

Lil' Britches rodeo to unreel

Pint-sized cowboys and cowgirls will be in the limelight this weekend as the first annual Little Britches Rodeo unreels here Friday and Saturday.

The rodeo will feature all the attractions, fun, thrills and entertainment of its adult counterpart, and the Morton Jaycees, sponsors of the event, are predicting a large attendance to be on hand both nights at the rodeo arena.

Geared in its entirety to boys and girls 16 years of age and under, the rodeo is produced by the Little Britches Rodeo Co. of Lubbock.

Wayne Bracken, general chairman of the rodeo for the Jaycees, said today the two-day event will be launched Friday afternoon with a parade of junior riding clubs from over the area. The rodeo itself will get underway at 8 p.m. each of the two nights.

No rodeo is complete without a concession stand, and members of the Jaycees-Ettes will be on hand at the rodeo grounds to feed hungry patrons hot dogs, soda pop and popcorn.

At least six or seven junior riding clubs are expected to participate in the parade Friday afternoon, which will form near the corner of Grant and Main, and proceed down Main to the theater corner at Wilson, and around the square.

Friday night's opening performance will be launched with the traditional grand entry. Events to follow in rapid order will be competitions in wild mare racing, pole bending, pony bronc riding, barrel racing, ribbon roping, steer riding and goat tying.

Plans are to have performers compete in two divisions, Bracken said, so that the older contestants do not vie against the younger set. Trophies will be awarded for first and second place winners in each event, and rosettes will go to the third, fourth and fifth place winners.

Winners will be presented their awards in a brief ceremony at the conclusion of the final performance Saturday night.

Traditionally a part of any rodeo is the appearance of specialty clowns and the Little Britches Rodeo will have two on hand. An 8-year-old Lubbock youth will hand-

Clean-up, Fix-up campaign launched for area

★ Absentees

Absentee voting in the second Democratic primary election this Saturday closed Tuesday evening, with a total of only 29 ballots cast and mail requests for an additional two, according to Lessey Silvers, county-district clerk.

In the first primary, 76, absentee votes were cast. The drop in number is indicative of the predicted smaller turnout at the polls Saturday.

Boy Scouts will leave June 12 for Tres Ritos camp

A week of summer camp — Boy Scout style — is in the offing for some 25 lads of Troop 601, who are busy today getting gear in order for an outing at Tres Ritos.

The group will leave here the morning of Sunday, June 12, for the Scout camp grounds, a large tract of land still in its natural state, located between Mora and Taos, New Mexico.

Ahead lies a full week of camping activity, during which boys will work towards additional merit badges, do their own cooking and bed down at night in tents.

And with more adults making the trip than ever before, Scouts are also taking along with them their fishing gear and already are talking about the treat of fresh fish for a meal or two.

The local Scouts will be among the first contingent to use the camp site this year, and will join some 250 or more other Scouts from various points.

Making the trip by bus, the Scouts are scheduled to return home Saturday, June 18.

Planning to accompany the group for the entire period are Murray Crone, scoutmaster; Bill Crone and Leon Hamilton, assistant scoutmasters; Kenny McMasters, troop treasurer, Paul Gunter, Orville Tilger and Joe Seagler. Rev. Fred Thomas is also planning to spend several days during mid-week with the campers.

Registering to attend the camp from Troop 601 to date are Greg Crone, Phil Graves, Robert Silhan, Andy Gunter, Morton J. Smith, Sam Burnett, Dale Tilger, Tommy Tuck, Rickey McMasters, Steve Thompson, Dubie Bryan, Ted Thomas, Dee Woolam, Mike Hunter, Bob Greene, Danny Woolam, Randy Clayton and Dub Hill.

Scoutmaster Crone said late registrations will be accepted up until departure, and that he expected some 25 boys to participate in the camp.

A concerted effort to "face-lift" the entire county area will be made next week when an intensified "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-up" campaign is launched June 5-11.

Endorsed and sponsored by the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce, the clean-up campaign will be aimed to make Cochran County towns and rural areas as well free from detracting blemishes of debris.

Jesse T. George, Chamber manager, who will act as coordinator for the campaign, said cooperation of the city and the county has been assured in use of necessary hauling equipment.

At the same time, he pointed out that only through the cooperation of the residents of the county, themselves, can the campaign be a success.

Residents are being urged to take a good, long look around the premises, and try to visualize the scene as it appears to passersby. Shrubs, bushes and trees that need to be trimmed, flower beds crying for weeding, can all be made attractive by a combination of healthy hard work and a good dose of enthusiasm.

Homeowners are urged to give special attention to the alleys in back of their residences — to clean them up, mow the weeds and in general make them as orderly and well-cared for as the rest of the property.

City trucks will be making extra trips throughout the next week to pick up and haul away the accumulations of householders, and while no definite schedule has been worked out as yet, those backing the campaign stress the fact that there is "no time like right now" for residents to get started on the cleaning-up project.

The campaign has the enthusiastic endorsement of the local fire department. Firemen point out that good housekeeping can eliminate many fire hazards. They urge that now is the time to check wiring around the home to be sure insulation is adequate, to remove bird nests from the eaves, to dispose of those paint or cleaning cloths which have been left to accumulate.

Runoff election Saturday

Cochran county voters trek to the polls a second time in a little over a month as they cast their ballots Saturday in the second Democratic primary.

Ballots will open at 8 a.m. at the sites designated for the May primary, and will close at 7 p.m., according to Carl Ray, County Democratic chairman.

Ballots in Cochran County in the June 4 election are the outcome of two campaigns — those of the top number of 66 votes in precincts 2 and 4. Voters will also mark their preference for county general of Texas, the Democratic state-wide race remaining to be settled.

It is generally expected that only a slim turnout of voters will be out to cast their ballots.

High interest to voters in precincts 2 and 4 are the races for county commissioners. These contests pit T. A. Washington against L. L. Taylor in Precinct 2, and U. F. Wells against J. C. O'Brien in Precinct 4.

In the first primary, Washington led the list of four aspirants for post, polling 103 votes, with O'Brien garnering 88 ballots to earn the top number of 66 votes in the run-off. O'Brien tallied the top number of 66 votes in his bid for election with opponent U. F. Wells, the incumbent, gaining the run-off by polling 103 votes.

By those voters casting ballots in voting boxes within Precinct 2, they have a voice in deciding the commissioner to represent them in the next term. The boxes include precincts 2, located at Whiteface School No. 3 and at the Ralph Burt home.

Only voters in voting box 4, at the County Barn, two miles west of Star Route Co-Op Gin, will be balloting on the commissioner to represent Precinct 4.

Other voters in the county will have but one decision to make, that in the race for the Democratic nominee for state attorney-general. Those balloting will be choosing between Crawford Martin, who led in the state-wide first primary but not by a sufficient margin to prevent a run-off, and Franklin Spears. First primary in Cochran gave Martin a substantial margin as he garnered 903 votes to Spears' 207.

According to Ray, voting boxes will be located at the following sites:

Box 1, Activities Building, Morton, Courtney Sanders, judge;

Box 2, Whiteface School, R. K. McCoy, judge;

Box 3, Bledsoe School, H. H. Rosson, judge;

Box 4, County Barn, two miles west of Star Route Co-Op Gin, Tim Tanner, judge;

Box 5, Ralph Burt home, Ralph Burt, judge;

Box 6, Townsend Gin, G. D. Lewis, judge.

Tom Rowden will again serve as absentee judge.

The candidates are asking Democratic Party nominations for the posts they seek.

Storms bring added moisture

Thunderstorms hitting the area the latter part of the week brought nearly three-quarters of an inch of moisture to the thirsty land of Cochran County.

First storm blew in from the west about 6:30 a.m. Thursday, as skies darkened, and thunder rolled. However, during the three-hour period only .07 of an inch of rain was recorded.

Friday night, a second storm brought .31 of an inch during an hour period, and Saturday evening, between 6 and 7 p.m., another .32 of an inch of precipitation fell together with a little light hail which did no reported damage in the area.

General meeting of Country Club is set for Friday

The Board of Directors of the Morton Country Club is reminding all stockholders of the general meeting to be held at the Club House, Friday, June 3, at 8 p.m., and urge that every member attend. It is the opinion of the Directors that it has become necessary to consider a course of action that will enable the Club to operate more efficiently in the future.

There has been some speculation as to how this may be achieved. It is imperative that all stockholders attend this meeting, as it is believed that some action will be taken at this time.

Since a 30-day prior notice of this Special Meeting has been given each stockholder, a two-thirds majority vote of the members present can decide any action of the club.

The Board of Directors sincerely hopes that all stockholders attend this meeting.

"Summertime" cautions urged by traffic police

City, county and state traffic officials joined today in issuing a plea for children and adults alike to be "summertime cautious." With the Morton schools recessed for the summer, hundreds of youngsters will be romping and playing for three months, said officials, and in their gleeful freedom from school they may become unmindful of the dangers of traffic. Of motorists, the officers asked a greater degree of caution and alertness for youngsters who might dash into streets neglectful of oncoming vehicles. Of youngsters, the officers urged obedience to traffic safety laws and rules in walking and in riding bicycles. Of parents, the officials asked cooperation in helping children to learn the proper procedures of walking and bicycling in traffic and on city streets. "In their exuberance of vacation months, children, sometimes, can become heedless of the dangers involved on our streets", said officials. "And in the heat of summer, motorists, sometimes, become exasperated and fail to maintain proper look-out. "These factors create hazards—hazards which can be eliminated by just a little attention and patience. "With cooperation of motorists, and children, who observe the basic rules of traffic — alertness and caution — a tragedy may be averted", said officials. Sewing classes for adults are scheduled here. Advanced sewing classes for adults are scheduled to begin Tuesday, June 7, under direction of Mrs. Mabel Sanders, homemaking teacher at Morton High School. Mrs. Martha Schmidt of Lubbock will be present at the opening session to teach the group on proper use of facings, innerfacings and linings. The initial meeting has been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. at the high school homemaking room. Daily sessions will be continued through Friday. Beginners in sewing will be taught the fundamentals in a series of classes, with Jennie Allen, county home demonstration agent, assisting in the instruction. These sessions are scheduled for June 13, 16, 21, 22 and 23 at 2:30 p.m. There will be no charge for the instruction in either advanced or beginner classes, Mrs. Sanders said. Mrs. E. R. Fincher and Mrs. Roy Hill served refreshments to: Mrs. Owen Egger, Mrs. Ray Spence, Mrs. Jesse Clayton, Mrs. Courtney Sanders, Mrs. Tip Windom, Mrs. T. M. Tanner, Mrs. Lee Sullivan, Mrs. Vernon Blackley, Mrs. Elmer Gardner, Mrs. B. H. Tucker, Mrs. Kenneth Watts, Mrs. H. B. Barker, Mrs. Simon Marina, Mrs. M. L. Local 4-H team will compete at state meet

A Cochran county 4-H demonstration team, who placed first in recent district competition, will be at College Station Tuesday and Wednesday to enter the state contest.

Comprising the team are Ronald Hale and Jan Thomas, both of Morton, who will be competing in the cooperative demonstration division.

Their trip to the annual 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M is being sponsored by the three area cooperative gins, Morton Co-Op Gin, Star Route Co-Op Gin and Whiteface Co-Op Gin, and the Plains Co-Op Cotton Association of Lubbock. Accompanying the 4-H'ers will be Jennie Allen, county demonstration agent.

Three prominent Cooperative leaders will serve as judges for the contest. They will be John C. Rhein, president, Houston Bank for Cooperatives; C. C. Adler, president, Texas Federation of Cooperatives; and Wilmer Smith, director, Farm Credit Board of Houston and president of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill.

The local team, in striving for a first place win, is aiming for an all-expense paid trip for themselves and their coach to the annual meeting of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives during February of 1967.

Each participant during the Roundup will receive a gold-filled Cooperative Activity pin from the American Institute of Cooperation. The first, second and third place teams will earn appropriate pins and certificates. All teams will be grouped into blue, red and white award units.

Activities will include team demonstrations and judgments in other fields. Speaker of the House of Representatives, Ben Barnes, will address the entire group at a banquet June 8, and share-the-fun acts will provide entertainment for an evening program.

★ Postponed

The Country Music Festival, regularly scheduled for the first Saturday of each month, has been postponed from June 4 to June 11, it was announced today.

Decision to hold the show a week later was made to avoid conflict with the Little Britches Rodeo this weekend.

Gracious, this is another one of those busy weeks that has something for everyone. Voting should be the first order of business for local citizens on Saturday. Before and after that, you can take your choice of many different activities.

Youngsters will be imitating the professionals Friday and Saturday during the Jaycees' Little Britches Rodeo. Performances are slated for Friday and Saturday evenings in the local riding arena. Some of these young cowboys and cowgirls are quite proficient and you should enjoy seeing them in action.

Friday evening, the Tribune is sponsoring a sales clinic and dinner for about 100 Morton business owners, operators and their personnel in order that they might hear W. A. (Bill) Leigh, one of the most dynamic salesmen in the country. Last year, Bill conducted a clinic in Las Vegas, Nev., for more than 3,000 people and was widely acclaimed.

Of course, you can always go out and watch a Little League or Babe Ruth League game. There are so many of these games going on each week that one night's schedule was omitted from the Little League slate. That is Monday night, May 6, when the Cards play the Giants and the Sox take on the Colts.

Monday officially starts Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week in Morton and Cochran County and we hope that every resident, every home owner and every business will participate in this campaign to brighten up the community. My wife insists that I take part, although I keep trying to convince her that writing about the campaign is as important as cleaning out the garage. Odds are heavily in her favor that I'll get the garage cleaned up this weekend.

I appreciate a professional in any field and it has been my pleasure to watch Berle Snyder handle most of the local news here for the past two months. She has done an outstanding job for the Tribune and we are going to miss her. Berle plans to take a few trips this summer before going to work full-time this fall. Glenn Honea, a talented junior journalism student at Texas Tech, arrived Tuesday to work for the Tribune through the summer and we hope that you will have a chance to meet him. I must warn you, though, that Glenn has a painful penchant for puns and won't hesitate to use them.

Also working for the Tribune this summer is Donna Allsup, a Morton High senior. She teamed up Tuesday with Jimmy Cartwright, our other high school employee, and secretary Janice Holley and engineered a freezer of homemade ice cream for the office. Fresh peaches and strawberries were discussed at great length, but the ice cream came out vanilla.

We feel it is necessary to remind our subscribers that postal regulations require that subscriptions be paid in advance in order that we don't jeopardize our mailing permit. Our subscription lists are being brought up to date now and stencils for past due subscribers are being pulled from our files.

Memorial Day Weekend was quiet in Morton, although I understand that you could have gotten a quorum together in Ruidoso. The Ruidoso Downs track opened last Saturday for the summer and a lot of folks from this county were on hand for the races. It would be interesting to find out how many South Plains residents go to Ruidoso during the summer and the number might have some bearing on getting Highway 116 extended to Roswell. If it weren't for tourists from Texas and other places, New Mexico would be a prime candidate for poverty aid, which makes me wonder why New Mexico can't keep its major highways in better condition to accommodate its tourists.

Oh, we almost forgot about the swimming pool opening this Friday, which might occupy some of the younger set this summer. And the Country Club members are to meet Friday night to discuss their future plans.

Swimming in a cool pool. Voting, using a garden tool. Seeing baseball or rodeo. Say, there's plenty on the go!

DEADLINE FRIDAY

Final date for producers in the county to request measuring service of cropland from the ASCS has been extended to Friday, June 3. Mrs. Ruth McGee, ASCS office manager, announces. Charge for the service is $5 for the farm visit, plus 4 cents per acre. Measuring will start about June 15.

Jim Walker and John St. Clair placed 3rd flight runner-up last weekend at a Levelland golf tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. James St. Clair and children, Kay, Jimmy, Mary and John are enjoying a few days of fishing at Haskell.

Spending the weekend at Ruidoso were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Duke and Mr. and Mrs. Robert George.

Jug Hill and children, Dub and Trezelle, spent the weekend with Wilma Hill who is hospitalized in Dallas.

Miss Janette Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cooper, visited in Artesia, N.M., last week with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cooper.

Man eats 2,200 pounds grass yearly

SANDY ASBILL
Conservationist

Have you heard about the man who in Morton who can make butter out of just plain grass? That's right, all he needs is a cow and a barn.

This little joke serves to illustrate perhaps how important GRASS really is to our standard of living. For instance, YOU eat the equivalent of 2200 pounds of grass each year. (This is equal to about 12 bales of alfalfa hay.) Of course, you eat the grass that has been refined into steak, roast, pork chops, ham, mutton and leg of lamb.

is no greater than the topsoil formed.) When clean tilled, the same soils lost an average of 34 TONS per acre annually, or 37 times more than when protected with a good cover of grass. Another grass covered plot over an eleven year period, lost only 0.8 percent of the annual precipitation, while a cultivated row crop plot alongside lost approximately 11.5 percent of the precipitation, or 12 times more moisture loss.

It has been shown that the soil that we catch in fence rows and road ditches is very low in plant food elements as well as organic matter. In other words, that soil is almost sterile. In contrast, the dust that gets into our houses and has to be dusted from our furniture, washed from our dishes, and shaken out of our beds is very high in fertility and organic matter. This is the soil we need to be saving. Plant food loss from erosion on cotton, corn, and oats in rotation on terraced land was valued at $6.76 per acre as compared to a loss from bermudagrass of only $0.09.

Grass fits in very well with the diverted acres program, the Cropland Adjustment Program, not to mention a well-rounded farming operation. Talk to several of your neighbors who have had grass or who now have grass on their farms, about how grass fits into their farming operation. Or, come by the Soil Conservation Service office for technical and cost share information.

Guests on hand for graduation

Several people were invited to attend the graduation of Gene Perez from Three Way High School. Those guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arogon and family, Lalo, Jerry and Alan, Roswell, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Mirabal, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Galvan and family, Frank Jr., Tom, Deddie, Johnny and Don, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ynes Jaramillo and mother, Mrs. Victoria Jaramillo, Roswell, New Mex.

Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Perez and family, Fred, Eugene, Mary Ann and Roberto, Roswell, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jaramillo and baby, Roswell, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Jose Perez and family, Vernice, Lupe, Yolanda and Rebecca, Portales, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Julio Fuentez and Bobby, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mr. Chan Leaton, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mrs. Sofia Fuentez and Lupe, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mrs. Petrito Aristo, Portales, N.M.; Mrs. Lovina Serna, Portales, N.M.; Larry Meza, Elida, N.M.; Miss Mary Meza, Elida, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Duarte and family, Mike Jr., Bobby and Irene, Maple; Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Lopez, Maple; Mr. and Mrs. Ascension Amparan, Rita, Angita, Blanca and Joe, Maple; and Ted and Fred Blesze, Maple.

Kuehler receives baseball letter from Texas Tech

The awards included 72 varsity letters and 71 freshman numerals for athletes in basketball, swimming, track, golf, baseball and tennis.

Burl Huffman is baseball coach at Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drennen and several guests spent the weekend in Ruidoso to celebrate their son, Danny McCasland's birthday. Those making the trip were: Freddie Thomas, Darrell Srygley, Byron Lee Willis, Vicki Goodman, Diana McCasland, Danny McCasland, and Mrs. E. L. Pulvado.

From grass to succulent meats . . .

TALL BERMUDAGRASS such as is shown in the above photo can, with a little imagination, be visualized as succulent cuts of the finest meats. Refined into beef, pork or lamb,

2,200 pounds of grass is consumed each year per person. This is equivalent to about 35 bales of alfalfa, which is—you will agree—a lot of hay. SCS Photo

Fleming article to be published

Elvis Fleming, local author and teacher, will have his article, "Captain Nicholas Nolan: Lost on the Staked Plains", published in an upcoming issue of "Texana" magazine. It has been learned that "Texana" is a quarterly journal devoted to the publication of scholarly works concerning Texas history. Fleming's article will be in Volume 4, Number 1, of the journal which will be issued in the late summer.

The article is a combination of two earlier writings by Fleming. The story of the battle of Silver Lake was told in "Cochran Refuge for Comanche Warriors", first published in The Tribune in August of 1965, and the story of Nolan's "Lost Nigger" expedition of 1877 as related by Fleming in the first chapter of his 1965 book, "Texas' Last Frontier: A History of Cochran County".

The "Texana" article includes much local history of a number of northwest Texas counties, including Stonewall, Borden, Lynn, Dawson, Garza, Terry, Lubbock and Hockley, in addition to Cochran. Some of the story also took place in Roosevelt County, New Mexico.

Wildlife hearing set for June 6 at court house

A public hearing to gather information on proposed game regulations for Cochran County has been set for Monday, June 6, by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The hearing will be held at the courthouse in Morton, beginning at 10 a.m.

J. Weldon Watson, executive director for the department, announces that other than minor editorial changes that will not involve the seasons, bag limits or means and methods of taking the wildlife resources, relatively few suggested changes will be brought up for discussion.

However, Watson encouraged all Cochran Countians to attend the hearing and make any comments they might have on the existing regulations or the suggested changes. He pointed out that these comments would be recorded and considered by the Parks and Wildlife Commission when it meets in Austin in July.

Local changes involved include the changing of Cochran County from the Panhandle area to Permian Basin, and changing the antelope season to October 1 through October 9.

Reading Club

Cochran County Library is sponsoring a Texas Reading Club for children beginning June 1 thru August 31. Children who join this summer Reading Club and read 12 books of their choice and reading level will receive a certificate from the Texas State Library. A list of the titles read for this program will be kept on a reading log furnished by the Texas State Library, according to Mrs. H. B. Spotts Librarian.

Personals

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Willis last weekend were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Willis and children, Ricky, Gary, and Cindy, from Brownfield. Also spending the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Willis and son Jerry from Ft. Sumner, N.M., brother of Mr. Boyd Willis.

MORTON TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1966

Putting our house in order

Next week, June 6-11, has been designated as Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Week in Morton. Spring traditionally is a time for cleaning up yards and houses, making repairs of minor defects that have developed during the winter and brightening the inside and outside of buildings with shiny coats of paint.

"But my house looks pretty good right now," you protest. And perhaps it does. But is our community as attractive as it could be; how does it look to an outsider, a casual visitor or a tourist?

Before you say that your part is already done, try to examine your property with the critical eye of a visitor. Or drive out of town and return slowly, seeing Morton as it is seen by others.

Vacant lots are beginning to grow up in weeds, alleys are littered, a number of vacant business buildings are eyesores, the entrances to our town are unattractive in many ways.

The community survey done by the Morton Junior Chamber of Commerce in March of this year lists the approaches to Morton as one of the areas which needs improving.

Businessmen know that a clean and well-ordered place of business attracts the buying public. It amounts not only to a good advertisement, but also helps prevent injuries to customers.

Careful housekeeping includes good maintenance as well as efficient cleanliness. When you remove obstructions from floors, aisles, or doorways, you remove many of the causes of a stumbling or falling accident. But such business housekeeping also should be carried "behind the scenes" to the work areas and stockrooms. Neglecting these areas can cause confusion, disorder and employee accidents.

This is the year, and next week is the time, when Morton should be cleaned from top to bottom, from the very approaches to the last back yard and alley. One of the heavily-weighted items on any potential industry survey is the appearance of the proposed community and Morton needs to look its best.

Next week should be a wonderful opportunity for our Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and civic groups to do their part in making Morton a more attractive community.

This editorial should be a little longer, but if you will excuse me, I have to clean up my desk and get rid of the stack of old newspapers behind the door.

So prove us wrong!

This is an editorial that we hope will be incorrect. But our prediction on Saturday's second Democratic Primary election is a gloomy one. We feel that less than 50 percent of the eligible voters will cast their ballots Saturday and the percentage could be as low as 20 per cent of those eligible.

Locally, there are two important County Commissioners' posts at stake. On the state level, voters are to decide on the party candidate for Attorney General. These races, small in number, loom large when you consider their importance.

Our Commissioners will serve for four years, looking after the second largest operation in the county. Their decisions will influence the growth, development and well-being of Cochran County for years to come, far more years than the term of their election. They are in positions of trust and leadership, handling thousands of dollars of our money each year. They will cast their votes in Commissioners Court on questions of roads, public improvements, buildings, county employees and tax structures.

Texas' Attorney General will make the rulings that change procedures, influence court decisions and radically alter the course of this state. This year, it is unlikely that the Republican Party will offer a candidate strong enough to defeat the Democratic nominee for Attorney General. Therefore, Saturday's primary vote is tantamount to election to the office.

Sadly, we forecast a turnout of less than half the eligible voters Saturday, which means that three important offices will be filled by a minority, and not the majority that is supposed to rule.

We hope that you will go to the polls Saturday and prove us wrong.

I Am A Tired American

I'm tired of being called the ugly American.

I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American — weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned, and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American — choked up to here on this business of trying to intimidate our Government by placard, picket line, and sit-ins by the hordes of dirty unwashed who rush to man the barricades against the forces of law, order, and decency.

I am a tired American — weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American — fed up with the mobs of scabby-faced, long haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with the threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a tired American — nauseated by the lazy-do-nothings who wouldn't take a job if you drove them to and from work in a Rolls Royce . . .

I am a tired American — who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched Americans in an obscenity race, who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture . . .

I am a tired American — weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins — who prefer Chinese Communism to capitalism — who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

I am a tired American — who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast — movies denouncing the United States, movies made in Communist China.

I am a tired American — who is angered by the self-righteous breathers critics of America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States, but who never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese.

I am a tired American — who resents the pimply-faced beatniks who try to represent Americans as the "bad guys on the black horses."

I am a tired American — who is weary of some Negro Leaders who, for shock purposes, scream four-letter words in church meetings.

I am a tired American — sickened by the slack-jawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheet in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a tired American — who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their own children to private schools.

I am a tired American — who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms of greed. They say they hate capitalism, but they are always at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a tired American — who gets more than a little bit weary of the clique in our State Department which chooses to regard policy of timidity as prudent — the same group who subscribes to "no-win" policy in Vietnam.

I am a tired American — real tired of those who are trying to sell the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world — a generous-hearted nation — a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American — who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the "Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brass trumpet when Old Glory reaches the top of the flag pole.

I am a tired American — who wants to start snapping at those phony "high priests" who want us to bow down and worship their false idols and who seek to destroy the belief that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave.

I am a tired American — who thanks a merciful Lord that he was lucky to be born an American citizen — a nation under God, with truly mercy and justice for all.

Rock Co. (Minn.) Herald

From Bad to Wirtz . . .

Poor Willard Wirtz . . . the secretary of labor who has to put up with a lot in his job. There are strikes and lawsuits and labor disputes and administrative snarls. It would be a trying task even without the complications wrought by contradictory rules.

From time to time a few members of Congress, who are not aboard the Great Society bandwagon, have dared to question the wisdom and prudence of some civil-rights legislation. One of the aspects most frequently under fire is that part which applies to employers.

By federal law an employer is bound to hire on the basis of ability, not race or sex. One of the results is that some classified ads call for dainty, nimble-fingered stenographers, after which the advertiser bides his time until he sees what shows up.

Another result is that many employers have quit asking a job applicant to list his race on the employment questionnaire. To seek such information was to risk federal litigation, the Labor Department warned.

Meanwhile, back on the Potomac, the civil-rights gobs worried about whether employers were achieving a "racial balance" on their payrolls. So they drafted a hot form letter demanding that companies list how many whites and nonwhites they were employing.

The upshot no doubt brought many wry smiles from the skeptics' corner. As Wirtz describes it, employers answer questions about racial aspects of their hiring blandly and smugly: "We don't know, because of course we wouldn't keep records on anything like that." The secretary says he's sick and tired of it.

Caught in a trap of his own making, he now reverses his field and orders racial records to be kept in his own department, in the Neighborhood Youth Corps, in the federal-state employment service and by government contractors.

Wirtz isn't the only one who's sick and tired. Consider the employer's dilemma: He can't ask a man his race on the employment form, yet he must be able to furnish the information when the feds come calling.

The only men who never make mistakes are those who never do anything. But conversely, those who try to do too much frequently make too many.

Cooperative refunds $76,435 to members

D. B. Lancaster, manager of Bailey County Electric Cooperative Assn., announces that the Capital Credit refund checks were mailed this week to members who were receiving service from the Cooperative during the year 1954.

These checks, totaling $76,435.76, represent the money the member consumers paid in their electric bills during 1954 which was in excess of the actual cost of providing electric service.

The Cooperative is chartered under the state laws as a corporation and operates on a non-profit basis. At the end of each year's business, after an annual audit, the revenue received in excess of the expenses is credited to the individual members capital credit account in proportionate percentage to what he has paid, during that year, for electric service according to meter classification.

Irrigation, gin and farm accounts carry various percentages, which vary from year to year. (With a composite of 12.9% in 1954, roughly 10 cents to 15 cents out of each dollar spent for power is now being refunded to the members in cash.) The member then receives a capital credit certificate showing the amount of capital credits allocated to each of his accounts for that year. This allocation forever assigns that portion of the capital to that member of his legal heirs. The Cooperative can not spend it and no one else can collect it or cash it.

The checks, being mailed to 2649 persons. They are not dividends or interest payments, as some members have been led to believe. Rather, the checks are for actual

Highlights and Sidelights —

Outline state water plan

AUSTIN, Tex. — That mammoth Texas Water Plan was laid out Monday by Gov. John Connally and the staff of the Texas Water Development Board at a special meeting with members of the Legislature.

It shows how Texans can save and improve their water supplies to meet the needs of the 30,000,000 Texans expected by the year 2020.

This plan has been called the most comprehensive and far-reaching yet undertaken by a state. It calls for 54 more major reservoirs, for $1,000,000,000 worth of waste treatment facilities in the 21 major metropolitan areas alone to clean up waste water, and a $1,500,000,000 system of pipelines and canals to move surplus water from the Red River Basin in Northwest Texas.

This transfer system can only be described as fabulous. First the surplus water would be moved to the Fort Worth - Dallas region. After use, it would be purified and then go down the Trinity River. At a point below Waco, some of it would be moved to the Brazos River to bolster its flow. Near Eagle Lake, some would be moved to the Colorado River to meet downstream irrigation and industrial needs.

Finally, water would be moved into a canal from the Colorado down the Gulf Coast to the Lower Rio Grande Valley region, to provide irrigation and industrial water for the vast South Texas region.

By supplementing the flows of the Trinity, Brazos, Colorado and Nueces Rivers near their mouths, the plan would make possible the holding of water in the upstream regions of the Brazos and Colorado Basins to serve needs of that West Texas area.

Tightly put together, the plan released Monday is but a summary of the conclusions proposed by the Development Board's staff. Hearings will be held in 27 cities to get other ideas and suggestions, or criticisms. Series of hearings will begin on June 17 with the presentation of the West Texas portion of the plan at Lubbock. Then the Board's staff will begin river basin hearings on June 20 at Longview. When the series is completed in August, the Development Board will adopt the final version of the plan. It will become a flexible guide by which the cities, river authorities, water districts, and state and federal agencies will develop the resources of Texas streams.

Before any project actually can be undertaken, its individual feasibility and a method of financing must be shown to the Texas Water Rights Commission, which will approve and grant permits for each project.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court threw its weight behind the decision that once submerged lands (mud flats) rising from the floor of Laguna Madre in Cameron County are not vacant and unsurveyed public school property subject to sale or lease on application. Ruling, affirming lower courts, upheld position of Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler in refusing to accept application to purchase a tract 15 miles northeast of Brownsville.

Third Court of Civil Appeals sustained transfer of two small sections of land from Frenship Rural High School District to Shallowater Independent School District of Lubbock County, in an investigation of alleged irregularities at Mexia State School for mentally retarded.

Texas needs a wholesale reduction in the number of independent school districts, according to Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education, and he thinks districts with less than 500 students should be merged with other districts.

Game and fish regulations for 184 counties under Parks and Wildlife Department management will be aired in public hearings over state on June 6-9.

Although business activity declined one per cent last month, April value of index was highest for the fourth month since World War II and second highest in history of the measurement.

Twenty-four Texas colleges and universities have received $480,503 worth of supplemental organizations and grants from U.S. Office of Education for expansion of summer work study programs to provide 90 per cent of payrolls for needy students who work at various jobs on the campuses.

DEFENSE — State's share of defense contract spending is increasing.

Defense contract work for first three quarters of present fiscal year is up to $1,500,000,000 or 7.5 per cent of national total. This compares with $1,100,000,000 and 7.3 per cent of U. S. total for same period in fiscal 1965.

Texas bases cleared for construction work by Senate were: Fort Bliss, $4,900,000; Fort Hood, $1,800,000; Bergstrom Air Force Base, $4,400,000; Carswell AFB, $1,200,000; Kelly AFB, $450,000; Laredo AFB, $220,000; Laughlin AFB, $875,000; Randolph AFB, $236,000; Sheppard AFB, $1,900,000; Perrin AFB, $61,000; Reese AFB, $546,000; Webb AFB, $226,000; and Naval Auxiliary Station, Chase Field, $93,000.

ATTORNEY GENERAL — Fees of $3 should be taxed against drivers arrested and convicted for misdemeanor traffic offenses, and court costs should be added in peace bond proceedings, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled.

In other opinions, Carr concluded that: Old iron fence which once surrounded capitol ground, and now in storage, can be used at governor's mansion without conflicting with state law.

University of Houston construction projects are not regulated by Houston, LaMarque or Clear Lake

City building ordinances. Texas Education Foundation, Inc., engaged in the operation of the Gary Job Corps Training Center, is not exempt from the payment of taxes imposed on the use of motor fuel.

LAST PREMIUM — Texas Health Insurance Association has collected its last premium.

Association, authorized by 1963 Texas Legislature to offer health insurance coverage to all Texans past 65, will be replaced on July 1 by Medicare.

Participants in the program were notified in January that all coverages would cease on July 1. However, Texas 65 would remain in operation past that date to process claims incurred before Medicare.

Use of unlined disposal pits for field brine was barred by the Texas Railroad Commission in 12 West Texas counties over Ogallala Underground Water Formation.

In three separate orders, Commission said pits were polluting underground water. Agency threatened to sever pipeline connections of oil and gas operators who did not fill pits by deadline in Hemphill, Swisher, Bailey, Cochran, Dawson, Gaines, Hale, Hookley, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Andrews and Martin Counties.

SHORT SNORTS — Attorney General Carr assigned Howard M. Fender, chief of his enforcement division, to work with Limestone County Attorney Holloway Martin Jr. on Martin's request to join his investigation of alleged irregularities at Mexia State School for mentally retarded.

Texas needs a wholesale reduction in the number of independent school districts, according to Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education, and he thinks districts with less than 500 students should be merged with other districts.

Safe, or out . . .

IT'S PRETTY HARD to tell for sure whether Andy Gunter, sliding, is out or safe as he was trying to get back to first after an attempted pickoff. First baseman Steve Cox reaches out and up for the ball. Andy was safe as Steve did not get the ball before he reached base. TRIBPIX

Leaflet on basic cancer facts is available here

"Hope is in the air concerning cancer. 1,400,000 Americans now alive have been cured!"

This is the message contained in an American Cancer Society leaflet which Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, chairman of the local unit, said every person in this area should read and act upon.

The leaflet, entitled "Cancer and You: Facts That May Help Save Your Life", gives the latest life-saving knowledge about cancer. The leaflets, printed both in English and Spanish, are available here from Mrs. Reynolds for the asking.

Although there was not a Cancer Crusade conducted here this spring for funds to aid in research, education and service, Mrs. Reynolds reports that several persons have turned in contributions to herself or Mrs. Elwood Harris, unit treasurer.

A total of $75.50 has recently been received also in memorials, among them a $10 contribution from the Happy Hour Sewing Circle. Memorials are accepted at any time of the year, the chairman pointed out, and are a most appreciated way of remembrance.

Discussing the informative leaflet, Mrs. Reynolds said it lists several means of being on guard against cancer, pointing out that an annual health checkup by a physician is "the best defense. It can lead to early detection and treatment . . . and add years to your life." The folder warns again lung cancer, which is increasing at a rapid rate: "If you don't smoke cigarettes, don't start; if you do smoke, stop." It says real health benefits can be gained by stopping.

The leaflet says that four out of five of all breast cancer patients can be saved when the disease is detected in an early stage. Cancer of the colon and rectum would be vastly more curable — nearly three out of four — if all adults had a "procto" exam as part of the annual health checkup. The Society says "for women, the simple, painless Papanicolaou test is an annual 'must'." The test can detect cancer of the uterus when almost 100 per cent curable.

The leaflet lists Cancer's Seven Danger Signals as a major factor in saving lives:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Change in a wart or mole.

The society warns: "If any of these signals lasts more than two weeks, see your doctor at once." Mrs. Reynolds urges that any person not having a copy of the leaflet to "just ask me for one. Study it and keep the facts in mind."

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fralin last week were their grandson, Darwin Keith Ingram and his friend, Miss Joyce Hale.

Two more enter Soap Box derby

Latest to enter the annual Soap Box derby competitions are Dennis and Randy Clayton, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Clayton of Morton.

The new entries bring to four the number of local boys participating to date in the popular event, sponsored locally and on a national scale by Chevrolet.

Acting as local sponsors for the new entrants are Silvers Butane for Randy, and Rose Auto for Dennis.

The Clayton brothers are already at work re-building their racers used in last year's competition. Dennis is hoped to better his record, though he did mighty well last year when he was not eliminated until the fourth heat. And Randy is also counting on a year's experience being helpful as he was eliminated in the first go-round last summer.

There is still time to enter the derby, those at Allsup-Reynolds Chevrolet point out, but with competition scheduled for mid-July in Lubbock, there are not too many days remaining for boys to build their racers.

Full information on the Derby may be secured by any youth interested from Allsup - Reynolds Chevrolet.

LEARNING GOOD HABITS EARLY

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

This statement (made by Solomon, thousands of years ago) is just as true and vital today as it was then.

Teach your children the good practice of saving for the future. Teach them to attend worship services in God's house by taking them each Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
