February Calendar Girl . . .

School girl reported injured in auto-school bus accident

The school girl was reported to be slightly injured in the collision of a car and a school bus in Morton Wednesday morning.

A check with Cochran Memorial Hospital just before press time Wednesday revealed that she had not been registered and her identity and the exact extent of her injuries are unknown.

The crash occurred at approximately 8:20 a.m. at the corner of E. Grant and E. 8th St., according to the police report.

The bus, with a substantial number of school children aboard, was traveling west on Grant when it came into collision with a 1967 Chevrolet pickup driven by W. Evans, 74, of Levelland.

Driver of the school bus was Wayne Rowden, 48, of 409 E. Grant in Morton. The accident occurred when the pickup, which was travelling south on 8th, failed to yield the right of way and struck the bus, police chief Charley Ellis stated.

Damage to both vehicles will total approximately $300, Ellis said.

A second accident that resulted in no injuries took place in Morton late Saturday. Anita Morales, of Morton, driving a 1967 Chevrolet sedan, and Daniel Casarez, also of Morton, who was driving a 1967 Chevrolet pickup, collided at N.E. 10th and Wilson Ave. at 5:45 p.m., police reports state.

The Morales vehicle was proceeding west on Wilson and the pickup was traveling north on 6th when the accident occurred. The pickup failed to yield the right of way and struck the sedan in the left side just forward of the front door, the report states.

Damage to the Morales car was estimated by police at $250 and the damage to the Casarez vehicle at $150.

Denver City squeaker dims Morton's chances for conference title

Denver City's legendary winning traditions proved to be too much once again for the Morton Indians to conquer as the visiting Mustangs struggled slowly and surely from behind Tuesday night to kill the Indians title hopes and to insure their own.

The Mustangs took home a narrow crown as the win left them with 6-0 district record, with four games remaining. The loss shoved the Indians into a second-place tie with Idalou, a tie that was just broken last Friday when the Indians edged the Wildcats, 51-50. Morton and Idalou currently stand 4-2 in district play.

The Mustangs knew they had their hands full Tuesday night as the Indians bombed the basket in their usual fashion the first quarter and took a 25-14 lead. But the glory stopped there as the Tribe attack cooled off, and after the Mustangs pulled within one at halftime, it was a new ballgame.

Wayne Thompson, Byron Willis, and M. C. Collins paced the Indian scoring. Thompson and Willis, Morton seniors facing the Mustangs for the last time, hit seven each the first period in leading the Indians to 25-14 lead. The Indians managed 45 per cent accuracy from the field the first half, but the attack began to cool in the waning minutes of the first half, and the Mustangs pulled to trail by one at intermission. Collins hit 21 points in the game, Willis had 16, Thompson, 13.

Early in the third period, the Mustangs took the lead, but the outcome of Former Morton pastor sells seven paintings to "Festus"

When Festus Hagen, GunsSmoke's top western character, was appearing at the Amarillo Stock Show and Rodeo recently he saw one of the fine Western paintings by Kenneth Wyatt of Tulsa and former pastor of the Methodist Church in Morton. He liked it so well that he and his wife in their real roles of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis spent a half day at High Plains Galleries and bought seven of the best paintings for their California home.

There the bewickered Festus poses with the artist Wyatt with "Invitation to Leave Town," one of the seven paintings the TV star bought.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt and their children were the special guests of the TV couple at the final night of the rodeo and have been invited to visit them in California.

"Kenneth Wyatt is a great painter of my West and we are very proud to have these paintings for our home," said Festus. "I have never been so struck with anything of a similar nature."

The long-awaited improvements to the Cochran County Airport moved a giant step closer to reality here Tuesday.

The step came in the form of the Cochran County Commissioners Court voting in favor of advertising for bids for the paving of a runway and taxiways at the local field.

The bids will be for the paving of the north-south runway and a taxiway at each end of the runway to connect with the existing hard-surface ramp. This will provide the airfield with an all-weather capability for the first time in its existence.

The runway specifications call for asphalt paving to a width of 40 feet and a runway length of 2,550 feet. The taxiways will also be of asphalt and will be in two 30 foot wide strips to a total length of 900 feet.

A turn around area will be incorporated into the runway-taxiway system and will be paved in an area 100 feet wide by 79 feet long.

The approval for the project was obtained in a special meeting of the commissioners court held here Tuesday. The motion to advertise for the bids was made by Precinct One commissioner Leonard Coleman and seconded by Precinct Four commissioner U. F. Wells.

The motion passed on a split vote, with the favorable vote of presiding officer, Judge J. A. Love, breaking the tie between the four commissioners.

Others voting in favor of the measure were Coleman and Wells. Those voting against it were Precinct Three commissioner Harral Rawls and Precinct Two commissioner T. A. Washington.

Bids on the paving project will be accepted until 10 a.m. Feb. 20 at which time they will be opened and read aloud in the county commissioners courtroom in the Cochran county courthouse.

No estimate of cost of the project is available at this time. Two construction engineers from the Texas Aeronautical Commission made a visit to survey the project here last week and are understood to have made estimates on the cost of the work.

Since no state or federal funds will be involved in the project, these estimates were not made public.

After much negotiation and investigation into the use of state and federal grants for repair and construction at the airport, it was agreed by the commissioners court that no outside funds would be requested. The county will pay the entire cost of the project, if the bids received are in line with estimates already received, Judge Love told the Tribune in an interview Wednesday.

He indicated that state and/or federal participation would cause the costs involved to balloon too high and a certain amount of control over the project would have to be surrendered. The commissioners court decided against meeting these conditions.

There is no runway lighting included in the present project, but there is the possibility that the present lighting system may be repaired and improved in the foreseeable future, Judge Love said.

★ Pancakes

Morton Athletic Boosters are sponsoring their annual Pancake Supper Monday, February 10, at the school cafeteria. Serving will begin at 5:00 p.m., and will continue until all are fed. Tickets are available from booster club members, or may be obtained at the door. Price is $1.00 for all the pancakes you can put away.

Sonny Dewbre injured while returning home

While returning home from Demming, N. M. Sonny Dewbre of Maple suddenly swirled due to a blow-out on his 1968 GMC pick-up.

It appeared that the left front tubeless tire had blown out, causing Dewbre to swerve into the lane of an on-coming car. This in turn caused him to flip his vehicle 2 1/2 times.

He was taken to Roosevelt General Hospital by Wheeler Ambulance of Portales New Mexico. Sunday, February 2, he was transferred to Cochran Memorial Hospital.

Dewbre suffered no broken bones but did receive lacerations and bruises.

Morton Cub Scout pack to observe Scout Week

All members of Cub Scout Pack 644 in Morton intend to be in the church of their choice Sunday in full uniform.

This will be in observance of National Boy Scout Week which will be observed from Feb. 6 through Feb. 13, Cubmaster E. C. Oden informed the Tribune Wednesday.

A meeting of the pack was held Tuesday night with almost every pack member present. The church observance was planned at the meeting and the cubs constructed a number of posters proclaiming Boy Scout Week, Oden said.

Chamber to sponsor 'Economy Day' here

The Morton area Chamber of Commerce voted in favor of sponsoring an "Economy Day" at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday morning.

The vote was taken on a recommendation of the Retail Committee to whom the matter had been referred for study and recommendations at the last regular meeting.

Sponsorship of the event is contingent upon the enthusiastic participation of the various business places in town, Chamber officials have pointed out.

They expressed the opinion that enrollment of at least 20 businesses will be necessary for the promotion to get off the ground, and more are highly desirable to make the program a real success.

The "Economy Day" would be held the first Monday of each month during which special bargain prices would be offered in an attempt to stimulate trade. It would be operated much as the "Dollar Day" promotions have been held in Morton in the past.

No target day has been set by the Chamber for the program to begin, but efforts to enroll businesses will begin immediately with the hope that it might start with the first Monday in March.

In other business, the board approved a recommendation by the Retail Committee to activate a Welcoming Committee.

This committee would contact newcomers as they arrive in Morton and present them with an information packet on the town and give them gift certificates from the various business here as a gesture of welcome.

Chamber manager Leon Kessler gave a report to the board on his recent trip to Kerrville to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting there.

Kessler's purpose at the meeting was to bring the local farm labor shortage problem to the attention of the WTCC board of directors. He explained his activities in so doing to the Morton board.

One point Kessler emphasized in his report was that the Chamber urge all persons in need of farm labor, either immediately or in the future, to make their needs known.

They can do this, Kessler said, by contacting the Texas Employment Commission office and telling personnel there of their needs.

This way they will bring the problem before those that need to know them and may be instrumental in obtaining the needed workers by the time the spring, summer or fall work season arrive.

The board discussed at some length the formation of a county water association. The association would be informational only, but with a future view to the formation of a tax-supported water association encompassing a 23-county area.

Purpose of the organization would be to cooperate with other similar organizations to solve the water problems facing West Texas both now and in the future, Kessler said.

Representatives from the local Chamber will attend a meeting in Muleshoe tonight which is being held for the purpose of forming a county water association there.

A discussion was held concerning broadening the base of current Chamber membership among farmers, ranchers and those living in outlying communities.

The matter was referred to the Membership Committee who will draw up plans for a strong membership drive in the near future. The Membership Committee chairman is Rusty Reeder.

Six lucky winners will take ad cash from Tribune today

Tribune readers have a special reason for reading the display ads in today's paper especially closely.

Somewhere in those ads are six names which represent a total of $23 in prize money.

Five of the six persons whose names appear in small print on the ads will receive $3 prizes and the sixth will win the weekly grand prize of $8.

So, read the ads carefully and if your name appears on one of them, go to that place of business and pick up your check with our best wishes.

You must pick up your check or notify the Tribune by telephone or a visit by noon Monday or the award is no longer valid. All unclaimed checks will be added to the following week's total.

These cash prizes will be offered for a total of three weeks.

This is our way of saying thank you for reading the Morton Tribune.

Dedication ceremony planned for Saturday

There will be a dedication ceremony for the 1936 Centennial County Marker Saturday, February 8, at 10:00 a.m. on the Courthouse lawn.

All members of the County Survey Committee are urged to attend. Others who are interested are also invited.

Immediately following the dedication ceremony, the newly appointed Survey Committee will have an organizational meeting in the downstairs meeting room of the courthouse.

These members have been recently appointed to the Cochran County Historical Survey Committee for the 1969-1970 term by County Judge J. A. Love. They are: Elvis Fleming, Mrs. H. B. Barker, Mrs. Clyde McCormack, Richard Houston, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Neal Rose, Joe Nicewarner, Mrs. Willard Henry, Jerry Windler, Walter L. Taylor, Mrs. Hume Russell, Miss Lenora Jackson, Mrs. Joe Seagler, Truman Doss, and Murray Crone.

Basketball

the game was in doubt until the closing seconds.

The final quarter was a duel in seeing who could miss the most as neither team could hit the basket. Willis and M. C. Collins each had a field goal the final period for the Indians, but the Mustangs couldn't do much better. With seconds left, the visitors stretched their slim lead to four, but four was enough to all but wrap up the district championship.

The Indians had to fight off a tough Idalou Wildcat crew last Friday night, and barely slipped by the visitors, 51-50, at Indian gym. Sophomores Terry Harvey and M. C. Collins gave the Indians a late quarter punch that came almost too late. Harvey hit 14 for the game, Collins had 12. Byron Willis had 12 also.

The B team fared just as the varsity, winning over the Wildcats, and losing to the Mustangs. Morton slipped by Idalou 54-52, behind the 21 points of Dennis Clayton. Denver City wrecked the Indians, however, 81-56. Elton Patton scored 18 for Morton.

Friday night the Indians will play host to Post in a district game with the B game getting underway at 6:30. Tuesday, Morton travels to Tahoka for a rematch, and then Friday returns to take on Friendship before closing out the season at Idalou.

Band members take part in All-Region

Fourteen of the 120-piece B. A. AA All-Region Band were Morton High School Band members. This was more than were from any one high school in the region. They were: Karen Willis, Curtis Griffith, Patsy Collins, Glo Gray, Carol Freeland, Beverly Browne, Monte Dewbre, Melba Townsend, Ronnie Allsup, Mark Mauldin, Jimmy Jones, Kenneth Taylor, David Salinas, and Alex Perez. Three of these members were first-chair players, which was also more first-chair players than were from any other school. Betty Silhan was first alternate.

The group left the high school around 5 p.m. Thursday afternoon and arrived at the Texas Tech music building in time to eat supper at the Student Union Building before the first rehearsal. This rehearsal lasted two hours, after which the MHS members checked in at the Villa Inn motel.

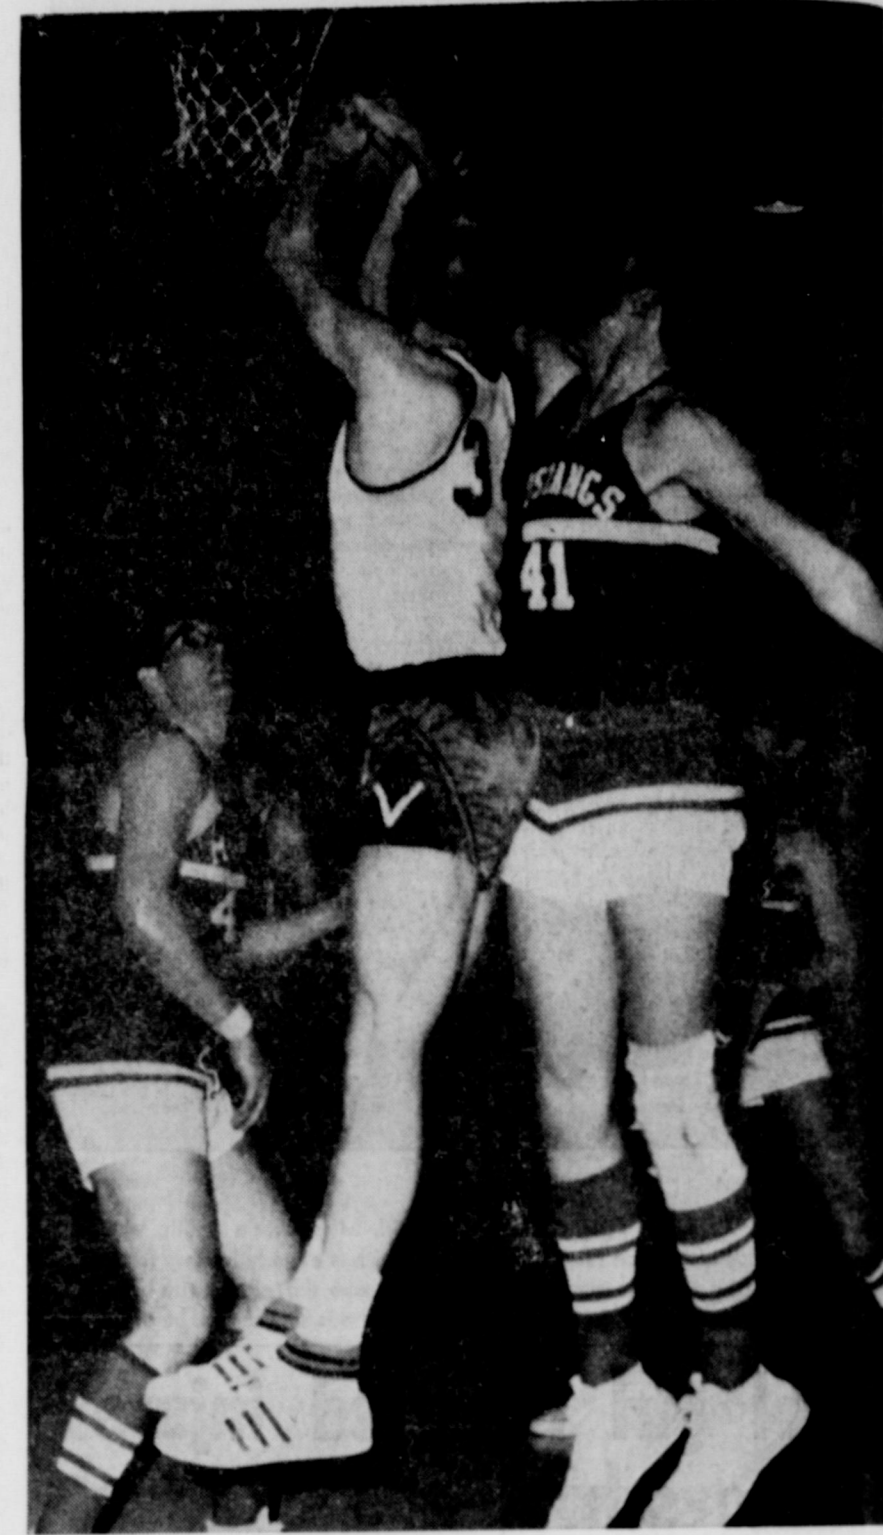

Friday got an early start as the group was ready and had eaten breakfast in time for the 9 to 12 morning rehearsal. The lunch-break ended at 1:00, when the group listened to a rehearsal of the Texas Tech concert band. The all-region band then practiced from 1:45 to 5 p.m. and returned to the motel exhausted.

Saturday morning found another 9 to 12 rehearsal, but the group was free until 6 p.m. when they reported to Estacado High School to change into concert uniforms and to practice one last time.

The B. A. AA band was preceded in a concert at Estacado Saturday night by the Junior High All-Region Band, directed by Dr. Gary Garner of West Texas State University. Then, the MHS students participated as the small-schools band performed four numbers under the direction of Mr. Don Baird of West Texas State University. The numbers were: "Gallito" (by Lope), "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" (by Wagner), "One and Only Genuine, Original Family Band" (medley), and "Incidental Suite" (by Smith). Following this was a performance by the AAA, AAAA All-Region Band, conducted by James Matthews of the University of Houston.

The Morton members were able to arrive home by midnight Saturday night.

Two local men attend Lubbock Scout Dinner

Morton representatives Van Green and Roy Hickman were in attendance as area Boy Scout leaders were honored in Lubbock Monday night.

Five Boy Scout leaders in the South Plains Boy Scout Council were honored with the Silver Beaver Award at the Council's Annual Recognition Dinner.

A crowd of 491 people was present in the Texas Tech Union Ballroom to see Council Commissioner Carl Minor present the coveted award, for outstanding service to boyhood to Percy Eason of Rails, to Lloyd C. Webbof Plainview, to Alex Webb of Slaton, and to Murray W. Owen and I. L. "Tiny" Jones of Lubbock. Eason has had 21 years in Scouting and is the district commissioner of the Comanche Trail District. Woods has served for 10 years, and is now Scoutmaster of Troop 221 in Plainview. Webb has been a Scout leader for 12 years and is the Scoutmaster of Troop 125 in Slaton. Owen's service covers 10 years, and he is Scoutmaster of Troop 402 at First Methodist Church in Lubbock. Jones has had 10 years of Scout leadership and is currently the district commissioner of the Longhorn District.

The Silver Beaver is conferred by the National Council at the Boy Scouts of America upon the recommendation of the local council. It is the highest award that a Scout Council can present to a volunteer leader.

Town and Country Study Club Hears Teenage Education

At a recent Town and Country Study Club meeting a teenage panel of three Morton High School girls consisting of Diane Avery, Karen Rozell, and Glorietta Gay gave a program on teenagers. Last week we presented the part given by Diane Avery. This week we shall present Miss Rozell's part in the program on "Teenage Health Education."

TEENAGE HEALTH EDUCATION

Marihuana grows in a mild climate and is found in flowering tops and leaves of the Indian hemp plant. In the United States it is called pot, tea, grass, weed and Mary Jane. The plant is crushed or chopped and smoked. In China, Marihuana was given to relieve pain during surgery and was introduced in the United States in 1920 and outlawed in 1937.

Marihuana enters the blood stream and affects the brain and nervous system. Some say it accumulates in the liver. The drug causes the heart to beat rapidly, the body temperature is lowered, the eyes become red, the appetite is stimulated and it causes "drunkenness" like alcohol does.

The emotional and psychological effects depend upon the amount and strength used and ranges from depression to excitement. The sense of time and distance is sometimes distorted and thinking is affected. It is said that this drug is not addicting but leads to the use of narcotics which are very addicting.

Once the use of narcotics such as opium, heroine, morphine and cocaine is started, it takes larger and larger doses. Withdrawal from these narcotics causes vomiting, shakes, chills, diarrhea, and sometimes sharp stomach pains. The life span of an addict is shortened 15 to 20 years.

Amphetamines or "pep pills" stimulate the nervous system and prevent fatigue and sleepiness, but the after effects can be depression, jitters, irritability, unclear speech, tension, unclear thinking and dull emotions. The user is driven to do things beyond his physical endurance, leaving him exhausted, temporarily deranged (hallucinations) and long-term personality disorders.

LSD was first developed in 1939 from a fungus that grows on a rye. One ounce produces 300,000 doses. It is not physically addicting but its psychological impact is overwhelming. Physical senses are changed — walls move, sounds turn into colors, colors have taste. The individual has the feeling of two strong opposite emotions at once. There is a loss of the normal feeling of boundaries between body and space causing the persons to think he can fly. LSD changes the brain's electrical activity, which can result in panic (losing mind), paranoia (feels someone is trying to harm him), and the effects of the drug may recur.

A SUCCESSFUL TRIP

"My sixth LSD experience started as I took 400 micrograms of LSD and waited thirty minutes for it to take effect. The first stage of the 'trip' was one of pure sensory ecstasy. LSD magnified enormously my capacity for aesthetic experience of music, art, architecture, and nature. Space and time changed. Sometimes it was stretched out as my mind worked faster and music sounded slow enough to be savored note by note. At other times, it varied between normal speed and a dead halt as my attention switched from the action around me to my own thoughts. My perception of distance and magnitude kept changing. Occasionally I could consciously control the variation. Walls seemed to bend as if made of a flexible material. I also experienced synaesthesia, an integration of my senses; I could see music emerge from the speakers and drift toward me in three dimensions and in color.

"The second stage was one of recollection and self-analysis. My ability to remember, and practically relive, many long-ago I also experienced synaesthesia, an understanding was greatly increased; it was something like going through several years of psychoanalysis in a few hours. I recognized that some of my values and attitudes result from particular incidents in the past which were traumatic. I learned a great deal about myself and this knowledge has helped me with the questions which I am now facing regarding my future.

"On this 'trip' I went beyond the second stage for the first time. The third stage is a non-verbal stage of symbolic images. Historical, mythical, and archetypal images filled my mind. Most of them involved characters and situations which said something about mankind and the meaning of life.

"The highest stage was close to a mystical experience. I find it difficult to express what little I can remember of this experience, but I felt that all my thoughts, emotions, sensations, and memories were fused into total understanding of myself and my place in the world."

AN UNSUCCESSFUL TRIP

"It was not my first trip that ended in chaos, it was my third. On my first two, my experiences were apparently conventional. There were gaudy lights, the grotesquely real new ways of looking at people, the rapid experiencing of sights, sounds, and feelings. My friends told me that this was expanded consciousness, and so I believed them. Afterwards, I did seem to be able to have new insights on my friends and family, at least after talking with my friends, and I was willing to overlook the very frightening moments of anxiety early in the trips through which my guide helped me.

"But it was my third, as I say which was disastrous. Why, I cannot say. The dose was supposed to be the same (but you can't be sure, of course, unless you're a chemist and have made it yourself). The room was the same, and the guide was there with me. I anticipated greater ecstasy.

"But it was early in the trip that I noted that his face was more distorted than usual — strange, I never noticed how ugly he could be. And why did he have to shout at me so loudly? And then it was upon me, that searing pain in my chest, stabbing and growing. I dashed for the kitchen to get a knife to cut it out, but the doorway wasn't there. My guide caught me, held me and in an hour (or so it seemed), it passed.

"Then, I dreamed that I got into a subway, thinking that I would ride it to the end of the line. At once these words, 'end of line,' assumed awful and multiple proportions. I felt drawn and impelled towards this 'end of the line' where something was waiting and beckoning. I felt there I might find fulfillment or destruction, or both.

"At other times, I awakened into an increasingly incredible and terrifying world. I stood on the edge of a giant elevator shaft, which extended down into the infinite. Insane-looking men kept passing into the elevators and coming out again — the same men, over and over.

"Then it was pleasant for a while. A ray of sunshine came into the window and illuminated not only the room but the inside of our bodies. I was light, I floated. I could float up into the sky. I went to the window, but it was locked; the door, that was the way to fly! I was out of it before my guide could catch me and flying down the stairs. And then the sickening pain in my left shoulder (I afterwards found that I had been caught at the bottom of the stairs, and that my shoulder had been dislocated at that moment). The pain overwhelmed me, and I could no longer recognize people.

"It was later that I began to have some contact in the drab world of the hospital, but not for four weeks was I free enough of hallucinations and ordered enough in thought and action to be released. Now, three months later, I am approaching a point at which I can return to college.

"What about consciousness expansion and mystic experience and new meaning of life? A few of my friends insist that they have all these, and perhaps some do. But it is all too easy to term a rapid jumble of thoughts an increase in consciousness if your friend considers that he has had a mystic experience merely because he has for the first time been able to talk with friends about his feelings and theories; what I don't know about him is whether his feelings are the influence of the drug or the influence of the group."

Dr. Russell Deter, an El Paso doctor, supports "youth action against narcotics." "The purpose is to put teenagers in charge of drug abuse education and keep adults out of it as much as possible," he said.

The El Paso doctor says he got the idea from a television program in which he learned of an organization called smart set, international. The Hollywood-based group intends to organize, promote and support nationwide youth clubs in and out of schools for the purpose of combating the use of narcotics.

The theme of their program is SOS — Stamp Out Stupidity. This group is trying to prove taking dope isn't courageous or adventurous, it's stupid.

Dr. Deter says he's not concerned in selling his program to those already "hooked" on Marijuana and other drugs. "There's no way," he said, "they just won't buy it."

The ones Dr. Deter of El Paso is interested in are those on the edge — the ones who aren't captains of the football team or editors of the school newspaper, the ones who are asking themselves, "What am I here for?" It's a waste of time trying to determine the causes of why people turn to drugs because the causes are as complicated as life itself, but the doctor is interested in trying to combat the abyssal ignorance about drugs that exists in all levels of society, including the medical profession, education and

Saturday afternoon smashup . . .

THE TWO VEHICLES shown here were involved in a two-car collision at approximately 5:45 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of N.E. 6th St. and Wilson Ave. in Morton. There were no injuries suffered in the mishap but a substantial amount of property damage occurred. The 1961 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Anita Morales of Morton received an estimated $250 damage and the 1964 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Daniel Casarez, also of Morton, received an estimated damage of $150.

The El Paso physician says the biggest danger of drugs is that you can become mentally dependent on them and that he does not agree with those young people who say youth of today have to try everything at least once. When you see someone drive off a cliff you don't follow him, but you may go to the bottom of the cliff and see the results of what happened. The doctor says we need more people at the bottom of the cliff. "If you want a great mind-expanding experience," said Dr. Deter, "the library's open from 8 in the morning until 11 at night."

Mrs. Pool received her BA degree with English as a major from San Jose State College of California. Her AA degree was received in 1966, from San Jose City College with Spanish as a major.

Listed for two semesters on the Journalism Departmental Honor Roll, 1965-66 Mrs. Pool served as assistant feature editor on the staff of the San Jose City College Times (the college year book). She was also an assistant editor of Profile.

At San Jose State College, Mrs. Pool is a member of Delta Phi Upsilon, a national honorary society for those interested in elementary education. After post-graduate studies at San Jose State College, she plans to teach in the San Jose area.

Barnes predicts loss of consolidation bill

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes predicted defeat of the proposed compulsory consolidation of school districts in Texas.

"The Governor's Committee on Public School Education has made many constructive recommendations. I feel that the Texas Senate will pass many of them," Barnes said in a statement released this week.

"However, I feel that the Texas Senate will not pass compulsory consolidation," the new lieutenant governor said.

Barnes added that the recommendation to consolidate school districts with less than 2,600 students will probably fall on deaf ears.

"The Texas Senate and this Legislature will probably write an attractive financial incentive program to encourage voluntary consolidation but will not adopt laws making consolidation compulsory in Texas this year," Barnes said.

Compulsory consolidation and other recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education are included in Senate Bill No. 2 which was introduced last week by Senator A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Senator Oscar Mauzy of Dallas. The bill has been referred to the Senate Education Committee.

Mrs. Lane Tannehill

Mrs. Doug Reed

The Elementary teachers of the week are Mrs. Lane Tannehill and Mrs. Doug Reed.

Mrs. Tannehill, a graduate of Abernathy High School, attended college at Wayland Baptist College. She plans to attend Texas Tech this summer.

Mrs. Tannehill taught two years at Abernathy before coming to Morton. She is now in her second year here where she is a member of the First Methodist Church and says that she enjoys sewing and sports events in her spare time.

The Tannehills and their son, Timmy reside at 403 East Garfield.

Mrs. Reed, a graduate of Levelland High School, attended South Plains Junior College and graduated from West Texas State University. She is presently working on her Masters at East Texas State University.

Mrs. Reed, a member of the Emlea Smith Junior Study Club, attends St. Ann's Catholic Church.

In her second year at Morton, she is teaching the fourth grade. She taught the first grade last year.

The Reeds reside at 305 E. Grant.

Rep. Bill Clayton appointed livestock committee chairman

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake has been appointed Chairman of the Committee on Livestock by House Speaker Gus F. Mutscher of Brenham.

In announcing the appointment, Mutscher said that Clayton's service in the Legislature for the past three sessions and his experience as a Chairman of other committees during the 59th and 60th Legislatures will prove to be invaluable to the Committee and to the House of Representatives.

Clayton is the Representative for District 72 which encompasses Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Deaf Smith, Lamb and Parmer counties and claims that his district is the best in the State.

The 17-man Committee on Livestock will have jurisdiction over all matters concerning the livestock industry in Texas. This Committee takes the place of the Committee on Livestock and Stock Raising, as it was called during the 60th Legislature.

The 40-year-old Legislator is a Springlake farmer and businessman. He is a Mason, a member of the Baptist Church and a member of the Lions' Club. Representative and Mrs. Clayton are the parents of two children, a daughter, Brenda, and a son, Tommy.

"The tremendous amount of cattle and feed grown in Texas make this Committee's activities important to Texas," said Mutscher. "And no man has more interest in its promotion than Bill Clayton."

In addition to the Livestock Committee Chairmanship, Clayton has been appointed a member of four other committees. They are Conservation and Reclamation, State Affairs, Urban Affairs and the Elections committees.

The livestock industry and feed-lot development in Texas could be affected by the legislation that will be considered by the Livestock Committee, and places Chairman Clayton in a position to be especially helpful to this area.

The appointment to the Conservation and Reclamation Committee will provide an avenue for Clayton to continue his work in water resource development for the State and especially for West Texas.

SHE'S MY VALENTINE!

How wonderful young love is. Going steady is the greatest! For the box of candy he brought her, he was rewarded with a hug and a delighted squeal. They're sure of each other. Life is wonderful!

However, steadies break up, lovers part — young hearts are crushed. Life seems ended. It is hard for them to believe it when we tell them that another one will come along to claim their hearts.

Aren't we a lot like youngsters in love in our relationship with God? If things don't go our way, we adolescently feel that God doesn't love us. We blame Him for what our lack of wisdom has brought us. When he doesn't allow us everything we want, our hearts pout.

God would have us know that he loves us with a mature and everlasting love. He loves us as we are, even with all our faults. He stays faithful when we falter. He yearns for us when we turn away from him. He never withdraws. The Psalmist comforts us with this saying: "Thy faithfulness is unto all generations." God is near to all who call upon him. We invite you to come to Church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

IT'S CAKE EATIN' TIME at the office of the Morton Tribune. The Tribune was the fortunate winner in the annual Cake-A-Thon for the bid for a March of Dimes cake designed, baked and decorated by Mrs. Robert Travis, shown here presenting it to the members of the Tribune staff. Shown receiving the beautiful example of the culinary art are, from left, editor-publisher Bill Sayers, photographer Byron Willis, office manager Clara Richards and Mrs. Travis. The baker said this was not the best she had ever done, but the staff agreed that it was the best they had ever seen — or tasted.

Donna Williams selected Homemaker of Tomorrow

Miss Donna Williams, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Williams, has been named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Morton High School on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude test on homemaking given senior girls here December 3.

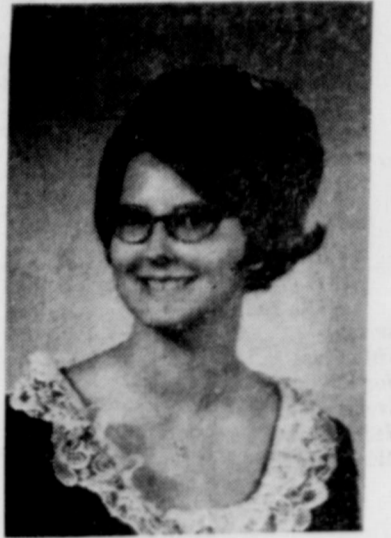

Donna's achievement has made her eligible for state and national scholarships. She also has been awarded a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

A state Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected from the winners of the schools in the state. The state winner will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be awarded a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The runner-up will earn a $500 educational grant.

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow from this state, together with those from all other states and the District of Columbia, each accompanied by a school advisor, will join in an expense paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., next spring.

The national winner — the 1969 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow — will be announced at an American Table dinner in Williamsburg. The choice will be on the basis of her original test score plus personal observation and interviews during the tour, and her scholarship will be increased to $5,000. Second, third, and fourth ranking Homemakers of Tomorrow in the nation will have their original scholarship grants increased to $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000, respectively.

This is the 15th year of the Betty Crocker Search, initiated in 1954-55 by

DONNA WILLIAMS

General Mills to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. More than six million senior girls have participated in the search program since its inception, and 1,400 winners will have earned scholarships totaling $1,391,500 at the conclusion of the current program.

The 630,564 girls from 15,116 schools registering for the 1969 Betty Crocker Search established a new record for the program.

Donna is a senior this year. Some of her activities include, Choir where she is a member of the girls sextete, she is on the 1969 Debate Team, and has been in band during earlier years of high school. Donna is also a member of the Eastside Church of Christ in Morton.

She participates in the Home and Family Living class for junior and senior boys and girls taught by Mrs. Murray Crone,

CATFISH FARMING

Tom L. Davey, of the Soil Conservation Service received two days of training in Lubbock and Plainview on the process of raising catfish on a commercial level. The first day of training was in Lubbock, the second day was in Plainview, in which about 60 people were present from the Lubbock area. Attending the second day of training with Tom was T. K. Williamson. The classes were conducted by Vernon Hicks, a Biologist on the State Staff of the Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Hicks has spent a great deal of time working in areas throughout the southern states where catfish farming is quite popular.

Catfish farming is big business in some areas, and at the present time the demand for catfish is greater than the supply. There are several ways to market catfish, one way is to sell pan size fish weighing about a pound and a half to two pounds. The pan size catfish are the most popular among the growers. Still another phase would be raising fingerlings, which are baby fish. The demand for fingerlings is great at the present. Also, another phase is raising brood fish or parent stock. One other phase of catfish farming would be raising catfish for public fishing. Tom felt this would be a good business in this area. The farms that are set up for the public have a good business. Most operations of this type charge for fishing plus a charge for entrance.

There are a few problems that a farmer in this area would have to combat. The first problem would be building a pond that would hold water; second problem would be having enough water to keep the ponds full of water. It requires at least 25 gallons per minute per surface acre of pond.

If anyone would like more information, please call or come by the Soil Conservation Office in Morton.

Helping Hands meet in Roberts Nursing Home

The Helping Hands met Monday, February 3, at the Roberts Memorial Nursing Home.

After the reading of the minutes by Jane Townsend, Mrs. Pearl Kobs gave an interesting talk on The Nursing Home Association. She also talked on the qualification of the nursing homes and the classification of the patients. The Roberts Memorial Nursing Home has qualified as an intermediate number three home.

After brief discussions the meeting adjourned.
