City electric rates are cut by CP&L

The Morton City Council met Monday night in a special called meeting to discuss the lowering of electricity rates with Cochran Power and Light officials.

The electric company officials had asked for the meeting accordance with the Texas State Law that requires each city to approve any rate change of public utilities.

Cotton's competitive needs told at meeting

"Cotton is in desperate trouble," a representative of the National Cotton Council said here Tuesday night. Then spent 60 minutes in a detailed explanation of what is being done and needs to be done to improve cotton's position in the national and world market.

The audience included three cotton farmers, the county agent, a college student doing a research paper, a reporter and a visitor from Lubbock.

Pete Brown, regional representative from the National Cotton Council in Lubbock, told the group that the increased carry-over of cotton above industry needs left just two alternatives. One was market the surplus or cut-back production. The new cotton program took the second choice.

The carry-over in 1963 was 11.2 million bales, in 1964 it was 12.4 million, in 1965 it went to 14.3 million and is estimated that it will be 16.5 million in August of 1966.

Brown explained that cotton is used in three main areas: 265 million types of clothing, 59 million types of home furnishings and 95 million types of industrial applications. Cotton producers see 87 per cent of their production go into the clothing and furnishings fields, but only 13 per cent into industrial uses.

Cotton has been losing its markets to synthetics, both cellulosics and non-cellulosics, primarily because of the price differential. The new rates will apply to all customers except business establishments, as the business rates are now as low as possible and conform with the new rates.

Maddox also told the council that the rates for electricity now are as low as those in Levelland and other area towns.

School board announces replacement

The Morton School Board held its regular monthly meeting Monday night at the Superintendent's office.

Weldon Newsom was appointed by the board to fill the unexpired term of Max Bowers.

Newsom served on the Morton School Board for one elected term of three years, and one year appointed, going off the board in 1965.

Newsom was serving on the Whitharral School board when he moved to Morton in 1958. He had served on that board since 1962.

The father of two sons, Newsom lives with his wife Lillie, six and one half miles east of Morton.

Newsom graduated from Morton High School in 1965 and is now attending Baylor University, and Joey is a senior at Morton.

In other action at the meeting, the board approved the minutes of last month's meeting and also approved the bills for the month.

After a short discussion, the board approved the Head Start program that is being planned for the summer for Morton and the Cochran County area.

The members of the board voted to move the meeting time to 8 p. m. from the present time of 7:30 p. m.

Tech students march on Girlstown, U. S. A.

Girlstown, U. S. A. was put into the news spotlight over the weekend, as some 45 young men from Texas Tech staged a march on the girls campus.

The march was made, not in protest to anything, but to bring the home into the spotlight to encourage other organizations to aid with their projects also.

E. C. Bramlett, Dormitory president of Dorm 10, said that the boys of that dorm contributed an estimated $100 to the home, and several persons along the way had made contributions also.

The students arrived at the home about noon Saturday, with the girls serving them dinner after their arrival.

Students from Dorm 10 said that there will be other drives made by them, such as a clothing drive conducted this week in cooperation with several of the women's dorms at Tech for the girls at Girlstown.

Voter list jumps 20% in two weeks

An increase of almost 20 per cent resulted from the special two-week voter registration period that ended March 17.

Leonard Groves, county tax assessor-collector, reported that 277 persons took advantage of the special registration that followed a ruling that the Texas poll tax was unconstitutional.

During the poll tax sale in January, 1396 persons paid their $1.75 to vote. The special registration added 277, for a total of 1673 voters in the county. This does not include an estimated 300 to 400 persons who are over the age for poll taxes and eligible to vote after registering one time.

Water OK

A member of the Texas Health Department visited Morton Tuesday morning and inspected the water plant and storage tanks, and tentatively approved the city's water.

Mayor Dean Weatherly said that signs would be put up on the four highways in the near future noting that the public water supply was approved by the state health department.

The L'Allegro Study Club from Morton, and the VFW Auxiliary from District Seven will aid as hosts.

Open house at Girlstown USA scheduled Sunday

Registration for the 17th annual open house at Girlstown U.S.A., eight miles west of Whiteface will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Sulphur plant output is shipped world-wide

H. A. TUCK Managing Editor

A little-known plant in southern Cochran County is quietly spreading its area products all over the world. National Sulphur's Lehman plant probably is better-known outside the area than it is right in its own backyard, for much of its production is going to other states and foreign countries.

One of the most unusual aspects of the plant is its secret sulphur "drilling" process. Few questions are answered and fewer visitors allowed into the area where a small installation is busy producing the only large quantities of prilled sulphur in the nation.

Drilling is a process which creates small round pellets of a solid substance. Until National Sulphur developed its process, no one had been able to control the sulphur from a liquid to a solid state successfully. The prilled sulphur produced is slightly smaller than a child's B-B pellet.

The liquid sulphur is converted into solid form in the secret process and then sorted on a long conveyor arrangement, complete with size screens to produce uniform pellets. Prilled sulphur which completed the screening process is bagged in 50-pound sacks for shipment.

Undersized prills, or "fines", are bagged and sold for a premium price. Most of the "fines" are distributed in California, where there is a strong demand for them as soil supplements on lawns and golf courses.

Over-size prills are remelted and then repurified.

The plant can produce about 80 tons of prilled sulphur per day. In 1965, the plant produced prilled sulphur about 120 days. It is expected the plant will operate its prilling machinery about 300 days this year. About 75 per cent of the prilled sulphur is exported, Miller estimated.

"We sell a lot of prilled sulphur to an export company in New York City," Miller said. "All we know is that we ship their orders to Galveston for overseas shipment. Since we don't handle the orders, we don't really know all of the countries that buy our sulphur."

National Sulphur started its original sulphur plant in 1963, buying sour gas from the adjacent Cities Service Gasoline Plant. The priller went into operation in January, 1964, and an ammonium thiosulfate plant in 1965.

The plant purchases about 50 tons of Crude sulphur per day, most of it from the Seminole and Midland areas. The company each week gets about 60 tons of anhydrous ammonia from Dimmitt. National Sulphur, which has its headquarters in Midland, also operates the large Western Ammonia plant near Dimmitt.

At Lehman, there are storage facilities for 800 tons of molten sulphur. The insulated tanks are steam-heated of about 250 degrees to prevent the sulphur from becoming a solid. Sulphur's melting point is about 260 degrees.

Much of the liquid sulphur is shipped out in insulated tank trucks. Miller said that the inner tank is surrounded by steam lines, which are filled as the sulphur is loaded. The heat will keep the sulphur molten.

Plans made for area United Fund organization

Following an intensive briefing here Friday, plans were made for a tentative organization of a united, door-to-door program for the Cochran County area.

Representatives of all clubs, organizations and charities are being invited to meet with the steering committee on Monday, March 27, at the Wig Wam restaurant at 7:30 p. m. to explore some type of organization for united giving.

On hand at a special Chamber of Commerce meeting Friday was Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, cancer crusader; Charles Bowen, March of Dimes; Bobby Travis, Salvation Army; Roy Gentry, chairman of the Chamber's civic improvement committee; Carl Ray, civic improvement committeeman; Joe Seagler, Lions Club; Jesse T. George, chamber manager; Bill Owens, KRAN radio; and H. A. Tuck, Morton Tribune.

Davis spent more than an hour explaining organizational procedures, how officers and directors are selected, how budgets are determined and how a united organization operates.

phur molten for a trip of up to six or eight hours.

A number of chemical manufacturing companies, such as Goodpasture Grain in Brownfield, come to the Cochran County plant and load ammonium thiosulfate. This is used in farm chemical mixtures.

The ammonium thiosulfate plant here is the only one of its type in the central United States. Miller said that there was one plant on the West Coast and another near Niagara Falls, New York.

Farm requirements for the soil conditioner absorb the entire 60-ton-per-day output of the plant. Most of the ammonium thiosulfate is used in South Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Kansas and Nebraska. A small testing laboratory at the plant insures that the products maintain certain uniform standards. The sulphur produced is rated 99.5 per cent pure, making it the highest grade available on the market.

In addition to the large bags of prilled sulphur, the tiny pellets also are boxed in five-pound cartons for retail use. A note on the cartons points out that sulphur is an ideal "grout", used on both large and small construction jobs where a quick-setting, firm foundation is required, such as in setting guy wires and anchor lines.

Lehman serves as rail center for the National Sulphur transportation operations. Liquid sulphur is shipped in leased tank cars, the bulk prilled sulphur in gondolas and the bagged prills in box cars. Presently, the plant employs five full-time men. An additional nine are employed on a temporary basis, as the plant operates 24 hours per day. The monthly payroll runs about $5,000 during the busy season.

As the demand for the sulphur continues to grow, it is expected that the National Sulphur operation will expand as it has done since its beginning.

Miller pointed out that the sulphur is beginning to be more in demand all the time. "Sulphur companies used to have huge stockpiles, mountains of sulphur that were blasted out when it was needed. But now we are having a hard time keeping up with the demand," Miller declared.

Honor two at Federation meet

Two Morton women were honored Tuesday afternoon at the Caprock District TFWC Convention held in Brownfield. Mrs. Bobby Travis, L'Allegro Study Club member, was named "Clubwoman of the Year" and Mrs. James St. Clair, member of the 1936 Study Club, was singled out as "Mother of the Year".

The women will compete for state honors at the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs convention to be held in Lubbock May 10-12.

other a medium weight suit with less luster. He explained how work by CPI, NCC and large manufacturers had resulted in the development of permanent crease trousers. He also explained that cotton batting had been losing much of its market to synthetic foam materials which could be molded. Now a special cotton batting treated with resin can be molded into seat cushions, pillows and other forms. He also explained how cotton rugs and carpets had been developed to resist stains.

Finally, Brown gave a detailed explanation of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, which is nearing a vote. The plan passed the House of Representatives and now is before the Senate in modified form.

Upon approval by Congress, the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture will call a referendum for cotton producers to determine if they want a $1 per bale charge for cotton research and promotion.

The referendum would pass if either two-thirds of the total growers voting or two-thirds of the total cotton production voting approved the $1 contribution.

Area farm groups, such as Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, and various cotton associations, would name representatives who would nominate state representatives, according to acreage. Texas would have about five representatives. Ten persons would be nominated and the Secretary of Agriculture would complete his part of the referendum by naming the national board from the nominees.

This group would determine the method of collection. The group would also appoint a belt-wide producer association, similar to the CPI trustees. These persons would place collections into trust accounts and determine how the money would be spent.

Brown explained that the National Cotton Council would serve as an administrative headquarters, but would not receive a single cent for overhead or salaries. All of the money collected would be spent for cotton research and promotion and reports made back to the area groups on all expenditures.

A built-in safeguard, Brown said, was that 10 per cent of those voting in the first referendum could call for a new referendum and repeal the research and promotion act by a simple majority vote.

St. Patrick Day theme for club

The Busy Fingers Sewing Club marked St. Patrick's Day during its last meeting on March 17.

Mrs. Roy Allsup served as hostess for the meeting in her home. Members were served green punch, cake, ice cream, cracker sandwiches and given Shamrock favors. Each member wore green to the meeting.

Part of the members made feather flowers and others knitted. Next meeting will be Thursday, April 7, in the home of Mrs. F. L. Fred.

Those attending were Mesdames Joe Gipson, O. R. Darland, E. R. Fincher, Eva McHam, J. J. Baker, C. W. Howard, W. L. Miller, F. L. Fred, A. R. Lindsey, Bud Young, C. B. Newton and the hostess, Mrs. Roy Allsup.

sell even more of their products. They can irrigate their whole county with tears about the way they are being mistreated when they sell their cotton, but that won't replace a positive, aggressive effort to find new markets and recapture those they have lost because of indifference and a lack of unity.

We were pleased that the weather cooperated last weekend as the Tuck clan gathered here. We had been expecting my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tuck from Dumas. But shortly after they arrived, who should come roaring in his sports car than brother George and his wife from Abilene. Mrs. Clara Lou Jones had a ball in Morton last week. She's with Five Area Telephone Company and lives in Muleshoe. Her car is fitted out with a new telephone that will allow you to dial while driving down the road or receive a message just as if you were sitting at home. There's also a switch that will honk the car's horn to let you know you have a call. The unit can be fitted with several different crystals so you can use the phone in other parts of the South Plains . . . and presumably in other parts of the country that have the new system.

Rev. Charles Gates has talked of little other this week than his fishing trip to Falcon Dam last week with a large group of Morton men. But he was rather shocked to walk into the parsonage and find a note from his wife that she had taken off for Dallas. "Coming back through Levelland, I thought I recognized a familiar looking car," the preacher mused. Now he wishes he had waved, but probably was wise not to, as his wife might have accused him of flirting with strange women on the highway.

School superintendent Ray Lanier was explaining Monday how he manages to get teachers out to Morton from other parts of Texas. "I invite them to come out and spend the night with us during July or August. When they get back to east or south Texas after being here, they toss and turn at night and remember how nice it was in Morton in the middle of the summer. It nearly always works." Then he added, "That way, we get them out here and used to things before the sand begins to blow."

Morton Little League is in need of old redwood water tanks to use in building a new fence. If you have one, give one of the Little League officials a call and they will come after it. And if you would like to help the Little League and don't have a water tank to donate, just come on out most any evening and help them build fence and fix the field.

Sure, cotton may die while producers cry. But win they surely might if they all pitch in and fight.

JOYCE SETS TWO SCHOOL RECORDS

Indians third as century mark falls after 14 years

Climbing steadily, Morton Indians tracksters finished third last Saturday at Hale Center. Their totals had earned fifth and fourth places in two previous outings. Sprint star Jimmy Joyce rewrote two school records in the meet, including one he had posted just two weeks previously. He ran a 9.9 in the 100-yard dash and 21.9 in the 220-yard event. The new century mark erased the 10.0 time set by Kirby Lackey in 1952. The 14-year-old record was the oldest on the Morton High School record list.

Joyce named to District 4-AA's dream cage team

Jimmy Joyce, Morton High School's leading scorer, has been named to the 4-AA All-District basketball team. He is one of four seniors on the dream team.

Others named to the first team were Ronnie Pierce, Post junior; Jim Spivey and David Mitchell, Denver City; and Jack Mason, Slaton.

Named to the second team were: David Heaton, Ruben Solis and Greg Black, all of Post; Orin Smith, Slaton; Van Vernon, Denver City; and Van Grady, Frenship.

LeFleur Garden Club studies use of annuals

LeFleur Garden Club met recently in the home of Mrs. J. A. Daniel.

Mrs. Don Samford, president, presided over a brief business session during which time the treasurer's report was given, and it was decided to close the Thrift Shop for the present. Members were reminded of the District One Garden Club Convention on March 29 and 30, in Lubbock, and of the Flower Show School in Lubbock on April 19, 20, 21.

The program on "Annuals" was presented by Mrs. Don Samford, discussing the use of annuals in the general landscape scheme, types and planning for variety of height, textures and harmony of color. The specimen or cutting flower garden should not be a part of a border, she said, but grown apart in order that each type of plant can be given the necessary care to produce fine specimens.

Mrs. Herman Bedwell presented the second part of the program on the planting of seed, transplanting and care of annuals. Sunlight requirements, soil conditioning, necessary soil nutrients, moisture requirements for healthy, vigorous plants were stressed as essentials in any gardening success.

Members present were: Mrs. Eugene Bedwell, Mrs. Herman Bedwell, Mrs. W. T. Crawford, Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. Connie Joiner, Mrs. W. A. Woods, Mrs. L. Z. Scoggins, Mrs. Carl W. Ray, Mrs. Don Samford and the hostess.

Next meeting will be on March 24, with Mrs. Carl W. Ray as hostess.

Development of industry studied during joint meet

Several needs and possibilities were discussed for industrial expansion during a meeting here Friday morning.

A joint session of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee and representatives of the Morton Junior Chamber of Commerce met at Kate's Kitchen to discuss several items.

Commercial possibilities of a high-strength pipe were explored. The pipe is manufactured from cotton cord and glass resin. It was developed by Billy B. The pipe is now being eyed for use on irrigation water lines, although it has potential in several

Water conservation topic for Cochran County Garden meeting

The Cochran County Garden Club met March 21 in the home of Mrs. Truett McCauston with Mrs. Charles Jones in charge.

The theme for the evening was "Conserving Nature's Jewels" and "Water is your future, conserve it."

Mrs. Bobby Travis introduced the authoritative guest speaker, Tom McFarland, District Manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District of Lubbock, Tony Schertz, draftsman working with water depletion, assisted the speaker. Mr. McFarland said, "Like the very next breath you take in to your lungs, you assume water will always be there." He stated that the longest man has ever lived without water is ten days, and that one ton of water is actually taken into the body per person, per year.

McFarland and Schertz distributed pamphlets to the Garden Club members concerning NAWAPA, a master plan concept to utilize the excess water of Alaska, the Northwest Territories and the Rocky Mountains regions of Canada, the United States and Northern Mexico other areas.

Also discussed was the establishment of a textile mill in the area.

Still another area for discussion was the production of grapes on a commercial basis and the possible establishment of a processing plant.

Those present also discussed the expansion of chemical plants, such as the sulphur plant now operating on a small scale in the southern part of the county.

Roy Hickman led a discussion of a possible labor shortage, but most of these present felt that an adequate labor force would follow the development of any industrial plant here.

Those present from the Chamber of Commerce included: Hickman, industrial development committee chairman; W. W. Williamson, J. A. Love, J. W. McDermott, D. E. Benham, Don Workman, Chamber president; and Rusty Reeder.

Cleve Bland and Donnie Simpson represented the Jaycees and Tom Rowden was present from the Morton City Council.

Each year, rural electric people all over the nation buy more than a billion-and-a-quarter dollars worth of electrical equipment and appliances—and this is only a fraction of the annual total of goods and services produced in the towns and cities and bought by rural electric people.

Workers and businesses feel this rural electric purchasing power where it counts—in their pay envelopes and cash registers.

We are proud of the part we play in helping to keep this nation's economy strong.

83 Campfire Girls host dads at banquet

The Campfire Girls' "Dad and Daughter" dinner Thursday, March 18, was acclaimed a big success as 83 girls proudly presented their "Daddies" as their guests of honor.

The opening was given by Miss Donna Hoffman of the Sophomore Class Horizon Club as she led the group in singing the "Campfire Girls Grace." Miss Hoffman served as mistress of ceremonies for the program.

The flag was presented and the pledge of allegiance led by the Freshman Horizon Club. Miss Deborah Miller led the group in singing "America." Miss Hoffman welcomed the "Dads" and asked each girl to introduce herself and her "Dad."

The program was presented by the girls, with each group presenting a skit or a song. The second grade Bluebirds, led by Mrs. Bob Adams, sang "I Am Glad I am a Bluebird!" The third grade Bluebirds, led by Mrs. Joe Carothers, sang "Happy Birthday" to the Campfire Girls and Bluebirds.

The fourth grade Campfire Girls, under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Reeder, gave and explained with posters made by themselves the Campfire Laws and honor awards. They sang the "Campfire Laws Song."

The fifth grade Campfire Girls, directed by Mrs. Frank Silhan, portrayed a very amusing skit of the girls' first night at camp away from their parents. The skit was presented under a "pine tree" and around a campfire to symbolize being at Camp Monakiwa.

The sixth grade Campfire Girls, directed by Mrs. C. E. Dolle, presented songs with a rhythm band.

The eighth grade Campfire Girls, directed by Mrs. Roy Davis, gave a very amusing pantomime of the Camp Director, the camp nurse and several counselors as they went around "barking" orders at Camp Monakiwa.

The Freshman Horizon Club, accompanied by Karen Rozell at the piano, sang "Today" and "No Man Is An Island." Mrs. Daniel Rozell is the leader of the group.

The Sophomore Horizon Club, accompanied at the piano by Miss Cheryl McDaniel, sang "Climb Every Mountain." Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter is the leader of the group.

The tables were beautifully decorated with each group choosing its own theme of decoration.

The second grade Bluebirds made paper dolls to represent Bluebirds and displayed them as fulfilling the different requirements of the Bluebird Wish. The colors carried out were red, white and blue.

The third grade Bluebirds chose a "Happy Birthday" theme honoring the 58th year of Campfire Girls. The table was centered with a huge artificial birthday cake and dolls dressed as Bluebirds.

The fourth grade Campfire Girls also chose a Campfire Girls theme using the red, white and blue candles and dolls dressed in Campfire

The fifth grade Campfire Girls chose a spring theme decorating their table in pastel colors and using spring floral arrangements.

The sixth grade Campfire Girls used an Easter theme, decorating with Easter bunnies and spring flowers. The Freshman Horizon Club chose the Horizon Club colors of silver and blue, using shiny foil to display and reflect the candlelights.

The Sophomore Horizon Club used the 25th anniversary of the Horizon Club colors of silver and blue.

The group closed the program with a favorite Campfire Girls song, "Sing Your Way Home."

The food was prepared and served by Mrs. Opal Priddy and her luncheon staff: Mrs. Burtis Cloud, Mrs. Woodrow Zuber, Mrs. Jack Cartwright, Mrs. Sue Stevens, Mrs. Chester Miller, Mrs. Eleanor Bickert and Mrs. Mable Coats.

MORTON TRIBUNE, THURSDAY MARCH 24, 1966

... and now a word

Close your eyes if you will and visualize a vast hall, hung with bunting, bedecked with with state placards and dominated by a mammoth speakers' platform. A hush falls over the audience as a dignified Congressman grasps the rostrum and announces in stentorian tones:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I now introduce to you our presidential nominee and the next president of the United States . . . but first a word from our sponsor."

This might come booming out of your tv box at frequent intervals during the next national convention if the Democratic National Committee gets its way. And if the Democrats swing it, could the Republicans be for behind?

The Democratic National Committee last week announced that it was seriously considering a proposal that the national networks bid on coverage of the national convention. This was considered a reasonable plan, they decided, since the three major networks created all sorts of confusion and, besides, the networks already were paying out gigantic sums of money for rights to televise sports events.

It has already been our opinion that the networks, the press service and the radio stations covered the conventions out of dogged devotion to duty, since none of them can hope to make enough from the coverage to pay the tremendous expenses. Secondly the conventions are hardly exciting enough to attract the sponsorship that enables the networks to pay so well for football, baseball, basketball and other sporting events.

If the political parties plan to ask for that kind of money, they will have to revamp their entire program. In fact the first place, at least one portion of the interminable procedure would have to start on time! As it now stands, the biggest headache for networks is providing their announcers with enough material to fill in the times they are waiting for something to happen.

The speeches of nomination and the dull reports might need jazzing up with some jokes or, even better, have them delivered by such personalities as Paul Harvey, Red Skelton or Johnny Carson. Even the "spontaneous demonstrations" that are so carefully staged after each nomination could use some added appeal . . . such as the June Taylor Dancers, a band led by Skitch Henderson or a majorette like Zsa Zsa Gabor.

And naturally, the sponsors would demand what they call "product identification." This would necessitate a change from the usually type of announcer. Perhaps a company could use a fellow like outgoing Governor Wallace of Alabama, who could draw, "Folks, when I was in the Governor's Mansion back in Montgomery, I sure did enjoy my cornbread and chittlins. But, did you know that until my wife took my job I seldom had time to get in the kitchen. Folks, I found out what made that cornbread taste so good. It was made from good ol' Aint Banjo's cornbread mix, the kind that's easy to fix and never fails to satisfy yore hunger for the good things of life. So next time yore down at the crossroads store, pick up a box of Aint Banjo's cornbread mix . . . and tell 'em George sent ya. I thank ya."

A few of the better-known politicians could use the time for plugging their own wares. For instance, Barry might put in a few good words for the fashions at Goldwater's Department Store in Phoenix and Lyndon might be persuaded to advocate a more frequent use of beef on the menu.

Now tell me, what am I-bid for the television rights on the national convention of the Vegetarian Party . . . or the Prohibition Party (that might be a pretty dry one) . . . or the Communist Party of the United States? Might be able to sell the sponsorship of that last one to a vodka distiller.

Now really, old chaps!

(News item: Coventry, England (AP)—Factory employees today continued an unofficial strike in support of a girl fellow worker fired for spending too much time in the powder room. Reginald Clark, a strike organizer, said, "the management has been bullying our people for too long.")

Now really, old chaps, you British factory people should know better than to tamper with the almost-sacred rights of a female in the "powder room."

You can fire people for constant tardiness, for loafing on the job, for inefficiency, for disrespect; in fact, for almost any flimsy excuse.

But to tamper with a woman's "Powder room" rights is worse than booting a union organizer or demanding overtime work without extra pay.

Any British schoolboy could have told you that the "powder room" is aptly named. Any tampering is likely to result in an explosion. And the blow-up can make an atomic blast look like the "pffff" of a water-logged firecracker.

Surley, in the long pages of British history, there must have

Two orchards planned

Gaines County in the next few years may become the peachiest place in Texas.

Planting is now well underway on one of the state's largest peach orchards — some 68,000 trees — in the western part of the county.

The big new orchard is the brainchild of Hugh Wolfe of Stephenville, owner of the well-known chain of Wolfe Nurseries around the state.

Actually, the new fruit installation is in two divisions — one of 800 acres being put in by Wolfe and one of a section, 600 acres, being planted by two Dallas men, Wes Goyer, Jr., and Dwight Hunter.

The area of Wolfe's is 17 miles west of Seminole, stretching north from Highway 62-583. The Goyer-Hunter tract lies about four miles to the north of Wolfe's place, near the Mid-America Pipeline station. To size up the scale of Gaines County's rising role as a major peach-producing area, the 68,000 new trees will add to roughly 24,000 trees now in the county — a total of better than 90,000 trees. This is one-tenth of the total commercial peach trees in Texas, according to Texas Almanac figures.

Wolfe has painted an enthusiastic picture of the future of peaches on the Gaines agriculture scene. Availability of plentiful irrigation water, compatible soil, low humidity that curtails damaging fungus and waiting markets are major factors in the new enterprise.

Currently peach production is extremely limited on a commercial basis in Gaines. An orchard of 1,400 trees owned by Seminolians Russ Moore and Alton Freeman and farmed by Bob Burns near the state line is entering its fifth year, and these peaches are finding ready markets locally.

Coming into production is 160 acres of peaches owned by George Norman of Lamesa. This quarter-section in the southwest part of the county was planted in 1962, and Norman has another 80 acres planted in 1964.

Both Wolfe and Norman figure on 48 peach trees to the acre, being planted at 30-foot spacings.

The mass planting underway on the Wolfe tract is under the supervision of Richard Jones of Seminole. Nineteen laborers are working steadily, planting 40 to 50 acres of trees a day.

The land, some of which carries a cover crop of ryegrass, is lined with foot-deep trenches at 30-foot intervals, running north and south.

A slowly-moving tractor pulls a trailer loaded with year-old saplings. Workers scoop holes at the proper spaces in the trenches, set in the trees, then trailing workers water down each planting from a tank with about five gallons of water. No fertilizer is being used with the plantings on the already rich soil.

And following up the plants are women who wrap the base of each tree in protective foil — to thwart those traditional hungry Gaines County jackrabbits.

Production of the new orchards will probably begin in 1969 and hit its full stride a few years later. Envisioned in the not-too-distant future are grading, packing and marketing facilities — sheds, a possible canning plant and the like.

Nurseryman Wolfe isn't just thinking of peaches in Gaines, either. He has 14 acres out in his apple, pear, plum and apricot. Wolfe has reserved also several hundred acres of his land for future plantings.

Bones found

Water District workmen uncovered a human skeleton Monday while digging a ditch for a water line in the Wright addition south of the General Telephone Co. division office.

City and county authorities didn't seem too worked up over the discovery, so the problem of disposing of the bones apparently lies in the lap of Ralph Cates, water district manager.

Piecing the skull together clearly shows that it was saved halfway through from one temple sideways to the center.

Who the remains might once have been is not known. Floyd Sands is said to recall that hobos once used the site where the bones were found as a campsite. Perhaps some hobo died and was buried there by his associates.

Local police were called about the discovery. They advised that City Attorney James Williams III be contacted. Williams suggested County Judge Noah Kennedy be called. Kennedy said that if the find had been reported to city authorities, then it probably would be OK to dispose of the bones.

A constable's deputy drove to the Water District's filter plant Tuesday night to inspect the bones, which had been taken to the plant and were being stored in an old cardboard box. Justice of the Peace Mrs. C. M. Gregory took a look, too.

Cates was still phoning around late Wednesday afternoon, trying to get some official guidance on what to do.

Robstown Record

been something about how rulers were dethroned and nations captured as the result of a few well-chosen words exchanged in the "powder room."

And, above all, gentlemen, you must have known that those lovely creatures you so much admire don't just grow that way. They are literally "creations" of designers, hair stylists, cosmetologists, dermatologists and scientists.

You went about solving the problem in the wrong way, blokes. Staff conferences by your plant's top echelon of officials might have led to a better solution and kept your assembly line operating, instead of having it gummed up by cosmetics, so to speak.

A better solution might have been to take all the mirrors out of the "powder room" and install them conveniently above the work benches. That way, at least you would keep your female workers in sight. Or you might try hiring a handsome young man as a supervisor to walk up and down the assembly line all day. This would assure your management that the girls would spend more time at their work and less time in the mysterious "powder room." Still another solution might be to hire only female employees and keep all the men out of sight.

Chaps, put your corporate minds to work on this problem. After all, firing the girl is much too simple and doesn't get to the root of the problem. Industry all over the world is looking to you for a permanent solution.

Highlights and Sidelights—

Senate target of parties

AUSTIN, Tex. — Both Democratic and Republican state party leaders have emphasized that victory in the U. S. Senate race is their top objective of 1966.

"We are ahead and we plan to stay ahead," Sen. John G. Tower told the GOP state executive committee.

"I am told the Senate election in Texas is the No. 1 race in the nation this year," said Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, one of the top Democratic senatorial nominees at a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Democrats selected Austin for their September 20 state convention, at which control of their party for the next two years will be decided.

Republicans, who have no serious convention controversy in sight, will meet in San Antonio.

Both party executive committees will return to Austin on May 17 to caucus first primary elections, and Democrats will certify run-off candidates, if any.

Democrats rejected a proposal by gubernatorial candidate Stanley C. Woods of Houston to hold a May 7 referendum on whether Texans prefer "Annual" or "permanent" registration.

SDEC Chairman Will D. Davis held that a group petitioning for a referendum on a constitutional amendment to legalize pari-mutuel horse and dog race wagering did not have its papers in order by deadline.

A Democratic committee resolution was designed to bring delegate strength in district caucuses at the 1966 state convention in line with new senatorial reapportionment. Another would discourage manipulation of county convention voting strength of new and recently altered precincts.

Republicans named John Golube of Jacksonville and Roy I. Jindra of Alice to the GOP committee to fill vacancies.

Democrats picked Mrs. Gilbert Theriot of San Angelo to succeed

Mrs. S. St. George Tucker, also of San Angelo, on SDEC.

OIL INDUSTRY

— Texas Railroad Commission, concerned as to how industry would operate in a national emergency, postponed setting statewide oil allowable until it can evaluate "the escalating market demand and underproduction."

State reached 33.2 per cent of potential factor this month, highest since May, 1959, and the sixth straight increase.

Major oil company spokesmen painted a bright picture for the industry at the proration hearing, predicting demand for petroleum products will go up three to 3.5 per cent this year. Those who complained a year ago about surplus oil and gas stocks emphasized need to build up reserves.

MINING BATTLE

— A Houston-based firm claims Land Commissioner Jerry Santier is wrong in rejecting its sulphur mining claims in West Texas area (Pecos County) and has asked State Supreme Court to enjoin further action under a scheduled sale of state leases on May 3.

Duval Corporation says a 1919 law gives it the right to stake claim on land to which the state has sold surface rights on payment of 50 cents an acre annual rental plus one-sixteenth royalty if minerals are produced.

Sadler claims the 1931 sealed-bid law nullified the 1919 act and that to allow leasing under the 1919 act might deprive the state permanent school fund of millions of dollars.

Sadler said he carefully considered all aspects of law and rights of three million school children before refusing to file mining claims of the Duval Corporation.

APPOINTMENTS

— Gov. John Connally named Randall C. Jackson, Abilene attorney with ranching and banking interests in Callahan County, to State Securities Board. Jackson succeeds Everett Fulgham, former Houstonite who moved to Arkansas.

Connally appointed Clifton W. Cassidy Jr. of Dallas, feed mill and savings and loan association official, to Texas Public Safety Commission. He succeeds W. E. Dyche Jr. of Houston.

Joseph A. Potts of San Antonio will succeed Don Marshall as director for San Antonio River Authority.

Dr. R. C. Jordan, Austin, has been appointed director of medical care administration services (medicare) in the state; Dr. Albert C. Randall has been named director of the state's consolidated tuberculosis control services; and Dr. Robert B. Skinner has been appointed director of tuberculosis hospitals at Sanitorium, Harlingen, San Antonio and Tyler.

CATTLE QUARANTINE

— A cattle scabies outbreak resulted in quarantining of interstate shipments of cattle from six Northwest Texas counties.

Counties under U. S. quarantine effective March 8 are Floyd, Briscoe, Castro, Hale, Lamb and Swisher.

Epidemiology work and tracebacks on cattle involved are under direction of Texas Animal Health Commission and U. S. Department of Agriculture animal health division. A U. S. inspector has been assigned to each county.

AG RULES

— An attorney appointed to represent indigent defendants in criminal trials is entitled to full compensation, whether or not he appears in court for a full day or part of a day, and he is entitled to compensation for each court appearance he makes for his client, Attorney General Carr held. However, if the attorney represents more than one defendant on the same day, he is entitled to compensation only once on that day.

In other opinions, Carr concluded that:

A county judge or clerk can't collect, impose or record costs assessed by a corporation court in criminal cases and a court can't tax any costs against a defendant in a criminal case.

Witness fees must be filed with the Comptroller's Office within 10 months after they become due and payable and, if they aren't filed, the fees are barred. Also, the Legislature has the authority to appropriate funds for the fees.

County attorney of Matagorda County does not have duty to prosecute "prosecuting attorney" under uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act.

A surety will be considered in default on a bail bond after judgment of forfeiture has been made final and is unsatisfied.

WATER COMMISSION

— Texas Water Rights Commission backed down on a proposed new rule holding water bond approval of unprotected coastal areas. Instead, future bond approval orders relating to such areas will include a warning of possible danger from high water or hurricane storms. These warnings will be some part of land abstracts with such districts.

Opponents of Commission's proposed new rule claimed it would discourage real estate development along coast.

OBJECTIVES SET

— The Texas Plan to Combat Mental Retardation has been drawn up and some 200 recommendations have been made to help the mentally retarded.

In accepting the recommendations, Governor Connally said the plan "represents a massive attempt by all levels of government and the citizens of the state to help the mentally retarded to greater purpose to their lives."

According to the Plan, most attention must be paid to preventive prevention, treatment and amelioration of mental retardation methods.

Also, better care, education, training, habilitation and employment for mentally retarded citizens should be provided.

Connally said the recommendations would be handled on a priority basis.

SHORT SNORTS

— Attorney General Carr says 500,000 more citizens now will be able to vote as a result of the 15 additional days of voter registration authorized by the special legislative session after a federal court held the Texas poll tax invalid.

A mass of testimony is being studied by the Railroad Commission after its own motion to get operators in numerous West Texas Plains and Panhandle counties to show cause why the use of earthen pits for salt water disposal should not be discontinued in oil and gas fields resulting in piles of testimonies.

Local draft boards are making available bulletins about applying draft tests for students, preparing application blanks for taking tests at 69 colleges in May and June.

Office of Economic Opportunity has invested a total of $129,314.50 in poverty war projects to date in five states, and Texas' share of the federal money totals nearly $50,000,000, or more than any other states combined.

Governor Connally has announced federal approval of two Operation Head Start programs at Vernon ($6,132) and Eagle Pass ($26,699).

Texas Department of Public Safety says traffic accidents on Texas streets and highways last year caused a record 3,028 injuries, an estimated 186,062 property and economic loss of $48,087,000.

State Securities Commission reports February sales hit a peak of $67,753,708.

Texas Water Development Board postponed decision until April to propose $13,000,000 Cibola Dam in Wilson County.

Dr. Herbert McKee of Houston was named chairman of Air Pollution Control Board at its first meeting here.

Texas Employment Commission made 44,670 placements last month, a 9.8 per cent increase over February, 1965.

Morton's Chesshir contributes to success of LCC's Chaparral cagers

Lubbock Christian College's basketball team finished in second place in conference this year, and a large measure of its success was due to Morton's Ernest Chesshir.
 Chesshir, a standout athlete during his four years at Morton High School, scored over 200 points this year to place him second of seven freshmen in total points.
 Hitting his season high of 22 in the opening game of the year, he made it into double figures on 13 occasions. His best games were against such tough opposition as the Texas Tech Picadors and Dallas Baptist College, who won regional.

Morton sports fans will not be surprised at his ability in the roundball game for he lettered in it four years in high school. He was named to the all-district team twice while earning all-state honors his senior year.
 An all-around sportsman, Chesshir also received four letters in football. He was all-district three years and gained a spot on the All-South Plains team as well.
 In track he lettered one year, finishing second in the mile at district.

The handsome, personable young man participated in National Honor Society, FTA and FFA, and was elected "Mr. Morton High School."
 LCC basketball coach Lester Perrin describes the 6'6", 200 - pound forward as "the best hustler for a big man that I have ever seen."
 "He has a lot of pride about him and doesn't like to be beaten on the court," added Perrin. "His energy and willingness to put out do much for the morale of the team."

Chesshir is tentatively majoring in business administration, but he hopes to coach basketball in high school before setting down to a desk job.
 He is highly pleased with the physical education department at LCC, terming Perrin "the best in the business." He adds also that assistant coach Larry Rogers, LCC ex-basketball player himself, is a close second.
 "Those two men really know what they are doing when it comes to coaching," he asserted. "They have the personality and the ability that it takes to get the very utmost from their boys."
 LCC fans are already looking forward to next season and watching Chesshir in action again. He is a crowd-pleaser because, as one spectator put it, "he wants to play so badly!"

A starter on several occasions this year, he will probably have that position cinched next year, as four of LCC's usual starters are graduating this spring. Thus Coach Perrin will be depending on "that guy from Morton" to fill some shoes.
 It looks like the confidence has been well placed.

Telephone exec. to speak to area Lions Club meeting
 C. C. Scott, Division Service and Facilities Manager for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, at Brownfield since 1957, will present a lecture-demonstration at the regular meeting of the Morton Lions Club at the County Activities Building on March 30, 1966.
 Scott will explain the role the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) is in detecting manned bomber attacks, ballistic missile attacks, or attack from outer space from earth satellites.
 NORAD is a joint defensive effort between the United States and Canada and utilizes the services of the United States Army, Navy, and Air Force, and the Royal Canadian Air Force. It has over 400 military installations located over the entire North American continent with a total man power of more than 170,000. Scott will show color slides of the various NORAD operations during his lecture.
 A highlight of the program will be a telephone call directly to NORAD Headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colorado over an amplified long distance hookup. After an up-to-the-minute briefing report by a NORAD officer, the audience will be given the opportunity to ask questions of the briefing officer.
 Scott has appeared before many groups on the South Plains and in southwestern New Mexico during the past two years.
 His work with General Telephone spans almost twenty years and had its beginning in San Antonio, Texas. Scott worked in Del Rio, Texas prior to his transfer to Brownfield. He is married and has three children.

You think you have problems...
EVERYONE HAS

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

"Boy, take it from me, leading a dog's life ain't no bowl of cherries. It's always get offa this and that, and boy, what happened to me, when I turned over the lamp!"

Our life may not be a dog's life, but everyone does have problems and always will. God does not promise that even his good and faithful children would be without problems, but He does promise strength to bear our problems. Attend church Sunday, renew and strengthen your life by leaning on the Lord.
