Local school doors swing wide

ASSEMBLY LINE STYLE. It's that of the year and everyone gets in the act, including the little ones. Little Miss Kandi is no exception. She is pictured with her father along with brother, Joe Bob, grandpa Hardy Rhyne, brother, Max, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Wynn, grandmother, Mrs. Rhyne and neighbor, Oren Coon. More than 400 ears went through the "assembly line" in two afternoons!

Some reporting attendance loss

Preparations for the opening of Morton schools were finalized this week with the doors set to swing wide at 8:30 a.m. Monday, August 26. Teacher in-service training was begun Monday and continues through Friday of this week.

Bledsoe school has the same in-service and classroom beginning dates as Morton; while Whiteface opened classes on August 19 and Three Way opened August 15, both with in-service training scheduled prior to the start of classes.

Morton, Whiteface and Three Way reported a drop in attendance from that of last year. While Bledsoe indicates approximately the same number at 115, Morton superintendent Bob E. Travis said he expects approximately 980 students in classes from Kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Whiteface reports 281 in all classes, down slightly from 1973-74, and Three Way reports 164, also down slightly.

Figures and dates for Bula school were unavailable with the exception for enrollment which was reported at 72, and down slightly from last year.

The Morton schools further break down expected enrollment to 514 elementary, 257 junior high and an identical 257 students in senior high. A total of 17 new teachers have been hired throughout the system, Travis said.

Major dates in the Morton schools calendar is as follows:

August 26 - classes begin.
October 25 - Teachers in-service and student holiday.
November 28-29 - Thanksgiving holidays.

December 20-January 2 - Christmas holidays.
January 10 - First semester ends.

January 13 - Second semester begins.

May 23 - Commencement exercises.
May 26 - Last day of school.

May 27 - Teachers in-service.
The Morton school classes will begin a few minutes later

...le shaping in Congress

Farm export controls worry Mahon

Representative George Mahon reported to the Tribune Monday that a battle is being fought in Congress and in the administration over the issue of export controls on farm crops. He expressed firm opposition to the imposition of such controls.

Mahon advises that a number of Members of Congress from non-farm areas are advocating export controls, pointing out that last week there was a vote in the House on an amendment to the Export Administration Act which would have tended to encourage the imposition of export controls on farm commodities.

The amendment was defeated; but Mahon predicts that the proposal is just the beginning of what promises to be a continuing struggle over this issue.

Mahon stated that the imposition of export controls on farm crops would be a serious blow to farmers already severely pinched by the cost-price squeeze. He said, "The clamor for export controls is the result of the August 12 estimate by the USDA that the production of corn for 1974 will be 12 percent less than last year and that milo production will be 34 percent below last year's figure."

I think that tampering with export controls is not the answer to the problem. The emphasis must be on more and more production to meet domestic and world needs. If a drastic situation develops at a later date, that would be the time to consider limited

Shortage of feed, grain is forecast

In the latest crop report issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, it became official that rains would be short this year, yet, despite drought conditions throughout much of the West, the estimates for feedgrain crops were surprisingly low, contends a grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The short crop conditions will put the pressure on prices through much of 1975," points out Roland Smith. "Feedgrain prices have moved up some in recent weeks in anticipation of the short crop outlook, so I don't expect a drastic jump in prices unless the demand picture changes. Total usage of feedgrains should be off sharply from last year due to the drop in cattle feeding from poor economic conditions and a better feedgrain balance abroad that may reduce our exports."

The national corn crop is expected to be less than five billion bushels, down more than 25 per cent from March estimates. This would make the 1974 crop less than the two previous crops and also less than last year's total corn usage figure, points out Smith. In contrast the Texas corn crop should be up almost nine million bushels.

As far as sorghum is concerned, national production is expected to be only about two-thirds of last year's crop, down some 318 million bushels. That same outlook echoes the Texas sorghum picture, where production is expected to reach only 295 million bushels, just over 70 per cent of last year's crop.

The nation's wheat crop is

Football Uniforms

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade football players should report to the field house Saturday between 9:30 a.m. and 12 noon for uniform issue, head football coach Roy Winters states.

Show up early and get the best equipment, Winters adds.

R.C. Strickland rites held Friday

Services for R.C. Strickland, long-time Morton resident and Cochran County pioneer, were held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Second and Taylor Street Church of Christ. Clyde Mansfield, minister, and J.A. Woolley from Albuquerque, N.M. officiated. Burial was in Morton Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Singleton Funeral Home.

Strickland, 78, died at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday August 14, in Cochran Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was a native of Alabama and moved to Texas with his family at an early age.

A WW I veteran, Strickland and the former Elsie Wilson were married in 1920 in Hamilton. They moved to Cochran County in 1925 and lived in Bledsoe until 1931 when they moved to Morton.

He was Tax Assessor and Collector for the county, and later served as Cochran County Judge. Mr. and Mrs. Strickland owned and operated Strickland Cleaners for 32 years before his retirement.

He was a charter member of

Tex-Anns slate drill team clinic

A drill team clinic for prospective Tex-Anns will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday, August 25 in the Women's Gym at South Plains College.

Mrs. Mary Shea, director of the Tex-Anns, women's drill team at SPC, said that all girls interested in becoming Tex-Anns must attend the clinic. Denard Haden, choreographer for the Kilgore Rangerettes, will conduct the clinic, slated Sunday through Thursday, August 29. There is no charge for registration.

Girls from throughout the area have already signed up, representing Seminole, Littlefield, Muleshoe, Abernathy, Lamesa, Slaton, Lubbock, Anton, Hale Center, Lockney and Floydada as well as Levelland.

This year the Tex-Anns will wear a new, versatile uniform. They also will receive a book scholarship each semester amounting to around $55.

FHA prepares for emergency loan guarantees

Financial assistance to livestock and poultry producers under the emergency livestock credit act will become available next week through a new loan guarantee authority of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), a rural credit service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Trueman D. Murdoch, FmHA County supervisor, said agency will be prepared to implement the recently-enacted law by guaranteeing up to 80 percent of possible loss on loans made by legally organized lenders to livestock and poultry producers.

Under terms of the Act, the loan guarantee program will be in effect through July 25, 1975. It may be extended for 6 months beyond that date if the Secretary of Agriculture determines that is needed to help the livestock industry obtain sufficient credit.

The law calls for loans to be made by banks or other legally organized lenders. Murdoch, said interested producers are urged to make applications to, and complete loan arrangements with, lending institutions. The lender in turn will ask FmHA for a loan guarantee if one is required. The lender will process the application, close the loan and service it.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Swimming is more than a sport in Texas—it's a way of life which the Texas State Department of Health recognizes and has a part in through training of swimming pool operators.

Thousands of new pools will be constructed this year throughout the nation. In Texas at this moment, well over 50,000 pools are attracting swimmers like bees to a flower.

This is all to the good, because swimming lends itself to social adjustment. It teaches coordination and builds stamina and character. A child who overcomes fear of water has learned courage.

But there are also elements of risk. This accelerated interest in swimming creates hazards to life and limb, and dangers of disease transmission. That's why the State Health Department's regional offices conduct courses to teach pool operators the various skills of their jobs.

"Short schools," for pool operators are concentrated during the months of spring and early summer, the intention being to enroll as many operators as possible before hot weather and overflow crowds make it hard for them to get away from their work.

Co-sponsored by regional and local health departments, courses consist of six hours of intensive technical and practical instruction. It covers such things as how to disinfect the water, and how to control water acidity. Water acidity, incidentally, is the factor which causes swimmers' eyes to burn, rather than chlorine as is popularly supposed.

The course also covers pool safety, bathhouse sanitation, and the various filtering systems used by modern pools.

How important are swimming pools as links in the chain of disease transmission? Eye, ear, nose and throat, skin and intestinal infections are among the most common conditions spread in swimming pools. Typhoid fever and diarrheal diseases have been traced to neighborhood pools.

Most prevalent, however, is ringworm of the feet, commonly called "athlete's foot." It is not contracted in pool water, but by walking on wet walks and floors on which the spores of the infections flourish.

In well operated pools there is little chance of contracting any of these conditions. That's the reason for the Department's emphasis on swimming pool sanitation.

Swimmers, too, have a responsibility toward pool cleanliness. Like most public places, a pool quickly assumes the character of its least desirable patron.

But when state and local health authorities, pool operators, and pool patrons join hands to make swimming what it should be—wholesome, safe, and fun—the results can be highly beneficial.

Before the year is over, Health Department instructors will have provided instruction to some 1,000 operators of public and semi-public pools at approximately 18 schools. The Department welcomes owners of private pools to the instructions if they desire to attend. But most of the emphasis is understandably on pools which serve the public.

Towns and cities in which programs already have been conducted so far this year include Arlington, Houston, Dallas, Uvalde, Kerrville, Corpus Christ, LaMarque, Fort Worth Plainview and Irving.

SP Cowbelles organize, ask new recruits

Tea Topics

By David and Eunice Bigelow

To help conserve energy, why not brew tea with sun power this summer? After solar energy is free, all you need are tea bags, hot tap water and a quart pitcher. Simply suspend four tea bags and set in the sun for four to six hours. For an especially refreshing brew, use the popular Constant Comment, delicately flavored with orange rind and sweet licorice.

For a new sun tea anywhere—on a patio, on a sunny window sill or even at the beach. The sun will gently heat the water and brew sparkling clear tea. Then pour over ice and add sugar, honey for a sweet change, or a splash of "energy-saving" lemonade with other flavorful additives such as Plantation Mint or American Breakfast.

When there's no sun, make tea the old-fashioned way, turn the convenient instant tea mix into a mix of Constant Comment Plantation Mint.

estimated as 129 million bushels short of last year's production, with the Texas crop almost 47 million bushels short of the 1973 crop, or down 47 per cent, points out Smith.

The U.S. Soybean crop is also estimated as some 252 million bushels short of last year's production.

"The USDA estimates appeared to be below those expected by a majority of the grain trade despite the fact that much of the country's midsection has been hard hit by drought," notes Smith. "Recent rains in some parts should help late crops, but for the most part, the moisture came too late."

According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, the short-run price situation for feedgrains is weather-oriented while the late-season price picture depends on the ultimate demand.

action to protect specific domestic needs."

The Congressman emphasized that the imposition of export controls on farm crops would not only be a serious setback to farmers, sharply reducing income, but would tend to reduce the incentive to produce and make it more difficult for farmers to finance farming operations.

He agreed that the feeders of poultry and livestock would have to take into account increased feed costs in pricing their production. "However, in the long run," he said, "the imposition of export controls would mean less production by farmers and higher costs to the consumer."

Mahon believes that the encouragement of greater production is the proper policy for the government to follow.

The Congressman made reference to the vital role of agriculture in supporting stability of the dollar at home and abroad, pointing out that last year would have been a disastrous year for the United States in international trade had it not been for the export of $19 billion worth of farm commodities.

AUSTIN — Planning funeral arrangements can be a difficult, confusing task — and an expensive one, too. It is hard to make such important decisions in an atmosphere of grief and sadness, harder still to seek out the facts necessary to make informed decisions at such a time.

single borrower that can be assisted by an FmHA guarantee is $250,000. Loans will be repayable in one to three years, although renewal for two years may be authorized. Interest rates are determined between borrower and lender.

Murdoch said the Agency is authorized to guarantee up to eighty percent loss a lender may incur on loans to bonafide farmers and ranchers who breed, raise, fatten or market beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, chickens and turkeys. A majority of the borrower's income must come from the operation, and a majority portion of the borrower's time must be devoted to the livestock or poultry production.

In case of a corporation or partnership, assistance can be extended only when the majority partners or stockholders are primarily engaged in the livestock or poultry production.

FmHA guarantees will be made only when the bonafide farmer or rancher cannot obtain financing without a guarantee. Loans may not be used to expand operations.

Murdoch said the county FmHA office serving the area where the Borrowers Livestock or poultry operations are conducted will handle requests from lenders for guarantees, or supply information on the loan guarantee program.

The FmHA office serving Cochran County is located at 200 E-West Taylor St., Morton.

placed in an airtight vault before final disposition, although some cemeteries — both municipally owned and private — do have such a requirement.

As a matter of fact, as the Texas Funeral Directors Association points out, there is nothing in Texas law that requires a family to use the services of a licensed funeral director. The specific requirements of the public health and vital statistics laws of the State would make it extremely difficult, if not impossible, however, for an untrained person to handle, transport, or bury the dead. And any person performing such services for the public or for a fee must be licensed as a funeral director or embalmer.

A growing, although still decidedly small, segment of the population is investigating and choosing alternatives to the traditional funeral service and burial, according to some studies.

Some persons choose cremation, others donate their bodies to medical schools, or will certain organs such as kidneys or eyes to organ banks. Still others join memorial societies which handle the details of burial, cremation, or body donation at a lower than average price for members who pay a fee to join.

While any of these alternatives generally will be less expensive than a traditional funeral and burial, many people choosing them do so not only for economy but for reasons of personal preference. It's worth noting that persons who donate organs still have the option of a traditional funeral and burial.

For that majority of Texans who still favor the traditional funeral and burial, our Consumer Protection attorneys strongly advise acquiring information in advance when there is time to think logically about such matters. They suggest that you consider, or have others consider, the following when making funeral arrangements:

— Are you or your friends and family familiar with the funeral home and its reputation for good service?

— What is the most expensive service offered by the funeral home and what does it cover? What is added to this for a more expensive service? Do you consider the additional items worth the extra cost?

— Inquire about the price of the casket, services, and other charges before discussing any insurance, pension, or government death benefits due to the family of the deceased.

— Ask what is included in the total cost of the service. Be sure you know about services of goods that will result in extra charge (newspaper notices and police escort are often considered "extra").

Farm-facts

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

ALMOST 1,000 farmers and ranchers have written for application blanks in Texas Department of Agriculture's Family Land Heritage Program. Possibly that should be a surprising figure considering the fact that Texas farm population has been declining for the past quarter century; but the number of applicants indicates that there are many Texans who have loved and love the land enough to stay with it 100 or more years and to engage in the basic industry of the world, raising food and fiber. The Heritage program has stimulated a renewed interest in the history of our farms and ranches, not only among history buffs but also in many of the people who live on those farms and ranches. Some have gone to the trouble to look up the historical records of their farms and ranches and of their families who started on them and the earliest development of our State. Records in clerks' and county assessors' offices probably in the State Archives are being searched for historical data. The Texas has been a real experience for those digging.

TYPICAL SUMMER weather is the way Texas and Livestock Reporting Service describes the past few weeks. Some have dotted a portion of the state, relieving a few temporarily from conditions and heat. Harvest is getting under way in South Texas, and a harvest is 36 per cent complete and rice is about 25 per cent complete. Most corn from the Plains southward is still in the field and is tasseling on the Plains. The western half of the State continues to suffer the drought and many are being culled closely. Water is short in some necessitating hauling, getting short in other Range conditions are the Eastern section of the State, depending on the rain that has fallen, crops have been good in areas. However, sections need more rain third cutting of hay.

TEXAS RED production in June total million pounds, an increase of six per cent over the month last year but the crop is less than during 1974. Texas Crop Livestock Reporting Service says that 1,130 million pounds of red meat were produced in the State during the first months of this year, an increase of four per cent over the same period last year. During this time, 1.7 million head of cattle were slaughtered, 715,000 hogs, and 7 million sheep and lambs. The number of hogs slaughtered was 25 per cent below the number slaughtered during the six months of 1973; a number of sheep and lambs killed for food was three per cent more than for the period last year. Some cattle on farms and ranches were estimated to be 6,447,000 head compared with 5,495,000 on the same date in 1973.

— Find out about cemetery charges. In addition to the plot or mausoleum space, there usually are charges for opening and closing the grave or crypt, and there may be charges for maintenance or "perpetual care." If you buy a plot or crypt in advance, there may be additional charges for transferring or selling it if you move or decide you don't want it. Some cemeteries require an airtight vault, an extra cost. Others require a certain type of marker or monument, which is also additional.

The recent Federal Trade Commission study of funeral pricing in Washington, D.C. revealed that persons making funeral arrangements need more information about prices, options, and policies for particular funeral homes and more comparative information for different funeral homes in order to make informed decisions in selecting a funeral home and making arrangements for a service.

Our attorneys say the only way to acquire this information at present is to ask specific questions, either in advance or at the time of arranging a funeral.

SPC offers vets 'personal service'

Two Lubbock men will be the Veterans Administration's "men on campus" for South Plains College under a new program designed to provide personalized service to veterans receiving educational assistance benefits through the GI Bill.

Either Dan Cook or Dennis McMillan will be on the SPC campus one day a week beginning immediately. One of the men will be available from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each Monday in Room 4 of the Administration Building.

Under the new program announced in May by the VA, each college in the nation will have a Vet-Rep either on campus or have access to a traveling Vet-Rep from a nearby college on a regular schedule. Cook and McMillan will have offices at Texas Tech University and will cover Lubbock Christian College, SPC and Wayland Baptist College.

The men received orientation at the VA regional office in Waco and returned July 20 for an intensive two-week course conducted at West Georgia College in Carrollton, Ga., for Vet-Reps from the 13 southeastern states.

The Vet-Reps will be prepared to resolve individual payment inquiries. They are expected to eliminate many payment delays caused by changes of address, dependency status or a change in school courses. They also will be on hand to assure that proper certification is made by both the student and the school.

Cook and McMillan are two of 1,327 Vet-Reps hired or assigned from within the VA for the positions. Priority was given to Vietnam Era veterans who have experienced campus life.

Cook is a graduate of Texas Tech University and currently is working on a master's degree there. He is an Air Force veteran and was stationed at Reese Air Force Base for three and a half years. McMillan, who served with the Cee Bee's in the Navy, also graduated from Texas Tech.

THE FOUR LOVELY LADIES on horses are (left to right) Misses Verna Richards, Lisa Gerik, 1974 Rodeo Queen Karen Clark and Debbie Polvado, 1973 Rodeo Queen. Miss Polvado reigned over the 24th annual Last Frontier Rodeo this year and Miss Clark will reign over the 25th in 1975.

Levelland firm offers two college scholarships

Levelland Vegetable Oil, Inc., will offer two college scholarships this fall plus parttime jobs at the oil mill for two students interested in the cotton seed industry.

The scholarships to South Plains College will cover tuition, books and fees for the fall and spring semesters for up to $150 each semester. The job as paid employe working at least 20 hours a week at the oil mill will help to pay for the cost of room and board at SPC.

Students should be planning to major in either agriculture technology or mid-management field in order to meet eligibility requirements for the scholarships. Students wishing to apply for the scholarships should contact either James Carroll, associate professor of agriculture technology, or Mrs. Sycily Lattimore, assistant professor of mid-management, both at SPC.

Carroll said there is a need for additional applicants. A committee composed of Carroll, Mrs. Lattimore, and Frank Hunt, dean of the technical-vocational division at SPC, will interview and screen applicants.

Oil mill personnel will then select applicants to work for a week in the oil mill, observing and performing a variety of operations. The final selection of scholarship recipients will be made in the next few weeks.

“Those who show me the path of life, in thy presence is fulness of joy...”
PSALM 16:11

HERE IS THE PATH

“You shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.”
Luke 10:27

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose... and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
