

Council opens bids, hears Public Housing opposition

The opening of bids on a 40'x80' machinery storage building and a lengthy discussion of public housing took up most of the agenda of the regular City Council meeting Monday night at 7 p.m. in the Plains Steel Buildings, which handle Steel Buildings, Gilliland Construction Co., and Forest Lumber Co. were submitted for consideration. Representatives in all but Gilliland were present to emphasize the selling points of their buildings.

Gilliland Const. Co. was the lowest bidder with $7,966.42, however the council did not select winner, pending inspection of the bids and nearby buildings of the respective bidders. Other bids were: Forrest, $9,569; Plains, $8,111; and Panhandle, $8,895.

Next seven men including Paul Ker, Hazel Hancock, L. C. Reed, in Acree, R. L. Page, Glenn Ack, and Roy Lewis, met with the council to hear further discussion of Public Housing. The group, which all has rent property, voiced their disapproval of the Public Housing plan, which if put into effect by the city, could seriously affect their renting.

Baker said that he believed in home ownership and that anyone renting from him could, if he so desired, buy a home. He went on to say that the FHA loaned money for the purpose of buying a home and that this was a better plan than giving people cheap apartments.

Hazel Hancock added that the only people he believed would benefit from low-cost housing were the liquor stores and car agencies because in most cases, the renters would be saving money by moving into low-cost housing and would then have more money to spend.

Councilman E. C. Seaney said that there hasn't been a government program yet that has worked, and that Public Housing probably wouldn't be an exception.

More discussion followed, centering around which rent property owner would be hurt the most by the Public Housing. The general consensus was that the older rent owners would be hurt seriously. The others agreed that they would be hurt by it but that they would survive.

The council also urged all people, both for and against the Public Housing, to meet with the council and voice their views. This will help the council to form a final opinion about Public Housing. The next council meeting is set for Jan. 23, at 7 p.m. in the city hall.

After the group left, the council turned its attention to the proposed youth center. However, the council made no decisions pertaining to this matter.

On a motion by Donnie Simpson, seconded by Earl Stowe, Fred Payne was appointed auditor for See COUNCIL, Page 7

New postal rates in effect Jan. 15

Use of ZIP Code will make it easier to mail package after January 15, Postmaster Murray L. Crone said today.

New rates and a new system for identifying parcel post zones will go into effect on that date as provided in legislation signed into law by President Johnson on September 20, 1966, the Postmaster pointed out.

The rate increases will average about 10 cents a parcel, Crone said. Starting July 1, the law provides for a series of size and weight increases on packages mailed between first-class offices. Morton is second class office. The size and weight increases will be in five annual steps the last coming on July 1, 1971.

Use of ZIP Code in the recipient's address will enable the sender or a mail clerk to quickly determine the proper zone, and thus the rate, for the package. The zones will be based on the distance a parcel travels between the 52 sectional centers in the country, Crone said.

By consulting a simple chart, which is available at all post offices, the zone can be readily identified because the first three numbers of the ZIP Code represent the sectional center. This replaces a method in which a directory often had to be consulted to locate the proper zone for each of the nation's 3,000 post offices.

The new rates will range from 40 cents for a three-pound parcel destined for local delivery to 60 cents for the same parcel to zone 3 (150 to 300) to $1.05 to zone 8 (over 1,800). The new zoning methods will also apply to air parcel post, catalogs and to publishers who pay zone rates on the advertising portion of their periodicals.

Postmaster Crone noted that all parcels mailed between post offices within the Lubbock sectional center will be charged at the first zone rate. There are fifty five post offices within the Lubbock sectional center.

The new rates are expected to provide an additional $74 million a year for the Post Office Department. The later size and weight increases will add another $32 million a year. The additional revenue is to help keep the Department within 4 per cent of costs on parcel post as the law requires.

Wind damage . . .

LAST WEEK'S blustery cold front did more to Morton than just make it cold. It blew dust, cotton trailers, TV antennas, loose paper and road signs. This is just one example of the wind's strength. The sign, located at the corner of Washington and Main, ended up pointing the way straight down. Wonder what that road would be like? TRIBpix

Earl Polvado named to bank board; Darryl Bennett to vice president

Two major changes were announced Tuesday by the board of directors of the First State Bank of Morton.

Earl Polvado was named as a director on the board, replacing J. W. Smith of Lubbock. And Darryl Bennett was promoted to vice president and assistant cashier.

Bank president Gene Benham commented, "We are especially pleased that Earl Polvado has joined the board. He is an outstanding young farmer, who has demonstrated his ability in Cochran County. We feel that he will be a valuable asset to the bank in this position."

Polvado, a 35-year-old farmer, is a native of Cochran County and was graduated from Bledsoe High School. He and his wife, Christine, have three children: Robin, 6, Melanie, 5, and April, 8 months. They attend the First Baptist Church.

Smith is a senior vice president of the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock and has been a member of the board of the First State Bank for several years. He also has been a vice president of the bank.

"All of us are deeply grateful for the invaluable service that Mr. Smith has rendered to us," Benham commented. "He consented to become a vice president and director at our request and his wise counsel and experience in banking has been of great benefit to us."

Benham pointed out that it was the desire of the board to have completely local control of the bank and that this had been achieved with the election of Polvado. Smith concurred in their thinking he added.

Indians win Plains BB consolation championship

Morton took the consolation consolation championship last weekend at the Plains BB consolation championship. The Indians trailed Tahoka 12-13 and -17, then came back in the third round to gain a 35-36 lead.

But the Bulldogs pulled ahead in the final period and led 46-45 in the final seconds. Morton tied the ball out of bounds and passed to Freddie Thomas, whose jump shot hit the rim, rolled around and finally fell outside as a final gun sounded. Just two days earlier, a similar contest in Morton net a final shot in from Mileshee.

Willis bombed the nets for 19 points in the game, with Thomas leading 1. Mitchell Williams got and Cliff Thomas 13 for the all-dogs.

Three Way lost to Lubbock Christian and then ran afoul of the stingy Morton defense in a second round.

The Indians jumped out front slickly and posted a 17-8 margin in their first period. Defense was the name of the game in the second quarter as Morton hit for 16 points and allowed Three Way only one old goal. That gave Morton a commanding 3-10 edge at halftime.

Whillock cleared the bench and his reserves led the way in gaining a 46-18 margin after three periods. Three Way again was held to a single field goal in the fourth period as the Indians took a 58-20 decision.

Both teams were cold at the foul lines as Morton hit 4 of 10 attempts and Three netted only 2 of 10.

Reserve Ray King led the Tribe scoring with 11 points as 11 of 12 players made points. Jackie Dupler had seven points for the Eagles.

In the consolation finals, Morton bombed the nets in the third period to break open a close game with Seagraves. The Indians took a 54-34 win for the trophy game.

Seagraves led 1-0 and 3-2 as the game opened, but Willis hit on a three point play and John St. it 7-3 and the Indians were never

Commissioners honor Scifres and conduct county business

Leland Scifres, county commissioner from Whiteface for the past eight years, was presented with a hat by the elected officials of Cochran County before the regular Commissioners Court meeting, held Monday. Scifres did not run for re-election this year because of his health.

Scifres was also feted with coffee and donuts during the presentation party. He accepted the hat saying that he really enjoyed and appreciated working with all the people in the courthouse and in his precinct.

Following the party, the commissioners got down to work. The first order of business was the setting of salaries for the new year. Sheriff Hazel Hancock was the first to appear and asked for a raise for deputy Walter Sandefer. His pay was raised from $375 per month to $400 per month.

Leonard Groves then appeared and requested a raise for his chief See HONOR, Page 7

Indians open district with 14-8 win record

Call it experience, call it seasoning, call it non-conference. No matter what term you use, Morton's Indians are through with pre-district action and preparing for a rugged ten-game District 4-AA basketball schedule.

The Indians carry a respectable 14-8 record into conference play. Friday night, Jan. 13, the Tribe will travel to Frenship for a battle with the Tigers. Game time is 8 p.m. after a B team contest that starts at 6:15 p.m.

Coach Ted Whillock likely won't name his starting five until after looking at the casualty list and deciding which of his warriors are ready to go. Junior Dick Vanlandingham will be out for much of district play after receiving a bad ankle sprain. Senior Freddie Thomas also has an ankle injury, but is expected to be ready by Friday night. Sophomore Tommy Davis also is nursing a sprained ankle, but probably will see action. Senior John St. Clair still is recuperating from a severe case of pneumonia, but is beginning to round into shape again.

Next Tuesday, Jan. 17, the Indians will be at home for a loop battle with Slaton.

Post is a heavy favorite to take the District 4-AA cage crown with a senior club that has lost very few this season. Post tied for the district title with Denver City last year and lost the play-off game. Bu Post returned almost all of its team, which Denver City has been rebuilding this year with sophomores and juniors.

Stanton, whose Buffaloes have been bolstered by a school consolidation, is picked to push Post for the conference title. Slaton also is expected to be in contention along with Morton, while Frenship and Denver City are capable of upsets, but are picked to finish near the bottom.

Morton's B team will lay its 15-0 mark on the line Friday night at Frenship as it aims for the district B team title. But part of Coach Robert Taylor's charges are being eyed for varsity duty to replace players who are on the sick and injured list.

To round out the cage action, the Morton seventh, eighth and freshman squads have busy schedules. Freshman squads have busy schedules. Three teams will be on the road for games at Littlefield. On Monday, Jan. 16, the three teams will be at home to host Brownfield.

Sam Kelly's tomato hothouse: it's nothing short of amazing

by GEORGE TUCK News Editor

Just northeast of Morton is 41,000 square feet of farm land. That in itself is not too outstanding until you consider that it is covered by a Plexiglas roof and walls. A little more unusual is that within the confines of the building are 8,200 tomato plants.

In this part of the country, where everything either dies or blows away when winter comes, it is nothing short of amazing to walk into Sam Kelly's tomato greenhouse and see rows upon rows of green, growing things.

8,200 tomato plants . . . THESE ARE AMONG 8,200 tomato plants covered by a Plexiglas roof on the Sam Kelly tomato farm located northeast of Morton. The plants cover nearly an acre and are carefully tended ed by skilled workers and an automatically controlled climate. The temperature will not vary more than 30 degrees from a summer high to a winter low. TRIBpix

MORTON TRIBUNE, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1967

Cochran County must do its part to aid Grlstown USA

This is a call for assistance. In its Dec. 22 issue, the Tribune pointed out that Grlstown USA, located in Cochran County south of Whiteface, was plagued with financial difficulties.

Director Marshall Cooper said that much of trouble was just associated with normal "growing pains" of such an operation. But much of it was due to a lack of regular financial support.

A visit to Grlstown USA this week helped to pinpoint some of the problems. The home for girls needs approximately $150 a month to support each girl. With the exception of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, almost no monthly contributions are received on a regular basis.

Our personal opinion is that substantial support will be forthcoming from several Lions Clubs in the Peninsula area. For a delegation of Lions from Hereford, accompanied by District Governor W. L. "Frasch" Edelman of Frisco, toured the facilities and visited with Cooper and Whiteface School Superintendent Charles Boat Monday. Before they left, a delegation from the Levelland Lions Club and Hockley County Ministerial Alliance arrived for a conference with Cooper.

Hereford Lions almost promised immediate financial aid, pending approval of directors, while Edelman said he would ask for support from District 2-71 at a meeting of club leaders this week.

Financial aid from the groups, on a regular basis, would do much to alleviate the strain now being felt at Grlstown USA. But Cochran County must not fail to do its part.

Grlstown USA is located in Cochran County and, as such, is part of our responsibility. We cannot stand idly on the sidelines and allow others to carry the entire load.

We must do our part... and do it NOW!

ZIP Code should also apply to U. S. government agencies

Early in 1966 the word came out of Washington: All second class and third class mail must be ZIP-coded before it will be handled by the Post Office Department. This will become effective Jan. 1, 1967.

OK, we invested about 100-people-hours and more dollars than we like to remember in preparing new stencils for each Tribune subscriber. We have conscientiously added the ZIP to each new subscription and have added it to all the other correspondence originating from our office.

Now we are having to add the ZIP number to our direct mail bundles of papers, which include such exotic and far-away places as Enoch, Bala, Pep and Baileyboro, not to mention Morton Star Route One, Okay again.

What isn't okay is that the government didn't get the word out to all its bureaus. Last week we received a letter from the Office of Economic Opportunity, Executive Office of the President, Washington, D. C. 20506 Official Business.

Below this was another return address: Texas Educational Foundation, Inc., Gary Job Corps Training Center, Box 1108, San Marcos, Texas, 78666.

Great! But how was the letter addressed? It was addressed to: Editor, Morton Tribune, Morton, Texas.

No ZIP Code was included! That's right, that precious, expensive ZIP number wasn't included.

Now, look, if all us peons are going to have to add that ZIP number to everything that goes through the Post Office, let's make the rules apply to the United States Government, too. Fair is fair. If we are going to have to wrestle with looking up a ZIP code for all our correspondence, the Federal should abide by the same laws that they enacted.

And if you folks in Levelland and other nearby towns aren't getting your papers as early as you used to... blame that on the ZIP code too.

Bundles of paper and mail from Morton going to Levelland used to be dropped off by the mail truck as it headed toward Lubbock. But no more. Now that mail destined for intermediate places must go to a Sectional Center and then be distributed from there. Since Lubbock serves as a Sectional Center for this area, mail headed for Levelland must go all the way to Lubbock and then be returned on the next trip westward.

Perhaps the ZIP code idea will speed mail delivery. We didn't object to adding the five-digit number to all our stencils, or even to our bundles. We didn't even send a bill to the Post Office for the extra expense, although we were tempted.

But in the future, we intend to reject all mail from any U. S. government agency which does not have our ZIP code on it. The Federal government made the rules, now it should be required to obey them just like the rest of us.

Trickery and Deception

A great tragedy of the war in Vietnam is the widespread feeling among people in all walks of life that government news managers in Washington have resorted to trickery and deception in dealing with newspapers and the public. Unreliable war news has shaken public confidence. However, even more tragic and more alarming is the fact that official evasion and suppression of news in connection with Vietnam is merely typical of long-term trend to deny one of the most basic of our rights — the right to know.

The right to know is embodied in the first of the 10 original amendments to the Constitution which states, "... Congress shall make no law ... abridging the freedom ... of the press ..."

While there has yet been no overt attempt to abridge such freedom by law, some of the first steps have been taken in this direction — managed news, official propaganda of government officials and employees, suppression of politically harmful news, coercion and retaliation for criticism of officials.

As a prominent business spokesman points out, "This matter of politicians and bureaucrats telling the public only what they want the public to know has been proceeding on a constantly increasing scale in Washington for a generation or more."

Albert Lea Tribune (Minn.) Freeman "Speaks" Again

The Wall Street Journal has printed a letter from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman complaining about a recent editorial.

"At no time," Mr. Freeman wrote, "did I court the consumer vote by cheering a downturn in farm prices."

"The cheering legend refers to a March 21 press conference at which I said that 'I am pleased to report that farm prices in certain key items have moderated cyclical highs which have accounted for most of the consumer food increase.'"

Discovering America

Americans are always deploring the fact that so many tourists from abroad fail to see the real America — New York, Hollywood, Miami are exciting, but any United States patriot will assure you they are not typical of America.

Now we begin to wonder what makes a place "real America." A North Carolina tourist mission that visited seven European countries this summer based its promotion on the claim that the Tar Heel state is truly American. As a sample of what it has to offer, the volunteer citizen group brought along a member of the Cherokee tribe, Russell Walkingsstick. Mr. Walkingsstick appeared in full tribal regalia for interviews and receptions with tremendous effect.

The mission people lost no opportunity to tell the prospective European tourists that if they came to North Carolina they would see not only more Indians but also uncrowded beaches, wooded mountains, and the spot where the Wright brothers made their first flight.

We find it hard to determine what qualifies an area to be called a part of "the real America." Is it a place where boys play softball of an evening and families watch the game? Where people cook their dinners on a barbecue grill in the backyard? Where they still have church suppers, prepared by the ladies of the congregation who donate both time and ingredients? Where men come home and mow the lawn after the evening meal and paint the front porch steps on a Saturday morning? Where people of moderate means get together and start a little theater or an art museum? Where families go to church together on Sunday?

The real America may have some or all of these customs but there is one essential: It must be simple and friendly. We have a feeling that it can be found almost anywhere, even in the biggest cities. But visitors need to be helped to find it.

The clocks, but not the cows!

Probably one of the biggest hassles of the upcoming new session of the Texas Legislature — not counting higher taxes and growing state bureaucracy — will be what to do about daylight saving time.

Congress a year or so ago enacted a law to put every state on daylight saving time annually, beginning in 1967, unless the state legislature votes to keep its standard of daylight saving time.

Looking at the problem sensibly daylight saving time should be the thing. It will provide another hour of daylight for all those lovely summer evenings — golf, boating, fishing etc. Since most of the nation will be on daylight saving time, the TV programs will all be scheduled with daylight saving time in mind.

City workers love it — and even in Texas there are more city workers than anywhere else in this modern day.

We'd vote for daylight saving time, but then down at Austin there are legislators like Rep. Elbert Cordell Hill of Fort Worth, who voted "no" in a pre-session news questionnaire because "My cows won't milk!"

Mr. Hill, of course, has unusual cows if they have a clock in the barn or pasture and live by the hour hand.

We hope most folks don't become as confused as Cordell appears to be. The daylight saving time bit won't make the sun come up an hour earlier or set an hour later. Only the clocks are going to be changed by an hour — and most folks living habits.

Not the cows!

Highlights and Sidelights—

Heavy swearing in Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. — There has been a lot of swearing going on at the Capitol.

Seems like almost everyone has been sworn into an office of one type or another. We haven't made an official count but the number will approach the 200 mark.

First it was the judges. Then the top elective officials. Then the 21 State Senators and 130 members of the House.

There's no doubt about it, there's a lot of swearing going on in the Texas capital. And there's more to come.

With what's upcoming in the legislative halls, there's likely to be a lot of unofficial swearing, too — a bit stronger in nature. This is bound to happen when so many people get together... and especially when arguments, pro and con, get underway for this and that bill.

It's expected that some 2,500 measures will hit the hopper before the law-making session ends. ON THE ROAD — The 60th session of the Legislature now is underway. How long it will last is anybody's guess.

Three officials in a position to be among the state's best guessers are predicting it will not continue beyond the 140-day deadline for a regular session. This despite a mountain of problems to be resolved.

"We can finish on time," commented Speaker of the House Ben Barnes, as the representatives began to assemble. And he emphasized "I want no special sessions."

Gov. John Connally has voiced a similar view. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is even more strongly convinced that special sessions are out of the question.

"It is not only possible to complete our work in 140 days... there ought to be no other thought than finishing by then — and probably before," commented Smith.

Lieutenant Governor Smith suggested that legislators could speed up their work if they abandoned the usual practice of four-day weeks and stayed in sessions Fridays and Saturdays once the bills start coming out of committees. Asked if he felt that the lawmakers would do that, the lieutenant governor acknowledged that chances of them doing so are slim.

Smith feels the 60th Legislature faces no more problems than previous ones.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court agreed with the lower courts that West Texas State University could indefinitely suspend a student for violating conditions of disciplinary probation for traffic offenses.

High Court also, in effect, upheld tax values of the City of Port Lavaca which had been attacked by property owners who claimed land assessments were discriminatory since bank deposits were left out.

The Bob Weeds spent the weekend with their daughter and son-in-law the Burt Whitsons in Wolf-ford.

Mickey Sue Raindl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Oliphant Sr., left for Houston Wednesday where she will make her home with an aunt while attending the University of Houston.

Mrs. Earl Polvado and Mrs. Clyde Brownlow of the Emelen Smith Jr. Study Club were in Lubbock Saturday to attend a Caprock District TFWC reporting workshop. Mrs. Brownlow, Junior Director of Caprock District, presided at the Junior Conference. Miss Chipman suggested local projects and answered individual questions.

Intermediate GA's

The intermediate GA's of the First Baptist Church met Jan. 8. The meeting was called to order by the president, Gloria Gray. Marylyn Cade, song leader, led in singing the GA hymn. Charlotte Jones read the prayer calendar of missionaries that had birthdays that day. Sue Winder took over the absence of Trezella Hill, program chairman, and presented the program, "Into All the World". Karen Rozell, Karen Fred, Cindy Gannels, Sue Winder, and Charlotte Jones took part in the program. The meeting was closed in prayer said by Melba Townsend. Other members attending the meeting were: Sandy Wood, Regina Butler, Vicki Kennedy, Terry Shifflet, Diane McCasland, Peggy Thomas, Diane Avery, Vicki Goodman and Effie Thomas, counselor.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones heard arguments in the AFL-CIO suit to invalidate the constitutional amendment which would require annual voter registration. Labor leaders claim that the ballot stated only that it would repeal the poll tax as a voting requirement — thus failing to describe its full purpose. Secretary of State John P. Hill has been enjoined from canvassing the November 5 vote on the amendment pending outcome of the suit. AFL-CIO seeks summary judgment. Union officials want permanent registration.

AG RULES — Only licensed physicians or optometrists, not opticians, dispensers of optic goods, can legally fit contact lenses, former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held.

In a separate opinion, Carr concluded that University of Texas regents can require participants in UT postgraduate medical programs to be holders of doctor of medicine degrees, excluding doctors of osteopathy.

PARK TRUSTEE — John Ben Shepperd has been appointed sole trustee and administrator of the LBJ Park Fund.

Fund consists of money donated to buy land across from the LBJ Ranch in Gillespie County.

Selection of the former attorney general for this post was made by the State Parks and Wildlife Commission following criticism of the Commission for its handling of the fund.

Simultaneously, the commission announced it is fencing 25 acres of the 37-acre park to contain deer, buffalo, turkey, longhorns, steers and other native animals.

Park has been enlarged to include historic and scenic, as well as recreational objectives. Area will be open soon, commissioners indicated.

Commission Chairman Will Odum of Austin said Shepperd was named to make the project function more smoothly and not because of earlier criticism. Shepperd said he will reveal the names of the donors to the fund, as requested by Governor Connally, when all land acquisition is complete.

EXHIBIT — A $12,000 exhibit has been prepared to demonstrate the scenic and recreational attractions of Texas. It will be displayed at major travel shows across the nation.

Exhibit includes a miniature waterfall, slides and a diorama depicting each of five areas of the state — East Texas, the Hill Country, the Rio Grande Valley, the Gulf Coast and the Trans-Pecos/Far West Texas region.

Theme of the exhibit is "Texas... For a World of Difference."

PARADE — Eight top tourist attractions will be represented in the inaugural parade for Governor Connally and Lieutenant Governor Smith here on January 17.

They are the Fiesta San Antonio; Austin's Aqua Festival; Buccaneer Days (Corpus Christi); Charro Days (Brownsville); Washington's Birthday Celebration (Laredo); Sun Carnival (El Paso); Houston Fat Stock Show and Rodeo; and "Texas," the outdoor drama from the Pal Duro Canyon Amphitheatre near Amarillo.

Festival floats will be supplemented by military displays and marching units.

GRANTS — Twenty-eight Texas colleges and universities have been recommended for $812,094 in teaching grants from the federal government, says the Higher Education Coordinating Board.

Public senior colleges scheduled to receive $375,499 are Angelo College, Stephen F. Austin State, Sul Ross State, East Texas University, Sam Houston State, Southwest Texas State, Midwestern University, Texas College of Arts and Industries, North Texas State University, Texas Western College and University of Houston.

receive $177,280 are San Jacinto College, Cisco, Wharton, Lee, Laredo, Del Mar, Calhoun, Southwest Texas and County.

Private schools receiving 215 will be South Texas University of St. Thomas, Christian College, Jarvis College, Texas Christian University, Bishop College, Lumen Dailas, and St. Edward's University.

Schools must match federal money on at least a dollar-for-dollar basis.

Federal approval is expected within the next few months. AIRPORTS — Mustang is in Texas increased from 20 the past year, says the State Aeronautics Commission.

Texas still leads the nation in the number of airports though the total decrease 830 to 370.

RATES CHANGED — A cent across-the-board rate increase in title insurance rates, the jump since 1962, has been ordered by the State Board of Insurance.

Reduction was approved by the Board okaying a filing of Crop-Hail Actuarial Ass'n, Chicago, proposing rates in forms for the 1967 growing season.

SUITS SETTLED — 12 oil well lawsuits involving 75 possible penalties were settled by the state against 30 days in the Longview-Tyler-Kilgus for $391,925.

Settlements were requested by defendants after Atty. Gen. Ford Martin hinted he would go along with earlier formal order for disposing of such suits.

Twenty-six other suits were still are pending.

WATER, WATER — A plan for solving West Texas' problems by transporting amounts across the state by Mississippi River and other canals is undergoing cost study by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Included in the survey is water transportation from the listed Reservoir near Del Rio, El Paso and the Trans-Pecos.

Bureau expects to have estimates assembled by March. Its findings will be incorporated into the Texas Water Plan, now being finalized by the Water Development Board.

CONTRACTS — Southern Dimension, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will let contracts representing well over $60 million of construction on projects.

Texas lettings are included $24,000,000 scheduled for a state area. This is a 5 per cent increase over 1966 contract awards.

SHORT SNORTS — Jesse E. State Treasurer who took oath of office on January 10, served the State longer than any other Treasurer, having first appointed to the office in 1951 to replace Charley Lockhart, who signed... ### Historical Survey OK's constitution

The Cochran County Historical Survey Committee met Saturday, Jan. 7, at the Chamber of Commerce office with Mrs. H. B. Barker, chairman, presiding. Mrs. Barker opened the meeting with a prayer, followed by the reading of the minutes by Mrs. Hume Russell.
Miss Lonora Jackson, chairman, of the Constitution Committee for the Cochran County Historical Museum Association, submitted a proposed constitution for that association. After reading and making some changes in the document, the Committee adopted the constitution on a motion by Truman Doss and seconded by Mrs. Alvie Harris. Elvins Fleming moved, with second by Miss Jackson, that the 1967 officers of the Survey Committee also serve as the officers of the Museum Association, since the Survey Committee is acting as a parent organization for the museum. Fleming's motion carried, and Mrs. Barker appointed a nomination committee to select the new officers. The committee includes Walter L. Taylor, chairman, Mrs. Alvie Harris, Mrs. Truman Doss, and Jerry Winder.
The next meeting was scheduled for 3:00 p.m. Jan. 21 in the Production Credit Building.

Reynolds, Mrs. Neal Rose, and Dean Weatherly, all of Morton, and Mrs. Clyde McCormick of Bledsoe. ### Study Club holds meet January 5

The Edna L. Slaughter Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Hazel Hancock Thursday, Jan. 5 at 7:30 p.m.
Mrs. Dean Jackson read the club collect followed by a business meeting at which the club project, a lift for the nursing home, was discussed. Also discussed was the community improvement for the Caprock District.

It was reported that individual gifts for each resident of Roberts Memorial Nursing Home were delivered in time for the Christmas party. It was also reported that a member of the club had baked and delivered 18 dozen cookies to the nursing home.
Thursday, Jan. 19: Barbecue on hogs, potato chips, pickles and relish, peanut butter cookies and milk.
Friday, Jan. 20: Pimento cheese sandwich, sliced tomatoes, fruit, corn, sliced bread and milk.

The program for the evening was delivered by Mrs. Lovella Jackson and Mrs. Iva Williams. Mrs. Jackson's program dealt with the need of an organized parent-teacher program in the county. It was believed that a better standard of living, education and morals could be brought about through the program.

Mrs. Williams discussed the new trends in education. She used visual aids to show the advances that men have made in travel and communications. With each of these improvements man has had to improve his own ability to learn to do things faster by visual and audio aids were used to show how our school is trying to keep pace with times.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Willie Taylor, Horace Gardner, Elmer Gardner, Lovella Jackson, Iva Williams, Roy Brown, Dean Jackson, Elra Oden, Leonard Coleman, Ruth McGee, Hestie B. Spotts, Elzie Brown and Earl Brownlow.

Thru the telescope by Tuck

President Johnson issued his State of the Union message to Congress Tuesday night. It indicated that the Great Society program will be continued on all fronts and expanded on many, while the fighting will continue in Vietnam for some time. Added revenue will be sought from a six per cent tax increase. An increase in Social Security payments of 20 per cent also would have to be financed by higher taxes in that area. Although it is difficult to judge the mood of a gathering from an electronic picture, Congress seemed to be less wildly enthusiastic and more cautious in its response to the message. I'm sure it was entirely accidental, but one of the most interesting moments came when a camera happened to be focused on Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York when the President announced that he would seek an end to wiretapping.

This past week, it has been suggested that the Electoral College be abandoned. With modern communications, the results of presidential elections are known almost immediately and it seems redundant to have folks gather a month later and declare how their respective states have voted.

This is the halfway point for our schools as they finish the first semester and get ready for the last half of the educational year. Already, I can hear folks saying, "Not already?" But it's true. Whiteface superintendent Charles Box said it wasn't the easiest part at all, especially when he thought about all that had to be crammed into the final 18 weeks or so.

January clearance sales are still in progress, or being planned for the near future. And Morton merchants are offered some extra good bargains this year. Results have been encouraging and you will want to browse through the stores and take advantage of their special prices.

Morton basketball players will begin their district play Friday night at Friendship with the B game starting at 6:15 p.m. and the varsity tilt at 8 p.m. Friendship isn't too far away and the Indians need your support. Next Tuesday, the Indians will be at home to play Slaton and the fieldhouse should be packed. Last year, the Tribe won only ten games in the entire season. This year, they have posted a 14-8 mark and could be in contention for the top spot in District 4-AA. Post is favored, but Slaton and Slaton are expected to push them. No one is expecting Morton to do too well, so we might be able to upset a few folks during the next ten games.

If you'd like to see some of our basketball prospects for the future, the freshmen and eighth grade teams will be playing in Littlefield Thursday, Jan. 12. On Monday, Jan. 16, the seventh, eighth and frosh squads will host Brownfield. First game starts at 4:30 p.m.

It might have been sheer coincidence, but a number of folks have asked us this week how Sam Kelly was doing with his indoor tomato production. And this is the week that News Editor George Tuck went out for a visit and reports his findings this week. Sam apparently is doing quite well, with a guaranteed market for all his production and some beautiful tomatoes to sell. Sam and dairyman Bob Ramp are just two examples of diversification from cotton.

Banker Gene Benham, grocer Orville Tilger and Chamber manager Leon Kessler are just three who are enthused about the prospects of growing grapes in Cochran County. Grapes can be a good crop, although it takes two or three years to begin getting any results and about five years to reach good production. In fact, any of you farmers who are interested in planting a few acres of grapes are asked to contact Leon at the Chamber office. He should have some detailed information in the next few days and it might be possible to get some grapes planted here within the next six weeks.

Luke and Kate Hargrove spent some time during the Christmas holidays visiting in South Texas and in Mexico. Luke was slightly put out that the weather was cold along the Gulf, because that limited his fishing. But he probably would have been even more put out if Kate had located some of those Mexican furniture factories she was hunting. I just can't visualize Luke hauling back a carload or a vanload of furniture after a vacation. Of course, in my 15 years of married life, I've learned that looking for furniture, antiques and clothes is about the same for a woman as browsing through a sporting goods store, a car show or a boat show for a man. In both cases, there's a lot more looking than buying. Earlier in my marriage, I might have added to the man's list, attending beauty contests; but experience has made me more discreet, even if no wiser.

It's the NFL vs the AFL on Sunday. With conversational replay Monday.

Whiteface Study Club has meeting

The regular meeting of the Whiteface Study Club met in the Elementary Auditorium January 5, at 7:30 p.m. The roll call was "An important date in Texas history."

In a short business meeting Mrs. J. W. Allen proposed that the members participate in support of the High Plains Training Center for Retarded Children in Plainview. She said that they needed such things as bean bags, tumbling mats, educational toys and a 3x6 mirror as well as any money that could be sent. The club voted to send a dollar a member and to send some of the other things later.

For the program, Mrs. Fred Moseley presented a book review on "Land of the High Skies" by John Howard Griffin. The book deals with the history of the Permian Basin and Midland Area.

Members present were: Mesdames Marvin Lasater, Elmer Evans, Keith Harrison, Don Price, Jack French, Rex Black, John Fietz, Max Dickerson, Royce Elam, Marvin Kuhler, Dale Read, J. W. Allen and Fred Moseley.

Funeral services for Charlie Hickman, 87, were held at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 8, in the Singleton Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Kenneth Wyatt, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial followed at Morton Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Hickman, a retired farmer and Cochran County resident since 1924, died Friday, Jan. 6, in the Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

A resident of Waxahachie before moving to Morton, Hickman is survived by his wife, Fronie, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Lem Chesher of Lubbock; a stepson, Dr. B. B.

Mrs. Thompson is new administrator

Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, bookkeeper for the Morton Memorial Hospital since 1962, has been appointed hospital administrator by Drs. W. B. McSpadden and Garrett Bryan. The appointment followed the resignation of Richard Biggs, who went to Levelland Clinic and Hospital as hospital administrator on Dec. 26.

Mrs. Thompson said that she plans no major policy change and will continue with the same basic hospital operation.

Her husband is the hospital technician and has worked in Muleshoe before moving here in June of 1962. They have four sons, Lavoy, 18, Wayne, 16, Bill, 13, and Steve 11, and live at 104 SW 5th.

1936 Study Club hears review

The 1936 Study Club held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Cyrus Fields on Wednesday Jan. 4 at 4 p.m.

A short business session was held with the president, Mrs. Glenn Thompson, presiding. Mrs. H. B. King led the club in reading the Club Collect, followed by the introduction of the program by Mrs. Joe Gipson, program chairman. The title of the program was "American Story Writer" and the speaker was Mrs. Lloyd Miller.

Mrs. Miller presented a very interesting book review entitled "Papa Hemingway" by A. E. Hatcher, which consisted of the author's personal memories of the great writer 12 years before his death. The past was interwoven with the present to give a full description of Papa's and Miss Mary's lives. Mr. Hemingway was described as massive and strong, but twelve years later he was thin, broken in spirit and health. Ernest Hemingway drew powerful novels and short stories. He also found rich material for fiction in the world of sports, boxing, bull fighting, hunting, and fishing. But he went beyond surface violence to probe the souls of men in conflict. Mary cries consider Hemingway the first American writer of his time. Mrs. Miller, in her review told how Hatcher tried to talk Papa out of committing suicide. Mr. Hemingway died July 2, 1961, and he is remembered as a great American author, admired by all men. He wrote, "Man is not made for defeat. Man can be destroyed, but not defeated."

Members present at the meeting were Mrs. W. C. Benham, Mrs. Joe Gipson, Mrs. L. F. Hargrove, Mrs. H. B. King, Mrs. Gage Knox, Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Joe Nicewarer, Mrs. Neal Rose, Mrs. Harold Reynolds, Mrs. James St. Clair, Mrs. Glenn Thompson, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, guests Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Paul Davis and the hostess, Mrs. Cyrus Fields.

Jan. 18. The program will be "Expiration of Sin Through Suffering", a review of "Yoknapathwpha County," by William Faulkner, presented by Mrs. Neal Rose.

The Knowledge of the Lord

Habakkuk 2:14. "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

The Church is chosen of God to spread the good news that God has a plan to redeem men and reconcile them unto Himself through the vicarious sacrifice of Jesus Christ our Lord. The Church will be so successful in spreading this glorious knowledge in the world that God says the earth will be as full of it as the waters that fill the ocean. Attend church and become a part of this great undertaking.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Ordinarily, the louvers won't open until the temperature in the house reaches a certain point. When the temperature gets too high, the louvers open and water runs down the air conditioner pads to assist in cooling the house.

However, before the louvers open, a series of exhaust fans kick in in sequence as the temperature rises. The final stage is when all the fans are on, the louvers are open, and water is running down the cooling pads.

Heating is a similar operation requiring 28 heaters producing 500,000 BTU's to keep the temperature constant on cold nights. As the temperature drops the cooling operation ceases and the heaters kick on in sequence as needed.

Kelly said that the temperature during the winter will vary from a low of 58 degrees to a high of 75 degrees. During the summer it will range from 65-85 degrees. The entire temperature and humidity operation is controlled by an automatic sensing device similar to a thermostat which will turn on heating or cooling operations as needed.

A great deal of work is still, of necessity, done by hand. This includes the tomato picking, plant spraying, watering and plant tending.

Kelly said that the plants were disease free because they have a constant program of insecticide and fungicide spraying. The signs at the entrance to the building say "No Smoking." This is because tomato plants are susceptible to tobacco mosaic, a mold caused by nicotine stained fingers touching the plant.

Sam smiled and looked thoughtfully at the cigarette he was smoking and said, "I'd just about shoot anybody I caught smoking in here. But I'm the boss and I never handle any plants unless I wash my hands first."

Asked if he would do anything different now that he was in the business Kelly said, "I sure wouldn't go into it without a market like I did this time."

At the present time, Kelly is selling all his tomatoes to Piggly Wiggly in Lubbock except for what Morton supermarkets use. His first sales were made in Hobbs, N.M., when his first batch of tomatoes ripened about Thanksgiving.

The tomato vines, all of which have been grown from seed, are tied with string just above ground level, the string is then tied to wires which run parallel to the ground and about seven feet above it. The tops of the vines are then raised or lowered depending upon where the tomatoes are located.

As the tomatoes at the top of the vine begin to ripen, the vine is lowered closer to the ground to prevent breakage to the vine. Generally, the tomatoes will ripen in sequence starting with the lowest bunch and proceed up the vine.

Sam said that almost all of the tomatoes, which are the Florida variety, will grade No. 1. Those that don't are usually double polled tomatoes; two or more tomatoes that grow together because the pollen fell in a bunch, rather than singly. Kelly said that this is a universal problem with greenhouse tomatoes.

The tomatoes, which take about 45 days from bloom to picking, have received rave comments from the local groceries. E. C. Seaney, owner of Seaney's Grocery, said Kelly's tomatoes were the best quality he had ever had in his store.

Kelly is especially happy about his production. Veteran tomato growers told him it would take some years before the operation would be on a paying basis. It is on an expense-paying basis now with only half of capacity production. Full production is expected in a few months.

However, Kelly confided that he had provided some of the money of the $85,000 value operation himself and was not figuring that money as a loan on his operating cost.

The job of tending to the nearly one acre greenhouse is not an easy one. But Kelly said that he has good men, who know their business working the plants.

A good luck at Sam Kelly's tomato greenhouse will convince you that both Sam and his men know their business.

headed. Willie Moore made the first basket for the Tribe and Donnie Harvey hit three in a row from the corner to give the Indians a 12-9 edge after one quarter.

The Eagles from Seagraves pulled within a point on a two-pointer early in the second quarter. But Willis hit on the side straight free throws and Harvey, Tommy Davis and Ray King each chipped in a field goal during the period.

Morton had a 21-14 lead with 1:50 left in the first half when the Eagles chipped away at the lead and got to 21-20 with 18 seconds left. King's basket came with 10 seconds remaining to give Morton a three point lead at halftime, 23-20.

Then came a dazzling third period when Morton tallied 29 points on ten field goals. A determined defense and good rebounding held Seagraves to just ten points. Morton entered the final quarter with a 43-30 edge as Willis had netted five field goals in the eight-minute stanza.

Reserves flooded the courts as Morton pulled away to a 50-32 margin with 3:3 left. The clock ran out as Morton took a 54-34 decision. The frustrated Eagles hit only two field goals in the final period and missed all five free throw attempts.

Willis led the way with 18 points on six field goals and six of seven free throw tries. Harvey netted six field goals, all from the corner, and both free throw tries for 14 points.

Terry Cummings was the only Eagle to get into double figures as he made 1.

deputy, Virginia Merrill. Her pay raise was boosted from $345 to $380.

Joy Flaunt, secretary for the county and home demonstration agents, had her salary raised from $275 to $280.

Later in the meeting, James Walker met with the commissioners and defended his secretary's salary. The commissioners asked that her salary of $2,160 yearly be cut in half and that Walker pay her a matching amount with the county. This was asked because the commissioners felt that she was doing as much work for Walker in his private practice as she was for the county.

The commissioners said that they understood Walker was supposed to pay half of her salary. Walker countered that there was no such understanding with him when he took the job and that it was unfair for them to make such a request at the present time.

Following much bartering and innumerable references to the fact that it was rapidly approaching lunch time, the commissioners agreed to leave the salary set at the present level and make a decision on it later in the year.

On a motion by Leonard Coleman, seconded by Haral Rawls, the county was authorized to advertise for a depository for county wide school funds.

The First State Bank of Morton was named depository for two years for the county administrative funds on a motion by Coleman, seconded by U. F. Wells.

T. A. Washington, commissioner replacing Scifres, asked for a new heavy duty truck with power take-off and short wheel base. The motion to advertise for the truck was made by Washington and seconded by Rawls.

Coleman and U. F. Wells made and second a motion that each commissioner appoint an overseer for his precinct. The motion was passed.

County Judge Johnny Love read a letter from the state asking if the county wanted their officials placed on a salary or a fee basis. On a motion by Coleman, second-taxes. This came on a motion by Simpson and seconded by Stowe. The December bills, totaling $6,741.06, were paid on a motion by Stowe and seconded by Simpson.

The Morton Volunteer Fire Department made a request for six bunker coats at a cost of approximately $31 each and six heat shields (which fasten onto the helmets) at $8 each. The request was approved on a motion by Stowe and second by Simpson.

Maurice Lewallen, city building inspector, met with the council to seek approval of three assistant building inspectors. He asked for this in case he was out of town when an inspection was needed. These three would be able to give a temporary inspection, pending a full inspection by Lewallen.

Elra Oden, city secretary, was appointed assistant plumbing inspector; Wimp Houghton, assistant building inspector; and Fred Morrison, assistant electrical inspector. Morrison will be paid $4 per unit while Oden and Houghton will not be paid because they are city employees. The appointments and the payment was approved on a motion by Seaney, seconded by Simpson.

The council also held a discussion about revising the present
