Morton band is outstanding

The Morton High School band came away from the Tri-State Music Festival with the outstanding concert band award. The award is presented to the band which, according to the judges, is the best band in that class.

The Morton band attended the contest in Enid, Okla., last weekend for the first time. They competed in concert, sightreading, stage band and solo and ensemble contests.

John Stockdale, director of the band, said that three first divisions were awarded in concert competition in their class and that Texas bands came away with all three of the awards. Others making first division, besides Morton were Spearman and Denver City. About 14 competed in Morton's class, Class B, coming from Texas, Mississippi, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

Stockdale said that the band should have been competing in class CCC, a class lower than B. However, he said that the larger class was more competitive and that he felt the Morton group was capable of competing effectively in it.

The band received a second division (excellent) in sightreading. The ratings for the stage band were not available at press time. Only two bands received a first division in sightreading.

The band played "Sol Y Sombra" by George Gates and "Choral Prelude in E Minor" by Alfred Reed for their concert. "Mischief Makers" by Nelson Riddle was the sightreading number.

Judges for the concert were Martin Boudry, London, Ontario, Canada; Dr. Robert Hawkins, Western State College, Colorado; and C. M. Siooke, University of Oklahoma.

Sightreading judge was Dr. Joe L. Haddon, Midwestern University, Texas.

Eighty-nine students and 10 sponsors made the trip. Stockdale said

Commissioners open bids

Bids were again opened in the Cochran County Commissioners Court during their regular meeting Monday in the Court House. Bids were also opened last week during a special meeting.

This week's bid was for a pickup. The last bid was for a car for the sheriff's office.

Awarded the bid was Ernest

Gentry Ford of Levelland with the low bid of $1458. Motion to award the bid to Gentry was made by Harrah Rawls, seconded by U. F. Wells.

Other bids were George Burkett, $1,846.60; Reynolds-Hamilton Ford, $1,850; Allsup-Perry Chevrolet, $1,850; and Enos Tractor, $1,916.18.

Early in the meeting a man met with the court to ask their help in paying his daughter-in-law's hospital bill of $757.85. He said that she had an operation and that she was unable to work. She is employed as a waitress. The man said his son had not paid any on the bill and that the man could not afford to pay for it himself. The court took no action.

On a motion by Wells, seconded by Rawls, the court approved the release of $104,000 in certificates by the Continental National Bank of Fort Worth. The certificates are used as security for the county's funds in the local bank. The $104,000 represents excess security for the county's present holdings.

The county's bills for the month of April were approved for payment on a motion by Leonard Coleman and seconded by Wells.

A total of $60,000 was transferred from the car license fund to Road and Bridge funds 1, 2, 3, and 4. Each R&B fund will get $15,000. Transfer of the money was approved.

TB x-ray unit slated in Morton on May 17

Chest X-ray Day in Morton will be May 17th.

The Morton Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsor of the Chest Survey, a project supported by 11 Morton businesses, the Morton Lions Club and five women's study clubs.

The Mobile Detection Unit of the West Texas Tuberculosis Association will be parked at Doss Thriftway parking lot next Wednesday for the use of the public.

Annual chest X-rays prove useful in the detection of tuberculosis, emphysema, cancer, heart irregularities and other chest ailments. Those who smoke are urged by the Association to have chest X-rays oftener than once a year.

The WTTA requests a $1.00 contribution of persons using the Mobile Unit to cover the cost of each X-ray. X-rays are given, of course, for a lesser amount when those in need cannot afford the minimum cost.

Morton businesses supporting the Chest Survey in this community include: Allsup Perry Chevrolet, to a late start, the councilmen ended their business promptly at 8 p.m., just in time to get fed.

The first item on the agenda was the parking on the east side of the square. H. T. Clarke appeared before the council to see if they had decided on a remedy for the problem.

The council asked how much of a problem that it was and Clarke replied that most of the parking places were taken all of the time, especially on Saturday.

He said that with two domino parlors and a pool hall on the same side of the square he didn't have a chance.

Chief of Police Burtis Cloud soon came into the meeting and was immediately faced with the problem. He said that a time limit on parking could be set but that it would eventually stretch from city limits to city limits, instead of being restricted to one block.

Councilman Earl Stowe said that setting a time limit wouldn't solve the problem and might even create a few others.

It was suggested that the fire lane in front of the Wallace Theater be changed to a parking place now that the theater was not being used. This plan of action was finally approved by the council even though no vote was taken.

Cloud then asked for a $25 a month raise for patrolman Charlie Ellis. Ellis has been a patrolman for the city for about 10 months and is now drawing $350.

A motion was made and seconded by Stowe and Donnie Simpson to give Ellis the raise. The motion carried.

Cloud asked the council what they wanted him to do about cars without wheels parked in the street. The council asked if he had talked with the owners in question and Cloud replied that he had and that they were unwilling to move their cars.

The council asked city secretary Elra Oden about the legality of towing away cars parked on the street. Oden replied that he did not know right off hand but that he would check with attorney James Walker about it.

If the city has the right to tow away the cars, then it will be done.

Cloud also told the council that some property owners have built their fences too close to the curb and too high to allow drivers a clear field of vision. Oden said he had had received several complaints about the fences also. The

Two local 4-H members in statewide competition

Two Morton 4-H-ers earned a trip to the State 4-H Round-up at Texas A&M June 6-7, by winning firsts in the District 4-H contest held in Lubbock Saturday. Winning the right to represent the district were Marilyn Cade and Larry Hale.

Miss Cade entered the Clothing Education Activity with a demonstration on buying a man's shirt. Larry entered the senior Farm and Ranch Management Contest using the Hale farm as an example. He was presented with a desk pen set by contest sponsors Production Credit Association.

A total of 19 Cochran County 4-H-ers participated in the contest. Among those entered were Jan Thomas and Ronald Hale. They received a second place on their senior Co-operative Team demonstration entitled "We Need Co-operatives."

Rickey Lemons placed fourth in the senior tractor operator contest and won a 4-H pocket knife. In the junior division, Christy Cade and Treva Lemons won first on their demonstration "Vegetables A to Z" entered in the junior Vegetable Preparation and Use contest. Junior division winners are not eligible to compete in the State competition.

Deborah Whitehead and Sammy Barnett won second place on their junior horse demonstration "Barrel Racing for Fun and Profit."

Second place ribbons were won by the Cochran County junior Share-the-Fun Team. Giving a skit entitled "TV Jumble", a parody on TV programs and commercials, were Barbara Brown, Randy Clayton, Lee Ray Davis, Terry Donathan, Sherita Fluitt, Vicki Hall, Farley Inglis, and Paul Rozell.

Also competing in the junior contest were Terry Cartwright and Dennis Ford. They entered an electric demonstration on how to make extension cords.

Attending with the Cochran County Teams were Mrs. E. C. Hale, Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Mrs. A. E. Cade, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. Cherylne Inglis, Mrs. Tommy Donathan, Mrs. James Whitehead and Mrs. J. N. Burnett, coaches for the team, and County Agents Homer E. Thompson and Jennie Allen.

Abruptly our weather went from winter to summer. From temperatures below freezing to above 90 is pretty drastic in less than a week's time, but that is what we have experienced. The freezes damaged some of the wheat last week, turned the grass a strange greenish-brown color and even nipped the dandelions a tiny bit.

The Morton High School band returned Saturday evening from a most successful trip to Enid, Okla., for the 35th annual Tri-State Music Festival. All sorts of funny things were reported by the youngsters, but the strangest tale of all was that it had rained most of the time they were in Enid. No wonder they played so well they were named as Honor Band of their class. Congratulations to the bandmen and leaders for their great work this year.

C. F. Winder, a long-time postal employee and rural mail carrier, is proud as can be this week. He got a letter from some of the folks on the north end of his Route One, saying that a tree had been planted in his name at the Cochran County Historical Museum, as a mark of appreciation for his many years of service to the patrons on his route. Quite touched, and rightly so, C. F. is writing personal letters of thanks to all who contributed to the living memorial in his honor.

You could have called it a "clean sweep" sale if you preferred a play on words or just a "mop and broom" sale if you wanted to be rather prosaic about it. But no matter what the label, there were a lot of Morton Lions out covering the town early Wednesday morning with loads of mops, brooms, and lots of other cleaning aids. When we left, the competition was really getting heated between the Black Hats and the White Hats. Regardless of which team won, the beneficiaries of the many Lions Club charities really came out ahead.

Little League baseball got started Monday. After two nights of play, the Colts have won two games and the Giants and the Pirates have one victory each. Minor League play begins Friday, May 12, with games at 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Games for the Little League teams during the next week will include Giants vs. Pirates and Sox vs. Cards on Thursday; Colts vs. Giants and Pirates vs. Cards on Monday; Cubs vs. Sox and Cards vs. Giants on Tuesday. Little League officers, managers and coaches are reminded of a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 12, at the Little League Park to discuss a protest.

Rusty Reeder, Leon Kessler and Dean Weatherly attended an open house and tour of the new Maddox generator plant at Hobbs on Tuesday. They said they had a fine time, except for the timing of the door awards. Each visitor was given a lovely paperweight, made from an oil well core sample. The sample was about four inches in diameter, one inch thick and about a pound in weight. The gifts were handed out as the day began and all the visitors had to Mark Twain once edited a paper in Missouri. A subscriber got his newspaper once and found a spider inside. He wrote the editor and asked if finding the spider was good luck or bad. Mark Twain replied, "Old Timer: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad. That spider was simply looking through the paper to find out which merchants were not advertising so he could go to their store, spin a web across their door and lead an undisturbed life forever."

proved on a motion and seconded by Coleman and T. A. Washington. Rusty Reeder, manager of Cochran Power and Light, met with the court to discuss the possibility of installing electric heating and air conditioning in the courthouse and hospital when they are improved. Also attending the meeting with Reeder were Jim Kimbrough and Roy Shelton, power company representatives.

Kimbrough presented cost studies for heating the buildings for one year. No costs were given for air conditioning, but he said they should about equal the heating costs. The court said that plans for the buildings were pretty well along and that the type of heating and air conditioning would be left up to the architect. They also said that it was never too late to change if it would save the county some money.

The court leased the county swimming pool to Terry Anglin for $1 until Sept. 11, 1967. This came on a motion and second by Wells and Washington.

Coleman made a motion to approve the county treasurer's first quarterly report for 1967. The motion was seconded by Wells and approved by the court.

Commissioners signed the organization order and oath of office setting the Equalization Board in session. The board is now officially in session.

Harral Rawls made a motion setting the time of the Board of Equalization for local taxes as June 21 at 10 a.m. The second was made by Washington and approved by the court.

The oil hearing is set for June 23. Local tax valuation notices will be sent out by June 10 and only to those whose valuations have changed.

Colts, Giants take season openers in Little League

Randy Bedwell pitched a three-hitter for the Colts Monday night to open the 1967 Little League baseball season in Morton. He shut out the Cards as the Colts took a 10-0 decision.

Alex Perez opened with a double for the Cards, but was stranded on third as the next three batters went down in order.

With two out in the last of the first inning, third baseman Ricky Woods homered over right center to give the Colts a lead. Bryant Lewis doubled and scored on a walk and a wild pitch.

In the second, the Cards got two on by walks but the next three struck out. The Colts added another run in the second on singles by Ricky Bedwell, Mark Fluitt and Lanny Tyson.

Perez and David Palmer doubled for the Cards, but a fly to left field doubled off Perez to prevent a score in the third. Lewis doubled and scored on a walk and a double by Ricky Bedwell.

In the last of the fourth, the Colts exploded for six runs on two errors, a single by Ronny Bedwell, four walks and a single by James Partlow.

That was the last of the scoring.

Perez was the leading hitter for the Cards with a pair of doubles in three attempts. Bryant Lewis paced the Colt attack with a perfect night, including two doubles, a single and a walk. Ricky Bedwell had a single and a double in two at-bats.

Randy Bedwell struck out eight, walked four and gave up three hits. Jerry Silhan was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Perez in the fourth. Terry Jones also came in during the fourth and went the rest of the way.

The Cubs got two of those runs back in the last of the second on three walks and two fielder's choices.

But the Giants came back in the fourth for three runs on three walks, singles by Mayon and Mason and a double by Smith.

In the top of the fifth, the Giants tallied another run on singles by Skip Vogel and Lane Mayon. The Cubs managed to garner a pair of runs in the last of the fifth on singles by Pete Soliz and Tommy Tuck and a double by Jack Sublett.

Three runs for the Giants in the top of the sixth made it 12-4. The scores came on singles by Kuehler and Key, a walk and a double by Gilbert Ramos.

Then came a wild outburst by the Cubs for seven runs. The tying run was cut off at the plate with the bases loaded and two out. Tommy McClintock opened with a walk. Pete Soliz, Ronny Richardson, Larry Thompson and Tommy Tuck all singled. Then Jack Sublett blasted a three-run homer over center field. With two out, walks were issued to McClintock, Terry Donathan and Hanna to load the bases.

With a two-strike count on the batter, McClintock tried to come home on a passed ball but was tagged at the plate to end the rally. Lane Mayon started for the Giants and got credit for the win. But he needed help from Ralph Mason in the sixth. Ronny Richardson was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Tommy Tuck in the fourth.

Mayon hit three singles in four at-bats for the Giants. Darrell Smith got a single and a double

The JALMA (Japanese leprosy mission for Asia) also makes possible the treatment of the lepers in Arga Fort, Delhi, Etawah and Ghatampur, by providing a medical van, and staff of the Arga hospital which make weekly trips to these outlying colonies. So far 7,000 lepers have been treated this

Spring Daisies theme for Y. M. installation

"Spring Daisies" was the decoration theme of the buffet supper when the Y.M. Study Club held its installation dinner Thursday, May 4, in the home of Mrs. Richard Biggs of Levelland. Mrs. Weldon Wynn was installed as resident, with Mrs. Jack Gunnels as the installing officer.

Following the invocation, by Mrs. Jerry Winder, and dinner, the members heard "Our Past Year" given by the year's historian Mrs. Robbie Key.

Then the toast mistress Mrs. Frances Shiflett introduced the installing officer. Using "the Rainbow" as her theme, Mrs. Gunnels asked each officer to unroll a specific color appropriate to her office. The following were installed: President, Mrs. Weldon Wynn; 1st Vice-president, Mrs. George Hargrove; 2 vice pres. Mrs. Leonard Groves; Secretary-reporter, Mrs. Jerry Winder; Treasurer, Mrs. Ray Lanier; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Dexter Nebbut; auditor, Mrs. Fred Weaver, and Parliamentarian, Mrs. Max Clark.

"Light your Pathways in 1967-68" will be Mrs. Wynn's theme for the coming year. In her address she spoke of "Light is the servant of man". In travel and in work, we need a light to guide and help us. In homes — we need lights in our home for comfort and warmth; In health, we need light in or-way. Due to the efforts of the JALMA there has been a great step forward in the treatment and cure of leprosy. A century ago there was an estimated 200,000 lepers in Asia. Today, only 11,000 cases remain.

Following the program officers of the coming year were elected.

Members present were: Mesdames R. H. Rhyme, Hestie Spotts, J. W. Nichols, W. J. Wood, Kenneth Wyatt, Don Hoffman, John McGee, Joe Seagler, E. O. Willingham, J. R. Kuykendal, P. B. Ramby, Lee Taylor, R. L. DeBask, and the hostess Mrs. C. H. Silvers.

Morton Area Clubs win statewide recognition

Area Council of Women's Clubs, Morton, Texas, an organization of eight women's clubs, won the second-place state award of $300 for its educational program for young people. The award was made May 3 at the State Convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Dallas.

The award is one of three totaling $1,000 made in Texas this year through the General Federation of Women's Clubs-Shell Oil Company Education Program.

Area Council of Women's Clubs, an amalgamation of eight women's clubs, won its award for a diversified program furthering the education and well-being of young people of the region. The Area Council was formed to unify and correlate the work of the eight clubs, particularly community activities.

The Council maintains a student loan fund and presently has a loan outstanding to a college student. The county library, a project of Council clubs for several years, received 480 books and 200 magazines from members during the year. An additional card index was provided, along with memorial cards and catalog cards.

Clubwomen worked closely with the underprivileged young people at Girlstown, providing financial aid and taking a personal interest in the girls. Council clubs sponsored two high school students at the Texas Youth Conference in Austin, promoted health education through work for Operation Healthy Baby, mobile chest X-ray unit, Heart Fund and the High Plains Training Center for Retarded Children, and sponsored various youth groups.

Project Headstart was a major Council activity during the year, with clubwomen providing a broad range of volunteer services. Christmas parties and gifts of dictionaries and reference works were part of various activities benefiting children in public schools and special classes.

Now in its fifth year, the GFWC-Shell Education Program has been expanded to include three national awards totaling $5,000 in addition to the $50,000 in cash available to state winners. First-place state winners win $500 and compete for the national awards. The Athena Junior Study Club of Lockney, judged the most outstanding in Texas, has been entered in the national competition. The third-place winner of $200 was Ysleta Junior Woman's Club of El Paso.

Winning clubs use the awards to further their aid-to-education programs.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Thomas returned recently from a visit with their daughter Mrs. Ruby Holiday, of Central, N.M.

Visiting in the T. A. Thomas home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Gail Pugh of Midland, J. L. Thomas of Morton, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Thomas of Morton.

Miss Barbara Kennedy spent the weekend in Plainview with friends.

Recap of state convention is given in Caprock report

The Federated Clubwomen and those of Caprock District made a large contribution to the success of the 70th Annual Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs held on May 1 thru 3 at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, Texas.

Foremost in the limelight was the naming of Mrs. Neal Rose of Morton, a member of 1936 Study Club as Clubwoman of the year in the State with over ten years service. Mrs. Pat Frizzell of Lockney was named Clubwoman of the year with under ten years service, also of Caprock District.

The Area Council of Women's Clubs of Morton was presented a plaque and a check for $300 from the Shell Oil Company for its project in Education. Another of the three Shell awards given in the State competition was from Caprock District.

Mrs. LeRoy Johnson, Second Vice President of Caprock District and a member of the Town & Country Study Club of Morton was Chairman of the Credentials Committee.

Mrs. Clyde Brownlow of Morton, Junior Director of Caprock District, attended the convention to report to the State Junior Conference held Tuesday, May 2nd. Mrs. Earl Polvado of Morton, Junior chairman of the Home Life Department in state gave the invocation at the formal opening of the Junior conference. Both ladies are members of the Emlea Smith Junior Study Club.

Mrs. W. B. McSpadden, Chairman of Latin American Scholarships for the State, reported at the pre-convention Board of Directors meeting on May 1. She reported on the monies contributed by Districts for the scholarship student, Lucia Gushiken of Lima, Peru. Lucia attends the University of Texas and lives in the TFWC clubhouse in Austin. It was noted that she had designed the cover for the official program of the convention.

Mrs. Bobby Travis, Chairman of the Recreation Division reported at the Board of Directors meeting giving a summary of the Conservation - Recreation activities of clubs in the State. Mrs. Travis and Mrs. McSpadden also acted as aides and pages for Mrs. B. F. Seay, President of TFWC and both are members of the L'Allegro Study Club.

Awards won by local clubs were Best Organized Dean's Report - first place to Mrs. LeRoy Johnson; Caprock District Second in State in number of awards won; Area Council of Women's Clubs - first in Presidents reports - this report was prepared by Mrs. McSpadden as President; Mrs. Willard Henry received a second place in District Reports in the Conservation Department.

The L'Allegro Study Club received a fourth place in the overall Home Life Department report with a first place in the Family Living Division.

Winning the Shell Oil Education Award of $30.00 were the following Clubs who are members of the Area Council of Women's Clubs: The Elma L. Slaughter Study Club, the 1936 Study Club, L'Allegro Study Club, Town and Country Study Club, Emlea Smith Junior Study Club, YM Study Club, Whiteface Study Club and the De-Argon Study Club of Maple.

The clubwomen attending the convention from all over the State of Texas heard newscasts from members of the staff of WFAA and KRLD each day - due to the women being so busy with sessions, reporting, revisions, etc., that they did not have time to listen to the regular tv, or the radio news casts or to read about the new and thoughtful event in a new and thoughtful event in State conventions.

Speakers for the convention included Mrs. James R. Morrow, Junior Director of General Federation of Women's Clubs who spoke to the Junior Conference; Mrs. Henry Fowler, Washington, D.C., Chairman of the Speaker's Bureau - Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's Beautification Committee; Vocal Solos by Miss Carolyn Bean, Musical Penny Scholarship recipient, Abilene Christian College.

Mrs. Earle A. Brown, Second Vice President, GFWC addressed the group using the theme "Dreamers or Doers". In her opening remarks she stated that over the years women have been talked about so much - even in the New York Library there are 15,000 volumes about "Women" all written by "Men".

She said that among women's organizations the General Federation of Women's Clubs is a kind of mother - because it is made up of mothers. She reminded clubwomen of their responsibility as voters and said that good Government is only good housekeeping - you can't spend money you don't receive. She said that her favorite department was the Home Life Department and that this was something clubwomen could really do something about - even if it is only to say no to the children. She said that she resents remarks about the "trapped housewife", etc. In closing she remarked "May all your dreams become deeds."

Hooray for the band's performance, discipline

We are beaming with pride for the accomplishments of the Morton High School Band last week at the Tri-State Band Festival. They received high praise for their musical accomplishments and performance from the distinguished judges at Enid, Okla. And they were competing with bands from six states . . . about 160 bands, including more than 12,000 students.

Their concert performance was one of the best at the Festival, judges commented, and the other ensembles and group did equally as well.

But other qualities of the Morton High School band also came in for praise. These were poise and discipline. The poise came from being prepared . . . from the endless hours of practice and repetition that are needed to put the final polish on a musical group. The discipline came at the insistence of Director John Stockdale, who wisely realizes that the performances of a hundred eager and energetic youngsters depend upon their willingness to accept discipline.

More important to us, was the discipline exhibited by the bandmen when they were off the stage and out of uniform. Self-discipline is demanded of each of them and they respond with the good manners that assure they will be welcomed again at Enid, or at any stop along the way.

A year of hard work and practice was climaxed at Enid last week with a superb concert. For the entire community, we would like to express our thanks to the director, for his untiring work, and to the members of the band, for their hard work and skill.

Most of all, we are pleased with the comments made by John Stockdale as he stepped off the bus Saturday evening. "The kids really rose to the challenge; they actually played above their abilities." And after three hard days of work with the youngsters, it was great to hear him say, "They behaved all the time, and it was my pleasure to take them." Such comments are a great tribute to the youngsters, their parents, and their teachers.

Tampering with basic recipe has good results, this time

A good cook wouldn't dream of tampering with a time-tested recipe and doing everything in reverse order.

Morton has landed what seems potentially to be a good new industry for the community, an electronics assembly plant. And it is coming here as the result of a cockeyed set of circumstances, a chance contact and action that gathered money in a hurry.

We are delighted with the prospects of the new industry and hope it will be the first of several new companies to locate in Morton.

And we would be remiss if we did not acknowledge with gratitude the staggering amount of work done by Van Greene, James Walker, Rusty Reeder, Leon Kessler, and Orville Tilger (and probably many others) to investigate the background, call the meetings, explain the project, make the telephone calls, work out the details and handle the leg-work need to land such a company.

Yes, Morton landed an industry and did it in violation of almost every precept ever known for getting new industry. It was almost completely due to luck . . . luck in making a contact, luck in pursuing the matter, luck in getting potential investors together, luck in finding a suitable site. Hard work by a few individuals made it work.

How can we put the search for more industry on a more business-like basis? Simply by following the basic recipe for industry-hunting rather than throwing the ingredients together and hoping every thing will turn out all right.

The basic ingredients include: time, money, organization, leadership, contacts. Some might add or subtract from this list, but this includes the basic items.

All of these necessary items can be handled most efficiently through an industrial foundation that provides all the needed items BEFORE they are needed. Such a foundation would have funds available to make telephone calls, to make trips to visit prospects; it would have a list of sites available for plant location and, hopefully, firm options on the sites to keep the prices stable; leadership would be available to attend the meetings and investigate the contacts; interested leadership would be placed in positions that would keep them available.

Just as some of the world's finest dishes were created by an accidental blend of ingredients, so we don't intend to ignore the company simply because it came about in an unorthodox way. We will appreciate our luck in getting such a plant.

And we will hope that the community now will see the need for an industrial foundation that will provide a stable, efficient and adequately-financed program to handle future industrial prospects.

'Golden Triangle' held by hand of Prosperity

Announcement this week of the huge beef packing plant in Friona came as welcome news not only in Friona, but in neighboring Hereford as well. Because the new installation is labeled the "biggest in the world", it is all the more important to the area.

While a few individuals have asked, "Why didn't Hereford get this plant?", it seems to us that the location in Friona is excellent. Neighboring communities are naturally rivals in seeking industry but, unless the entire area grows, it seems to us that the industry may not be too well adapted in the first place. Our feeling is the same about the grain sorghum processing plant announcement in Dimmitt, and we believe that it sound, especially concerning the feeding, processing and handling of beef.

Most of this beef finishing industry is moving to this area from the mid-west, where it flourished for many years. We could not tell you the name of any single town which was outstanding in the area, but everyone knows that Iowa was the place where cattle were corn fed. "Where" was not too important, chiefly because most of the communities offered about the same advantages — and all of them drew as much volume as they could handle. The situation will, of course, be pretty well the same in this territory. Consequently, what helps Hereford will help Friona and Dimmitt just as new industry in these two towns will help Hereford.

As further proof, many of us have seen the vegetable industry grow from a few into a multi-million dollar income for the area under consideration and, always, the more vegetables grown in the district resulted in mutual growth and benefit to all three towns.

For more than three years we have been endorsing Mayor Covsett's proposal to establish a Golden Triangle organization which would include Deaf Smith, Pomeroy and Castro Counties. Representtatives from all three communities could work together for mutual benefit and growth. Chiefly because these counties rank among the top 10 in the world's highest per-capita income, the territory should be sold as a package, rather than individually. The feed lot and beef processing growth is a good example — and we feel that the surface has only been scratched in future progress along several lines in the entire triangle.

In more recent years, Amarillo has come to see things along the same line and, fortunately for all concerned, has replaced its prevalent "big I" attitude with one of help and cooperation. As a result, Amarillo is growing along with other towns within its trade area, and all are happier and more prosperous.

With a hungry, growing Southwest and definite economic advantages from Golden Triangle beef finishing, there is no end to the possibilities for the entire territory. We are happy indeed to see the people of our neighboring communities become aroused and go after some of this business. As we said, the result can be nothing but beneficial for all concerned, including Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

The totting problem

Handbags for men? Fashion editors have been hinting the possibility. Now a concerned British gentleman proposes them in a letter written, of course, to The Times. He is distressed by what he sees: "The man walking down the street, his clothes stretching and bulging under the burden of . . . accumulated effects."

We think this correspondent has stated a real problem. Modern man carries almost as much equipment as a space rocket: wallet with money, tickets stamps, photographs of his children, and, if he's an American, a massive collection of credit cards; sun glasses, paper handkerchiefs, check book, key ring, driving gloves, and perhaps a tiny transistor radio. Distributed among his several pockets, these things become difficult to locate as well as a threat to the man's smart silhouette.

But would a handbag solve the problem? True, it would do away with bulges. But, as any woman can tell you, it would not make it any easier to find the object one is looking for. Many a woman has dumped the entire contents of her bag in her search for a lipstick and has been heard to exclaim, "Oh, if only I had pockets like a man."

The solution to the gentlemen's totting problem must lie in other directions. Perhaps in a return to the stove-pipe hat like the one worn by Abraham Lincoln when, as a country postmaster, he carried the mail in it? We are told that British nobility resort to this method when they carry lunches in the velvet lining of their coronets during prolonged ceremonies.

But moderns tend to go hatless. Perhaps the answer lies in another letter to The Times which appeared the following day:

Sir: — Men call them brief-cases. Faithfully yours, M.F. Strachan. — The Christian Science Monitor.

Teenage culture

More often than not reports of "Commissions" are pretty dull and pointless. A notable exception is the recently issued report entitled, "The Challenge of Crime in a Free Society." This is the study by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement.

We'd like to recommend one section in particular as required reading for parents. It deals with juvenile delinquency, and it presents with keen perception the problems of youth that often lead children, even those of good families, from good neighborhoods, into serious trouble.

"One way of looking at delinquency is in the context of the 'teenage culture' that has developed in America since the Second World War. In America in the 1960's, to perhaps a greater extent than in any other place or time, adolescents live in a distinct society of their own. It is not an easy society to understand, to describe, or, for that matter, to live in. In some ways it is an intensely materialistic society; its members, perhaps in unconscious imitation of their elders, are preoccupied with physical objects like clothes and cars, and indeed have been encouraged in this preoccupation by manufacturers and merchants who have discovered how profitable the adolescent market is. In some ways, it is an intensely moralistic society; its members are preoccupied with independence and honesty and equality and courage. On the whole it is a rebellious, oppositional society, dedicated to the proposition that the grown-up world is a sham. At the same time it is a conforming society; being inexperienced, unsure of themselves, and, in fact, relatively powerless as individuals, adolescents to a far greater extent than their elders conform to common standards of dress and hair style and speech, and act jointly, in groups — or gangs.

"Adolescents everywhere, from every walk of life, are often dangerous to themselves and to others. It may be a short step from trusting authority to taking the law into one's hands, from self-absorption to contempt for the rights of others, from group loyalty to gang warfare, from getting 'kicks' to rampaging through the streets from coveting material goods to stealing them, from feelings of rebellion to acts of destruction . . ."

"That is as thoughtful a recitation of the story behind today's headlines as we have seen anywhere. And if adolescents think 'the grownup world is a sham,' then we have our work cut out for us, don't we? — County Wide News (Littlefield).

Highlights and Sidelights —

Redistricting gets test vote

AUSTIN, Tex. — Redistricting bills are ready for test votes in the House.

A court reapportionment measure which would add 16 courts, eliminate two and provide for district realignment, was reported favorably by the House Committee on Judicial Districts.

Bill would provide two new courts each for Dallas, Harris, Bexar and Tarrant Counties. Single courts would go to these districts: Hidalgo County, 200th District; Comal and Guadalupe Counties, 201st District; Duval, Jim Hogg, Zapala and Starr Counties, 202nd District; Randall County, 203rd District; Collin County, 204th District; Gregg County, 205th District; Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards, Real, Kerr and Bandera Counties, 206th District; and Wharton, Fort Bend, Matagorda and Brazoria Counties, 16th District.

It would combine district courts serving Hill and Freestone Counties with other counties. It provides for abolishing the 88th Districting Court, effective January 1, 1970, and the 82nd District Court effective January 1, 1971.

Candidates for the new judgeships would run for office next year, taking over on January 1, 1969.

A congressional redistricting bill, required by an order of the federal court, is complete. But it has been held back due to controversies.

Congressional redistricting as drawn by the House Committee would require no incumbent congressmen to run against another incumbent. Committee Chairman Gus Mutschers of Brenham said the bill would carve 23 new districts which vary no more than five per cent in population.

Mutschers indicated that the redistricting measure for House seats is virtually complete and will follow congressional reapportionment by about 10 days.

HORSES GALLOP AGAIN — In less time than it takes a fast stepping thoroughbred to romp a mile, the House Committee on Counties approved, on a local-option basis, a bill to legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting in Texas.

House sponsors said they are not sure when they will ask for a floor vote.

Here's what the House bill proposes: Racing would be permitted in counties where voters want it, with 85 per cent of the betting pools going to bettors, two per cent to counties where tracks are operated and 13 per cent to be split between the state and the track operators. State would, in turn, divided half of its share (on a population basis) among the counties having no tracks. Bookmaking and off-track betting with bookies would be made a felony.

Senate bill has been out of committee since February but, so far, lately of their own. It is not an easy society to understand, to describe, or, for that matter, to live in. In some ways it is an intensely materialistic society; its members, perhaps in unconscious imitation of their elders, are preoccupied with physical objects like clothes and cars, and indeed have been encouraged in this preoccupation by manufacturers and merchants who have discovered how profitable the adolescent market is. In some ways, it is an intensely moralistic society; its members are preoccupied with independence and honesty and equality and courage. On the whole it is a rebellious, oppositional society, dedicated to the proposition that the grown-up world is a sham. At the same time it is a conforming society; being inexperienced, unsure of themselves, and, in fact, relatively powerless as individuals, adolescents to a far greater extent than their elders conform to common standards of dress and hair style and speech, and act jointly, in groups — or gangs.

Meanwhile, the Senate has approved a bill to provide the mechanism for enforcing air pollution control measures. An amendment would allow the Air Control Board to set different standards or agricultural processors (including cotton gins) than are set for industries.

GRANT APPROVED — U.S. Public Health Service has approved a $315,659 grant to Texas for a statewide immunization program.

Funds will be used for immunization campaigns in cooperation with local health agencies and medical societies against measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Project will continue through April 30, 1968. An additional year has been tentatively provided for with a $325,000 address a joint session of the Texas Legislature Monday at noon. The chancellor had warned members of the group they would be banned if they held a campus meeting to plan the picketing demonstration. Many thousands of thoughtful Texans were watching to see if the chancellor meant what he said. Their spontaneous reaction was one of approval of his firmness.

This dissident group of a handful of students led by a "foreigner" from New Jersey has besmirched the Texas tradition of courtesy and hospitality.

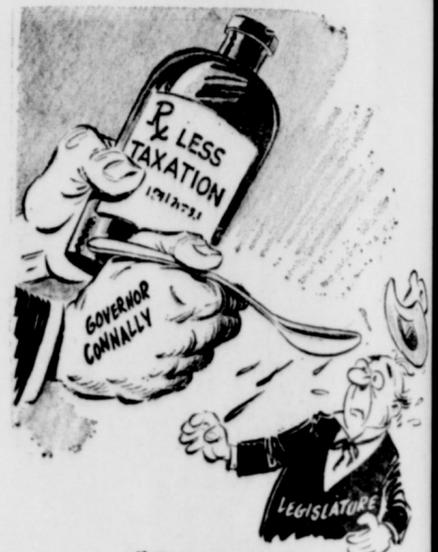

Such actions are repugnant to all Texans. We apologize for their bad manners. Mr. Vice President!

And as a postscript, it might be added that similar firm action on the part of administrators at Texas Southern would be in order. — San Marcos Record.

University Chancellor backs up his orders

What may well be a turning point in enforcement of constituted authority on the college campuses of America was the firm and prompt stand taken by Chancellor Harry Ransom of the University of Texas who banned the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) protesting group from further recognition on the campus of our State University.

His forthright action came promptly after a picketing demonstration was staged when Vice President Humphrey appeared to the sponsors haven't brought it to a floor test.

"OPEN MEETINGS" — A bill to outlaw closed-door meetings of government agencies passed the Senate unanimously.

However, an amendment would exempt departments, agencies and political subdivisions not supported by or sending tax funds.

Misdemeanor fines are provided for violations, and "any interested person" may launch court action for mandamus or injunction against closed meetings.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena handled the measure in the Senate. It now goes to the House where Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville is sponsor.

PLANS ADVANCED — House overwhelmingly passed a resolution proposing a method of state constitutional revision. A 20-member commission assisted by a 20-member citizens advisory committee would report recommendations to the next Legislature for submission to voters.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria is author of the House resolution.

Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill to establish a 45-member constitutional revision commission. Under this bill, by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, the commission would be limited mainly to recommendations. It would offer suggestions to the Legislature for eliminating obsolete and repetitive sections.

MEASURES CLEARED — House passed the Senate bill to strengthen water pollution control and establish a new Texas Water Quality Board as a separate agency. Amendments will send the bill back to the Senate.

Meanwhile, the Senate has approved a bill to provide the mechanism for enforcing air pollution control measures. An amendment would allow the Air Control Board to set different standards or agricultural processors (including cotton gins) than are set for industries.

Published in the Morton Tribune, April 20, April 27, May 4, May 11, 1967.

Well, the MHS band is home and trying to recuperate after their three-day trip to the Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, Oklahoma. The band boarded two chartered buses Thursday morning, April 14, and were on their way by 7:30. Those playing in ensembles left the day before, so that they could play Thursday.

Things began to slow down after the first excitement of leaving, so the two buses competed in a Chinese fire drill right there on the highway. The band then stopped in Pampa. The afternoon passed on with the kids doing anything they could think of to entertain themselves.

The group reached Enid around 5. First they registered, and then went on to the Baptist church where the girls stayed. After they had practiced in the church sanctuary and the boys had settled down in their barn, the group went on to eat supper and attend the marching contest for bands in their class. The group didn't march, however; they merely observed.

The band then returned to their quarters. The girls all enjoyed a bath in a janitor's sink while the boys discovered two stowaways (girls, but not from Morton) in their place. After several other small incidents, like flooding the church laundry room, the two groups finally managed to hit the sack at about 11.

The band was on the go again early Friday morning as they ate breakfast and rehearsed. The stage band played in the morning, and the concert band played in the afternoon.

Before their performance, the concert band listened to concerts of several other bands in their class. Then the group went on stage in the big convention hall and played "Sol Y Sombra" and "Choral Prelude in E Minor". The band proceeded (through the rain) to another building where they sight read a piece of music (?) called the "Mischiefs Makers".

The group finally got to eat after that and they went back to their quarters to clean up and change clothes for the big concert Friday night. The group had a little time just to mess around in town before the concert because they arrived a little early.

The organization then attended a concert where they heard the Phillips University Concert Band, The Phillips University Chorus, a brass ensemble, several stage bands, Doc Severinsen (trumpet player from the "Tonight" show), George Roberts (trombone virtuoso), Louis Bellson (percussion extraordinary), and the Falconaire of the Air Force Academy.

Some ratings were read during the concert and the MHS band was thrilled, to say the least, when the announcer read, "Morton — 1".

The group happily went back to their beds to rest up for the long trip home. Saturday morning, early, the band was on its way home, without breakfast. All the kids were moaning from starvation by the time they found a place to eat. They again entertained themselves until they finally pulled into the Morton city limits at about 7.

Tired, but happy, the group split up and went home only to learn Sunday that they had received the honor of outstanding band in Class B over around 20 other bands! So ended a story with a happy beginning, but an even happier ending. Congratulations, band!!

This week seems to be Twirp Week at Morton High School. The Student Council sponsors this annual observance by selling permits for 25 cents. The permit states that any Morton High School girl can ask any boy for a date during the week of May 8-14, provided that she pays for the transportation and entertainment. So don't be surprised if you see the girls driving the boys around this week!

Well, it seems as if my column was pretty much devoted to band this week, doesn't it? The cheerleaders for next year met and decided on their uniforms and various other details for the on-coming football season. Besides that, and the twirp week I mentioned nothing else much has happened. So till next week — stay happy!

Antiquing furniture is hobby of Mrs. Williams

The Tribune's Homemaker for this week is Mrs. Ike Williams. Her husband is a farmer and owner of Ike's Farm Store. They have two children, Mike, 7, and Marty, 2. They really keep Mrs. Williams busy.

Outside of taking of her family, Irma enjoys painting, and antiquing. Shown in the picture, is a table antiqued and painted by Mrs. Williams. She also has several other pieces of furniture that she has antiqued.

Mrs. Williams does all of the baking for her family. This is one of her favorite recipes.

A Crown for Mother

You, as a Mother, are honored by your children on a special day — Mother's Day. How the little things they make for you with their own small hands please you and warm your heart.

It warms and quickens the heart of God when you honor Him on His special day. "Remember the Sabbath Day, to keep it holy." Exodus 20:8. Worship God on this next Sunday in the church of your choice. We should honor our loving Heavenly Father even as we expect our children to honor us.

Attend church on Mother's Day.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
