Cotton harvest cranks up slowly

MORTON HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR was out in full force to brave the chilly temperatures and entertain the home fans with several selections during half time of a football game between the Morton Indians and the Friona Chieftains Friday night. Following their rendition of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" they were given a standing ovation by their appreciative audience.

Gins forecast light harvest lower grades

The 1974 cotton harvest in Cochran county finally took a few faltering steps forward this week with some gins reporting limited operations and others with no activity as yet.

General concensus received from an informal telephone survey of gins in the local area Tuesday was that a large majority of the crop was still too damp and too green for stripping, and that it would take several more days of warm, sunny weather to finish it out.

All gin managers agreed on one point — that there will be between one fourth and one third of the bales turned out this year as were ginned last year. A second point the majority agreed upon was that the unusually cold, damp late summer and fall weather will probably have a serious effect on the grade. Most indicated that if the weather holds, they expect only a three to five week ginning season.

Due to all-around higher cost of production, some indicated that they will be forced to increase the price per bale for ginning, though no definite figures were given.

Elsewhere on the High Plains the harvest situation is much the same as that in Cochran county.

Stripping and picking operations were halted on the High Plains until mid-week because of rain, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. "The harvest is gaining momentum again," he said.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported 1755 samples of cotton had been classed through Friday, November 15, 1974. On this same date last season the total was 328,000.

The predominant grades classed this week were 51 and 52. Grade 51 was assigned to 26 percent while Grade 52 was assigned to 30 percent. Fifty percent of the samples were reduced one grade because of bark content.

Predominant Staples were 32, 33 and 34. Staples 32 and 33 amounted to about 20 percent each, while Staple 33 accounted

Chiefs chastize Tribesmen 30-0

The Morton Indians fought their last battle of 1974 Friday night at home against the Friona Chiefs. The Indians were unable to match the output of the Chiefs and dropped a 30-0 loss left the Tribe with sole possession of the cellar spot in district 3-AA with an 0-4 mark. The Indians finished the 1974 season with a 2-8 record over-all.

The game was the last for 10 Morton seniors. Suiuting out for the final time were David Silhan, Greg Bell, Tony Soliz, Chuck Rice, Monty Smith, Larry Silhan, Rodney Cox, Dennis Holladay, Rex Coffman, Johnny Rozell, and Dwayne Crow.

The only score of the first quarter of play resulted from the aggressive rush by the Chiefs which caught the Morton Indians in the end zone for a safety. The other score of this half came halfway in the second period of play on a 34-yard run.

The first half ended with Morton trailing 9-0.

The Chiefs really untracked in the last quarter of play, scoring three TD's. The first score came on a 5-yard run by Friona.

With 6:00 minutes remaining, the Chiefs again scored on a 17-yard run. The final seven points was the result of a 10 yard pass by Friona. Thus a 30-0 final.

But in spite of the loss, the Morton fans received the best entertainment of the season as the high school band and choir staged an inspiring halftime

Poor cotton market explained

By Phil A. Sullins
County Extension Agent

Some associated with the cotton producer to the market and decreased demand over the past several years.

Foreign countries have a larger than normal carryover stock at the beginning of the 1974 crop year.

Foreign mills are facing decreased sales similar to U.S. mills. This has resulted in recent production cut-backs and temporary mill closing.

World wide energy problems, inflation and higher prices are more serious overseas than in U.S. which results in higher transportation rates and overall cost.

Cotton production outside the U.S. for 1974 is up slightly, while production is down in the U.S. and Texas. Net results is a decrease demand for our cotton overseas.

From the above comments, it would appear that the consumer has stopped buying apparel and cotton goods, but this is not true. Although consumer spending has slowed due to increasing unemployment and inflation, cotton apparel is still very popular.

Since inventories are being reduced due to the high interest cost throughout the pipeline from retail stores to cotton merchants, continued purchase by consumers will ultimately increase demand for cotton. Once charges. So only small lots of cotton are being purchased to meet immediate spinning needs. Cotton merchants are also holding their inventory down because of high interest rates.

From a world wide standpoint, several factors listed below have an important influence on current prices.

DON'T LOOK LIKE MUCH NOW, but it's what will come later that counts. This photo was taken as work got underway for the construction of A Dairy Queen restaurant at the corner of West Washington and South Main, where the former Byron Auto Parts and Jeters Hardware stores stood. No completion date has been announced, but judging from the first few days progress, it should be too long in the future.

MORTON VOLUNTEER FIREMAN RICHARD YOUNG, right, is shown as he received an expense check from Cochran County Farm Bureau President G.O. Cooper in ceremonies at the Morton Farm Bureau office recently. The check was for the purpose of defraying Young's expenses when he attended a Farm Bureau-sponsored fire fighting and prevention school at Texas A&M. Looking on at left is Morton Fire Chief Rex Crawford.

Former Morton man receives FB award

Terry Davis, a Dalhart area farmer for four years and son of Mrs. W.L. Davis of Morton has been selected as the 1974 Texas Farm Bureau Outstanding Young Farmer and Rancher. The announcement was made by Bill Carmack, manager of the Dallam-Hartley Counties Farm Bureaus.

This is an outstanding and coveted award. It will be presented to Davis and his wife, Wadonna, at the Texas FB Convention at the Victory Celebration Program Dec. 3, during the Dec. 1-3 convention in the Dallas Convention Center Auditorium.

Davis is also invited to attend the TFB Young Farmer-Rancher Conference Dec. 2.

All expenses for the trip and transportation for the couple will be paid, according to Durwood Tucker director of special activities for the convention, who wrote a letter of congratulation to the Davises," Carmack said.

Davis' entry will be forwarded to the American FB to compete on the National Level.

The Davis farm and ranch is six miles east of Dalhart and he is harvesting his fourth crop there. The couple have a six-year-old son, Terry Wade.

Davis was born and reared in Morton. He is a graduate of Morton High School, South Plains College in Levelland and Wayland Baptist College, where he earned his BS degree in biology. He has done work at West Texas State University in Canyon toward his masters degree.

For two years Davis taught school at Friona, and one year at Sunray, in science and biology. He also farmed during those years.

General Electric Company has been awarded a $1 million contract to equip a new, unified two-way radio communications system to serve all law enforcement agencies in 15 Texas counties comprising the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG).

Under terms of a procurement contract signed by Carolyn Jordan, president of the SPAG Board of Directors, General Electric Mobile Radio Department, Lynchburg, Va., will supply police agencies with multi-frequency MASTR II mobile radios, MASTR base stations and PE series hand-held portable units. Each SPAG county and the region's largest city, Lubbock, will operate its own repeater system for extended radio coverage. The radio network will be dispatched through GE command control consoles and MASTR Controller compact desk top units.

Using guidelines drawn by the Texas Criminal Justice Council, the SPAG regional concept is backed by built-in provisions for individual local considerations, resulting in new public safety benefits for the various communities while serving the region's common bond.

The new South Plains communication plan calls for county sheriff and municipal police forces in Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza counties will be

Lower turkey prices bonus for Thanksgiving

Turkey prices are much lower than they were last year, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

"Price dips are due to this year's good turkey crop and very cold-storage holdings," the consumer marketing specialist said.

However, if turkey still doesn't sell, the holiday food budget this year, consumers can choose other parts — or switch to other entire turkey, Mrs. Clyatt added.

Choices include chicken, ham, certain beef cuts.

A variety of steaks, chuck, and rump roasts — and ground beef — are meat market staples.

Commenting on Thanksgiving vegetables, the specialist said sweet potatoes will reach their peak in time for the holiday, and white potatoes — at much lower prices than last year — are in abundant supply.

Broccoli and Brussels sprouts are now in their peak season, and bulk turnips and rutabagas are readily available.

"Carrots, cabbage, squash and yellow onions are other economically priced selections."

Also, cranberries are abundant — with prices near or slightly below last year's prices.

Holiday fruits include apples, with 40 per cent of that coming to market this month. However, tangerine supplies won't peak until December, the specialist said.

Mrs. Clyatt termed Texas grapefruit flavor "delightful" this season and reported a supply increase — "buy it by the bag," she added. Grapes, bananas, oranges and pineapples are other good fruit choices.

"New crop pecans are on the market at prices near those of last year, but there will be a price increase as the season advances, because this year's crop is smaller," Mrs. Clyatt predicted.

Termed rice "an important staple," the specialist reported it plentiful now. This year's crop is 22 per cent greater than last year's.

On buying eggs, she cautioned consumers to choose those from refrigerated cases — "also, read labels carefully for grade and size."

"Medium-size eggs are likely to be close to large-size in price. Larger sizes are the better buy, if there's less than a seven-cent price spread (per dozen eggs) between one size and the next smaller size in the same grade."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: "Waste" is the villain that breaks the holiday food budget.

If turkey is the Thanksgiving choice, usually there will be enough meat left over for one or two special turkey dishes.

Also, simmer the bones for soup stock.

Now is time to figure current farm year taxes

When making decisions relating to any farm business, always consider the tax consequences of your decision, says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist.

"Now is a good time to estimate your expected income for 1974," says the economist with the Texas A&M University System. "To do this, obtain information from your 1974 records, make estimates of your income and expenses for the rest of the year, and compare this year's estimated income with last year's income."

Hayenga says there are several things an individual can do to reduce the potential tax for 1974.

"By purchasing some capital items such as machinery, equipment and breeding stock before the end of the year, you can get more investment credit and additional first-year depreciation," says the economist. "Other capital items purchased during the year can be put on a faster rate of depreciation.

"You may also want to purchase such items as feed and fertilizer for the coming year."

Another way to reduce potential tax is to delay sales of some farm items such as grain, cotton and livestock until after the first of the year.

"Unless your taxable income appears to be lower than usual this year, you should pay any large bills before January 1 and make needed repairs to machinery, buildings and fences before the end of the year," suggests Hayenga.

He also advises taking advantage of the "net operating loss" provision of the tax law if it seems there will be a loss in your year's business. "This provision may enable you to recover taxes paid in past years and establish the amount of loss that can be used to offset income in future years."

Rural accidents light in October

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Cochran County during the month of October, 1974, according to Sergeant H.E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and no persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first ten months of 1974 shows a total of 36 accidents resulting in no persons killed and 11 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for October, 1974, shows a total of 502 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 215 persons injured as compared to October, 1973, with 664 accidents resulting in 31 persons killed and 377 persons injured. This was 162 less accidents, 12 less killed, and 162 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

agriculture and farm shop for a period of 15 years. He also taught automobile mechanics, electricity, electrical and acetylene welding and woodworking in the Jasper County vocational school. He has had two years experience as a draftsman, and two years experience as a welder.

"Many oxy-acetylene welding short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Mr. Yeates and all have met with outstanding success," according to Walter Labay, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Plainview, Texas. Arrangements for the adult education shortcourse in welding and in other fields are made through Mr. Labay's office.

The short course at Whiteface, is scheduled to begin December 2 at 7:00 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of oxy-acetylene welding will be held December 3, 4, and 5. During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Yeates will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Larry Seales.

Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, Mr. Souter, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Seales. An entry fee of $10.00 will be charged. Oxy-acetylene welding short course certificates are to be presented to each enrollee who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Yeates stated that the short course will be adjusted to wishes and interests of farmers enrolled but that he expects to cover such subjects as safety in oxy-acetylene welding, factors controlled by the operator in oxy-acetylene welding, choosing adjusting torch flames, types of welding rods, preparation of joints, distortion, cutting and hardsurfacing.

President says B&PW opposes recinding ERA

According to a number of Texas Legislators, there is a move in Texas to attempt to rescind the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

The Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the leader in the state in getting the Equal Rights Amendment ratified in the Texas Legislature is spearheading the fight against such a move.

"The people of Texas voted 4 to 1 for our own Texas Equal Legal Rights referendum," Mrs. Chloe Monroe, President of the Texas Federation of B&PW, said in a talk this week. "The Texas Federation has been working on that since 1959 and we feel that the men and women who represent the citizens of our state in Austin will take this into consideration. The American Bar Association and many other organizations have committed themselves to the ratification of ERA."

"Equal Legal Rights are applicable to both men and women," Mrs. Monroe continued, "and our National Federation has been in the forefront in working on the constitutional amendment in Washington since 1923."

All over the state of Texas, B&PW members are writing to their legislators and signing petitions standing behind their commitment to Equal Legal Rights. "We feel that any informed person will be for this legislation. It is only those who are uninformed who find the legislation unacceptable," Mrs. Monroe concluded.

There is little if any likelihood that the "target price" provision of the current cotton program will be of any benefit to High Plains cotton farmers struggling to avoid financial losses on the 1974 crop.

This is the opinion of Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. after reviewing the law, consulting with Washington officials of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and studying the volume and prices of cotton sold in the market through September of this year.

Greatly increased costs of production have most farmers on the High Plains facing less than break-even returns at low and falling prices on a crop that promises poor yields and subnormal quality.

"There is hope in some instances for a small measure of relief under the program's 'disaster provisions' where reduced income results from low yields," Johnson says, "but protection against low prices this year is conspicuously absent."

The disaster clause in the law, inserted largely at the insistence of PCG, offers a producer payment if total production on a farm falls below about two-thirds the farm's established aggregate yield. For those farms that qualify under this provision, the payment would be 12.67 cents per pound times the difference between total production and 100 per cent of the established yield.

Producers, Johnson advises, should maintain accurate production records and check with county SCS offices to determine if they are eligible for a disaster payment.

The "target price" section of the law says that producers in 1974 will be paid the difference between 38 cents per pound and the national average price received by farmers for all U.S. cotton during the calendar year in which the crop is planted.

"But as best we can determine," Johnson laments, "there will be no payments made here or elsewhere under this provision."

with full internal communications, communication with all other agencies in the county and the entire SPAG region, access to the state wide inter-city radio system and links all mobile units to the state wide mobile radio frequency.

Simultaneously, the City of Lubbock will implement a new UHF communications system for its police department, although the Lubbock PD will remain linked to the regional law enforcement network through VHF base stations.

Eight-frequency MASTR II mobile radios in the Lubbock system will be equipped for automatic identification, using a short digital burst at the beginning of each radio transmission. The new Lubbock system will also use PE Series personal units and the city is adopting a satellite receiver voting system to enhance communications from mobile and portable units operating in outlying areas.

Partial funding for the South Plains equipment procurement comes through capital grants from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. Similar General Electric regional communications systems already are serving, or will serve, more than 10 regional planning districts throughout the state.

The average price received by farmers is computed monthly by USDA's Statistical Reporting Service, using data gathered from questionnaires sent to all ginners and to a statistical sampling of growers. The average for the year will be the average of these monthly prices, weighted by the volume of cotton sold during each month.

PCG calculations from January through September SRS reports for this year show over 4.4 million bales sold at a weighted average price of 55.3 cents per pound. Over 2 million bales sold in January at the 9-month high average of 57.2 cents. Low monthly average for the period was in September when almost 108,000 bales changed hands at 44.2 cents.

Johnson also points out that an estimated 2,200,000 bales of 1974 crop will be delivered on pre-harvest contracts at prices probably averaging 55 cents or above.

"This means that some 6.6 million bales of cotton at around 55 cents per pound will be thrown into the 1974 average," he continues. "Therefore, the remaining 9.5 million bales of uncontracted 1974-crop cotton would all have to sell during this calendar year at below 27 cents per pound to bring the annual average below 38 cents."

Farm leases should contain firm agreement

A good, well-thought-out written agreement when leasing a farm can often eliminate problems and disagreements between landlords and tenants, believes, Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A lease should be tailored to fit the farm, the landlord as the tenant," points out the economist with the Texas A&M University System.

Hayenga says the lease should cover such areas as property rights, land use, and livestock production and restrictions, and should have provisions for conserving and maintaining farm resources, sharing of costs and returns, and length of the agreement.

"The agreement should clearly state the rights, duties and responsibilities of each party and should provide for change and adaptability."

The goal of the agreement should be to provide reasonable returns to both landlord and tenant for the resources provided.

"A good lease provides for the development, improvement and maintenance of the land, buildings, fences and other improvements," notes Hayenga. "It should assure the tenant a reasonable reimbursement for the investments he leaves in the farm when his period of occupancy ends."

Hayenga contends that a rental agreement should receive an income from the farm in proportion to the amount of total operating expenses each pays.

The economist favors a whole farm income sharing plan rather than one for each crop or livestock enterprise.

Olton, Lockney confrontation set for bi-district grid title

Olton's Mustangs who were little more than a "dark horse" candidate in District 3-AA pre-season parlayed a tenacious defense and an adequate offense into a district championship.

The Mustangs meet Lockney, District 4-AA's coin toss winner, at Plainview Saturday in bi-district.

"There were three real good teams in our district this year. It's a shame two of them had to stay home," said Olton's coach Ed Miller in regard to the playoffs.

Miller said he definitely thought the injury to Dimmitt's star runningback, Robert Mayberry, suffered the previous week against Friona, made a difference in the championship game's outcome.

But district statistics released this week prove that the Mustangs—whether through luck or plain harnosed defense—may have won the district title on their defensive skill.

Olton was far and away the top defensive team in the district, allowing just 110.4 yards per ball game. This broke down to only 66 yards rushing allowed per game and 45.4 yards passing.

Friona allowed less points than anyone—only 51, but the Chiefs ranked second to Olton in the yardage department, some 50 yards per game over the Mustang's stellar average.

Olton's Glenn Johnson won the district rushing and scoring titles, with 1,483 yards rushing and 116 points for the regular season. Littlefield's Bill Turner was second in the individual rushing department with 1,125 yards, and Dimmitt's Robert Mayberry who managed just 50 yards against Olton, came in third at 1,086.

Mayberry also was the scoring runnerup at 1,104 points.

In the team offense department, Dimmitt led, averaging 374 yards per game. The Bobcats were averaging over 400 yards per game until their last two games against Friona and Olton, each of whom held the Bobcats to about half of their average.

Regarding the bi-district game, Biller said he was happy to be playing Lockney as the Longhorns were a similar team to Olton.

"They are one of the two teams which made over 100 yards rushing against us (144 yards) Floydada was the other. It should be a good game," Miller predicted.

The two teams met early this season, on September 20 at Lockney with Olton winning 22-6.

Grain Sorghum News

by Roy Hickman
County Director GSPA
The 1974 grain sorghum crop is forecast to be the smallest crop since 1957, grain sorghum producers may be in trouble in 1975, and the greatest help they may have will come from the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The GSPA is doing a lot of needed research on insect resistant varieties of sorghum, improved methods of production costs, and have been assured that farmers will have adequate fuel for future operation. The GSPA has stood solidly against sorghum embargo.

Mr. A.W. Anthony, President of GSPA has been appointed to the Federal Energy Advisory Commission, the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Pat Northcutt, appointed to Secretary Butz' Feed Grain Advisory Commission and the Executive Director, Mr. Elbert Harp, to serve on USDA's National Cost of Production Commission. This is good representation for GSPA at the top for representing the interests of grain sorghum producers.

The GSPA has developed a growing foreign market for grain sorghum. Japan, Germany, England and other countries are now steady customers. Last year, for the first time, they succeeded in getting milo exported to Korea. They hosted a team of Soviet visitors last April, and a group from Czechoslovakia in September, 1974.

Roy Hickman, Cochran County Director, urges all Cochran County farmers to mail their Membership dues in to the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, 1708-A, 15th Street, Lubbock 79401. The Annual membership dues are $10.00 per producer.

The money the GSPA receives visited their son, Bryan and children in Muleshoe Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D.S. Fowler spent the weekend in Lubbock visiting their sons the James and Ray Fowlers.

from dues is the only funds they may use for political purposes and we must keep that activity moving and active. The funds they receive from the grain sorghum check-off cannot be used for this purpose; so, let's get our dues in immediately, this is a good $10.00 investment.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN — Habla español? Thousands of Texans do. And for many of these citizens, Spanish is the language preferred for use in business dealings.

So it's especially unfortunate, but true, that some merchants use their own facility in Spanish, or the fact that some consumers are less comfortable speaking, reading, or writing in English to operate unscrupulously.

Recently, the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, in cooperation with a West Texas district attorney, obtained a court judgment against a real estate firm that was attracting customers with advertisements in Spanish-language newspapers. When contacted by an interested party, however, the firm refused or was unable to sell at the advertised price in terms.

In addition, representatives of the firm failed to deposit earnest money at title companies or banks as they represented to customers they would, and failed to return the money or apply it to real estate purchases.

The firm's representatives also advertised their services as "notarios publicos" and accepted deposits from Mexican aliens to begin processing U.S. immigration papers. Our attorneys took the position that this was a deceptive trade practice, since in Mexico, as in many Spanish-speaking countries, a "notario publico" is an attorney or a person specially trained in legal matters.

Although the persons were notaries public, we discovered they were not attorneys or otherwise qualified to practice immigration law in the U.S. and, therefore, they couldn't obtain the necessary papers for their customers.

In another case, a firm operating primarily in the Valley and directing much of their sales efforts toward Spanish-speaking migrant workers, has been permanently enjoined from misrepresenting their services. The firm was selling door-to-door what it described as "aseguranza," or insurance, which salesmen assured prospective customers would cover costs involved if they had an automobile wreck in any state in the country.

In reality, what consumers were sold amounted to membership in an automobile club, for which they were charged high fees.

Since they sold their services in home solicitations, the company by law should have informed purchasers of their right to cancel any contract for more than $25 within three days by notifying the firm or its salesman in writing.

And, since their sales pitches were usually made in Spanish, any contract or receipt of sale should have included this information in Spanish. The law says contracts or receipts must be in the same language used in the transaction.

My Consumer Protection Division reports that other states have experienced the problem of magazine sales crews descending on barrios and using hard sell appeals in Spanish to obtain subscriptions.

And instances have occurred in other states where publishers of so-called "minority" or "ethnic" magazines or newspapers have used long distance appeals to businessmen in other states for advertising.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection staff has taken several steps to assure that our Spanish-speaking citizens will be able to get consumer protection assistance and information in which language they prefer.

First and most important, our five regional offices in San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, Houston and Dallas make our consumer protection services available on a more localized level. And in these offices, as in our main office in Austin, we have bilingual staff members or attorneys who can help with consumer problems.

In addition, we provide bilingual consumer complaint forms in all of our offices, and we have recently translated our "Practical Primer for Texas Consumers," a brochure describing common consumer frauds, into Spanish.

So, for assistance with a consumer complaint, in English or Spanish, consult the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

Sweetwater slates honor for Billy Graham aide

Christian leaders from around the world have been invited to participate in a special day of activities in the Sweetwater area, Sunday November 24, to honor Dr. Grady Wilson, long-time evangelist and associate to Billy Graham.

The Grady Wilson Day program will come as a surprise to Wilson who is coming to Texas on what he thinks is a deer hunting trip.

The program will feature such well-known personalities as soloist George Beverly Shea and Miss Ethel Waters, a unique camp meeting under a big tent and the naming of Dr. Wilson as an Honorary Texan by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

Miss Waters, Shea, soloist Steve Musto, pianist Barbara Musto, and a special guest speaker will participate in a special service at the First Baptist Church of Sweetwater from 10:50 until noon.

Beginning at 2:30 p.m. Sunday the general public is being invited to assemble at West Texas Ranch for Christ, 23 miles south of Sweetwater off the San Angelo highway for an area-wide evangelist camp meeting at which Dr. Grady Wilson will preach.

During the tent meeting a representative of Governor Briscoe will name Wilson an Honorary Texan, and the management of West Texas Ranch for Christ will dedicate a restored 100-year old former frontier home for Wilson to use when he visits Texas.

A 300-voice volunteer choir from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene will also perform at the tent service along with Shea, Miss Waters, and the Mustos.

The restored home transported from San Angelo will also serve as a guest house for speakers at West Texas Ranch for Christ conference activities when not in use by the Wilsons. The Ranch is a discipleship training center operated by the International Evangelism Association (I.E.A.) a Fort-Worth based organization which conducts world-wide evangelistic ministries. Evangelist Billie Hanks Jr. is I.E.A.'s President.

Among activities planned for Sunday morning Dr. Roy Fish, Parallel Terraces - Why?

COMMENTS ON CONSERVATION
By Donald R. Bales

The farmer today is a specialized man with more than one problem. He must be an individual who is a master at many Management is an everyday must for the successful farmer.

The Soil Conservation Service can assist the local farmer with management items and practices. One practice available to the farmer is the construction of Parallel Terraces. Parallel Terraces are constructed to conserve moisture and prevent erosion. The Terraces are installed parallel where practicable to permit efficient operation with modern farm equipment. A Terrace system is most helpful in handling of excessive rainfall and runoff waters. The Terrace only hold and store water that falls between each terrace. The Terrace water is a great asset to the irrigation farmer because of the pump less irrigation water. The dryland farmer can hold all the water received on his land and not lose any of it to runoff. Thus, he is likely to have adequate moisture to plant on and to produce a crop.

The Soil Conservation Service administers and manages a program known as the Great Plains Conservation Program. Federal cost is available to the farmer or rancher upon entering into a Contract. Terraces, for example, are federally cost-shared at a $15 per linear foot of actual construction. The cost-share rate is 60 percent or $.09 per foot of constructed Terrace. The Conservation Service now has funds available for Terrace construction and other practices.

Persons wishing further information on Parallel Terraces or other practices should contact their local Soil Conservation Service office.

"Thou wilt show me the path of life, in thy presence is fulness of joy..."
PSALM 16:11

HERE IS THE PATH

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose... and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

Luke 10:27

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond in that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

couple's son aids plane development

Clovis R. Hale, son of Mrs. Eddie C. Hale, Star Morton, Tex., is a member of the massive U.S. Air Force team that assisted in the development of the new B-1 bomber.

Hale is a nuclear engineer at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, with the B-1 program office which has worked more than 100,000 hours on the design, development and test of the systems.

Hale will be the follow-on program manager for the Strategic Air Command's B-52 Stratofortress. The aircraft will fly at speeds and have the advantages in aircraft performance. It will also offer electronic countermeasures, higher penetration speeds, larger payload and greater range than the B-52s.

Major Hale's unit is part of the aeronautical systems division of the Air Force Systems Command, manager of the research and development of USAF aerospace vehicles.

A 1965 graduate of Ropesville (Tex.) High School, he received his B.S. and M.S. degree in electrical engineering from the University of Texas and was commissioned there upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He earned his Ph. D. degree in physics in 1967 at the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson.

His wife, Judy, is the daughter of Mrs. Alma Lee of 5314 Sunshine Drive, Austin.

Tech Carol of Lights presentation December 6

The traditional Carol of Lights program at Texas Tech University heralding the Christmas-New Year's holiday season, will be presented Dec. 6 in the Science Quadrangle.

Dr. Gover E. Murray, president of Texas Tech, will preside over the program. Barry Wood of First Baptist Church will lead the invocation.

The Texas Tech Choir and the Oakwood Baptist Bell Choir will be among the performing groups; and Dr. Gene Hemmle, former chairman of the Department of Music at Texas Tech, will lead community singing of carols. Other participating groups will be announced later.

The program concludes with the throwing of a switch which turns on 28,000 red, yellow and white electric lights on 50,000 feet of wire strung on 10 buildings in the center of the university campus.

The entire program which will begin at 7 p.m. is open to the public. Residents and visitors of the area are invited to tour the campus to see the display. Thousands of West Texans and eastern New Mexicans drive to Lubbock yearly to view the spectacle.

Following the formal Carol of Lights program, the lights will be lit from dusk until midnight from Dec. 6 through Jan. 2 until last year, when energy conservation measures reduced the hours of illumination, the lights burned all night during the period. The cutback will remain in effect this year.

The Residence Halls Association (RHA) sponsor of the annual program, this year is underwriting approximately half the cost of $6,000 through the sale of 5,000 red and black pom-poms during Homecoming and the days preceding it.

The RHA plans to raise $3,000 from its project and calls on the community of Lubbock to underwrite the other part.

Harold Hinn of Plainview and Dallas, former member of the Board of Directors of Texas Tech Foundation, was first to envision the idea of lighting the campus in 1958.

He sponsored cost of buying, placing and operating the lights that outlined four major buildings in the lighting program in 1959, the first year of the holiday project. He repeated the gift the next year, the first time the students participated in the event.

The program grew continuously until fuel and energy shortages forced a cut-back last year.

Ohio scientist wins award

Dr. James D. Idol Jr. is 1975 winner of the American Chemical Society's Award for Creative Invention.

Dr. Idol, research manager for Standard Oil of Ohio, invented a single-step process to make a special chemical used worldwide to make acrylic fibers, oil-resistant rubber and assorted plastics.

WARNING SYSTEM

On Nov. 19, 1954, the U.S. and Canadian governments announced agreement to build a 3,000-mile radar warning system across the Canadian arctic.

Although Donald Cain, an 18-year-old freshman, attends classes at Penn State University this year, he and his family are not concerned about rising tuition costs.

Donald is one of thousands of young men and women attending college through Army ROTC four-year scholarships.

Donald's scholarship pays for his tuition, textbooks, lab fees and other educational expenses. Additionally, he receives $100 a month up to 10 months of each school year.

The Army ROTC program blends officer training with civilian academic pursuits and is available at 291 colleges and universities across the country.

Donald hopes to become a physician. Because he was awarded a scholarship, the high cost of pre-medical training won't be an obstacle in his career path. As he noted, "If I don't make it to medical school or I change my mind, I have a job waiting for me after graduation in the field I was trained in at college." In today's tight economy a guaranteed job is an important consideration for any career-minded person.

If a student, after his military obligation is completed, decides on a civilian career, his managerial and leadership skills learned through Army ROTC give him a competitive advantage over his peers. An ROTC graduate can also pursue a part-time military career in the Army Reserve or National Guard, if he desires.

To be eligible for one of the Army's ROTC scholarships, the student must be 17 years old by October 1 of the year the scholarship is effective, be able to complete all the requirements for a commission and a college degree and be under 25 years of age on June 30th of the year of graduation, meet certain physical and character standards, and agree to serve either in the regular Army or one of its reserve components.

Four-year scholarship winners incur a four year obligation in the active Army. Interested high school students should request four-year scholarship application packets prior to December 1, 1974. For more information about these scholarships and for application packets, call or write the Professor of Military Science at the college near you that offers Army ROTC. Or write Army ROTC, P. O. Veterans questionnaires deadline set January 1

Over a million persons will receive income tax returns with Veterans pension checks. Veterans must return them by January 15 deadline.

Coker, VA Regional Director, explained that the deadline was set to the annual logjam in the processing of January checks. Pensioners returned the checks near or after the January 15 deadline. Veterans are urged to complete and return the checks.

questionnaires this year because of cost of living increases in their annuities.

According to Coker, thousands of beneficiaries missed the former January 15 deadline over the years. Prompt return of questionnaires by the new January 1 deadline will avoid delays in next year's checks, Coker said, stressing that a special effort is needed this year by the late filers to comply with the new deadline.
