Cochran County Fair Underway Today

TWO CROWNS WERE NEEDED for the Morton High School Homecoming Queen contest here Friday. After two days of voting, candidates Gail Lasseter and Diana Kuehler were still polling the same number of votes, so they were both awarded a crown. The two queens, center, are flanked by their court consisting of, left to right, Susan Baker, Linda Adams and Thelma Williams. The two queens reigned over the Homecoming football contest with the Frenship Tigers and evidently brought the Indians good luck, as they rolled to a 22-14 victory for the glory of their on-looking Ex-es.

New Location, New Outlook

If you look closely you may be able to see some "New Horizons" in Morton Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The reason for these bright prospects is that is the theme the Cochran County Fair officials have chosen to characterize this year's event which runs during those days.

The fair has changed locations and appears to be taking on new life and momentum, if the much more elaborate preparations and scope of the planning are any indication. The location this year—and presumably for years to come, will be the old Morton skating rink building on Northwest First Street and the grounds adjacent to the building. The county commissioners court recently purchased the building and have leased it to the fair association for the annual fair and for any other events they wish to hold there. County, city and volunteer help have combined to repair and renovate the structure in preparation for the fair. The work has included application of three coats of paint to the outside of the building.

A carnival will be located on the fairgrounds for all three days of the fair.

Hours of operation of the fair have been announced as 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. each day. A day-by-day schedule of events is as follows:

Thursday, October 2:
5 p.m.—Parade of contestants for the Miss Cochran County contest.

6 p.m.—An "Appliance Parade" presented by county extension agent Gail Gladden. This will be an educational program on the selection, care and use of various small and large appliances. County 4-H

SARA MCCLUNG, right, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClung of Morton, happily receives her certificate and prize for winning third place in the Affiliated Foods coloring contest recently completed in a four state region by Thriftway food stores. Bill Smart, Manager of Doss Thriftway Supermarket in Morton, made the presentation of the 10-speed bicycle and certificate to Sara. Doss Thriftway sponsored her in the contest, which attracted over 9,000 entries in the four state area.

Clayton Speaks In County On Constitutional Revisions

Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton visited Morton and Whiteface last week to explain and clarify the proposed revisions to the state constitution that will be up for approval by the people at the polls on November 4.

In a late afternoon meeting in a well-attended meeting in the county court room, Clayton emphasized the importance of all state citizens to familiarize themselves with the constitutional proposals and make their preferences known at the polls.

Clayton stated while running for the speakership that if he were elected he would appoint a committee to prepare and present to the people an article-by-article proposal for revision of the present constitution, thus following up the failure of the constitutional convention to submit a new state charter to the people. "Now voters will have the last say whether or not Texas will have a new constitution," he said. "When Texans go to the polls, the right answers will come out if they are informed," he added.

Indians Cage Tigers 22-14

It could have been the fact that Big Sis or both or all four were among the Ex-students in the stands at the Homecoming game Friday night that made the Indians battle the dreaded Tigers so fiercely.

Whatever it was, there were a great many of those Ex-es and Indian fans in general who bore a lasting feeling of pride from the stadium Friday night, following the caging of the Tiger to the tune of a 22-14 victory.

The Indians did not get off to an auspicious start, however, as disaster struck only seconds into the game when David Ramby fumbled the kickoff and Frenship recovered on the Morton 21. Five plays later the Tigers rammed it over from the four and after a successful conversion they led 7-0 with 10:10 left in the first quarter.

After seasawing for the better part of the first stanza, Morton

4-H Week To Be

Observed Oct. 5-11

4-H boys and girls throughout Texas and the nation will join in a salute to America's Bicentennial celebration during National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-11.

The annual observance, with this year's theme of "4-H—Spirit of Tomorrow," is designed to accent the history, goals and goals of the 4-H program, points out Dr. Don Palmer, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Many county groups are planning special events, service projects and recruitment drives during National 4-H Week," notes Palmer. "It's a special time when 4-H is recognized for its contributions to the growth and development of youth."

The 4-H program is active in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands as well as more than 80 countries. It is

UP AND OVER--Larry Moore, an outstanding workhorse for the Indians throughout the game Friday night, slams over for the first of Morton's scores as the Tribe took the "friendliness" out of Frenship and went on to a welcome win for their Ex-es on Homecoming night. Moore scored another touchdown to contribute mightily to the Tribe's 22-14 victory.

Historians Give Newspapers High Grades For Part In Our Revolution

Historians have long recognized the role and importance of the newspaper in American history. Without doubt the American Revolution would have been a different affair had it not been for the courageous (or perhaps hardy) editors who risked everything to promote independence.

During 1775 the first daily newspaper began publication in Philadelphia. Known as the Pennsylvania Evening Post, it was published by Benjamin Towne. It continued its daily schedule until 1784.

By 1775 there were 37 newspapers in the English colonies. According to one survey, the political division was 23 patriot, 7 loyalist, and 7 neutral. The average weekly circulation of all papers in 1775 was 3,500.

Even though most papers took courageous positions, there were always some who were not willing to do so. For example, the "New York Weekly Mercury" published two editions during the Revolution—loyalist in New York City and patriot in Newark, New Jersey. Of course, one can also say that the editor was a realist since New York remained in British control for a large portion of the war.

Obviously with such a large number of papers available and an eager reading public, there had to be much interest in public affairs. The role of the newspaper is unquestioned as a catalyst of American thought in the Revolutionary period. Other evidence of the importance of newspapers will be forthcoming.

In Spanish Texas a major contrast was the absence of a vigorous press. Spain had tried to establish civilization on the Texas frontier, but the dedication had been questionable. Texas became an issue when there was a foreign threat to it. Therefore, most of Spain's attention here was on New Mexico.

The result was that not much of a civilization had developed in Texas. Moreover, because the governmental system of Spain was more closed and autocratic, the government did not encourage the growth of newspapers.

Therefore, the small population of Texas remained scattered and uninformed of events near and far away. While the English colonies were moving toward greater progress, the Spanish Southwest stagnated. Donald W. Whisenhunt—history professor—Eastern New Mexico University.

the record" copy. It is, however, Cochran county story, and as such obligates the Tribune to print it.)

For hundreds of years reports of unidentified flying objects (UFOs) have been recorded. Many theories have floated around in the minds of man as to what the objects are and what purpose they serve.

Recently theories have been linked to UFO sightings with cattle mutilations. This theory has been accepted by many people in various parts of the country.

A law enforcement officer in Cochran County supports the theory that there is a definite link between the sightings of UFOs on the western edge of Cochran County and some mutilated cattle he has examined in the same locality.

This lawman said he has seen many as twenty UFOs in his area since March of this year, and one on the ground. He described what he saw as a bright light over in a pasture. He said he got within a mile of the object, it was sitting there changing colors. On closer observation at a nearer distance he said it was saucer shape with a dome top. He said it was off-white and a bright blue glowing light flashed from the object that lit up the whole sky.

He said, "It was the most beautiful thing I ever saw in my life. I watched it for about fifteen to twenty minutes and it lifted up about fifty feet or so from the ground and hovered for a few minutes. Underneath was an opening with a bright light coming out onto the ground. As it hovered the four legs on which it had been resting, folded up inside the opening and the opening closed together as slick as a table top. The object did not make a sound, and I did not see any one or anything come from the craft."

The lawman said that he as well as five other people, have seen UFOs on the same night. He said he had a theory linking the UFOs with the cattle mutilations, contrary to the satanist cult thoughts which so many people in their minds.

In this article, here are some of the highlights:

There is no change in articles 1 and 2 concerning separation of powers. There are a total of 11 articles to be decided on individually, and the other 9 contain changes. Some of the provisions of the proposed revision take effect at specified dates after Sept. 1, and passage could be a mere formality. Others carry far-sweeping powers and totally new concepts for Texans.

Article III deals with the legislative setup, and, except for preliminary organization sessions, if effective on Jan. 1, 1976. It calls for a 9-member commission to evaluate and submit legislative maximum salary compensation and allowances. Before salaries become effective, legislators would have to stand re-election.

This article allows single-member districts, provides for regular annual sessions, and veto sessions of 15 days upon petition of three-fifths of the members.

"At the present time regular session are limited to 140 days every two years," Speaker Clayton said. "This would provide another 90 days in even years. Texas is now big business with 12 million people and a $6 billion a year budget. Making accurate projections two and one-half years in advance is impossible as fast as the economy escalates. The result is that the same agencies pad many times, and spend that money left in reserve as the time allotment runs out. We've had an increase of 157 percent the last 10 years. I think the people will want a board of directors running this $6 billion budget."

Article IV allows calling legislators back into session to override a gubernatorial veto. "There hasn't been one in the last 30 years," Clayton said, "but this is a safety valve in case a governor went berserk and vetoed all the bills." In odd years, members could meet a week or week in half before inauguration to get ready for the legislature to convene and start work immediately on the some 3,500 bills which are handled in 40 days.

Article V expedites courts and balances case loads.

Article VI allows the legislature to make property ownership a requirement before persons can vote on bonds. "This is the way it used to be," Clayton said, "with the one footing the bill having the say on the bonds. This proposal also allows convicted felons who have paid their debt to society to get their voting rights back without having to make formal application as is required now."

Article VII concerns education, calling for equal education opportunity but allowing local districts to offer enrichment programs. New proposals permits the legislature to change the 10 cent higher education tax by law within the 10 cent maximum, and to allocate a portion to state vocational and technical institutes. It increases the amount of bonds issued from 20 percent of the fund to 30 percent.

Clayton termed Article VIII or the finance bill as the "toughy." It calls for uniform appraisal of property at market value with all property assessed the same way.

recovered a Frenship bobble and mounted a sustained drive, with Larry Moore carrying on five and Tino Sabala on two tries to the one yard line where Moore carried it to paydirt with 1:04 left in the first quarter. The point after pass from Sabala to Jimmy Green was no good and the score stood at 7-6 Tigers.

Moore once again penetrated the goal line from the three with 1:03 gone in the second quarter and the Sabala to Green PAT pass was good, making the score 14-7 Indians.

With 6:46 remaining before intermission, Sabala made one of his lightning-like sprints for 22 yards for Morton's final touchdown of the evening, and the two-point conversion on a pass from Rusty Lamar to Robbie Gattis brought the Tribe's final total to 22 points.

With 47 seconds to go in the third quarter, Frenship struck from the one and converted on a kick to close out their scoring at 14 points.

The vital statistics were all in favor of the Indians who out-gained the Tigers in almost every department:

First downs--Morton 17, Frenship 13.
Rushing yardage--Morton 272, Frenship 98.
Passing yardage--Morton 14, Frenship 15.

Passing--Morton completed 3 of 9, Frenship 1 of 4.

Fumbles lost--Morton 3, Frenship 3.

Punting--Morton 3 for 29.6 ave., Frenship 3 for 27.3 ave.

Penalties--Morton 45, Frenship 65.

A great all-around effort on the part of the entire team still cannot overshadow the truly outstanding performances of Sabala and Moore. Sabala picked up 135 yards on 16 carries for an 8.4 average, scored from 22 yards out and threw two conversion passes for another four points. On defense he made at least a 60 yard cross-field run to prevent an almost certain Tiger touchdown.

Moore, who has been used sparingly in the past, probably doesn't have to worry about keeping the benchwarm after his game performance. He gained 93 yards on 16 carries for a 5.8 average and scored twice. He proved he can make the yardage up the middle where it is the toughest.

Coach Winters once again cited Arnold Bautista for his outstanding play on defense. Larry Moore made the select list for his offensive performance and Monte Hodge was named outstanding on the specialty team.

administered by the Cooperative Extension Service, and Extension professionals play an active role in recruiting, training and assisting volunteer leaders who help with local 4-H activities.

According to Stormer, some 7.2 million youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are currently enrolled in 4-H, with more than 215,000 of these in Texas. More than 21,000 volunteer adult and youth leaders assist with local 4-H programs in the state.

"Although the majority of 4-H members still live on farms and in rural communities, 24 per cent now come from larger urban and suburban areas," notes the 4-H leader. "Well over half the Texas 4-Hers live on farms or in towns of under 10,000 population."

Texas 4-Hers participate in more than 60 educational project areas, with the most popular being food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, and horses and ponies.

"Since its beginning around the turn of the century, 4-H has offered practical learning and citizenship experiences to millions of young people," Stormer points out.

Know Your Nursing Home:

R. L. Waller

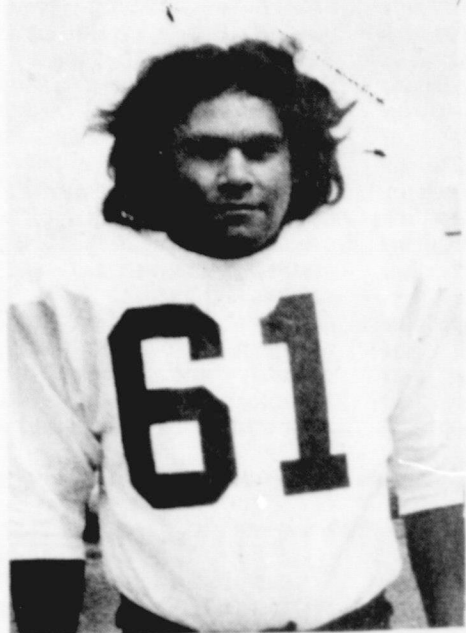

In this our country's bi-centennial year, it is fitting that we honor a resident of Roberts Memorial Nursing Home of Morton who has been around these parts for over seven decades. We are all deeply indebted to oldsters like him who had the will, the tenacity, and the ability to survive the wild west and prepare it for our generation. Things were hard, conveniences were unheard of, but never-the-less they did survive and we are glad for this opportunity to show our appreciation. Reubier Leland Waller, born and reared in Erath County, Texas; first came to this area from Indian Territory as a teen-ager. He found work as a cowboy and lived at the old Whiteface Camp. After returning to Indian Territory for a short while, Mr. Waller came back to the eastern edge of New Mexico and staked a claim on land near what is now known as the Lingo Community. Later he married Iva Branum King and to this union was born a son and a daughter. Mrs. Waller passed away in 1959. "Rube" Waller has an achievement never attainable by most people--that of living on the same place for almost 70 years. His hobby was to draw pictures of horses and other animals. Mr. Waller has four grandchildren and six great grandchildren. We invite each of our readers to come by Roberts Memorial Nursing Home for a chat with this most interesting nonagenarian.

Jaclyn Claye

has her say

Jaclyn Claye has her say...

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: My husband, who also reads your column, says that you and Ann Landers and Dear Abby must make up those letters for your column because they are just too "kinky" to be believed. He says they have to be phonies. Would you please comment? Signed, MARGARET K.

DEAR MARGARET K: You can tell hubby that the "kinkiest" letters I receive are never printed simply because they would never be believed; he's been reading the easy stuff. If you want to hear "kinky": I recently received a letter for which I gave a personal reply, but it did not appear in print in this column because it was so truly weird that it bent the human mind. It was from a lady who had been held captive on a farm, by her husband, for the past sixteen years! In all those sixteen years her husband refused to buy her any shoes since she could not then walk to the nearest town, some twenty miles away, and escape. In winter, she had to bind her feet in pig feed bags to keep them from freezing. She had not been given even ten cents in spending money in all those years and had never been off the property. The letter she sent me had no postage affixed; she had no stamps. The letter was written in pencil on wrapping paper and the envelope was hand made. She told me she had no telephone, no radio or any communication with any other living being in all those years. Her husband had a television set but would remove one of the tubes before leaving to work the fields.

She has lived a human hell for all these years and how she managed to avoid suicide was more than I could understand. Her letter did not appear in this column because it was simply too tragic. So, you can tell your husband he's been reading the easy stuff; and the writer who said that "life is stranger than fiction" said a mouthful. Some of the letters I get are really strange and it very often bothers me that the best I can do is to offer a word of consolation. At times, I really feel helpless.

But, then, there are other letters I receive, that are filled with the laughter and the joys of human life and this column again becomes the most enjoyable kind of work I can do. There are times when I sit at this typewriter and laugh hysterically. And then, when I'm through laughing, I earnestly begin to try to formulate a sincere response.

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: I'm writing this letter as some kind of protection for my mother and for other older ladies who might be involved in the same hobby. About three years ago, Daddy died and all of us suggested that Momma take up some kind of hobby to fill in some of those vacant hours. So, she did; she took to buying and selling antiques and she has done quite well for herself. She has even made some money with her new hobby and recently she showed a $300.00 profit on an old Italian armoire. The trouble with her success is that it has encouraged her to pay more and more for the items she buys, many of which cannot be authenticated. For example: she recently paid almost $400.00 for what is supposed to be a pair of Napoleon's socks. Honestly Jaclyn, they are the ugliest pair of socks I have ever seen and she has them glass-encased, sitting on her mantel. I am absolutely certain that she has been badly taken on this newest purchase and I'm sure that she has simply thrown $400.00 away. I want this letter to be a warning to others who collect antiques. My advice is to know your dealer because there are a lot of charlatans in the trade. Signed, CAUTIOUS COLLECTOR.

DEAR C.C.: Yours is good advice, but it would appear to me that there should certainly be a way to date those socks. They may or may not have covered Napoleon's footies, but the era in which they were made should be easy enough to establish.

IS THE CHURCH PART OF YOUR LIFE?

Many of us grow up with pictures of cactuses crossing the sands of the Sahara. Those in the West know that the desert has many faces. One of our common mistakes in life is to assume that trees make a forest, flowers a garden, clothes a man—that appearances promise reality. One of the invaluable influences of Christianity upon society has been its distinction between the facade and the truth. Christ taught that men must be known by their faith. Lack of spiritual concern is the surest way to make the world a desert of trees—a society of people without a sense of responsibility. Wastelands cry out for reclamation. The Church Christ founded is reclaiming our society for Him. You need His Message.

Vega

Built to take it. Vega for 1976: An extensive anti-corrosion program. New hydraulic valve lifters, for quieter engine performance. A new torque-arm rear suspension. And Vega offers a tough Dura-Built 140-cu.-in. 4-cyl. engine guarantee.

includes the new value of the thrifty Impala S—Chevrolet's lowest priced full-size car.

Nova/Concours

America's favorite compact car. Our basic compact, '76 Nova, makes even more sense than the 3 million Novas that preceded it. And Concours, the brand-new model featured here, is our highly practical approach to compact luxury.

Chevelle

Enough car for practically anything. It offers room for six at a sensible price. This year, more than ever, its deft blending of mid-size economies, plus room for the average family, makes Chevelle a size whose time has come.
