Cochran County voters will go to the polls Saturday to voice their choices for officials, after being bombarded for weeks by campaigning political hopefuls. Embroiled in the battle for votes are 16 local-level candidates.

Voting will be conducted in six precincts throughout the county, with polls opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m. Final unofficial returns are expected to be available within a relatively short time after the closing, since only an average turn-out is anticipated.

In the majority of cases, on the local scene, Saturday's election will be a "do or die" proposition, although close races for some offices have been forecast which might result in a second primary run-off.

Names of 16 local-level candidates are on the ballot. In addition will be the names of candidates for state offices and for United States Representative and Senator.

U. S. Rep. George Mahon, representing Cochran County in Congress, is unopposed in his re-election bid. Also unopposed are State Sen. H. J. Blanchard and State Rep. Jesse George.

In the local-level races, first on the ballot is the county judge's contest. Here incumbent Johnny Love is being opposed by Fred Stockdale.

Political newcomer Richard Houston is opposing incumbent Bill Crone for the office of county treasurer, while Mrs. Lessye Silvers has no opposition in her bid for re-election as county-district clerk.

Four candidates are fighting it out in the race for county commissioner of Precinct 2, with candidates being T. A. Washington, L. L. Taylor, Vern C. Beebe and Ed W. Burton.

Three candidates are embroiled in the campaign for county commissioner of Precinct 4. U. F. Wells is seeking re-election but is opposed by J. C. O'Brien and R. Z. Dewbre.

Incumbent Joe Gipson is opposed in his re-election bid by Cecil Barker in Justice Precinct 1. And in Justice Precinct 2, hopefuls are Mrs. Lillie May and H. J. Knox.

Seeking the post of Democratic chairman for Cochran County are Mrs. H. B. Barker and incumbent

VERNON BLACKLEY

Blackley honored as Outstanding Farmer

Vernon Blackley today had been named as Outstanding Conservation farmer in Cochran County for 1965. Selection was made by the board of supervisors of the Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District.

Announcement was made Wednesday at the noon luncheon of the Morton Lions Club, who presented Blackley with a plaque in appreciation of the job he has done.

Introducing the honoree to club members was Budd Fountain, work unit conservation with the SCS, who recapped Blackley's achievements.

Blackley has a 246-acre irrigated farm two miles south and seven miles west of Morton. He became a cooperater with the Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District in 1960, and entered into a Great Plains Conservation Program contract Jan. 4, 1965, to get cost-share assistance on pasture planting and irrigation pipeline. He has installed 4,237 feet of irrigation pipeline and seeded 48 acres to orchard-grass and alfalfa mixture.

In addition to the cost-share practice, Blackley has carried out management practices that are included in his contract.

He has installed a sprinkler irrigation system and practiced irrigation water management by applying irrigation water according to crop and soil needs.

Good response to country club plan

Plans for a new country club program here are meeting with good response, it was indicated by Neal Rose, who last week announced the dissolving of the old Morton Country Club.

A new charter with an expanded membership and a sweeping building program to include a new clubhouse is being sought.

Membership pledges of $50 are being accepted now, with a goal of 150 members. Funds are being placed in escrow until that goal is reached.

Rose said a progress report would be made next week, following a meeting of the board of directors.

Public concert by school bands set for Tuesday

A combined concert, featuring all three bands of the Morton schools, will be presented next Tuesday night, May 10, John Stockdale, band director, announced today.

The concert, open to the public, will be held in the high school gym, beginning at 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

Stockdale said the beginners' band composed of 60 fifth and sixth grade students, will open the concert program, followed by the 50-member junior high school band.

The senior band, comprised of 75 musicians, will present the final portion of the concert.

The concert will be a prelude for the junior high band to the Spring Band Festival, to be held this year at Springlake Saturday, May 14. Stockdale said the beginners' band will also perform in the all-day festival.

The Morton High School Band, performing in UIL competition last Thursday at Dimmitt, earned a Division I in sightreading, but received a Division II in concert.

Plans are being made for the Band Festival at Six Flags. Only bands earning a Division I in concert are eligible to enter the Six Flags event.

PFC TOMMY PHILLIPS

Morton soldier survives heavy Viet Cong attack

A Morton serviceman, fighting in Viet Nam, knows what it is to be under heavy enemy attack.

Pfc Tommy Phillips was in the April 12 mortar attack launched by Viet Cong guerrillas on the Tan Son Nhut Air Base in Saigon.

Eight persons were killed, 138 injured and some 35 planes destroyed in the surprise attack. Tommy wrote the attack lasted about 20 minutes. The air base is located only a block from the communication center where he works.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Phillips, 501 SE First, Tommy has been in Viet Nam since December 11.

The Morton soldier expresses the hope that people here will write to him for "time passes so slow when there are no letters from home." His address is Pfc. Thomas D. W. Phillips, US 54-352-364, Co. A, 69th Sig. Bn. (A), San Francisco, Calif., APO 96307.

Absentees

Absentee balloting in the Democratic primary election closed Tuesday, with 63 votes cast in person before the deadline at the office of County-District Clerk Lessye Silvers.

In addition, five ballots of the 18 mailed following requests had been received by the office. Mailed ballots must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday, but have until Saturday afternoon to reach the office.

Car collides with parked city truck

A minor collision Monday morning between a moving car and a parked vehicle resulted in some damage to both, city police officials reported.

A 1964 Ford, driven by Jerry Lynn Elliott, 18, collided with a city-owned 1965 GMC pickup, parked in front of Morton Memorial Hospital. Elliott was traveling west on Grant when the collision occurred.

Damage of $125 was estimated to the right rear of the pickup, and an estimated $260 to the front of the Ford.

Elliott was uninjured in the mishap, according to investigating officers.

Precinct conventions slated Saturday

Cochran County Democrat electors Saturday will have opportunity to make their voices heard within party councils when they participate in precinct conventions.

Precinct conventions are the assemblies at the grass roots level of party politics and the meetings in which individuals may speak on matters of political concern to the party and state and federal governments.

Precinct conventions will be held at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, at or near the voting headquarters of each of the county's six voting precincts. From the precinct conventions, delegates will be elected to attend the county-Democratic convention which will be held May 14 at 2 p.m. in the court room of the courthouse.

Each voting precinct will be allowed one delegate to the county conclave for each 25 votes or major fraction thereof cast in the precinct for the Democratic candidate for governor in the last general election.

At the county convention, there will be elected delegates to attend the state Democratic convention which will be held Sept. 20. The county will be allowed one delegate for each 300 votes or major fraction thereof cast for the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in the last general election.

It is at the precinct and county convention levels that groundswells of opinion are developed into formal resolutions which, often, have direct bearing upon the conduct of party affairs at the state and national levels.

Cochran County Democratic Chairman Carl Ray Monday said, that, as of the moment, there have been no specific resolutions proposed for introduction at the precinct and county conventions, although such resolutions possibly may appear.

Possible controversial issues which could develop at the precinct or county conventions could pertain to a breach between Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Gov. John Connally. The governor, normally, is the actual, or titular, head of the party in his state, and, at the moment, pro-Connally forces hold control of the state Democratic Party. There have been some reported efforts, from South Texas on the part of Yarborough forces to bolster their influence in the state party councils.

Country music show slated for Saturday night

Another evening of good entertainment is on tap for area residents with the staging this Saturday night of the monthly country music show.

The program, arranged by the Country Music Festival Association of Morton, will get underway promptly at 8 p.m. in the county auditorium. Doors will open a half hour earlier.

Largely local talent will be featured Saturday, it was announced, including Danny Petree and the Bonneville; the Melody Makers, a group including the Brownlow family with Carl and Bill Proctor; the Symphonies, a musical comedy group; and the "Singing Professor", Elvis Fleming, as well as numerous other acts.

And, if other commitments do not prevent her appearance, Morton's housewife - turned - recording - star, Edna Lee, will also appear on the show.

Net proceeds from the show and concessions will go towards expenses of the 1966 Country Music Festival, now in its fourth year, and scheduled for August 13.

The Festival, it was explained, is a talent contest for semi-pro and experienced amateur country artists. Four prizes in the amounts of $100, $75, $50 and $25 will be awarded to the best acts as judged by disc jockeys from area radio stations. The all-day Festival will be free to the public.

Saturday's show will give yet another financial boost to the Country Festival. Admission is only $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Fans of country and gospel music are urged to make plans to attend this evening of live entertainment.

Cochran land in bequest to Tech

Texas Tech has been given a bequest from the estate of the late Eva Browning of Lubbock to establish a Chair in Piano, or scholarships for piano students, College officials have announced.

Bill J. Parsley, Tech Vice President for Development, placed a value on the estate, which includes cash and land in Lubbock, Bailey and Cochran counties, at between $200,000 - $300,000.
"Full credit for this splendid gift," said Parsley, "must go to Dr. Joe Dennis, head of the Tech chemistry department and to Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head, for their efforts in assisting Miss Browning in disposing of her estate as she wished."

Miss Browning, who moved to Lubbock in 1917 and who died here Feb. 23 at the age of 92, stipulated that the income from her estate would go to the Texas Tech College Foundation for "the purpose of creating an artist-in-residence for piano, or piano scholarships, in the Department of Music."
Foundation Chairman Jack Maddox said from his home in Hobbs, N.M., that he was "most gratified and pleased with this request. I am certain," he said, "that this will be a fine memorial to the memory of Miss Browning."

The recognition was especially outstanding since first place was taken by the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Posse of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and second by Pulaski County Sheriff's Posse of Arkansas.

The local group took part in all events, including the trail ride on Friday, the parade Saturday morning and mail run that afternoon.

Sunday morning, members attended church services which had been planned for outside on horseback, but due to the cold weather was conducted in the County Barn.

Riding at Brownfield were Jack Bates, Peggy Bates, Harold Reynolds, Bob Mayon, Herb Hillman, Burt Eads, Nona Eads and Joe Myers.

The preceding week, the local riders were awarded second place in the South Plains College Rodeo and parade, placing behind Lea County, New Mexico. Posse from Petersburg received third.

Riders were Betty Jones, Don Jones, Travis Turnipseed, Mona Eads, Rob Richards, Herb Hillman, Harold Reynolds, Joy Myers, John Fried, Velma Fried and Peggy Bates.

Farmers sign for diverted acres

Cochran County farmers have signed intention sheets to divert 24,332 acres of cotton and 74,964 acres of wheat and grain, according to records at the local ASCS office. Since this could create a "dust bowl" unless a cover crop is established, the ASCS committee will require a cover crop on the 1966 diverted acres. Diverted acres may not be grazed from May 1 to November 1. Not eligible for diverted acres is land that is not in a good state of cultivation, turn rows, terraces, ditches, low lying wet areas, land from which a crop has been harvested in the current year, and strips of less than four normal rows in skip-row planting patterns.

Police officer stabbed in altercation Sunday

A relief city police officer is recovering today from stab wounds sustained in an early Sunday morning altercation with a Morton man. The injured officer, who suffered a cut jugular vein in the neck, as well as cuts at the edge of his eye, and on the face. He has been under treatment at Morton Memorial Hospital.

Sabala was talking to Flores, according to reports, when Gomez got out of the car, walked around the other side, and after a verbal exchange, allegedly attacked the officer with a knife.

Sabala reportedly knocked down Gomez with his pistol; then Gomez again rushed the officer with the knife. A warning shot was fired by Sabala.

The injured officer was rushed to Morton Memorial Hospital by Cunningham for emergency treatment.

Gomez reportedly left the scene for his home, where he changed shirts, and then in company with his parents, went to the hospital where he insisted he "had been shot." Medical examination failed to reveal any such injury.

The officers first had noted Gomez and Flores driving in the flat area without car lights. Flores, officers say, had face cuts apparently from a broken side window of the car. When the officers stopped the two men for questioning, the altercation occurred.

Major ag problems of county cited at meet

Cochran County's agricultural problems have been pin-pointed in to four major areas by members of the Cochran County Program Building committee.

In its quarterly meeting, the committee cited these basic and important needs:

Improve cotton classing by eliminating cutting samples from the bales and to get the cotton classed by mechanical means as to grade, staple, color, trash, micronaire and preparation.

Revise cotton loan program based on what the mills want and not what the buyer will give. In other words, set up grades and standards as specified by the mills.

Encourage farmers to produce more livestock on the farms.

To get more farmers to group their livestock when marketing.

Homer Thompson, county agent, discussed the county situation and data obtained in a recent South Plains Economic Study, following which Glenn Thompson, chairman, divided members present into two groups or "buzz sessions". The problems needing immediate attention were evolved from the extensive discussion among group members.

Committee members unanimously agreed to favor the present cotton promotion plan, and letters have been written congressmen advising them of the approval of the plan and the way money is to be collected from producers. It was felt by the group that passage of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, HR 12322, is most important to save the future for cotton.

The boll weevil program, and donations by farmers for its continuance, was also discussed and it was pointed out that 97 percent of the South Plains farmers are contributing to the program, with only three percent requesting a return of their money.

Need to expand membership of the committee, to provide more representation geographically was brought out and members will contact several persons in regard to service.

During the session, E. C. Hale was elected as vice-chairman to replace Don Workman, who has moved from Morton.

Attending the session were Glenn Thompson, chairman; Roy Hickman, E. C. Hale, Curtis Sealy, Merlin Roberts, J. D. Thomas, Truman Anglin, J. N. Burnett, Jennie Allen and Homer Thompson.

Farmers to vote on transfers of cotton allotments

Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters Friday, May 13, for voting on the transfers of 1967 cotton allotments out of the county, it was announced today by Ruth McGee, office manager of the Cochran County ASCS.

Instructions will be mailed with the ballots. Counties voting to approve transfers by a two-thirds majority may accept Forms ASCS 375 for the 1967 crop year beginning on June 1, Mrs. McGee stated. Transfers to other counties may be approved after the 1967 farm allotments and yields are determined.

Mrs. McGee also said May 13 is the final date for producers to sign a request to participate in the 1966 Cropland Adjustment program. Contracts are for a minimum of five years or a maximum of 10 years. Acreage to be designated for 1966 may not be grazed after April 30.

Virgil Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Thomas of Enochs, has been listed on the Dean's Honor Roll at Texas Tech this semester.

Little fanfare for 42nd anniversary of Cochran County

An important anniversary will be observed Saturday, May 7, but it apparently will be without fanfare or flourish, quite a contrast to the turbulence of that era of 42 years ago.

It was back in 1924 that Cochran County was officially organized, with the newly created commissioners' court meeting for the first time on that date. The meeting followed by one day an election approving the organization and naming Morton as the county seat.

The successful election was a little more than a year after an initial attempt to organize the county, which failed when it was charged some voters were not qualified.

The birth of Cochran County was not an easy one. Two factions battled bitterly over whether the county seat would be in Morton or Ligon, a settlement some four miles south. Built by the pioneer Slaughter families, in 1923, Ligon preceded the staking of the Morton townsite by a few months.

The opposing groups were led by Charles Pierce, attorney for the Slaughters, and Morton J. Smith, who with Lee Secrest staked off the Morton townsite.

With 99 votes cast in the 1924 election, 79 ballots favored Morton for the county seat and only 20 for Ligon. The uneasiness from the rivalry was such that the newly elected sheriff was ordered by the commissioners as one of their first actions to place a night watch over the county records.

According to Morton author Elvis J. Fleming, in his history of the county, "Texas' Last Frontier", first county officials included Richard Campbell as county judge; P. Barrett Penney, sheriff; Rupert McCasland, county clerk; Lee Cooper, tax assessor and Mrs. M. M. Jones, treasurer. Commissioners first to serve were G. H. Matthews, H. T. Boyd, D. P. Earnest and Lem Shipman.

The election to organize Cochran County did not, however signal an era of peace — far from it. A suit was filed seeking to set aside the organization because some ranchers felt it would increase tax valuation of their land. The suit, however, was dismissed by the court.

The general election that fall marked yet another outbreak of violent feelings. A newcomer, J. D. Caldwell, was named county judge, unseating the incumbent of only six months, Judge Campbell. But Campbell refused to take the defeat sitting down, and declaring that Caldwell had not been a county resident the required length of time, refused to certify him to office. Members of the commissioners court split in number as to loyalties. Yet another suit was filed, this time to prevent Caldwell from qualifying, but it was unsuccessful.

Fleming, in his book, paints a vivid picture of the day when the newly elected officials assumed office.

"On one side of the room sat R. T. Campbell, the former judge, and Commissioners Pool, Earnest and Hiley Boyd. Sitting on the other side of the room were J. D. Caldwell, newly elected judge, and Commissioners Guy Mathews and Lem Shipman. Some of the men were carrying pistols. Sitting between the two groups of men was a Texas Ranger. When the Ranger leaned back in his chair, his coat fell back to reveal two six-shooters.

"When County Clerk Rupert McCasland entered the room, Sheriff Barrett Penney asked him which group he would serve. McCasland replied that he must serve those whom the people had duly elected. He had the election certificates, issued by the state government, in his possession at the time.

"Penney apparently was not satisfied with McCasland's position; he went immediately to the Morton school house and brought 'Prof' W. E. Angley to the courthouse. Angley was sworn in as county clerk for the Campbell faction; McCasland was sworn in as clerk for the Caldwell group. Commissioners Boyd and Earnest refused to take the oath of office, to file the bonds required of county officials, and to sit on the same court with Shipman and Mathews. However, R. T. Campbell held that Caldwell was not legally qualified to be county judge and that he Campbell, was still the legal official. Campbell, Boyd and Earnest maintained that they constituted the legal Cochran County Commissioners Court. Caldwell, Mathews and Shipman insisted they were the duly elected county officials. Thus, Cochran County had two sets of county officials."

To prevent any removal of county records, Shipman and Mathews sat on the front steps of the temporary courthouse, with guns cradled in their laps.

The situation was corrected in mid-January when the Caldwell forces out-maneuvered their opponents by declaring the two commissioners' offices vacant, that R. T. Campbell was unlawfully assuming to be county judge, and ordering the sheriff to use force if necessary to stop the trio from meetings.

Construction of a concrete courthouse and jail building was begun early in 1925, but was not fated to progress without trouble. Building materials were guarded at night, as officials feared they might be carried away or destroyed by factions who had still not given up the idea of Ligon as the county seat. Those who opposed the building of the courthouse unsuccessfully sued to restrain the commissioners court from issuing and selling necessary bonds. Another suit was filed to restrain the court from building a courthouse, and a temporary restraining order issued. Death claimed the head of the contracting firm, and it left the courthouse tied up in the settlement of his estate.

According to Fleming's report, "Work halted by the restraining order and the death of the contractor, the Cochran County courthouse square was covered with weeds, while the unused building materials were slowly deteriorated by the weather."

However, by August of 1925, difficulties had been cleared away, and in April of the following year the new structure was officially accepted by the county.

A new slate of officers was elected to the commissioners court in the general election of 1926, together with a new judge, and these officials, free of the many legal problems which had beset the first leaders, set about routine business.

While not as stormy, following years for Cochran County were not without its ups and downs.

The coming of the railroad into Cochran County brought a boom of activity, with four villages springing up along the tracks. They were Whiteface, Chipley, Lehman and Bledsoe. All but Chipley, located about halfway between Whiteface and Lehman, still exist.

The railroad made Bledsoe the largest town in Cochran during the late 20's, but the advent of farming and express trucks decreased its importance as a shipping center, and population began to decline about 1930. However, there are still a number of people living there, and it boasts a well-equipped and active school.

Depression of the 30's hit hard, and the days of the Dust Bowl on the Great Plains resulted in some of the worst sandstorms ever witnessed in the county. Sand dunes as high as 28 feet resulted.

But there were good things, too. Organization of Gristown, USA, led to increased publicity for the county, use of irrigation for farming steadily increased, construction of new schools, churches, a hospital, parks, added population, all have helped build the economy of the county.

There's been murder, robbery and fire to add zest to Cochran County history in the 42 years; there's been outstanding young men and women to go forth to fame and fortune; there's been happiness and tragedy, success and failure. There's been the story of life.

Through it all, Cochran county has emerged from a wide-open prairie to the present day era of modern, mechanized farming and living, with a bustling population and wide-awake residents interested in progress and growth. The road has been rocky and full of pitfalls, turbulent with growing pains, but out of it all has emerged a county of which residents can be proud.

Cochran County, on the eve of your 42nd anniversary, we salute you!

Try-outs held by Babe Ruth League Tuesday night

Try-outs for new Morton players in the Frontier Babe Ruth League were conducted Tuesday night, and practice is beginning immediately for most teams.

Maurice Lewellan, league secretary, said more players are urgently needed, but that boys must sign up within the next 10 days. Full rosters must be complete by that time so that names can be sent in to the national association. Try-outs Tuesday night resulted in Jerry Hampton, Randy Jones and Alton Kelley being assigned to the Tigers; Forrest Baker and Eddie Lewis to the Mets; and Charles Cobb, Randy Linder, Ralph Soliz, Lenn Gandy and Haskell Lamar to the Indians.

These boys will be added to the roster of players returning to their respective teams from last year, Lewellan stated.

Regular schedule games will begin on May 16.

Cotton linters are very short fibers left after regular staple fibers have been removed.

Work day held at hospital Tuesday by Garden Club

Cochran County Garden Club met Tuesday at Morton Memorial Hospital for the regular monthly work day.

Each member brought chrysanthemum plants to set out as replacements for those which had died during the winter.

The club will continue to meet monthly to work on this civic beautification project, which has won Sears-Roebuck grants in the amount of $185 the past two years. Club members are very proud of the project, which has added much to the appearance of the hospital and to the enjoyment of passersby. Mrs. C. B. Jones is project chairman.

Workers also enjoyed the annual plant exchange following work time.

Attending were Mesdames Willie Taylor, Charles Jones, Clyde Brownlow, C. B. Jones, Wayne Porter and Bobby Travis.

Mobile chest x-ray unit due here

The Christmas Seal mobile chest x-ray unit of the Lubbock-Hale County Tuberculosis Association will be in Morton next Tuesday and Wednesday, and everyone is being urged to take advantage of this opportunity to have a chest x-ray made.

The unit is being sponsored by the L'Allegro Study Club. Mrs. J. C. Reynolds has been in charge of arrangements.

The chest x-ray detects many of the abnormalities of the chest besides tuberculosis, it was pointed out, such as cardiovascular and other respiratory diseases.

"It is hoped that a large number of our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity which is given to you in the interest of the general health of this area", Mrs. Reynolds stated.

There is only a 50 cent fee per person for the x-ray. Mrs. Reynolds explained, and those who are not able to pay will have the x-ray made without charge. It only takes a short time, she explained about 15 seconds.

Tuesday, the unit will be located in the Morton schools area, while the following day the unit will be moved to a location on the west side of the Cochran Power and Light office.

Students at Bledsoe school have been scheduled to be x-rayed Tuesday morning at 9:30, those from Bula school at 10:30 a.m. and the Three Way school students shortly after the noon hour. Whiteface students have also been extended an invitation, although a visit by the unit had been made in that area only a few months ago.

Sponsors for the visit of the mobile unit here include First State Bank, Doss Thriftway, Allsup-Reynolds, Cochran Power and Light, and Dr. W. B. McSpadden, county health officer. Through their generosity, x-rays will be made available to those unable to pay for them, and other expenses met.

According to the Lubbock-Hale County Tuberculosis Association, today there are 243 people in the association area known to have active tuberculosis. Since the first of January 1955, 48 new active cases of TB have been reported and 35 people from the area are in a state tuberculosis hospital.

Every case of tuberculosis comes from another case of TB, it was reported. It is passed from one living person to another, and not inherited.

New drugs help doctors to restore the health of tuberculosis patients more quickly, but there is no vaccination or injection yet known that will actually prevent it.

Hope for eradication of TB, then, lies in discovering who has it, in preventing their giving it to others, and in treating them at once so that they may be restored to health.

Fred Stockdale issues statement in judge's race

Fred Stockdale, candidate for county judge of Cochran County in the Democratic primary election, today issued a formal statement in behalf of that candidacy.

It follows:

TO THE PEOPLE OF COCHRAN COUNTY:

In announcing that I would be a candidate for the office of County Judge of Cochran County in the Democratic Primary to be held next Saturday, May 7, 1966, I did so fully aware of the important responsibilities of this high office.

Due to the limited time before the election I sincerely trust you will consider this as a personal solicitation of your vote and support in the event I am unable to talk with you personally.

The office of County Judge is far more important to all citizens now than ever before. On January 1st of this year the new Code of Criminal Procedure passed by the last legislature became effective.

This applies to the County Court, over which the County Judge presides, as well as the District Court. The new Uniform Commercial Code goes into effect on July 1, 1966, which also affects commercial cases within the jurisdiction of your County Court.

Also, your County Judge has jurisdiction over all juvenile cases, and probate matters involving the estates of deceased persons and minors. He also acts as spokesman for the county in dealing with all State Agencies to assure full consideration of the individual citizens to the rights to which they are justly entitled.

I feel that my years of experience as a practicing attorney, as well as serving as County Attorney, District Attorney, and County Judge better qualifies me to serve you as County Judge. As a matter of fact these qualifications, and this experience is most necessary for your County Judge to better protect the rights of all citizens.

Many of you know me personally and I shall appreciate having you pass along to those who do not know me your knowledge of my qualifications, sincerity and integrity. If elected as your County Judge, I assure you that I shall at all times do my very best to make the kind of public official you have a right to expect; and to cooperate with all other officials in the best

Set baccalaureate and graduation programs

Fifty-four senior students at Morton High School, candidates for graduation, are counting off the last days remaining for them at the alma mater.

Baccalaureate services for the Class of '66 have been set for Sunday night, May 15, with the graduation service scheduled for the following Friday. Both events will get underway at 7:30 p.m. and be held in the County Activities Building.

Rev. Fred Thomas, of First Baptist Church, will bring the sermon for baccalaureate, it was announced today, and will be introduced by Supt. Ray Lanier. Invocation will be offered by Rev. Charles Gates, First Methodist Church, and the benediction by T. A. Grice, minister of East Side Church of Christ. Processional and recession-al music will be furnished by Mrs. Pegues Houston.

Bob Travis, elementary school principal who will assume the high school principalship this fall, will be speaker for the graduation service. Short talks will be presented by Weldon Joe Newsom, valedictorian, and Glenda J. Smith, salutatorian.

Supt. Lanier will present the senior class, and diplomas will be distributed to graduates by Francis Shiflett, school board member. Invocation will be by Fr. Lawrence Bobsien, St. Ann's Catholic Church and benediction by Harold Drennan.

Morton High School Band will play both the processional and recession, and special music will be furnished by a vocal sextet.

Seniors of '66 have chosen the blue carnation as the class flower, blue and white as class colors, and "Let him that would move the world first move himself" as the class motto.

"Catastrophic" proves just that to Terry Shiflett

A king-sized word, "catastrophic", proved the downfall for Cochran County's champion speller Saturday in the area-wide spelling bee held in Lubbock.

But it wasn't because Terry Shiflett, Morton eighth grader, couldn't spell the word. Terry had the misfortune to not understand the correct form, and instead believed the announcer had given her "catastrophe", the noun rather than the adjective, which she did spell without error.

Terry remained in the running from 1:30 p.m., when the contest started, until about 4:30 when she was eliminated with eight other contestants remaining. The contest finally concluded at 10:30 p.m., the longest time consumed in its history.

Attending the event with Terry were members of her family, with Mr. Shiflett being selected as one of the sponsors.

interest of the county and each individual citizen. Thank you again for your vote next Saturday.

Respectfully,
Fred Stockdale

MORTON STUDY CLUBS are preparing decorations for the state convention of Federated Women's Clubs, which will be held next week in Lubbock. Large roses are just one of the decorations designed and under construction by local club women. From left are: Mrs. Willie Taylor, Alma Slaughter Study

Club; Mrs. Keith Kennedy, Town and Country Study Club; Mrs. Elwood Harris, L'Allegro Study Club; Mrs. W. B. McSpadden, L'Allegro Study Club; Mrs. Bobby Travis, L'Allegro Study Club; and Mrs. LeRoy Johnson, Town and Country Study Club. Mrs. Johnson is incoming second vice president of the Caprock District. Morton clubwomen will attend annual TFWC meeting, Lubbock

Morton clubwomen are completing plans this week to attend the 69th annual convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Lubbock May 10-12. A preliminary check revealed an estimated 30 are planning to attend part or all of the activities.

Members from L'Allegro Study Club, Y.M. Study Club 1936 Study Club, and the two junior clubs, Emlea Smith Junior Study Club and Elma L. Slaughter Study Club, are anticipating registering at the convention which is expected to attract more than 300 women.

Responsibility will rest with the Morton clubs for the "Star Sapphire Diamond" dinner, slated for 7 p.m. Wednesday night, May 11. A local clubwoman will serve as a hostess for each of the 18-20 tables during the dinner, to be responsible for introductions and extra needs of those seated at their respective tables.

Decorations for this dinner have been in the making for the past several weeks, and are both novel and colorful. Sawdust has been glued to baby bottles, then sprayed silver and glittered with silver, to be used for original candleholders. Tissue roses of bright pink and aqua, also glittered, will be used in the arrangements and white grass-like puffs of tissue will cover bases of styrofoam. Each arrangement will feature a candle corresponding to the pink or aqua shade. A total of 100 of these units have been made by the Morton clubs, with five to be placed on each table.

Not only have the women been busy, a number of husbands have also "volunteered" help with the intricate rolling of puffs for the roses, and other jobs as well. The dinner will be carrying much interest, as the awards for Outstanding Teacher, Outstanding Mother and Outstanding Clubwoman will be made. Morton has two clubwomen competing for the state titles, Mrs. James St. Clair as Outstanding Mother, and Mrs. Bobby Travis as Outstanding Clubwoman. Both ladies previously were selected as winners in Caprock District.

The 75th anniversary of General Federation will be the keynote for the entire convention, according to Mrs. J. L. Ginnings, Pilot Point, president, the theme being "Texas Celebrating GFWC Diamond Jubilee".

Mrs. Travis and Mrs. W. B. McSpadden, who are serving as overall chairmen of decorations for the convention, have keyed their designs and color schemes in keeping with that theme.

Headquarters will be at the KoKo Inn. Serving as general chairman will be Mrs. Robert N. Tipps, Denver City, president of Caprock District, together with Mrs. A. T. Coanougher of Lubbock and Mrs. Bill Davis of O'Donnell.

Pre-convention meetings will begin Tuesday at 2 p.m. when the board of trustees meets with the state president in her suite at KoKo Inn. Also meeting Tuesday afternoon will be district presidents, executive committee, nominating committee and first, second and third vice-presidents of state and district.

Election of officers for the 1966-68 administration will be held Thursday, followed by installation ceremonies and a reception for the newly elected officers, and other honorees.

A full program is planned for the convention, from the formal opening Wednesday at 9 a.m. to the Thursday evening reception at 9 p.m. Robert Radnitz will be guest speaker at the Wednesday evening dinner and will speak on "Imitation vs. Reality". Radnitz is a motion picture producer from Hollywood.

A lighter side will be heard Tuesday night when Mrs. Roy Bass, Lubbock, will speak on "Diamonds May be a Girl's Best Friend but They Won't Dry Her Tears" at the Magic Glow of Humor dinner.

Highlighting Wednesday afternoon's session will be the publicity craftsmanship workshop when a panel of outstanding newspaper women from over the state will brief clubwomen on the most effective way to get publicity for their organizations.

Delbert Downing, lecturer and writer of Midland, will speak on "Our American Legacy" at the Wednesday luncheon, and will be introduced by Mrs. Travis of Morton. Wick Fowler, Austin, correspondent who has recently returned from Viet Nam, will give a first hand report on the situation there as he speaks at the Thursday luncheon.

Mrs. E. D. Pearce of Miami, Fla., first vice-president of GFWC from Florida, will speak at 11 a.m. Thursday morning and install new officers that evening.

Numerous awards presentations will be made, and a Fashions for Fun Style Show conducted. Mrs. McSpadden, Caprock District crafts chairman under the fine arts department, will be assisting the state crafts chairman in the style show portion.

As a climax to the three day meeting, a "Romance for Jewels" reception will honor state officers and District Jewels, selected at the district convention as outstanding members.

During the convention, Mrs. LeRoy Johnson will be installed as second vice-president of Caprock District, and serving as pages will be Mrs. Loy Kern and Mrs. James K. Walker.

MORTON TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1966

Exercise your right—vote!

On Saturday, May 7, Texans will exercise their priceless heritage. At least, some of them will vote. The others will be off fishing, cleaning house, working or occupied with other excuses not to vote.

Only the Democrats are holding a primary in Cochran County this year, but the races are interesting at every level from state to precinct. Lack of enthusiasm shouldn't account for a small turn-out at the polls this week. Only apathy is responsible and we are sure that thousands of eligible voters will fail to cast their ballots.

After much careful consideration, and sifting of the information available, the Tribune has decided to endorse the following candidates:

John Connally has done an outstanding job in the governor's post and deserves another term in the office. Preston Smith also should be returned to the office of Lieutenant Governor.

Waggoner Carr should easily win the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator. (His campaign against incumbent John Tower this fall should be the most hotly-contested race in the state.)

Crawford Martin draws our support for Attorney General. He has the endorsement of the majority of Texas lawyers for his bid to become the number one attorney for the state.

Jerry Sadler likely will be returned to the office of Commissioner of the General Land Office and Byron Tunnell probably will win his first elective term as Railroad Commissioner.

We feel that W. T. McDonald should win the nomination for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals on the basis of his judicial background.

The Tribune will not endorse any candidate for county or precinct offices at this time.

Since a sample ballot would not list all of the candidates for all of the precinct offices, the Tribune here presents a list of all the offices and the candidates. These are listed in the order they will appear on the ballot. This list should be studied carefully so that your vote Saturday might be deliberate and well-considered.

Remember that no one can vote your convictions except you. Following is a list of the candidates:

John Connally of Travis County
Stanley C. Woods of Harris County
Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Washington County

U.S. Comies surfacing

A number of signs indicate that American Communists, encouraged by the series of Supreme Court decisions making anti-subversion laws virtually ineffective, are coming to the surface and preparing to operate with a boldness they've never shown before.

For instance, a spokesman for the party in Illinois said recently: "We plan to enter the marketplace of American ideas and define our goals for the first time."

Some of these "goals" may be made to sound very attractive, especially to so-called disadvantaged groups whom the Communists may wish to exploit for their own purposes.

However, Americans must never forget that the Reds have many times defined their ultimate goal, one which hasn't changed to this moment. That goal is a Communist world. And, since the American way of life is the chief barrier to attainment of this goal, the overthrow of the American system is the primary target of the Red Thrust.

Forewarned is fore-armed — or at least so it should be.

For Worth Star-Telegram

'Disadvantaged' Taxpayers

Senator Bobby Kennedy doesn't acknowledge any need for restrained domestic-civilian spending in order to accommodate increased military spending in Viet Nam.

He says any domestic - civilian cut - backs could cause the poor and disadvantaged to "lose faith in us and in the entire system."

He makes no reference to any possible loss of faith on the part of the productive taxpayers who are being called on to foot the bills for the federal government's escalating prodigalities at home and abroad.

Sen. Kennedy says that any cuts would "be felt most by those least able to afford them — the disadvantaged, particularly the disadvantaged children who live in the vast urban ghettos and the rural hollows of our nation."

You still don't have to prove innocence which might be impossible . . . the state must prove your guilt.

Even though a few guilty persons may escape punishment because the state is sometimes unable to prove guilt, we would far rather have that happen than to have innocent men punished for crimes of which they are not guilty.

A lot of wage earners are beginning to feel somewhat "disadvantaged" themselves, particularly in view of soaring state and local taxes that coincide with social security's voracious new bits out of their paychecks. But no politician worries audibly about what they can "afford."

The federal books almost never are brought into balance, regardless of how high taxes go. The resulting deficits are reflected in an inflation which is putting increasing numbers of middle class families between a rock and a hard place.

Since these productive people constitute a political majority, it's strange that they have given the come-appeal long ago to politicians whose professed concern for the "disadvantaged" is leading the country into mountainous tax burdens and rampant inflation.

The Daily Oklahoman

Innocent . . . Until proved guilty

Why can't we Americans see what civil rights proponents are seeking to accomplish when they preach that a man should not suffer discrimination for NO OTHER REASON than the fact that he was born black?

One of the greatest blessings given us by our federal constitution is the principle that a man is innocent until proved guilty. Those aren't just idle words. Did you ever stop to consider how difficult it might be to prove that you are NOT guilty of a crime? In anger you threaten to kill an enemy . . . that night the enemy is murdered . . . so they accuse you who, in fact, are innocent.

You still don't have to prove innocence which might be impossible . . . the state must prove your guilt.

Even though a few guilty persons may escape punishment because the state is sometimes unable to prove guilt, we would far rather have that happen than to have innocent men punished for crimes of which they are not guilty.

As American citizens, all of us should embrace the American philosophy that a man is innocent until proven guilty, whether we are thinking of judicial procedure or petty gossip.

Once a new pastor arrived at his new charge on a Saturday. Stopping at the post office, he was forced to park his bright red car in front of the adjoining building which happened to be a saloon. A gossipy old maid, a member of his congregation, lost no time in spreading the word that the new minister was patronizing the saloon. Indignant members of the church board insisted on disciplining the old maid, but the pastor said, "No, let me handle this in my own way."

In a day or so he parked his conspicuous red car in front of her home . . . and left it there all night.

Highlights and Sidelights —

Raise for state workers?

AUSTIN, Tex. — Next year's legislative session may see state employees battling as hard for a pay raise as school teachers.

Furthermore, help is assured. Gov. John Connally says that "substantial pay raises for state employees" will be among his "strongest recommendations" to lawmakers.

Indications are that the pay boosts could run as high as $17,500 a year.

According to Connally, state government is slipping farther and farther behind in its efforts to keep qualified workers — not only in the lowest pay levels but in the higher brackets of professional personnel.

Connally says that: More than 7,800 of the 45,000 state employees (not including those at colleges and universities) make less than $3,000 a year, the federal "poverty line."

Turnover is running 30 per cent per year.

Lower-bracket hospital aides get as little as $193 a month.

There are 213 vacancies in the hospital system, 77 in parks and wildlife operations, 100 in the prison system, 135 in the highway patrol and 148 in the Texas Education Agency.

"If we do not reverse the trend," warns Connally, "not only will the stability and efficiency of our operations be threatened, but we will also weaken our entire system of local self government and responsibility."

Salary issue promptly was injected into the governor's race.

Stanley Woods, Connally's opponent for the Democratic nomination, chided the governor for not having spoken out on the subject before election time.

Woods' ticketmate, State Rep. Bill Hollowell, running for lieutenant governor, said Connally should submit the raises to an immediate special session of the Legislature rather than waiting eight months until the regular session opens.

GINNERS FIRST — Texas' new nine-member State Air Control Board now has held its second meeting since Governor Connally named the group, whose purpose it is to protect the public from air pollution. Indications are that Texas' more than 1,300 cotton gins will be the first area subject to air control rules and regulations.

Conclusions after a year-long study of pollutants caused by cotton gins is that smoke emitted from burr burning contains significant quantities of arsenic and tars. These poisons, along with gin dust, have contributed to the 20 to 30 per cent increase in complaints about respiratory diseases suffered by downwind residents during ginning season. Also, there have been adverse effects on trees and vegetation downwind from arsenic and other evidences of pollutants.

Reports state that much of the increased pollutants from the gins are caused from an increase in trash — leaves, limbs, immature bolls, and dust — picked up by mechanical harvesters. Recommendations for curing these problems will be in the report of the Board's staff.

WATER COSTS — Taxpayers, as well as the men who run the sewage treatment plants in growing cities, must get used to the fact that in the future they are going to have to maintain high standards of operation of their plants. Higher quality water means higher cost of treatment.

This came out in the Texas Water Pollution Control Board's meeting when the City of Dallas objected to a doubling of the Board's usual chlorination requirements, arguing that it would cost more than it would be worth.

Dave Smallhorst, the Board's executive secretary, said: "The cities, including Dallas, have to recognize the fact that an increase in water quality requirements is going to mean an increase in cost."

Smallhorst said chlorination is necessary to protect public health and the Board's first concern is the health of the public.

COURTS SPEAK — A trial court ruling that Rice University must integrate can be appealed by school alumni, Tex. Supreme Court held. Houston Court of Civil Appeals was ordered to consider the appeal. A provision of charitable trust establishing the school specified that it admit only white students. Trial court said the restriction is invalid and the Court of Civil Appeals held that only Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr could appeal.

Court of Criminal Appeals filed a request by Jasper attorney Joe Tonnahill that Jack Ruby be given an early sanity hearing, but took no immediate action.

State Supreme Court's refusal of the appeal of oil operator William Crawford of Dallas means Mrs. Madge Yeatts of Jones County will be entitled to collect $17,064 for damage to her farm caused by oil-field salt water disposal.

AG OPINIONS — Even under the new Criminal Code, habitual violators of Texas traffic laws will not be able to protect their driver's licenses from being revoked by pleading no contest to charges, so ruled Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Other recent opinions, Carr held that: Wilbarger County Hospital District may pay for land acquired to HEARING SET — Railroad Commission has set a hearing for May 27 to investigate purchasing and transportation practices of the Gulf Oil Corporation and Gulf Refining Company in the Pittsburg Field in Camp County.

T. D. Humphrey Jr. and Southern Union Production Company requested the hearing.

In separate action, Sinclair Refining Company asked the Commission a second time for a rule change to permit operators in the East Texas Field to transfer their allowable to another producing well when the casing of a well springs a leak. Independent oil operator Bryan Payne of Tyler opposed the change. Such a proposal was rejected by the Commission last year.

WATER RIGHTS — Considering a case which could effect every rancher, farmer and other landowner in the state — so far as water rights on their own land is concerned — are the three judges who make up the Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin.

Appeal by P. L. Garrison of Bandera County of a trial court decision favoring the Bexar-Medina-Atascosa Water Improvement District No. 1 may revise the process authorized by the Legislature in 1959 under which a landowner could get irrigation rights to more than 200 acre feet of water a year through a relatively simple process of filing for a permit with the Water Rights Commission.

Garrison got his permit on January 8, 1964. But a few days before that, the Commission had ruled that the 1959 route to a permit for additional water did not apply where navigable waters are concerned.

Attacking the permit because of this rule, the water improvement district won a trial court verdict that the Commission's rule was valid, but Garrison's permit was not. This because the usually dry west prong of the Medina River, covered by the permit, is part of a "navigable stream."

Garrison fought two sides in the arguments before the appellate court, because the Commission's attorney said he would rather the court uphold the rule than the permit, even though both were issued by the Water Rights Commission.

If Garrison loses, Texas landowners will frequently find themselves in need of a surveyor and an attorney when they plan to apply for a water use permit.

Postmaster asks close of Postal Savings Accounts

Postmaster Crone today urged depositors with postal savings certificates to withdraw their accounts from Post Offices as soon as possible or as soon as the anniversary dates on their certificates are reached.

The Postal Savings System was abolished March 27, 1966, with signing of Public Law 89-577. President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Crone pointed out that as of April 28, 1966, no deposits can be accepted and no new accounts opened. He said interest earned on the anniversary date of each certificate.

The Postmaster said that for convenience all certificates held by depositor may be cashed at the same time and interest will have been outstanding beyond months from the interest date.

The Postal Savings System was established January 1, 1911, to allow money out of hiding and to attract savings of a large number of immigrants who were accustomed to saving at Post Offices in their own country; also, it served as a depository for people who had no confidence in private banks. Today, however, with the growth of banking facilities paying much higher interest rates than the 2 per cent interest per annum paid by Postal Savings, the System is out-lived its usefulness for American people.

The Postmaster noted that as of June 30, 1965, there were 897,000 depositors holding certificates totaling 3,130 post offices throughout the nation. The number of depositors has been declining, he said, at a rate of about 6,500 per month.

Unpaid deposits remaining in the Post Office beyond June 30, 1966, will be transferred to the Treasury Dept. in a trust fund and will be available for payment without limitation whenever proper claims are received.

Three Way FHA delegates attend state convention

Joy Eubanks and Julia Burkett, members of the Three Way Future Homemakers of America chapter of Three Way High School, attended the state meeting of the Texas Association, FHA, in San Antonio Friday and Saturday, according to Jamie Henderson, chapter president.

Joy represented the Three Way chapter members as voting delegate to the meeting, with Julia serving as alternate.

Outstanding visitor was National Advisor, Mildred Reel, of Washington, D.C., who brought greetings. Main speaker for the opening session Friday was Dr. Carl S. Winters, lecturer, speaker and entertainer, who addressed the 5,000 delegates on the meeting theme. A program of FHA talent emphasizing Texas' heritage was presented Friday night. Closing session Saturday morning was devoted to business and installation of new officers.

In all ways of life, keep him swinging in the proper

STRIKE ZONE

PLAY BALL... is a familiar cry in the spring and summer. This is a time that parents and coaches, alike, encourage the boy not to swing unless the ball is in the strike zone... for in the early years of playing the game, the tendency is to swing at every pitch. This holds true in all of life, so it is up to wiser and older heads to train and encourage him in the better things. Bringing up a child is a serious matter and all can use help. Let the church help you to teach him the right ways.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

I once tried to calculate the total number of errors that could possibly appear in one edition of a weekly newspaper, but gave up when the numbers got to five digits. But there is one error that always creates more furor than any other, at least in my experience. It comes any time an editor fails to identify a Texas Aggie or, what's even worse, labels a man an Aggie when he isn't. And we managed to do that last week by classifying Smiley Monroe as a former A&M student. Oh, woe is me and public apologies to Smiley. (I'm glad that I didn't fail to identify Roy Hickman as an Aggie, or he probably would have forced me to learn all the words to the Aggie War Hymn.)

All of the above came about as the result of attending a kick-off breakfast for the Lions' mop and broom sale last Wednesday. The meal was a dandy and the work that followed was even better. The Lions of Morton, according to latest reports from the Lighthouse for the Blind, sold nearly $2,000 worth of mops, brooms and other gadgets. This is reportedly the second largest one-day sale in the state of Texas in recent years and even prompted a phone call from the Lighthouse director to find out how large the town was. Campaign director Dean Weatherly and team captains Sidney Saverance and Gene Benham did a terrific job. Boss Lion James McClure said that 48 of the 53 club members reported for duty that day. Our heartiest hoorays for Dean, Sidney, Gene and the rest of the Morton Lions.

Visiting with Morton senior athlete Jimmy Joyce the other day, I learned that he has accepted a track scholarship to Lubbock Christian College. Jimmy also plans to participate in basketball at LCC. Jimmy was still disappointed about not earning a trip to the state track meet during the regional contests at Lubbock two weeks ago. He said that when he crouched on his blocks for the state of the 220-yard dash, water was above his wrists, which is a tough handicap and certainly not equitable, since the boys drawing outside lanes were higher and slightly drier. We feel that Jimmy can do a good job at LCC and are looking forward to seeing his name among the winners next spring.

Business activity continues to hum in Morton again this week. Latest change is the announcement that Hawkins Oldsmobile Company has transferred its GMC truck and pick-up agency to Enos Tractor and Welding.

Grand opening of Ann's Teen Town was a big success last week. One of the happiest families in town is that of the Winston Jerdens. Daughter Toby won the Shetland pony, but the other two youngsters have been enjoying it as much as she.

Slated for Grand Opening on Friday is White Auto Store and Cleve Bland has everything ready; in fact, he's been selling for a week, but had to wait on customers while restocking and getting everything in place. And Royce Hanna was all smiles Tuesday as he reported good response to the announcement that he and his wife had purchased Cobb's of Morton. Royce has a big sale set for Friday and Saturday.

Everyone seems to be enjoying the Community Bonanza that is whirling along this week, with rides, lights, booths and lots of excitement. The Jaycees had some hard luck and didn't get their booth open for the first night, but are making up for it now.

We were suddenly confronted by a girl in a "granny" dress here the other day. It was a shock and we had to bite our tongue to keep from asking how her grandchildren were getting along. That might be the latest style, but seems most unsuitable to young girls. Hope the fad doesn't catch on too much, as it is quite unflattering.

Baseball gets underway next week as the Little League and Babe Ruth Leagues finished try-outs Tuesday and made their team assignments. Although we didn't know him, it seems a most appropriate gesture for the Little League to dedicate its season to the late John P. Haggard, who served as president last year.

Work is almost finished on the Little League field and the officers and managers didn't get much help from the fathers. There is still some last-minute work to be done and the men who devote their time and efforts to the youngsters deserve some help. How about it, dad?

It's been so damp and drear That I really began to fear. Has spring time come and gone, Or did I read the calendar wrong?

Miss Rozell is Horizon hostess

The Freshman Horizon Club met Monday night May 2, at the home of Karen Rozell. Miss Rozell, club president, presided over a short business meeting as the girls made plans for an overnight camping trip to Bottomless Lakes Park in June and an end-of-school hayride and picnic for May 21.

Miss Rozell closed the business meeting and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Elzie Browne, who spoke on the Campfire law, "Glorify Work". She stated that it was going to be hard to convince teenage girls that there was anything glorious about work.

Mrs. Browne continued by explaining that "Glorifying Work" meant doing ones best on anything you started to do. "Any thing worth doing at all, is worth doing well." The girls were urged to do their best that they might have success and satisfaction in their life. Refreshments were served to Beverly Browne, Patsy Collins, Karen Rozell, Karen Fred, Carol Freeland, Jeannie McMinn and Deborah Miller. Club advisors are Mrs. Daniel Rozell, Mrs. W. G. Freeland, Mrs. Iva Williams and Mrs. Elzie Browne.

County historical sites toured by 7th graders

Students in the 7th grade of Morton Junior High School toured historical sites of Cochran County Friday, April 29, as a climax to the study of the history and geography of the county. The event also commemorated the 42nd anniversary of the organization of the county government, May 7, 1924.

Texas history classes of Mrs. Myrtle Kennedy, Ted Whillock and Elvis Fleming made the trip in two buses. Fleming, author of the only book concerning the history of the county, planned, directed and narrated the tour.

Students first viewed the Morton J. Smith office building on the east side of the courthouse square. Built in 1923, it was the first building on the site of Morton.

The county court house, completed April 24, 1926, was next on the itinerary, followed by the old Windey's General Store building, now occupied by Minnie's dress shop. The building, erected in 1923, was the first store in Morton, and served as the first temporary courthouse for the county as well as housing Morton's first post office. The first school house in Morton, completed in January, 1924, was visited. The building is now used for relief commodity distribution.

Touring students then proceeded to the headquarters buildings of C. C. Slaughter's 246,000 Whiteface Ranch. The adobe buildings, two miles southwest of Morton, are the county's oldest buildings, being erected during 1912 to 1925. Site of the former town of Ligon was then pointed out to the students as they traveled to Lehman.

Lehman and the railroad upon which it is located were built in 1925, students were told. Lehman was formed from Ligon, which was moved to the railroad.

Next stop on the tour were the Lehman gasoline and sulphur plants in southern Cochran County. The party then traveled to the northeastern corner of the county, passing through Sulphur Draw and visiting Gristown, U.S.A.
