MORTON'S NEW POLICE CHIEF . . .

ARTHUR MASON, recently appointed Morton police chief who took office here August 15, was caught during a busy day as he emerged from his patrol car to check up on things in the office. Mason came to Morton following six years police service at Denver City. He and wife Hazel and son Norman, 18, reside at 502 South Main. The couple also have a married daughter who lives in Aurora, Illinois. Norman is soon to depart for North Texas State University where he will major in education. Tome Rehders Jr., also of Denver City, has been hired as a city patrolman and will begin his duties here today.

Whillock greets thin but eager Tribe; double drills underway

There's a lot of rebuilding going on around the Morton football field. On the east side on the practice field, coach Ted Whillock and his staff are trying to build a new football team; on the west side, carpenters are putting the finishing touches on a shiny new double-decker press box.

Whillock has the tougher job. It was a very strong ill wind that blew down the old press box early last summer. It was the ever occurring winds of graduation that carried away nine experienced seniors and left the Morton Indians without seasoned linemen. Seven of the departed grads were linemen and their leaving has created quite a problem for Whillock and his coaches.

As two-a-day workouts began this week, the lack-of-linemen problem became even more acute because of the conspicuous absence of two of the biggest men on the 1970 squad, seniors M. C. Collins and Monte Dubre. Both boys are still out of town.

Whether a big experienced backfield will offset the shortage in the line is a question that will probably not be determined until the season gets rolling, but the Indians will field an offensive running and passing game that has depth and some speed, even for traditionally slow Morton. Headed by 177-pound Terry Harvey running from a halfback position, the Tribe's ground game promises to be quite productive.

Last season Harvey galloped for 531

Area schools set for opening

Area school teachers and supervisory personnel are hard at work this week preparing for the onrush of students who will be entering the doors on August 24, 26 and 31.

Teachers at some of the schools are busy with in-service training in anticipation of the August 24 and 26 starting dates, while some will begin the training Monday prior to their school's opening date of August 31.

Including elementary, junior high, high school, junior college and university students, the teachers will be greeting more than 2,000 students from the local area who will be reporting for the 1970-71 school year classes.

Following a new semester schedule inaugurated last year, Whiteface and Bula High Schools, South Plains College, Lubbock Christian College and Texas Tech University will complete the first semester prior to the Christmas holidays. The other area schools will still have two weeks remaining on the semester after returning from the holidays.

Cochran county students will again help to swell the enrollment of South Plains College where they were the third largest contingent of students last year, trailing in numbers only Lubbock and Levelland. A large percentage of the Morton High School graduating class has declared intentions of enrolling there and several have indicated they will attend Texas Tech.

Morton schools are expecting a combined enrollment of approximately 1,054 students, according to superintendent Bob E. Travis. Expectations are that the high school will enroll 304, junior high 290 and elementary 460. This approximates the enrollment of last year, with a slight gain expected in the high school and junior high and a loss of some 40 pupils in the elementary school, Travis said.

There will be 180 teaching days this year in compliance with a new state law passed by the Legislature and all teachers will have ten days additional work in in-service and other training to comply with the new 10-month school year regulation. Classes for all Morton schools will begin at 8:30 a.m., Monday, August 31.

Public school enrollment for the five area districts may top the 1,900 mark, with most of them expecting very near the same numbers as last year. These range from 1,054 at Morton to approximately 80 expected at Bula. Whiteface officials expect an enrollment near 370. Three Way expects some 260 and Bledsoe anticipates 120.

Of the local schools, Bula joins Whiteface this year in the new system that completes the fall semester prior to the Christmas holidays. The school has converted from the traditional six-week reporting period to a nine-week period. Mid-term examinations at Bula will be administered December 22 and 23 and will

★ Jamboree Time!!

The Morton monthly Country Western Jamboree will be held Saturday night from 8 till 11 p.m. at the County Activity Building.

Tommy Williams from Andrews will MC the show.

Among the groups appearing will be the "Blue Grass Drifters" from Andrews, "The Kay Brothers" from Hobbs, N. M., "The Border Bandits" from Causey, N. M., Terry Sue Newman from Levelland, Elvis Fleming from Roswell, N. M. and the "Country Classics" from Morton.

C'mon y'all! Come out and enjoy another big, big night of first-rate country and western entertainment.

MHS band daily practice pointing to football season

Rehearsals now underway for the Morton High School Band will continue through Thursday of next week as the members prepare for the approaching football marching season.

All practice sessions will begin at 8 p.m. each evening.

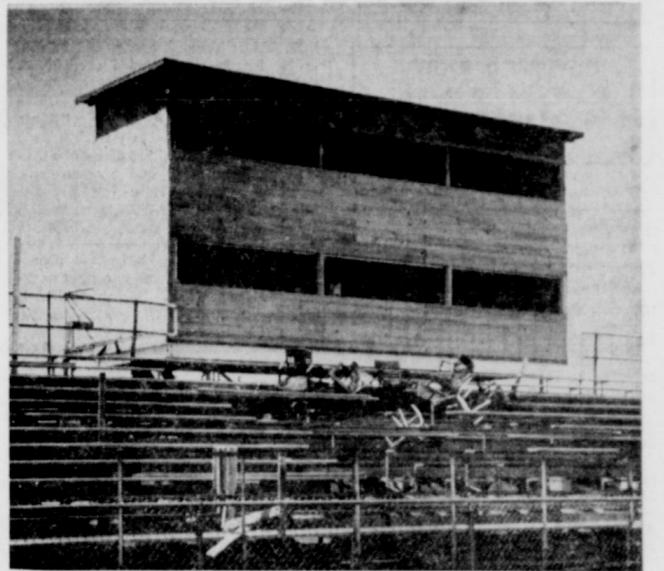

Director John Stockdale is anticipating a full band of 70 to 75 students this year. With some new additions in some sections, Stockdale said he felt the 1970-71 band would be stronger than last year's fine group.

Stockdale revealed that last year's band was honored this summer as tape recordings of the group's performance were submitted in competition for state-wide Honor Band honors. The MHS band tape was selected from 22 class AA bands to be played for judges at the Texas Band Masters Association that met in July.

Sixteen bands, considered to be the best in the state, were involved in the state-wide AA competition. The winning honors went to Seymour High School. Their band will perform at the February convention of the Texas Music Educators' Association.

Although the Indian band did not place in the competition, the playing of the tape recording for the judges gave the Morton band state-wide recognition for being a top musical organization.

Stockdale pointed out that a better instrument balance this year among band members will give an opportunity for a stage band to be organized.

BIGGER AND BETTER . . .

IT COULD TURN OUT that it was no ill wind that recently blew down and destroyed the antiquated press box from atop the west stands at Indian Stadium. The new facility, presently under construction above, is much larger and will provide much more working space for media personnel and other users. The double deck will provide approximately twice the space in the old facility, and it is hoped the equipment inside will be on as grand a scale.

School taxes to remain same despite large boost in budget

Morton Independent School District tax rate will remain the same despite a near $100,000 increase in the school budget for the 1970-71 fiscal year, it was learned at the school board meeting Monday night.

The tax rate will remain at $1.95 per one hundred dollar valuation, even though the budget which the board approved will increase from $712,620 for 1969-70 to $803,230 for the 1970-71 fiscal year. Principal reasons for the budget rise are a substantial teachers pay increase granted by the Legislature and the increase in operating expenses.

The cost of goods and services continue to rise and we must anticipate the additional cost and budget for it so as not to be caught with a large deficit, superintendent Bob E. Travis told the Tribune. He added that more funds will be forthcoming from the state this year than last, which will enable the school system to absorb the higher costs without resorting to a tax raise. "We can see the strong possibility of a tax raise on the horizon for next year, however," he stated.

The Morton district anticipates ending the 1969-70 fiscal year on September 30 with approximately $6,000 in surplus funds, Travis said.

During the Monday night session the board voted to prorate the school taxes collected, including delinquent taxes collected, into three segments as follows: Of the $1.95, $1.29 will go into the Local Maintenance Fund, $.53 will go into the Interest and Sinking Fund and the remaining $.13 into the Warrant Fund.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ray Stroud and approved the addition to the teaching staff for 1970-71 of Miss June Arnold, Miss Connie Jean Compton, Mrs. Phillis Reed and Robert W. Taylor. Employment of Mrs. Lanave Freeland as counselor for the 1970-71 school year was also approved.

Payment of bills for the month of July in the amount of $55,546.62 was approved, and appointment of Fred Z. Payne, C.P.A., to audit the school records for 1969-70 was made.

A motion to allow a two percent discount on school taxes for 1970 collected in October and one percent on taxes collected in November, was carried.

★ Cotton contest

The annual Last Frontier Cotton Council "Sew It With Cotton Contest" is scheduled for Tuesday, September 22, at 7 p.m. in the County Auditorium. Pre-contest judging will be held Monday, September 21 and all entries must be in by September 14.

Entry blanks may be obtained at local stores handling piece goods. There will be prizes in all categories ranging from ages 1 through 18 and over. Entries are not required to be members of the Cotton Council.

Rep. Clayton slated to preside at session of national conference

State Rep. Bill Clayton, Springlake, has been named to preside over one session at the 23rd annual meeting of the National Legislative Conference slated Aug. 27 at Salt Lake City, Utah. The session will include a panel discussion on "Protecting Our Environment in the Face of Conflicting Demands."

Rep. Clayton, who represents the 72nd District, comprised of Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb and Cochran counties, is executive director of Water, Inc., a West Texas organization working for full water resources development. He is currently serving as secretary-treasurer of the Interstate Conference on Water Problems and has just returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he was named to the executive board of the Southern Water Resources Council.

Keynoting the panel session will be Congressman Paul N. McCloskey of California. Other participants will be Sen. Ralph S. Regula, Ohio; Richard Sullivan, Commissioner of Environmental Protection in New Jersey; Wesley E. Gilbertson, Deputy Secretary for Environmental Protection, Pennsylvania Department of Health; and James Coulter, Deputy Secretary of Natural Resources, Maryland.

The National Legislative Conference is made up of legislative leaders from throughout the nation.

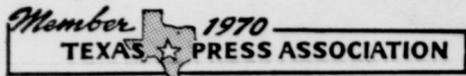

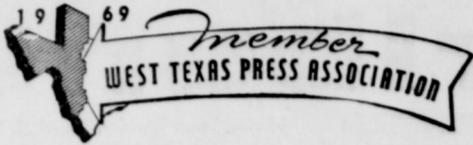

Rep. Clayton has had a keen interest in all phases of water resources development during his tenure of office.

EAGER TO GET STARTED . . .

A LARGE TURNOUT of eager Morton Indian football candidates were on hand as two-a-day practice sessions got underway at Indian Stadium this week. Some key members of the squad are still missing due to late vacations and summer jobs, but coach Ted Whillock and his assistants had a good nucleus around which to form his training schedule. "Strong at running backs and ends and weak in the line" is Whillock's preliminary size-up of the squad.

le injury the talented Morton senior missed two games entirely and was used sparingly in another.

Against Plains, Harvey rolled for 184 yards on 18 carries.

Other backs that saw experience last season include fullback Kevin Kuehler, halfbacks Elton Patton and Eddie Lewis, and quarterback Keith Embry. Embry passed and ran for 657 yards last year.

Lanky senior Stan Coffman will possibly share quarterbacking duties with the versatile Embry. Coffman missed his junior year with a knee injury.

Sophomore Jimmy Harvey and freshman Larry Thompson will lend additional depth to the Indian backfield.

Whillock has made, and probably will make several more, shifts in order to cure his line problem. Swivel-hipped speedster Willie Holland is being tried at the split end position. Last season, Holland averaged over four yards per carry from his halfback spot. Former back Eddie Lewis has been converted to fill the tight end position to lend added experience to the right side of the Indian forward wall.

One of the few linemen with experience, senior Kirby Gresham is currently filling the right tackle position. Seniors Steve Crockett and Darrel Betts are being tried at the left tackle and guard spots. Collins and Dubre will be worked into the lineup upon their return to Morton.

Weight-wise, the Indians will field a heavier team this year with a 170-pound line and a 160-pound backfield.

Thirty-one football hopefuls, including eight seniors, have been working out this week under a unique plan. Beginning at 9 a.m. the Indians run through agility and practice drills, then swim for an hour, take a lunch break and return at 1:30 p.m. for another workout. The experiment is an attempt to beat the late afternoon August heat and to provide the boys with an opportunity to be able to work in the afternoons. Many of the squad members move pipe before and after workouts. Both the team and the coaches seem well-satisfied with the arrangement.

A disappointing turnout of sophomores has jeopardized Morton's chance of playing a full B team schedule. Through Tuesday, only 16 of the projected 30 sophs had reported for workouts.

Only one change has been made in the coaching staff. Replacing Bill White for the 1970-71 year is 24-year old Mark Sullivan, a recent graduate of the University of Texas at El Paso. Sullivan will serve as a junior high coach and scout for the varsity.

Returning from last year are Doug Reed line coach and first assistant, Tommy Thomson, end coach and scout, and Lester Dupler, backfield and defensive secondary coach. Whillock is beginning his second year as head coach and athletic director.

Tornado victims in Lubbock, Texas, have had some of their problems eased with the donation of 55 VA homes for their use during readjustment.

GETTING WITH IT . . .

THE BLAZING HOT SUN was no damper to the Morton High School football squad as they plunged into two-a-day drills this week in preparation for the coming season. Here they are loosening up with calisthenics prior to the head-knocking session that comes later each afternoon. They will continue two-a-days until August 28 and will revert to one practice per day when classes begin on August 31.

Area schools . . .

send the students home for the holidays with their exams behind them.

All of the schools are required to offer Kindergarten classes for certain categories of pre-school students if the demand for such training warrants it. These pre-school classes are offered for the benefit of the economically and educationally deprived. Some of the schools are combining the Kindergarten training with Headstart educational programs which they already have in progress.

Four of the area high schools were deep into football workouts this week in preparation for pre-season scrimmages and the first season game September 11. Coaches at Morton, Whiteface, Three Way and Bula were putting their charges through their paces and chaffing under the handicaps of absenteeism by squad members due to late vacations and summer jobs.

Bledsoe students who do not participate in a football program, will be looking forward to the coming basketball season later in the year.

Governor approves law enforcement grant for Lubbock SPAG

Governor Preston Smith today approved a grant of $12,016 to the South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock, for use in regional law enforcement officer training.

The grant was made on recommendation of the Texas Criminal Justice Council, which administers funds from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, U.S. Department of Justice.

It is one of 30 action grants recommended by the Council at its regular monthly meeting. The 30 grants totaled $1,533,575.

Judge Joe Frazier Brown, executive director of the Council, said the South Plains Association will employ a law enforcement training coordinator on a half-time basis and will purchase training equipment and materials for the training program. Classroom space in the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office, at Wayland College in Plainview and at South Plains Junior College, Levelland, will be used to conduct three classes of 160 hours each in the basic police science course. Attending the course will be 76 officers

SPS gives warning on renewal of car stickers

Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today warned Texas motorists that vehicles with red motor vehicle inspection stickers with the large numeral "9" must be inspected before midnight September 30.

Texas now operates on a 12-month inspection system. The inspection sticker is placed in the lower left-hand corner of the windshield and contains a large numeral showing the month of inspection and expiration. Motorists with vehicles with red stickers with the number "10" will require re-inspection before midnight on the last day of October. Those with an "11" must be inspected before the end of November, with a December 31 deadline for red stickers numbered "12."

All motor vehicles and certain classes of trailers are subject to the mandatory inspection which includes brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle, steering (including power steering), wheels and rims, exhaust system, and exhaust emission system.

State law requires that inspections be made at privately owned official inspection stations which have been appointed and regulated by the Department of Public Safety. The statutory inspection fee is $2.00, with adjustments or repairs extra if required.

Valuable hints for parents can make first graders life easier

It's back-to-school time again for more than 2.7 million students in the Texas public schools.

For about 224,500 of them, it will be "first-time-to-school." Most of these will be first graders, but some 30,000 will be 5-year-olds in the new state-supported kindergarten program.

Among numerous changes in Texas schools this year, the teachers will begin work a bit earlier, and students in some localities will begin classes earlier. The school year will have 180 classroom days instead of 175. Teachers will be on duty for 10 more days of non-teaching work during the year to help with school opening and closing, and to receive in-service instruction that will help them to teach better.

Despite these changes, the experience of heading off to school for the first time won't be much different for this year's 6- and 5-year-olds than it was for their parents. It's a giant step for little people.

To help parents make it easier on their youngsters, the Texas State Teachers Association offers some basic tips in a leaflet titled "To Help the Child, and Parents Too!" Here are some of the pointers:

Registration Procedure
Any child who is 6 years old on or before September 1 may be admitted for the 1970-71 school year. (Special requirements for enrollment of certain 5-year-old children in public school kindergarten for 1970-71 have been publicized locally.)

The child's birth certificate must be presented at time of enrollment. Some schools, in the interest of good health, require that the child be vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus.

Other information which the school place of work, and phone number of the father; name, address and phone number of the family doctor; and the family's home address and phone number.

How Parents Can Help
When parents meet their child's principal and teacher for the first time, they may offer these suggestions:

Teach your child the safest way home. Teach him (or her) to go directly home from school without loitering on the way. Remind him not to go with strangers.

Give your child definite duties at home and see that he performs them.

Help him to establish good listening habits.

See that your child gets enough sleep. Provide your child with a good breakfast each morning.

See that he is happy before he leaves for school.

Teach your child that policemen are his friends and that he should go to them when he needs help.

Teach him to dress himself properly. Teach him to have confidence in his teacher.

Provide opportunities for your child to be away from his mother for short periods of time before he starts to school.

Teach your child to respect the property rights of others.

Allow your child to do as much for himself as he is able to do.

Show an interest in what he has to tell you about his work and play at school.

Help him see likenesses and differences in objects and forms.

Encourage him to have playmates. Help him learn habits of promptness, obedience, and respect for authority.

Read to your child. Take him to places of interest such as the zoo, park, and library.

Label his personal belongings with his name and address.

Praise your child frequently; help him to feel successful.

The First Teacher
The child's first teacher has an enormous responsibility and opportunity to be shape his or her future life. The teacher will help the child to:

Have opportunities in group learning, work, and play.

Think for himself.

Become interested in the world about him.

Treat others with consideration and fairness.

Feel at ease with others.

Build a good foundation for future learning.

Parents are always welcome to visit their child's school. When visiting, they should stop first at the administrative office and meet the principal.

When it is necessary to bring a child's lunch or other supplies to school, they should be left with instructions at the school office. Classes should not be interrupted while in session. Arrangements should be made in advance for conferences with the child's teacher.

Parents are invited and urged to join the PTA, attend its meetings, and take an active part in the work it does to support the school.

The TSTA leaflet points out that the parents' attitude toward the school and the teacher will be observed — and often copied — by the child. Parents therefore should avoid criticizing school or teacher in the child's presence. Instead, they should do what they can to solve such school-related problems as conflict with another child, a difficult activity, or a school rule that the child does not understand.

School Wants to Know
The school principal will want to know — in advance if possible — when a family moves to a new address.

A child with a cold, fever, sick stomach or other severe ailment is better off at home than at school; however, parents should encourage and require good school attendance by their children. A written excuse from the parents may be needed when the child returns from an absence.

When child-school problems of any kind arise, the parent should feel free to discuss them with the child's teacher.

James Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Keller of Mineral Wells. James arrived July 28 in Palo Minto General Hospital in Mineral Wells and weighed 8 pounds and 8 1/2 ounces.

Grandparents are Mrs. J. O. Gathright and the late Mr. Gathright of Morton and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Keller of Red Oaks.

Heather Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lantz of Pettit. She arrived August 18 at 12 noon at Cochran Memorial Hospital and weighed 7 pounds and 6 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Nile Wood of St. Joe are visiting in the home of their daughter and family, the Dake Merritts. Other visitors in the Merritt home last week was their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Merritt of Lubbock.

A simple dressing to serve with leaf lettuce from the garden is to mix one cup sour cream with 1/4 cup each of chili sauce and chopped sweet pickle, a tablespoon of lemon juice, and 1/4 teaspoon dill. Cover and chill until ready to use.

July rural highway toll low for county

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Cochran County during the month of July, according to Sergeant Hal Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,100.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first seven months of 1970 show a total of 18 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 15 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $9,954.00.

"School days" are here again. The familiar yellow school buses are back on the motorists of the state law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

Comments on Conservation

They say traveling is broadening. It is also tiring. However, many times you will not notice the tiredness if the countryside holds your interest.

This is what happened to a group of conservationists that toured parts of the High Plains last week. This group was composed of men from as far south as Big Spring to as far north as Stratford, Texas. The purpose of the trip was to look at a new type of farming being done in Texas:

NO-TILL and MINIMUM TILLAGE farming are the names that have been given these types of farming. You clean till, straight row farmers are probably thinking, "Shucks, there is nothing new about that. My lazy neighbor has been practicing that for years. Why he produces enough weed and Johnson grass before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

seed each year to keep all his neighbors' farms in trouble."

That is not the kind of farming that we are talking about. Chemicals are used to control the weeds. The ground isn't stirred except when it is apparent that some cultivation is needed to help in the control of weeds. The less plowing that is done the less favorable it is for weeds.

Even the most staunch believer in clean till farming can have his faith shaken. This especially true if you are standing in a field of knee high milo that has been planted directly into the standing wheat stubble and hear the farmer say, "If I had broken the land following the wheat and had used the conventional method of planting, I never would have got this crop in."

This statement was made by Mr. Clarence Zabel who farms in Hansford County. A visit to the Ernest Sheets farm in Dallam County will not help the cause of the clean till farmer any. The most "iron-jawed" believer will catch his mouth sagging as he gazes at corn that is over 12 feet tall and has never been plowed. Mr. Sheets planted the corn into green wheat on May 20. Many thought him foolish and his corn certain to fail. Faith, chemicals, and irrigation combined to prove him wise and his corn crop a success.

On the entire tour we did not see any no-till and minimum tillage operations that were failures. We saw some that looked a lot better than others. Fields were looked at where one or two things could have been done to improve what they had.

But, if you haven't guessed by now, I am sold on this type of farming. If you want to cut down on the number of trips your tractor has to make over your field, drop by the S.C.S. office and let's talk NO-TILL and MINIMUM TILLAGE FARMING.

"We are all concerned that our water resources, once believed to be as inexhaustible as the air we breathe, are limited . . . and are being wasted at a prodigious rate. And even the air is being polluted to such an extent that it also has become a misused resource . . . Past Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman

MRS. GEORGE BUSH

(Editor's Note) The following comments were written by Mrs. George Bush, wife of the Republican Congressman from Texas, who is now a candidate for the Senate. It is an interesting commentary on life in Washington, and since we can see no other implications attached, it is presented here without comment. Being familiar with Washington, through military service there, and all the treasures it can offer the visitor and tourist, we considered this very worthwhile reading.

Many friends of ours who come to Washington spend so much needless time and money riding in cabs from place to place to visit the historical points of interest. I am sure that many, many people, because of lack of knowledge or poor planning, they repeat, crisscross the double back on their own paths. For the reason I have been working on several walking tours around the federal city. Recently, when my sister, Martha Raffer, came to spend several days with me, I tried out one of these walking tours which went like this:

It was a beautiful day when we arrived at the White House at 8:30 a.m. for the morning tour. (I had made reservations many weeks before through my sister's Congressman's office.) At 9:30 a.m. we walked out of the North entrance of the White House and stood facing the fountain, sunny fountain and flower-filled Lafayette Park directly across from the White House. We walked through the park, directly to the right of the White House, to the Treasury Department where we could look at their coin collection had we wished. We did look at and discuss the little yellow house half way down the block to our right. This house was built by Benjamin Ogle Tayloe in 1830 and was a social center during the Taylor administration. It was owned by a Mr. Taylor during President McKinley's years and became known as the "Little White House" because President McKinley often stayed there.

Several houses farther up the street at the corner of H Street and Madison Place stands another old house. This place was the home of Dolly Madison, widow of President James Madison from 1817 to 1849. It is now the Federal Historical Center and was restored in 1968. Neither of these two houses is open to the public, but they are of historical interest, as so much of the social and political life of the first 50 years of the city and country took place in them. Next we walked across H Street and to St. John's Church, also painted a yellow. This church is known as the church of the Presidents because every President from Madison to Lyndon Johnson has prayed in it. (You may be sure that the congregation are eagerly awaiting the day that President Nixon walks across the park to one of its many services!) St. John's was built in 1816 by Benjamin Henry Latrobe, our nation's first architect.

It is a magnificent little church with lovely stained glass windows. One large half oval window in the south transept by Lorin is of special interest. It was given by President Chester Arthur in memory of his wife Ellen. He asked that the window be placed on the south side so he might look across Lafayette Square from the White House at night and see the light from the church shining through.

A wonderful balcony curls around the sides and back of the church. About three-fourths of the way down the left aisle is the "President's Pew." There are needle-point prayer cushions in the pew with the Presidential seal delicately stitched in. We have visited this church and find that this pew stays empty until the service starts when the minister's family slips quietly in.

And now we walked to the northwest corner of the park and visited the Decatur House, presently home of the National Trust. This Georgian House was also designed by Latrobe and was finished in 1819. The first owner, Stephen Decatur, was a naval hero who fought at the Battle of Tripoli. He was killed in a duel some 15 months after moving into 748 Jackson Place, N.W. After Decatur's death this house changed hands several times and had many tenants. It has been the home of ministers from Russia, France and Great Britain; Henry Clay when he was Secretary of State, and Martin Van Buren when he was Vice-President. It is even said that at a dark moment in this house's history slaves were sold, against the law, in the garden behind the house. The first two floors are open to the public. The ground floor is furnished as nearly as possible as it was in the early 1800's and the second floor, in direct contrast, is furnished in the Victorian style of its last owner, Mrs. Truxton Beale. She entertained all of Washington society for 50 years, from visiting royalty, ambassadors, statesmen from here and abroad, including a youthful senator from Massachusetts, John Kennedy. This is a fascinating house!

Incidentally, if you are in Washington with children, the old stables in the back of the house have been made into the Truxton-Decatur Naval Museum. This small, free museum houses an excellent collection of ships' models and artifacts.

We walked on, turned right on Pennsylvania Avenue and passed by Blair House (the guest room of the White House) and came to the Renwick Gallery. This is the

ASCS Farm News

By John W. Hall

Cochran County officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service are encouraging all eligible farmers to vote later this summer in ASC committee elections.

"Decisions made by farmer-elected ASC committees can be important to almost all farming operations in the area. That's why we want to be sure every farmer who is eligible to vote in ASC elections is on the list to get a ballot," Danny Key, Chairman of the Cochran County ASC Committee, said.

"We urge any farmer who has not previously participated in an ASC election, has changed the location of his farming operation, or who has any other reason to believe that his name may not be listed in ASCS records to contact his County ASCS Office as soon as possible. In this way, he will be assured of receiving a ballot enabling him to vote in the upcoming election."

The ASC elections this year will be held September 11. Ballots will be mailed to voters about September 1. Farmer voters will elect three community committees and two alternates in each ASC community in the county.

The ASC Committee Chairman said that in addition to trying to be sure that every eligible voter will get a ballot, ASCS officials are urging farmers to nominate candidates for community committee posts by petition. "Any sheet of paper listing one candidate and having signatures of at least six eligible voters will serve as a nominating petition. And voters may sign as many petitions as they want," he said.

The nomination-by-petition period for ASC community elections opens July 28 and continues through August 17.

Farmer-elected ASC committees — community and county — are responsible for local administration of farm programs. These responsibilities include setting individual farm acreage allotments and bases, approving applications for conservation cost-share funds, providing information to farm program participants and similar duties.

"Through the ASC committee election system, farmers can nominate and elect people of their own choice for these important responsibilities," Key said.

He explained that after the community committees are elected, the newly-elected members hold a convention to fill vacancies on the County ASC Committee. The county committee makes all local farm program decisions, with the assistance of community committees.

A list of known eligible voters in the county is open for inspection at the County ASCS Office.

The ASC Committee Chairman said that to be an eligible voter, a person must be eligible to participate in any ASCS program administered in the community where he has his farm interest. Also an eligible voter must have a farm interest as an owner, tenant, or sharecropper and be of legal voting age. If he is not of legal voting age, he may vote in ASC elections if he supervises and conducts the farming operations on an entire farm.

Key said that as a general rule all farmers are eligible voters in ASC elections.

In the State of Texas spouses of farmers are also eligible voters.

Full details on voter eligibility, nomination by petition, community boundaries, and election procedures are available from the Cochran County ASCS Office.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex. — More than 2.7 million Texas students soon will be heading back to public schools again.

There will be a lot of changes in store for them, although most probably will fast adjust or barely recognize the differences.

Teachers will begin work a little earlier, and classes in some areas will start earlier.

School year will stretch out from 175 classroom days to 180.

Teachers will be on duty 10 more days of non-teaching work for in-service training and to help with school opening and closing.

For 224,500 little ones, the school experience will be brand new. They are the first graders and (30,000) five-year-olds in a new state-supported kindergarten program.

A drug education program also will be initiated, seeking an effective two-way communication between youth and adults. Utilized in the effort will be modern techniques and teaching methods which encourage students to express themselves rather than relying on lectures, preaching or moralizing.

Training of local teaching teams in 1,206 school districts is slated to start in September and October.

Twenty-two school districts in major population and geographic areas will be pilot testing three key facets of the state's emerging plan for special education. These districts will serve as a proving ground for efforts in comprehensive special education, early childhood programs for exceptional children and teaching tailored for children with language and/or learning disabilities.

Even broader changes may be in store for pupils of 18 school districts sued in federal courts at Austin and Tyler for racial segregation. Districts held conferences at Texas Education Agency last week to prepare plans for conversion to non-discriminatory systems. Plans are due to go to courts by Friday (Aug. 21). Hearings may begin Monday.

EAGLE MAY BE OUT — A Railroad Commission examiner has prepared a report recommending Missouri Pacific Railway Company be permitted to discontinue its St. Louis Eagle passenger train.

Finding came after extensive hearings in several cities. Opponents of shutting down the train have 30 days to reply and restate their case.

Eagle was one of the last three passenger trains on a regular run across the state from Texarkana to Laredo and back once a day.

MP claimed a revenue loss and asked permission to cut it off its routes.

DRAFT CALL UP — September draft call for Texas is 704 — a considerable increase from 560 in August. But no man will be ordered for induction with a random sequence number higher than 195.

Col. Charles M. Duncan, deputy state Selective Service director, said it appears unlikely the ceiling will go higher than 195 for the rest of the year. Duncan said new manpower, mainly from formerly-deferred students, helped hold the level on sequence numbers.

September quota for pre-induction physical and mental examinations is 7,171, an increase from 1,490 in August. Texas' induction quota of 704 is the state's share of a national call of 12,000 men, all for the Army.

PARKS ADVANCED — Outstanding new Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near Stonewall, and across Ranch Road 1 from the famed LBJ Ranch, will be officially dedicated on August 29 at 2 p.m.

Former president will attend the festivities which include a reception and luncheon in Stonewall.

Parks and Wildlife Department also announced approval of a $335,050 federal grant for a development project in Abilene State Park.

Funds will be matched by the state on a 50-50 basis in the $710,000 project which includes building of a headquarters, visitors' center, campsite, a group shelter, wading pool, playground equipment, roads, and parking.

INSPECTION TIME AGAIN — Another auto inspection deadline is approaching for vehicles with red stickers and the large numeral "9."

These cars, warned Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, must be reinspected before midnight September 30.

Texas now has a 12-month inspection system. Sticker in the lower left-hand corner of each automobile windshield contains a large numeral showing the month of inspection and expiration.

Speir said cars with red stickers and a number "10" must be reinspected before midnight on the last day of October, those with an "11" by the end of November and those with a "12" by December 31. Fee remains at $2, with adjustments or repairs extra if required.

LAND RECOVERY SOUGHT — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has called on Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin to take whatever legal steps are necessary to recover lands of Calhoun County Navigation District not being used for navigation purposes.

Sadler noted that 47,000 acres were purchased by the district from the state in 1956 for $1 an acre. In 1961, Sadler said, he refused to approve the district's application to buy additional lands, after officials admitted 20,000 acres of the original purchase were considered surplus acreage not needed for navigation purposes. Some of this land was sold, and has gone into private real estate development.

Commissioner said he urged the attorney general's office as far back as December 28, 1961, to take steps to recover the 20,000 acres for the permanent school fund but got no action. School Land Board, he related, has now requested that the land be recovered.

GRANTS APPROVED — Gov. Preston Smith has approved a federal grant for $114,389 for operation of a family planning program for migrant farm workers in 26 Texas counties and six other states where they migrate.

Counties benefitting are Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Bexar, Jim Wells, Maverick, Zavala, Dimmitt, Frio, LaSalle, McMullen, Duval, Webb, Live Oak, Bee, Refugio, San Patricio, Nueces, Kleberg, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Starr, Willacy, Hidalgo and Cameron.

Smith also announced approval of a demonstration grant of $72,344 to Las Colonias Del Valle Inc. in San Juan, Hidalgo County, for youth development program.

A state regional planning assistance grant of $14,930 went to the South Plains

Association of Governments (SPAG) serving 33 cities, eight special purpose governments and 11 counties.

AG OPINIONS — An off-duty policeman may not conduct a private enterprise, employing other off-duty policemen or officers, to perform guard duty or patrol without securing a license, says Attorney General Martin.

In other opinions, Martin ruled that: An alarm agency, approved by the State Board of Insurance, may perform certain activities — send their representative to answer the alarm, furnish a key to police officers for entrance to the premises, assist the police as they may request in their check of the premises, and reset the alarm after the police have finished their work — without its personnel having obtained a license.

Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education has authority to hire an executive director, provided that his duties are solely administrative or ministerial, and do not call upon him to exercise discretion or judgment concerning the powers and duties required to be performed by the members of the Commission.

SHORT SNORTS — Judge Joe Frazier Brown of San Antonio, executive director of the Texas Criminal Justice Council, has been named to the national executive committee and chairman of the committee on discretionary grants for heads of state criminal justice planning agencies.

Drug use among children committed to Texas Youth Council has increased from five to 70 per cent during last three years, according to new report of State Program on Drug Abuse.

South Texas groups (United Farm Workers, PASO, MAYO and Colonias del Valle) have filed suit against the governor and the Department of Public Safety, claiming they are being spied on by state police.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Craddock of Austin is new administrative technician in Texas Office of Economic Opportunity.

Baylor County 4-H Club members hold a unique type of livestock show each spring. The program designed by the late Roy L. McClung Sr. was started to train youngsters in the principles of commercial cattle raising and feeding rather than feeding calves for stock show competition. The calves are raised as feeder-stock animals instead of show stock. Awards are based upon the profit made per calf and on record kept and an oral explanation by the 4-H'er on how his project was conducted.

Texas Tech's vast, museum complex opens November 14

November 14 has been set for the dedication and formal opening of The Museum on the campus of Texas Tech University, according to Eugene Kingman, director of exhibits and programs.

After an unprecedented move from its old home in the heart of the Tech campus to a new multi-million dollar complex on a 76-acre tract at 4th St. and Indiana Ave., the staff is preparing exhibits and displays to be on view when the doors are opened to the public this fall.

Months of packing by The Museum staff, 600 manhours and 15 days of professional moving operations, many hours of work by volunteers, and many headaches, both literal and figurative, went into the move.

The literal headaches were caused by the noise of hammer blows, power saw whines and pneumatic drills, and the smell of paint fumes in the old museum building where staff members and movers were trying to do their jobs. Workmen who were assigned to remodel the old building into classrooms were tearing out walls and constructing partitions as soon as the contents of each office and gallery were moved.

Figurative headaches were the multitude of problems encountered during a move so complex.

It took a bit of extra care to move an ancient dinosaur thigh bone down a flight of stairs. It took a good bit of figuring when it was discovered that a giant prehistoric elephant's skeleton would not go through the front door of the old museum building. Workmen had to dismantle the bones and carry the beast out in sections. Another "headache" occurred when it was discovered that display cases constructed in the Hall of Earth and Man were larger than the doorways.

Supervision of the delicate task of transporting the vast array of displays fell to Charles M. McLaughlin, associate director for administration.

Mrs. Betty Mills, assistant curator of collections, and her staff inherited the headaches that go along with packing and labeling hundreds of items in the collection, and performing the same task in reverse: unpacking and checking accession numbers and storing each item.

Months of planning have been spent by Eugene Kingman, who is designing exhibition areas and whose job is to execute the exhibits in time for the opening. With help of Miss Pat Allgood, preparator Kingman is also planning exhibits for upcoming Panhandle-South Plains Fair at the Texas Tech Student Union Building and a special display to coincide with the Southwest Theatre Conference to be held in Lubbock this fall.

Meanwhile Jerry Rogers, director of the Ranch Headquarters, which is being developed as an outdoor museum on the Museum grounds, has been busy negotiating for tornado debris to be delivered to the site, to serve as foundations of large earthen berms which will be part of the landscape of the complex.

Local English teacher scholarship recipient

Mrs. Frances Watkins, Associate Professor of English at South Plains College and Mrs. Vera Bailey, Morton, were the year's recipients of the two scholarships given by Theta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

The awards are given each year to women, one as an outstanding instructor and the other, a prospective teacher.

Mrs. Watkins did summer study at Texas Tech studying "English Romanticism," under Dr. Kenneth Davis, an authority in that field; and "Studies in Medieval Literature," under Dr. Joseph Morgan, a renowned scholar. This included reading everything written during that period except Chaucer.

Mrs. Bailey attended South Plains College and is now studying at Texas Tech with plans for a career in teaching.

Mrs. Watkins holds life membership in Delta Kappa Gamma, an international honor society for women teachers.

"... We seek to use our natural resources not as a thing apart but something that is interwoven with industry, labor, finance, taxation, agriculture, homes, recreation, good citizenship. The result of this interweaving will have a greater influence on the future American standard of living than all the rest of our economics put together." — Franklin D. Roosevelt
