Bandits Strike Allsup's Monday

The Floyd County Sheriff's Department late this week continued to investigate the Monday morning holdup at Allsup's Convenience Store, 102 E. Houston St.

Two easy-money-boys held the store's manager and assistant manager at knifepoint at approximately 11 a.m. Monday and made off with the cash. Unconfirmed reports put the loot at more than $500.

Ophelia Arellano, the assistant manager, received a cut on her upper lip from one of the assailants when she tried to prevent him from coming behind the counter, according to manager Elaine Nelson.

"One of the men came in first and asked to use the restroom," Mrs. Nelson said Monday. "We told him there was no public restroom and he left. A minute later he came back with another man and walked behind the counter where I was getting the deposit and change fund."

"One man grabbed the money," Mrs. Nelson related and the other pulled a knife and said "This is a robbery. Don't move and you won't get hurt."

The manager said Mrs. Arellano's wound was more of a reflex action than any deliberate attempt to harm the two women.

"Ophelia grabbed the one coming behind the counter with the knife," she said. When the man made a menacing gesture with the weapon, the assistant manager apparently leaned forward into the path of the blade. She received five stitches in her lip at Caprock Hospital.

Mrs. Nelson described the knife as an ordinary kitchen butcher knife.

The two men then ran out the door and across the street, ducking into an alley. Mrs. Nelson followed but found that one tire on each of the employees' cars had been slashed to delay pursuit.

When the Sheriff's Department received the call for help from the store, they found that one patrol car parked outside the courthouse had similar damage. Sheriff Fred Cardinal speculated that the same men punctured the patrol car tire in preparation for the assault on the store.

As Mrs. Nelson tried to track the bandits, Les Hair, an inventory specialist from the Allsup's main offices, happened to arrive. He and Mrs. Nelson drove around the area trying to spot the men, but with no success.

The store manager traveled to Plainview Monday afternoon to describe the robbers for a police artist to make a composite sketch.

Sheriff Cardinal would not discuss the investigation on the record, but admitted that the department did have a few leads. He said his department would actively pursue the case until they solved it.

The suspects were described as being between 15 and 20 years old and of Hispanic descent. One wore a white T-shirt, blue jeans and a red bandana around his forehead.

The other man wore brown pants and a brown shirt. Both had collar-length hair and were described as being "clean and neat."

"The biggest thing I noticed about them was the knife," Mrs. Nelson remembered.

Monday's incident reportedly was the first time Allsup's in Floydada had ever been robbed.

The two men who Monday punctured a tire on a Sheriff's Dept. car parked at the courthouse, might follow their escape.

To further confuse the situation, they apparently slashed a tire on a Sheriff's Dept. car parked at the courthouse. [Staff Photo]

Smith Asks Clements Declare County Crop Disaster Area

More than 75 percent of the crops in Floyd County would be ruined by bad weather and crop insurance Judge Choise Smith asked Gov. Bill Clements to declare Floyd County a crop disaster area.

Smith said that once the governor made the disaster declaration, area farmers would have plenty of time to fill out the applications for loans to plant their next season's crop.

had to be replanted two or three times, he said. In the stands that remained after thunder and hail storms ravaged the area the last two months, Smith told Gov. Clements that crops were thinned and maturity was delayed three to four weeks.

"At this point," the judge wrote, "it is too late to plant any other crop." In late June, a severe thunderstorm damaged or destroyed approximately 25,000 acres of cotton and soybeans. On July 30, a severe hail and windstorm practically wiped out an additional 15,000 acres.

Judge Smith said that once the governor made the disaster declaration, area farmers would have plenty of time to fill out the applications for loans to plant their next season's crop.

Texas Receives $3 Million-plus Energy Grants

Grants totaling $3,270,200 have been awarded the State of Texas Governor's Office of Energy Resources for continuation of implementation of the State-wide Energy Conservation Plan, it was announced by G. Dan Rambo, Dallas, Regional Representative of the U.S. Department of Energy.

The grants will be used to continue the funding of program measures including: thermal and lighting efficiency standards, vanpool-carpool programs, energy efficiency in government purchasing, energy programs for public schools, conservation programs for the residential sector, conservation programs for the commercial sector, conservation programs for the industrial sector, agricultural programs, local energy conservation programs.

Rambo said additional information Counties involved are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hansford, Hartley, Hockley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Moore, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Sherman, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

Fire Damages South Plains Home

Three units of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department rushed to South Plains Sunday evening to battle a house fire.

The blaze did moderate damage to a house owned by Leighton Teeple, according to department spokesman Jimmy Owens.

A room occupied by a farmhand, a closet and a hallway were damaged, Owens said. There was no immediate information on the fire's origin and no one was injured.

Owens said eight men responded to the alarm. They were out approximately two hours before returning to the station. Sunday's fire was the first reported in Floyd County during August.

IT MAY BE HOTTER INSIDE — U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm Wednesday to speak to Rotarian Jimmy Willson before addressing the assembled Rotary Club of Floydada.

The Congressman blasted Federal spending and the energy crisis during his comments to the club and guests. [Staff Photo]

Stenholm Supports Wheat Sales To Soviets, Deplores Lack Of Loan Program

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm this week announced support of Department of Agriculture plans to increase allowable sales of wheat to the Soviet Union but sharply criticized the department's lack of a loan program to help the farmer spread his risks.

"Now is the time to sell a portion of our excellent wheat crop, particularly since the world wants our grain," Stenholm said.

"However, I still believe that we could have pushed for a price that is nearer to parity, instead of the present levels."

The congressman went on to criticize the USDA call for all-out production of wheat while not having an adequate loan program.

"I can still recall the 1974-75 period when Sec. Butz asked the American farmers to become the world's bread basket by producing fence-to-fence, and when the export markets did not develop sufficiently to absorb the increased production, we saw our domestic markets wrecked and many good farmers forced out of business."

"It has taken over four years for our markets to recover and I fear this (latest) action may be just as detrimental to the American farmer."

In response to the difficulty in obtaining needed fuel for production and the problems in shipping this year's crop, Stenholm said he asked the Ag secretary to increase loan levels so all the risks of overproduction would not be placed on the farmer.

"I feel it is shortsighted to ask the farmer to produce from fence to fence, merely to place some theoretical downward pressure on domestic food prices. The facts are that wheat costs the baker only about 5 cents out of every loaf and bread prices will not go down even though wheat prices may drop substantially," he continued.

The program announced by USDA provide that wheat producers may be eligible for 1980 wheat program benefits without setting aside or diverting acreage. The loan for 1980 will be at $2.50 a bushel, compared with $2.35 over the past two years, while the target price is expected to be around $3.07, compared to $3.40 in 1979.

Rep. Stenholm Meets Floydada Rotarians

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm drew a friendly reception from Floydada Rotarians as he addressed the Wednesday lunch meeting of that group in the Massie Activity Center.

Opening his remarks by commenting on his first seven months in office representing the 17th Congressional District, Stenholm noted that the job was much bigger than he ever imagined as a private citizen or as a candidate.

He said that America today was beset by problems, just as it had been for its 200 year history, but those problems would be solved the same way they had been solved in the past — peacefully, and with due process of the law.

Stenholm put the credit for the stability of the American political process with the democratic system. He pointed to revolutions around the world as a major method of changing governments "with a bullet."

Warming to his audience, Stenholm told the Rotarians that the U.S. government had become so large that no one was any longer in control.

Everyone, he said, wanted to cut government spending to help the economy, unless cuts came in programs for their districts. And that, he said, was the root cause of inflation. There are many good programs that would help individual areas but there were too many to finance, he said.

There is currently a big movement in Congress to cut taxes, Stenholm said, but that was just so much pre-election-year talk. To cut taxes, the Congressman warned his listeners, you have to also cut spending.

Rep. Stenholm said he opposed the windfall profits tax on oil and natural gas producers.

"There's going to be $142 billion under the President's program coming out of the market, from you, to create another tremendous bureaucracy for energy," he said. And with all that money, Congress "can't create a single barrel of oil or a cubic foot of natural gas in Washington."

The Carter energy program, Stenholm said, created more problems than it could solve. "We need to leave that money in the hands of the oil companies so they can use it to produce more fuel," he said.

Synthetic fuel programs hold some promise, he said, but they were far in the future and had environmental impacts that, as yet, we know nothing about. As an alternative fuel source, the Congressman suggested nuclear power.

"We must have nuclear power in the future if we're going to have power at all," he said. "If there's no nuclear program, by 1985 one out of five American families will be without power."

Stenholm acknowledged the inherent danger of the nukes but said there was nothing on the horizon to replace them. As far as waste, he said, it was a question of a trainload of synthetic waste or a thimbleful of nuclear waste.

While the current problems stem from the OPEC embargo of 1973, Stenholm said the day would come when the American people would look back and thank the oil cartel for "waking us up to the problem."

Shifting to a local perspective, Rep. Stenholm said farmers would soon come to the same conclusion as the OPEC nations, mainly that you can get a high price for what everyone needs.

Before answering questions from the Rotarians, Stenholm predicted some surprises, mostly for elected representatives, in the upcoming general election.

Responding to a question about controlling the world price of food as OPEC controls the price of oil, Stenholm assured his listeners that U.S. farmers set the standard for world production. However, he noted, food as a weapon against the oil exporters would not work because they don't buy much of our grain.

Allowing the marketplace to determine production and price, he added, would not cause a significant rise in the cost of food here at home.

When asked about inflation rate, Stenholm said that, sadly, he predicted no near reduction of the rise in prices for everything we use.

"We had hoped to hold the Federal deficit at $22 billion this year," he said, "but Congress has already overspent that by $5 billion." He said that one of the main causes of inflation was open-ended programs, like food stamps, that came into play automatically when unemployment rose.

"I voted against the $1 billion food stamp addition," he said, "even though it would have ended the program for one month. But it would have let us get the system in order."

"But, being the benevolent Congress we are," he added drily, "we decided to bail everybody out."

In his closing remarks, the Congressman agreed with his audience that the nation was suffering from a crisis of confidence.

"We have nothing to believe in, no one to follow," commented one Rotarian. "It's (national leadership) like a puff of smoke."

Before leaving the Massie Center for another appearance at the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Rep. Stenholm admitted that Congress had done very little to ensure that farmers would continue to receive an adequate supply of fuel to operate their machinery.

He also supported mandatory registration of young men for possible draft, but said he opposed any call-up of men for military service as long as the volunteer services could function effectively. Ending on a pessimistic note, he said that he forecast no reversal of the deterioration of the Army's effectiveness.

'Friends' Looking For A Home

The "Friends of the Library" organization is looking at possibilities for making county library services more accessible to the public. A street level location is the primary need, according to Janis Lloyd, president of the "Friends."

The Lighthouse Electric building is being considered as one possible location. County Judge Choise Smith reported that Mr. Bert Massey has offered to give the county two lots if they will build a library on the lots in the foreseeable future.

Hampered by a lack of funds, the library Friends are making efforts to determine the solution that will benefit the most people and be financially possible at the same time. Memorial gifts are being accepted toward a building fund.

At one time revenue sharing money was set aside for this purpose, but funding the jail remodeling project and other items took priority with the County Commissioners Court.

County Announces Revenue Sharing Meet

Floyd County residents are invited to attend a public hearing at 3:00 P.M. on August 13, 1979 in the county courtroom to give oral and written suggestions on how the General Revenue Sharing Funds of Floyd County will be spent. The county will receive an estimated $106,474.00 in Revenue Sharing Funds from the U.S. Treasury from Oct 1, 1979 through Sept 30, 1980.

Frisbee-throwing Contest Breaks Ice Between Crow Indians And Baptists

A free-for-all frisbee throwing contest quickly attracted a crowd of youngsters on the Crow Indian Reservation is the report of the youth group from the First Baptist Church. Fifteen Floydada youth and eight adults spent the past week in the Billings, Montana area conducting a Bible school on the Crow Indian Reservation and participating in a Bible study on the Cheyenne Indian Reservation.

They were there at the invitation of Southern Baptist Home Missionary Jack Coward, brother of Daniel Coward, assistant high school coach in Floydada.

Prepared to teach forty youngsters, they report an attendance of seventy.

A fix-up, clean-up crew traveled to Lane Tree, Montana, for one day to work on the largest Indian Baptist Church in that territory.

Before beginning the Bible School, the Floydada group spent Friday night and Saturday in Yellowstone National Park. They returned to Floydada today.

Making the trip were Kamala Ford, Karen Lloyd, Mary Lloyd, Terri Lloyd, Teresa Weaver, Kelly Ward, Karen Pruitt, Kay Lynn Rainer, Lisa Anderson, Donna McClendon, Susan Hendrix, Dwayne Hightower, Dewayne Powell, Brett Turner, Bryant Higginbotham, David Main and Wesley Day.

Adults accompanying the group were Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ford, Mrs. Melvin Lloyd and Mrs. Claude Weathersbee.

Gross Earnings Down From May

WASHINGTON — Real gross average weekly earnings decreased 0.8 percent from May to June after allowance for the usual seasonal variation, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. The preliminary figures cover full-time and part-time workers on production or nonsupervisory jobs in the private nonfarm sector of the American economy.

A 0.5 percent increase in average hourly earnings was offset by a 0.3 percent decrease in average weekly hours and by 1.0 percent increase in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W).

Over the year, real spendable earnings were down 3.4 percent. An 8.1 percent increase in average hourly earnings was offset by a 0.8 percent decrease in average weekly hours and by a 11.1 percent increase in the CPI-W. (Before adjustment for the CPI-W and seasonal change, average weekly earnings were $219.35 in June compared with $204.53 a year earlier.)

Real spendable earnings — average weekly earnings reduced by social security and Federal income taxes applicable to a married worker with three dependents who earned the average amount and then deflated by the CPI-W—decreased 0.8 percent from the May level, seasonally adjusted.

Over the year, real spendable earnings were down 3.5 percent. Although tax liabilities for a given earnings level were reduced in January 1979 by The Revenue Act of 1978, the increase in average weekly earnings (7.2 percent from June to June) resulted in the application of a higher average tax rate.

The Hourly Earnings Index in dollars of constant purchasing power decreased 0.6 percent from May to June. Compared with a year ago, the index was down 3.1 percent. The index excludes the effects of overtime in manufacturing and of interindustry shifts, such as the shift of workers between high-wage and low-wage industries.

Underwater Rescue Units Drill At Lake Mackenzie

Firemen and rescue unit volunteers from Tulia and Silvertown took part in a practice drill at Lake Mackenzie early this week. They were assisted in the simulated rescue of a drowning victim by members of a scuba diving class from Amarillo.

Wilton Whitehead of Tulia was in charge of the program, and Billy Sims of Amarillo, a certified scuba diving instructor and rescue expert, gave the Tulia and Silvertown rescue unit instructions on how to go about recovering the body of a drowning victim.

Sims emphasized the importance of pin-pointing the spot where a person goes down in a lake, and how the rescue unit can expect eye-witness accounts to vary as to what happened. Speed is of great importance if the life of the victim is to be saved, and for this reason accuracy as to location is vital. Also emphasized was the importance of getting a breath into the victim as quickly as possible, and Sims added, this can be done while he is still in the water.

All members of the rescue unit are trained in first aid, and most hold certification as Emergency Medical Technicians or Emergency Care Attendants. Two of the Silvertown group hold Paramedic certification.

In addition to placing buoys on the surface, a line was placed on the bottom of the lake between the buoys, and observers took part in trying to pinpoint a location in the water and exactly replace a buoy which represented the spot where a person might have gone down. The exercise took place in about 40 feet of water in Cactus Cove. The water at the bottom, Sims said, was approximately 55 degrees.

Sims instructed those present in ways they can help the scuba divers ready themselves for the descent into the water, and emphasized that at the scene of an emergency the divers do not need to be concerned with anything but locating the victim. "Others can be trained to help prepare their equipment so the divers' minds can be free of all other details. I would not be honest if I said that even the most experienced divers aren't afraid while they are searching for a body. Any brush with a tree, fish or any other object is extremely scary, and observers at the surface can tell when these things happen because the diver suddenly will exhale and a large number of bubbles will quickly surface," Sims said.

Also of vital importance is exercising care in handling the divers' air tanks.

The rescue team also practiced placing a recovered victim on a backboard in the water and loading him into a boat. It was also demonstrated how a person can bring a larger person than himself into a boat using a bounce technique.

Divers assisting Billy Sims in the demonstration were members of his current class, Gilbert G. Ramirez of Canyon, Derrel Martin of Tulia, Aubrey Smith and David Cook, both of Amarillo.

Others taking part in the exercise were Game Warden Ronnie Ainsworth; Alan Parsons, Milton Simon, Floyd Flow, Rod Howard, Foy Campbell, Lewis Bice, Wayne Nevins, Kenny Hughes, James Arnold and Ken Mil-sap, all of Tulia; Anthony Kingery, W.J. Copeland, Bruce Tiffin, Gary Younger, Stan Fogerson, Lynn Frizzell, Jerry Patton, Emmett Tomlin, Charles Sarchet, John McCammon, Jay Towe, Mitchell Roehr, Gary Martin and Neil Taylor, all of Silvertown.

Alton Riddell and Calvin Shelton cooked hamburgers for the group at noon.

Gilbert Rodriguez of Canyon assists his scuba diving instructor, Billy Sims of Amarillo, in donning his diving gear during a practice drill conducted by the Silvertown and Tulia rescue unit at Lake Mackenzie Sunday. There was a simulated recovery of a drowning victim in about 40 feet of water at Cactus Cove.

"I had no idea he drank until one day he came home sober."

Texas Pushes Toward No. 1 Spot In Agriculture Production

AUSTIN—Texas is presently the No. 3 farm producer in the nation based on cash receipts, but increases recorded during the first few months of this year will boost the state's chances to achieve the top position, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"It's no secret that Texas wants the No. 1 spot, and we're pushing harder than ever to get it," Brown said. "Compared to last year, increases in farm cash receipts in Texas have outstripped California, the No. 1 state, and exceeded Iowa, which holds the second position."

"My goal as Commissioner has been to help make Texas agriculture No. 1—not only in production but in profits," he commented. "Farming and ranching must remain profitable if our producers are to continue to supply consumers with abundant food and fiber at reasonable prices."

According to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, cash receipts from farm marketings for the first four months of this year were up 28 percent in Texas over the same period in 1978. This is six percent higher than the 22-percent increase recorded for Iowa, and 18 percent above California's. A 136,000-head increase in marketings of fat cattle in Texas was one of the major factors affecting this year's cash receipts.

"For the year at hand, it is very possible that Texas will surpass Iowa, which has held the No. 2 spot for several years," said Brown. "We will probably continue to trail California for now, but we'll be much closer to the top position."

Brown noted that Texas farmers have moved the state past Illinois to capture the No. 3 position, and almost overtook Iowa in 1977. Drought throughout most of the state last year slowed this advance, but improved weather this year, along with expected record yields and increased acreage in several of Texas' major crops, should help this state in its move toward the top.

According to Brown, increased planted acreage and good spring moisture have resulted in predictions of a near-record wheat crop in Texas, and with prices improved from a year earlier, should further boost farm cash receipts.

As presently compiled, Texas farm cash receipts statistics do not include total receipts from forest products. When these receipts are added, they will do much to enhance this state's national ranking.

State Employees Must Pay Defaulted Student Loans

AUSTIN, Tex.—State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday said more than 200 state employees who defaulted on student loans they got in college may not get state paychecks this month.

Bullock said the former students were identified in a computer cross-check of loan defaults against the July payrolls submitted by state agencies.

State law prohibits a person owing the state a debt from receiving state payments of any kind.

Bullock said he's written the former students telling them their paychecks will not be released until the debts have been resolved.

"This is the first time we've worked overdue student loans and it's safe to say it won't be the last," Bullock said.

The 200 employees in question are part of 24,685 named by the Texas College and University Coordinating Board as being in default on education loans worth $39.6 million under the Hinson-Hazelwood program.

The 200 state employees collectively owe the state some $327,000, in amounts ranging from $48.52 to $7,781, according to Bullock.

The payroll checks will be held by the Comptroller's office until Coordinating Board says the debts have been settled.

"Leaving college without paying back state-sponsored education loans is going to be a lot tougher than skipping book fines," Bullock said.

Feds Seeking Comments On Crop Insurance

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is seeking comment on the proposed regulations for insuring cotton in Floyd County. Written data, comment, or views must be submitted by not later than August 17, 1979, to be sure of consideration.

Further information on these regulations may be obtained from the FCIC Office at 1205 Texas Avenue, Room 214, Lubbock, Texas 79401, telephone 806-762-7627.

Library Reading Programs Help Children With Schoolwork

Does it really matter if your child participates in summer reading programs offered by local libraries?

An evaluation of a summer-reading program for third graders in Atlanta, Georgia, in the 1960s showed that 60 percent gained and 10 percent maintained their reading levels. Of those children who did not participate in the program, the majority showed losses in reading ability.

No skill is more essential to a child than reading. Studies show that adults who are "readers" are more likely to be successful in terms of higher education, high income and career satisfaction. Children who learn to enjoy reading for pleasure are more likely to become readers when they grow up.

Parents who encourage young children to read are helping them develop a lifelong reading habit according to information from a recent study at the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore.

It is definitely worth the effort to encourage your child to read during the summer.

Floyd Philosopher Doesn't See Much

Prospect For Windmills As

An Answer To Those OPEC Guys

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River examines a new government windmill this week, from a distance.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper the other day and have been thinking about ever since, the government has built an experimental windmill atop a 4000-foot mountain to see how much electricity it can generate.

What caught my attention was not whether a windmill will work; I firmly believe it will, based on the 2000-year history of the invention, but I can understand Washington's not wanting to go off half-cocked. Furthermore, I believe a windmill will generate electricity if you hook it up to a generator and the wind is blowing. Washington's on sound ground there.

But what did catch my attention was the price. It cost $3,500,000. I suppose the government is the only organization in the world that requires three and a half million dollars to build one windmill. However you've got to remember it may have taken two years or more to complete an expensive environmental impact study on the effects of the blades on honey bees and other horseflies? Have you thought that?

The government estimates that at least 300 families with conditions are ideal. The weather was ideal in months back in 1923.

The energy officials who the windmill said it may be figuring. If it costs $3,500,000 to serve 300 families, that means the windmill would be $11,666. For the families in this country, that's $583,300,000. If we forever confuse you, I pronounced $83 billion.

OPEC must be shaking know I am.

Breakthrough In Conservation Anticipated By Scientists

A whole new approach to increasing plant water use efficiency is about to break ground according to High Plains Underground Water Conservation District spokespersons. Scientists at the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station are betting on the possibility of reducing water use by crops grown on the High Plains by forty percent, while maintaining current yields.

Better still, they hope to increase yields by over fifty percent with the same amount of water by applying chemical plant growth regulators. Drs. Charles Wendt and John Abernathy of the Lubbock Experiment Station will soon be evaluating the use of plant growth regulators to chemically increase water use efficiency on High Plains crops.

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District will participate jointly in this research effort with the TAES by providing approximately half the funds for the twenty-four thousand dollar project.

Herbicides are examples of plant growth regulators which are used by farmers. These chemicals have saved producers on the Texas High Plains millions of dollars in weed control in the past few years. New types of growth regulators have been developed which change the way plants grow and develop.

Scientists have recently discovered a growth regulator called "Went" which increases cotton yields as fifty percent. In an application of a compound 105 increased corn yields to sixty percent.

Laboratory research has shown that PIX reduced cotton yield by 40 percent while using the same amount of water. Known how crops are affected by regulators. Researcher whether the chemicals slow down water use, or root systems so the soil-water. Some of the present appear to stabilize the plant under excess water.

Another unknown is whether these compounds in water efficiency and the climate under which yield increases expected. Wendt and Abernathy looking for the answers. Influences water use on cotton under dryland conditions and the present plant growth regulators water use efficiency of crops the Texas High Plains 1979 field conditions.

Social Security Report

Virginia DeWitt
Social Security Representative

I hired a gardener to do some landscaping and general gardening around my house this spring. I understand that I'm supposed to pay social security taxes on his wages and file a report with IRS. When should I do this?

If you pay a gardener or other household worker $50 or more in cash wages in a calendar quarter, you must deduct social security taxes from the wages and pay an equal amount as the employer. Send the taxes and a report of the wages to the Internal Revenue Service before the end of the month after the calendar quarter—before July 31 for the second quarter of 1979. The report, form 942 [Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees], is available from local IRS offices.

For Further information regarding Social Security benefits please contact the Social Security office, 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas. You may call free of charge by dialing operator and asking for Enterprise 8-4132. A telephone call to the Plainview office may save you time and a trip.

Weddings

MRS. STEPHEN RICHARD BEVERLY

Bekki McCormick, Beverly Married In Dumas

Bekki Nann McCormick and Stephen Richard Beverly were married Saturday August 4 in the First United Methodist Church of Dumas. Reverend Fay Brown officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry McCormick of Dumas and the groom is of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Beverly of McKinney. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. McCormick and the late Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Henderson. Karen Claire McCormick of Amarillo was maid of honor; and Mikki Beverly of Weatherford, Oklahoma, and Christine Beverly of Dallas were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was Jennifer Lynn Pitts.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of ivory satin designed with a Victorian neckline encircled with re-embroidered French alencon lace and seed pearls. The skirt fell to floor length and was swept into back fullness, cascading into a chapel length train. She wore an ivory bridal illusion veil and carried silk English ivy and ivory lover's knots placed on a pearl covered Bible. The Bible was carried by her mother in her wedding.

For "something old" the bride wore her paternal great-grandmother's wedding band. Something new was pearl earrings; something borrowed, a sixpence; something blue, a lace garter. She also carried a handkerchief belonging to the groom's grandmother.

Best man for the occasion was Marshal Olen Park of Irving. Ronnie Dale McCormick and Larry Craig McCormick of Dumas were groomsmen. Ushers were Joseph Otis Edwards of Seminole, Oklahoma, and Danny Mike Woodall of Knox City.

Gladioli, yellow spider mums and babies breath provided a gala setting as music was presented by a father-daughter duet, Harold and Cherise Brothers. They sang "The Lord's Prayer," "You Needed Me" and "The Wedding Song" were sung by Patricia Spears.

Following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in their home.

The bride is a student in the School of Pharmacy, Southwestern State University, Oklahoma, and is a member of Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, Alpha Phi Sigma and Phi Delta Chi Little Sisters. The groom is also a student in the School of Pharmacy, Southwestern State, and is a member of Phi Delta Chi Pharmacy Fraternity.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will live in Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Friendship Social Club Enjoys Picnic Supper

The Friendship Social Club met in the home of Jewell Price Friday night, August 3 for a picnic supper on the patio. The group enjoyed sandwiches, party chips, cantaloupes, salads, and cake and ice cream for dessert.

Elvira Stewart, president, and Francis Graves, vice president, presided over the meeting. Francis Graves opened the club with prayer.

Those reported ill were Foy Gooch and Jonita Gilbert, daughter of Artie Webb, was to have surgery. Elvira Stewart, Francis Graves, Lillie Savage, Lockney, and Jewell Price, Grace Grundy, Eula Parrack, Artie Webb, Lona Sparks, Ethel Sawyer and Ora King enjoyed the evening in the lovely flower filled garden.

The next meeting will be September 1 at Lockney Rebekah Hall in Lockney.

Male, Female Roles

Fathers, you'll get respect, cooperation, love and positive rapport with your children when you're warm, nurturant, involved and caring.

Also, your sons are more likely to become appropriately masculine and your daughters appropriately feminine, says Patricia Lamson, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

MRS. LEX SYKES

First Christian Church Of Warren - Sykes Wedding

The First Christian Church in Floydada was the scene August 4 at 6 p.m. for the wedding of Janie Warren and Lex Sykes. Dennis Swearingin, minister, officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Warren of Floydada, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Sykes of Plainview.

Maid of honor, Kim Warren, wore a floor length white crepe dress and carried a bouquet of daisies. Her attire was planned to accent that of the bride. Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown of polyester knit with Queen Anne neckline bordered in Venise lace and an illusion yoke attached to a wateau train. She carried a yellow daisy nosegay with white streamers atop a Bible with lace cover.

Mack Warren, brother of the bride of Lubbock, was best man. Ushers were Larry Barbee, Johnny Barbee, and Don Barbee, brothers of the bride.

Traditional wedding music was presented. A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents. The bride included a yellow ribbon corsage and a yellow ribbon garter.

The bride and groom were married in the First Christian Church in Warren, Texas. The groom is a member of the Texas A&M System.

FURNITURE ARRANGEMENT — Part 3
Three "do's" put the finishing touch on a furniture-arrangement plan — they include proper scale, balance and a focal point.

PROPER SCALE
Keep furniture in proper scale with the rest of the room.

For small rooms, use a loveseat rather than a long sofa, for example. Also, use small-scale tables and other furnishings in small rooms. On the other hand, a very large room may require two large sofas — along with several occasional chairs in conversational groupings — to give it a well-furnished look.

CREATE BALANCE
Create a sense of balance in each room by distributing furniture masses so they don't weigh down one side and leave the other side empty.

Sometimes the architecture itself provides this — with a bank of bay windows or a staircase, for example.

USE FOCAL POINT
Design your interior around a focal point — that one special thing in a room that catches the eye at first glance.

It could be a fireplace or a "good view," for example. Make sure the sofa faces the focal point. If the room lacks a natural focal point, create one — with a sizable work of art or a wall of mirrors or an etagere (Standing whatnot shelf).

bottom and be deep enough for the water to come over the jars one to two inches with a remaining head space of one to two inches. It should also have a tight-fitting lid.
Process the okra for 20 minutes. Start to count processing time as soon as hot jars are placed in actively boiling water.
Remove jars and place on a rack to cool out of a draft. The next day after processing, remove rings. Wash and dry jars and store in cool place.
Note: The okra will be shriveled immediately after removal from the water bath, but after several days will absorb the liquid and become plump once again.

Saving Water At Home

brushing teeth —used less water in bathtub —washed car less often
A conscious effort is required to change water-use habits, but repairing leaks and drips saves water without changing habits, the specialist continues.
Consider the toilet. Each toilet flush uses from five to seven gallons of water.

Check the toilet to see if water leaks after flushing. Two hundred gallons a day can seep from tank to bowl if there is a leak.
To check for a leak, put a small amount of food coloring into the tank. If the color trickles into the bowl, there is a leak that needs repairing.
In buying a new toilet, look for a "low volume" model, she recommends.

Reduce the amount of water used in an older toilet by placing a plastic milk or detergent bottle filled with water and extra weight like sand or gravel into the toilet tank. The amount of water saved will be the same as the volume displaced by the plastic container.
Bricks do not displace as much water, and brick particles can seriously damage valves.
Or, save water by adjusting the float level of the toilet so the tank fills with less water, or place a two-ounce lead weight on the lift rod just above the tank ball.
This last procedure forces the tank ball to seat more quickly than it normally would, thus allowing less water to leave the tank, Mrs. Granovsky adds.

Bettye Baker In National Capitol

Bettye Baker attended the 19th Annual Hospital Institution, Educational, Food Service Society workshop in Washington, D.C. July 29 — August 3. She was one of 45 representing Texas at the National meeting. The organization was founded to improve the food service in hospitals, nursing homes and schools, and is for Dietetic Assistants and Dietetic Technicians who direct dietary departments.
While in D.C., the group attended a week of lectures and found time to visit Congressman Charles Stenholm and his office staff at Capitol Hill and other congressmen from Texas. They observed the House debate on gas rationing and visited numerous places of historical interest.
They also had the opportunity to visit with Mrs. Janet Webb and family (former Floydada residents) in their home in Annadale, Virginia. Janet and her son Marcus, took Bettye on a tour.
Bettye is employed in nursing service as a Licensed Vocational Nurse. She states that she "firmly believes that experience and education in the nutrition field is a great asset in a nursing career."
Currently Mrs. Baker is president of Texas H.I.E.-F.S.S. and when her term expires she will serve on the Advisory Board. Texas H.I.E.-F.S.S. will have their State meeting in Abilene, September 20 - 21, where installation for 79-80 officers will take place.

Prescription For A Picnic

Some simple meals best eaten outside on a balmy summer day are more easily and gracefully prepared in the kitchen and served outside on the terrace or patio or on the redwood table in the backyard. And, more often than not, simple meals are family favorites such as old-fashioned chicken salad and lemonade. The chicken salad recipe remains pretty much Grandma's original version but the old-fashioned lemonade has been streamlined into a Lemony Pineapple Cooler. Country Time lemonade flavor drink mix takes away the work of squeezing and straining lemons. Combined with water, unsweetened pineapple juice and chilled ginger ale, the mix transforms plain lemonade into a sparkling, refreshing summer quencher.

- Lemony Pineapple Cooler
- 3 scoops (3/4 cup) lemonade flavor drink mix
 - 1 quart water
 - 1 can (12 fl. oz.) unsweetened pineapple juice
 - 2 bottles (7 fl. oz. each) ginger ale, chilled

Dissolve drink mix in water in pitcher. Stir in pineapple juice and chill. Just before serving, add ginger ale. Serve over ice, if desired. Makes 7 cups or 14 servings.

Hospital Auxiliary Committees Meet

The Lockney General Hospital Auxiliary met three days last week and held committee meetings. Wednesday the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Grace Colson met in the basement of the hospital, to select a slate of officers for presentation at the organizational meeting, which is scheduled to be held September 6.
Working with Mrs. Colson and present for the meeting were Mrs. Mollie Huffman and Mrs. Emma Thomas.
Thursday the meeting planning and publicity committee, lead by Mrs. Mary Jo Sherman met at 1:00 in the basement of the hospital, to make plans for the electing and installing of officers, which will be held September 6. Others on the committee with Mrs. Sherman were: Mrs. Mae Belt, Mrs. Eleanor Schacht, Mrs. Amelia Rodriguez, and Mrs. Wynona Allison, committee chairman.
Friday the constitutional by-laws committee, lead by Mrs. Nita Holland, met at 9 a.m. in the basement of the hospital, to work on the by-laws and organizational of the Auxiliary. Assisting Mrs. Holland in this were: Margaret Schacht, Jewel Roberts, Gayle Fortenberry, and Dona Winters, organizer of the Lockney General Hospital Auxiliary.
Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Winter reported they were well pleased with the response and interest shown in organizing the Auxiliary.

Floydada Care Center Happenings

This has been a short week for me. I spent four days in New Mexico, enjoying the nice cool, rainy weather.

Juanita Bailey, who had been a resident here for almost a year, went home Wednesday to live with her family in Matador. We will miss having her along on our bus trips and playing "42," however, everyone here wishes her much happiness at home.

We would like to thank the Love Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church for the peaches. The residents enjoyed having fresh peaches and also a peach cobbler for lunch.

Darlene Fulton gave us a huge sack of fresh vegetables. The residents enjoyed squash and cornbread for lunch Thursday.

The Sunshine S.S. Class of the First Baptist Church served ice cream and cookies to all residents this week. I wasn't here for the occasion, but the residents told me how much they enjoyed the treat.

We visited in Lockney Wednesday on our bus trip. We made a short stop at Parkers Furniture and while there Hershel Swepston gave us enough carpet samples to make several ows. This will keep us busy for awhile. "Thank you," Hershel, for the gift.

We have been making some paper flowers. The paper along with some thread, net and decorations, were given to us by Barbara Barnard.

Top winner in bingo was Mr. James Moore with three games. Ray Reed, Mamie Gray, Victoria Asher, Sally Kreis and Clara Williamson each won two games and Mr. Emmitt Lawrence won one game.

Mrs. Anis Franks underwent surgery in Caprock Hospital this week for a broken hip which she received in a fall. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

Our deepest sympathy is with Mrs. Westbrook and family, who lost their dad and granddad with a heart attack this past week in Deport, Texas.

We also extend our sympathy to the families of Mrs. Annie Carr, who died Saturday afternoon in our home. Mrs. Annie had been sick for several months.

Thanks to our visitors for the week: Gaylene Yergenson, Maria Moore, Melba Glee Smith, Ellen Bell, LaMont Harper, Donald and Anita Bryant, Grady Dunavant, Ruby and

Hubert Davis, Otis, Dana, Kim and JoLee Ellis; Mrs. J.M. Williams, Mrs. Charlie Lewis, Mrs. J.B. Smitherman, Doris Snodgrass, Bill Smallwood, Cora Smallwood, Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Hartness, Sherry Colston, Mrs. Annie Jones;

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cleveland and Lona, Pat, Sheryl and Becky Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson and family, Jewell Price, Mrs. Woodrow Hill, Estelle Hinkle, Rebecca Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lancaster, Mrs. Ethel New, Corene and Murray Stewart, Ethel Carmack, Dorothy Lackey Merrill;

NEWS For Senior Citizens

A New Look At Life After 50

Ten percent of Americans are now past 65. And by the year 2020, it's estimated that figure could rise to 25 percent.

That's a far cry from the dawn of the 20th century when life expectancy was only 47. By 1971, it was 71. And who knows what the future will be as medicine achieves new breakthroughs in killer diseases.

With longer life comes the need to make those years more secure. Buying insurance is one way. According to Colonial Penn Insurance Co., homeowners over age 50, in particular, should be aware of the need to upgrade insurance on their homes.

Studies show that many homeowners over age 50 bought their home 15 to 20 years ago. With increasing inflation, there is a need to review and where necessary, update the insurance coverage on these homes.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, construction costs rose 123.8% between 1968 and 1978 alone. In fact the rebuilding cost of older homes in many areas has at least doubled. And if they're destroyed by fire or other calamity, unless the insurance protection has kept pace with inflation, many homeowners may have to pay thousands of dollars out of their own pockets.

Thus, a review of homeowner insurance is important. Make sure you shop around, though, because you may find that updating your coverage will cost no more than you're paying—and in some cases, the cost may even be less.

Tennis...Uh, I mean, Soccer, Anyone?

Parents of boys and girls in grades kindergarten through six are urged to attend an organizational meeting for Floydada Youth Soccer at 7:30 p.m. Monday, August 13 at First National Bank community room. If unable to attend, write Soccer, Box 550, Floydada and include the name and age of children.

South Plains College News Items

LEVELLAND — South Plains College is trying to track down ex-students from the years 1961-64 and 1971-74 for a fall round-up and reunion October 27.

"We need the names, phone numbers and addresses of as many former students from those years as soon as possible," explained Earl Gerstenberger, dean of students at SPC. He announced that this information should be given to the SPC Office of College Relations, 894-9611, ext. 231.

Registration, reception, special activities and a buffet dinner are scheduled for all former cheerleaders, Texans, basketball players, rodeo team members, and students from tennis, track, Baptist Student Union, student government, sciences department, agriculture, golf, and any other students from those years, said Gerstenberger.

Festivities will be from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Oct. 27 in the Student Union Building.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Just as welcome as hot soup is in winter, so is cool soup in summer. Rather than using an all-meat or chicken broth base, use part chicken broth and part milk products to give a creamy color and consistency to the mixture.

In Icy Orange-Carrot Soup, the fruit juice points up the flavor of the vegetable. Mild onion, sauteed in butter for the base, contributes a certain dimension to the carrots while nutmeg adds a gourmet touch to the soup. Use the blender for easy pureeing after the carrots are cooked in broth and juice. Half and half needs only be stirred into the vegetable mixture after blending. Five hours will chill the soup thoroughly so it is indeed ice cold for serving on a sweltering afternoon.

Green onion, basil and yogurt are compatible with watercress in another of the chilled soups so ideal for summertime eating. Here a thickened sauce is prepared for the base, after the watercress and onion are cooked in butter. The blender will reduce both of these vegetables to the desired smaller shreds and give the soup a smooth consistency; then it's ready to have yogurt stirred in for a satisfying soup.

Take advantage of the chilling time needed for both of these soups either by making them the day before, or at least in the cool of the morning. It will be an easy lunch or supper if you serve them in chilled bowls with crackers, then nibble on fruit or berries for dessert.

Icy Orange-Carrot Soup

Yield: approx. 6% cups

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 4 cups thinly sliced carrots
- 1 1/2 cups orange juice
- 1 cup chicken broth
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 cups light cream OR half half

Snipped fresh chives
Saute onion in butter until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in carrots, orange juice, broth and seasonings. Bring to boiling, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat; cool slightly. Pour one-third of soup into blender container; cover. Blend until smooth. Pour into large bowl; repeat with remaining soup. Stir in cream. Chill, covered, at least five hours. Serve in chilled bowls garnished with chives.

Tangy Watercress Soup

Yield: approx. 6 cups

- 1 large bunch watercress (about 2 cups)
- 6 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup sliced green onion
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon basil
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 cups plain yogurt
- Watercress for garnish, if desired

Wash watercress; drain well. Remove stems; measure leaves. Melt butter in large heavy saucepan. Add watercress and onion. Cook until onion is tender, about five minutes. Stir in flour and seasonings until smooth. Remove from heat and gradually stir in broth and milk. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover. Simmer 15 minutes. Remove from heat; cool slightly. Pour one-third of soup into blender container; cover. Blend until smooth. Pour into large bowl; repeat with remaining soup. Stir in yogurt. Chill, covered, at least five hours. Serve in chilled bowls garnished with watercress.

Van Collins, 49 died about 6 a.m. at the V.A. hospital in Waco. Services were Monday at 2 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Jim Smith, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Floydada Cemetery by Moore-Rose Funeral Home. Collins was born in Floydada and had formerly been a school teacher in Crosbyton. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge and was a veteran of the Korean conflict. Survivors include a daughter, Lydia Faye Collins of Eules; his father, W.G. Collins of Plainview; a brother, Wayne of Floydada and a sister, Mrs. Mary Emma Matthews of Corpus Christi. Pallbearers were Carl Minor, Tom Bob Jarboe, Bill Hale, Louis Lloyd, Ira Baker and Roy Kinard.

Area Deaths

Former Floydada Farmer Services Today

Ernest W. Newton of 405 43rd, Lubbock, died at 5:30 p.m. August 6 in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Services are scheduled for 4 p.m. today in Lemon Memorial Chapel with Reverend Glenn Price of the South Side Baptist Church in Lubbock officiating. He is to be assisted by Michael Hale of Claytonville Baptist Church. Burial will be in Parklawn Memorial Gardens, Plainview. Newton was born September 24, 1909 in Bridgeport and moved to Lubbock from Kress two years ago. He had farmed in Claytonville and the Floydada area before his retirement. He was a member of the Baptist church. August 23, 1933 he was married in Lockney to Elizabeth Hollums. Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Leonard Moore of Monette, Mo., Mrs. Eugene Byrd of Stanton and Mrs. Floyd Linch, Lubbock; one brother, Barney Newton of Plainview; three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Thomas, Plano; Mrs. Ivy Dickson, Amarillo, and Mrs. Bessie Dickerson of Decatur; and ten grandchildren.

Services In Tulia For Alvie Autry

Services for Alvie L. Autry, 81, of Tulia were Friday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at Tulia, with the Rev. Charles Davenport, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Murray Travis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial was in the Rose Hill Cemetery under the direction of Wallace Funeral Home. Autry died August 1 in the Methodist Hospital in Dallas following a brief illness. A native of Roff, Oklahoma, he married Eva Mae Carter Nov. 6, 1921, in Marlow, Oklahoma. After her death, he married Verna Holcomb June 24, 1962 in Tulia. He came to Tulia from Phoenix, Arizona, and was a retired groceryman and farmer. He was a member of the First Baptist Church. Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Glendene Abernathy of Tulia; a son, Harold of Amarillo; two stepdaughters, Wilma Brown of Lockney and Sally Smoot of Amarillo; two stepsons, Norman Holcomb of Durango, Colorado and Eddie Holcomb of Canyon; a sister, Mrs. Virgil Richardson of Arlo, Oklahoma; a brother, Roy of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Annie Carr Dies In Local Home

MY OBITUARY
By Annie Carr
Written 1965

Annie Almeda Allen was born July 14, 1886 in Coryell Co., Texas near Levita in the log cabin of my grandparents Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Haynes. My parents, George L. and Ollie J. Allen, lived in Gatesville at the time. They moved to Greer County, Oklahoma, while I was just a baby, one mile north of Mangum in a dugout.

We lived in the dugout for three years, then my father built a house. He sold this place to George Edwards and moved back to Mangum in a two room house. He bought another farm southwest of where Granite, Oklahoma is now (no Granite then) from my mother's brother-in-law, D.W. (Dave) Jaye. This dwelling was another dugout, of course they all had fire places.

We sold this place and moved to Washita County, Oklahoma (the Sooner State) where my father won his place in the run, (he was a Sooner).

We moved back to Mangum in 1897 in another dugout until my father could build us a house. They moved here to send the children to school. Sold this house and moved back to Washita County in 1898 where we lived until we moved to Lockney, Texas in 1902.

I was married to Mather Carr August 26, 1903 in our home in Lockney by Walter Griffith, a Methodist pastor at Floydada, Lockney, Mayshaw and another school house, I have forgotten the name. We moved to Harmony Community the next day after our marriage and lived with my in-laws seven months.

We then moved to our own place, in another dugout, no fire place. Used a little cook stove bought from Sears Roebuck, cost $7.50. We burned cowchips and grain. Our oldest son, Wesley was born in this dugout.

I am the only person here now who was living in the community at the time we moved here. I am a charter member of the Methodist Church, organized by my father-in-law, W.H. Carr, April 28, 1904 in a one room school house which was Harmony Church at the time and was later named Carr's Chapel for W.H. Carr. I have been a member of the Methodist church since I was twelve years old. Have lived on this place, except for 5 years when we moved to Floydada in 1924 and back to the farm in 1929. We moved to Floydada to send the children to school.

My husband, Mather Carr, died November 23, 1959 here in the home. I have lived alone since that time. The funeral for Mather was held at Carr's Chapel, Wednesday, November 25, 1959 and he was buried in Carr's Chapel Cemetery.

I attend church most every Sunday. I love my church, my family, and everybody, especially my neighbors. I hope I am able to live here the rest of my life.

The above obituary was written by Mrs. Carr because she liked detailed information and she had such a brilliant memory of events and happenings. Fortunately she was able to continue to live in her home until about eighteen months ago when she had major surgery and was no longer able to care for herself. She moved to the Floydada Nursing Home where she died August 4, 1979.

Annie Carr's survivors include a son, Horace Carr of Floydada; a daughter, Mrs. Chloma Williams, Harmony; three grandchildren, Charles and Bill Carr of Harmony and Sue Williams, Floydada and nine great-grandchildren. A son, Wesley, died in 1976.

The funeral service, conducted by Moore Rose Funeral Home, was in the Carr's Chapel Church, August 6, with burial in Carr's Chapel Cemetery beside her husband. Lee Crouch of Vernon (former pastor) and Robert Brown, pastor, conducted the memorial service. Special music was rendered by Gall Trowbridge and Tony Gregory of Petersburg.

Pallbearers were Ronnie Hopper, Steve Trowbridge, Elmer Dean Williams, Phil Dunavant, Allen Groce, Don Ramsey, Buddy Smith and Charlie Reid. Out of town relatives and friends attending were: Petersburg, Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Heard, Shirley Groce, Mr.

EXPERIMENTAL HOUSES GOING UP

An experimental set of solar homes being built on Long Island and in Albuquerque is expected to yield the most comprehensive technical and cost information on this sort of heating and cooling system to date.

Nearly 100 variations of new and proven energy-conserving systems and features will be evaluated in the only solar-heating and cooling experiment so far to consider the impact of residential solar systems on utility systems along with customer benefits.

The need for back-up power during cloudy weather makes it essential that solar heating and cooling systems be designed to

NEWS OF HEALTH

Beware Of Flu

Whether you call it flu, gripe or The Bug, a case of influenza is no laughing matter. It's an acute, infectious disease that begins suddenly with fever, chills and pains.

According to a pamphlet issued by Abbott Laboratories, flu is caused by a virus, which is constantly changing. Most of the changes are minor, but every ten years or so, a major change occurs. When this happens, we may have a worldwide epidemic such as the Asian Flu in 1957, or the Hong Kong flu in 1968.

Oddly enough, you may be exposed to the flu virus but not get the disease. Or you may even get it and not know it—25 percent of flu cases show no symptoms and can be detected only by blood test. However, for the remaining 75 percent, symptoms occur within one to four days of exposure. The early symptoms may resemble a cold—except that your nose runs less, your body aches more, and you feel weaker.

Complications that sometimes result—pneumonia, bronchitis, sinus trouble and ear infections—are often more significant than the influenza itself. Many of these are caused by bacteria and can be treated with antibiotics. So it's a good idea to keep in close touch with your doctor and promptly report any worsening of your condition.

Vaccination is the best way to minimize or prevent flu. However, the vaccines have to be changed frequently to combat prevalent strains circulating at the time. The vaccines we have will prevent the disease in the majority of patients, but if you get flu after a vaccination, it will probably be milder than it would be without the vaccination.

Zoroaster said, "In doubt if an action be just, abstain."

NATURAL FENCES
A good hedge against inflation is a good hedge. Natural hedges of spiny shrubs, prickly trees or other thorny plants make the most economical, effective and attractive yard enclosures, say many homeowners without straddling the fence.

Cedar Hill News

by Grace Lemons

The weather has been good since last weeks rains and the farmers are back in the fields.

Robert and Guen Conner, Holly and Robin, of Amarillo had dinner and spent the afternoon visiting Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Conner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robin Fortenberry are the proud great-grandparents of a baby boy, Travis Jay Sanders, born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sanders in Van Horn July 31. He weighed 7 pounds and 11 ounces and is welcomed by his three year old sister, Monica.

Durrel and Latricia Fortenberry are entertaining their grandson, Chad Fortenberry of Amarillo, this week in their home. Chad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Fortenberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Tucker spent the week in the home of Frances and Evelyn Tucker in Lubbock and attended the Camp meeting.

Rev. and Mrs. Vance Mitchell and girls, Sandra and Virginia, spent from Wednesday till Friday night in Lubbock attending the camp meeting. The missionette service was very impressive among those who have completed the requirements to be crowned an honor star. They wore capes and were presented a certificate and a trophy as an award.

Others that attended the West Texas District Camp Meeting for the Assembly of God Churches from Cedar Hill were Edna Gilly, Imogene Fortenberry, Ruth Fortenberry, Ernestine Gilly, Ruth Hill and Clara Redd and Gladys Fortenberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Breckenridge and daughter of Plainview spent Saturday night and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Durrel Fortenberry.

Steve Fortenberry, Hereford, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robin Fortenberry is recovering satisfactorily after undergoing an appendectomy recently in the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview.

Mr. W.T. Cooper, father of Linda Lemons, is recuperating at home after spending several days last week in Lockney General Hospital.

Tom and Gladys Fortenberry spent Tuesday night in Lubbock with their daughter Patsy and Lafayette Boone and Danita.

Azalee Beachamp of Rankin and her granddaughter, Renee Phillips arrived Friday

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

By allowing American products to compete fairly in world markets, prices may be held down, and American jobs and our national security may be protected. In this article, taken from his testimony to a Congressional Subcommittee on Trade, a leading American industrialist discusses conditions in international trade which discriminate against American business and hurt the American consumer.

By G. C. Hurlbert

Competitive opportunities for U.S. exports to the developed countries of the world are not equal to the opportunities offered them in U.S. markets. Unfortunately, the results of the Multinational Trade Negotiations may give foreign producers a disproportionately larger entry into the U.S. market than they already enjoy while American producers continue to be denied access to major markets overseas.

Nationalistic practices in the European countries and Japan prevent them from buying American equipment, while, on the other hand, utilities in the U.S. have purchased several hundred million dollars worth of large electrical equipment from European and Japanese manufacturers.

American equipment manufacturers were not the only losers: we have had to reduce employment in our turbine generator facilities alone by several thousand people.

Until European nations and Japan agree to open their markets for large electrical equipment to American and other foreign bidders, the U.S. should increase the "Buy American" differential and make no

When our imports consistently exceed exports (a) inflation may mount at home (b) the dollar's purchasing power may decline (c) America's self-sufficiency may be threatened? ANSWER: a, b and c are true.

Foreign industries sometimes sell their products here for less than it cost to produce them to (a) stabilize the dollar (b) keep their own employment high (c) protect American jobs? ANSWER: b.

The Antidumping Act's goal is (a) to control industrial pollution (b) to protect American industry from unfair competition (c) to ensure equal access to the International Court? ANSWER: b.

As a result of unequal European and Japanese sales of heavy electrical equipment to the U.S. (a) consumer prices for electricity declined (b) thousands of Americans lost their jobs (c) the dollar stabilized? ANSWER: b.

tariff reductions on these products.

As our country moves to convert more of our energy usage to coal, nuclear and other advanced technologies, we will need a strong technologically advanced heavy manufacturing industry to provide the machines for utilizing scientific developments. Our national security will depend on such industry.

To remain healthy and maintain steady levels of employment, these large manufacturing plants must have orders.

When the market for large equipment in Europe is depressed, manufacturers there may seek export orders, even at below-normal prices in order to maintain employment and partially recover the overhead expenses of large industrial plants. Thus the U.S. Antidumping Act should not be weakened.

Foreign governments are extremely protective of their own interests. Utilities and some manufacturing industries are either owned by the government or are mandated to carry out social responsibilities and to maintain employment. These governments support their industries in the need to export—even at marginal prices.

Our government should protect Americans.

CARDS OF THANKS

APPRECIATION

The family of John C. Odam would like to express its sincere appreciation for all the acts of kindness shown during the recent illness and death of our loved one. We are thankful for the prayers, visits, calls, flowers, food, cards, memorial contributions, love and concern. Our precious friends and relatives have made this trying time easier to bear. May each of you have such tender love and kindness shown to you in your times of sorrow.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. J.C. Odam
 Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Waits and Family
 Mrs. Mary Ann Viramonte and Family
 Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hill and Family
 Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rushing and Family
 Mrs. Bettie Odam
 Mr. and Mrs. B.G. Odam
 Mr. and Mrs. Billy Odam
 Mrs. Dorothy Fisher and Family
 Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kubly and Family

May God grant each of you the kind of friends, neighbors and relatives we have that have prayed, loved, and labored with and for us during the illness and death of our mother and grandmother.

We also would like to express our gratitude to the professional assistance; Dr. Jordan, Dr. Wonnacot, Caprock Hospital and Floydada Nursing Home employees and Paul; also the residents are very dear to us and our prayers continue to be with them.

The comforting words of the ministers Lee Crouch and Robert Brown, the pallbearers, special music so beautifully rendered, the food, flowers and memorials. There were many that we did not see, but felt the strength of their thoughts and prayers and the visits and kind words of others.

God bless and keep each of you in his care and give unto you the things that are best for you.

The family of Annie Carr 8-9p

I want to thank all my friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, prayers, flowers, cards, visits, phone calls and putting up my corn and beans while I was in the Hospital. Their kindness will always be remembered by me and God bless all of you.
 Estelle Eubanks 8-9p
