T. A. Washington, U. F. Wells get voters' approval

Cochran County voters settled the fight for Democratic nomination for two county commissioners and decided a state Democratic nomination as polls closed in Saturday's second Democratic primary.

T. A. Washington, polling a total of 138 unofficial votes to defeat his opponent, L. L. Taylor, polling 117 votes, gained nomination for commissioner of Precinct 2.

Other unofficial returns gave U. F. Wells a close victory over J. C. Green with 87 total votes to Green's 75 for nomination for commissioner of Precinct 4.

Voters showed better than a 4 to 1 preference for Crawford Martin with 68 unofficial votes to 107 votes for Franklin Spears for nomination for attorney general of Texas.

The voting trend for the state office was reflected in state-wide returns. Returns compiled by the Texas Election Bureau late Sunday showed Martin with 362,824 votes to 285,922 for Spears from 254 counties, 242 of them counties.

Precinct 2 returned 120 votes for Washington and 118 for his opponent Taylor in the Precinct 2 commissioner race, while Precinct 5 chose Washington over Taylor, 10 votes to 5. Washington polled 6 votes by absentee returns while Taylor polled 9.

Precinct 4 gave 73 votes to Green and 83 to Wells in the race for commissioner of Precinct 4. Wells received 4 absentee votes and O'Brien got 2.

Precinct 1 returned 114 votes for Martin in the race for attorney general and 11 votes for Spears. Precinct 2 gave Martin 183 to Spears' 135. Precinct 3 chose Martin with 13 votes to Spears' 6 votes. Precinct 4 returned 108 votes for Martin and 13 for Spears. Martin polled 13 votes in Precinct 5 and Spears claimed 2. Precinct 6 gave Martin 11 and Spears 2. Absentee votes accounted for 29 votes for Martin and 1 for Spears.

Official results will be released sometime today, according to Carl Ray, County Democratic chairman.

Men jailed

Samuel (Goldy) Moss, 37, and Joe Hightower, 61, both of Morton, were arrested and jailed here Sunday night as aftermath of a fight in which Moss was struck in the face with a metal pipe.

Moss was taken to Morton Memorial Hospital for treatment of his wound and transferred to the county jail where he was fined $15 for disturbing the peace in the city.

Hightower was also jailed and fined $20 for being drunk in public. Both men were released Monday.

Morton area shoppers draw business praise

This week, the merchants of Morton will salute the consumers of the trade territory with an assemblage of the greatest values ever seen in any shopping center.

See the "Salute of Values" page of this edition of the Morton Tribune for details.

Sales receipts and bank deposits show that Morton is growing among regional shopping centers. There are many contributing factors to this continuous growth. Morton, for years, has been referred to as a friendly community. Progressive merchants, courteous salespeople, an understanding and efficient city government and a friendly citizenry are the greatest assets any community can have. Morton has all these assets.

Confident future
Morton is an industrious community. Civic leaders are always looking for new industries that will bring gainful employment and additional revenue to our people.

Educators, spiritual leaders, members of the medical and legal professions, and progressive farmers have made outstanding contributions to the community and have the facilities to meet the challenge of its continued growth.

Mr. and Mrs. Consumer of Morton deserve full credit for the city's growth as a commercial center. Their knowledge of merchandise, shopping habits and buying skill stand as a constant challenge to the merchants to bring quality merchandise at prices consumers

Plans for an estimated $195,900 expansion and renovation of Morton Memorial Hospital will be revealed Thursday night, June 9, in a public meeting.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the County Activities building auditorium. All residents of Cochran County are urged to be present for the meeting. Call for the meeting was issued by Walter Taylor, chairman of a hospital expansion steering committee which formed in January.

"At the meeting, we want to explain to the residents of this county what is proposed in the way of expansion for the hospital," Taylor said. "We will also try to answer pertinent questions about the proposal."

"We want to emphasize that this committee is not primarily concerned with the operation of the hospital, but with the need for more and better facilities to care for the citizens now and in the future."

Presenting an explanation of the planned expansion will be Glenn Thompson, a member of the steering committee. Also present will be Evan Roberts, Lubbock architect, and Joe Smith, Lubbock bond advisor. They will be called upon to answer questions about the additions and renovation and the finances that are expected to be required to finance the proposal.

Main feature of the proposal is the addition of 24 patient care rooms with semi-private baths between each two rooms. The new rooms would include piped-in oxygen. The rooms would be built in a wing going north from the west end of the present building.

Taylor pointed out that the new rooms would include all the facilities necessary for the medical facility to qualify for Medicare.

Also included in the expansion would be new kitchen facilities, new administrative facilities and office space for two more doctors.

Morton Country Club dissolves, paving way for new facilities

Members of the Morton Country Club moved to dissolve the corporation in a special meeting of the stockholders in the Club House Friday night.

The action was taken with an eye toward forming an improved club with a loan furnished through the Farmers Home Administration.

The motion ending the 17 year old country club was carried with the unanimous approval of all voting members present.

The resignation of S. M. Monroe was accepted at the Friday night meeting.

Marvin Elliott, County Supervisor of the F.H.A. in Cochran County, outlined the steps for obtaining an F.H.A. loan and the requirements the loan would entail.

The new club would be required to be a corporation capable of gaining credit from private sources and to be on a non-profit making basis. In addition, two-thirds of the members of the proposed club would have to live in Cochran County or the Morton trade area.

"The thing the loan will hinge on," Elliott told the Tribune, "is securing sufficient membership to

Morton Youth Center outlines operating plans

A Youth Center designed to provide adult - sponsored recreation and entertainment for Morton and area youths stands on the brink of reality today as the result of two weeks of planning by Cochran County students and parents.

ABOUT 30 ENROLL

Project Headstart is underway in Morton

More than two dozen five and six-year olds attended school for the very first time this week as project Head Start got underway on the elementary school campus.

The eight-week program which began Monday is designed to better the health and education of economically and culturally deprived pre-school children and help them enter the first grade on a par with more fortunate students.

disciplinatory board if necessary. J. Wayne McDermott, freshman representative; Vivian McDaniel, sophomore representative; Dana Webb, junior representative; and Cheryl McDaniel, senior representative for the Center, met with the adult and youth group chairmen and the Steering Committee Monday afternoon to determine house rules for the new Center and formulate this month's activities.

First of these activities will get underway Friday night with an ice cream supper for members of the Center. A free jukebox, ping-pong, checkers, and shuffle-board will also be available.

Center officials stress that all activities will be sponsored and attended by assigned parents at all times, and parents are welcome to attend all activities.

A game night is planned for June 17 from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. for members.

A Grand Opening is slated for June 25 to provide area youths and parents an opportunity to visit the Center. A box supper auction will highlight the opening at which boys will bid for suppers prepared by anonymous girls. Dean Weatherly will serve as auctioneer for the event.

The Village Martyrs and other local talent will also be on hand to provide entertainment.

Membership is open to Cochran County students 13 to 21 — including college students — and membership fee is $1 till Sept. 1. Membership cards may be obtained at the Grand Opening or from Susie Blackley and Janette Cooper.

Members will be responsible for the conduct of all guests and must sign in and out of the Center.

Future activities include proposed record hops, talent nights, and game nights.

C of C finances are improving, directors are told

In a brief meeting Monday evening, directors of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce heard and improved financial report from treasurer Rusty Reeder.

He told the group that all current and past bills had been paid and that the Chamber had retired its note from the First State Bank. A bank balance of more than $200 was reported.

In other action, directors heard a report from Mrs. Bobby Travis, chairman of the civic beautification committee, on progress of the Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week that is underway in Cochran County.

Mrs. James McClure appeared to make a report on the Area Youth Center's new organization and proposed organization. The Center's plans drew enthusiastic endorsement and approval from the Chamber board.

The meeting closed with a discussion of the need for a city park in Morton and progress of a planned highway development west.

Music show

The Country Music Festival Association of Morton will stage its monthly Country Music Show Saturday night, June 11, at 8 p.m. in the Cochran County Auditorium.

Headlining the show will be "Millionaire" recording star Edna Lee of Morton. Other acts will include the Bonneville's, the Melody Makers, Elvis Fleming, and other local and area talent performing country and gospel music.

IN THREE DIVISIONS

4-H riders slate Play Day

The Morton Rodeo Arena will resound with the thunder of hooves for the second time in two weeks as the annual Cochran County 4-H playday is staged there Saturday, June 11.

Sponsored by the Cochran County 4-H Saddle Club, including both adults and juniors, this year's events promises to be bigger than ever.

Competition for the events, including barrel racing, pole bending, flag racing, potato race, ring race, and key hole race, will be conducted in three divisions, those in charge have announced. Youngsters to the age of eight years will enter the Pee-wee division, while those from 9 to 13 years qualify as juniors. Participants from 14 to 19 years will compete on the senior level.

Winners in the events will receive appropriate awards.

All contestants, except Pee-wees, must be bonafide 4-H members, enrolled in club work for the year 1966, and in good standing.

Fee is $2 per entry and may be mailed to Lynn French, Route 3, Levelland, or Jimmy Dawson, Star Route 2, Morton. Deadline for entries is 10 a.m. June 11.

Assisting with the day's activities in an official and supervisory capacity will be Sheriff Hazel Hancock and Homer Thompson, county agent.

Bookkeepers will be Mrs. Gene Palmer and Mrs. Merlin Roberts. Time keepers will be Buz Burnett and Frank Burnett with the aid of visiting clubs entered in the events. Flagman will be Gene Cagle. Arena directors will be Dale Hill and Junior French.

Concessions will be run by Mrs. Calvin Dawson and Mrs. Gene Cagle with the assistance of 4-H Club volunteers.

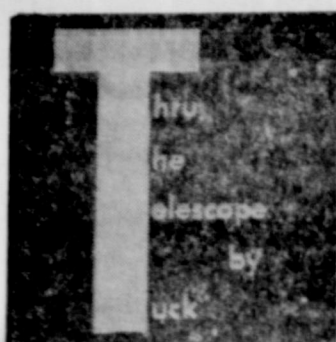

Back to baseball . . .

LANE MAYON of Morton probably was wishing he'd stayed with baseball after tangling with a bucking Shetland pony Saturday night. The pony tossed both rider and mane in short order. Mayon got a taste of the arena but was not hurt.

Had a comedy script writer turned in a report of our activities last Wednesday and Thursday, he would have been accused of trying LSD, or at least marijuana. At the time, it seemed more like tragedy to us, but now it has gotten humorous. Wednesday began with a delay while waiting for last-minute advertising copy. We had the little staff car loaded with stencils, news pictures, a few office supplies and people.

With copy in hand, we raced out of a store, ready to head for Denver City, where the Tribune is printed. The car responded with a weak "Ur-ur" followed by silence. We ran to a nearby filling station and got the car pushed to a service bay.

After an under-hood consultation, the patient was hooked to a battery charger and eventually responded with a wheezing "chuga-chug".

This was a discouraging sound, so we eased around to a garage for specialized treatment. During another consultation by experts, we sent out a hurried call for the family car and impatiently eyed the clock.

Wife Jennie and elder son arrived about the time mechanics started their incantations over the patient. We began transferring stencils, copy, people, etc., into our car. Chief mechanic, with the aid of a Mayo Brothers clinician, reported that a malfunction had been located in the carburetor and that a full cure was expected momentarily. We eyed the staff car dubiously and advised wife that we would take her car and leave her the vehicle being repaired.

We arrived in Denver City late, but the rest of the day was fairly smooth. As the press run began on the last section of the Tribune, we moved our car into loading position and piled it with the finished papers.

Tired and hungry, we buckled our seat belts and turned the switch. "Click-click-click" was the only result. Younger son quickly raced down the street to stop Gene Snyder and the shop foreman. They returned and called a conference under the hood that was illuminated by a distant street light. It began to sprinkle gently, then harder. Shop foreman called for his wife to bring jumper cables. Numbly we waited her arrival, standing in the rain. The cables worked and the car started, but we had no tail lights, brake lights or dash lights.

Gene doubted our ability to drive home safely under such handicaps, so we slowly drove to his house. Amid the peppering raindrops, we transferred all the papers and other items to his car.

The rain fell harder as we started home, then gradually changed to thick, blowing dust. We slowed to 30 miles an hour at times, but finally got back to Morton.

Part of the papers were unloaded at the Tribune office, the rest were stacked on the Post Office dock for sorting and delivery the next morning. Hooray! Our younger son had accompanied us to find out what we did all day Wednesdays. He was bushed. Glenn Honea, the Texas Tech student working for us this summer, was on the job for the first day. He was looking bemused and probably wished secretly that he had majored in law instead of journalism.

We enjoyed our late supper while watching the "Tonight Show", then leisurely soaking was cut short as wife pounded on the shower door and announced that lightning was getting close. We dried and put on pajamas.

It began to sprinkle heavily, so got dressed and drove back to the Post Office. The papers were going to get wet and readers take a dim view of soggy news.

About the time we got all the papers reloaded in the car, the rain stopped. Debate subject at midnight: "Do you unload the papers, stack them back on the dock and sleep restlessly all night while wondering if it will rain again? Or do you leave the papers loaded, set the alarm 90 minutes earlier than you would like and unload just before the postmen arrive?"

Prudence won out over rest, the papers stayed loaded and we sacrificed that last wonderful sleep in the early dawn.

Mumbling that we should have gotten into something different, like auto racing, or safecracking, we unloaded the papers early Thursday morning, took a deep breath and prepared to start on another edition. After all, we reminded ourselves, journalism attracted us originally because of the excitement and constant uncertainty of now knowing what would happen next; we still don't!

P. S.: We finally got all the cars sorted out Friday.

We hope that everyone possible will attend the meeting Thursday night to hear about the proposed hospital addition and renovation. Regardless of whether you now favor or oppose the expansion, your ought to be on hand to hear the straight facts.

The Little Britches Rodeo performances were most enjoyable, although the crowds were below our expectations. Morton's top Little Britches performer, Deborah Whitehead, put on quite a show for the hometown folks as she showed why she currently ranks second in both pole bending and barrel racing in the state standings. It was even more impressive when you realize Deborah is competing in 13-16 age class, although she won't be 13 until August. We were also pleased that there were only a couple of injuries, a bump on the head being one of them. Ronny Reeder of Morton was kicked in the leg, but doctors found that he suffered only a severe bruise and not a break. He's hobbling around now and is expected to be fully healed by the end of the week. Congratulations to the Morton Junior Chamber of Commerce for sponsoring the rodeo. Special thanks should go to Kenneth Petree, who worked far harder than the spectators realized as the arena clown. His primary job was protecting the young riders if they fell and he did an excellent job.

The local chapter of Eastern Star will hold installation of officers at the Masonic Lodge Hall at 8 p.m., Saturday, June 11.

Two Morton pickups attracted lots of attention last month in drag races. James Butler's fantastic little black job won at Green Valley Raceway in Fort Worth, running a stock bore and stroke 289 engine. And Kenneth Petree drove the Jones Ford "Ole Yellar" in Amarillo. The newly-completed pickup dragger turns 114 mph and is being discussed all over the Southwest. Most of the folks were deceived by the appearance, which shows a battered body and hides a tremendous power plant. We'll have a feature story shortly on these two pickups.

Not all of last week was as bad as Wednesday and early Thursday. We sold our house in Hereford Friday night. Saturday night we returned from the rodeo to find that wife Jennie had won a portable television. Only problem is that she's so proud of her prize, she will hardly let the rest of the family watch it. I suggested that it would be very nice to have a T.V. set in the office, but that idea just got me a dirty look.

Three days remain on this year's Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week campaign. There are some noticeable improvements around town, but much remains to be done. Firemen washed down the Expansion also would call for closing in the present porch on the front of the building.

Taylor pointed out that the program also would include extensive renovation of the present building and its facilities to make a more modern medical facility.

If Thursday's meeting indicates public interest and support, it is expected that the County Commissioners' Court would be approached at its regular meeting Monday, June 13, about calling for a bond issue to bring the matter to a vote and approve issuance of

Bill Leigh stresses ways to boost sales during clinic here on Friday

William A. (Bill) Leigh, advertising sales executive and president of Wm. A. Leigh Associates of Okmulgee, Okla., talked shop — literally — to Morton merchants and businessmen and their sales personnel Friday night in an address suggesting ways they might run their shops better. The veteran salesman presented the short course in the art of selling at a dinner sponsored by the Morton Tribune at the County Activity Building in Morton.

Many of those present were enrolled in Leigh's course on "How to Attract and Sell Customers." "I never expect to meet a more important group of people than this," Leigh told his audience of about 60, adding that nothing happens until somebody sells something.

Leigh (pronounced Lay) discussed methods of keeping the regular customer and capturing the occasional customer and the potential customer.

All three types of customers can be attracted and kept, according to Leigh, if a merchant or businessman will sell quality products, give good service, and keep a good sales force.

He went to discuss sales hazards, noting that 68 per cent of all sales are lost, not because of the product involved, but because of emotional reasons — problems ranging from the customer's mood to the impression first made by the salesman.

He listed competition, fear, habit, difficult customer personality, and lack of information about the product as other hazards to a sale. He discussed sales techniques as another means of overcoming customers' resistance and increasing volume.

"Customers are invited guests," said Leigh. "Treat them with the same warmth and charm that you use in your own home."

Approach, interest, guarantee, good qualities, pride of ownership, close, and point of purchase were among the points of technique covered.

Leigh concluded by offering his formula for making Morton a better shopping center: the first step, he said, was for each salesperson to try to become the best in the store; and the second step was to initiate and support a program like the Salute to Values now underway in Morton.

29 crop result demonstrations have been set up this year within county

The County Agent and certain members of the Crops Sub-Committee of Cochran County have set up 29 result demonstrations for 1966.

These result demonstrations include six grain sorgham variety, eight cotton variety, one cotton seedling disease control, two nematode control, five chemical weed control, five fertilizer, and one irrigation demonstration. Other result demonstrations for livestock are not reported here. All the above crop result demonstrations mentioned are located in all precincts in the county.

All farmers are interested in these result demonstrations as each farmer is looking for a variety of method to cut cost and increase income.

Each demonstrator was given a check sheet showing information needed and comments for his particular kind of demonstration; their information can be evaluated when results are determined. A demonstration hand book will be compiled by the agent and committee members giving the results of each completed demonstration. The reported results will be published and evaluated. This information will be mailed out to farmers, growers and businessmen upon request or made available at the office.

The committee is interested in close look at the variety demonstrations, yield and marketing. A map will be on display in the County Agent's office showing various demonstrations and their location in the county.

Miss Moore and Mr. Freeman are married

New Trinity Baptist Church was the setting Saturday night, May 28, when Miss Annie Pearl Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, Morton, became the bride of Arthur Lee Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Freeman Sr., Seminole.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 8 p.m. by Rev. James L. Pollard, pastor.

The bride, given in marriage by her fiancé's brother, James Joyce, wore a floor-length gown of nylon sheer over an acetate taffeta, fashioned with a scooped neckline, sheer long sleeves and a deep V-dip waist in back. The full skirt except to the back and was caught with lovely self flowers. Her elbow length veil of organza cascaded from a tulla of organza roses covered with hand placed pearls and droplets. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and rosebuds atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Zelma Hightower of Morton served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Condelette Lewis, Jo Ann Harvey, Bessie Holland and Marva Freeman, sister of the groom. S. T. Freeman Jr., brother of the groom, was best man. Flower girls were Darlene Joyce, niece of the bride, and Dolores Brown. Ring bearers were Kathy Freeman, sister of the groom, and Troy Patton, nephew of the bride. Mrs. Mary Lee Bapsted, pianist, furnished nuptial music.

A reception was given in the church parlor following the ceremony.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Morton High School. The bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of Seminole High School. He is presently employed at Brom's Shell Station in Seminole.

The new couple will reside at 20 N.E. Avenue B in Seminole.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Graves and children, Sharon and Phillip spent last week in Dallas and Fort Worth. They visited their daughter and son, Mrs. H. L. Shelton and Mr. O. B. Graves from Hurst, Texas. They also visited their parents, M. F. Newman and Helen Graves, both from Fort Worth. They spent a day at Six Flags before returning home.

Acres report deadline Aug. 15 County ASCS notes

August 15, 1966, is the deadline for Cochran County producers to report their acreage measurements of crops, diverted acres, etc. to the county ASCS office, reports Mrs. Ruth McGee, county ASCS Office Manager.

Final date to request acreage measurements by ASCS personnel was Friday, June 3. Approximately 200 farm operators signed up for this service.

Cochran County is one of the counties using the "Certification Plan" of Performance this year whereby farmers not wishing to pay the ASCS measuring fee of $5 per farm visited plus 4 cents per acre measured were allowed to measure their own land.

There is no tolerance allowed for error, however, under the "Certification Plan," and penalty for insufficient diverted acreage or over planting of an allotted crop is twice the diverted acre payment rate.

The August 15 deadline for reporting stands whether or not producers did their own measuring or used the Measuring Service of the ASCS.

Decisive voting beats down area cotton transfers

By a two to one vote, Cochran County cotton farmers beat down a proposal that they be allowed to transfer upland cotton allotments by lease or sale to other counties of the state during 1967, 1968 and 1969.

In a referendum vote on the issue, only 150 cotton producers voted in favor of being allowed to transfer their allotments and 302 voted against the transfer, reported Ruth McGee, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office manager.

Under federal law, a two-thirds majority of cotton producers voters must approve the transfer program. Cochran county, along with a majority of other counties in this area, did not approve the proposal, with the action to be effective for the 1967 year.

Although Cochran County cotton men, as a result of the vote, may not sell or lease their allotments for transfer to other Texas counties, eligible cotton farmers may purchase or lease allotments to be transferred to Cochran County from other cotton counties which okayed the transfer program.

"The result of the Cochran referendum does not rule out the selling or leasing allotments to other eligible producers within the county," explained Mrs. McGee. "Allotments also may be transferred across a county line by eligible ownership."

Under the 1966 sale-lease-transfer program, Cochran County cotton producers transferred 2,450.1 acres of down-state allotments into Cochran County to give the county 1,332.6 additional allotted acres based upon project yield.

Texas A&M schedules short course on greenhouse operation

Texas A&M University and the Greenhouse Vegetable Growers Council will sponsor the 1966 Greenhouse Vegetable Growers Short Course and conference at the Memorial Student Center on the Texas A&M campus June 27 and 28.

The program will include lectures on greenhouse structures, heating, ventilation, cooling, fertilization, practices, growing tomato transplants, pollination, and other topics.

The course has been designed to interest both prospective and commercial growers.

Dr. S. H. Wittwer, director, Michigan Agriculture Experiment Station, will be the featured speaker on the first day of the conference.

Dr. Wittwer, a former professor of horticulture, has worked closely with greenhouse vegetable growers at the midwest for many years. He has had wide research experience with plant hormones, carbon dioxide enrichment of greenhouse atmosphere, nutrition, and cultural practices. He has traveled extensively visiting greenhouse research centers and commercial greenhouses in Europe.

Time has been provided for a question and answer session following each of the speakers on the first day of the conference.

Greenhouse equipment and supply dealers will also exhibit their products at the conference. Registration fee for the course and conference will be $10 per grower payable at the registration desk in the Serpentine Lounge of the Memorial Student Center. Husband and wife, partnership, or corporation will pay only one registration fee.

A Smorgasbord will be held on the evening of June 27 in the Ballroom of the Memorial Student Center. Tickets will be available at the registration desk for $3 each. Parade, thrills and spills at Lil Britches Rodeo

Morton Tribune

MORTON TEXAS,

THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1966

Riders up to 16 years of age thrilled spectators with two performances of a Lil Britches Rodeo here Friday and Saturday night. The events were preceded with a downtown parade Friday afternoon. Area youngsters then competed in roping events, all with stock scaled to size. The Rodeo was sponsored by the Morton Junior Chamber of Commerce

HEADING THE RODEO parade Friday afternoon were members of the Cochran County 4-H Club Junior Riders, all attired in white hats and bright green vests. The riding group also took part in the rodeo Grand Entry and many of the members entered individual events.

WITH A SHOUT, a young cowboy from Lamesa, Danny Jackson, brings his small steer out of the chute bucking and jumping. Jackson was entered in the 13-16 age group in the event.

HEADING HOME after finishing his pole bending ride is one of the many young riders who competed in the two-evening show.

DEBORAH WHITEHEAD leans way over rounding the first barrel in a race against time. The popular young Morton cowgirl posted the night's best time Saturday evening and also entered every other event that was open.

RODEO CLOWN services were provided by Kenneth Petree of Morton, whose costume and antics provided laughs for the crowd. But Kenneth's real purpose in the arena was protecting the young riders from the bucking stock.

COLORFUL GRAND ENTRY opened both performances of the Little Britches Rodeo here Friday and Saturday nights. A large number of horses and riders took part in the weaving spectacle. Cochran County 4-H Riding Club members carried the colors.

WORD POWER!

One of our popular publications, encourages the learning of new words, and in each edition prints a few words that we can add to our vocabulary.

Words have swayed thousands, even changed the course of history. It is through the use of words that men are saved.

"For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe..." "Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men."

ATTEND CHURCH...HEAR GOD'S WORD PREACHED

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
