Prisoner escapes county jail

Hugh Delano Urdy, 37, makes break Thursday

Hugh Delano Urdy, 37, Negro male, broke out of and escaped from the Cochran County jail sometime early Thursday morning. He was charged with carrying a pistol and with felony theft. Urdy tore a comode out of the wall of his cell, broke through some high carbon steel bars, and hacked his way through a concrete wall into the Justice of the Peace's office. The wall had a metal plate in it, and Urdy cut through that also.

Sheriff Hazel Hancock commented that he thought Urdy must have had some outside help. Hancock said, "someone had to slip the man something that he could knock the bars out with and knock his way through that concrete wall. He had to have some tool or instrument, he couldn't have done all that with his bare hands." Hancock continued, "I don't know, but it seems to me that someone helped him get away. He certainly isn't around here now, and no cars were reported stolen and his car is still here in town." Hancock said, "Someone must have helped him get out of town, he certainly didn't take off walking. If he did, it's strange no one saw him."

Hancock said that Urdy apparently waited until he knew that no one was on duty, to make his escape. From 5 to 8 a.m. there is no radio dispatcher up stairs in the court house. The rest of the time there is.

Hancock stated, "Urdy probably waited until the dispatcher upstairs was off duty. He would have made too much noise hacking through the walls at any other time."

According to Hancock, the night dispatcher heard no noise at all and said it was very "quiet" Wednesday night and Thursday morning. The dispatcher mans the radio on the first floor of the court house almost directly over the County jail, which is in the basement.

Hancock said that since August it has been a penalty to break out of jail or to escape from a transporting officer. He said that there is also a penalty for helping a person break out of jail.

Urdy is about 5' 10" tall, weighs about 198 pounds, and the last time seen was wearing a cotton plaid shirt and kaki pants.

Miss Mary St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James St. Clair, and Miss Donna Kay Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ferguson of Goodland, were injured in a two-car collision at 19th Street and Flint Avenue Tuesday afternoon in Lubbock.

Investigating officers reported the car driven by Ronnie Hammonds was going west on 19th Street and the car driven by Miss Ferguson, in which Miss St. Clair was a passenger, was going east on 19th and attempting to turn left onto Flint at the time of the accident. Joanie Hammonds was a passenger in the Hammonds auto.

Miss St. Clair and Hammonds were treated and released at Methodist Hospital, with Miss St. Clair later being admitted to the infirmary on the Texas campus where she and Miss Ferguson are students.

Miss Ferguson was admitted to Methodist Hospital with a possible concussion, and Joanie Hammonds was admitted with a broken leg. Both were listed in fair condition Tuesday night.

Williamson made a motion that "the city take over the cemetery for one year with the election of a cemetery board and the participation of the county for $300 a month with the provision that the city would look into whether or not it wanted to continue with the cemetery at the end of one year."

Photo contest for children is set for Oct. 20

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our nation and community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work will be here Wednesday, October 20. Pictures will be taken at the Ideal Gift Shop from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

No charge to parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The more pictures the better

This paper simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the mothers and fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date Wednesday, October 20, bring their children to the photographer. Pictures will be taken by Winston Lucas of Irving, Texas.

You will be mighty glad afterwards, if you did and very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have fun and both mother and dad and the youngsters too will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be had by calling Ideal Gift Shop.

School bands will launch two-week subscription campaign next Monday

Starting Monday, Oct. 18 and continuing for two weeks, members of the High School and Jr. High Bands will be participating in a Program of benefit to students, the school and the community. A magazine subscription Program is being organized and sponsored by the bands. This activity was announced today by John Stockdale, director of the bands. "We are pleased to be working with The Quality School Plan," said Stockdale. "This Plan represents the same high degree of skill and knowledge now manifested in the Educational Programs the Quality Plan also serves, those of the Reader's Digest and of Time, Inc." Stockdale also announced the money raised this year by selling new and renewal subscriptions to The Reader's Digest, Life, Look, McCall's, Better Homes & Gardens, and over 150 other top quality magazines will be used to help underwrite the cost of the band programs. School magazine sales programs have been in existence for some 45 years. They offer students a chance to help their school, their communities and themselves. The profits, representing a good percentage of the subscription prices, are retained by the school to use in the purchase of items not usually provided by the school budget. The Quality Program, said Mr. Stockdale, has the added effect of teaching students to work as a

Conservation is must to combat disease of crops

Conservation practices are a must in combating crop disease. We have all been educated on conservation for many years. We have heard how terraces, land leveling, waterways and diversions will control water erosion. They take the erosive force out of the rain drop and put it in the soil. We have been told all the advantages of leaving stubble on the surface. It will control wind erosion and insulate the soil from heat and cold. How it keeps soil open for better soil, air and plant root relation. How it returns organic materials to the soil and prevents puddling. All these things we have been told and each so little is actually done. Each year thousands of acres of stubble are turned under with breaking plows. This is losing so much of it's usefulness. Each year thousands of acre feet of water carries soil to lakes. This is because no structures were installed to prevent this waste of soil and water. The time has come when these conservation practices are a necessity. Farmers must adopt them to stay in business. You may think that's true here on the Plains? It has been true of every agriculture area throughout the history of the world. Soil loss with it's corresponding loss of productivity will eventually cause this, but let's look at some of the more immediate problems that we are facing even today. The bole weevil took many acres of cotton out of the South and it farmers don't make a change now, disease will take cotton off the Plains in the future. Nematodes, seedling disease and wilt's are causing more problems each year. Why are they going to force leaving stubble on the surface, terraces or rotation of crops? The answer is they must have a damp and cool condition to survive. They are spread through washing of soil from run off water across farms. The treatment will have to be one that will stop water movement across a farm. Water must be made to soak into the soil where it falls. This will mean either terraces, land leveling or diversions as some of the treatments required. Stubble left on the surface will dry out completely during the winter and spring. When dry will not support disease or midge. Stubble turned under with the breaking plow makes a perfect winter home for these undesirable. Crop rotation is also a must in control. This changes and breaks the cycle of the disease. Conservation has always been advisable — now it is a must. Phone your news to 266-2361

Training extended for disabled vets

Veterans with severe, service-connected disabilities will have an additional ten years to complete needed training as a result of a new law enacted by the 89th Congress and approved by the President. Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco said the new law is of particular importance to seriously disabled veterans of World War II who have had long periods of hospitalization and have only recently reached the point where the program of training is possible. Other veterans who were not considered seriously disabled, and originally did not feel in need of rehabilitation now have become unemployable because their service - connected disabilities have worsened, the VA manager added. These veterans now will have an opportunity under the new law to enter planned vocational rehabilitation.

SEASONS CHANGE

For a time leaves are green, then in early fall they become brilliant with many colors. Finally they turn brown and fall from the trees, leaving them drab and lonely looking.

God never changes, he is an ever present help.

"For I am the Lord, I change not"

Attend church and learn more of God's wonderful and never changing love.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Abernathy shuts out Indians, 22-0

After completely dominating play in the first half, and allowing their opponents only seven yards total offense in the second quarter, the Morton Indians turned into a powder puff and let the Abernathy Antelopes hang a 22-0 shellacking on them in their final non-district gridiron contest.

At intermission time, with the score a 0-0 standoff, the Morton team had a 9-5 first down edge, and were leading their opponents in rushing, 160 yards to a paltry 42.

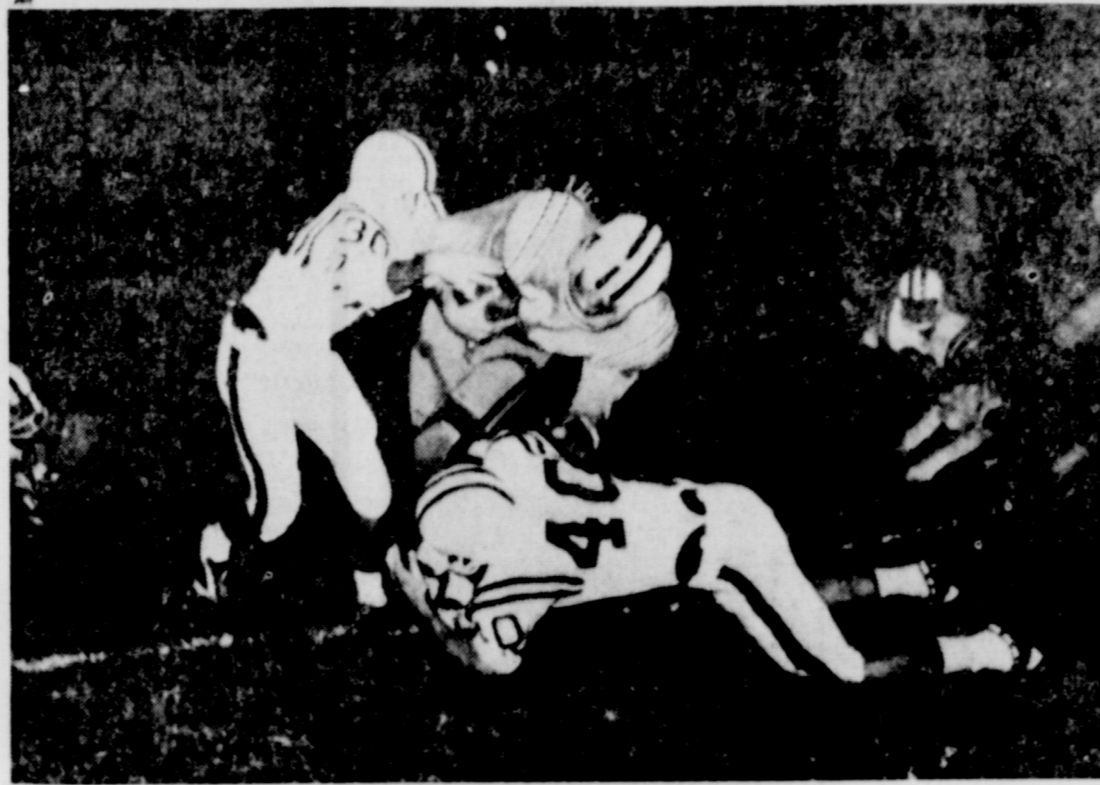

However, shortly after the third quarter began, the Indians presented Abernathy the ball on the Morton 29 yard line via a fumble, and the Antelopes carried on in for the first score. A few moments later, after receiving a Morton punt, Abernathy put together a 77-yard scoring march, their only legitimate drive of the night.

Early in the fourth period, Abernathy recovered another Indian fumble on the Morton 35, and the Antelopes stormed into the end zone again. Two other times the Morton boys dropped the ball, giving the Antelopes a scoring chance, but they couldn't take advantage of the break.

All in all, Morton fumbled eight times, and seven times an Abernathy boy was on the ball when the pile-up was uncovered.

Abernathy posed a mild threat on their first offensive thrust of the game. They took the opening kickoff and moved to the Morton 17, before a 15-yard clipping penalty stalled their drive. Morton took over after an Antelope punt sailed into the end zone. The Indians moved into Abernathy territory on the running of John St. Clair and Kenny Palmer, but lost the ball on downs on the 39. The Antelopes came roaring back down the field, and actually scored on a 19-yard option play, but the lateral was forward, and the Abernathy boys were penalized. Morton stiffened and held on the 18 yard line.

Morton posed its only threat of the evening as the second period began. The Indians made it to their own 37, where Jim Waters was given a hand-off, and although he was stopped at the line of scrimmage, came through with a great second effort to break loose again, and rambled all the way to the Abernathy 22 before being stopped. St. Clair rammed to the 20, but the ball was fumbled on the next play, and Abernathy recovered.

The two teams traded punts until late in the period, when each team recovered a fumble of their opponents. The score was a 0-0 deadlock as the bands presented their half-time entertainment.

Morton received the second half kickoff, but on the second play from scrimmage, fumbled, with the Antelopes recovering at the Indian 29. It took Abernathy seven downs to score, with fullback Pat Hale crashing over from the one yard line. Darrell Johnson passed to Rondal Preston for a two-point conversion with 8:56 remaining in the period.

The Indians ran three plays and punted after receiving the kickoff. Abernathy began their next drive on their own 23, and despite being thrown for a 15-yard loss in this series of downs, moved for a first down. On their way to their second touchdown, the Antelopes completed three out of three passes for 24, 18, and 20 yards, the final aerial giving Abernathy a first down on the six yard line. Hale rammed into the endzone from the four yard stripe two plays later. Quarterback Johnson made the score 16-0 as 2:11 was left on the clock in the third period. Morton gained only two yards in the first three plays after the kickoff, and punted to the Abernathy 27.

Immediately after the final stanza began, Abernathy was forced to punt, and Jimmy Joyce received at the 25. The Indians moved to the 36, but a pichout was fumbled, with Gary Lovelace recovering for the Antelopes. On the first Abernathy play, another fumble occurred, and Eddie Lyons recovered for the local eleven.

Three plays later, however, Morton gave the ball back to the Antelopes via the fumble route, with Lovelace again recovering, this time on the Morton 34. Abernathy took advantage of this miscue, and scored their final TD of the evening. Mike Tannehill tallied from the one yard stripe, but the conversion attempt was not good with 5:43 to play in the contest.

After taking the kickoff, the Indians fumbled still again, and Abernathy fell on the ball on the Morton 22. However, a 15-yard penalty set the Antelopes back and they were forced to punt. Morton moved from the 20 to near the midfield stripe, but an illegal receiver downfield on a pass play cost the Indians 15 yards, and the local eleven lost the ball on downs on their own 32. Abernathy ran only two plays before the final buzzer sounded.

Area Soil Conservation program is 13 yrs. old

By CULLEN DANSBY
The Cochran Soil Conservation District is nearing the close of its thirteenth year of operation. It was organized on December 12, 1952 by favorable vote of a majority of the landowners in the county.

This district is a legal sub-division of the State of Texas and is governed by a board of supervisors. These supervisors are charged with the responsibility of formulating and carrying out a soil and water conservation program that will preserve these resources and provide a better life for us and our descendants.

During the past year, 61 farmers developed complete conservation plans for their farms. Forty-seven others revised and updated existing plans. These farmers were assisted by the Soil Conservation Service in developing their plans.

This agency provides technical assistance on conservation through the local soil conservation district. Eleven farmers entered into the Great Plains Conservation Program contract to get cost-share assistance on applying their plans.

This brings the total to 152 that have used this program since it began in 1957.

Some farmers have chosen to use the Agriculture Conservation Program for cost-share assistance. Others have secured loans from the Farmers Home Administration and some have applied their conservation plans without financial help.

There are currently 591 of approximately 750 farmers and ranchers in the county that have signed cooperative agreements with the Cochran Soil Conservation District. Conservation plans have been developed by 541 of these.

A few of the conservation practices carried out in the district during the past year are as follows: brush control — 1319 acres; pasture planting — 1269 acres; sprinklers irrigation systems — 34; irrigation pipelines — 118,707 feet; diversions — 3,803 feet; parallel terraces — 10,225 feet.

In addition to the above permanent type practices, management practices such as conservation cropping system, crop residue use, proper use of pasture and rangeland, and irrigation water management were carried out on a majority of the land to which they apply.

Much progress has been made in conserving our soil and water resources during the past thirteen years, but much still remains to be done. Your supervisors hope that each person, whether they live on the farm or in town, will become more concerned about conservation. Greater demands are being placed on our soil and water resources than ever before. With the price of land today and our increasing population, can we afford to let it blow or wash away?

Whiteface loses to Wilson, 20-0, on Friday night

Whiteface lost to Wilson 20-0 Friday at Wilson.

Whiteface coach Dale Read said that even though his team lost he was satisfied with its performance. Read said, "We played good ball, and I was generally pleased. But, that cost us three scores."

Read said that his team is young and is still learning. He said that next year the Antelopes would only lose two men, and that next year the team would be in good shape, but "that this year they were still out to win ball games."

The Antelopes have been starting a freshman quarterback, Ricky Swinney. Read said, "He is a good boy, and just needs a little more work."

Wilson started four seniors and six juniors against the young Antelope team.

Read said that Alvin Knott, line-backer, and Glendale Pearson, defensive tackle, looked good to him on defense. He said the offense needs a little more work.

The Antelopes are hampered with injuries. Darrell Kitchens, junior fullback is injured and probably won't see action against the Freshman "B" Friday night. Alvin Knott has a bruised back and probably won't be at full speed, and the leading scorer of last year, Lupe Alaniz, halfback, who scored 80 points is injured and won't be at full speed.

DOG PROTECTOR

Night-hunting dogs such ascoon hounds, fox hounds, etc., are in dire danger in this motorized age. Frequently these hunting dogs cross busy highways during their run. You can protect them from being run down by attaching reflector-type tape all around their collars.

This will give them a measure of protection since the tape will glow when caught in the beam of an approaching headlight, and give the motorist time to avoid hitting them. Also, it will enable you to keep better track of your hounds in the woods.

Three-Way falls to Estelline, 32-14

Three-Way fell to Estelline 32-14 Saturday night at Tulia. The Three-Way Eagles Coach, J. W. Aldridge said that his team "looked the poorest it had all season."

Halfback Tommy Black of the Three-Way Eagles scored the two touchdowns in the second quarter. He ran one in from three yards out and one in from the five yard line.

The Eagles penetrated five times and beat Estelline on first downs. Three-Way had 15 and Estelline 11 first downs.

The Eagles were ahead 14-12 in the first half when Estelline scored a touchdown on a pass in the last seconds of the second quarter. This put Estelline ahead just before the gun sounded to end the first half.

Estelline made all their scores on passes. Coach Aldridge said that Estelline had seven seniors and speed, but that "we should have done better."

Aldridge said, "By far we looked the poorest we have all season. It was a bad night." Aldridge added, "I think that after being down like this, we will come back against Smyer Oct. 23. We know we will have to work."

Comments by the County Agent

By HOMER E. THOMPSON
Cotton Defoliation

Here it is the 2nd week in October and very little cotton is opened in most fields. It looks like very few fields will be ready to defoliate this season before the frost gets here. Normally speaking we are about three weeks off from frost date and we hope it is not that soon because most of the cotton is not ready for it. Neither is it ready for defoliation.

Those farmers who are thinking about cotton defoliation this fall, I would advise to make a count and see if you have 80 to 90 percent of the bolls open. If you do not have this percentage of open bolls, a desiccant is not recommended for the crop. Regular defoliants may not need such a high percentage of open bolls, say 60 to 70 percent.

One thing to remember is that the defoliants do not speed up the opening of the bolls and maturity stops when a desiccant is applied. We realize micronaire is most important in our South Plains cotton. We need a minimum of 3.5 maturity. Defoliants can stop or delay this development.

Let's just hope we get at least three more weeks of frost free weather with plenty of sunshine so the cotton can develop in quality and strength.

Trees available

Forms for ordering trees and shrubs for windbreaks or other purposes are now available at the county agent's office.

Farmers and ranchers may once again obtain planting stock for setting out in early 1966. Some 17 species of trees or shrubs will be available from the Texas Forest Service. It is anticipated that the trees and shrubs will be shipped to landowners starting in mid-February.

Trees and shrubs may be used for windbreaks, soil stabilization and Christmas tree plantings, but cannot be used for living screens or resold for shade or ornamental purposes.

If you are interested in securing these plants please come by the County Agent's office for the order form.

Weights and measures regulations aid consumers, businessmen alike

Regulations of weights scales by the Weights and Measures Division of the Department of Agriculture aids both the consumer and the businessman, according to John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture.

Commissioner White said that by constant inspection and regulation of scales, "The division insures that a store will not give an underweight, and the consumer will not get one."

Sore suiters
"In either case, the store will suffer," Commissioner White said. Customers resent being short-weighted and the slightest indication of incorrect weighting can badly damage a store's reputation and consequently its business.

One store, charged with short-weighting, spent thousands of dollars to fight the charge, although it is a misdemeanor punishable by only a small fine. The reason was simple. Since the charge was filed, business had dropped by 45 percent.

Can cost
Over-weighting can also cost the businessman. A grocery store with an erroneous scale sold 10,000 one-pound packages of meat that actually contained 1.02 pounds. The cost was $200 a week for that error and if it had gone undetected, the store would have lost $10,000 in a year.

The consumer is assured an accurate weight for his money, and the businessman is insured against costly errors due to the vigilance of the Weights and Measures Division.

For a handy fish scaler, nail some bottle caps upside down on a suitable wood handle. Rough edges of the caps strip off the scales.

A. A. Fralin's profession granddaughter's choice

Miss Venita Boone

A grandfather who has had professional influence on his granddaughter is A. A. Fralin of Morton, owner and operator of Fralin Drug Store. The granddaughter is Venita Boone, 18, a freshman pre-pharmacy student at South Plains College.

Because of her admiration, love and respect for her maternal grandparent, the young student has an ambition of following in his footsteps and becoming a pharmacist.

Miss Boone is interested in the study of science and does not shirk from challenging subjects.

This petite young co-ed lived two and one-half years in Tripoli, Lybia North Africa, arriving in the United States less than a year ago. Her father, J. W. Boone has been an employee of Halliburton Oil Company for some fifteen years.

The three Boone sisters, of which Venita is the oldest, attended the Wheeler Air Force Base School in Tripoli until last year when it was indicated that the school there would be inactivated. Boone moved his family to Hobbs, New Mexico where the girls could be enrolled in school and he could continue with his work with the Halliburton Co. Venita graduated from high school this spring and entered South Plains College this fall.

The other two sisters will continue their education in Hobbs, until after high school graduation when they will enter a college nearby. Tentative plans are for the family to return to Tripoli.

Miss Boone enjoyed swimming on the Mediterranean Sea beach at Tripoli and the cosmopolitan culture in Tripoli. She enjoyed the association of young people of other parts of the world and visiting in other countries near Lybia. She is looking forward to returning to Tripoli.

The ambitious young student plans to get a degree from SPC and then enter the University of Texas.

city police car that could hear Lubbock. The Council seemed to agree that if a receiver was needed the City should furnish it, and not Cunningham. Cunningham had earlier stated that he would pay for the receiver himself. The Council decided to wait and see if the new radio that had been ordered for the police car would be adequate. Burtis Cloud, police chief, said that the new radio could receive from Littlefield, and that Littlefield would relay most of the messages from the Lubbock Department of Public Safety.

There was some discussion on the well houses and the San Antonio Municipal Ordinance trip. Mayor Weatherly stated that in order for the water supply to be approved by the public health organization, the pumps in the well houses would have to be vented.

The Municipal Ordinance Conference is going to be held in San Antonio at the Granada Hotel Oct. 31, and Nov. 1, 2. About 2,500 delegates representing city government are expected to attend. The conference is for all Texas mayors, councilmen, city managers, and heads of all city departments.

The city council meeting began at 7:00 in the City Hall. It adjourned about 9:15 p.m. Those present were Mayor Dean Weatherly, City Secretary Elra Oden, Councilmen E. C. Seany, Kenneth Thompson, T. K. Williamson, Walter Taylor, Tom Rowden, County Attorney Jimmy Walker and Police Chief Burtis Cloud were also present.

tip or incline. In naval terms it means to cause a vessel to lean to one side, leaving the other side accessible for repairs below the water line.

Naturally there are thousands of words in the dictionary, but in a few minutes we were able to come up with Periclitate, Icen, and jenestrato. Periclitate means to expose to danger, Icen is the name of an ancient tribe of Britains, and jenestrato is the name of a group of windows.

The Morton Library has a Dictionary of American Biography. In it we found that Abraham Lincoln had early dreams of becoming a river boat captain. It seems the river attracted him and entered greatly into his early life. As a boy he made money one summer rowing passengers from shore to passing steamers.

The Morton Library also has a new set of Dictionary of American History. In it can be found an article on Black Friday. Black Friday was Sept. 24, 1869, when Jay Gould, James Fisk Jr., and a few of their associates tried to corner the ready gold supply in the United States.

In the Texas Almanac 1965-65 there are some unusual facts about Cochran County. To mention a few Cochran County was named for an Alamo hero, Robert Cochran. Total number employed is 357 and auto registration reached 2,258.

In the Atlas we found the island of Wrangel, located 400 miles N. W. of the Bering Strait in the Arctic Ocean, and in the encyclopedia there were articles on everything from venereal disease to gravity.

We also learned who said two famous quotations that are used every day. "God helps them that help themselves," and "Never leave that till tomorrow which you can do today," were attributed to Ben Franklin, according to Bartlett's Quotations.

The Morton Library is located in the County Activities Building. It is open the first four days of each week from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. We hope that we have stimulated enough interest in it so that more Cochran County residents will drop in and browse around.

TOTAL SERVICE

The goal of the Texas Highway Department is "total road service to all the people, favoring none." This is exemplified by the balanced highway program.

County Agent's report . . .

By HOMER E. THOMPSON

Some farmers locally are thinking a little about defoliating their cotton. This year the cotton seems to be maturing more slowly. This means that most cotton will not be ready to defoliate before we get a frost. Frost, then becomes nature's defoliant.

The past two years this area has been blessed with late frosts. This condition provided much more income to most farmers who did not defoliate. The Research and Extension Center at Lubbock has made tests and studies of early defoliation, late defoliation vs. no defoliation. Their study shows that some farmers who defoliated early, cut their yield from 100 lbs.

to 150 lbs. lint per acre, compared with those who did not defoliate or defoliated late, when most of the bolls on the stalk were open. Quality of seed and lint were injured when defoliated too early. Micronaire was reduced too.

When cotton is 80 to 90 percent open desiccants may be applied, but desiccants should not be applied when cotton is 50 to 60 percent open.

Defoliation Guides for Cotton, L-145, are available in the County Agent's office.

There are many limitations in the use of these defoliants or desiccants given in this guide. Get acquainted with these limitations and be on the safe side.

Dairy cow management

A milk cow should be turned dry about two months before she is due to freshen. The simplest way to do this is to turn her out of the milking herd into a dry pasture.

She should be observed daily and if necessary, milked enough to relieve her udder pressure. If clots, or other evidence of mastitis is observed, she should be brought in for treatment.

If a cow has a history of mastitis during the current lactation, she should be kept in the milking herd during her drying off period and checked thoroughly each day. After she has been milked out for the last time, she may be treated by a veterinarian.

A feeding program during the dry period will vary with the condition of the cow and the pasture. Cows that have produced heavily, and are thin as they approach the end of their lactation, may be fed several pounds of concentrates a day in excess of their usual requirements that last month or two they are in milk.

During the dry period, cows may be divided into groups according to body condition. Those that are fat, should receive pasture, or if pasture is poor quality, hay, and little or no concentrates. Those that are thinner may get pasture, or hay, and in addition, 6 to 12 pounds of concentrates each day. Minerals and water should be available to both groups free choice.

Ten days to two weeks prior to freshening, all dry cows should be placed on a feeding program which includes alfalfa hay, silage (if available) and 15 to 18 pounds of concentrates daily using the concentrate mixture regularly fed to the milking herd. No change should be made in the ration or in the quantity fed at calving time. This program of heavy concentrate feeding before and after calving is the best way to prevent ketosis, and according to researchers, a good way to prevent milk fever.

TENT PEGS

You can buy 1/2-inch steel concrete reinforcing rods cheaply at most junk yards. Get a few and cut them into 12-inch lengths for use as tent pegs.

These pegs can be driven into hard, even frozen, ground without splitting. And they won't slip.

Caprice Custom Coupe — with exclusive formal roof line that comes on no other Chevrolet.

Caprice Custom Sedan — with superb new Body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon — with fine new look of hardwood paneling on sides and tailgate.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.
Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels. You can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats.
In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.
Each model rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version.
The price of it all? Somewhat more than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less, as your dealer will happily confirm — than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

"Communism" topic of ES Study Club meet

The Elma L. Slaughter Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Roy Brown October 7, at 7:30 p.m.

A brief business meeting discussing plans for a rummage sale and the sale of Christmas cards was conducted by president, Mrs. Willie Taylor. The resignation of Mrs. Herman Bedwell was accepted with regret.

A program on Communism based the life of Mrs. Jack Van Beek, of Raymondville, Texas, was given by Mrs. Leonard Coleman.

Information revealed that most people are won to Communism during their first year in college or their first years out of high school. They are won to Communism because of being disillusioned with our government, a spiritual vacuum, intellectual pride and materialism.

Communists would have college students live like rebels, denouncing all religious and moral training they have had. They say, "try everything your parents say is wrong," you may enjoy it. They believe in and advocate free love and legalized prostitution. It doesn't matter what you believe as long as you are sincere and I refuse to believe anything that I cannot experience with my own mind and body.

During the Communist march on Hungary, 5,000 Hungarians were shot, young adults taken to labor camps and mines, and children put into communist nurseries.

The best guard against Communism, says Mrs. Van Beek, is an Informal American Citizen. Tell your child that God and his country are important to him; don't lead a double life; be aware of your sphere of influence and vote intelligently.

America has been blessed because it was founded on Christian principles. We cannot leave communism to God because if we don't care, why should God?

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Willie Taylor, Jack Gunnels Horace and Elmer Gardner, Elra Oden, Denn Jackson, John L. McGee, Leonard Coleman, Mrs. Hattie B. Spotts, Iva Williams, Earl Brownlow and Roy Brown.

The next meeting will be held October 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Elza Brown.
