A senior boy and girl have been named as Valedictorian and Salutatorian of the 1972 graduating class at Morton High School, Kenneth Baker, High School Principal, has announced.

David Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rice of Morton, was named Valedictorian. David registered a 3.97 grade point average on a 4.00 point scale to win valedictory honors. On this scale, Rice's average for his high school years is well above the A minus level.

Teri Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris, of Morton, was named Salutatorian. Teri maintained a 3.93 scholastic average on the same scale to also finish well above the A minus level for her high school years.

Rice attended Morton High School only during his senior year and consequently has a short history of participation in school affairs. He is a member of the National Honor Society, being inducted into the society in his senior year. He transferred to the Morton school district from Tascosa High School at Amariio.

Rice's plans for the future are not firm as yet but he is interested in attending South Plains College in the field of Mathematics or Science.

Teri's high school years have been filled with extra curricular activities which were capped off in her senior year by serving as president of the Student Council.

She is also a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the Future Teachers of America and is president of the Pep Squad. She was active in volleyball and tennis and was in the cast of the junior play.

Miss Harris' future plans include working at the Texas State School in Lubbock and attending Texas Tech. She hopes to pursue her life's work in the field of rehabilitation for retarded and handicapped children.

Top MHS athletes are honored

The 1972 All Sports Banquet sponsored by the Morton Athletic Boosters was held Tuesday night in the Morton School Cafeteria.

The program was highlighted by the naming of the outstanding athletes of the 71-72 season and by the presence of Dallas Cowboy star Dave Edwards.

Edwards who was a starting linebacker for the World Champion Cowboys made a few remarks about his Cowboy teammates and then the group, numbering about 300 persons, was shown a film of the Super Bowl highlights.

Hub Cadenhead, Booster Club President, introduced the coaches who in turn introduced the players participating in their individual sport.

Receiving the award as the outstanding football player for the last season was the big Indian fullback Kevin Kuehler. Elton Patton continued gathering personal honors for himself as he was selected as the top player in both basketball and track. Keith Embry won the award as the outstanding tennis player.

With this banquet, Patton and Embry completed sports careers probably unmatched in Morton High School history and, that have brought them a long list of honors and the privilege of playing on a state champion basketball team.

During his senior year, Patton was named all-district in football, all-district, all-regional and all-state tournament in basketball.

Fleming, Murrah plan county book

Tentative plans for a new book on Cochran County has been announced by two former teachers of history at Morton High School.

Elvis E. Fleming of Roswell, N.M., and David J. Murrah of Lubbock plan to publish a joint work to be called "The Lazy 'S' Ranch and Cochran County: A History of Texas' Last Frontier."

Primarily, the book will be a combination of Fleming's "Texas' Last Frontier: A History of Cochran County, Texas," which was published in Morton in 1965, and Murrah's master's thesis, "A Cattle Kingdom on Texas' Last Frontier: C. C. Slaughter's Lazy 'S' Ranch," which he completed at Texas Tech last year.

In addition, the two writers plan to bring the story of Cochran County up to date, and to include a series of "thumbnail biographies" of prominent citizens, early settlers, county officials, etc. Plans call for a hard-back book to be ready for distribution in May, 1974, which will coincide with Cochran County's 50th anniversary of organization.

Fleming and Murrah would appreciate any information that local citizens may care to contribute. They especially would like information on the lives of early settlers, county officials, and any Cochran Countyman who has made an outstanding or interesting addition to the history of the county. Any corrections or comments on Fleming's earlier book will also be appreciated.

Information may be mailed to Fleming at 36 Wildy Drive, Roswell, N.M. 88201. Fleming is an assistant professor of history at the Roswell Campus of Eastern New Mexico University.

Murrah can be reached at Route 2, Box 3B24, Lubbock, T 79415. He is assistant archivist at the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech, and a teaching-fellow doctoral candidate.

There will be no drivers license tests given during or after the course, but what he learns in the classes will make his chances of passing the tests much better.

Students of all ages are invited to take the course but they must be at least 18 to take the drivers tests.

"There will be no change in the name or the policy of the Tribune, within the immediate future," Sayers stated, "We will remain a family operation and continually strive to improve our product as we go along. To be perfectly frank, we have become very fond of Morton and its people and feel that we want to make it our home and bring up our children here and just couldn't bring ourselves to leave," he concluded.

Cotton Talks

The schedule of premiums and discounts for eligible qualities of 1972-crop upland cotton, to be used this year by Commodity Credit Corporation in making loans to producers, was released May 5. According to an analysis by Plains Cotton Producers, Inc., premiums and discounts generally narrower than those in effect for the 1971 crop, reflecting spot market prices for cotton recorded over a nine-month period from August, 1971 through April of this year.

"This will be the third year of a trend toward smaller differences between loan rates for higher and lower qualities of longer and shorter staples," notes Donald Johnson, PGC Executive Vice President, adding that this is a "natural result of the supply-demand relationships of the various classifications." Until recent months the supply of cotton has been somewhat restricted, while the supply of other white grades of medium and longer staples has been relatively plentiful.

"However the final quality distribution of the 1971 crop has reversed the situation to some extent," Johnson said, "and the narrowing of differentials may well end with 1972."

The base loan rate for Middling 1-inch cotton, basis 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire and net weight at average location, for 1972 is 19.5 cents per pound, the same as for 1971. The loan rate for this base quality at Lubbock area warehouses, excepting Floydada, for the past several years has been five points below "average location," or 19.45 cents per pound. The Floydada loan rate has been the same as the average, 19.5 cents.

But USDA has indicated there may be some minor revisions in the 1972 location differentials because of increased transportation costs. The extent of these revisions is not yet known, which means calculation and publication of physical loan prices for High Plains cotton at this time would be premature.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

In the Spring many of us think about buying another car. Following a few simple rules may enable you to avoid disappointment when making such a purchase.

If possible, you should find out who previously owned the car. Go to him and ask him what he can tell you about the vehicle. Ask him for the actual mileage of the car.

The car's interior should be carefully inspected. Look for signs of wear and age. By all means the car should be road-tested. Listen for unusual noises. Does the car make smooth starts? Is the steering tight and even? Is there a quick engine pickup? Does the radiator heat up?

Look under the vehicle for signs of loss of fluid. If possible take the car to a reputable mechanic for a thorough check-up.

When you see an older car with low mileage, be wary. Of course, some cars are driven only by elderly people to and from church and the grocery store, but not all of them.

When you have selected the car you want to buy, be sure you understand the purchase contract. Never sign one with blank spaces. Make sure you have a copy and question anything you don't understand before signing the contract.

Be certain all verbal promises are put in writing. If you buy on credit, be certain you know the full purchase price of the car and what the interest will be.

If you answer an advertisement, look for the car that has been advertised. Don't be switched to a fancy higher priced model.

Buy from a locally established or well recommended dealer. You should avoid being high pressured into a quick sale.

Never over extend your budget. If you do, the payments may turn that dream car into a nightmare.

Don't place too much reliance on the salesman's recommendations even though he is a "nice guy."

Following the above guidelines may not assure you of satisfaction when you buy a used car, but they certainly will help.

Try it, then join program is studied at army installation

The Army is testing a "try it on for size" enlistment program in Georgia and South Carolina.

Each week, 100 young men from the area are invited to spend a few days at the Army's Selection Center at Ft. Jackson, S.C. The Army pays for the transportation and provides the room and board.

At the center, the young men take physical and aptitude test to determine their qualifications for enlistment. They are also interviewed by personnel specialists who outline the various job and training opportunities available in the Army. During their three-four day stay at Ft. Jackson, the young men are taken on a tour of the post, watch training, and even have a chance to talk to some recent enlistees who are taking basic training. It's designed so that they can "hear and see it as it is."

After the applicant has all the information he needs to make the decision that is best for him, he may choose to enlist, choose to go home and think about it, or choose not to join. The "try it on for size" program is a no-strings attached deal.

A fisherman who likes to try different water can very easily wind up with a pocketfull of expensive licenses. Those anglers who like to fish the lakes bordering their states really have a problem.

Texas and Louisiana anglers are fortunate. Heads of these two states worked out a reciprocal program for the waters of Toledo Bend, on the Sabine River — the stream that forms the natural boundary between Texas and Louisiana. Each state has agreed to honor the license of the other while fishing on this fabulous reservoir which covers some 200,000 acres when full.

Non-resident fishermen already had a good deal with Texas' universal fishing license costing the same to them as to Texans . . . 2.15 a year . . . and covering the Gulf as well as all Texas waters (excepting, of course, private ponds). Now, with their Texas license, they can also fish the Louisiana side of Toledo Bend.

Both Texas and Louisiana stocked Toledo Bend Reservoir heavily with large-mouth black bass in the very beginning. Louisiana put in 1,800,000 and Texas put in 1,500,000. These, of course, were in addition to the natural spawn from fish native to the river.

In one year those bass grew to two and three pounds each and now they are of jumbo size.

The lake's popularity with anglers still exceeds its facilities. But more and more accommodations are being provided as fast as possible. There are several good facilities near the dam, reached through Jasper and Burkville on the Texas side.

More and more facilities are being installed as rapidly as possible on the upper end. This area is reached out of St. Augustine. A multi-million dollar causeway has been constructed across the lake here, connecting San Augustine, Texas, with Many, Louisiana.

For the bait fisherman, minnow and worm stands are available at both ends of the lake. Early fishing, for the most part, was done from the flat bottom john boats so prevalent in both east Texas and Louisiana.

However, larger boats now are being towed to the lake every day for some of the best fishing of either state from the Sam Rayburn reservoir.

Every week now the newspapers and the adjacent areas publish many pictures of large fish taken from this fantastic lake. Because of the reciprocal license agreement, Texas fishermen flock to the other side, and in turn Louisiana anglers head this way. (Greener pastures, you know.)

A word of warning, however, don't try to fish the lake without any license. Working the area are very active game wardens from each state. They are friendly but firm.

Double help

Soldiers in Headquarters Company of the 4th Infantry Division at Ft. Carson, Colo., came to the aid of two worthy causes in a single stroke recently. They managed to help ecology and youth in one project. First, the men collected all the newspapers and aluminum cans they could get their hands on. Then they sold the huge pile of materials for recycling. The profits of the sale were turned over to an organization named Sing Out Colorado Springs. The group, composed of 170 high school students, puts on musical performances as a means of increasing youth's awareness of its role in the community.

Speaking of Politics

BY J. WAYNE McDERMETT

Saturday, May 6, Texas voters went to the polls and decided to clean house. Candidates in both the Republican and Democratic parties who campaigned for reform and honesty in government were either elected or reached a run-off position.

Governor Preston Smith and Lt. Governor Ben Barnes, both trying for the Democratic nomination for Governor, were completely lost in the shuffle. Many observers feel it was because of the stock fraud scandal which ruined the political careers of several people. Neither Smith nor Barnes was ever charged during the scandal but overtones of dishonesty followed them throughout their respective campaigns.

Henry Grover, Democrat turned Republican from Houston, who also campaigned for reform and honesty, seemed to be the favorite of the Republicans at the polls.

Texas, according to the election results, are apparently tired of shady dealings under the table in Austin and are ready for a change, a change from wonderment and bewilderment to respect for our officials and confidence in their judgment and honesty. Each of the candidates elected or in a run-off position has vowed to restore confidence and trust in our state government.

The run-off election will be held Saturday, June 3rd. Texas voters will then decide who will be the Democratic and Republican candidates for various state offices. More interest and enthusiasm has been shown by voters this year than in any year I can remember. Hopefully, they will show this same interest and enthusiasm on June 3rd.

The job is only half complete. Now each of us needs to learn as much as possible about each of the remaining candidates, now that the field has been narrowed down. We will see more bumper stickers and campaign posters and much more political advertising in newspapers and on radio and television. Let's be informed voters who know who we are sending to Austin to run our state.

Information concerning statewide candidates in both parties can be obtained by writing the League of Women Voters of Texas, Dickinson Plaza, 3491 Gulf Freeway, Dickinson, Texas, 77539.

It is now up to us citizens and voters to send the right people to Austin to do the best job for us.

For Cochran County Sheriff June 3

I am grateful to the voters of Cochran County who made it possible for me to be in the run-off election for Sheriff on June 3. I hope to receive your support and to convince all other voters in the county that my knowledge and experience make me the most qualified man for the office.

Administering the position of the highest ranking law enforcement officer in the county is a very difficult and complicated job. My 15 years of police work in the county has given me a keen insight into the problems of Cochran County, and if elected, I intend to bring new ideas and methods into the sheriff's office that will overcome these problems.

Let me put this knowledge and experience to work for YOU, the citizens of Cochran County.

MIKE WALDEN

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all of you who supported me in the Democratic Primary. I ask that you be sure to vote in the run off June 3. If you are planning on being out of town on election day, please, cast your absentee vote.

I want to be the next commissioner of Precinct One because, I am aware of the needs of the county, having spent fifteen years working for the county. I realize farm to market roads are needed, and this has been sadly neglected. I will work hard to make these needed roads a reality. My special training in diesel engines and heavy equipment will be an asset to you, the tax payer. I will see to the improvement of our present roads, and do so without favoritism.

I feel that my background in business and road work qualifies me to best serve the tax payers of this county. I will be on the job because, I have no other interest to take me away from it. I feel that the commissioners job should not be a sideline, and it will not be if I am your commissioner.

I have lived in Cochran County 41 years, and my one great desire is to be of service to you, my friends, citizens of Cochran County.

The race has not been won, but with your efforts on my behalf, it will be, and I will exert my every effort toward being the best commissioner you have ever had for Precinct One. Thank You.
