

Morton bowlers win state title and set all-time state records

Morton's Bantam bowling team took first to win the state championship title in the 1965 Bantam Tournament of the Texas Association of Bowling Youth (TABY). It was revealed here this week.

The Morton team set a new record for the state of Texas besides winning first place. Houston took second and San Antonio was third.

Besides producing the winning team, Morton's Haskell Lamar, set a new single game state record with 254 scratch and a new series record with 461 scratch series giving him a handicap average of 271. He had 543 handicap two game series with an 82 pin handicap, considered heretofore as an impossible score for anyone in his age group.

Members of the new State Championship team are Dub Hill, 4th grade; Tony Dickey, 1st grade; Ronald Studdard and Haskell Lamar, both 6th grade. Morton's team members were considerably younger than many or most of the other teams and their first place position was even more remarkable for this reason. To win, Morton had to out-score 489 other teams playing against them.

Morton girls won second in this District. Morton was the only small town to place in state or district competitions in the state. Members of the Morton girls' team were Becky Harris, Debbie Willoughby, Terry Harris, Nikki Merrill, Gail Taylor. District tournament was held in Morton May 4th and 17th. Several weeks were required to process and tabulate all scores before winners could be determined. Winners in both the boys and girls competitions were not known until this week.

Wilma Morrison, who coached the Morton champions, said she had never seen "kids work so hard, act so serious and dedicated".

"They were in there pitching and they really wanted to win bad."

Each member of the championship team has received a special letter of congratulations telling him of the team's achievement from the Texas Association of Bowling Youth director, Lyndon Lee, and each will receive an individual state championship trophy. These will be presented at a banquet to be held in honor of the boys but the date has not yet been set.

EIGHT YEAR OLD STRUCK BY AUTO

Melinda Sue Webb, 8, was struck by a car in the parking lot at the Morton ball park Monday evening about 6:45. Tommy Joe Hobbs, about 18, was driving the 1956 two-door Chevrolet that struck the little girl. No serious injuries were sustained and Melinda was pronounced in good condition at Morton Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning after a night of observation and x-rays.

Hobbs was pulling up to park and lacked three or four feet of coming into position and a full stop. He was traveling at a very low rate of speed when Melinda Sue stepped out from behind her father's car, into the path of the other vehicle.

Morton Chief Burtis Cloud and Patrolman Bobby Word investigated the accident and report that no ticket or citation was issued and that Hobbs was in no way at fault. Melinda suffered bruises and skin lacerations but no broken bones or serious injuries. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Ward. Ward is employed at Cochran Power and Light. Hobbs is a projectionist at the Rose Theater in Morton.

Hail damage reported on cotton crop

Wind and blowing sand this past week in Cochran county apparently has caused no appreciable damage to crops but hail in a small area about 8 1/2 miles southwest of Morton Sunday night destroyed between 600 and 700 acres of cotton which will have to be replanted, according to Vernon Blacklie, farmer in the area.

In addition to the Blacklie place, cotton crops were severely damaged or destroyed on the Ike Williams place, Richard Key farm and Bob Polvado's fields. Others, not reported, were damaged, also. About a half-inch of rain fell just before the hail.

Hail was also reported about three miles west and three or four miles south of Morton Sunday night in a small strip between 8 and 9 o'clock. Hail fell for about six minutes here. Hail in this area was about half the size of golf balls but was slushy and the water was reported to have done about as much good as the hail did damage so it was about a break-even storm. Cotton was short due to lack of warm weather or more damage might have been done.

Most farmers reported dust had covered some plants at one end of their fields but plants had not been burned, broken or defoliated and damage would be minor and nothing more than normal for this time of year.

Ex-paratrooper recalls days in old "outfit" now in Dominican Republic

When the situation is really bad or even desperate, the United States more often than not, sends in the 82nd Airborne, one of our toughest and best military units. Today, it is in the Dominican Republic, where a number of its members have given their lives during the past few days in defense of American citizens, American rights and to keep out communism. Yesterday, it was in a — well, you name the situation and if it was bad enough the 82nd was probably there, too.

Supt. of schools at Whiteface, James A. Cunningham, recalled his experience as a member of the 82nd the other day as news broadcasts came in telling of patrol activities, ambushes, wounded and dead in the little Central American republic which is the center right now of revolt, counter-revolt, intrigue and blood.

"Most of these boys were just babies, some not born yet, when I was a para-trooper", Cunningham admitted. "It was during World War II that I spent a little over a year with the 82nd. We really had an esprit de corps, pride, if you want to call it that. We knew we were best in anybody's army and we took contest with anybody who disagreed, too". Cunningham declared it was entirely possible that a few old timers might still be in the 82nd that were there with him. "But it is the same old outfit and the same See PARATROOPER, page 2

New Morton textile plant - maybe!

Johnson, manager, says Chamber of Commerce in Morton is in the market for 25 seamstresses and/or pattern cutters for a new local garment factory. He is wanted for this work to sign up as only in this case it is determined if there are people who would work in this industry who are qualified for the employment such as a factory provide. The potential work force which exists here in these trades may largely determine whether plans move ahead to acquire the new industry.

The new plant would be one of five in Texas of its type and there is only one other plant of its kind within 150 miles of Morton, Johnson said.

Johnson said product samples and drawings were being prepared and that local salesmen would be employed to distribute the product. Local financing has been promised by two men, Johnson explained, and the whole industry would be home owned and home operated as well as home financed if we determine that it is feasible.

Johnson said a building had been located in Morton for the new plant and negotiations for its purchase had been entered into.

GRAPE ARBOR on Hugh Hansen farm north of Morton is shown above. Hansen grew most of his vines by just cutting a piece of vine off growing plant and bringing it home and sticking it in the ground. Some of his grapes were obtained from vines growing on neighboring places, some were trimmings gathered from an old sack in southern Missouri. Hansen is just curious to see if they would grow here — the vines are loaded with grapes and winds have not damaged them here. Hansen says he waters the vines a couple of times during the summer. He has about a dozen different varieties—they are all doing fabulously. Hansen also has a fair size orchard as an "experiment." "Anything will grow here, I guess, just can't sell it, no market here yet," Hansen says. SEE STORY PAGE 4 TRIBpix.

jump, those things could kill you." After the war, Cunningham became a first lieutenant and was assigned as supply officer in an Air Force reserve unit. He served with the Reserves until 1957. Cunningham made 13 jumps during WW2 and thou he never quite got overseas before the war ended, he received the Victory Medal, American Defense and unit awards of the French Fourgerre and the Belgian Fourgerre.

"Anyone who says he isn't scared when he jumps out of an airplane is either a liar or a nut", Cunningham said. "Yes, I sure did think about it being my 13th time out when I made that 13th jump" he admitted. "The first time I jumped, I remember my thoughts were 'I wonder if all of this training we have had is really important, wonder if I have to remember absolutely everything to make it through this or maybe, it might be alright if I didn't remember just every little thing they said.'"

Cunningham was born on a cotton farm near Samnorwood in Collingsworth county bordering the Oklahoma line. He attended college one year before volunteering for paratroop duty. After the war, he enrolled at Texas Tech and in 1950 was graduated with a BS in Science in Agriculture. In 1959 Texas Tech awarded him his Masters degree in Education. He was a Phi Beta Kappa man in college. Between degrees, he taught in Wellington, Texas, and at Whiteface. He has been a teacher at Whiteface a total of 14 years, beginning as a classroom teacher in mathematics and science.

Besides teaching at Whiteface, Cunningham coached junior high girls basketball one year, has taught the class room phase of driver education and served in many other activities. He is considered one of the leading authorities in the country on driver education and has been called on as an expert by the Texas Education Agency in Austin to help develop a state program for driver education courses to be given via educational television.

"I thoroughly enjoyed being a paratrooper," Cunningham admitted. "I had a ball — a lot of fun." Cunningham said he enjoyed the comradeship, the "togetherness" and said he thought the biggest single reason he liked it was because of his commanding officer, Major General (later Full General) James Gavin. "We called him 'Gentleman Jim' and he was the finest gentleman I've ever seen", "There was always something going on, things moved, rolled." "We were always pushing, doing; it was the best outfit in the whole world — we were positive in those days about that".

Delores Mullinax and Darlene Williams were in Lubbock Tuesday night visiting Mrs. Ed Lloyd and boys.

Highway signs locate Three Way

Three Way high school national agriculture boys, their club, Future Farmers of America, have been working the past three months, on a sign on the highway south of school, pointing the way for who might be in doubt, to where the school is located. No more "students!"

Money to buy material was raised thru candy sales, a pig brush sale, and a feeder pig option behind the school. Three Way voted bonds to build a new addition to the Vocational Agriculture building, to build new "teachergages" (houses), new cafeteria and new dorm rooms for the gym. These additions will be under construction through the summer and have ready started.

Warning issued on hunting accidents

Nolen Swain, Administrative Assistant, Southwestern Division, Public Service Company, was in Morton this week visiting county Extension Agent Homer Thompson.

Swain said several persons have been killed recently by elevating irrigation pipe to a position where the pipe was close to power lines. With school ending, boys, especially, should be warned about lifting a pipe to flush a rabbit out of the pipe. Swain said the pipe does not need to touch the line, just come close to it. If the victim can be revived, artificial respiration if administered quickly enough may do it but usually there is no hope. Swain said the electric company was not legally responsible for such accidents here.

Soil Stewardship Week now being observed in state

"Challenges of Growth" is the theme for Soil Stewardship Week to be observed in Texas and throughout the nation May 23-30. "The primary purpose of Soil Stewardship Week," says Eddie Silhan, chairman of the Cochran Soil Conservation District board of supervisors, "is to remind everyone — urban and rural resident alike — of his obligation unto God as a steward of the soil."

"Everyone depends on the soil for most of his food, clothing, and much of the material used to build his home," Silhan continued. The Soil Stewardship Week observance will include special sermons in the churches, programs at civic clubs and other gatherings, and tours to see soil conservation on the land.

Silhan explained that local soil and water conservation districts sponsor the observance of Soil Stewardship Week in coordination with the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

"The Cochran SCD has a breakfast for the ministers each year," Silhan said. Soil Stewardship materials are made available to the churches that desire them. At this year's breakfast the program was presented by Rev. H. F. Dunn, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Morton. The National Association has sponsored this observance since 1954. The idea was started 19 years ago when the publishers of FARM AND RANCH Magazine in spired religious leaders in several southern states to set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregations of their responsibility as Stewards of the Soil. The observance was later expanded to one week each year.

"Booklets and other materials for use by clergymen of all faiths during the week's observance are provided by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. In plans for the observance and in developing the material, the Association has the help of a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee composed of representatives of the National Lutheran Council; the National Catholic Rural Life Conference; the Southern Baptist Convention; and the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.," Silhan said.

Spray new Caparol after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol® herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high . . . plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.

Grapes, pecans, fruit grow well for Cochran County's Hugh Hansen

Hugh Hansen, who lives on a prosperous looking farm with a big, new brick home on the east side of the highway a few miles north of Morton, has the really true pioneer spirit that tempts him to try something new and he usually makes his ideas work, too. Hansen's farm proves that cotton is not the only thing that could be produced in Cochran County. A dozen different varieties of grapes grow along one side of the front yard and the vines are as healthy and vigorous as any that could be seen any place in the world. Hansen says they "fruit down tremendously and have more bunches of grapes than leaves". He has a total of more than 30 vines in his arbor.

Hansen says he gives the grapes no special attention beyond running a rotary tiller around the area to keep the weeds down in the spring, more for the convenience of the family when they visit the vineyard than for cultivation purposes. He says he waters the vines well once during the spring and two or three times during the summer, more or less when he feels inclined and is watering grass in the area anyway. He says the grapes will take a lot of punishment from the wind and several hails during the past few years have failed to cut production much, if any.

Hansen says he is convinced "we can produce grapes in Cochran County with at least as much success as we could produce Johnson grass."

Hansen said he cut a few twigs from some vines on the Faulkner place and stuck them in the ground where they grew. He has five big, blue Concord vines which came from a sack of pieces of vines his brother-in-law brought from southern Missouri a few years ago when he came to visit. A few he bought at a greenhouse. "They all bear every year and never have failed," Hansen says the growing season here is more than long enough and he usually has all his grapes ripen about 30 days before frost. "I just stick a piece of vine in the ground and it grows," he explained.

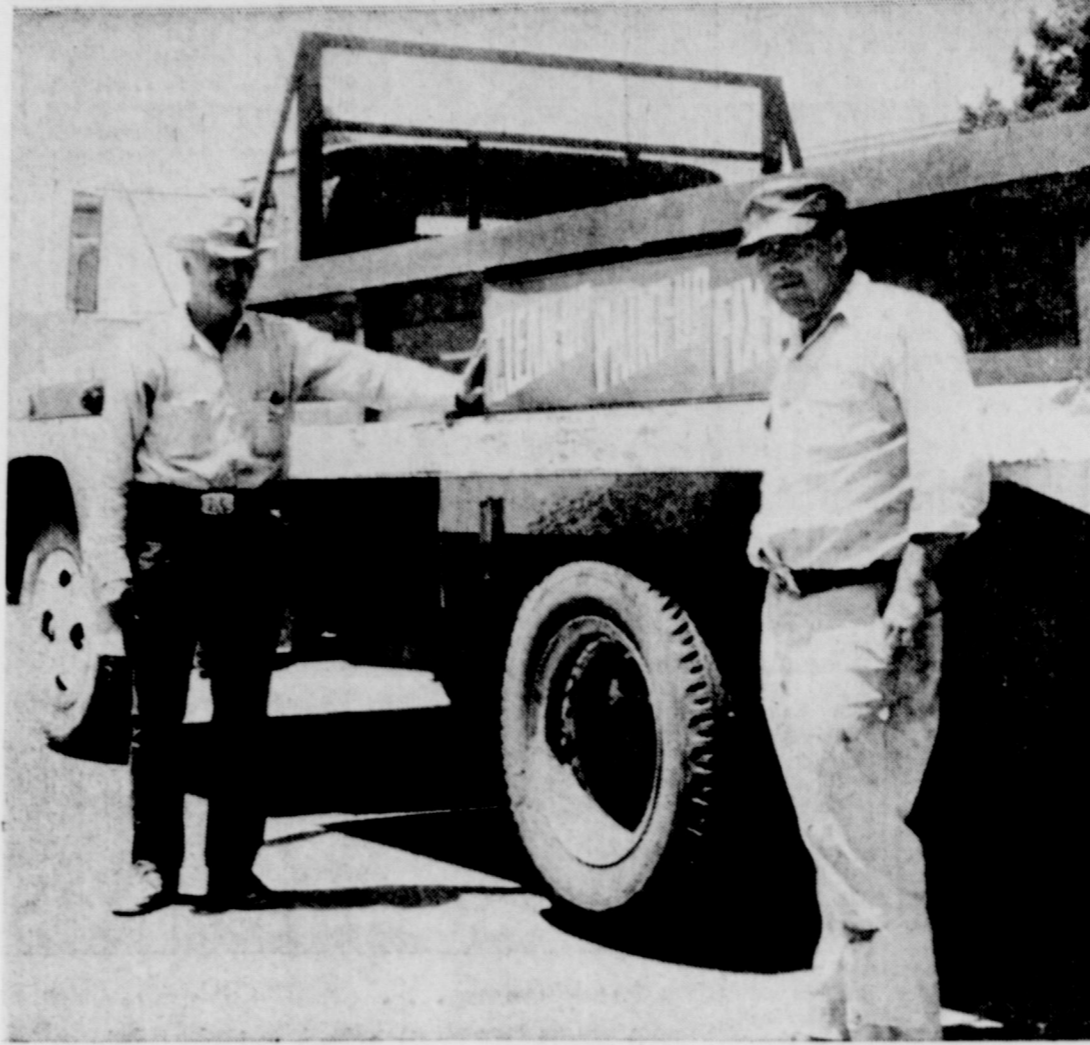

Grapes are not the only thing Hugh Hansen has tried on his cotton farm. "See that pecan tree over there by the house?" he asked. "That is a true native pecan — I stuck a pecan nut in the ground in February and that tree busted out of the ground during July of the same year." Hansen has several pecan trees around his place, some he bought and set out, others came from seed he planted.

Besides grapes and pecans, Hansen has an orchard that any California fruit farmer might envy. Besides plum trees, pears, apple and apricot, there are a number of different types of peaches including the sick-skinned nectarine, some Hail Haven and two Indian peach trees. He says he needs a cure for the bores in the peaches, but a problem of this type is no problem at all for people who grow peaches commercially.

Hansen told of a neighbor, Elwood Autry, who put in about 15 acres of fruit. "He picked ideal land, not just anything that happened to be handy like I have done," Hansen explained, and "he did it all up right with smudge pots and all." Hansen says the 15 acres did a wonderful job and produced a lot of fine fruit but there was no market where he could sell his fruit and most of it was wasted. Hansen said Autry was pulling some of his trees out of the ground to make room for cotton and feed, the standard and traditional crops in this area, and for which there is a market.

Hansen thinks fruit in this area is a good thing to produce for one's own use only. In the future, a lot more fruit and vegetables will be produced in Cochran county and someday, probably, if there is ever a way to market it, Cochran county may well abandon cotton for more of these profitable crops that would give a larger return on expensive water and other production costs that must be borne by farmers here.

Ready for city clean-up . . .

CITY CREWS AND EQUIPMENT ARE ready to roll — One of the big city trucks that will be used in the Morton Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up drive starting Tuesday, June 1st, is shown above ready to go. ready moved to the towns. Read someplace that 40,000 jobs are being eliminated every week by automation and read someplace else that over two million additional workers enter our labor force every month consisting of young people coming up, ex-farmers, immigrants, etc.

It already seems like about everything I can afford at the store is either made in Japan or grown in Mexico or Argentina. And every thing goes up except the price of cotton and cattle and our national gold stocks. Even the Morton city water tower is scheduled to get a new set of side-boards to boost it three feet higher—. Seems the little one needs to be as high as the big one or a surplus of water develops in the little one and overflows. No one every lowers the high one, they always make the low one higher instead of the one that is already too high, lower.

Was in Bill Thomas' office yesterday to ask about weather damage to the crops around here. He and Coffman were busy trying to read and figure out what that small type said in one of their new Farmer's Union Insurance contracts. Tried to tell 'em no use reading it now, the time for that was before they signed up on the deal. Thomas little boy, about eight years old whispered to me, "They get awful busy like that sometimes and you just can't talk to them all — I've tried, you might as well wait". Sort of like that with this new cotton program and a lot of other benefits we get out of having such a nice, big government — they just get so busy passing things that you can't even talk to them and never really find out what the small type says 'till it's too late.

City council the other night was so busy protecting the people against the dogs and talking about $100 fines if a dog was caught outside his yard that maybe it is time someone started worrying about protecting the dogs against the people around Cochran County and passing some laws about people who are allowed to run around town without proper shots and all their licenses paid up-to-date with proper city tags hung around their necks or someplace. Just sometimes wonder if the dogs had their proper representation on some of these legislative bodies, like the Supreme Court says in accordance with population only. (so many dogs, so many Senators), just wonder if we wouldn't maybe get some better laws passed than some we have been stuck with the last few years.

Met the banker the other day, Don Workman. Used to hear about him when he rode the rodeo circuit. Could be some of those Brahma steers would be real good experience for a future banker — teach him how to get off without getting killed after he went for a ride on some of these deals that a banker might get on. Not all riders wind up in the prize money every time, like bankers in some ways. Just hope for a good percentage so you can keep riding and living. He was real nice after he found out for sure I was there to deposit and not to try my luck on a loan. Even offered to sell me a twenty thousand dollar house and when that didn't seem to shake me, he said he really had three houses he would be willing to sell for enough cash — guess they are real bargains. He had probably read that story in the Tribune last week about real estate going to go up in Cochran county and was testing to see if I was buying up some of it — with cash, that is. Incidentally, they sure have a fine beautiful bank building here and one we can be very proud of in Morton.

Sometimes think the highest civilization that ever existed around here was the one they had before Columbus. The men just hunted and fished, the women did all the work, there were no taxes, wars were more like an athletic contest and the winner got a new eagle feather — to put in his cap. Course, we have progressed a long way since then, we have more bathtubs than any other country in the world — we have to have more inside plumbing now with all the stuff that flies around and gets thrown around here. If we can just keep up our progress like we have been, eventually we can put all the people in the soil bank, because we won't need them in the country or in town either any more, and the machines can take over not only politics like now, but the whole country. If the dogs ever get in, things may be different, at least we may have some new faces in Washington — dogs will never be silly enough to put up with what we been getting.

Not all crows are black; some have brightly-colored feathers.

Food dollar "stretchers" are listed

There are several food dollar "stretchers" available this week to enable shoppers to shave costs on food budgets. Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M extension consumer marketing specialist, offers these suggestions for cutting costs. She also suggests that shoppers check with their local markets for other "specials."

At retail meat counters, look for the best beef buys on ground meat, round steaks, chuck roasts, steaks and beef liver. Top pork values include ham portions and slices, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks. Fryers remain in ample supply and turkeys continue to be moderately priced.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply include apples, watermelons, bananas, oranges, lemons, pineapples, mustard greens, sweet corn, celery, dry yellow onions, carrots, radishes, green onions and leaf lettuce.

Strawberry supplies and prices remain uneven. The total estimated U.S. crop is below that of last year, due to labor shortages, yet fresh strawberries are expected to be available fairly plentifully on through June from supplies imported, largely from Mexico.

This may be another record year for milk production, and the lineup of dairy products available continue to grow. There's a large variety of dips made from cheese, cream cheese and sour cream.

School schedule changes are due

Morton high school principal, Bill Matthews, has requested all high school students who want to make changes in their schedules for next year, do so prior to June 1, which would be next Monday. Matthews will have someone in his office very day until June 1. The new schedule system going into effect next term will make changes difficult or impossible to make after June 1.

Clarify feeding treated sorghum

Erroneous reports regulating feeding instructions on Sorghum treated with Propazine or Atrazine for weed control are confusing Sorghum growers in some areas. Following are the facts:

All restrictions on the feeding of Propazine treated grain Sorghum to livestock have been removed. This action was approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on November 30, 1964.

On April 22, 1965 U.S.D.A. accepted changes in the labeling for Atrazine. These changes permit feeding and grazing of Atrazine treated grain Sorghum 60 days following application of the herbicide. Packages now in distribution may not reflect this latest label revision.

Dear Friends, This week has been a sad one for my family. We were called Monday night May 18th and informed that my great great uncle, T. J. McGuyer of Lubbock had passed away.

Uncle Tuck has been bedfast since January with cancer. His passing was a blessing to him as he had been in great pain.

We went to Lubbock to attend his funeral. He is survived by his wife, daughter and two grandchildren.

I'm sorry my news has been brief but I'm sure you will understand.

SS suggests regular check on records

The Social Security Administration needs your help in keeping an accurate lifetime record of your earnings and the more than 100 million other Americans covered by the program.

Future benefits are based on these records. Unless an error in reporting is brought to light within about three years, after the year in which it occurs, correction may not be possible. Because of this, it is a good idea to check your record occasionally. There is no charge. Your social security office, located at 3428 Avenue H,

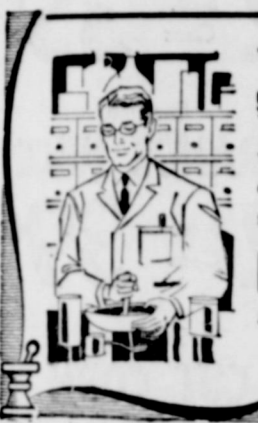

Lubbock, Texas, can furnish you with a postcard Form OAR-7004 to do this, or you may request the information by letter, being sure to clearly show your social security account number, date of birth, and name.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Courthouse basement, Morton, at 9:30 a.m. on June 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allsup and Steve of Plains visited Wednesday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allsup.

Morton City Council meets

The contractor who built the new city water towers agreed to extend one of the towers three feet higher so it would be the same height as the other at no charge to the city. The difference in height has caused the shorter tower to run over at the top when the two operated as a "team." The council declined the contractor's suggestion that the towers be extended further up at the city expense. Councilmen said they did not think Morton needed additional water storage capacity since the town already has over 320,000 gallons of storage, six times what it had a couple of years ago and present capacity should take care of needs for twenty more years.

Appointment of a Board of Equalization was delayed until the next regular council meeting.

A letter from the Texas Insurance Commission was read promising early consideration of the city's request for a lowering of key insurance rates here due to water improvements and better fire-fighting protection.

The council voted to request General Telephone make a feasibility study to determine whether the company would be willing to grant toll-free service between Morton and Bula. This would entail a small increase in telephone service in Morton if granted, amounting to about fifteen to twenty-five cents per phone per month it was stated. Toll-free service cannot be obtained from Morton to Whiteface because another telephone company has a line extending between the two exchanges and toll-free service cannot be granted unless the two exchanges involved touch each other with nothing between them. The council voted also to request the telephone company to let them know if toll-free service could be obtained between Morton and Pettit.

Strong statements were made in discussing the dog problem in Morton with some councilmen favoring fines of $100 for allowing dogs loose on city streets without proper vaccination and licenses. An old ordinance was found which provides that all dogs in the city must have a license new each January 1 and providing that the city can refuse to license a dog or pick up a license that has been issued when it is determined the dog is a menace to people or is considered to be dangerous. The council decided to write the Municipal League for copies of model ordinances and to discuss amending the present law next meeting to make it more severe and more inclusive.

The old dog ordinance was passed in February 1944. A 1937 ordinance was reviewed which prohibits the keeping of livestock in the city limits.

"We can have clean-up campaigns and carry out all kinds of projects to beautify the city and make it a better fire risk but until we do something about some of these dilapidated, vacant, ruins that used to be buildings and some of the vacant lots over-grown with weeds and strewn with trash and some of these old wrecked cars stacked two to four deep, we are just spinning our wheels", one of the councilmen said. After some further discussion, it was voted to consider drafting an ordinance at the next meeting.

City Attorney, Jim K. Walker, read the council on ordinance passed by Whiteface which allows the city to tear down old buildings or parts of buildings considered dangerous or a health hazard and assess the property owner for the costs if he fails to remove the debris from the property himself after being notified of municipal decision that the structure must be eliminated.

Repair of city streets came in for considerable discussion. The city now has 131 blocks of new paving to maintain which should require minimum upkeep for five years or a little more but eventually must be brought in to the regular maintenance program. The city has a four year program in progress under which, at the end of four years, by rotating those streets or blocks being repaired, all will have been serviced by the end of the period.

It was decided to extend the contract let last year for repairs since current bids were reported going at a slightly higher figure. This decision was made subject to research by the city attorney determining that this would be legal and, if not, a call for new bids will be made.

Program for recreation told in Morton

Registration for Morton's first Summer Recreation Program will be Friday and Saturday, it was announced by Ernest Chesshir, who will be director of the activities.

Those interested in the program are to sign up at the high school gymnasium from 8 to 12 Friday and Saturday morning, or from 1 to 3 in the afternoon.

The program, sponsored by Morton Athletic Boosters, will last 10 weeks during the summer, and the gymnasium will be open five hours each day. Volleyball, basketball, tennis, and table tennis will be offered to all who participate. All boys and girls in the Morton area are eligible for participation.

A charge of $1.25 will be made for each membership in the program. Of this amount, $1.00 will be for insurance, and the remaining 25 cents for help in financing the program.

The council decided to pick out the worst blocks and streets in the city to repair until $7,500 or less had been used of the $8,000 budgeted for this year for this purpose. This would leave a small balance in the fund for dire needs that might come up later or emergency conditions in some particular area.

Care of the cemetery was discussed and it was decided to emphasize this project, which the city has taken over for a one-year trial. More man-hours will be given over to the cemetery care and more equipment, if needed, may be provided.

It was determined the city does already have an ordinance prohibiting "peddling" without a license and at least one arrest and a $25 fine was recently carried out under the ordinance. It was stated that a phone call to the sheriff's office is all that is required by a resident if solicitors called at his home and were not licensed by the city to carry on such activities here.

Poage pledges help to farmers here

Glen Thompson, former County Judge of Cochran county and, at present, chairman of the West Plains Cotton Committee, received the following letter this week from Congressman W. R. Poage, chairman of the Congressional sub-committees of Conservation and Credit, Foreign Agriculture and Livestock and Feed Grains. Poage is Congressman for the 11th District in Texas.

The letter follows:
Dear Mr. Thompson:

Let me thank you for a copy of your letter in regard to the proposed changes in skip-row planting.

I am aware of what the Department is proposing and I have protested. Indeed, I have talked on two separate occasions with Mr. Joe Moss, head of the Cotton Division, as well as with other officials of the Department. I think in all fairness, it must be said that they are simply trying to reduce the amount of cotton that will be produced over the Nation and they picked upon skip-row practices as being the easiest to eliminate.

I think this is unfair. While there is probably not a skip-row in the district I have the honor to represent, I full well realize how important this practice is in many other areas. I think that if they are going to eliminate skip-row planting they must in fairness eliminate irrigation. Why isn't it just as fair to allow a farmer to get extra water three feet horizontally from his row as it is for him to lift water 300 feet vertically to put on to his row? Why isn't it just as fair to let a farmer get the benefit of extra fertility that is presently lying in the same field with his cotton as it is to let him move that extra fertility in bags (that is, fertilizer).

I have made this argument to Mr. Moss. He will not attempt to answer it, but I think that he probably is going to impose these unfair regulations unless there is a strong protest from people all over the country. The Department has announced a thirty day period during which they will receive comments and I think our producers should take advantage of this and enter their protests.

Thanking you, I am
Yours sincerely,
W. R. Poage, Congressman

Follow The Signs

Imagine yourself in a train depot in a foreign country, and the signs are in a language unfamiliar to you. You know that the signs are there to direct you, and you try to figure them out, but despite your best efforts you are not sure of your interpretation. The natural thing to do then, is to check with an attendant and have him explain things to you.

The Bible is a sign given to us, and directs us in a pathway of living. Interpreting these directions is not always easy, so the natural thing to do, should be to seek someone to help us. Our churches have many trained personnel who are familiar with the language of the Bible. Attend Church this week and follow God's way of life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

MORTON, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1965

A matter of hands

What one hand giveth, another hand taketh away. That is often the case with taxes. The Washington publicists see to it that all-out notice is given to tax reductions. But it's a different story with tax increases. As little as possible is officially said of them. Take, for instance, the social security tax. From the time the system got under way in 1937 until 1949, the maximum was $30 a year each on employee and employer. Under existing law, it is scheduled to reach $222 on each of the payers in 1968. However, a pending bill, which includes the dubious medicare program, would shoot it up farther and faster. By 1987, each employee earning $6,600 or more a year would have to pay $369.60 and his employer would match it, for a total of $739.20. That isn't the end to the tax story. The states have been joining the act, with new or increased sales, income and other such taxes. So, to repeat, what one hand giveth, another hand taketh away.

Aid that makes sense

America's Horatio Alger-type boys and girls — of whom there are many more than you might think — and the businesses, industries, institutions and professions that continually seek such workers, all have cause to cheer the unanimous endorsement of the National Vocational Student Loan Insurance Act of 1965 (H.R. 7743) by the full House Education and Labor Committee. A far cry from the traditional pork-barrel type of "Federal aid," the bill, now reported out to the Rules Committee would provide much-needed help in the form of insured loans at reduced interest and up to $1,500 a year "to assist students to attend post-secondary business, trade, technical and other vocational schools." President Walter J. Tribbey of the Draughon School of Business in Oklahoma City, Okla., acting as spokesman for a panel of distinguished business school administrators from Birmingham, Ala., Albany, N.Y., and New Kensington, Pa., has applauded the measure as "the first national, broadly-based recognition of the need for assistance to students who are not 'college-bound.' The students who need the assistance of this loan bill," Mr. Tribbey told the Subcommittee on Education, "are those who seek one or two years of vocationally-oriented terminal training." And he enlarged this category to include that lately-multiplying phenomenon the COLLEGE dropout or more properly the college "transfer"—for whom realistic, down-to-earth educational TRAINING might yet provide what he really needs to make a living.

In fact, a U.S. Senate study (Report No. 1275) indicates that accredited business schools generally fulfill the major requirements of collegiate education, while other studies show a saving to the public of nearly $1,000 for every student attending these vocationally-oriented institutions which effectively train and place people for jobs.

Thus, perhaps, we can all share the enthusiasm of Richard A. Fulton, executive director of the 500-school United Business Schools Association for the hopeful progress of H.R. 7743. "Universities are fine for the crown princes of commerce," he says, "but not everyone can become a prince." He applauds the bill as "A human FHA," notes that it will provide "straight, insured loans," and no "forgiveness."

"It's no Government give-away," and it's for the kids who are in there pitching. Have no fear but that they'll pay back every dime they borrow!"

Government records ruined

The National Bureau of Standards recently reported that some of the microfilm records of one Government agency have been ruined as a result of "measles" damage. The cause of the "measles" which form blemishes on microfilm and may destroy the film's image is unknown.

This loss of information is dangerous to the many important records of the Government now kept on microfilm. Some 7,000 rolls of film have been infected and the Bureau reports a "large portion" has suffered damage. What is alarming however, is the recommendation of the Bureau that a way to guard against the danger is to make several microfilm copies in the hope that one of them will survive the epidemic. Surely there must be some other alternative.

Documents like the Constitution and Declaration of Independence have proved there is a simple method for insuring the permanence of America's records. All that needs to be done is to

VIEWS . . . of other editors

You don't have to be Indian to . . .

We have been glad to see the "invisibility" of nonwhite Americans reduced by their growing appearance in advertising as a proportional part of the public. The trend is properly to deemphasize differences in color not by pretending they are not there, but by showing them as they naturally occur in society.

Yet it would be a pity if sensitivities became so raw that the differences between people could not be appreciated and even used for humor—assuming the humor does not have divisiveness as its object. The world of advertising would have been a little less cheerful without those ads showing an American Indian, for example, enjoying a sandwich with the slogan: "You don't have to be Jewish" to like So-and-so's Jewish rye bread.

So it is on other grounds that we deplore a whiskey ad with a picture of an Indian brave and text suggesting that the present brand is better than the "firewater" of the past. When the ads appeared in the New York subways, the Association on American Indian Affairs rightly protested to the transit authority.

"These ads further mock what was and is today a profound human tragedy begun generations ago, through the use of whiskey. Today, alcoholism, is an acute social problem among the tribes, as among other segments of the population." The transit authority agreed. Now the whiskey company has canceled its callous campaign. You don't have to be Indian to approve.

Christian Science Monitor

Irresponsibility on campus — There has been a lot of "civil disobedience" in the country during the past year, and a lot of this rioting and demonstrations has taken place on college campuses.

It has become popular among the intellectual set to demonstrate. Right now, we are having "teach-in" demonstrations and President Johnson is being criticized for showing strength in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

These intellectuals are scared to death of the United States may make the Communist nations mad at us if we resist the spread of Communism.

We were interested in reading what one spokesman for the "Free Speech Movement" at the University of California has to say. This spokesman is one Steve Weissman, one of the leaders in the student demonstrations in California.

put the important records on a high grade of paper instead of the poor quality paper which is now used and then microfilmed for record-keeping purposes.

Less than a year ago, Massachusetts Congressman Silvio O. Conte introduced a resolution into the House of Representatives calling for an immediate investigation of the measles epidemic and recommending that cotton fiber paper be used for the nation's important records.

This was a wise recommendation and may have contributed to the fact that New Jersey Governor Richard J. Hughes pocket-vetoed a bill early in March, 1965, which would have allowed New Jersey county clerks to destroy original documents 60 years old based on retention of a microfilm copy.

The General Service Administration has also instructed the heads of federal agencies that it will not approve destruction of original documents based on microfilm copies.

While these actions are certainly steps in the right direction, what is needed is legislation to make sure that our nation's heritage is not lost to a widespread "measles" epidemic. State and local record keeping officers should be alerted to this so that our deeds, birth, and marriage certificates, and the records of our local governments don't catch the disease.

formia, and one of the group traveling around making speeches on other college campuses now.

Weissman said at Vanderbilt University a few weeks ago, "I am not responsible morally in observing a law in the making of which I had no decision."

This is indeed a recipe for chaos. There are few individuals in this nation today who do not disagree with some law or another. There are those who bitterly oppose the income tax and withholding, there are those who oppose peacetime conscription, there are those who are against a great many laws which are being enforced.

But in this country, the law is the law, whether the individual likes it or not. The way to change laws is to elect different lawmakers. If the majority of the voters keep putting the same lawmakers back into office, those that differ with them must make up their minds that they are a minority, but still must obey the law.

—Ochiltree County Herald

For more painful taxes

This year a great many income tax payers were stunned and angered by the fact that they owed more than they had expected when April 15 rolled around. The reason lies in the recent tax cut. As passed by Congress, the cut was spread over a two year period. But the entire reduction in withholding was made at once. So, in innumerable instances, the sum withheld was well below the amount of the tax.

Now it is planned to readjust the withholding percentage, in order to make the income tax less painful. That may seem like a fine idea. But the Birmingham, Alabama, Post Herald views the matter very differently. It thinks the tax should be made more painful, rather than less so. Here is its reasoning:

"When taxes are withheld at the source, the money never really seems to belong to the individual involved. It is just a bookkeeping transaction, in which funds pass from the employer directly to the Government.

"Taxes paid in cash, however, represent real money out of pocket. They stand for trips not taken, clothes not bought, appliances purchases postponed. And they tend to make the man look skeptically at what the Government is doing with his tax dollars.

"We have nothing against the withholding principle as such. But if Uncle Sam's tax bite doesn't hurt a little bit, you'll never realize it is YOUR money he is spending and you should."

Pity the poor!

President Johnson has had many speak out against his strong foreign policy stands recently. The appeasers are howling that we have a nerve to take a stand against communist aggression. We have lived with Cuba five years, but many have learned nothing and want us to get out of the Dominican Republic, as well as Viet Nam.

The majority of Americans, however, are behind the President and realize that we cannot have any further encroachment of the communist ideology in our hemisphere. Fighting these pocket wars is expensive; therefore, we must not waste our resources. This brings us to the home front.

America has a blight and we need to take steps to overcome an image which has been spread throughout the world. This is the picture of our idle rich squandering their money while across town children rummage through the garbage for a morsel of food. Our President has come up with a war-on-poverty plan. The idea may be valid but its execution appears to be fantastic.

The poverty headquarters, known as the Office of Economic Opportunity, is being established with an eye toward 1,500 employees. The director is to receive $30,000 per year. A deputy director will be paid $28,500. Three assistant directors will receive $27,000 per man per year. These are the bosses.

Next in line will be nine assistants at $24,500 a year, followed by 11 lesser assistants at $21,445. The least of the Washington staff of assistants will be paid $18,935 per year and there will be 20 in this capacity. This does not include secretaries, office boys, or other staff workers. But this amounts to $974,595.00, almost $1,000,000, just to set up the office.

Outside Washington the setup is much the same. In Gum Springs, Virginia, the government plans to spend $74,000 for an anti-poverty project. Only $20,000, however, is earmarked for the poor. The rest goes for administrative salaries. Perhaps the government is going on the assumption that these payrolls will produce an economic upsurge which will sweep the poor along with it. The only fallacy is nothing.

As long as the government is going to waste the taxpayers' money, why not just leave some of the tax money in the communities and let them spend it there to improve local conditions? There is a growing complaint across the country and among the poor that the program is producing nothing more than promises and that the poor are not involved in any of the planning.

Mr. President, we need this money to keep our country strong, to back our boys on the battlefields, and to feed our underprivileged, not to fatten bureaucrats.

Highlights and Sidelights —

Pass record number of laws

AUSTIN, Tex. — Tabulation of the activities of the Texas Legislature reveals that the current body has produced more new laws than any of its predecessors.

This is a remarkable achievement in view of the pressing time-taking demands of redistricting and increased spending, as well as the controversy on raising the pay of teachers and increasing taxes.

REDISTRICTING — State lawmakers have faced up to their most painful job of the session — legislative redistricting.

In a tension-charged atmosphere senators performed self-surgery — under federal court order — which in effect will cut off seven rural incumbents and transfer their places to major population centers.

Somewhat more peacefully, the House placed the heads of 16 of its members on the chopping block.

Under the Senate plan, 13 incumbents will be jammed into six districts. They are:

Sens. Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo, and Pete Snelson, Midland (Dist. 25); Walter Richter, Gonzales, Culp Krueger, El Campo, Bill Patman, Ganado (Dist. 18); Louis Crump, San Saba, and J. P. Word, Meridian (Dist. 12); Jack Strong, Longview, and Galloway Calhoun, Tyler (Dist. 2); Jack Hightower, Vernon, and Andy Rogers, Childress (Dist. 23); and Bill Moore, Bryan, and Mrs. Neveille H. Colson, Navasota (Dist. 5).

Senate reapportionment measure would assign Harris County four senators, plus a share in two more. Dallas gets three, plus a share in one. Bexar gets two, plus a share in one.

Tarrant County retains a single Senate place and shares in another district. El Paso area will have its own senator.

House races where incumbents are combined with one to be eliminated, if all seek re-election, shape up like this:

Reps. J. E. Miller Jr., Burkeville, and Emmett Lack, Kountze; Neal Solomon, Mount Vernon, and E. M. Edwards, Pattonville; John Allen, Longview, and John Mobley, Kilgore; David Crews, Conroe, and Cameron Hightower, Liberty; Vernon Beckham, Denison, Don Hefton, Sherman and Bill Dungan, McKinney; Bill Hollowell, Grand Saline, Jim Markgraf, Scurry; Bill Satterwhite, Ennis, and Ronald Roberts, Hillsboro; Lloyd Guffey, El Campo and Otha Birker, Van Vleet; J. T. Newman, Cuero, and Paul B. Haring, Goliad; A. C. Atwood, Edinburg, Felix McDonald Edinburg, Gregory Montoya, Elsa, and Raul Longoria, Pharr; Jim Nugent, Kerrville, and Terry Townsend, Brady; Roy Arledge, Stamford, Raleigh Brown, Abilene, and Grant Jones, Abilene; A. C. Hallmark, Dalhart and Fritz Thompson, Borger; Hudson Moyer, Walter Knapp and J. M. Simpson, Amarillo; Jack Woods, George Cowden, Dick Cherry, all of Waco, Travis McClintock, Coryell County; Charles Wheeler and Glenn John, Temple, and Gene Fondren, Taylor.

House bill would give Harris County 19 representatives; Dallas 14; Bexar 10; Tarrant eight and El Paso five, or a total of 56 of the House's 150 seats.

Congressional redistricting remains to be unraveled.

BUDGET BILL — A record $3,600,000,000 state budget bill, major business of the session, finally is in the hands of the State Comptroller for certification, after agreement on corrections and last-minute additions by resolution.

Independent estimates calculate the $623,400,000 general fund appropriation would leave a surplus of $700,000, if no other spending measures are passed.

But other spending bills are almost certain to be passed. Tax bill authors are taking that consideration in writing a revenue-raising measure which will pay for the $70,000,000 (state share) teachers' salary boosts and the other pending requests for funds.

TEACHER PAY — Teachers and Governor Connally reached a compromise in their pay dispute.

Teachers will get raises ranging from $90 for beginners to $1,000 a year for M. A. degree holders with 18 years' experience. Local school districts must share about 20 per cent of estimated $101,000,000 biennial cost.

LOAN BILL STYMIED — Rep. W. Reed Quilliam Jr. of Lubbock tried without success to spring his bill to reduce interest rates on "small-small" loans of less than $100. Currently it runs about 320 per cent, according to Quilliam. His bill would permit approximately 120 per cent.

Bill, introduced early in the session, has been buried in a subcommittee.

Quilliam asked for a vote to "instruct" the committee to report the bill out of committee for a vote on the floor of the House. By refusing to do so, the House, in effect, killed the bill.

SPECIAL ELECTION — Governor Connally has called a special election for June 26 in District 78 to elect a successor to Rep. Ed J. Carpenter of Coahoma, who died May 11. District is made up of Martin, Howard, Glasscock, Sterling, Coke Reagan and Irion Counties.

A STEP IN THE DRY DIRECTION

Candidates may file up to 30 days before the election. Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin says applications for ballot must be in his office by May 27.

OIL ALLOWABLE — Railroad Commission decided state oil production should be held to 28.1 per cent of potential during the next month.

That would set the June allowable at 2,900,000 barrels daily. May production, under 27.2 per cent order, was maximum of 2,800,000.

NAVIGATION BILL — House members passed a bill to create a Deep East Texas Navigation District, to build an 18-mile canal linking Sam Rayburn and Toledo Bend reservoirs.

Canal would promote barge traffic from East Texas to the Gulf of Mexico.

Highway Commission, meanwhile, let contracts for two highways to serve recreational facilities on north side of Rayburn Reservoir.

NEW COLLEGES VOTED — Texas' 23rd and 24th state senior colleges are about to be designated, subject to approval of the higher education coordinating board.

Both Houses approved a senior college at Odessa, Texarkana college bill was passed by Senate and promptly approved by House committee.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally named R. Wofford Cain of Dallas to the board of Texas A&M University.

He reappointed S. B. Whittenburg, Amarillo, and Sterling C. Evans, Houston.

CRIMINAL CODE BILL — Revised code of criminal procedure has passed both houses but is in conference committee.

Newsmen have protested a House amendment which would prohibit law enforcement officials from making public any information which may "prejudice a jury."

Newspapers maintain that the amendment would restrict freedom of the press and ask that the amendment be deleted.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

— Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held an unconstitutional a budget bill rider to provide for mandatory retirement at age 70 of statutory officers who are employees of the State.

In other opinions, Carr held:

1. Signer of an election petition for local option sale of alcoholic beverages may not withdraw his signature after 30-day time limit for filing.

2. Seawall Commission for Matagorda County will no longer be an effective body after September 1, 1965.

Five Whiteface teachers will receive awards

Five Whiteface teachers will receive special service awards at the Special Awards Exercises at the Junior High Graduation at Whiteface tonight, Thursday, at the school auditorium. Supt. James A. Cunningham has announced. Mrs. Thelma Potts and J. W. Pond will both be named for five year service awards, Charlie Booz will receive the 15 year award for service in the Whiteface school system, Z. T. Nance the 10 year award and Loyd Wall the twenty year award.

Two teachers have resigned from the Whiteface schools and will not be back next year. There are 31 teachers in the system.

Mrs. Nina Walker, homemaking teacher, will resume her own homemaking duties with her husband, Administrative Dean of South Plains College. Mrs. Walker has "filled" in when an emergency developed when a former homemaking teacher resigned unexpectedly in mid-term a year and a half ago. Mrs. Walker, it was explained, has taught as a service to the school's needs rather than by deliberate choice.

Mildred Simpson, a teacher of one year at Whiteface, has resigned to accompany her husband to Wilcox, Arizona, where he is opening a new bank. Mrs. Simpson was a second grade teacher.

Native pecans . . .

NEW CROP OF NUTS in Cochran county will be a reality soon. Hugh Hansen, shown above, says he just stuck a couple of pecans in the ground in February a couple of years ago and in July, up popped the pecan trees. Hansen has several other pecan trees, some much bigger than those shown here. They seem to do as well here as they do anywhere. Pecan trees require 20 years or more to grow into full production size but are very profitable and provide an income every year without further planting and need a minimum of care. Hansen will probably have a few nuts around his house this year, tho. TRIBpix.
