Phil Gramm addresses West Texans

by Cindy Smith

Saturday, August 4, on a swing through West Texas U.S. Representative Phil Gram addressed a crowd of about 70 Democrats, Independents and a view from The Lamplighter

My, what a difference a few weeks can make.

When our distinguished governor managed, with the help of a few friends, to push a $4.8 billion tax increase through the Leglislature, he was so happy he could scarcely contain himself. He was toasting his victory in champagne, and hailing his accomplishment as one of the greatest things that ever happened to Texas.

Now, in a few short weeks, he is on television defending the bill. One would think if the tax bill was such a good thing it would sell itself. It would need no defense.

In the t.v. commercials the governor says "we had to raise taxes on things like liquor, cigarettes, and beer." Anytime he has to choose between those evils and the children of Texas, Republicans at the Floydada Municipal Airport. Running for the 1984 Senate seat against Lloyd Doggett, Gramm, who co-authored President Reagan's economic recovery program, is probably best known as the congressman who resigned his seat in Congress and sought re-election as a Republican after he was denied his seat on the Budget Committee in retaliation for Gramm's successful efforts to control government spending.

Gramm speaking to the crowd said that he was in Floyd County looking for a job. He noted that on his first day in Congress, he introduced the balanced budget amendment to the Constitution. Gramm further stated, "It is important to make the Federal Government exist on a budget as any other facet of society is expected to do. I have worked six years to control spending so the working people of Texas can keep more of what they earn." This was met with an affirmative response from the crowd.

Touching on defense, Gramm pointed out that the two budgets he co-authored in the House provided for both a strong defense and for audits "to assure we get our money's worth. I have worked and will continue to work for a stronger more efficient defense. We need to let every 'two-bit' dictator in the world know that they cannot push the United States around." This reference to rescuing the U.S. medical students on Granada met with resounding applause from Floyd County residents. Gramm also touched on other issues that are vital to West Texans. He is for the right to work amendment. "No one," he stated vehemently, "should be forced to join a union in order to get a job. Unions cannot be forced on Americans." Another issue of importance to West Texans is a state water program. "I will support a state water plan to develop our resources. West Texans have been faced with water depletion for years and we know we need to do something about it. The remainder of the state is now becoming aware of how serious this situation is," Gramm added.

As far as voluntary prayer in the schools, Gramm stated that he supports this proposal. "I have always supported traditional family values. The American family is a fundamental cornerstone of our Democracy." Gramm went on to say, "I am against the gay rights bill, which is legislation that would mandate affirmative action in the hiring of homosexuals. This legislation would give certain segments of our society 'more rights than others."

Gramm vehemently reported, "I will fight placing a nuclear waste deposit facility in West Texas. We cannot tamper with something that could interfere with this agricultural community." He laughed and said, "I propose we move the facility to Boston, Massachusetts."

Congressman Gramm vowed that he would "always put the interests of the people I represent before any partisan or political interests." Gramm said, "I will not pander to any special groups." Gramm wiped his brow in the sweltering West Texas heat and confided, "You don't often hear an Aggie quote someone from the University of Texas,

School changes affect calendar

The following changes have been made due to H.B. 72. Teacher In-Service is August 22, 8:30 a.m. This change was made on the school calendar to comply with H.B. 72 which states that the teachers will have four in-service days and four work days. Two of these workdays must be prior to the first day of school. The change for the teachers will be that they will come back to school one day early, 22nd of August and February 18 will be a holiday. In years past teachers have had five in-service days and three work days. Changes effecting students:

1. Student promotion. A district may not grant social promotions. Students may be promoted only based on academic achievement. A student who does not maintain a grade average of at least 70 for a school year may not be advanced from one grade level to the next or be given credit for a course. Seniors must pass an exit examination to receive a diploma. If a student does not pass the exit examination he will receive a certificate of attendance.

2. Grade notices. At least once every six weeks, a district must give written notice to parents of students' grades. The notice must be signed by the parent and returned. If the student receives a grade less than 70, a conference with a parent must be requested.

3. Finals exemption. A student cannot be exempted from taking a final unable to speak and comprehend English or from a family whose income is below subsistence level. The classes must be operated on a half-day basis. The commissioner of education may exempt a district from this requirement if the district would be required to construct classrooms in order to comply. Districts that are required to offer bilingual or special language programs must offer a summer program for limited English proficient students who are eligible for admission to kindergarten or first grade. The program must be offered for one-half day for the eight weeks preceding the opening of school and enrollment in the program is optional with the parent. The studentteacher ratio may not exceed 18 to 1.

6. Beginning in 1985-86, class sizes are limited to 22 students in kindergarten, first and second grade. This 22-student cap extends to third and fourth grade classes in 1988-89.

7. Absences. A student may not be given credit for a class if the student has more than five days of unexcused absences during a semester. Unexcused absence means an absence not excused under Section 21.035 of the Texas Education Code.

8. Extracurricular activities. Participation in or practice for extracurricular activities during the school day and school week shall be limited according to SBOE rules. Beginning with the 1985 our governor says, "our kids come first."

Well, let us see.

According to the Legislative Budget Board's analysis of the bill, the new taxes will hit beer drinkers for $5 million in 1985. From those who don't drink beer, but do drive automobiles on the public highways, the new tax will bring in $420 million in 1985. Those who buy new cars will chip in another $154 million in 1985. Those who are on cable television will contribute about $7 million in 1985; more, we might add, than is paid into the till by the beer drinkers. The one-eighth percent increase in the general sales tax will bring in $83 million in 1985, more than 10 times the amount that will be paid by heer drinkers.

The increase in the tax on hotels and motels alone will bring in twice as much as Mr. White's tax on beer. It is projected at $11.4 million for 1985 alone.

If you have "tangible property," such as a television set, or a clothes washer or dryer that needs repair in 1985, and if you have it repaired, you will contribute to an estimated kitty of $33 million in new taxes. If you subscribe to a newspaper you will help the new tax bill to the tune of $6 million next year. (Again, more than the added tax on beer.)

True, the whiskey drinkers are hit harder. They will pay about $6 million more if they buy it by the bottle, and about $23 million if they go to a club or bar and buy it in the form of mixed drinks. Even so, they will pay less in new taxes, by about half, than those who go to the picture show or other places of "amusement". The tax on admission to places of amusement will bring in $44 million in 1985, roughly eight times what the added tax on beer will produce.

The way my little pocket calculator works, if you seek to amuse yourself during 1985 by drinking whiskey, or beer, or smoking cigarettes (smokers get hit pretty hard), you will help contribute a total of $47.7 million in new taxes. If, on the other hand, you seek to amuse yourself by watching cable t.v. or going to amusement parks or picture shows, you will contribute $51 million in new taxes. Or, if you want to amuse yourself by driving back and forth to work or going to visit Aunt Sadie, you will help contribute $420 million in new fuel taxes.

The governor's new television commercials, in which he would have us believe that the new taxes will fall "on things like liquor, cigarettes and beer" are paid for, according to press reports, out of his "political account" and by "loans". They will cost about $300,000. At a later date we will try to examine the connection between the governor and those who are anxious to help him in his program of taxation and dissimulation.

Proposed budget meeting held

The Commissioner's Court of Floyd County held a working meeting to discuss and revise the proposed budget for the coming year. At this time, it appears that a tax rate increase will not be necessary. Major items discussed were the requests from the various departments and agencies served by the court. Chief among these was a request for a 10% salary increase for all employees. The court is giving strong consideration to a 5% increase, but is hesitant to consider 10%. Most other requests involved purchase of new

LANDSCAPE AND GARDENING by Benny Butler

The Sick Plant Clinic we held last Thursday turned out to be quite a success. Over twenty people were helped by Dr.'s Bob Berry and Roland Roberts, and County Extension Agents Richie Crow and myself. Dr. Berry is a plant pathologist and Dr. Roberts is a vegetable specialist. They are both headquarted out of the Texas A&M Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock. In the following, I have attempted to summarize some of the general problems we encountered and possible solutions to them.

The type problems dealt with fell into 3 general categories: ornamentals, gardens and fruit trees, and turf. Ornamentals

The most widespread problem continues to be iron and zinc deficiency in Maple trees. Refer to my column article of June 30, 1983 for a detailed report on how to cope with this problem. If you don't have back copies of the Beacon or Hesperian, copies of this article are available through my office. I would highly discourage homeowners from planting new or additional Maple trees-they are just not adapted to our area.

Several Cottonwood trees and some fruit trees were diagnosed as having herbicide injury. Cottonwoods (and all Poplars) will send roots out great distances (30 yards or further). Thus it is easy for them to send roots out into alleys. Unfortunately, a common herbicide is prometon, but it also contains simazine, sodium chlorate, and sodium metaborate. If you read the label on this herbicide, it says it is nonselective, which means it will kill any and everything. It also says that the herbicide should not be used near adjacent desirable trees, shrubs, and other plants. This means you shouldn't use it anywhere around the home, even in the alley. 90% of the calls I get each year are herbicide-related and are usually the result of someone trying to "kill" the soil in an alley, along a fence or sidewalk, or some other area near their trees. Soil sterilants such as prometon, sodium chlorate, sodium metaborate picloram, hexazinon, and others are very water soluble and will readily leach down into the root zone of trees. They should never be used around the home. A much better choice would be to use a herbicide with a low water solubility such as simazine or Surflan TM. A new herbicide from DuPont called Glean TM also shows promise in this area but hasn't been labled for this use yet. 'Insect' pests were causing problems on many trees. Some large (2-3 inches) bagworms were observed on many cedar trees. At this stage there is not much that can be done chemically to kill them. They have just about reached the end of the worm stage and have practically quit feeding anyway. The males will soon emerge as moths. Hand-picking the "bags" off the trees will reduce the number of worms next year. The synthetic pyrethroids will work against these large worms, but they aren't labelled. Bagworms should be sprayed when the worms are tiny (less than 1/2 inch). At this stage many insecticides including Malathion TM, Diazinon TM, Sevin TM, and Orthene TM are very effective. Another pest causing problem are spider mites. There are mites rather than insects, and are usually harder to control. Spider mites were sun infesting several willow and locust trees as well as a "Snowball" bush. They are tiny creatures (about the size of a pin point), and are hard to spot. They are evidenced by the "mottled" appearance they give leaves. Sprays containing Kelthane TM are usually effective in controlling them, but thorough coverage on the underside of the leaves is critical.

caused by a fungus common in our soils. A Catalpa tree, once infested, will eventually die, or at best will never have attractive appearance. In such cases it is usually best to remove the tree and plant another, better adapted, species. This is especially true if the Catalpa is still young.

Gardens and Fruit Trees

The most common garden plant giving trouble is - you guessed it tomatoes! Two diseases, Spotted Wilt and Curly Top, were observed. Both are visual diseases. Spotted Wilt causes a streaking of the leaves, stems, and fruits. Numerous small, dark, circular spots appear on younger leaves. Leaves may have a bronzed appearance and later turn dark brown and wither. Fruits show numerous spots about 1/2 inch in diameter, with concentric, circular markings. On ripe fruit these markings are alternate bands of red and yellow. Thrips can transmit the disease from wild hosts into the garden. A cure is impossible. It is best to practice prevention by eliminating weeds around garden edges and fences. Also remove infected plants when small and control insects. Currently, there are no resistant varieties to Spotted Wilt.

Curly Top is becoming more widespread every year. It causes a pronounced upward rolling and twisting of the leaflets that expose their undersurfaces. The foliage will become stiff and leathery, and a peculiar dull yellowing of the entire plant may occur. There is also some purpling of the veins and the plant is usually much stunted. Very few fruit are produced after infection. The virus is not transmitted through the seed or soil, nor is it spread by mechanical means. The main vector is the beet leafhopper which becomes infected by feeding on wild or cultivated plants having the disease. As with Spotted Wilt, once a plant has contracted Curly Top, there is no cure. The best cure is prevention by keeping surroundings free of weeds and controlling insects. Plastic-wrapping the tomato cages early in the season helps, too. Resistant varieties are being developed. Spider mites were also noted in tomatoes. Again, sprays containing Kelthane TM will probably give the best control. Coverage of the bottom leaf surfaces is essential, however.

Several problems with fruit trees were observed. Several apple and pear trees had Codling moths larvae feeding on the fruit. This can be prevented by following a regular spray schedule in the spring. The first application should a yellowing or bleaching out of the chloraphyll. It can be corrected with the proper treatments but they must begin early. A foliar application of iron sulfate when the trees are in first bad, and repeated at 3 week intervals until July is one possibility. Another is a soil treatment of shelated iron such as Iron 183 TM made early in the spring. One such treatment will last all year but will be more expensive than the foliar applications.

Numerous pecan trees were seen suffering from zinc deficiency. This can be corrected with a program of foliar spraying of zinc. N2N TM is very good for this. I might note that Mr. Ralph Rucker reported to me that he tried N2N this year and it really worked for him. He said he also sprayed some on his Cottonwood tree and it helped it to keep its leaves.

Turf

The most frequent problems with lawns this summer have been seen in those containing one of the finestemmed African varieties. A disease called Fading Out is killing large patches of these lawns. It develops largely due to certain cultural practices such as allowing too much thatch to build up, water stress, low fertility, and improper mowing height. The "African" bermudas require considerable maintenance including catching clippings, proper fertilization (nitrogen only), and plenty of water. The mowing height should be adjusted from about 1/2" during the spring up to 2" or more in the hottest part of the summer. A lawn known to have Fading Out should be scalped in the spring and the entire lawn treated with a fungicide such as Maneb TM. Repeat the fungicide treatment occasionally throughout the summer.

One not-so-common lawn problem we saw was a case of Bermudagrass Mites. They cause the lawn to have a "tufted" appearance because stolons will fail to elongate. Mowing will often really tear up such grass. The recommended chemical to use for Bermudagrass Mites is Diazinon TM.

One peach tree was suffering from herbicide injury. Peaches are very sensitive to trianzine herbicides such as atrazine, prometon, propazine and others. The only triazine herbicide safe to use near peaches is simazine, and then only at recommended rates.

Many peach trees were also suffering from iron deficiency. This is too complicated a situation to discuss completely here, but the symptoms are

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications has filed with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to introduce a new intrastate, optional long distance service to begin August 1, 1984, the same date "Reach Out® America" plan will be available for interstate calls.*

A new service designed to give customers the opportunity to reduce the cost of long distance in Texas has been filed with the state PUC by AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc.

'Reach Out® Texas" is an optional calling plan which will provide additional discounts on long distance rates for Texas customers who frequently place calls in the evening, weekend, and night time calling periods.

The new "Reach Out® Texas" plan for the first time extends the benefits of competition to many Texas consumers who previously have not had any discounted long distance service available to them.

AT&T Communications customers who choose this new optional service will pay a monthly charge of $14 which entitles them to one hour of intrastate "Direct Dialed" (1 +) calling during the weekend and night rate period.

An additional customer savings for those participating in the plan will be that any Direct Dialed calls placed during the weekend and night rate period that exceeds the one hour period will be charged at an hourly rate of $12, or $.20 per minute.

Customers selecting this option also receive an additional 15 percent discount for intrastate Direct Dialed calls during the evening discount rate period for a total savings of approximately 38 percent.

A one-time charge of $6 is billed when a customer orders the "Reach Out® Texas" plan. The $6 is collected by AT&T Communications and paid to the local telephone company to establish the service. This charge will be waived during the first 90 days that the offering is available

AT&T Communications is proud to offer this optional service for its Texas long distance customers and will in the future continue to introduce cost cutting programs to help Texans reduce their long distance bills. A complete copy of the "Reach Out® Texas" tariff and rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas. AT&T Communications estimates that the revenue impact of this new service would be significantly less than 2.5 percent of annual gross revenues. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

*Customer billing for the optional calling plan will be provided for AT&T Communications through billing contracts with the local telephone companies. Therefore, the introduction of these rate plans into a specific area is contingent upon local company billing capabilities. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has agreed to handle the billing in its service areas effective August 1, 1984.

The Floydada Independent School District Board of Trustees' meeting on Monday, August 6, approved a tax rate reduction of five cents per $100 valuation. This makes the new tax rate 73 cents per $100 valuation. Superintendent Jerry Cannon said "The board hopes to keep the tax rate down. It must be pointed out, however, this may not be possible due to changes in the school system yet to be mandated by the state legislature. Increased demands on the schools may mean an increased tax rate at a later date."

The Board also discussed the changes

Jerry Thompson family will host AFS

Lars Alkemade, Floydada foreign exchange student from Sonderborg, Denmark, arrived in our city on Friday. August 27th. He is sixteen years old and will be a senior this year at Floydada High School. In Sonderborg, Lars lives with his parents, Mark and Annelise, and two sisters, Arienne and Anne. His father is a general practitioner and his mother is a teacher.

Lars speaks several languages. Danish is the language of Denmark; therefore, he is fluent in Danish. His father, from Holland, is the background for Lars ability to speak Dutch. Sonderborg is near the border between Denmark and Germany, so German is common in the locality and they have television reception from Germany. Lars also speaks excellent English after having instruction in it at school for five vears.

An interest in the United States has been with Lars all of his life. His parents met while sailing to America as tourists. Lars and his family decided that a trip to America in the AFS program would be a great benefit to Lars, both now and later. Upon receiving word he was coming to Texas, Lars commented, "My first thoughts were of the city of Dallas, the show "Dallas", and Kennedy." The journey from Denmark to Floydada was exciting for him, but very tiring. Lars said, "I have been to New York, Chicago, Dallas, and Lubbock, but all I've seen is the airports."

The most readily apparent difference between life in Sonderborg and life in Floydada is the informal lifestyle. Lars stated "Society in Denmark is much more formal. People usually call before visiting and would not be so casual about going to another's home." Transportation is another easily seen difference. "Everyone here wants to drive or be driven. In Denmark, we walk, bicycle or use the bus for longer trips," says

Lars will be staying in the home of Jerry and Jan Thompson while here. He will share household chores and family experiences with their sons, Greg and Mark. Lars expects to be treated as if he were just another member of the family.

Lars.

Jan Thompson said "I feel we will learn as much from Lars as he will from us. Hopefully, my children will become more knowledgeable and so will he." She also noted that Lars seems to like all kinds of foods, especially tacos and beef.

Lars said he feels that being a foreign exchange student will help him to see his own life and family differently as well as seeing America and Americans in a different way.

The next few months will be a time of discovery and adventure for both Lars and his American family.

MRS. ROBERT ESPINOZA JR.

Wedding promises said by Ochoa-Espinoza

Margaret Ochoa and Robert S. Espinoza, Jr. were united in a candlelight ceremony Saturday afternoon, July 28, at 4:00 p.m. in St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church in Floydada. Father Roland of Lubbock performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Manuel Ochoa and Toni Felan. Parents of the groom are Robert Espinoza and Enedina Espinoza.

Traditional vows were exchanged before an archway done in rainbow colors highlighted by a huge candelabrum. The scene was completed by a Huerta, Martin Morales, Noe Soliz. Johnny Riojas, Peter Morales, and Jimmy Espinoza.

Michele Acuna, the bridegroom's niece, and Esmo Ochoa, were flower girls. Anthony Robles, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. Ushers were Jerry Medrano and Jose Alaniz.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony in the cafeteria of R.C. Andrews Elementary. A traditional white multi-tiered, split-level, wedding cake highlighted with a flowing fountain in the middle was served to the guests. Napkins, bearing the bride and groom's names and wedding date and a verse, in the bride's chosen colors were used. A dance was held at Plainview at Pete's Paladium from 8 to 1 in honor of the couple.

Cherilen Russell-Brewer repeat nuptial vows

Miss Cherilen Russell of Lockney and Karl Brewer of Lubbock repeated nuptial pledges in a double-ring ceremony at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, June 30 at the Southside Church of Christ in Lubbock. Gerald M. Ball of Euless directed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Russell of Portales, New Mexico. Parents of the bride-groom are Gordon and Delta Brewer of Lubbock.

Vows were repeated before a white trellis backdrop entwined in English ivy and flanked by two spiral brass candelabra with white tapers. At the foot of the arched trellis backdrop, another focal point was formed in front of a second white trellis centered by two white tapers gracing a white unity candle on a brass stand.

Selected acappella music was provided by Kim Fisher, Ann Smith, Laura White, Debra Gist, Sharlan Proper, David and Dawn Perrin, and Russ Hooper, all of the Southside Church. As the grandparents were seated, the group sang "Twelfth of Never," followed with the lighting of the tapers adorning the unity candle by the parents of the bride and groom. Randa Russell, niece of the bride, and Amy Leonard, niece of the groom, then lit the candles, followed by the entrance of the groom, groomsmen, and bridesmaids. The flowergirl, also a niece, was Christina Russell and the ring bearer, a nephew, was Adam Russell. The bride was then escorted in by her father during the singing of "Faithful and True." After the exchange of vows and rings, the couple lit the unity candle during the singing of "My Own True Love". The ceremony ended as "O Perfect Love" was sung.

The bride chose a formal gown of white satin and lace. The fitted bodice was embellished with Chantilly lace while Venise lace graced the Queen Anne neckline. The leg of mutton sleeves were composed of re-embroidered Chantilly and edged at the cuff with Veruse. Encompassing the natural waistline was a string of Veruse lace. A soft veiling of Chantilly fell gently from the waist over the satin skirt finishing its length at the floor. The satin train fell to cathedral length and was edged in re-embroidered Chantilly.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a crown of matching white lace. The double layer illusion fell ot fingertip length and was finished with matching lace. She chose a bouquet of wine and dusty rose silk roses and baby's breath tied with Chantilly lace. Borrowed pearl earrings and the ring belonging to the bride's grandmother accessorized the ensemble. Tradition was completed with a blue garter made by the mother of the bride; her wedding attire was 'something new". Matron of honor was Mrs. Randall Russell of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride. Also attending the bride was Mrs. Dan Leonard of Lubbock, sister of the groom. The wine gowns, made by Betty Russell, mother of the bride, were sheer nylon over a taffeta underskirt. The floor length gowns featured a Queen Anne neckline and long sleeves. A wine ruffle encirlced the hem of the dresses. Each carried a bouquet designed by Ruth Joplin of Lubbock consisting of wine and dusty rose silk roses and rosebuds overlaying white open fans. The gowns of the candlelighters and flower girl were also made by the bride's mother, and featured a wine sheer nylon overskirt draped over a dusty rose long skirt. A wine ruffle accented the Queen Anne neckline and highlighted the dusty rose bodice. The girls' hair were arrnged in foxtail braids entertwined with small wine and dusty rose silk flowers.

Daniel Leonard, Sr. of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. The groomsman was Randall Russell of Lubbock, who was the brother of the bride.

A reception followed immediately in the church fellowship room. Tables were covered with white lace. Featured was a table with an engagement portfolio and 8 x 10 photographs of the bride and groom when they were two years old. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

'Assisting at the bride's table were Anita Heath of Lubbock; D'Lynn Morgan of Lockney, Kathy Hunter of Lockney, Karen Evans of Lockney, and cousins of the bride, Vicki Robinson and Debbie Robinson of Lake Arthur, New Mexico served at the groom's table.

After a wedding trip to Alamogordo, Ruidoso and Carlsbad Caverns, the couple returned to their home in Lockney.

The bride attended Lubbock Christian College, Harding in Searcy, Arkansas, and received a masters at Eastern New Mexico University. She teaches in the English department at Lockey High School.

Brewer, a graduate of Texas Tech University, is employed with the Republic Bank in Lubbock.

A rehearsal dinner given by the bridegroom's parents was held at the Arnett House Friday night and catered by the LCC Associates.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Hazle, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brewer, Howard and Ann Duncan, Tonya Gilian, Rex A. Brewer, Janie Archer, Max Green, Mr. and Mrs. L.N. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Medlock, Rachel Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. F.L. Montanton, Bollworm infestation noted your calculations. What you are striving for is a reasonable accurate field

By Dale W. Spurgeon General Situation

Cool, moist weather conditions continue to favor bollworm survival and to slow cotton crop development. Cotton

Bollworms are still with us in many fields, although worm populations do not appear to be as spectacular as they were 7-10 days ago. Despite this overall decline in worm numbers, there are still a lot of fields with treatable worm populations.

If I had to hazard a guess concerning our present bollworm status I would say we were at, or near the end of our first cycle in most areas. I say this based on the observation that most fields I have inspected in the past few days have had worm populations ranging from around 3,000 to 15,000 worms per acre, with quite a few large worms present. A week ago, most of the fields I inspected were in the 8,000 to 60,000 worms per acre range. At any rate, we cannot be far from our second cycle. At best, I would expect worm activity to increase in most areas within 7-10 days.

In this newsletter I will not say much about general bollworm scouting procedures. There is not much that I haven't already said. For general scouting information you should refer to earlier newsletters. If you have misplaced your copies of earlier issues, contact my office and we will send you the issues you need. I would like to discuss a few problems I have noticed some producers are having while scouting.

The most common problems producers are having in checking fields are: 1) determining which plants to check, 2) determining what threshold to use, and 3) determining how many plants, and where in the field, to check.

In using the random plant method (the method that works best for me) of scouting bollworms, plant selection (or average. You can see that if you only check the plants that have worms, you calculations will show that all the plants have worms. A good way to select a plant is to go to where you want to check a plant, take five steps, and check whatever plant is nearest your last step. Many producers have voiced the opinion that the thresholds I am suggesting are too high. Once again let me say that how well a given person finds bollworms will largely determine at what level he should consider treatment. Also consider that previous damage, which by the way was caused by the worms there last week not this week, cannot be corrected by treatment. Lastly, consider that treatment levels are not placed at a "break-even" point. There is no advantage to treating at break-even. You will lose an equal number of dollars either way you go at this point. Also, a worm population that was break-even when you scouted will no longer be break-even when you treat since they will continue to feed from the time you left the field to the time you kill the last worm. Treatment levels are set at levels where control measures will yield substantial benefits. Too many things can go wrong when shooting for marginal benefits.

When scouting a field you must get off the turnrows. I seldom check any plant within 200 feet of the field borders unless the field is very small. Ideally you should check a few plants in all parts of the field even though this found per head in commercial production sorghum, or 1 small worm per head in seed production fields.

At this time, all sorghum fields should be checked for spider mites and headworms. However, if you are really pressed for time, I would suggest concentrating on fields which have already been treated for greenbugs. Corn

I haven't had much time to spend in corn lately, but I have inspected a couple of fields. So far I have not found any Southwestern corn borer eggs, but I have observed some spider mites. The treatment level for mites in corn has been changed recently due to recent research efforts. Treatment for spider mites is warranted when 75 percent or more of the leaf area on the lower one-third of the plant is damaged by mite feeding before full dent. Turnrow Meetings loan rate level continued to brew.

During the 1980s loan rates have crept up sufficiently to impede exports. Two commodities are exceptional cases -- soybeans and cotton. In both of these commodities the loan rate was set as a percentage of the market price over three of the past five years excluding the years having the highest and the lowest prices.

This technique appears to have worked reasonably well and is being considered in the 1985 farm bill for other commodities such as wheat, rice, corn and sorghum. The issue is at what percentage of the average market price should the loan rate be set. In cotton its 85 percent. In soybeans its 75 percent. In a recent coalition meeting, a proposal was discussed that would set the 1985 farm bill loan rate at 90 percent of the average price received by farmers in three of the past five years, excluding the high and the low years.

The level at which the loan rate is set, is directly related to the goal of the price support program. If its goal is to provide a degree of price stability while still being competitive in export markets, the loan rate will likely need to be set at between 70 and 80 percent of the average price in three of the past five vears.
