

TABLES ARE TURNED . . .
 THE TABLES WERE TURNED last week when Mrs. Dorothy Rose, Morton School Curriculum Coordinator, and other teachers spent a day as students with Dr. Norma Faubion, right, Associate Professor, Angelo State University. Dr. Faubion is also a consultant with Houghton Mifflin Publishing Company and met with the Morton teachers to tutor them in new aspects and theories of teaching reading to their students.

Morton teachers receive own medicine: matriculate 5 days

Dorothy Rose, School Curriculum Coordinator, said the workshop began Monday for the pupils of the Morton Schools but the tables were turned and it was the teachers who were students for the week of August 21 through August 25. These five days were devoted to inservice training for all teachers.

Monday was a general faculty meeting for new teachers and later all teachers under the direction of Bob Travis, Superintendent. Dorothy Rose, curriculum coordinator, introduced the new curriculum, which stresses proper attitudes toward health, food and nutrition for the grades.

Tuesday the teachers met with their building principals and grade levels. Teachers of kindergarten, grades one, two and three met with Brenda Knowles of the Dairy Council who gave an excellent presentation on foods and nutrition. Wednesday she presented a similar program for teachers in grades four, five and six. All of the participating teachers received packets of food models and materials to be used in class room studies.

Housing . . .

A meeting on local housing will be held at the Community Action Center tonight at 8 p.m. Truman Murdock of the Morton FHA office and a counseling officer from Lubbock will be on hand to discuss obtaining FHA loans. All interested persons are urged to attend.

HAVE A SEAT, ANY SEAT . . .

WHEN RODEO RIDING CHAMPION Joann Whitehead offers you a seat, you can be sure of a large variety from which to choose. The three beauties she displays here are part of a total of fifteen saddles she has won since beginning riding competition at the age of five. She received these three as individual prizes for winning the junior barrel racing championship, optional riding championship and all-around title in the world championship competition of the American Junior Rodeo Association held in Pueblo, Colorado August 15-19. Joann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehead of Morton.

Sen. Tower advises County development funds now available

A message received by the Tribune from the office of Sen. John Tower indicates that federal help may be on the horizon for use in building up the economy and environment of the local area.

The message, verbatim, reads as follows:
 "The Economic Development Administration (EDA) has informed Senator John Tower, Rep.-T, that eighteen Texas counties not now participating in ADA programs are statistically eligible for assistance on application by local officials.

Counties listed as statistically eligible include Cochran County. EDA informed Sen. Tower that it would soon be sending representatives to meet with local officials in the eighteen counties to fully explain EDA assistance.

The EDA, an arm of the Department of Commerce, obtained authorization under amendment, earlier in this Congress, to the Public Works and Economic Development Act to qualify for designation as "redevelopment areas" any county which has suffered a decline in population of employed persons of more than 1.2 percent over the ten year period covered by the 1970 census. On designation the counties will be eligible to receive EDA assistance designed to bolster the local economy. Census Department figures made available to the EDA showed the eighteen Texas counties to be statistically eligible under the new law for designation as "redevelopment areas."

The message was received at press time and no further details or further interpretation could be obtained due to the time element.

Sorghum midge watch by producers urged

Midge are increasing rapidly on late blooming sorghum fields. Growers are cautioned to watch these fields closely, since economic damage occurs when adult midge numbers exceed an average of 2 per head.

First application of chemical should be made when 30-50 per cent of heads have just begun to bloom. Repeat in 3-5 days if midge population warrants.

The adult midge is orange-colored and resembles a fruit fly. The best way to check for midge is to place a fruit jar or plastic bag over the head of sorghum. The midge will fly to the top and can be easily counted.

Check for the proper chemical from your local chemical dealer or aerial applicator.

Remember, this applies to only grain sorghum fields which are just beginning to bloom.

FIRST OF THE SEASON . . .

MORTON'S FIGHTING INDIANS, in white above, get ready to push the ball over the goal line for the first time this season as they took on the Hobbs, New Mexico Eagles in a controlled scrimmage last Friday. The Tribe looked good and indicated considerable potential as they came out on the long end of the score by two touchdowns to one. Following the scrimmage, football fans, players and coaches were treated to a home made ice cream supper sponsored by the Athletic Booster Club.

Board approves school budget

Financial and tax matters and a test bonus for the students took the limelight at the regular meeting of the MISD Board of Education Monday night.

The former involved the approval by the board of a school year 1972-73 operating budget of $960,341.00 and the setting of the 1972 school tax rate at $1.95 per $100 evaluation and to prorate the 1972 taxes and any delinquent taxes collected at $1.40 for local maintenance and $.55 for interest and sinking. Both were approved.

The latter consisted of the exemption from nine-week and semester tests for students who maintain a high rate of class attendance. The matter came before the board as a recommendation of the school principals who were given its approval for a year's trial in hopes that it will result in a higher rate of attendance. No ground rules were made, leaving the principals to work out their own programs.

In other business, the board approved the payment of bills for the month of August in the amount of $79,862.22.

Accepted the high bid by Roy Greer of $205 for a 1960 Chevrolet carry-all being sold by the schools.

On a recommendation by Superintendent Bob Travis, Willard Franklin and Linda Huey were added to the 1972-73 teaching staff.

Supt. Travis advised the board that he had added Amy Davis, Mrs. Resa Steed, Margie Berlanga and Delores Mullinax to the staff in teachers aide positions.

A request by Radio Station KZZN in Littlefield to broadcast live the Morton-Littlefield football game was approved by the board as its last item of business.

Thompson to chair Texas food, fiber event for county

Glenn W. Thompson, County Judge, Cochran County, will serve as Chairman of Texas Food and Fiber Abundance observance which is planned for the month of November 1972, according to Jack Barton, Houston president of the board of the statewide council promoting the special event and W. H. Meischen, Austin, coordinator of the statewide project.

Judge Thompson will call on agriculture and business leaders in the County to work as a committee in promoting appreciation for the abundance of food and fiber produced by the state's farmers, ranchers and the agri-business industry.

Texas Food & Fiber Abundance Council, a non-profit organization was chartered in 1971, "to sponsor public relations programs designed to gain consumer appreciation for the abundance, quality and value of food and fiber".

A large number of professional people in agriculture and agri-business related organizations, state and federal agencies, news media and educational institutions work for the council to promote its activities.

The councils president said, that even though a large part of Texas' population is now found in urban areas, the food and fiber industry of Texas figures strongly in the daily economic life of every Texan. America is the best fed and at the least cost of any nation in the world. The bountiful array of food and natural fibers available to all is a blessing which no other nation enjoys.

Local parents facing ever mounting college expenses

A larger than usual proportion of Cochran County's young people will be heading for college soon, when the fall semester begins.

For their parents, the cost involved will be greater than ever. They are discovering that the bills for the year, as they arrive, are as much as $300 bigger than last year's in certain instances.

Based upon the number of local students enrolled and the new schedule of rates for tuition, fees, room, board and incidentals—Cochran County families will be bearing a load of approximately $120,000 for the coming academic year, it is estimated.

Data on college costs and the number of students from each community comes from surveys made by the U. S. Office of Education, the Department of Commerce and others.

They show that no less than 8,500,000 young men and young women will be attending college this year. This compares with 2,935,000 in 1960.

Of this number some 40 will be from the local area as against the 1960 total of 33.

What it will cost per year depends upon where they are going.

The lowest cost according to a nationwide survey made by the Life Insurance Agency Management Association is $1246 a year. This is the median rate for in-state residents at public colleges in the South.

It takes into account tuition, room, board and fees. Not included are travel expenses, books, clothing and incidentals.

In other sections of the country it runs higher than that—$100 more in the West $200 in the North Central States and $300 in the Northeast.

For students coming from other states, the basic charges are from $600 to $700 greater.

To attend a private college costs considerably more. In the South the average is $2,342, in the Western and North Central regions, about $2,775 and in the Northeast $3,350.

What it boils down to with the extras added, is an average of $2,250 in public colleges and $3,750 in private institutions.

This year's cost of $120,000 for Cochran County parents is based upon half the local students going to public colleges and half to private ones.

Joann riding tall in saddle—s

Cochran County can right now lay claim to one of the outstanding junior rodeo riders in the United States and will probably be able to claim an outstanding senior rider in later years.

And the wonder of it all is—she's a girl! Joann Whitehead, 15-year-old Morton school girl, topped all of her previous riding achievements by capturing three big firsts—and three beautiful saddles—in competition at the world's finals of the American Junior Rodeo Association competition held in Pueblo, Colorado August 15-19. Her wins included:

World championship in barrel racing for ages 13-15.

First in optional racing—a combination of pole bending and flag racing.

All-around champion in her age group based on points earned in barrel racing, optional racing and roping.

For winning these divisions she received a valuable western saddle in each. This brings her number of saddles won in competition to 15—one for each year of her life—since she began riding in competition at the age of five.

Joann, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehead of Morton, has amassed records, awards and championships too numerous to mention in 4-H and junior rodeo competition over the past ten years. Her highest award prior to the AJRA competition was the 4-H Regional Barrel Racing championship won earlier this summer. The regional competition included all southern states and was held in Dallas in June.

Joann has followed in the footsteps—and finally surpassed—her older sister Deborah who set a world record for one heat in the barrel race at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeo at Fort Worth in 1970.

So, what's ahead for Joann? More riding, she smilingly predicts, and admits that she looks forward eagerly to entering competition at the senior level next year. It's a good bet that she has many more saddles in her future.

Cynthia Mullins, Roy Greer wed in double ring ceremony

Miss Cynthia Sue Mullins and Roy Dale Greer both of Dallas exchanged double ring vows in the Saint Paul the Apostle Catholic Church in Dallas August 26. Officiating was the Rev. Gale White.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Mullins of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Greer.

Given in Marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported Venice lace combined with satin faced organza in diamond white. The Victorian design featured a high rise bodice of Venice lace which formed a high neck edged in a band of Venice lace. The lace was repeated for form a cap to compliment the Bishop sleeves and the full skirt extended into a chapel train. Her tiered veil was of illusion lace attached to a cap of heavy Venice lace.

Miss Jan Lambert of Houston was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Lawson, Mrs. Wayne Storey, both of Lubbock, and Miss Patti Beaver of Lakewood, Colo. Miss Lambert's gown of lilac Kolset fabric flocked with tiny roses was a Victorian design and featured a scoop neck, short puff sleeves and a ruffle at the hemline. Other attendants wore mint green gowns in the same design.

Lynn R. Fred of Lubbock served as best man. Jerry Lawson, Byron Nicholson, both of Lubbock, and James D. Lambert of Dallas were groomsmen. Guests were seated by Jack C. McPherson of Dallas and Bobby Cook of Austin.

A reception in the home of the bride's parents honored the couple following the ceremony.

Mrs. Greer is a graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock and attended Texas Tech University, majoring in fashion design.

Greer is a 1968 graduate of Morton High School, attended South Plains College and Texas Tech University where he majored in Physics. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma Fraternity and both Mr. and Mrs. Greer were on the Dean's List while attending the University.

Following a wedding trip, touring the coast of Texas, the couple will make their home at 7914 Barcelona, Apt. 105 in Dallas.

Texans rate 'friendly people' as state's outstanding asset

The Texan who starts out to brag about his state has more than 267,000 square miles and a multitude of assets to boast of, but what does he think is best? The friendly people, that's what!

In a statewide opinion study conducted by Texas Tech University's Institute for Mass Communications Research, more respondents said they liked the "friendly people" of the state better than anything.

With friendship as the state motto, and even with a name like Texas, the response is a natural.

Texas is derived from "Tejas," which Texans traditionally claim is the Spanish pronunciation of a Caddo Indian word meaning "friends" or "allies." It was a word used by the Indians as a greeting. The three things Texans like best about their state are the friendly people, an agreeable climate, and the state's potential for industrial and economic development.

Opinions ranged from Texas' historical heritage to horses and cattle. One respondent favored the state's "long-legged women." Others cited the Gulf Coast and the Department of Public Safety.

More than 18 per cent, the largest number agreeing on any one point, listed friendly people as the state's best asset while almost 45 per cent included this among the best things.

Close to 41 per cent felt the agreeable climate was an asset without specifying which weather they like. Texas weather ranges from subtropical along the coastal area to rugged blizzards in the Panhandle. Rainfall ranges from about 40 inches a year in northeastern areas to less than 12 inches a year in the semi-arid southwestern counties. In Lubbock records indicate the temperature ranges from 17 degrees below zero to 107 degrees above.

More than 35 per cent of the respondents felt Texas' potential for development was among the best things, a response which could reflect the fact that value added by manufacture in 1968 alone exceeded $12 billion.

Good and extensive highways, stretching over 68.5 thousand miles, drew cheers from more than 33 percent of the respondents.

More than 33 per cent lauded Texas for its clean environment, and an adequate supply of natural resources is considered among the state's best things by close to 14 per cent.

Texas' recreational facilities, including approximately 65 state parks, were chosen by more than 21 per cent of the respondents as valuable assets.

Superior education was cited by approximately 19 per cent. Efficient government drew votes from more than 15 per cent, and the vastness of the land pleased more than 8 per cent of the respondents.

Some put their feelings quite simply. "It's my home," they said.

OLDTIMERS GET TOGETHER . . .

THE "OLDTIMERS" was a figure of speech, of course, when the above group got together during the country fair held early in August in the county activities building in Morton. Some of them are the sons and daughters of real oldtimers. The photo was taken during a reception held for Morton's earlier settlers and it proved to be a popular event which was well attended. Plans are for the get-together to become an annual event during the fair.

Speaking of Politics

J. WAYNE MCDERMETT

Last week in the Morton Tribune, I tried to explain both sides of the proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution setting up a Constitutional Revision Committee. Another proposed amendment which is very important to all Texans is the one establishing four-year terms for certain elected and appointed state officials whose term of office is now two years.

The proposed amendment sets the term of office at four years for the attorney-general, comptroller of public accounts, treasurer, commissioner of the general land office, commissioner of agriculture, secretary of state, lieutenant governor, and the governor of this state. At the present time, all the offices, whether elective or appointive, are two-year terms.

Opponents of the amendment feel that long terms of office tend to alienate the official from the electorate, making him less responsive to the rise and fall of public opinion. Forced to campaign every two years, the public official is under almost constant exposure to the wishes and needs of the people who elect him. They also feel that too much power is inherent in four-year terms. For example, a governor serving two terms under a four-year system would be in a position to dominate every state board or commission.

Opponents contend that history has shown that long tenure in office and political corruption run hand in hand. The proposed amendment includes no restrictions on election to consecutive terms, thus permitting almost lifetime tenure for a powerful politician.

A four-year term would be too long to retain a poor public official and a good public official is generally reelected and retained in office under the shorter term for as long as he continues to serve the public well.

Backers of the amendment feel that state officers elected to four-year terms would have sufficient time to master the functions of office before having to start campaigning for reelection. By spending less time on campaigning, officials would be able to devote greater energy on their prescribed duties.

Becoming effective with the general election of 1974, an off-presidential election year, the amendment would set up elections for state office in non-presidential election years, thus generating greater interest in state politics. As it stands, in presidential election years, state offices such as that of governor, take a back seat to the presidential election. This would not happen under the terms of the amendment because the state officers would be elected only in non-presidential years.

Backers of the amendment point out the fact that expenses in campaigning for state office have become so exorbitant as to make it impossible for many highly qualified individuals to become candidates. A four-year system of elections would almost halve the campaign expense involved, thus making it unnecessary for candidates to accept support of special interests. Better candidates could result and greater integrity in office would be encouraged.

In 39 states the governors are elected for four-year terms of office. These include Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Colorado, all Texas neighbors. Officials in these states recognize the need for long-range plans and programs and they realize that frequent changes in leadership and constant campaigning make these plans and programs impossible.

There are arguments, and good arguments, for and against this proposed constitutional amendment. Each of us must decide if four-year terms can better serve the needs and wants of Texans. Can we put enough confidence in our elected officials to double their term in office? Or has past experience shown that too much power can be obtained by long tenure?

Is it true that our officials must spend half their time or more just campaigning for reelection? Could our officials better master their jobs in four years and thus better serve Texas? Or would it just give them more time to make deals under the table? Are the complexities of government such that it takes four years to fully understand all the problems of our state and to be able to contend with them? Would it better serve Texas if our officials had the time to initiate long range plans and programs, which they don't have now?

As I said, this proposed amendment is very important to all Texans. We must all decide individually what is best for Texas, not just what is best for one area. We must look at the whole picture and not let one state official or one incident hamper our judgement.

Dates announced for 'Sew it with Cotton'

According to an announcement made by Mrs. Bill Foust, Last Frontier Cotton Council, September 25 and 26 are the dates scheduled for the "Sew it with Cotton" contest.

Judging of the contestants will be held Monday, September 25 and the annual style show for the public will be held Tuesday evening, September 26 in the County Activity Building.

There will be ten categories in which to enter and the winners will be eligible to enter the District contest to be held later in Lubbock.

Seamstresses must be at least 9 years of age by the date of the County contest and all materials used must be 100 per cent cotton.

Official rules and entry blanks may be obtained at local firms who sell cotton fabrics or by calling Mrs. Foust 266-5828 or Mrs. Jane Claunch 266-3995.

Approximately 125 registered. The Campbells had 10 children all of them were present but two.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over white centered with a bouquet of white mums arrayed with silver glitter and a white satin ribbon laying across the table with Edd and Iva written in silver glitter. Their daughter, Mrs. Gale Simpson made the 4 tiered wedding cake. Red fruit punch and white mints were served to the guests.

Freda Layton moved to Lubbock Tuesday where she will go to school at Tech. Jerry Nichols and Corky Long are going to college at West Texas State at Canyon.

Moon rock sample will be shown at Lubbock exposition

A fragment of moon rock collection on America's first moon landing mission will be on display during the 55th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock Sept. 25-30.

The sample, weighing 31 grams, was collected by former astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., during extravehicular activity on the Apollo 11 flight.

The rock was obtained from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration through the cooperation of U. S. Rep. George H. Mahon of Lubbock.

The sample is a fresh-appearing vesicular lava, similar in many respects to terrestrial basalts formed by extrusion of a hot gaseous magma onto the earth's surface.

The vesicles represent bubbles formed by the escaping gases within the magma, and they occupy about 15 per cent of the sample by volume, according to NASA scientists.

The shininess of the vesicle walls is due to well-developed crystal faces of the constituent minerals (feldspar and pyroxene).

Mineralogy was said to be 50 per cent pyroxene, 30 per cent ilmenite and 20 per cent plagioclase.

MOD METHODS USED . . .

TUCKER FLYING SERVICE was using a new and modern method for planting wheat on a farm east of Morton early this week. They used the new method to load the seed into the sleek new Cesna crop duster and seed the wheat by releasing it through the flaired duster attachment fixed into the wing. "Sure saves a lot of time" was Tucker's only comment.

DPS estimates 48 fatalities during Labor Day week-end

Approximately 48 persons are expected to estimate by the Texas Department of Transportation over the Labor Day weekend, according to estimates by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The DPS will conduct Operation Motorcade from 6:00 p.m. Friday through midnight September 4. This will be one of four 78-hour holiday periods that will be critical for all motorists.

Major C. W. Bell, DPS Region 5 Commander, said that all available uniformed patrolmen will be put into action for maximum enforcement of traffic laws. Major Bell said, "Each driver should drive defensively at all times." Major Bell suggested that each individual practice driving friendly—the Texas way.

DPS RECORDS show that the majority of traffic fatalities are caused by excessive speed and the drinking driver. The DPS reminds the motoring public that 0.10 per cent blood alcohol in one's body is the presumptive level of legal intoxication under Texas law.

Approximately 500 National Guardsmen will assist the uniformed patrolmen in the Dallas, Tyler, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Austin areas. Many of these guardsmen will be riding in DPS patrol cars through the Labor Day weekend to enable the Department to have more units and personnel on the road.

Motor Vehicle Inspection Sergeant John Mason of Region 5 said two per cent of all fatal accidents in Texas highways are caused by mechanical failures. He strongly urges all motorists to be certain that their inspection sticker is up to date.

CAPT. SHELTON of the Driver License Service warns the unlicensed driver to not jeopardize his life, because last year seven per cent of all 3,594 Texas traffic fatalities involved the unlicensed driver!

It is the fervent hope of the DPS that Texans, and out of state motorists, will enjoy this American tradition of celebrating the labor Day weekend in a sensible, safe manner. Let's prove the statisticians wrong by keeping the actual death count way below the estimated 48 lives predicted to be lost. This responsibility is in the hands of those behind the wheel.

Below is a list of rules to drive by, in order to celebrate Labor Day next year.

1. Don't mix gasoline with alcohol.
2. Use seat belts. Your chances of survival in a major accident are five times greater when you are buckled up.
3. Slow down, drive according to the traffic, weather, vehicle condition, and your own physical condition. Lives lost do not make up for the small amount to time you think you save!
4. Obey all traffic laws. They were ordained by Texans to keep the Texas motorist safe and alive for all times!

HD Agent report

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a two-part fashion series on fall wardrobe-planning and selection—prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For Part I, which concerns wardrobe planning, Roxanne Schnorr, Extension clothing specialist, reviews today's fashion philosophy and offers tips on determining current trends and applying them to the present wardrobe. The second part will be published next week.)

Fall fashions already on the scene catch the eye and tease the budget.

"Whether we're going to be sewing at home or buying our clothes the most important fashion goal is to know what's in the market, current trends and how our wardrobe can be updated," Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reflected as she discussed today's fashion looks and wardrobe planning.

"To measure fashion today, we don't have one silhouette, one length, one color or one fabric to copy. Instead, we have
