

Indians fall to potent DC eleven, 44-6, here Friday

Denver City's mighty Mustangs rolled over the Morton Indians, 44-6, here Friday night, handing the local eleven their second district loss in as many outings, and giving the Mustangs a tie for the conference championship.

Morton's defense relaxed a bit in the third quarter, letting the Mustangs score three touchdowns to break open an otherwise hard-fought and close contest.

Denver City tallied once in each of the other periods. The Indians drove 85 yards for their only touchdown, with Jimmy Waters crossing the double-stripe from one yard out on the final play of the first half.

Morton played what was probably their best contest of the campaign, both offensively and defensively, as they held the Mustangs rated No. 1 in the state, at bay for the first, second and fourth quarters. The Denver speed and their passing attack proved to be Morton's downfall. The Indian defense missed a couple of defensive assignments, allowing the Mustangs to come through on key plays.

The Indians' blocking and tackling was much sharper than it had been in previous contests, and although they absorbed a resounding defeat, they have nothing to be ashamed of. They scored the first touchdown against Denver City in district play, and the first the Mustangs have allowed in four ball games.

Denver City won the toss and elected to receive, and began their first series of plays from the 17 yard line. They advanced to a first down on the 29, then quarterback David Mitchell broke loose for 23 yards before he was pulled down on the Morton 48. From the 39, facing fourth and one yard situation, Mitchell tossed an aerial, but Indian defender Jimmy Waters intercepted at the 35, and stumbled forward to the Morton 40 yard line. Waters had a clear field for ten or fifteen more yards, but couldn't keep his balance.

Morton gained six yards in three running plays, and Palmer punted out of bounds on the Denver City 31. The Mustangs rolled to their first touchdown from there. The Denver City team gained a first down at the 43, then fullback Jim Comer hit for two yards. Speedster Jimmy Young broke out of a pack of Indian defenders and appeared to be off to the races. However, Morton's Jimmy Joyce caught up with the district's 100 yard sprint champ at the 14 and hauled him down. Young fumbled on the play, but the ball had been whistled dead. Two plays, later, halfback Mike Sharp circled the Mustang right end and rambled into the endzone untouched from the 11 yard stripe. Young left-handed a pass to Sharp for a two-point conversion and Denver City led, 8-0, with 3:05 remaining in the first quarter.

Morton appeared to have a drive going after receiving the kickoff, as they moved to a first down on the 38 after an eight yard pass from John St. Clair to end Eddie Hollaway. However, two plays later, Kenny Palmer fumbled after a six yard gain, and the Mustangs recovered on the Morton 44.

Early in the second quarter, Denver City was forced to punt after absorbing a 15-yard clipping penalty, and Morton had possession on their own 20. A holding penalty put the Indians back on the 10, and Palmer quick kicked out of danger on third down. Mustang Mitchell was back to the take the kick, but fumbled as he was tackled, and Morton recovered the ball on their own 39 yard stripe.

Three plays netted five yards for the Indians, so Palmer punted again. Young, the Denver City safety, took the ball on the 21 and rambled all the way to the 44 before being stopped — the only long punt return for the Mustangs all evening. Despite a pair of penalties, one for five yards and the second for 15, the Mustangs put their offense into high gear. Mitchell lofted a 23 yard aerial to Sharp who fumbled, and Denver City recovered for another advance of about ten yards. Then Mitchell called the famous Mustang power sweep to the right, and dashed 32 yards unmolested to score with 6:17 left in the half. Mitchell passed to Sharp for two additional points to bring the tally to 14-0.

Joyce took the Denver City kickoff, returning from the 15 to the 31. St. Clair hit Hollaway with a three yard pass, then Palmer rambled for eight yards and a first down on the Morton 42. Palmer ran for twelve more, then Waters carried for two and Palmer for four to the Denver City 40. Waters broke off tackle for 14 more steps to the 26. St. Clair carried for one, Palmer for three, and Waters for six and a first down on the Morton 16.

Fullback Waters made it to the twelve with only 56 seconds left in the half, then St. Clair gained eight yards to the four yard line and another first down. With seconds remaining, the Indians ran four plays, with Waters getting the call on fourth down and crossing into the endzone as time ran out in the first half. A pass attempt for conversion was short of its mark, and Morton left the field at intermission, behind 14-6.

Morton received the second half kickoff, but couldn't move, so Palmer punted out of bounds on the Morton 44. Mitchell gained eight, then Young carried for one, and was racked up on a good defensive play by the Indians. Fullback Jim Comer then broke through the center of the line and two Morton defenders converged on him. However, he squirted loose and rambled 35 yards for a tally. The conversion attempt was not good, and with 9:21 left the score was 22-6. The Indians couldn't go after getting the kickoff, and quick-kicked on third down. Lightning struck the Indians on the first play as Denver City operated from the Morton 42 yard line. Mitchell faked to Comer into the line, then dropped back and lofted a pass to end Harold Shannon who was bounced at the Indian four yard line.

Two plays later, Mitchell scored the fourth DC touchdown, and also ran the two point conversion.

Once again, the Mustang defense cracked, and Palmer punted after Morton gained only six yards on three plays taking control of the ball on their own 41. A pair of complete passes put the Mustangs on the Morton 24. Denver City ran two plays on the ground, then Mitchell hit Shannon in the endzone with a 14 yard scoring pass. Another aerial, Mitchell to Billy Childers was good for the conversion to bring the tally to 38-6 with 2:06 remaining in the third quarter.

After receiving their fourth kickoff in the third quarter, the Indians finally got their offense untracked. Beginning from their own 21, the Morton boys reeled off two successive first downs, and were on the Denver City 49 when the period ended.

Of the first play of the final stanza, St. Clair carried to the 46. Waters then took a handoff and slashed all the way to the Mustang 24 before being collared. He was almost stopped by DC defenders three or four times, but a great second effort gained 22 yards. The Indians got to the 16, but a fourth down pass completion was stopped at the line of scrimmage and the local team was a couple yards short of a first down.

Denver City began their longest scoring drive of the night from that point. A 20 yard Mitchell to Sharp pass was included in the drive, and a 15-yard penalty against the Indians, which was underserving, helped the Mustangs along. Halfback Ronnie Hatfield finally carried in for the score from the one yard line with 3:41 left in the contest. His attempt for the conversion was stopped short.

The Mustangs kicked off for the final time, leading 44-6. Joyce returned the ball from the 16 to the 34. The Indians advanced to a first down at the 45, and then to another at the Mustang 44, but time ran out on the local boys.

Mike Irwin, Kenny Palmer, and John St. Clair were especially outstanding on defense for the Indians, although the entire Morton team played pretty good defense except for the third quarter. The Indian offense for the second year in a row advanced the length of the field to score on the potent Mustangs. Outstanding for the Denver City squad on defense were Billy Childers and David Mitchell.

Anton "11" taps Whiteface, 20-8

Whiteface lost to Anton Friday 20-8 in a tough grid battle. The score was tied 8-8 until the last four minutes of the game. Then Anton intercepted an Antelope pass and ran it back for a score and a little later intercepted another Eagle's pass and set up another score.

Antelope coach Dale Read said, "I think the team looked the best it has all year. But our inexperience hurt us again in the last four minutes of the game."

Anton started eight seniors, the Antelopes none. The Antelopes penetrated twice and their opponents three times. The Antelope made 11 first downs and Anton 14.

Antelope quarterback Randy Wheeler passed to Ricky Swinney for a 80-yard pass and run touch down play in the first quarter. Freshman fullback Wayne Legan ran the extra points.

Read said that Hubert Deavours and Wid Sevard, both tackles, looked good to him on defense. On offense Wayne Legan and Lupe Alaniz pleased Read. Legan made 105 yards rushing. Quarterback Dale Burris played at full speed for the first time since he hurt his wrist in the New Deal game.

Read said that he was pleased with the effort of the team. He said that Anton had "big boys that could move." Anton had two tackles that weighed over 200 lbs., and a guard and center that tipped the scales at 290.

Anton has won six and lost two this year. The Antelopes take on Amherst at Amherst Friday. Read said that the expects a tough game and that Amherst "had a quick fast team."

ment. He worked during his freshman and sophomore years two summers at Gruver Grain Elevators, located in the panhandle at Gruver, Texas. He shoveled grain both summers.

The first semester of his junior year George layed out of school and worked in the National Shirt Shop at Lubbock.

He then returned to college and went to summer school two summers to make up for the semester he had missed in order to graduate on schedule in the fall of 1963.

Jesse paid for his entire college education. The only assistance he received was a $100 high school scholarship. He worked during the summers, and was a dorm supervisor, editor of the annual, and business manager of the paper, all of which helped with his expenses. He also borrowed money from the bank and received $1600 from the National Defense Education Program in Washington. Under this program, a student is given ten years to repay his loan. George is repaying the government about $200 a year on his educational loan.

Even though Jesse was working he found time for over a dozen college activities. They included:

1. President Freshman Class.
2. President Texas Intercollegiate Press Association.

3. Student Council Representatives-Sophomore class.

4. Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

5. Alpha Chi National Honor Fraternity, Vice-President.

6. Head Delegate to United Nations Meet, St. Louis, Mo.

7. Alternate Appointment to United States Military Academy, West Point.

8. Student Body President.

9. All School Favorite.

10. High Ranking Graduate.

11. B.S. Degree, History and Government.

12. Editor college yearbook THE BRAND.

13. Editor college newspaper THE SKYLINE.

After graduating from Sul Ross in the fall of 1963, Jesse worked during the summer as a tourist guide at Mesa Verde National Park, in the mountains of Colorado.

He then taught school one semester at Midland Lee High School, in Midland, Texas. While a teacher at Midland, his aunt, Mrs. Hazel Spence, of Levelland, sent him a newspaper clipping stating that State Representative Olen Petty had resigned. Mrs. Spence had known for a long time that Jesse was interested in politics and government.

George quite his teaching job, after the semester was over, and announced he was going to enter the race for the place vacated by Representative Petty.

Five candidates were in the running for the post. In the first primary, George trailed by 1700 votes. He then started a door to door campaign with organized election committees and organized a 25-car and float parade that included a band. The parade was called, "The George Cavalcade of progress." George won in the runoff by 1,027 votes.

On the costs of the campaign, Terry County raised $750 and Jesse also received personal contributions from individuals. Most of the money, however, he borrowed from the First State Bank in Levelland. One year and half after the campaign is over, Jesse is still paying back on his loan. He will probably be out of debt in January. Some of the money he borrowed from relatives such as his uncle in Lubbock, who is a used car salesman.

Jesse appears to be a "full time representative." He averages at least ten speeches a week over a five county area. State congressmen do not accept payment for

SPC cage coach singles out two youth of area

Two area students at South Plains College students have been singled out by Texan basketball coach Bill Powell.

One is Charles Ledbetter, 6-1, from Morton who Powell says "is a very promising freshman with speed and desire and should push sophomores for a starting birth." Ledbetter lettered four years at Morton, was named all-tourney four times, most valuable player twice, and made all-district three years.

The other player singled out by Powell was Pat Risinger who came to SPC from Bula where he played and lettered at Bula High.

their speaking engagements, and quite frequently money comes out of their own pockets for gas, lodging, and meals when they appear out of town. The only expense account George receives is a limited one that pays for stamps and stationary and office supplies. This is only good while the legislature is in session.

Tuesday, Oct. 12 was a fairly typical day in the life of George. At 6:30 a.m. he spoke to the Muleshoe Jaycees. Noon he appeared in Denver City and talked to the Lions Club. Two o'clock he spoke to the youth leaders for a youth conference in Terry County, at Brownfield. Six o'clock he gave an address to the Farm Bureau in Morton. Seven thirty he spoke to the Matrons Study Club in Levelland. Eight thirty he was back in Morton speaking at the Farm Bureau's annual convention.

Jesse takes about ten area newspapers and many magazines. He reads constantly and cuts pieces out of publications and places them in folders for reference material for his various speeches. He has folders on about 100 different subjects.

He maintains an apartment in Levelland, but is seldom there. Since the legislature has been out of session, he has had time to be chamber manager of the Morton Chamber of Commerce. Jesse eats lunch next door to the Chamber building in Morton at the drug store, and when he returns from his brief lunch break his pockets are usually filled with notes on different questions that interested persons have asked him "to look into."

Among the requests that Jesse receives every week are requests for the interpretation of bills, requests for hardship discharges, help on welfare cases, letters of recommendation from the governor, material for teachers, farmers, and industrialists, and letters of appointment to West Point.

Jesse has two brothers. One is twenty years old and is a painter in Brownfield. The other is twenty-two and is captain of the football team at San Antonio State College.

When asked why he went into politics, Jesse said, "I guess I just got interested in people in my early jobs while I was working at the grocery store and while I was in college."

Family Night is held by church

The first Family Night Supper at the First Methodist Church in Morton last Sunday evening was proclaimed a huge success, as Fellowship Hall was filled to overflowing.

The evening worship service was sponsored by the WSCS and the Wesleyan Service Guild, using the theme, "Attempt Great Things for God." A film, "A Better World Begins With Us" was shown following the service.

It was announced that the Family Night Supper will be held once a month, and that every Sunday night there will be a meeting for every department in the church, including the children's groups.

Masten gives tour of his farm

and a 140 by 40 foot machine shed where he works on inventions to improve the strippers and where he repairs his farm machinery. The group stopped to watch one of the strippers work, and then rode in the bus through the huge machine shed.

Masten said that he thought Griffith had about one million three-hundred thousand dollars invested in farm machinery. Griffith has been renting from Masten for about 23 years. Masten said, "I loaned this fellow (Griffith) enough money to get started on and told him how to farm. Now he is telling me how to farm." According to Griffith, it costs him about $80 per acre to produce cotton on irrigated land. Griffith's cotton was planted about June 15, and is being stripped now.

Cliff Harvey also rents from Masten on the big farm. Harvey built and owns his home and also a quarter section of land. He lives about 4 1/2 miles west of the McClintock home. Harvey thinks he will make about a bale to a bale and a half per acre. The bus stopped on the plot that Harvey farms and looked at his cotton.

Frances Shifflett, Star Route 2, was also on the tour. He farms one place for Masten and has two farms of his own. Masten said, "Fifteen years ago he started out for me after college farming one place for me. Now he has two places of his own."

The afternoon was spent at the Masten ranch headquarters about 18 miles south of Morton on the old C. C. Slaughter Ranch.

A buffet lunch was served and Masten recognized and said a few words about his friends that had come to honor him.

Dr. E. K. Jones of Lubbock was at the buffet. Dr. Jones' father, who was also a doctor, was a good friend of the Mastens before he passed away a couple of years ago. Dr. Jones said, "It is an honor for me to appear here. F. O. is certainly a man who made it on blood, sweat, tears, and brains." Jones continued, "I remember as a boy I would see F. O. hauling burs back from the gin and putting them on his land. Everyone thought he was crazy then, but they are all doing it now."

Masten explained some of the symbolism in the two murals that adorn the walls of the living room in his ranch headquarters. The murals are 18 feet long and four and one half feet wide.

In one mural is Charlie Silvers, on "Smarty". Silvers was the husband of Mrs. Lessye Silvers, Morton, and was killed in an auto accident some years ago. Also in the mural was the late Dr. Jones, and rancher V. D. Sawyer of Crossroads, New Mexico and rancher Tom C. Standefer of Bledsoe. Sawyer and Standefer were present. Standefer was sheriff here in 1931.

Masten recalled about the time 28 years ago when he bought the big farm. He bought 12 tractors and moved out to the center of the 6,400 acre tract of land. Dug-outs were constructed for the workers and work begun. All the land was put into cotton.

Masten said, "The farm had been part of the Camel Ranch and the sod didn't make good cotton that first year. I was really worrying."

He added, "But then we got a low grade cotton loan, and knew the baby was born." Masten also recalled how one day he saw "good cotton" growing out of an area that had been dug up and then resodded over an irrigation pipe. He said, "I got the idea of deep plowing while I was standing there. I said, if cotton will grow over that irrigation pipe, then it will grow with deep plowing."

Masten said that one day he noticed that some trash from one of the gins had spilled into one of the cotton fields and that "good cotton" was growing there. He said that this gave him the idea of putting burs back on his land.

F. O. Masten now owns cattle, oil, ranches, and farms, but it is evident that his love is still cotton, perhaps because he got his start with it as a boy picking it in the fields of Chillicothe, Texas.

Vehicles damaged in two-car collision

A 1957 Ford owned by Jessie Rodriguez, and driven by Rajelio A. Alejandro Morton, was involved in an accident with a 1961 Chevrolet driven by Linda Kelsdy, Morton.

occurred, according to police chief Burtis Cloud. Damage to the Rodriguez car was estimated at $175 and damage to the Kelsdy car was estimated at $50.

Invasion . . .

THE TRIBUNE was invaded Saturday Morning by these "trick or treaters". They are part of Mrs. Stockdales kindergarten class.

Panel heard by ELS Study Club

The home of Mrs. Elzie Browne was the meeting place for the Elma L. Slaughter Study Club, Thursday.

Mrs. Leonard Coleman, vice president, presided at the meeting. A panel consisting of Mrs. Elroy Oden, Mrs. Jack Gunnels and Mrs. E. C. Dolle discussed Religion, Youth in Home, Schools and the Social World.

Mrs. Oden told the group: We all know the problems of today's youths. We know that most of them are fine youths, who are reaching high goals in life and helping their fellow men. We know too of the delinquency, the school dropouts, the crimes of youth and children. How can these problems of youth be solved? "We feel that a good religious background at home will make a very good start. It is a proven fact that youths from homes where religion is taught and lived daily almost always grow up to be happy well adjusted adults. If our youths today are to make peace in tomorrow's world they must experience peace in today's homes."

Mrs. C. E. Dolle said that women of all faiths must be interested in all of the youths of this country. For the kind of you we have today is the adult of tomorrow. What can we as women do about this? "Did you know that in ten years time that the gap between the privileged children who get a good education and have good moral standings and children who don't have an education will be so great that they will be unable to communicate. Then the communist will have a very good chance to take over this country." Some things we can do to help is to work with Operation Headstart, which helps to prepare children 4, 5 and 6 years old to have a better start in school. The Job Corp helps girls and boys from the age of 16 to 21 to prepare for and find a job.

Mrs. Jack Gunnels explained that Responsibility is a key characteristic of a Christian family. Parents are responsible for walking as a worthy example before their children. "Train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from thee." Parents must discipline their children, we must teach them that each one of us are responsible for each other.

Mrs. Browne served refreshments to Mesdames Roy Brown, W. M. Butler, Leonard Coleman, Elmer Gardner, Hazel Hancock, Dean Jackson, John L. McGee,

REST

A day of play has tired
this little one, but now sleep will bring about the needed rest. This is the time for restoring energies, and breaks the day's pace.
The Lord set aside a day for rest and worship. This day allows us to be in the Lord's house and renews our energies for the week to come.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
