School board approves largest-ever budget

Spier predicts
 4 Holiday
 traffic deaths

Colonel Wilson E. Spier, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, estimated that traffic accidents in Texas over the four-day weekend will claim lives.
 Spier noted that traffic deaths in Texas, which earlier in the year were running up to 30 percent over the 1973 toll, have been increasing throughout the summer months. He said the upward trend is related to heavier traffic and an alarming increase in the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.
 The DPS director said every effort would be made to prevent accidents and deaths by placing all available DPS officers on duty during the holiday period which extends from 5 p.m. Friday, August 30, through midnight Monday, September 2.
 Spier noted that many local law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in the all-out effort to make the streets and highways safe.
 In addition, he said the DPS is working with the media in a special public information program called "Operation Motorcade." A concerted effort will be made to focus public attention on the reasons why fatal accidents are occurring during the holiday period.

AND-AT LONG LAST-THE RAINS CAME. There are those in the Morton area that were sincere in their belief that it never would rain again in Cochran county - but they were proven very wrong as cloud-laden skies have dumped nine inches of moisture on its parched surface within the past seven days. Official measurements in inches beginning Thursday, August 22, include: Thursday, .44; Friday, 1.72; Saturday, 1.77; Sunday, 2.50; Monday, 1.90; Tuesday, .22 and Wednesday, light rainfall. Water over the road closed the Levelland Highway Monday and Tuesday and held it to one-way traffic Wednesday. Agriculture officials state that the slow, soaking rains will be of great benefit to most crops and to pastureland. Above Pricilla and Jesse Enriques and Junior Garcia play on the submerged West Grant Avenue where Strickland Park Lake has swollen out of its banks.

Tops $1 million for second year

The MISD Board of Education at its regular August meeting last Monday approved the largest operating budget in its 50 year history. The total budget, in the amounts of $1,014,511 operation fund and $69,117 school lunch fund, comes to $1,083,628 and a rise of $31,422 over the $1,052,206 for the 1973-74 school year.

The board set the 1974 tax rate at $1.75 per $100 valuation, to be prorated at $1.35 for local maintenance and $.40 for interest and sinking fund.

The reason for the higher cost of operation for this school year was explained in a public meeting some months ago by MISD superintendent Bob E. Travis as the general inflation that has forced the costs of operation steadily upward.

The school taxing method has been revised by the board this year to assess on 45 percent of the total value of taxable property instead of the 34 percent that has been used in the past. By using the 45 percent assessment, the board was able to drop the tax rate from the $1.95 rate used in the past to the present $1.75 rate and still increase the revenue.

The budget as approved is several thousand dollars over projected revenues for the year, but since we are operating with an accrued surplus of several thousand, we can expect to come out all right in the end," Supt. Travis told the Tribune.

In other business, the board approved amendment of the 1973-74 budget to read $993,361 operating and $58,845 school lunch program for a total of $1,052,206.

Approved teaching contracts for Dorothy Bedwell, junior high migrant; Karen Riley, title one reading; Terry Shifflett, high school English; Kathy Clark, third grade; Loretta Kay Baker,

Lack of depth a worry

Winters optimistic on Tribe chances

"If we can avoid serious injuries, and if there are no teams in that are undefeated in district play, we have a chance of taking all the marbles in District 3-AA", are the words of head football coach Roy Winters in sizing up his team's chances in upcoming football wars.

In outlining the strong points of his squad, Winters places overall team speed as the number one asset and lists the leadership and abilities of his seniors in second place.

We are especially strong up front, with seniors Larry

We have speed to burn in the backfield, also, with big, fast - 215 lb. - Tony Soliz, another senior in the fullback slot and backed up by a couple of swift-footed backs in the person of Tailback Raydean Thompson and wingbacks J.P. Cornish and Ken Standmire. We think quarterback David Ramby has the tools and when he gets some experience under his belt, he will be a good one, the coach stated.

Lack of depth is probably our weakest point - that is why we are sweating out the injury situation. We just can't stand many injuries and hope to place high in the district, he added.

Five of our boys will be

Scrimmage & Ice Cream

The Morton Indians will scrimmage Farwell beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening, August 30 in Indian Stadium. The Junior Varsity will scrimmage first, followed by the varsity.

Following the scrimmage, there will be a homemade ice cream supper in the schools cafeteria.

There will be a business meeting of the Boosters Club following the supper.

Conservation guides given schools

The Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District of Morton recently bought and presented 12 Curriculum Guides to Conservation Education' to the three schools in the District. Eight volumes that pertain to people and their environment on such subjects as science, biology, social studies, outdoor laboratory and field trips were presented to the schools at Morton, Whiteface and Bledsoe. The subjects covered teaching guides for grades one through twelve.

The District Directors, realizing the importance of conserving and wisely using our natural resources, feel that the place to start teaching conservation is with our young people. They also realize that the future leaders of our country and those that will benefit from practicing wise conservation methods are our young people.

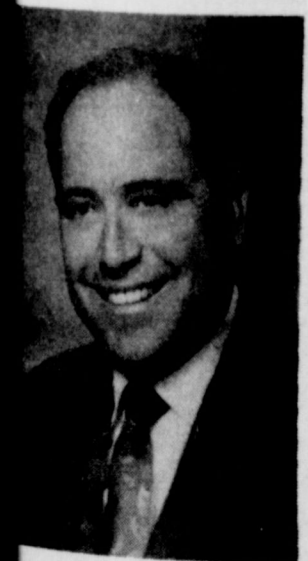

The District with the technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service has also pledged its support and assistance to the schools within the District in setting up outdoor classrooms or teaching areas. They will also assist the schools with conservation tours and teaching programs.

The District also plans to sponsor the essay and poster contests in the schools with the District again this year.

THE FIGHTING MORTON INDIANS pose for their first-of-the-season portrait as they were ending up two-a-day practices last week. Coach Roy Winters is looking forward to the district campaign with a good deal of optimism and rates the spirit and enthusiasm of his squad as one of their strongest points. The Tribe opens the season at home as host to the Plains Cowboys on September 6.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

It's that time of year again when parents should attempt to "safety proof" their youngsters — many of whom are entering school for the first time.
Whether walking, riding in a bus or car, or bicycling to school, plans should be made to ensure the safety of every child, reminds the Texas State Department of Health.
Darting across streets without looking, crossing at mid-block from between parked cars, and doing bicycle tricks in traffic are just a few of the pitfalls to be avoided, advises the Health Department.
Parents can caution their children about all careless practices, and they also can show them. Of your child is starting to school — or going to a new school — it's a good idea to make the trip at least once with the child.
If he will be pedaling to and from school every day — often in inclement weather — you'll want to be doubly sure that your child is observing safety rules. If you're a motorist in the vicinity of schools, be especially wary, says the State Health Department.
What are the trouble spots for bicyclists and motorists? Collisions between motor vehicles and bicycles occurs about as follows:
— Well over half at intersections.
— Seven out of ten during daylight hours.
— Most bicycle riders killed or injured in traffic accidents, were violating a traffic law at the time of the incident.
— Half of the motor vehicle-bicycle accidents involved a violation on the part of the motor vehicle operator.
— One out of five bicycles involved in accidents had some mechanical defect.
Some of the most common traffic violations of cyclists are (not in order of frequency):
— Failure to yield right-of-way. (In most cases, the cyclist did not "see" the car; in some cases he intentionally infringed on the motorist's right-of-way.)
A total of eight Sheriff Poses and Riding Clubs have notified the local posse they will compete in the Texas Last Frontier Rodeo and Parade, August 13.
The Rodeo Association, in order to build a better parade and more handsomely reward those who put in the extra effort of constructing floats, are offering $25.00 first prize for the winning float, $15.00 for the second place and $10.00 for third place.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

We want to wish all of those senior citizens of Roberts Memorial Nursing Home a happy birthday for the month of August:
Mrs. Maude Richards
Mr. Clay Lewis
Mr. Dave Chessier
Mrs. Myrtle Roberts

— Riding in the center of the street.
— Speed too fast for conditions of traffic and road surface.
— Disregard of traffic control devices — signal lights and stop signs.
— Improper turning.
To avoid such situations as just described, here are some safety rules for bicyclists:
— A skillful bicycle rider always has his bike under control. He never drives too fast and he never rides too close. He always has both hands free to steer.
— The cyclist must develop skill in balancing and pedaling to avoid swerving into traffic, hitting a fixed object, running off the sidewalk or highway. Parents have the responsibility to be certain their child has the skill to cope with traffic before permitting him to ride on the street.

Countians can expect higher vacation prices

For Cochran County families who are away on vacation jaunts in their cars, and for others who are preparing to go, the words — be prepared for much higher costs this year.

The reports that are coming back from travelers in all parts of the country are that everything has gone up. Inflation has affected the price of gasoline, food, overnight lodging, cigarettes, taxes and all other items.

According to the latest figures, just released by the American Automobile Association, local travelers will have to spend about 10.6 percent more for their day-to-day living expenses en route than they did in 1973.

What it amounts to, for two persons traveling together, is an additional $5.50 a day.

On the basis of the AAA findings, it is estimated that a Cochran County people will need about $57.50 per day for the normal necessities. This assumes that they will average 300 miles a day and will get 13 miles to the gallon of gas.

The $57.50 daily cost is broken down as follows: $20 for meals and snacks, another $20 for overnight accommodations, $12.50 for gas and oil and $5 for miscellaneous items.

In addition there are the optional expenditures for amusements, souvenirs, recreation and admissions to places of interest.

The matter of vacation costs brings up the larger question, for Cochran County car owners, of how much it is costing them per year, under present inflated conditions, to own and operate their cars.

The AAA has come up with some current figures. Its surveys show that the average standard-size car in the medium-price range, driven 10,000 miles a year, costs $1,662 or 16.6 cents per mile.

This includes such fixed costs as depreciation, insurance and license fees, for a total of $1,092 or $2.99 a day. Air conditioning adds another 25 cents a day.

The operating costs, for gas and oil, maintenance and tires, total $570 for 10,000 miles, or 5.7 cents a mile.

For the 2,250 passenger cars in Cochran County, the total cost, at this rate, is approximately $3,740,000 a year.

MARKETING ALERT

Marketing Service

August, the food supply situation in September is expected to look like this...

MEATS — Supplies will be moderate through September 1973. The fall crop will come in late, which will help to keep supplies of grain-fed hogs at approximately the level of September 1973. Production should be similar to the 1970-72 average. Higher rates should be expected in the seasonal increase.

POULTRY — Supplies should be down 1% from last September. The 1973 crop will be about 2% below the 1973 average. Large holdings remain in Texas — one-third of the most recent crop.

DAIRY PRODUCTS — Milk, butter, cheese, and dry milk supplies are adequate. Although production continues to be seasonally commensurate with the three-manufacturers remain above a year ago and the average.

VEGETABLES, NUTS — All year supplies will be with output from 22% ahead of the 1971-73 average.

Potato supplies are increasing seasonally. The 1974 summer crop is 11% above 1973, and more fall-crop acreage — 7% over 1973 — should boost fall production. July 1 frozen potato stocks were 5% above 1973, but 14% below the 1971-73 average.

Walnuts will be abundant. Production in 1974 should be about 19% less than the large 1973 crop but about equal to the 1971-73 average.

Almond supplies will be more than adequate, since 1974 production is expected to be much larger than both the 1973 and the 1971-73 averages.

Peanuts remain ample. Production in 1974 is expected to be slightly under last year's record crop but larger than the 1971-73 average.

GRAINS & LEGUMES — Dry bean supplies should be ample, with expected record output 24% above last year and the 1971-73 average. Dry peas and lentils should be ample, with dry peas nearly doubling last year's crop and totaling 28% more than the most recent 3-year average. A larger than average lentil crop is expected.

Rice supplies are expected to be fully adequate. A record crop is forecast — 15% above a year ago and 22% above the latest 3-year average.

Wheat will be tight but adequate for U.S. needs. The new crop, mostly harvested, is pegged at a record — 8% above 1973 and 13% over the 1971-73 average.

Corn for food should be adequate even though the corn crop is forecast at 12% below a year ago and the 1971-73 average.

recurring role of police lieutenant Art Malcom. Larry currently starred in the Los Angeles production of a London rock musical, "The Rocky Horror Show."

The Secretary of Agriculture is required by law to determine and announce the loan level for the 1975 crop of U.S. Upland cotton by November 1, 1974, and the national production goal and national base acreage allotment by November 15, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

An announcement of the Secretary's intention to make these determinations appeared in the August 15 Federal Register along with a call for written industry comment by September 16, and PCG is now preparing its views and recommendations, Johnson said.

Under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 the loan level must reflect — for Middling one-inch cotton with 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire at average locations — 90 percent of the average price of American cotton in world markets for the three years August 1, 1971 through July 31, 1974 or 90 percent of the "then current" average world market price if the current world market price is lower than the three-year average.

For the 1974 crop Secretary Earl Butz in late August of 1973 announced a "preliminary" loan of 25.26 cents per pound for Middling one-inch cotton, translated that figure of 27.05 cents for Strict Low Middling inch-and-a-sixteenth cotton and used as the base rate. USDA stated the loan level would be reviewed in early 1974 to determine if an adjustment was needed.

But it was not until July 18 of 1974, only two weeks before the end of the 1973-74 marketing year, that USDA announced the 27.05 cent rate as final. Presumably the finalization of the loan was delayed to allow time for the current year market price to become evident.

Industry people were not happy with this procedure last year, and, with the current market situation, are not likely to be pleased if it is followed again this year.

Rough calculations indicate that the three-year average market price for American cotton in world markets is about 43 cents per pound, 90 percent of which would give a loan rate of almost 39 cents per pound for 1975 crop U.S. cotton. However, with the drastic decline in world market prices over the past several months, there is a good possibility that the current year's price will be well below 43 cents. If so the Secretary could set a preliminary loan rate before November 1 and then set a considerably lower loan rate prior to the end of the 1974-75 marketing year — something which has not been done during the past 40 years of government programs.

The national production goal under the open-end planting provisions of the law is of little consequence. The goal for 1974 was 14,802,000 bales, compared to production of 13.9 million.

The Act of 1973 specifies that the national base acreage allotment shall be the number of acres which will give production equal to estimated domestic consumption, plus not to exceed 25 percent under some circumstances — except that it may not be less than 11 million acres.

The national allotment for 1974 was 11 million acres, so individual farm allotments in 1975 should not show any great change from 1974.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Safeguarding the Tenant

Olga returned from the market to find that a burglar had broken into her apartment and decamped with some jewelry. Upon reflection, she decided that the landlord ought to pay damages for the loss.

"His caretaker had left the front door of the building open the entire day," she pointed out in a court hearing. "Obviously that made things easier for the thief. A landlord has a duty to shield his tenants against crime."

But the court said that generally speaking, a landlord has no such duty. Rejecting Olga's claim, the court said crime prevention is primarily the job of the government, not of private property owners.

This is the traditional rule of law, leaving tenants pretty much "on their own" with regard to crime. However, a few courts have ruled recently that at least in certain situations, the landlord may bear some responsibility.

Another case involved an apartment building that was located in a high-crime district. The lobby had only dim lighting, and the front door lock, having once been broken, was left that way.

One night an elderly tenant, entering the lobby, was beaten by an unknown assailant who had been lurking in the darkness. In these circumstances, a court said later, the landlord could be held liable for "creating a condition conducive to criminal assaults."

But even a neglectful landlord would not be blamed if his negligence was not the "proximate cause" of the crime.

Thus, another landlord was held not liable for a robbery, even though he had failed to repair a faulty lock on the tenant's door. It seems that on the day of the robbery, the tenant had left a ground floor window open. Since the robber may well have gained entry through the window instead of the door, the court said it was impossible to pin the crime on the landlord.

Loyalty Oath for Teachers?

May a public school teacher be required to take a loyalty oath? Yes, provided that the oath stays within constitutional bounds.

Consider the case of a high school teacher who balked at swearing to uphold the state and federal constitutions.

"I just don't like the whole idea of loyalty oaths," she explained in a court hearing. "They are an infringement upon my freedom of conscience."

But the judge said this kind of an oath was nothing more than is expected of most public officials, up to and including the President. He quoted the following comment from the United States Supreme Court:

"Obviously the framers of the Constitution thought that an affirmation of minimum loyalty to the government was worth the price of whatever deprivation of individual freedom of conscience was involved."

Nevertheless, some oaths have been thrown out by the courts for going too far.

Another case involved a declaration that the teacher had never lent "aid, support, or advice" to the Communist Party. Wouldn't this apply, a court wondered, to everyone who had ever supported any cause that the Communist Party had also happened to support?

The court concluded that it was unconstitutional to require an oath in terms so vague that men of common intelligence must guess at its meaning.

Also rejected was a requirement that teachers submit an annual list of every organization to which they had either belonged or contributed during the previous five years.

The court felt that such a requirement intruded upon the teacher's right of free association. The court said there were all sorts of outside relationships that could have no possible bearing upon the teacher's occupational fitness.

Found Money

Phyllis was having tea in an open-air cafe when she spied a wallet under a nearby table. A look inside revealed $900 in cash but no identification. Dutifully, Phyllis left the wallet with the proprietor of the cafe, to be held for a possible claimant.

Months passed, and no claimant appeared. Finally Phyllis decided it was now hers to keep. But the proprietor demurred.

"The wallet was found on my premises," he pointed out in a court hearing. "Therefore, unless the original owner shows up, it belongs to me."

However, the court ordered him to hand the wallet and the money over to Phyllis. The court said lost property found in a public place, not traceable to the original owner, may be retained by the finder.

Most courts endorse this rule. Unclaimed money (or other valuables) found in public places, like the lobby of a hotel or the aisle of a supermarket, are usually awarded to the finder rather than the management.

Does it matter if the finder is a company employee? Generally no.

Thus, a bank teller who found a diamond ring near the way was held entitled to keep it against the bank. So long as it was not part of his job to find articles, said the court, he "on his own" in making the discovery.

It may indeed matter, though, if the item was not actually lost but only mislaid (that is, laid down on purpose, then behind by mistake).

Such a case arose when a tomer in a barber shop noticed a wallet that had been forgotten on a table. When no owner could be located the customer and barber went to court to settle the matter.

This time, the court ruled in favor of the barber, not the tomer. The court said that the tomer originally placed it on the table, and that he had entrusted the custody of the shop.

MHS graduate receives honors from Baylor U

Baylor University has recognized 687 students for academic achievement by naming them to the University Provost's Academic Honor List and the University Provost's Distinguished Academic Honor List.

Mrs. Ruthie Smith Roberts, Morton High School graduate and daughter of Mrs. T.T. Smith of Morton, was among those named. She graduated from Baylor University in May with a 4.0 grade point. Her degree is in elementary education.

Dr. Herbert H. Reynolds, Baylor executive vice president and provost, announced the names of those Baylor students who distinguished themselves academically during the 1974 spring semester.

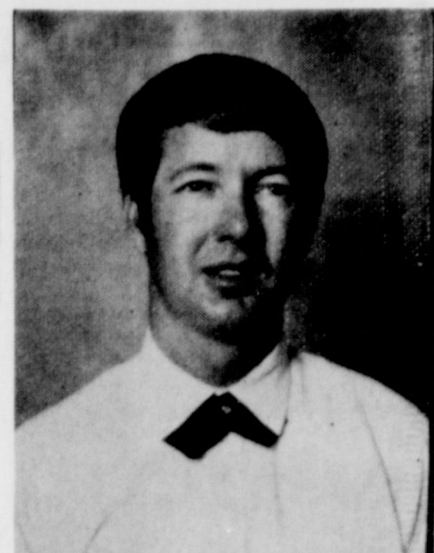

Reynolds said 319 students were named to the University Provost's Academic Honor List and 368 to the University Provost's Distinguished Academic Honor List. Of those named to the University Provost's Distinguished Academic Honor List, 176 earned a 4.00 or straight-A average.

The grading system at Baylor is on a four-point scale, whereby four points per hour credit are given for an A, three for a B, two for a C and one for a D.

Grade point averages are derived by dividing the total number of points earned by the number of hours taken.

To be named to the University Provost's Academic Honor List, one must be an undergraduate or post graduate student who has earned a grade point of 3.6 to 3.79, while taking 15 credit hours during the semester.

"Those who walk along the path of life in the presence of Jesus are full of joy." PSALM 16:11 shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. Luke 10:27

HERE IS THE PATH

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose... and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this granting in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

3 Texas crude oil output down substantially from '72

12 months of 100-percent effective rate in most Texas fields of nearly 6.3 barrels of crude oil state's all-time production year of 1973. Production in 1973 almost 1.3-billion barrels among the producing states amounting 38.6-percent of U.S. production, to statistics by Texas Mid-Oil & Gas Association.

state's oil men — the more extensive development of Texas fields," said the Association's president, Sherman Hunt, a Dallas independent producer. "But if Congress will adopt economic policies to encourage the search for new fields, we feel this trend can be changed."

Despite the drop in production, the oil that was produced last year in 203 of the state's 254 counties was valued at some $5-billion, an increase of approximately $500-million over the value of oil produced in 1972. This increase partially reflects the increased prices paid for some Texas crude oil during the latter part of 1973.

In addition to larger payments to royalty owners, the higher prices also have been reflected in the state comptroller's reports of increased severance taxes paid by the oil men of Texas.

Cochran County, which has had recorded production since 1936, last year produced 11,407,159 barrels of oil at the rate of 31,252 barrels a day. Production in 1973 boosted Cochran County's production total through the end of the year to 250,725,091.

In 1973, some 33 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil, with Borden County being added to the list. The top half-dozen, all with production in excess of 50-million barrels, remain the same as the year previous. By millions of barrels they are:

Scurry, 91.8; Ector, 72.6; Yoakum, 66.0; Gaines, 61.3; Andrews, 60.4; and Gregg, 53.2.

Gregg County, the only Texas county to produce more than two-billion barrels of oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative production total through 1973 of almost 2.4-billion barrels. Other counties with cumulative production in excess of one-billion barrels are: Ector, 1.9; Andrews, 1.6; Rusk, 1.5; Harris, 1.1; Crane, 1.1; and Scurry, 1.1.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN — Fall is a traditional time for apartment hunting for many Texans. Students returning to universities, summer newlyweds, recent graduates embarking on a career and a life away from home, families who for financial reasons cannot buy a house at present — all may be in the market for an apartment.

And with the wide variety available to choose from, selecting an apartment can be difficult.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys say you can save yourself possible disappointments and inconveniences if you know what to look for in an apartment, how to safeguard your security deposit, what to keep in mind when signing a lease or rental contract, and what your obligations are as a renter.

They suggest the following general guide to apartment-hunting:

— Determine roughly what location and price range you want. Then get recommendations from friends, check newspaper ads, consult real estate dealer listings, or get assistance from professional apartment finders.

— Decide in advance what special features you're looking for. Some people prefer the quiet of small complexes or duplexes, others like the activity of a large complex. Tennis courts, swimming pools, saunas, putting greens, exercise rooms, game rooms, laundries, and many other amenities are available at some apartments.

— When you have narrowed your list of possible apartments to about three by telephone inquiries, visit them in person and be sure your first impression is a good one. You should notice a general air of cleanliness and regular, adequate maintenance. — Your first impression of an individual apartment should also be favorable. It should appear clean, with no loose carpeting or linoleum, no broken or cracked windows.

— Make sure all appliances, water faucets, toilets, hot water heaters, air conditioning and heating are in good working order. Check them yourself. Don't take someone else's word!

— Check all door locks and make sure locks will be changed before you move in.

— See that windows open easily. You may need them for ventilation or as an escape route in an emergency. Check large complexes for adequate stairs or elevators, and locate fire extinguishers.

— Talk with the people who may be your neighbors. Find out if they have had satisfactory relationships with the apartment owner or manager. Ask them if there have been any rent increases in the past year or so. Also, if possible, inquire about the approximate range of monthly utility bills.

— When you have found one apartment you like, think it over a day or so before committing yourself.

— Then, if you still want the apartment, begin to check on the specifics. What utilities and repairs will be your responsibility? Are there special rules or regulations imposed by the owner or manager? How much security deposit is required? Are there any restrictions on children or pets?

— Before signing a contract or lease, go through the apartment with the manager or owner, listing any damage. Make sure there are two copies of the list, that you both sign them, and that you keep a copy for your records.

— Read the lease or contract carefully before signing. Don't sign if there are
