Chamber to begin "Project 45" with additional committee action

"Project 45" began this week, as the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce started a membership and revitalization effort.

Membership and finance committees are expected to start a drive for new members and up-to-date financial support as the Chamber seeks to project a new image of the community.

Manager Jesse T. George outlined parts of "Project 45" during a special meeting of the Chamber board Monday afternoon. He asked that all Chamber committees begin functioning and accomplishing their tasks immediately.

His plans were endorsed by the board, which gave approval to several other tangible programs of work.

A joint meeting of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the board of directors of the Morton Junior Chamber of Commerce was slated to begin at 7 a.m. Thursday, March 10, at the Wig Wam restaurant. The meeting is to formulate plans that would bring Texas and New Mexico together on a direct highway connection from Lubbock to Roswell, through Morton.

Board members also voted for the Chamber to sponsor a pancake supper in connection with a political rally on April 12. The rally is being sponsored by the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce, the JC's and the Cochran County Democratic Women.

A community information survey by the JC's also was given enthusiastic endorsement by the C of C directors, who noted that such information was needed for Chamber work in the future.

Director Roy Gentry, chairman of the Civic Improvement Committee, was named by the board to represent the Chamber in an effort by several area civic and cultural groups to promote and investigate a single fund drive each year, to replace the multiple drives which are held now.

C of C treasurer Rusty Reeder reported to the board on delinquent members and told of outstanding bills that were to be paid.

Woody Dickson resigned from the board of directors through a letter read by President Don Workman. He said that the press of personal business prevented him from continuing on the board. His resignation was accepted with regrets. A replacement will be selected from board nominations at the next meeting.

The remaining balance of the Christmas Candy Fund, about $10, was transferred to the general fund.

Arrangements for a meeting to explain the new Uniform Commercial Code, water depletion and other items was turned over to the Public Relations Committee.

Bowling begins in area TABY tournament here

Spectators who visit the Frontier Bowling Lanes both Friday night and Saturday afternoon will receive a treat deluxe, as the players begin to arrive for the district tournament for TABY.

This year, four area towns will come to Morton to take part in the event.

The week-end activity will begin at 7:30 Friday night, when a team from Lubbock will put on an exhibition game. The five boys who make up the Class A scratch team all carry an average of 150 or over, and all are the sons of pro-bowlers.

There will be no competition in this game, but it promises to provide an eventful evening.

The line-ups for the three Morton teams are as follows: Class A Jr. boys, average of 750 or over, Haskell Lamar, who sports an average of 188, Ronnie Studdard, Dee Merritt, Darrell Betts, and Herschel Lamar. Science fair winners named

The annual Morton Science Fair was held Tuesday night at the high school gym, and the hundreds of visitors summed the show up with one word, "Amazing".

A total of 212 exhibits were placed on display by the students, and all could have been termed as winners.

Some of the exhibits were written on poster board, while others consisted of huge structures, but all took months of planning, research, and construction, and all were most complete to the last detail.

A large number of the students plan to take their projects on to higher contest for competition.

Winners in each division were announced as: General Science, a Cyclotron, built by Sandy Sanders and Dannie Williams; Biological science, an Algae project by Curtis Griffith; Physical Science, three co-winners, a Cloud Chamber by Joey Newsom; research with DNA by Donna Hofman; and space chemistry by Dale Greer and Ronald Hale. The space chemistry was also overall winner of the Fair.

★ Register 52

Emergency voter registration has attracted 52 persons in Cochran County thus far.

That was the report of county tax assessor-collector Leonard Groves Wednesday as the two-week supplementary process neared the halfway mark.

Registration under the law enacted in February by a called legislature session began on March 3 and will continue through March 17. Persons wishing to vote who did not buy poll taxes may obtain their registration papers at the county tax office. Mail applications also may be made, Groves said.

License plate sales lagging

License plate sales are lagging badly behind the same period last year. Only about 60 per cent as many tags have been sold during the first nine days of March as were sold during that time in 1965.

Leonard Groves, county tax assessor-collector, reported that his offices has issued license plates for only 322 passenger vehicles, 102 commercial vehicles and 70 farm vehicles thus far. By this time last year, 555 passenger tags had been issued. Other types of licenses are falling by about the same percentage, Groves said.

The deadline for acquiring 1966 plates is March 31, Groves pointed out. Vehicle owners are reminded to bring their title, 1965 license-receipts . . . and money, in order to get their new tags.

Groves urged Cochran County residents to purchase their tags early to avoid standing in lines.

County Agent's report

By HOMER E. THOMPSON
County Agricultural Agent
Study fertilizer applications

A new series of off-station soil fertility tests conducted by Texas A&M University scientists should show if there are grain sorghum yield differences between fall or spring applications of nitrogen.

Test plots will be in Deaf Smith and Parmer Counties and on the Southwestern Great Plains Research Center, at Bushland. Each plot will receive three different rates of nitrogen applications and each rate will be applied at five different times.

The three rates are 80, 102 and 160 pounds of nitrogen per acre. The scientists will be comparing the yield differences of applying the nitrogen before shredding, after plowing, after listing, after irrigation and in an early side dress. They also hope to learn how fall applications affect decomposition of crop residue. Personnel at the Bushland Center and at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, near Lubbock, will conduct the study in cooperation with county agents and local farmers.

Harvey Walker of the South Plains Center, says if there are insignificant yield differences between fall and spring applications, more nitrogen applications could be made in the fall. This would ease the spring rush for both farmers and fertilizer dealers.

The South Plains Research and Extension Center has been conducting off-station fertility tests for 12 years. This year they had plots in 20 locations representing every major soil type in the area.

Now it costs you only $1.00* after 8 p.m. and all day Sunday

In 1915 a coast-to-coast phone call cost $20.70*. By 1934 the rate had been reduced to $9.00. Today the same call costs you only $1.00* if you place your call station-to-station after 8 p.m. or anytime on Sunday. And, it costs even less for shorter distances.

Today, there's more reason than ever to use Long Distance for all its worth.

Farmers to vote on $1-bale fee for research and cotton's future

Unless something more is done to reduce the cotton carryover, growers will face further cuts in acreage and the entire economy of cotton areas will suffer heavily. Leading producers across the Belt believe the only solution is to develop better cotton products and to sell them in greater volume, the National Cotton Council points out. This cannot be accomplished without greatly increased funds for research and promotion.

A mechanism to permit growers to build such funds is provided for in the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, developed by producers. Recently passed by the House of Representatives, the measure would allow growers to vote on establishing a uniform assessment of $1 per bale for research and promotion.

Producers point out passage of the bill by the U. S. Senate, and a favorable vote in the referendum, could mean life or death to incomes of farmers and areas dependent upon cotton.

Most areas soon will feel the ill effects of this year's drastic cuts in acreage. There are strong indications this is only the beginning unless something is done to reduce the carryover which is due to hit a record 16.5 million bales this year.

Cotton now is competitive in price with rayon and foreign cotton. However, it is losing out to the higher-priced fibers, such as nylon and polyester. These fibers now have a total market in the U.S. that equals nearly seven million bales of cotton. Over two million bales were gained in the past two years.

New plants with capacity equivalent to more than 3.5 million additional bales of cotton are scheduled to be operational by the end of next year.

In 1961, growers began boosting research and promotion through the Cotton Producers Institute. With a voluntary assessment of $1 per bale, they raised $3 million a year. Then CPI's income leveled off and threatened to drop.

Producers were stymied by the problem of how to get a reasonably uniform collection from some 500,000 different farmers across the Belt. Man-made fiber producers do not face this problem; their small boards of directors can provide funds without hesitation.

The Cotton Research and Promotion Act would give farmers the opportunity to unite their actions and funds. This would occur when at least two-thirds of the farmers voting in a referendum, or farmers producing two-thirds of the volume grown by those voting, approve the plan. If a farmer did not want to participate his money would be refunded without argument.

A group of trustees composed of farmers elected by cotton producer organizations in various states would have full responsibility for developing and carrying out the research and promotion program.

The $1-per-bale rate could not be changed unless farmers vote to

Two residents' father succumbs

Toach Richardson, the father of two Morton residents, died Monday in a Littlefield Hospital. He had been a patient for two days.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church. Burial was in the City of Levelland Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mary; two sons, Joe Richardson of Levelland and Jimmy Richardson of Morton; four daughters, Mrs. Nell McBee of Morton, Mrs. Gordon Crouch, Mrs. Stanley Sanders, and Mrs. J. L. Barnett, all of Levelland; one brother and 19 grandchildren.

Mrs. Bessie Latham, aunt of Mrs. H. A. Tuck, died Friday in Lubbock. Mrs. Latham was buried in Sentinel, Okla., Sunday.

do so in another referendum. Funds will be collected by a cotton handler and turned over to a Cotton Board named by the Secretary of Agriculture from a list of nominees chosen by producer organizations. The Board in turn will contract with the producer-elected trustees for expenditures.

Use of funds to influence legislation, or for other political purposes, is specifically prohibited by the act.

If farmers desire, the program can be eliminated. On petition of 10 per cent of the number of farmers voting in the initial referendum, another referendum must be held. A simple majority of those voting, and producing 50 per cent of the volume represented by those voting, can terminate the program.

Campfire Girls to observe 13th birthday

The local chapter of National Campfire Girls, Inc., will celebrate Campfire Girls Week March 13 through March 20. On March 13, the girls are urged to attend the church of their choice in full dress uniform and will receive special recognition at the churches.

On March 17, the Annual Dad and Daughter dinner will be held at the school cafeteria. Tickets are now on sale for one dollar per plate and the girls are urged to have their tickets purchased before Monday, March 14.

The Campfire organization is open to all girls from the second grade through high school. The basic fundamentals of Campfire Girls, Inc. are to prepare girls to be better citizens, better wives and better mothers. Different awards may be earned by simple household chores such as cooking, cleaning and babysitting.

Native lore is also taught to the girls, and certain awards may be earned from hikes, overnight camping and outdoor meal preparation. The girls are taught and encouraged to obey the Campfire Girl laws which are: Worship God, Seek Beauty, Give Service, Pursue Knowledge, Glorify Work, Hold onto Health, and Be Happy.

There are approximately 150 registered Campfire Girls in Morton. These are divided into groups according to school grades. The second and third grade groups are called Bluebirds. Their leaders are Mrs. W. C. Benham and Mrs. Joe Carothers.

The fourth and fifth and sixth grades are called Campfire Girls. Their leaders are Mrs. E. L. Reeder and Mrs. Morton J. Smith Jr., Mrs. Frank Silton, Mrs. J. C. Gandy and Mrs. C. E. Dolle. The seventh and eighth graders are Junior Hi Campfire Girls. Their leaders are Mrs. Roy Davis and Mrs. Rodney Fralin.

When the girls reach high school, they are in the Horizon Club. The advisors for this club are Mrs.

Daniel Rozell, Mrs. W. G. Freeland, Mrs. Iva Williams, Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter and Mrs. Leonard Davis.

The Campfire Girls Organization and its work is financed completely by the sale of candy, which is especially boxed for the Campfire Girls. This candy was on sale in Morton in December.

All of the Bluebirds, Campfire and Horizon Club leaders are volunteers who devote much time and talent to this worthwhile organization for girls.

Some of the community projects which the Campfire Girls help with are the Annual March of Dimes Campaign and the Heart Fund Drive.

On alternate years the girls attend a week-long camp at Camp Monkeiva, near Las Vegas, N.M. Camp Monkeiva is constructed especially for Campfire Girls and while at camp the girls follow a busy schedule including hikes, sports, games and handicrafts.

Preparing meat topic for meet

Meat preparation will be the subject of a special meeting for homemakers on March 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the high school home economics room.

Marie Tribble, extension specialist in foods and nutrition will be the featured speaker. She will be assisted by JoAnne Bray, home service advisor for Bailey County Electric Cooperative, and Jennie Allen, County H. D. Agent.

The meeting will emphasize buying of meat and methods of preparation of less tender and less expensive cuts of meat. With prices of meat increasing each week, homemakers will find information cost per serving, cut identification, methods of preparation, tenderness and nutrition of value in stretching the food dollar.

The tenderness of meat depends on the method of preparation, not the cut of meat. Less expensive cuts of meat can be prepared so that they are as tender and tasty as expensive cuts.

All interested women are invited to attend.

What kind of an impression are we making on visitors that stop in this area? If even a tenth of all the moaning and griping I hear is transmitted to Morton visitors, a lot of folks must have a sorry impression of our town. I am reminded of a man who always answered a greeting, such as "How are you today?" or "How are things getting along?" with the same answer: "This is the best day of my life" and he lived each day with that spirit. Yet I knew this man's life had been filled with tragedy and he had many reasons to be sour and disgruntled. One day I asked him about his unusual reply and he told me that he had learned that his days were better than he had a right to expect, that God had provided him with many good things and that he lived each day as if it were his last. I am convinced that Norton is a good town and that it has a great future. I hope that sharing this feeling will make it so. Would you care to join me?

help, I'll even wash my feet thoroughly and join in a public grape stomping festival.

Talking of food leads me to recall Jim Hartline, manager of Doss Thriftway. Jim is wearing a huge bandage on his left hand as the result of a freak accident last week . . . involving his little finger. Jim banged it against a truck and thought little about it at the time. But the finger started hurting more and examination revealed that he had broken some tendons. It took surgery in Lubbock to repair the damage, followed by a huge bandage that looks like something that might have been applied by two Tenderfoot Scouts treating a hangnail. But Jim assured me the contraption was installed by professionals and has a purpose. Jim's newest worry is that he's going to get a dislocated shoulder from carrying around all the extra weight.

Apparently the coaches knew what they were doing when they switched Jimmy Joyce from the 440 to the 220-yard dash. As a junior, Jimmy placed fourth in the state meet in the quarter mile, but was trained for the shorter sprint this year. He responded with a 22.5 timing in his first outing last Saturday at Idalou, setting a school record and a meet record. His time also may cause Coaches Jones and Weaver some concern about their training methods. Jimmy was sick Monday, attended school but didn't practice on Tuesday, was hampered by wind on Wednesday and Thursday and had just a warm-up practice Friday.

We plan to be out Friday evening to watch a team of five high school bowlers from Lubbock give an exhibition prior to Saturday's tournament for District V of the Texas Association of Bowling Youth. Each of the bowlers is averaging more than 180 per game and I also understand that each is the son of a present or past professional klinger.

Make your life
have the right . . .

Impact

on others

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The carpenter knows that there is a proper way to hold the hammer, and that the nail must be hit from the right direction or the nail will bend. As children of God we need to make the right impact on others. When we attend church we learn how to treat others, and at the same time are setting an example for others. If we remain straight as a well hit nail, then others are less likely to bend. "For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you."

These compositions will have their premier performance as violin solos arranged and played by the maestro. Tickets will be available soon.

The Fleur Garden Club hears tips on landscaping

The Fleur Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. W. A. ...

During the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Don Samford, present members were urged to attend the District One Garden Convention on March 29 and 30 in Lubbock. Announcement was made of Course II of the Flower School on April 19, 20 and 21, in Lubbock. Members also were urged to take advantage of this opportunity to learn more of horticulture and flower arrangement from qualified instructors. Books may be checked out of the Garden Clubs Library or from the State Headquarters Library in Fort Worth.

B. H. Tucker presented the program on "Landscaping". She stressed the first step is to plan before planting anything. The purpose of landscaping is to provide a frame for the house or yard. Taller trees should be planted back of the building. After plans are worked out, selection of materials is made, being careful not to choose too many for their size at maturity, to choose those adapted to this climate and soil.

Native trees and shrubs are always a safe choice as well as others proven adaptable to the area. This precaution will prevent disappointment and loss of time and money. For shade trees, the honey locust, hackberry, pecan, live oak, Arizona ash, fruitless mulberry, sycamore, and mimosa are well adapted here. The elms are adapted, but because of other problems they create, are not recommended for home planting.

Some shrubs which do well here are crepe myrtle, rose of Sharon, flowering almond, mahonia, pyracantha, nandina, burford holly, youpon holly, forsythia, spirea, Chinese snowball, Japanese barberry and Hall's honeysuckle.

Members present at the meeting were: Mrs. B. H. Tucker, Mrs. Herman Bedwell, Mrs. Eugene Bedwell, Mrs. W. T. Cranford, Mrs. Connie Joiner, Mrs. Carl W. Ray, Mrs. L. Z. Scoggins, Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. Don Samford, hostess and one visitor, Mrs. Keith Kennedy.

The next meeting will be on March 10 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Daniel.

1936 Study Club has special Texas Day book review at meet

The 1936 Study Club met March 2 in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Miller, south of town.

In a brief business session the following names of next year's club officers were submitted by the nominating committee and unanimously elected: Mrs. Glenn Thompson, president; Mrs. Joe Gipson, first vice president; Mrs. J. D. Hawthorne, second vice president; Mrs. Neal Rose, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. L. F. Hargrove, historian; Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. R. Ramp reporter; and Mrs. Lloyd Miller, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Glenn Thompson brought a special "Texas Day" program, reviewing the book "Big Country Texas" by Donald Day.

Mr. Day, in his unusual book, traced the history of Texas beginning at the time Spain first sent Catholic Priests over to Christianize the Indians. After the Louisiana Purchase, he told of the influx of settlers into Texas. Moses Austin from Missouri contracted to bring 300 families to Texas, all of whom were to be of Roman Catholic religion. He later died before completing his work and the colonization was directed by his son, Stephen F. Austin.

In the early days of Texas history there were no taxes collected, really no money to run the government; "Might makes right" and "possession is nine-tenths of the law," were rules of the country. Land was so cheap one story was told of a Texas Ranger who traded two sections of land he owned for a good horse, only to have the horse stolen from him three days later.

Many unusual facts were written concerning the early government formed after the fall of the Alamo. Interesting sidelights of the character of Sam Houston, Lamar and Austin were brought out. In spite of the petty jealousies of the early leaders, Texas continued to grow strong materially and spiritually as a state.

Mrs. Thompson told of the beginning of early ranching in Texas; the establishment of the King Ranch in south Texas as well as the Goodnight Ranch in the Palo Duro region. Col. Goodnight tried to establish a new breed of cattle by crossing the Hereford and the buffalo and called the new breed

"Cattielo". In recent Texas history, Mrs. Thompson told of the "Black Gold" oil fields in East Texas and even down to the "so-called" feud between the cities of Dallas and Ft. Worth and the rivalry involved. Mrs. Lem Chesher was unanimously elected to club membership. The next meeting will be held March 16 in the home of Mrs. Gage Knox.

Those attending were Mesdames Cyrus Field, Neal Rose, Joe Nicewarner, D. E. Benham, Joe Gipson, L. F. Hargrove, Glenn Thompson, Gage Knox, M. C. Ledbetter, H. R. Ramp, Kenneth Thompson, Hume Russell, J. D. Hawthorne and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Culpepper had visitors in their home Sunday. They were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rodney and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Vaughn from Whiteface. Terry Culpepper has been ill so they came to cheer him up.

Change in time for H. D. club

The Modern Mothers Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Donny Baker, March 9 a.m.

Roll call was answered "Historical places in Texas visited." The program was by Mrs. Donald Masten on "Lone Star State". The club is to change the time of their meeting from 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. beginning March 22. The meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Herman Brown.

Hot caramel rolls and coffee were served to the following: Carl Webb, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Doug Zuber, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Donald Masten, Thomas Lynch and the hostess, Mrs. Baker.

MORTON TRIBUNE, THURSDAY MARCH 10, 1966

We invite Mr. Katzenbach

One hundred thirty years ago, Texas declared its independence from Mexico and formed a republic. Ten years later, Texas became the only independent nation to join the United States of America.

It is noteworthy that March 2, 1966, on Texas Independence Day, the United States of America announced that it would send Federal Bureau of Investigation agents into the state to "observe" the emergency voter registration procedures that began March 3 and will continue through March 17.

U. S. Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach issued the Justice Department order, saying that the agents were to see if citizens were being given adequate opportunity to register.

Our full support goes to Governor John Connally, Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr, U. S. Senator John Tower and others who immediately blasted Katzenbach's order. Connally termed it a "gratuitous insult" and Carr said that he was "fighting mad."

In practice, the state poll tax was not a bad system to preserve the purity of the ballot box. But the courts threw out the poll tax and the state legislature took immediate steps to provide an alternate system for this year's elections and those in the future. The state government acted promptly and effectively and the basic provisions of the new voter registration law are good ones.

Texas fought strenuously to keep the poll tax, but moved immediately to comply with court rulings once the poll tax was declared unconstitutional.

Why does the federal government generally, and Attorney General Katzenbach specifically, then deem it necessary to send in Federal watchdogs to assure that everyone will be allowed to register? Texas has not used loaded literacy tests, nor the other evasive measures that some southern states have employed. Texas, despite the strong feelings of many of its citizens, has set about integrating its schools and other public facilities with dignity, purpose and peace.

In recent years, the honorable FBI has been saddled with a succession of onerous duties. Its assignment to Texas as watchdogs on voter registration ranks as a waste of trained specialists and unnecessary expenditure of federal funds.

If Mr. Katzenbach feels the citizens of Texas need to be watched during the registration period, The Tribune extends him an open invitation to come to Cochran County, so that he might personally observe our voter registration. We will even take the time to drive him to other county seats in the area and allow him to inspect their procedures. It would be a waste of our time, but we would like for him to see personally how we follow the law of the land.

Texas has always been unique in the United States. When it joined the alliance of states after ten years as a republic, it reserved unto itself a right given no other state. This is the option of the people to form five separate states within the boundaries of Texas.

Perhaps the time has come for Texans to take this action, for it would give us an additional four senators and several more representatives, all of whom could be directed by their constituents to dig into the absurd actions of a power-happy U. S. Attorney General who feels that Texas is incapable of conducting its internal affairs without "big brother" prying into its actions.

Mr. Katzenbach, all Texans are seething at your actions. We have inherited a pride in our state that comes directly from the heroes of San Jacinto, the Alamo and Washington-on-the-Brazos. We pray that our President will put aside his quest for the Great Society long enough to recall that the foundations of his strength and leadership are sunk into Texas soil and that he will join all Texas in condemning your defamatory actions.

Mr. Katzenbach, Texas deserves and awaits your apology for an ill-advised and hasty decision.

A year of paradox

One thing may be said of the year that just slipped into the limbo of history is that it has been a year of paradox. In many areas, giant strides have been taken toward man's highest aspirations, spiritually and materially. The Ecumenical Council that came to a close in 1965 and the Pope's unprecedented visit to the United Nations were clear signs that the Christian world is working toward a unity never before known. As the year closed, American achievements in space lifted men's eyes and minds beyond the confines of earth. A window, however small, has been opened on the mysteries of the universe. This has come about through the finest efforts of a free nation.

We have progressed in space and elsewhere because the "Team" has never lost sight of the individual.

And so America hit new heights in 1965. But the year of the paradox has brought many good American citizens who love their country to the edge of despair. They see around them an

A matter of places
We have heard countless aspects of the conflict in Vietnam discussed since the United States involvement there.

Time is talked of in terms of how long we have been there—and how long we must remain.

People are discussed in many instances in terms of troop commitments, Americans killed, enemy dead and refugees from the North. Religion is in the turmoil between the Buddhists and the Catholics—and ideologies like Democracy and Communism.

Money for the tremendous expense of running a war and offering economic aid.

Now let us look at it in terms of places—towns, cities—geographical locations.

We have seen the conflicts and results of Communist aggression in many places—in China, Hungary, Cuba and countless countries in Eastern Europe.

Let's look at South Korea since it is still very fresh on the minds of many people. Here, we gave the Communists their half and below the 38th Parallel a free nation was brought into existence.

But soon the peaceful boundary of the 38th Parallel was made into a joke by aggression from the North. The aggressors wanted more than half—they wanted all.

A similar situation existed and now exists in Vietnam—half is not enough for the aggressors.

Thus, again we must take our stand, again as before, at dire expense in human lives.

It appears the aggression will never stop in these many locations—most of which we have never heard of until recently. We have no choice, but to fight. In location perhaps we still have some choice.

There can be Saigon or San Francisco—Ben Carr or Brownsville—Haiphong or Houston. And if we withdrew, how many years would it be before the battle-ground reversed from one to the other.

Sandstorms aren't worst

Thousands of South Plainsmen, along with their cousins in Eastern New Mexico, went around a couple of days this week, spitting out grit and putting up with a series of three "blows" which, for length and intensity, were the most disagreeable in some time.

Then, on Friday morning, they picked up their Avalanche-Journals and read that tornadoes in Mississippi and Alabama had taken between 55 and 60 lives, injured hundreds and caused millions of dollars in damage.

This tragic information, along with more from the Dakotas where the worst blizzard in years had tied up vast areas, wreaked damage and taken at least one and probably more lives, must have been a good lesson for us around here. Maybe some of us even regretted crying so bitterly over the sandstorms which, in the final analysis, were nothing more than inconveniences.

It's nothing to feel superior about. It's nothing to note with satisfaction. But the fact remains that whenever this section of the country experiences a hard sandstorm over a length period, some other area suffers tornadoes. They are the inevitable whiplashes of our sandstorms, as anyone knows who watches the weather news.

We regret, as does everyone else, the horrors of the tornadoes in Mississippi and Alabama this week, and, also, the woes of the blizzards in the North country. Even so, they should remind us that, after all, we are most fortunate in being only inconvenienced, or vexed, by sandstorms.

The latter are no fun, but they don't kill anybody. And they're much to be preferred over other kinds of extreme weather which, at one time or another, plague every part of the U.S. and the world.

Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

Respect for whose authority?

Gene Jordan, judge of the 47th District Court in Amarillo handed down a decision last week involving West Texas State University and one of its students that will have far-reaching effects if it is allowed to stand.

The student was suspended from WT by a disciplinary board of faculty members, following the student's involvement with Canyon police for speeding.

At the time he was stopped by a Canyon policeman, the student was under probation and had agreed to leave his car at his home in Lamesa and not drive it while under probation at West Texas State.

He was driving the car, charged with speeding, and the university suspended him.

The student then brought suit against the university, claiming that they couldn't do that to him. The judge ruled in the student's favor, thus tying the hands of university officials a great deal as far as discipline is concerned.

The question is: How far can a college go in regulating the conduct of its students, both on and off the campus?

I am Gary Freeman of the Whiteface FFA Chapter. You purchased my pig at the Cochran County Fat Stock Show on Saturday, Feb. 26, 1966. I really appreciate your interest in our FFA. Again I thank you for purchasing my pig.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sincerely,
Gary Freeman
Whiteface, Texas.

(Editor's note: We enjoyed the auction and appreciate the opportunity to encourage the youth of this area.)

There is plenty of legal precedent to support the contention that educational institutions have the right and the authority to exercise some regulations and control over the activities of its students, on or off the campus.

By his decision Judge Gene Jordan has encouraged defiance of law and order. He has encouraged demonstrations and beatniks everywhere to thumb their noses at college officials. He has tied the hands of campus police charged with maintaining law and order.

The honorable judge of the 47th District Court has done nothing to stimulate respect for authority in his decision in this case. Indeed, quite the opposite is true.

"I'VE BEEN KEEPING AN EYE ON YOU—JUST WHAT DO YOU DO AROUND HERE?"

Highlights and Sidelights—

Texans are fighting mad

AUSTIN, Tex. — Texas' first big free voter signature drive is under way. But top state officials still are "fighting mad" because F.B.I. agents were assigned to keep an eye on registration procedures in selected counties.

"It's an insult to every public official and every citizen of Texas," wrote Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr in a letter to U. S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach about the F.B.I. check.

Gov. John Connally agreed and further charged the U. S. Department of Justice with intentionally "instigating trouble" among stormy state political factions.

A three-judge federal court granted Carr's request for a 30-day stay of its order abolishing the poll tax as a voting requirement. Stay was granted in order to allow time to put the new registration law into effect. Therefore, the old poll tax requirement will apply through most local elections this month.

All indications are the initial 15-day free registration (March 3-17) is going smoothly. Interest varies from county to county. Intensive registration drives are under way in the major counties, with all factions trying to sign up more voters who reflect their own views.

Connally and Carr have called on local tax assessor-collectors, who are voting registrars, to provide as many sub-stations and deputies as necessary and to deputize all the overtime needed to assure the widest possible opportunities for voter qualifications.

This is in keeping with instructions of the federal court which conceivably could lengthen the 15-day period if it feels all voters who wanted to register were not given sufficient opportunity.

Carr, meanwhile, has appealed the poll tax invalidation order to the U.S. Supreme Court. However, few feel it will be reversed.

Reversing earlier instructions, the attorney general said Texans over 60 years of age in cities of 10,000 or more who failed to get exemption certificates before January 31 still can sign up free.

Reliable estimates of the number of new voters who will qualify by March 17 have been raised to around 500,000.

IMPORTS TIGHTENED — State and federal inspectors are clamping down on imported sales that resulted when the state per-pack tax on cigarette jumped to 11 cents.

Travelers are being warned that they can bring back no more than two packs of untaxed cigarettes from across the border.

State comptroller's agents, liquor control board inspectors and customs officers are making close checks in an effort to enforce the limit.

Comptroller's figures show the total cigarette tax collected for February as $8,500,000. This is nearly a $2,000,000 increase from February, 1965. Actually, however, last month's stamp sales meant 7178-963 packages of smokes were purchased. This compares with 83-431,387 at the old rate in February, 1965.

Before the last three-cent-a-pack increase, sales sometimes went to more than 100,000,000 a month.

"We're looking at every avenue we can to protect the revenue of the state," commented Albert Brown, head of the excise and store tax division of the comptroller's office.

TEXAS JOINS COMPACT — Texas will be one of the first states to participate in the interstate Compact for Education, Governor Connally has announced.

Compact aims to strengthen the voice of states in formulation of alternative nationwide educational policies.

Connally has indicated he is making a bid for location of the compact's central office in Texas.

An interstate commission composed of seven representatives from each member state will develop alternatives in educational policies, gather data on enrollments, conduct research, exchange information with other groups and recommend proposals for financing education.

TWO SELECTED — Amarillo and Beaumont were selected as the sites for two $450,000 pilot Mental Retardation centers sought by 20 Texas communities.

State Board for Mental Health and Retardation said the cost will be shared by state and federal appropriations.

Other cities considered for the centers were Abilene, Austin, Brownwood, Dallas, El Paso, Galveston, Edinburg, Longview, Midland, Odessa, San Antonio, San Angelo, Tyler, Texarkana, Temple, Victoria, Wichita Falls and Waco.

ATTORNEY GENERAL — A Childress County constable who accepted a $1-a-day job as a deputy tax assessor-collector for a single day during the poll tax drive put on by the Junior Chamber of Commerce did not vacate his office, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held in an official opinion.

In other opinions Carr concluded: A driver's license is automatically lost on felony conviction for driving while intoxicated, but is not so forfeited when a person is convicted of misdemeanor DWI and placed on probation (unless probation is revoked).

Driver of a pickup, panel truck, carry-all or station wagon of 2,000 pounds or less capacity does not have to have a commercial operator's license even if vehicle is operated in combination with one or more trailers.

Texas Water Rights Commission is governed by article setting $1,500 maximum for water use permits (and $200 top for additional use under same permit). Request originated with Sulphur River Municipal Water District and City of Irving applications to take water from Cooper Reservoir.

Workmen's Compensation law does not have permissive application to county-line independent school district (Goose Creek Consolidated ISD) under jurisdiction of a county having population of 1,200,000 or more unless it is wholly located or situated in the county.

A warrant on Texas Water Rights Commission's appropriation to pay for paper used in printing special engineering reports necessary to state water plan is a legal expenditure.

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT — State Highway Commission initiated plans to make U. S. Highway 271 a multi-lane facility from Paris northward to the Red River and the Oklahoma border.

Facility will connect with a multi-lane highway planned by the State of Oklahoma to the river.

Among other projects ordered by the commission was completion of a highway loop around the city of Lufkin.

Devil's River Bridge on U. S. Highway 90 west of Del Rio received the American Institute of Steel Construction "Oscar" as a commission meeting here as the best of its class constructed in 1964.

COURTS DECIDE — State Supreme Court held for the typographical union in action requiring the Houston Chronicle and Houston Post to reset in their composing rooms advertisements placed by a local firm through a local advertising agency. Arbitration board held that "national" advertising does not have to be reproduced in the newspapers, but "local" advertising does.

Supreme Court turned down the appeal of Mayor Morris L. Newsom of Ranger to be included in the Democratic primary ballot as a candidate for state representative in the 63rd District (Eastland, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Callahan and Shackelford Counties). The lower courts held Newsom ineligible to run for the Legislature because he's now serving a term in a "lucrative public office." Actually, he draws no pay.

POLICY CHANGES — Writing of general liability and automobile insurance policies will be changed by July 1. But the "average driver" won't be affected.

Big change will be introduction of a "jacket" plan which will be common to several types of insurance. Under the "jacket" plan, the agent will insert standard insurance parts, such as fire protection, auto protection, etc.

Basically, the change is designed for business enterprises rather than for individuals. Family policies will not be under the "jacket" plan.

Under the new method, "an insured now will be covered by liability for injuries to others arising out of his use as a passenger of a land public conveyance, such as a taxicab or bus."

A second area for increased protection is for "the insured's liability arising out of watercraft powered by outboard motors in excess of 24 horsepower."

Most significant change in the general liability plan is its relation to automobiles and other vehicles is that the policies will be written on a "per occurrence" basis with no additional charge.

SULPHUR SALE SET — An April lease sale for development of sulphur deposits on West Texas lands owned by the University of Texas was ordered by UT regents.

Regents will notify oil companies doing business on the lands, requesting a list of tracts for sulphur mining. Lease sale will be handled directly by regents.

"Prospects look very good," commented Chairman W. W. Heath.

SHORT SNORTS — Parks and Wildlife Commission in an unpublished meeting added nearly 400 acres to 245 previously designated as Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near famed LBJ Ranch.

State Securities Commissioner William M. King has taken action to prohibit the sale of securities issued by Atlas-American Oil Corporation, Dallas.

Texas Department of Public Safety is now tied in with a multi-state high speed police teletype network to carry information on crime and traffic.

More than 1,000 are expected to attend the Governor's Conference on mental retardation here March 17-18.

W. Astor Kirk of Austin and Crisobal P. Aldrete of Del Rio were named deputy director and manager of community action programs, respectively, for the southwest regional headquarters of Office of Economic Opportunity.

Texas Education Agency accreditation team probably will re-visit the troubled Eagle Pass school system in April. School was warned its accreditation will be discontinued in July unless "substantial progress" is made.

Pioneer amphitheater complex in Palo Duro Canyon State Park will be expanded, according to Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Will Odum.

Lawyers of a five-state area will assemble at the University of Texas Law School on March 24-25 for the first Regional Conference on Legal Services to the Poor. More than 350 representatives are expected to attend.

Pre-registration with a small fee enables the purchaser of used units, 1963 to 1965, that are eligible to have warranties on two years or 50,000 miles of service.

EXAMPLE: A '64 Ford with 30,000 miles will have two years or 20,000 miles of warranty left. A '65 Ford with 27,000 miles will have two years of 23,000 miles of warranty left.

The Warranty, which is transferrable, gives repair bill protection to customers on all eligible repairs on a $25 maximum charge for each repair.

EXAMPLE: Automatic transmission goes out and the estimated repairs will run $175. The customers pay only $25.
