Candidates, voters attend rally

Courthouse congregation listens to 23 speeches

By JAMIE ANDERSON
Tribune News Editor

Twenty-three candidates or their representatives climbed the steps of the Cochran County Courthouse to speak to voters attending the political rally Saturday night.

The rally, sponsored by the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce, drew a light crowd of spectators on the west lawn. A coffee sponsored by the Cochran Area Democratic Women was held at the County Activities Building Banquet Room following the event.

R. B. McAlister of Lubbock spoke in behalf of Gordon McLendon for U. S. Senator. McAlister said, "He may or may not win. If he does, he will be a great Senator."

Jerry Sanders, state campaign manager for Waggoner Carr, spoke to the crowd first. He noted that no man ever came into the Attorney General's office more qualified than Carr. He listed the slant oil drilling cases, the Billie Sol Estes scandal and the work of the Warren Commission as instances where Carr had done good work.

Louis Owens, Hockley County judge, spoke in behalf of his father, Jesse Owens, who is running for Railroad Commissioner. Owens said, "Everyone feels the pinch of higher taxes due to the lack of petroleum prosperity." His candidate would be for higher allowances and a cut in imports from out-of-state and overseas. He would have a "can do" attitude instead of a "can't do" attitude.

In the race for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Leroy Johnson of Morton spoke in behalf of Jack Pope who is seeking the office.

Two candidates were present in the race for the judgeship in the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. Ernest O. Northcutt spoke first, saying, "I am a Democrat." He then went into a discussion of how the court handles appeals cases.

Herbert C. Martin, another judicial candidate, is a former member of the court seeking the office. Martin, a former Littlefield resident, explained that he would stand on his previous record in the court for his qualifications.

In the 19th District Congressional race Joe Phillips of Lubbock and the lone Republican candidate to speak said, "I am very concerned about the future of our nation."

Phillips listed the wheat deal with Russia, the Panama Treaty dispute and big imports of cattle and oil as big problems facing the United States.

All five candidates in the race for state representative in the 90th District were on hand to speak. Jesse George, a Brownfield school teacher, called himself not a young man of promises, but of hope and sincerity. Howard Ragland noted that he had financed his own campaign without any outside contributions. In addition Ragland said he had flown to Austin three times to work problems firsthand. He further pledged to come to Morton every three months to visit constituents if elected. W. A. Bynum quoted the late Sam Rayburn saying, "I am a Democrat without suffix, prefix or apology."

A. B. "AIF" Carpenter explained that the voters should be able to pick a good representative with the wide variety of choice available. Roy Edwards pledged his support to the farmers and businessmen of the area.

Council discusses more paving ideas

Morton City Council met in a special called session Monday to further discuss paving matters and other items of business.

The resolution of April 13 which advertised certain blocks for paving was amended to include unit 11 on W. Taylor. Date of the property owners' hearing was changed from May 1 to May 8 at 1:30 p.m.

The council approved the Fred Payne subdivision in southwest Morton.

Approval was given to adjust the taxes on lots 4-8 in block 125 of the city.

School will offer summer courses for young students

An enrichment program for third, fourth and fifth grade students in Morton will be conducted this summer.

The small classes of 15 to 20 students will be given concentrated instruction in reading and arithmetic according to Bill Matthews.

Classes are to be held for two hours per day during the six weeks period from June 8 through July 17. The books and lesson plans used for the summer session will be different from those used during the regular school terms.

The classes, for which a tuition of $20 will be charged, are designed to improve the functions and knowledge of the students at their grade level.

A deadline of May 8 has been set for registering for the classes. Interested persons should call 266-3461 for more information.

Principal Matthews urged all interested parents to contact him in the near future.

Rulings arrive on new law

LUBBOCK — The first U. S. Department of Agriculture rulings on the operation of the cotton bill recently signed into law by the President have begun to arrive.

They are far from complete and several ends are left dangling, but at least they do indicate more or less what we will be faced with for the 1964 crop year.

The new legislation gives cotton farmers three choices. They can (1) plant total effective allotment, (2) plant total effective allotment plus five percent, or (3) plant domestic allotment only. Effective allotment means total 1964 acres, including any acreage received under release and reapportionment, and by planting this amount the farmer will qualify for the base loan rate of 30 cents per pound, middling-up cotton at average location, on all production. In effect, then, this alternative makes the producer's operation essentially the same as in 1963 with the exception that his price support is lowered by 2.5 cents per pound.

County approves hiring of relief night dispatcher

County Commissioners' Court approved the hiring of a relief night dispatcher in a special called session Monday morning.

Earl Crum and Dean Weatherly appeared before the court to discuss the possibility of the county hiring the relief worker. The court approved a motion to get a relief employee at a salary of $10 per night. Sheriff Hazel Hancock will be in charge of securing the new dispatcher.

Bids will be opened May 15 on air conditioning for the County Activities Building.

Harral Rawls, precinct three commissioner, was given the go ahead to purchase the Griffith building for use by his precinct.

Pan American Petroleum Corp. was granted an easement to cross under county roads with two pipelines. One site was a dirt road separating Labor 1, League 61 and Labor 19, League 64. The line will cross the road approximately 400 feet from the south line of Labor 1.

In addition a line will cross the county dirt road running diagonally across Labor 1, League 61, and will cross the road approximately 1,200 feet southwest of where the road enters the northeast corner of Labor 1. The lines will be at a depth of not less than four feet.

Richard Biggs met with the court to discuss air conditioning for the local hospital.

PCG meeting speakers

SPEAKERS on the program for the Plains Cotton Growers meeting Tuesday night included Willard Cox, farmer representative, Frank Moore of Plainview, ASC state committeeman and E. O. Willingham, businessman representative.

Topics of discussion for the meeting included cotton trends, staple lengths, legislation and a new export program.

Frank Moore speaks to PCG

Discussion of new methods, trends, and legislation in the cotton industry highlighted the annual meeting of the Cochran County Plains Cotton Growers.

Over 200 interested persons filled into the County Activities Building Auditorium to hear Frank Moore, state ASC committeeman from Plainview, Donald Johnson, executive assistant for PCG, and Willard Cox and E. O. Willingham, the farmer and business representative to PCG from Cochran County.

The outlook for cotton was determined to be good with the passage of recent legislation which made it possible for American mills to buy American cotton as cheaply as their foreign competitors. This should cause the surplus to dwindle and the manufacture of synthetic fibers to decline. American mills will get the cotton 6 1/2 cents cheaper. This price will remain in effect until August 1 when any change will be determined.

There will be no allotment cuts for at least two years.

Moore, a three year member of the state ASC committee, lauded the work of the PCG and ASC. He gave a talk on new methods of raising cotton and presented slides picturing the new procedures employed.

An election of officers was held and both Cox and Willingham were re-elected for second terms on the PCG committee.

Johnson noted the fine representation of Cochran County at the meeting. He explained that the new legislation was not the complete answer, but that it was a step in the right direction. Johnson further explained that the market on short staple cotton was dwindling. Only two million bales of short staple cotton can find a market.

Trends derived from PCG statistics showed a great need for longer staple cotton. The trend of all textile mills, both foreign and domestic, is toward long staple cotton.

For instance in Japan, production time was ordered cut by one-third. So the textile mills merely began to use longer staple cotton which can be processed much faster than the shorter variety. This upped their production with less labor expense.

Cox displayed placards explaining the trend toward longer staple cotton. Short staple cotton in the Commodity Credit Company warehouse in 1961 was only 2 percent.

Members hear Tom McFarland speak on resource conservation

"Let's Keep America Beautiful by conservation of our natural resources," guest speaker Tom McFarland told members of L'Allegro Study Club at a meeting Thursday night.

McFarland, manager of High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, Lubbock, was introduced by Mrs. Dewwood McClintock, program chairman.

He traced the origin, formation and purposes of the plains water districts. Titled his topic "How Much is a Little?"

McFarland said, "The only source of water in this area is from rain and underground."

"Unless we exercise great caution in use of water we may encounter a shortage. In irrigating farmer's are often negligent about changing the irrigation system, allowing water to run-off. This is against the rules of a conservation district, is a reportable offense and the Sheriff or a conservation member may be called to shut off the water."

"This fall or run-off water plus lost top soil is conserved by a man-made lake system, later pumped to fields for re-use."

"Figures in a check made to ascertain amount of topsoil lost indicate eight tons of topsoil per acre foot of water in a 24 hour period was washed off," McFarland told the group.

"Water runoff is not only wasteful but particularly in cases where it runs on highways a hazard that may prove exceedingly dangerous by undermining roadways."

"Farmers and employees using irrigation water should time watering and change the flow often enough to prevent runoff," McFarland said.

McFarland showed colored slides of the various irrigation systems, proper methods of watering; soil and water conservation.

Included in the pictures was a slide of one of the first irrigation wells located near Lubbock, it was drilled in 1916 producing 1,000 gallons of water per minute.

During the business in charge of Mrs. Elwood Harris, plans were completed for the "Spring Round-Up", honoring area newcomers. The event will be held April 24 with L'Allegro Study Club cooperating with Morton Area Chamber of Commerce in hosting the party.

Projects for the coming club year include: Girlstown, USA, Patients at Roberts Memorial Home; Community Christmas program and clothes - Bank for a school system. Also discussed, was the supplement to the Area Directory. It was decided to place a half page advertisement in the Morton Tribune Dollar Day Special in order to secure necessary corrections and additions.

Mrs. Harold Drennan hosted Thursday night's meeting serving refreshments to the guest speaker and these members: Mesdames Van Green, Harris, McClintock, James McClure, Melvin McCoy, W. B. McSpadden, J. C. Reynolds, Gene Snyder, Dan Swicegood, Bobby Travis, Jack Wallace, E. O. Willingham and John Haggard.

"I believe that any elected official must be first of all, qualified. But just as important, that person must be dedicated to his or her duty in that office. "I have tried to work hard in my campaign, yet I know that this is just the beginning. I work just as hard as your tax assessor-collector, and will be dedicated to the job if elected."

"I feel my past experience qualifies me for the job. "My experience as an employer will enable me to hire and oversee the work of the personnel in the tax assessor-collector's office. Because of my past experience, I can also assure you that I will carry my share of the work load."

"I am interested in Cochran County, its growth and economy, and am also interested in a fair county government. If you want an economically and efficiently run office of tax assessor-collector in your county, I invite your vote and support."

Garden Club hosts show, silver tea

The new home of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. McSpadden on Garfield Avenue provided the setting Sunday afternoon for a silver tea and placement show "Spring Awakening" hosted by Cochran County Garden Club.

Mrs. McSpadden welcomed the guests in the foyer and introduced Mrs. Bobby Travis who served as tour guide through the house where the various floral arrangements were on display. Mrs. Roy Hill was at the guest register.

An old fashioned mass arrangement of purple iris and red rose buds in slender antique gold container arranged by Mrs. Charles Jones was featured on the console in the foyer.

The refreshment table in the formal dining room was covered in floor length, ruffled pink net over pink taffeta. Garden club members alternated at the coffee and punch service.

A pyramid arrangement of chrysanthemums, lilac, statice, iris, candy tuft and sweetpea foliage in colors of orchid, purple and white by Mrs. Travis centered the refreshment table.

Phone operators may aid children

Small children should know and trust the telephone operator as much as they do the corner policeman, and should turn to the operator in case of an emergency.

Extension Service specialists at Texas A&M University say that although pre-school youngsters can't be expected to memorize long telephone numbers, they can be taught one rule: If an accident happens, dial zero, tell the operator what is wrong, and she will help you.

One five-year-old's plaintive message to the operator was "My Mommie's asleep and won't wake up — and there's a fire in our house." After a little prodding, the operator learned the boy's name and address and called the fire department. Firemen rushed to the address, found the house on fire, and the mother knocked out by sleeping pills. Both survived, thanks to the child's action and the operator's help.

Although operators are ingenious in tracing calls from small fry, such procedure is a waste of precious time. Encourage your child to memorize his name, his father's name and address.

Democratic Candidate for
State

90th DISTRICT
Terry-Yoakum-Hockley-Cochran
Counties
Pol. Adv. Paid by Friends of W. A. Bynum

Dear Friend,

Please accept this as my personal visit with you in your home or place of business, as the case might be, because that certainly is the way it is intended.

My wife Jewell and I have worked hard trying to visit every town and community in this four county district during this campaign as a candidate for State Representative, but we realized from the start that the time element would make it impossible to conduct a house-to-house call, so let us thank you for allowing us to visit you in this way.

Let me say that I have spent many years working in and for the interest of Terry-Yoakum-Cochran and Hockley Counties, and I intend to continue to do so regardless of the out-come of this election.

Also, I have spent many years and a considerable amount of money in the interest of the Democratic Party from the local level to the national level, and I intend to continue to work in this field, because I have always considered politics the science of good government, so for that reason I think it is not only our privilege but our duty to take an active part in politics.

So, my friends, with the knowledge I have of our district through acquaintances and personal contacts, I think I have the basic knowledge and qualifications to deal with the problems and decisions necessary in making you a good representative.

I will deeply appreciate your vote and support in the Democratic Primary on May 2nd.

Thank You,
(Signed)

Phone negotiations continue between workers, company

SAN ANGELO — Contract negotiations between General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communications Workers of America resumed Monday.

Tentative agreement was reached on several additional items during four days of negotiations the week of April 13, however no further information has been released by the company spokesman.

Negotiations on a new contract began last June 21 and continued until October when the Union requested a recess until agreement was reached by General Telephone Company of California and the CWA. The California Company and CWA reached agreement on March 13 after a 141 day strike.

The Southwest Company and the CWA resumed negotiations on March 25 following settlement of the California strike and have continued since that date.

Anniversary date of the contract now in effect between the Southwest Company and the CWA was July 21, 1963. The present contract remains in effect until cancelled by either party.

"We hope for an early agreement which will equitably represent the interests of customers, employees and shareholders," E. H. Danner, company president, said in his statement to shareholders earlier this year.

County Agent's report

By HOMER THOMPSON

Early insect control

During the past few weeks there have been several inquiries concerning the use of phorate and di-syston for early season cotton insect control. Outlined below are some of the general considerations concerning the use and effectiveness of these materials.

Pest controlled — In general, phorate and di-syston will give effective control of thrips, aphid and leaf miners for 4-6 weeks following planting. In some instances, under optimum conditions, even longer control has been experienced. However, the grower should not anticipate control for longer than 4-6 weeks from planting date.

Formulations available — Both phorate and di-syston are available as a 10% granular material to be placed in the furrow with the seed at planting time. These granular materials are recommended at the rate of 5-10 pounds of the 10% granular material per acre, giving a rate of actual toxicant from 0.5-1 pound per acre. In addition, phorate treated seed may be planted. Pre-treated planting seed can be purchased through seed dealers or the grower can have his own planting seed treated with phorate.

Advantages — The use of systemic materials insures effective control of most early season pests when weather would normally keep the grower out of the field with ground equipment.

Soil testing
 James H. Valentine at the Soil Testing Laboratory, Lubbock, has sent the county agent the following information: a number of soil samples received and processed from Cochran County:

From time laboratory opened in Lubbock through Aug. 31, 1961, 51 soil samples were tested. Year ending, Aug. 31, 1962 - 72 soil samples tested. Year ending Aug. 31, 1963 99 soil samples tested. From Sept. 1, 1963 to Feb. 29, 1964, 18 soil samples tested making a total of 240 samples tested from Cochran County.

Farmers of Cochran County are urged to take advantage of this soil testing service. Forms and containers are available at the County Agent's office.

Review of lawn care

For an attractive lawn this summer, homeowners should review and plan lawn care. Proper fertilization, watering and mowing are important.

Fertilization should continue all through the growing season. Start when grass begins to grow using a complete fertilizer. One having equal amounts of nitrogen, phosphate and potassium for this first application is suggested. Apply at the rate of two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

During the growing season, apply nitrogen ever eight to 10 weeks at the rate of one to two pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet. Nitrogen is the key element in turf growth. It produces the deep color homeowners desire.

When watering the lawn should soak the soil to a depth of six inches. This encourages root system that will utilize nutrients more efficiently. Sprinkling produces shallow root system that encourages infestation and disease.

Mowing should be frequent. A small amount of plant growth removed with each cutting. Only one inch off is recommended. Mowing should be cut at a height of two inches and Bermuda lawns should be cut at 1½ inches.

Lawn mowers should be kept in good condition. The blade should be kept sharp and not shredding or crushing. The machine should be in running condition and have adequate safety devices. Stumps and other objects should be removed so they won't dull or be thrown dangerously by the mowers.

Jones seeks job as commissioner of Precinct One

Emmett Jones, candidate for county commissioner of precinct one, subject to action of the May 2 Democratic primary election, has made the following statement. "I have only one promise to make, and it is that each decision I make will be my own personal decision. I hope that it will be for the betterment of the county and the people of the county, who pay the taxes and make the county and community a good place to live in. Thank you for your vote and influence come May 2."

Jones, 50, has been living in Cochran County almost constantly since 1930 and has been concerned with the Morton Co-Op Gin. The past 12 years he has farmed in the county, but sold his interests at the first of this year.

Jones, a graduate of Bledsoe High School, stressed that he was running and financing his own campaign at his own expense and represented no special group.

He and his wife, Connie, reside at 405 SW 3rd St. and are members of the First Baptist Church. They are the parents of four daughters: Mrs. Joe Webber of Tampa, Fla., Mrs. Sid Harrison, Pampa, Mrs. Walter Sandefer, Morton, and Christine Jones of Clovis.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Barrett were her daughters, Mrs. Rube Hogan, Ft. Worth; Mrs. Claude Fincher and husband and their son, Weldon Fincher and family all of Seminole; also a son, P. J. Stanley, El Cajon, Calif.; J. B. Riddie, another son of Mrs. Barrett, returned Sunday to his home in Seminole after a two week visit here.

PCG meeting

In 1962 the figure rose to 14.5 percent and in 1963 to 28.6 percent. This increase in stock is the reason some Congressmen wanted a 25 percent decrease in acreage.

In exports to England in 1956, 76.5 percent of the cotton was shorter than an inch. By 1962 the figure had dropped to 30 percent.

On the European scene in 1956 the percentage was 41.4. In 1962 it had sunk to 13.7 percent.

In the Far East in 1956 short staple products were exported 44.4 percent of the time, but a report due July 31 of this year is expected to show a decline to less than five percent.

Cox stressed that the reports were not meant to alarm the farmers, but that something had to be done. The government will not let the stocks of short staple cotton to pile up. He also noted that seed companies were working on crash programs to develop new seed varieties.

Speaking on the PCG Cox stated that only through organized effort and financing could the farmers maintain good prices. He said that Cochran County paid the least part of the assessment for the four counties he represented on the executive committee. The other three counties are Lamb, Bailey and Hockley.

A program was explained whereby farmers can get an additional five percent of acreage this year. The cotton would be grown for export purposes only and a surety bond would have to be filed to insure that the cotton was exported.

The program this year will be handled by the individual farms whereas next year it will come on a state basis. Since the surplus will be reduced under the new law, it gives this opportunity to have an export program such as this. The surplus must be reduced by one million bales per year in order to have the export program. The Secretary of Agriculture can increase the acreage as high as ten percent.

The attendance contest, sponsored by the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce, was won by Lynn Freeland, C. E. Dolle and Tommy Lynch were congratulated for their part in building the program as chairmen of the Chamber's agriculture committee.

ASC committee also came in for a share of the plaudits. Members are Ed Burns, Wade Taylor and G. D. Lewis. Mrs. Ruth McGee runs the ASC office.

Area agns were also congratulated for their help with PCG programs.

Political rally

Two hopefuls in the County Attorney's race spoke. Incumbent George Boring said that as long as he held the office, county matters would always come first. Jim Walker pledged diligent and expedient handling of cases.

Speakers vying for the office of Tax - Assessor - Collector included Melba Kelly, who listed extensive business experience as part of her qualifications. Norman Hodges pledged to do the job "to the best of my ability." Joe Gipson promised to use good business practices and have uniform and equal assessments. Leonard Groves was also on hand to ask for the support of the voters.

In the sheriff's race incumbent Hazel Hancock promised to continue to do his best and would stand on his record to show his qualifications. W. R. Townsen promised co-operation with all law enforcement officers if elected.

Buddy Franks spoke first in the group seeking to become Precinct One Commissioner. Franks pro-mitted to do the very best he could on the commissioner's duties. Incumbent Leonard Coleman stressed the importance of the court. He noted that he had fulfilled the job to the best of his ability and would continue to do so if reelected. E. G. Gardner made a short speech to end the rally.

A telegram from Marshall Formby of Plainview was read in which he endorsed the candidacy of Gordon McLendon for the United States Senate. Congressman George Mahon sent a telegram expressing his regret that he was unable to attend the rally.

Passing thoughts and shifting sands

By ART WALL

Tuesday, February 25th, in West Gardiner, Maine, fire took the lives of four children while living in their basement home. The age of these four children were 13, 9, 2 and eleven weeks old.

Follow through each day and your news source will tell you of more tragedies that ends the lives of children or else disables them permanently. The most terrible fact is this — a lot of these tragedies could be averted if we would teach safety along with religion and education to our children. We will quickly discipline them if we feel the need and snatch them away from danger, but seldom do we talk to them of doing things safely.

Industries will spend millions in teaching safety to their employees and continue teaching it till a workman will say, "I am safer on the job then in my own home". It is true there are more accidents in the home then in industrial work. Yet with this well known fact safety measures in a home are practically ignored.

If industries can teach safety to thousands of employees working at thousands of different jobs, we can teach safety to our children. It is true that an employee who has remained on a job for a great number of years will automatically think safety, if he has had safety training through his long span of employment. There is an old saying on the job where safety is practiced, it is, "There wasn't any accident till you showed up".

As militarism is drilled into a soldier so can safety become a part of a child along with education, religion, all of his entire behavior.

After all teaching safety to a child is no different then teaching the essentials of behavior. Safety can not be left to the school teacher. The child is not in her care every day of the year. Safety must be like your religion — be with you every day in every thing you do. Some dads think little girls need only their mother's petticoat to grasp for safe protection, while junior boys needs only a whack across the buttocks. The trouble with dad, he forgot that as soon as there is life there is danger, and little girls need his coat tail to grasp along with the petticoat, and instead of the whack across the britches both children could stand a bit of talk on safety. Dad doesn't realize it but he is the safety latch on his children's rifle of life. What he does outdoors they may try to do. In the house, mother becomes their pattern.

From birth onward a child is constantly learning and is learning faster then we realize. Therefore we must teach ourselves with the hope the child is watching and will follow suit. We must talk safety. "Mother, turn the handle of that hot skillet on the stove so Johnny can't reach it". "Dad, pick up your tools before someone stumbles over them". Good house-keeping are the words and it means in safety language everything in its place for accident prevention. Kids go from one critical phase to another. They like to experiment. What is in that bottle on the shelf? I saw Dad use this tool — will try. Little fingers will find the electric outlets. Little fingers will turn the handle that allows escaping gas. Little fingers will pull the gas hose off the front room heater — that gas hose that is deteriorated and should have been replaced long ago with a solid connection.

During the first two years of life junior learns more things and faster than at any other stage. After all he starts with no knowledge. Dark and light, heat and cold, wet and dry. He must be protected from all hazards. Now it becomes our fault. As he grows older we forget the hazards till it is too late — junior gets badly hurt or sudden death and he is gone. All because we ignored safety in his or her later years. If you put pins in your mouth while sewing, junior will more then likely put pins in his. If the pins hurt him he will let your know in a loud bawling manner that it was all your fault. You have to be a pattern of safety, always on the alert for junior's safe.

It is so easy to become a "NO-NO" screamer and let it go at that when really the task facing us all is to teach junior safety. We start showing him what things are — this will hurt you — that is not something to eat. As time goes on other influence will replace yours and other ideas will succeed yours but the first years of junior's life depends on you and your safety teachings.

At five and six they pick up sticks. Remember? With the sticks they pick up stones, bull frogs and snakes. He isn't a toddler now — he is a runner. The world outside lures him. There are trees, the fences, the tractor and keep those keys out of the family car.

"Get away from that bull junior and that dog bites". With Dad and Mother now on guard a safety trained habit since junior was born they keep safety minded. They have a slogan "Careless parents can be childless tomorrow". That guy wire that reaches from the TV antenna to the ground could catch that little girl around the neck or trip Johnnie while he is playing.

Safety can be the most dull subject in the world and yet the most rewarding. You talk safe driving, few decide when they should drive the car. You, dad and mother, spent years without being kiss to have fun without being foolish. They are adults — she graduating from college — he planning on marriage. Safety has brought them to adulthood.

Accidents are caused — they just don't happen. The wife of a careless man is always on the verge of becoming a widow. The parents who failed to practice safety may ask themselves "Why — why did it happen".

Miss Birdsong gives Sunday recital at Methodist Church in Muleshoe

Mrs. L. S. McCarty presented Susan Birdsong in a private recital Sunday in the First Methodist Church, Muleshoe. Susan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W.
F. Birdson. She is 16 and a junior in Muleshoe High School.

Many honors have been earned by Susan in the 11 years she has studied with Mrs. McCarty. She holds all certificates offered in National Guild of Musicians and has several times won superior ratings in the Applied Music contests in both theory and piano.

Being an excellent clarinet player as well as pianist this year she won a place on the International Band which will tour Europe this summer on a good will tour for the State Department.

Susan is well acquainted in Morton area having appeared on numerous programs during the past several years.

Sunday's recital was composed of 12 selections, the most difficult was Liszt's original "Hungarian Rhapsodie number 2." Included on the program was "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin and "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven.

At the close of the program Susan was presented roses by Mrs.
McCarty.

Dr. and Mrs. Birdsong hosted a tea and reception in their home following the recital.

War on diseases of plants urged for homeowners

The home owner who expects to grow beautiful trees, shrubs and flowers must carry out a preventative program against the diseases which commonly attack such plants in his area. It's really a case of where "A stitch in time saves nine."

For example, black spot and powdery mildew are common diseases of roses and occur annually in most rose gardens. If the gardener waits until these diseases have become severe, little can be done to eliminate the problem without causing the infected plants to suffer a loss of vigor and beauty.

On the other hand, if a recommended fungicide spray or dust is used regularly the diseases can be prevented.

It is important that gardeners be able to recognize common disease conditions early in their development or better still anticipate their occurrence. Control measures taken when the disease first appears will serve to insure the health and vigor of the plants.

In addition to protective foliar fungicides, the use of sterilants prior to planting can prevent infection of plants by soil-borne diseases.

MANMADE

A man made this beautiful little waterfall and improved his part of a little stream that ran by his house. Another man on another stream threw trash in the water and let weeds grow up around it so that the beauty of the creek was obscured. Man fashions many things out of that which God has created. Beauty or ugliness can result from our decisions as to what we will do with divine raw materials. Dedication to God and the desire to emulate Him usually makes the difference in what we do with what God has provided. Let God find you in His church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Swicegood and Ruth Poor were in Amarillo recently for a meeting of beauticians.

This week's favorite recipe took an odd turn when Mrs. Earl Cadenhead gave a recipe she'd like to try, instead of the customary tried and true, prepared and served as a favorite over a long period of time. It is an exotic fish dish in Hawaiian luau tradition.

Hanohi (Fish Barbecue)
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 cups drained chopped cucumbers
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
Salt and pepper to taste
4 to 6-pound trout or whitefish, cleaned and boned
Aluminum foil
1/2 cup barbecue sauce
Pineapple slices
Ripe olives

Combine bread crumbs, cucumber, eggs, onion and seasonings; mix well. Stuff the fish; sew or skewer it together. Place stuffed fish on aluminum foil and brush generously with barbecue sauce. Wrap securely in foil and grill one hour or bake at 350 degrees for two hours. Garnish with pineapple slices and olives. Yield eight to 10 servings.

It seems fantastic but Mrs. Cadenhead is a 43 year resident of the plains area, having moved to Terry County in 1921 from Jones County. She first moved to Cochran County in 1928, leaving here on two different occasions, once for a year in Littlefield and another year in Brownfield.

The former Lorena Latham, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Latham, was born at Rising Star, Eastland County. She attended schools in Jones County and Abilene Christian College.

Mrs. Earl Cadenhead

Until a few years ago when her husband suffered blindness from a serious illness Mrs. Cadenhead was active in school, church and civic affairs.

Early day neighbors and friends of the family say, "Lorena is one of the most unselfish, generous and best neighbors one could ever wish to have. She looked after her own family, including her mother and later her father and had time for good deeds all over Morton and the county."

Prior to her husband's illness they square danced and she enjoyed bowling and skating. Her hobby has always been gardening and yard beautification.

A true aelurophile Lorena at one time bred and raised fine Siamese cats. A lover of fine animals she now shares her husband's interest in his seeing eye dog, Pal.

"In the Galveston Divisional Championship Races the weekend of July 5, I found that after installation of TECO Automatic Wheel Balancers, my car handled much smoother and had no front-end bounce on the turns in speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour. I never want to race again without them.

"I have also had them installed on my 1962 Corvair Monza Convertible. I am truly amazed by the difference that TECO Automatic Wheel Balancers has made."

Norman E. Lamb, Vice President & Account Executive, Tully J. Petty Advertising & Public Relations.

"We first installed TECO Automatic Wheel Balancers on two police cars to find what effect that it would have on city driving. I then installed them on my car to compare both city and highway driving. The improvement of operation and the savings brought about through the additional mileage on our tires warranted us to install TECO Automatic Balancers on additional vehicles."

George L. Nattin, Mayor
Bossier City, Louisiana

TECO Automatic Wheel Balancers are an ingeniously simple device, consisting of hard plastic tubing, formed into a closed, sealed hoop . . . one for each wheel . . . containing chrome steel balls, running in a special fluid.

TECO Automatic Wheel Balancers dampen vibration in a vehicle, caused by out of balance conditions in tires and wheels or from tire distortion and road shock.

- FOREIGN AID—Foreign aid should be withheld from all communist-dominated countries. Foreign aid should be maintained in those countries in which we have military bases. In other countries where any aid might be prudent, it should be mainly in the form of surplus agricultural products.
- NATIONAL DEBT—Government expenditures should be made only from current income in peacetime. An orderly program for retirement of the public debt should be initiated.
- FOREIGN AFFAIRS—The Monroe Doctrine should be firmly restated and upheld.
