the open house was County Judge and ex-officio county school superintendent, Glenn Thompson.

Thanks, Folks...

We greatly appreciate all of you who braved the rain Sunday afternoon to attend our "Open House." And we extend you a warm welcome to call again...

To you who missed out on our formal opening because of the rain, we hereby extend a cordial welcome to drop by anytime and visit... the latch string is always out.

And, a special thanks to all the folks who sent flowers, they were grand.

Deanery moderator, Mgr. Thomas J. Drury of Lubbock, stressed the Catholic people should do more to help the migrant workers by getting their children together and teaching them the Catholic Doctrine. He suggested the bringing of a resolution before the board to have diocesan help such as cards, pamphlets, etc. The suggestion was made to have children save all of their Catholic Messengers and magazines to give to those who cannot afford to buy them.

In a letter from Diocesan moderator, Msgr. Francis A. Smyer, it was stated that each committee should do more. He said the weakness is in parish chairmen. Mrs. Buxkemper urged all parish and deanery chairmen to make arrangements to attend the opening session of the chairman's workshop the morning of Tuesday, November 15, at the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's Convention in Odessa. This will be the best way for all chairmen to learn their duties and responsibilities regardless of what committee they may be head of, it was said.

The 24th annual DCCW Convention Program was read by the vice president, Mrs. Gaubert Demel.

The Holy Father, Pope John XXIII will celebrate his 80th birthday in November; so Msgr. Drury suggested that each parish have a special mass read or any other spiritual bouquet they wish for the Pope's intentions.

The resolution on migrant workers was presented at this time and reads as follows: Resolve: That the Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women under the Immigration Committee establish a definite program with regard to the migrant workers. It is suggested that at least $100 be set aside to defray the expenses of this work. Specific use of these funds would be for literature, for announcement cards, listing locations of churches, times of masses and prayers, for advertising, and for setting up of parish councils.

Preliminary plans for the Lubbock Spring Deanery meeting were discussed. Due to limited space it was thought best to combine the workshops as follows: 1st, Youth, Family Life and Spiritual Development; 2nd, Immigration, Catholic Charities and Rural Life with a display of libraries and literature; and 3rd, Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. Under the guidance of Msgr. Drury, Public Relations workshop will be held during the general assembly.

KENNY SIMS

Clergy present for the board meeting were Msgr. Thomas D. O'Brien of Slaton, Msgr. Thomas J. Drury of Lubbock, Rev. Louis B. Moeller of Pep and Rev. Aidan Q. Donlon of Lubbock.

It was expressed that it was hoped each and every chairman will attend the DCCW Convention November 15 and 16 in Odessa.

Three-Way Student Gets Honor

One senior at Three Way High School has been honored for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring. Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Elbert Adams, the school's counselor has announced that the commended student is Kenneth Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sims of Maple.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship

Corporation, stated: "Letters of Commendation are being awarded to some 28,000 students throughout the United States in recognition of their excellent performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

"While these bright youngsters did not reach the status of semifinalists in the 1960-61 Merit Program, they are so outstanding that we wish to single them out for special attention. The semifinalists and commended students together constitute less than three per cent of all high school seniors, and this certainly signifies noteworthy achievement."

The semi finalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in the United States territories. Some 10,000 semifinalists will take a second examination in December to establish further their eligibility to receive Merit Scholarships.

Musical Understanding Is Subject of Town and Country Study Club Program

The home of Mrs. W. B. Cox was the scene of a tea preceding an outstanding program on "Musical Understanding," for the Town and Country Study Club.

Mrs. Weldon Newsome introduced the program by taking members and their guests on a journey into the periods of classical music composed by men whose music and lives were dedicated to a religious cause — men who lived only to compose music and to worship God.

"This classical music has never been surpassed and is loved and revered the whole world over, these centuries since," said Mrs. Newsome.

This change in style eventually led to the Romanticism and Modern periods. Another selection played was Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," from his "Messiah." These were to express sounds in musical composition.

Mrs. L. S. McCarty was introduced and led the group along the journey of Romanticism, fusing it into the Modern, and then into the Contemporary period of unusual sounds in music of today and of tomorrow.

"Composers write what they hear or feel," Mrs. McCarty stated, "and our modern times are a breathless rush. We sometimes don't know where we are going, we are in such a rush. Thus, modern composers of contemporary music start with no major or minor key and most often lead the listener in a frantic, almost discordant chase, that ends suddenly. These are modern sounds that we are accustomed to in our everyday living, and we will eventually become accustomed to them in compositions. We must cultivate this 'like' for new sounds. We like the older sounds in music because we understand them. This transition will take time. Remember that modern music was introduced in the times of Bach and Beethoven, yet wasn't wholly accepted until the 1920's. Thus contemporary, with its constant feverish movement, full of audacity, melancholy, uneasiness & no totality — that is typical of our lives today, will have to be cultivated. Even the whole musical world may be revolutionized by the quarter-tone piano being devised, much as the classical compositions were, by the invention of the piano as we know it today."

Mrs. Pegues Houston discussed Folk Music. "This is music that has been handed down by simple musical instruments or voice, of a particular locale. It is the unwritten creation of the folk who modified or added to it, little by little, through generations. Folk music generally remains the same, even though the boundaries or rule of the country may have undergone a change, as is the case with many European countries. There is a definite, ancestral historic tone. "The Volga Boatman" and our Negro spirituals are examples. Dance songs are the oldest folk music because these chants were used before there were many musical instruments available. Many of our hymns and carols are set to folk music. Even the music for the "Farmer in the Dell," is an old English folk song."

Mrs. Houston played a medley of folk songs from many countries to illustrate the different tones, from the traditional reserve of English music to the warm, vibrant music of the South American people. "The folk music tells us more about a country than any set of highways," she said. "The folk songs leave their mark in an honorable place."

In summing up the program, Mrs. J. D. Glass, program chairman, said: "These Journeys to Understanding" are like packages under a Christmas tree. We look forward to opening them with excitement and anticipation. Today we have just unwrapped a mink stole, in our studies."

VOTE FOR TEXAS

RICHARD M. NIXON, candidate for President, is a Californian, but he thinks the Texas way. Richard Nixon stands for:

- A strong national economy and defense so that America will not have to apologize to Khrushchev for anything;
- A sensible farm program that will attack and solve the present problems.
- Texas retaining its tidelands, and a tax policy favorable to Texas.
- Local control of our schools.

If you will read and compare Nixon's platform to that of his opponent, you will agree that a vote for Nixon is a vote for the best interests of Texas.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Two things have happened in California which will have a far reaching effect on the future of so-called trading stamps.

One of the things is a law which makes it mandatory for the cash value of each stamp to be printed on it, and the company issuing the stamps must on demand redeem the stamps in cash.

Another part of the new law in California is providing for stamp companies to post a bond assuring the redemption of the stamps it issues through various dealers.

It will now be interesting to see if California housewives demand cash redemption. Usually, trading stamps carry a value of 1/10 of a cent, but only heretofore redeemable in various items of merchandise which the stamp firm buys wholesale, and then figures out the stamp value so that those who redeem stamps for an article, pay the retail price.

Thus, it is expected many California housewives from now on will take the cash and buy what they want from the local dealers in these items.

The bubble of the big value in stamp savings will thus be burst in California, at least.

But probably of even greater import to the trading stamp method of doing business was the unanimous and spontaneous decision of California service station operators to discontinue the use of trading stamps.

County by county, the service station men stopped giving out stamps, and all report there has not been the loss of a single gallon of gasoline sales since stopping stamps.

The only report is that their profits, always squeezed down low by the prices set by the major oil companies, show some improvement.

It was interesting how this move in California to throw out trading stamps got underway.

Major oil companies some months ago rigged prices so that service station operators could only make 4.5 cents per gallon, or something like 10%. It was soon determined by many station operators, that by giving trading stamps, they were being cut down to 3 cents per gallon.

Then a few observant operators scattered all through the state started doing some accounting work on the operations of their own businesses.

As a result, these operators found that the stamp companies were taking more out of their service stations than they, the operators, were getting despite working 70 hours per week, or longer.

Notes were compared. Something had to give, they decided. They could not support the major oil companies and stamp companies both. So the decision was reached to throw out stamps. Gasoline sales in California have not dropped one pint as a result.

With Your... COUNTY AGENT

By Homer E. Thompson

The following are some of the amendments passed in 1960 to the Social Security Act. Other less important changes are rather numerous and will not be mentioned here. Interested persons should contact their nearest Social Security Office for pamphlet OASI - 1960 - 1, entitled, "Changes in Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance Under the Social Security Amendments of 1960."

A few of the changes are listed and discussed briefly below:

BENEFITS MAY BE PAID DISABLED WORKERS OF ANY AGE. Previously, the worker must have reached the age of 50 before being eligible for disability payments. Under the amendment act, a disabled worker may become eligible for benefits at any age, after the 6 months waiting period.

LESS BENEFITS MAY BE WITHHELD FOR MANY WORKERS. The basis for holding back monthly benefits has been changed considerably.

BENEFITS ARE RAISED FOR SOME CHILDREN OF DECEASED WORKERS. The change simply provides that the monthly benefit to each child of a worker (who has died) will be three-fourths of the amount he would have received had he lived to retirement age. Where only one child is involved, the benefits are the same; only where two or more children are involved will benefits (per child) be raised.

AGED DEPENDENT WIDOWS OF WOMEN WHO DIED BEFORE SEPTEMBER, 1960 MAY GET BENEFITS. The new law provides for benefits to such widowers, provided:

- a. Worker (wife) had paid into social security for at least 1-1/2 years.
b. Husband was dependent upon wife for at least one half of support.
c. Widower is 65 years old or more.

THE AMOUNT OF COVERED WORK REQUIRED FOR BENEFITS IS REDUCED. Under the new law, most people can become insured more quickly. Also, some older people (past 65) who did not work for the time required under the old law will now be eligible for benefit payments. However, no one can become eligible without having worked under social security for 1-1/2 years.

The survivors of workers who died after June, 1954, and who were not eligible for benefits under the old law may not be eligible because of the change.

SURVIVORS OF WORKERS WHO DIED BEFORE 1940 MAY RECEIVE BENEFITS. Survivors of any worker who died between March 31, 1938 and January 1, 1940, (and who had worked under social security for at least 1-1/2 years before his death) may now get benefits.

PARENTS WHO WORK FOR

SONS OR DAUGHTERS ARE COVERED BEGINNING January 1, 1961.

Starting in January, 1961, work that a parent does for a son or daughter in the household of a son or daughter will not be covered.

POLICY REGARDING HERBICIDES ON PASTURES

Weeds compete with pasture and meadow plants, often reducing yields by 50%. Chemical weed control is one of the cheapest and fastest methods of control, thus accounting for large acreages of pastures being sprayed each year.

Although herbicides are important tools in weed control practices, they must be used in a safe manner to avoid harmful residues and in a manner established by Federal regulations. This is necessary to protect the best interest of the users, persons making recommendations, manufacturers and all other people concerned. Our recommendations will be revised to comply with current laws and regulations in effect.

Under the various laws and amendments regulating the use of these agricultural chemicals, the Food and Drug Administration has the authority to establish residue tolerances. "Each pesticide chemical has the equivalent of a zero tolerance or an exemption for its residue."

RESIDUE TOLERANCES HAVE NOT BEEN SET FOR ANY HERBICIDES RECOMMENDED FOR USE ON PASTURES OR MEADOW PLANTS TO BE CONSUMED BY LIVESTOCK SINCE THEIR USE IS REGISTERED ON A "NO RESIDUE" BASIS. This would automatically give herbicides to be used in this manner a zero tolerance on the harvested or grazed crop.

Nearly all dairy cattle graze on pastures classified as cultivated or improved pastures. It should be especially stressed that a zero tolerance is in effect for all pesticide chemicals that will appear in milk. Herbicides described in the pasture publication include 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T, amino triazole, MCP, Dalapon, Sodium TCA, selective dinitras and ammate. All these plus any additional herbicides discussed in other pasture publications, fall into the no residue tolerance category previously discussed. This will make all recommendations in these publications for use of herbicides on forages non-applicable.

Herbicides used on forage which is to be consumed by livestock are registered on a "no residue" basis by the United States Department of Agriculture. A no residue registration is considered to be a zero tolerance by the Food and Drug Administration. The herbicides discussed in this publication fall into this group. It is not known presently how to recommend the use of these herbicides so as to eliminate the possibilities of residues on pastures and meadows.

REVIEW OF "THE UGLY AMERICAN" IS PROGRAM OF 1936 STUDY CLUB

Members of the 1936 Study Club met October 5 in the home of Mrs. J. D. Hawthorne.
 Mrs. H. R. Ramp conducted the business meeting and Mrs. H. B. King introduced the program for the day.

Mrs. D. E. Benham reviewed the novel, "The Ugly American," by Wm. J. Lederer and Eugene Burdick. The book is made up of a series of short narratives set mainly in an imaginary but typical South-east Asian country.

It is a most telling criticism of our foreign services — the ineptness and lack of ordinary common sense that have crept into our information services and our foreign secretariats.

The episodes outlined are closer to fact than fiction, and although the authors are somewhat prejudiced and harp on extreme cases, one cannot help but suspect that there must be something radically wrong with the climate of our foreign service.

Twelve members were present & two guests, Mrs. Carl England and Mrs. J. W. Arnold.

DON'T FEED THE GARBAGE CAN

Is your garbage can a heavy eater? How much does it cost to feed it for a year?

The average American feeds 225 pounds of food a year to the garbage can, according to estimates by extension food specialists. That's two-thirds of a pound a day. For a family of five that would add up to 3 and 1-3 pounds a day or 1,125 pounds a year. At the low rate of 25 cents a pound, this means a family of five pays $281 for groceries it does not eat.

Specialists point to four common causes of food waste in the home: lack of good planning and buying, which result in overbuying, poor preparation and serving of food, poor use of leftovers, and improper practices of preservation and storage.

What to do about them? Plan your buying and preserving so that food can be used or stored promptly before it loses freshness and flavor or spoils. Serve food when it reaches the just right stage. It loses texture and flavor if overcooked or if it stands too long before it is served. Keep all food clean, cool and covered until you use it. Check food of ten and keep it moving.

Suggestions for planning meals, buying, preparing, serving and preserving foods are given in Extension Bulletin, "Eat Well for Less." Get a copy from this office.

The regular meeting of the Cochran County Home Demonstration Council met Monday, October 10, with Mrs. Edward Brownlow, chairman, in charge. The change of the meeting day to Monday for this month was to avoid a conflict with the annual Achievement Day, held on Tuesday. The day will again be changed next month, to the first Tuesday, to avoid conflict with general election day.

It's the Law in TEXAS

STATE SOMETIMES "INHERITS" PROPERTY

Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as the owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estates of persons having no heirs who die intestate revert, or "escheat", to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or state), having been the original owner of all lands before they were parceled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands when the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also applies in the case of a person absent for a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State by default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of a catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your property would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality.

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your wishes.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accordance with our statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical partition of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for a settlement.

What happens to property which escheats to the State? Following certain required legal formalities and court proceedings, all escheated lands are set apart to the Permanent Free School Fund of the State, and may be leased and sold by the Land Commissioner under certain regulations. Escheated personal property is sold by the local sheriff under a court writ and the money received therefrom paid into the State Treasury.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

To Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Judge and Mrs. Bun Nixon of Whiteface will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary at their home, Sunday, October 23rd, with an "open house."

They invite all of their friends and acquaintances to call between the hours of three and six o'clock.

The judge is serving as Justice of the Peace, Precinct Two (Whiteface) at the present time. His wife, a school teacher prior to her marriage in Lamar County, was the first teacher of M. H. Wiseley of Morton. Wiseley attended the wedding of the Nixons 50 years ago.

Mrs. Nixon, before her marriage, boarded for a time in the home of Wiseley's parents when she was teaching in the Hopewell Community.

Stewardship Training Program Continues Here

At 6 p.m. adults will be studying stewardship under the direction of Ralph DeBord.

Mrs. W. G. Freeland and Mrs. Woodrow Cunningham will lead the primary and junior groups in stewardship study. This includes children from six through eleven.

Also meeting at 6 p.m. will be the seniors with Mr. and Mrs. John Crowder as advisors, and the junior high group with Mrs. J. D. Hawthorne.

LEAGUES IN FULL SWING AT FRONTIER LANES; HANDICAPS TO TAKE EFFECT NEXT WEEK

Bowling Leagues at Frontier Lanes swung into their 3rd week of play this week with tentative leaders determined, but after this week of play a handicap will be determined for teams and players...

The Tribune is in receipt of two of the secretary's reports for league play.

In the Monday night Frontier Men's league, last Monday, Silvers Butane and Maple Coop Gin each won four points and thus lead the league with 11-1 records.

Standings, at the end of the 3rd round of play (actual pins) showed Don Allsup's 171 average for 3 games as high average. Moler had a 169 average for 6 games.

The Major League, which bowls on Thursday nights, at the end of two rounds of play, showed Truett's Food with 7-1 to lead the league...

Ray Spector of the Clippers had a 180 average for 3 games, high average and high individual performance.

High team series was posted by the Tribune, 2158, last week, and the high game was Spector's 203.

Other leagues had not turned in a score sheet this week.

Telescopes were installed at the Frontier Lanes last week enabling all scores to be shown on a screen during league play.

Although averages will be figured on actual pins, scores of team games, and winners will be determined on a pins plus handicap basis...
