Varsity cheerleaders receive top recognition

Washington—As this is being written our nation is preparing for another birthday. Birthdays are almost always happy events, particularly so when they involve people close to us, and more particularly so when they involve the birthday of our country.

But they are also sobering events, after we pass the age of childhood, wherein we are prone to take stock of where we've been, where we are, and where we are going. I suppose that is no less true in the affairs of nations than it is in the affairs of people.

We claim no special understanding of any of this. We know only that our nation has come a long way since those early days when the Republic was launched with so much hope and expectations. It seems to us that the hopes and expectations of our forefathers were well founded. We have done reasonably well as a nation, and as a people, perhaps arriving at a point far beyond, in some cases, our ancestors ever dreamed we would be. My own thoughts are that we have strayed from the course in some instances, particularly in the question of the role of government in the lives of our citizens. But by and large even that critical issue has been properly addressed by our people. Every one and a while, when government strays off course, the people have a way of correcting the situation, all of which was provided for by those early geniuses who framed our society when the Republic was getting started.

But the threats to our existence are as alive today as they were then. They have merely taken on new and perhaps more threatening aspects. This column is being written in a little room in the headquarters of the publicly-funded Corporation for Public Broadcasting, on 16th Street a few blocks from the White House. The Directors of the Corporation, 10 in number, are from all across the country, having been appointed by this or other Presidents, confirmed by the Senate, and charged with seeing after the affairs of the Public Broadcasting community in America. It is no big deal, I suppose, and I wouldn't mention it except it leads me into the point I want to make.

Next door to us is the Embassy of the Soviet Union. It was from this location that the Embassy's Second Secretary directed the now-famous Walker spy ring, which may well turn out to be the most damaging spy ring operating in America since the Atomic spies of the 1940's and 50's. Across the street is the national headquarters for the National Geographic Society, and next door to that is the national headquarters of one of the AFL-CIO's electrical workers unions. For more than a year, during the upheavals in Poland, the Soviet Embassy personnel were greeted daily with a huge banner hung across the front of the union building, declaring the support of American workers for the workers in Poland. One may quarrel occasionally with some of the political or economic objectives of the unions, but one can hardly quarrel with their fundamental patriotism. When the chips are down, and when American values are under attack, they, like most other Americans, can be counted on to rally around and hold the fort.

The local papers here are full of news that the U.S. House of Representatives, perhaps feeling a tinge of guilt, has hurriedly passed a measure that will allow our military to take a little more active role in keeping its secrets secret. Congress has a habit of closing the barn door after the horses are gone. It wasn't too long ago, back in the 70's, when a liberal Congress was going the other way, savaging both our counter-intelligence operation, and our intelligence operation as well.

Now that the damage has been done, even Tip O'Neill's troops are acting concerned. One does not know if they are really concerned or if they are merely reacting to public pressure and anger. But either way the results are encouraging.

All of which is to say that we and our

The Floydada High Varsity cheerleaders recently returned from a National Cheerleaders Association summer workshop where they received top recognition as the best cheerleader squad at the camp. The workshop was held at Big Spring, Texas, Howard College, and attracted over 130 cheerleaders from surrounding states.

The National Cheerleaders Association is sponsoring the "Award of Excellence" award at each of over 270 NCA workshops held across the United States. The Floydada cheerleaders were selected for this award over all of the cheerleaders at the workshop on the basis of their cheerleading technique, unity, friendliness, cooperation, leadership, and sportsmanship to the other squads attending. As the winner of the "Award of Excellence" the Floydada cheerleaders automatically qualify to compete in the NCA 1985-86 High School Cheerleaders National Championship.

The presentation of the NCA "Award of Excellence" came at the completion of a full workshop of training on cheerleading technique, cheers, chants, jumps, partner stunts and pyramids; as well as a leadership program for sportsmanship, crowd participation, responsibilities, organization and dedication. The National Cheerleaders Association has been conducting summer workshops for over 35 years, teaching nearly 100,000 students each year on the art of cheerleading.

A Little Cheerleading Clinic for ages 6 and up will be conducted by the Varsity Cheerleaders from July 8-12 from 9 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Vickers wins "Top Dog"

Bob Vickers of Producers Co-op Elevator of Floydada, has been selected the 1985 Prowl® herbicide Top Dog Award contest winner for West Texas and New Mexico.

Vickers was honored by American Cyanamid, manufacturer of Prowl, for his outstanding service to his customers and community. He promotes conservation tillage practices and serves customers by providing grain and seed crop storage and grain marketing assistance. A major employer in the community, Vickers also supports Floydada by making numerous donations to community events and contributing to civic groups including the Lions.

The Prowl Top Dog Award program recognizes farm dealers who provide top quality service. Vickers is one of 10 national winners. Cyanamid will present him with a top quality brittany puppy at a ceremony in Memphis, Tennessee, this fall.

IRS auctions Ansley house

A house and five lots went on the auction block June 27 in Floydada. Representatives of the Internal Revenue Service conducted the sale to recover unpaid income taxes owed by Clarence and Kathryn June Ansley of Abilene, Texas.

The sale was carried out in the county courtroom of the Floyd County Courthouse at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday afternoon. The property being sold was located in Lockney, at 302 West 2nd Street. The single family dwelling and the five accompanying lots brought $12,100.00 as a unit. The initial minimum bids required by the IRS were $6,819.00 for the house with three lots and $384.00 for the remaining two lots. The property was valued at approximately $22,000.00 by the Floyd County Central Appraisal District.

Approximately twenty persons were on hand to view the proceedings as several bidders registered and bid on the property. Herman G. Graham of Lockney was the successful bidder for the combined parcel. Graham's purchase included Lots 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10 of Block 6 in the Muncy Addition of Lockney.

IRS AUCTION—This unusual scene took place in the County Courthouse of the Floyd County Courthouse on Thursday, June 27, at 1:30 p.m. About 20 persons were in attendance when these representatives of the Internal Revenue Service sold a house and five lots in Lockney to recover unpaid income taxes.

HIB vaccine available

A safe new vaccine that prevents the most common, life threatening bacterial diseases of young children is now available, according to Dr. Hale, Floydada's Public Health Officer.

This new vaccine prevents diseases caused by the germ known commonly as "HIB."

Dr. Hale said, "I strongly urge parents to contact their family doctor to have their child immunized against HIB diseases."

HIB diseases affect about one child in 200 before the age of 5 years. HIB diseases, which include spinal meningitis, are serious in nature. Many result in hospitalization, and up to 10 per cent can be fatal. This new vaccine is 90 per cent effective, according to Dr. Hale, in children between 24 months and 6 years of age.

The United States Public Health Service recommends that children 24 months of age and older receive this new vaccine. Because of their increased risk, children 18-23 months old who attend day-care centers should also be vaccinated.

"During the months of July and August," Dr. Hale said, "there will be plenty of vaccine available in your doctor's office."

Dr. Hale said his office would welcome calls for further information, as would other doctors in Floyd County.

Use caution with fireworks

Parades, picnics and fireworks displays are all July Fourth traditions enjoyed by most Americans. Another, often overlooked tradition, comes in the aftermath of the holiday--those news reports about people blinded, maimed, or killed by fireworks-related injuries.

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness, reports that in 1984, fireworks-related injuries rose 19 percent over the previous year. An estimated 9,857 people required hospital emergency room treatment last year, 1,255 of them having sustained eye injuries.

"Fireworks are not toys," cautions Dr. J. Franklin Howell, Medical Advisor of the Amarillo Branch. "Yet, 74 percent of all those people injured last year were under age 24. Without doubt, we need to keep fireworks out of the hands of young people."

In a recent study conducted by Arkansas ophthalmologists, bottle rockets were found to be a leading cause of fireworks-related injuries there.

The study revealed that nearly three-fourths of all injuries resulting in permanent vision loss were sustained by people harmed by bottle rockets.

"Small, but lethal, a bottle rocket is a single firecracker attached to a stick, and shot from a stationary object.

Usually, the suggested object is a pipe. However, more often than not, people use soda-pop bottles," says Dr. Howell.

According to the National Society to Prevent Blindness, these bottles can explode. Glass shrapnel thrown during the explosion can strike the face and eyes of bystanders, often causing severe, painful and irreversibly blinding injuries.

Among the other commonly available fireworks involved in injuries are firecrackers, M-80s, Roman candles, salutes and snakes. Even sparklers are unsafe. The Society says that a blinding burn can result if the sparkler makes contact with the eye.

"We recommend that people enjoy fireworks the one safe and sane way this July Fourth," Dr. Howell adds. "That is, view them at a licensed public display. Not on a street corner or in the backyard."

Established in 1908, the National Society to Prevent Blindness is the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in preventing blindness through a comprehensive program of community services, public and professional education and research.

Many benefits unclaimed

Although almost $18 billion was paid out in veterans benefits in 1983, billions more went unclaimed in the past few years. Every year eligibility for benefits and even the array of available benefits are changed and very few veterans of their survivors keep up with the latest rules.

These were the findings of a study group of the Consumer Education Research Center, a 15-year-old national non-profit consumer group. They found that over one-fourth of the money paid in veterans benefits goes to persons who never served in the armed forces of the United States. Most of these were related by blood or marriage to veterans but many were not. Others were members of the armed forces of countries who fought with us against our enemies.

Each year the Center compiles a book describing the latest rules on available benefits and how to qualify for those benefits.

The 1985 edition of Complete Guide to Government Benefits for Veterans, Their Families, and Survivors has just been issued. It is available for $5 (including postage) from CERC-Veterans Project, 439 Clark Street, South Orange, N.J. 07079.

Mr. Robert L. Berko, executive director of the consumer group, says that many survivors of veterans are unaware that they might be eligible to receive money, medical care, educational assistance, help in buying a home or other benefits. In fact, eligibility and benefits change constantly and some people ineligible in previous years are now able to start receiving money.

The study found that many people are unaware that they are considered dependents or survivors of veterans. These include those involved in illegal marriages, those who remarried before the death or disability of a veteran, children born out of wedlock to a veteran, parents of a veteran and even adopted grandchildren. Any of these may be eligible for benefits.

Mr. Berko says the study questioned veterans about benefits and found that most were unfamiliar with most of the benefits now being granted under Federal laws. Even veterans now collecting were unaware of benefits they were eligible for.

For instance, disabled veterans can receive apparel allowances if they use wheel chairs, artificial limbs or any prosthetic device that can wear or damage clothing.

The consumer group discovered that very few ex-GI's knew they could, in many cases, get dental treatment for non-service problems.

Few knew that limited income veterans over 65 or older are considered permanently and totally disabled and can collect up to $9,474. The amount increase $840 for each dependent child.

Other benefits the consumer group found that were little known are:

A veteran (or dependent) can receive up to $837 (40% in advance) if he or she will assist the VA in a work-study program.

A disabled veteran can receive the money to pay someone to aid a disabled spouse.

Federal agencies are required to establish affirmative action plans to facilitate employment and advancement of veterans with any degree of disability.

In addition the book includes information to help secure the information needed with VA applications. It has a complete listing of where to write for records of births, deaths, marriages and divorces for every state and the prices charged. Sample letters are included to insure that the applicant includes all information necessary to get these documents.

"As much as the Veterans Administration is anxious to assist former service people and their families," Mr. Berko states, "unless the person knows they are eligible and apply they will not collect anything."

The Complete Guide to Government Benefits for Veterans, Their Families and Survivors contains all benefits authorized as of December 1984. Copies can be obtained by sending $5 (plus $1 postage and handling) to CERC-Veterans Project, P.O. Box 336, South Orange, N.J. 07079.

AARP warns of estate planning services fraud

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) and various law enforcement agencies have been receiving an increasing number of complaints about sales agents who are fraudulently selling estate planning services by claiming to represent the "AARP Trust Division". AARP has no Trust Division and no sales agents authorized to visit or telephone members.

Persons claiming to represent AARP services are currently active in north central Texas and use a P.O. Box in Edmond, Oklahoma.

Their general approach is to contact older persons who have responded to an advertising coupon from the National Estate Information Service in Washington, D.C.; this coupon allows people to request information on estate planning and/or the Uniform Gift to Minors Act. People are then contacted directly by individuals who want to deliver the "information" personally.

In similar cases in Weatherford, Bridgeport, Decatur, and Wichita Falls, Texas, older persons have been deceived into turning over personal checks in the amount of $983.00.

It has always been a very strict policy of AARP to limit the offering of any AARP services to informational mailings only. There are no authorized agents of official AARP service providers who contact members by phone or in person to sell insurance, financial services, or other products. AARP does not provide the name, address or telephone number of any members to organizations other than those officially designated to provide services to AARP members.

Older persons especially should be wary of any high-pressure sales approach, particularly by individuals who claim to represent AARP. They should contact their local law enforcement agency or Better Business Bureau and AARP's regional office at 6440 North Central, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75206, telephone 214-369-9206.

Social Security News

By Terry J. Clements

When Bill died recently, Donna was surprised that she and her two small children could get monthly social security checks. She thought social security was primarily for older people. Also, Bill was only 23 and had worked in jobs covered by social security only a few years.

Today, Donna and her children are among some 7 1/4 million Americans receiving survivors benefits. The value of just this part of social security is worth nearly as much as the face value of all private life insurance in force.

The average benefit for a widow with two children is $988 a month in 1985. For an aged widow, the average payment is $415. Benefit amounts increase automatically each January if living costs have gone up 3 percent or more.

Most beneficiaries pay no federal income tax on benefits. Only if a person has high outside income in addition are part of the benefits subject to tax.

Children can get survivors benefits if the deceased parent worked under social security as little as 1 1/2 years in the 3 years before death. Payments generally continue until a child is 18 (or 19 if still in high school). However, benefits can be paid into adulthood if the individual becomes severely disabled before age 22.

A widow or widower caring for children entitled to social security can get benefits until the youngest child is age 16 (or longer if a child is disabled).

fore fathers have built here a wonderful country, whose birthday we will celebrate once again. But there is no assurance that future birthdays will be celebrated if we do not pay heed to the advice of Edmund Burk, written over 200 years ago.

"All that is necessary for evil to triumph," he wrote, "is that good men do nothing."

So Happy Birthday, everyone. We've got a lot to celebrate.

World championship goat barbeque cookoff slated

By Juanita Stepp

A pair of Floyd County's illustrious banking executives have been invited to serve as judges at the 12th Annual World Championship Barbeque Goat Cook-off being held Labor Day weekend in Brady, Texas. Gary Brown, vice president of the First National Bank of Floydada, and Kim King, president of the First National Bank in Lockney are scheduled to judge the event on Saturday, August 31.

This contest offers gurus of goat lore a chance to prove their skills in goat cookery. Up to 125 entries will be accepted with the payment of a $50.00 entry fee. Trophies will be awarded to the three top cooks, the three top showmen, and the cook who travels the farthest distance to compete. First prize will include the title of "Godfather of Goatdom" and a cash prize of $250.00. The second place cook will receive the title of "The Great Goatsby" and $175.00 in cash. A cash award of $75.00 will accompany the title of "Billy the Kid" for the third place finisher.

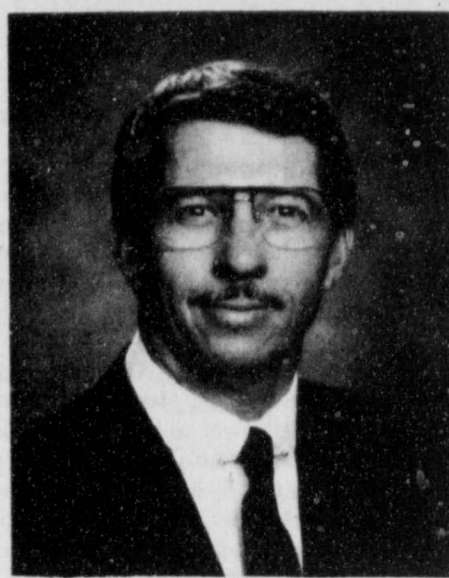

A new category has been added this year, as the eleven previous Godfathers of Goatdom have been invited to compete against each other for the title of Greatest of the Greats. A large trophy and one-half of the required $100.00 per contestant entry fee will be awarded to the cook judged as best.

The Labor Day holiday weekend promises to have fun for everyone beginning with the welcoming party on Friday evening and ending with the quarterhorse racing on Monday, September 2, at the G. Rolie White Downs in Brady. Other scheduled events include the goat pill toss-off, goat dressing contest, and tobacco spitting contest, all on Saturday. The great goat gallop, a 3.1 mile footrace, is also scheduled for Saturday.

The eighth annual arts and crafts fair will be held in conjunction with the goat barbeque. One hundred spaces, including 32 covered pavilion spaces, will be available for crafters and artists wishing to display their handmade articles at this open air fair. Food booths will also be available beneath the shady pecan trees of Richards Park on Brady Creek.

Further information for persons interested in entering any events, participating in the arts and crafts fair, or just in attending may be obtained by contacting the Brady/McCulloch County Chamber of Commerce. The mailing address is 101 East First Street, Brady, Texas 76825. The phone number is 915-597-2420.

Floyd County residents are invited to join in the fun Labor Day weekend. It just might be worth the trip to see the local bankers in action as goat barbeque gourmets.

Eppler is bank artist of the month

The First National Bank of Floydada is proud to present the work of James Eppler, professionally known as Jim Eppler, as the featured artist for the month of July. West Texas artist Eppler was born in Oakland, California on New Year's Day in 1950. He moved to Texas at an early age and grew up hiking, camping, and hunting in West Texas and New Mexico. He has been a resident of Lubbock for the past 19 years.

From an early age, Eppler displayed a fine talent for drawing, sketching, and painting which led him quite naturally to a career in art. He completed high school in Lubbock and graduated from Texas Tech University with a bachelor of fine arts degree. Eppler has painted professionally for the past 12 years and is equally adept in oils, watercolor, or multi-media.

Eppler loves the wide open spaces and the great outdoors. Periodically, he loads his sleeping bag, camping gear, sketch pad, and photographic equipment into a Volkswagen camper and takes off for the Texas hill country, Big Bend, or the New Mexico mountains. He also likes to travel the breaks of the Caprock and the surrounding range and ranchland. His works often reflect his interest in these areas.

Considering himself primarily a scene painter, most of Eppler's paintings depict some type of activity of either people or animals. His work is honest, forthright, and down to earth, never phoney or pompous. His portraits are casual in nature, avoiding the more stylified, formal type of portraiture.

These traits are evident in his current paintings.

Eppler's professional credits include MCA and Mercury Records album covers, album covers and book jackets for Tom T. Hall releases, and showings throughout West Texas, New Mexico, San Francisco, Houston, and New York City. His work is featured in the Nashville Country and Western Songwriters Hall of Fame where he portrayed 32 of the songwriters honored there.

The public is invited to come and enjoy the works of this area artist. His paintings will be on display in the lobby of the bank between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. each Monday thru Friday during the month of July. The bank will be closed on the 4th of July.

White was drafted into the Army from Plainview in 1966 and was first assigned to recruiting in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, in 1971 after serving three years in Japan.

Returning to Texas in 1982, White was a field recruiter and later a member of the management staff at Lubbock Army Recruiting Company.

White is a 1962 graduate of Tulia

High School and earned two years of college credit in business and counseling by attending Columbus College extension courses, Columbus, Georgia. He is the son of Mrs. Viola White of Tulia and the brother of Keith White of Plainview.

The Plainview recruiting area includes Abernathy, Petersburg, Floydada, Lockney, Hale Center, and Cotton Center.

"I'm happy to be coming back to my home area as a field recruiter," White said. "The Army has many new programs to offer young people, such as large bonuses for priority jobs, and the New G.I. Bill and the New Army College Fund."

White may be reached by phone at 296-9228 or at the recruiting station at 111 West 8th Street, Plainview.

Working women deserve vacation

Many of the women most in need of a vacation are the least likely to get one. According to Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service family life specialist Diane T. Welch, women who hold full-time jobs go home to another full-time job. Most women who work outside the home also shoulder the major burden for the proper care and function of her home and family in addition to her business responsibilities.

These women tend to save up major household projects such as heavy cleaning, yard work, sewing projects, or house painting until their vacation. Others continue to perform the same daily duties such as cleaning, cooking, childcare, and chauffeuring when the family takes a vacation in a camper or cabin. The scenery may be different, but the work remains unchanged.

Employed women who "vacation" in this way usually return to work as exhausted as they were when they left. They simply suffer from housewives exhaustion instead of working women exhaustion, according to Ms. Welch.

Working women should deliberately plan their vacation to include time devoted to relaxation says Welch. Time should be scheduled to allow doing absolutely nothing and doing things for fun.

Everyone deserves a break and time for leisure, but the working woman with a family is usually more in need of that break. A vacation should be used to renew and refresh your outlook and spirit in order to return to work in a more pleasant frame of mind. A satisfying vacation can be the cornerstone for another good year to be built on.

Uncle Calvin Denton 'Friend to all he met'

Editor's Note: Calvin Denton, a WWI veteran from Floyd County, died at the age of 93 in early spring this year in Montezuma County, Colorado. A brother of Mrs. Jim [Viola] Conner, he farmed in the Liberty Community shortly after he returned from the war until he moved to Colorado where he became a successful businessman and an outstanding civic leader. A personality sketch was written up in the Montezuma Valley Journal in March, 1985, by Paul Glaviano.

By all accounts, J.C. (Calvin) Denton was merely content to go about the business of serving his fellowman in an honest and dependable manner which drew the respect of all who knew him. He spent a lifetime quietly doing things to nurture people and the institutions which sustain them. Born November 28, 1891, in Riceville, Tennessee, Denton was nearly 30 when, after a hitch in the U.S. Army light artillery during World War I, he moved to Montezuma County and homesteaded some land about five miles east of the present day Pleasant View.

Denton was like glue — the sort that builds communities and holds them together. A businessman of notable skills and demonstrable success, he was a farmer, owned a trucking business, operated the Denton Store there, had a bean and grain warehouse, and started a Massey-Harris farm equipment dealership in 1948 which he sold in 1962.

Throughout his work of 44 years as treasurer and a director of Empire Electric, his role as an organizer of the Pleasant View Fire District and service as an active fireman on the volunteer department until 1966 at age 75, and his generous and loving support of children and the 4-H program, he carefully avoided the limelight.

The prospect of a man in his 90's still mentally sharp enough to handle the duties of treasurer for the board of directors of a dynamic business such as Empire Electric Association seems beyond comprehension.

But the image of Denton, soberly sitting at Empire board meetings, isn't the one principally remembered by most area residents who knew him. It's the image of "Uncle Calvin" — friend of all he met, and, especially, friend of children.

Never married, he nonetheless enjoyed a sort of grandfatherly relationship over the years with literally hundreds of youngsters from the Pleasant View area.

In the early 1960's, he began to donate cash prizes to 4-H youngsters who won ribbons for their various farm and livestock projects. He continued this practice each year until his death. In the late 1970's, insured that it would continue after he was gone by donating a $1,000 certificate of deposit at the Dolores State Bank, the interest from the perpetual C.D. is to be used each year for the prizes.

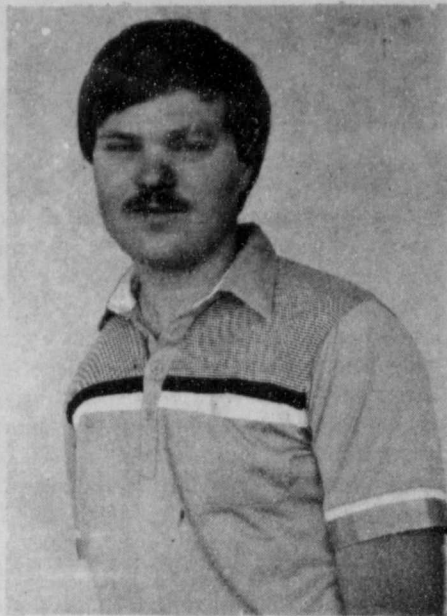

A memorial fund in his name was established upon his death. The money was added to the money at Dolores to help create better prizes for "Kalvin's Kids," as the Pleasant View 4-H has been popularly known for many years.

James Lambert, one of Denton's closest friends, captured much of the essence of the man's value to his community in a eulogy he presented at an annual Pleasant View Fire Department banquet the Saturday night following Denton's death:

"None of us can really appreciate how much this man has given us, either as individuals or the community as a whole, because this man never blew his own horn. Many people have been helped without really knowing the source of their help, or sometimes not even knowing they'd been helped, because he anticipated the bridge they'd have to cross and built the bridge before they got to it.

"But this stooped, white-haired man never waited for a thank you because his satisfaction came from being a doer. His greatness came, not from what he said or any show he put on, but because this very unselfish man was one who did.

"The name James Calvin Denton affectionately known to so many as 'Uncle Calvin'—will always be synonymous with Pleasant View and the many other rural communities of our great land because he was the best of what rural America is made of."

LAKEVIEW NEWS

By Joyce Williams

June 27, 1985:
More rain. Last Friday about 7 tenths of an inch fell over our community. Tuesday of this week Floydada got a cloudburst but Lakeview got only a sprinkle. The Tuesday rain stopped at William Bertrand's place.

David Pyle and Lanny Glasscock moved cattle Wednesday. Lots of grass for cattlemen this summer.

Jeremy Moses has been busy hoeing this summer, trying to keep the weeds out of his daddy's cotton.

Sunday visitors at the Don Harrisons included Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bob Harrison and daughter Amy of Lubbock. Also there was Mrs. Randy Pikala, (Marty) and daughter Kaci, and Max Harrison.

Fifteen inches of rain have been recorded so far this year at the Rex Harrisons' farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pyle and children went over to the Louis Pyle home Sunday evening for a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Iantha Smith, of Lubbock. Her son, Scott, accompanied her. Scott helped his grandfather with the wheat harvest at Post earlier in the month. He is 15 and a good hand. Iantha works for a psychiatrist in Lubbock.

A bicycle club traveled through Lakeview Saturday. Among the cyclists was Frank Barrow, of Tahoka, formerly of Floydada First National Bank. The members met at Cone, traveled through the Canyon and circled around through Floydada. They were scheduled to cycle over 60 miles. A van accompanied them, carrying water, food, bike repairs. Mr. Barrow was riding a 15 speed bicycle.

Saturday evening a party of Lubbock coon hunters appeared at the T-Bar, seeking permission to hunt coons along the river bottom. The men hunted on muleback, with hounds, to protect themselves from rattlesnakes. At about 4 a.m. they called in their hounds and went home.

Some wheat in our community still remains to be cut.

Watch your property. Thieves stole valuable equipment from Louis Pyle at the Lovell Jones farm. It is thought they got in while a lot of the dirt road was under water, but a back road was accessible through a field.

July 3, 1985:

Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Hartsell have returned home from a ten day trip to California with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hartsell. While Larry went to the gift fair to purchase merchandise for his pharmacy, Ruby and Blanton took the grandchildren, Brandon and Colby to Disneyland. Blanton and Ruby drove to Dallas and all flew to California. While they were gone, all the rain brought up the weeds and now Blanton's busy in the fields.

Mrs. Beverly Harrison is recovering from blisters in her mouth, caused by sunburn while hoeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds, Mrs. Lanny Glasscock and children visited in Crowell last week for the 50th anniversary of Ruth's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gafford. The Gaffords had gone out of town on vacation. While they were gone their

MRS. BRANDT MICHAELSON [MIKE] BEIGHTS

Ferguson and Beights pledge marriage vows

Leanne Ferguson and Brandt Michaelson (Mike) Beights were united in marriage in the First Baptist Church Chapel, Floydada, with the Rev. Howell E. Farnsworth Jr. officiating, Saturday, June 29 at 2:00 p.m. in the afternoon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gene Ferguson of Floydada. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rex Beights of Colorado City, Texas.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of English embroidered net. The Victorian neckline had a yoke of schiffli lace and pearls with ruffle around the yoke of chantilly lace. The full sleeves of English net had a wide cuff of silk venise lace with ribbon bows. The empire waistline finished in silk venise lace held a gathered skirt, also of venise lace, paneled with ribbon bows. The hemline of chantilly wide lace ruffle, lead to a chapel length train. For her headpiece the bride chose a cap covered with chantilly lace and pearls and a single veil edged in silk venise lace and ribbon bows.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and baby's breath accented with lemon leaves. Following tradition, for something "old" the bride wore her maternal great-grandmother's, the late Mrs. W.L. Finley, wedding ring. The bride's wedding attire was "new." A string of cultured pearls that was a wedding gift to the bride's mother was something "borrowed." The bride wore a "blue" garter made by the groom's mother.

A pair of seven branch brass candelabras, adorned with pink carnations, white daisies, and baby's breath on a bed of trailing plumosa fern, decorated the altar area. A unity candelabra and the family pews were also decorated with plumosa fern and white satin bows.

Mrs. Bill Hardin was the organist. Mrs. George Finley, aunt of the bride, was pianist. "The Wedding Song" was presented by Mr. George Finley, uncle of the bride.

Serving as maid of honor was Kelli Ferguson of Lubock, sister of the bride. She wore a formal gown of pink organza featuring a large cape-collar effect. A satin band encircled the fitted waist and was finished with a flat bow and streamers at the waist back. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath attached to a white lace fan.

David Albin of Stephenville served as best man. Ushers were Kevin Reker of Midland, Yancey Spivey of San Angelo, and Joe Hinkle of Floydada.

A reception followed the wedding in the Wall Street Parlor. Guests were registered by Kellie Beights of Colorado City, sister of the groom.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and was highlighted with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with tiny pink rosebuds, baby's breath and fresh greenery. Pink satin ribbons cascaded down the sides of the cake. The bride's and attendants bouquets centered the table. Punch, mixed nuts and mints were also served. Silver appointments were used throughout.

Presiding at the bride's table were Hilda Henriques of Lubbock, Ellen Buzbee of Lubbock, and Kim Harrison of Wellman.

The groom's table was covered with a pleated white antique satin cloth. Margie Oliver of Loraine and Virginia Tammen of Colorado City served german chocolate cake, a variety of cheeses, and coffee.

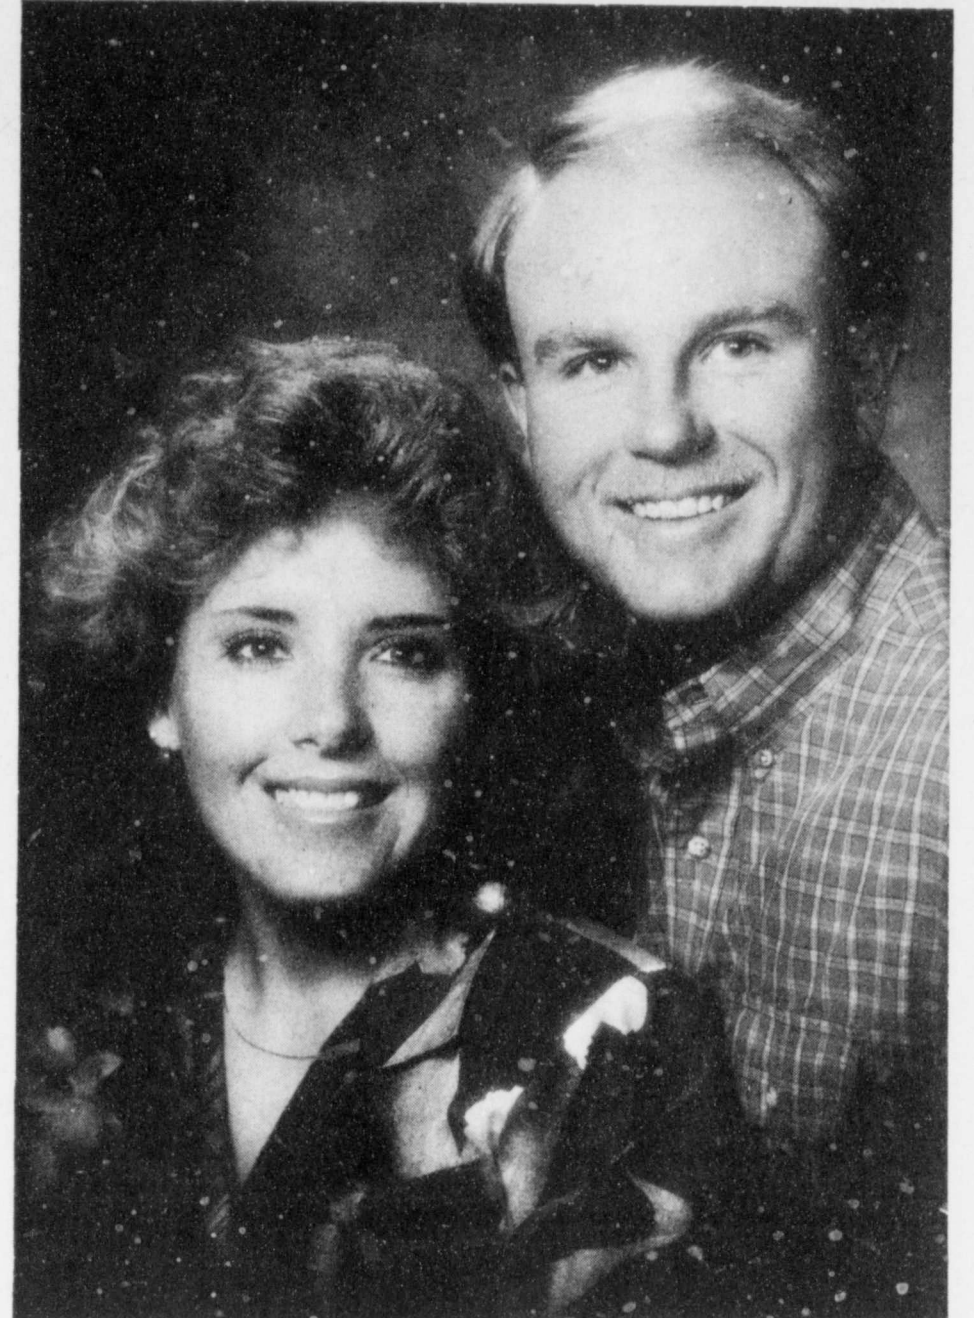

Satin roses and rice were presented to each guest by Kellie Beights, sister of the groom, and Shanna Ferguson, cousin of the bride.

Members of the houseparty included Mmes. Bill Pigg, Shorty Turner, Ray Morton, Bill Fulton, Billy Fulton, Max Yeary, Billy Gene Hinkle, Billy Hinkle, Gordon Kirtley, and Norman Ferguson.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Colorado City. The groom attended Colorado City High School and Ranger College, and is employed by Colorado City Plumbing. The bride, a graduate of Floydada High School and Texas Tech University, is teaching at Colorado High School.

Other pre-nuptial courtesies included a shower in the home of Mrs. Johnny Tammen of Colorado City; and a barbeque hosted by Mrs. Georgia Finley, grandmother of the bride, of Floydada.

COUPLE MARRIED—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Keith would like to announce the marriage of their daughter Susan Carol to James Clay Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Simpson of Floydada. The couple was wed on May 29, 1985 in Floydada, where they are now residing.

SOS completes busy month

The Floydada Spirit of Sharing has just completed its busiest month since its opening in January of 1983. During the month of June alone, 95 families were helped with food and/or clothing, a total of 500 persons. Most of the people had run out of work in the Rio Grande Valley and came here only to find the crops later than expected, plus the additional problem of the recent rains.

The unsung heroes of the month were the volunteers who worked long, hard hours to meet as many needs as possible. Some worked two or three afternoons a week to fill in for or to provide extra assistance to the assigned workers.

Now that the pace has slowed, they want to say thank you to all who worked so hard and to invite new volunteers to get involved. It is satisfying work, and the relationships with the other volunteers and with the clients is truly a bonus.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO IMPLEMENT RATES
 General Telephone Company of the Southwest in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas gives notice of its intent to implement new exchange access rates for the provision of shared tenant and tenant resale services.

These proposed rates are applicable to customers of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, excluding hotel/motel customers, who provide local exchange telephone service of General Telephone Company of the Southwest to their tenants or patrons on a resale or shared use basis. This resale or sharing arrangement is normally provided utilizing a customer-provided PABX or other similar stored control switch capable of common control processing or other features commonly associated with a PABX "Smart" switch.

These proposed rates are designed to recover costs on a usage basis for local exchange telephone service access and are identical to General Telephone's "Optional Measured Service" rates. The monthly access rate will be $28.95 per trunk line and the usage rates are as follows:

Over	Up To and Including	Band	Set Up	Full Rate Period Each Minute
0	7 miles	A	$.025	$.015
7	14 miles	B	.035	.021
14	21 miles	C	.050	.030
21	28 miles	D	.070	.042
28		E	.090	.054

As this is a new service offering, we are unable to determine the number of customers who may be affected. Currently, there are no known prospective customers. Until any customer utilizes this new offering, there will be no effect on the revenues of the telephone company, and in any event, the telephone company does not expect revenues to be affected by more than 2½ percent. These proposed rates, where applicable, will provide tariffed local exchange access to customers who then will provide shared or resale services to tenants.

These proposed rates have been suspended by the Public Utility Commission of Texas and will become effective as proposed or modified by order of the Commission on a date to be determined by the commission.

The proposed rate schedule is on file with the Commission for public inspection and is also available at any business office of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumers Affairs Division at (512)458-0223 or (512)458-0227, or (512)458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

FARM NEWS

AROUND THE COUNTY By Richard Crow

Farmers need to consider what to do with crop residue as they wrap up their wheat harvest. Among crop residue management options are burning, clean tillage, conservation tillage and chemical fallow, says Richard Crow, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Burning of wheat stubble is the least desirable option because it leaves the land unprotected and subject to erosion says Crow. It also prevents the opportunity to add organic matter to the soil and destroys important plant nutrients including nitrogen and sulfur, which could help succeeding crops.

Clean tillage involves burying most of the wheat straw, leaving the surface virtually barren of any crop residues, explains Crow. Use of a moldboard or disk plow can reduce surface residue levels as much as 90 percent. Each disking operation with a disk harrow may cover about 50 percent of the surface residue. So two or three diskings will leave little crop residue on the soil surface.

Conservation tillage will maintain desirable levels of wheat straw on the surface after tillage, says Crow. Research at Bushland (in the Texas Panhandle) has shown that wide-blade sweeps or rod weeder reduce surface residues by about 10 percent in each tillage operation. Other implements such as chisel plows, subsoilers or sweep cultivators bury about 25 percent of the wheat stubble in each tillage operation. Some producers are using herbicides to complement weed control efforts in these operations.

Chemical fallow, or use of herbicides to control weeds and grasses between crops, is another alternative for managing wheat residue. This practice can eliminate, or at least reduce, tillage operations. If tillage is necessary to supplement weed control offered by herbicides, farmers should consider using wide-blade sweeps or rod weeders, advises Crow.

Each of these crop residue management options has advantages and disadvantages, says Crow. The option farmers select will be affected by a number of production conditions, including the amount of wheat stubble, perennial weeds, compaction pans in the soil, type of tillage and planting equipment available, and cost of herbicides.

Clean tillage, using the moldboard plow or disk harrow, may lend itself to conditions where irrigated wheat has produced a large volume of residue, where perennial weeds are a problem, or where compaction pans are present in soils.

Conservation tillage and chemical fallow systems offer a number of advantages, notes Crow. Such operations keep wheat stubble on the surface to increase moisture storage, reduce soil erosion and aid weed control. Additionally, conservation tillage systems can conserve energy, reduce labor and lessen the wear on equipment through reduced usage. Also, less tillage helps avoid soil compaction problems and deterioration of soil tilth.

However, conservation tillage also has some drawbacks, notes Crow. These include the inability to deep till to break deep compaction pans and the

Eudy rates career ladder

Billy Jack Eudy, a graduate and former teacher at Floydada High School, has been selected to step two of the Teacher Career Ladder at Roosevelt High School.

Eudy, business teacher at Roosevelt for 17 years, was one of nine junior high and senior high teachers chosen by a committee of teachers and administrators. Eleven elementary teachers were also named.

Each recipient received a cash supplement of $1,791 in June.

Tech awards degrees to locals

Degrees in Accounting and Journalism have been awarded to two Floydada residents by Texas Tech University, according to school officials.

Norman Allen, son of Harvey and Judy Allen, received a Bachelors Degree in Accounting.

Terri Rae Lloyd, daughter of Janet and Melvin Lloyd, also of Floydada, received her Bachelor's degree in the field of Journalism.

Crow places 1st and receives cotton award

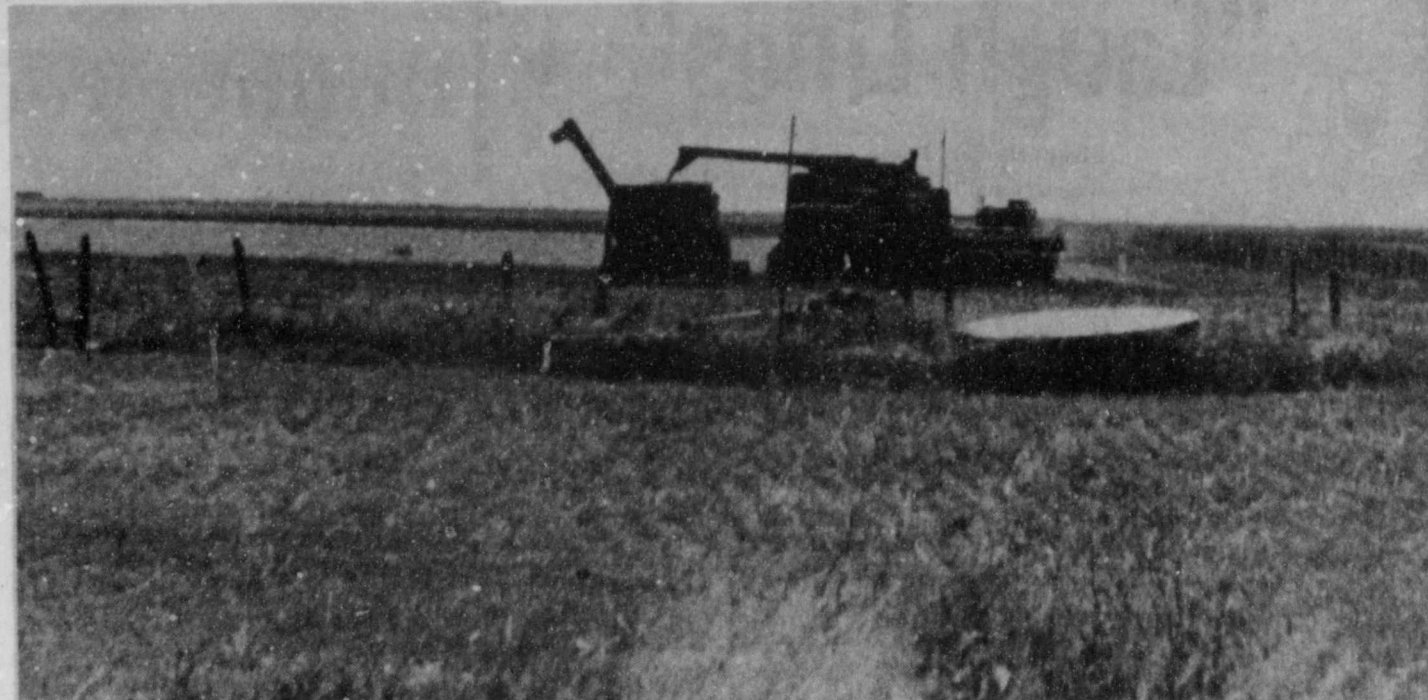

Floydada's own Jennifer Crow, one of six young ladies from Floyd County attending the 4-H Dress Revue in Lubbock on Friday, earned a 1st place rating. Her entry in the Junior I division was in the Daytime Non-tailored category. She was also the recipient of the Cotton Award presented by the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary. Crow received a gift certificate and a sewing machine cover from JoAnn's Fabrics of Lubbock.

Carolyn Turner of Lockney was also entered in the Junior I division. Her entry was an outfit in the Active Sportswear category.

Sharon Smith, Shannon Paty, and Mindy Matsler, all of Floydada, entered the Junior II division. Smith's entry was in evening and specialty wear. Paty entered the Daytime Non-tailored category. Matsler's entry was in the Active Sportswear class.

The only Floyd County entry in the senior division was made by Loretta Turner of Lockney. Turner's entry was in the Daytime Non-tailored category.

The girls were accompanied to the contest by their parents. Mary True, County Home Extension Agent, was also in attendance both as sponsor for the girls and to assist in the days activities.

WHILE FOURTH OF JULY holidays will find many Floyd County folks heading for their favorite vacation spots, many others are racing to take advantage of excellent harvest weather. Here a combine unloads wheat under a cloudless sky in the Lakeview community.

Insect scouting workshop set for July 9th

Cotton, corn and sorghum producers in Floyd County are invited to the second part of the Annual High Plains Scout Training Workshop to increase the effectiveness of their pest management programs.

The last of two workshop sessions will focus on middle and late season pests and will be held Tuesday, July 9, at the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview. The center is on U.S. 87

Business Route south of the city. The first workshop, in June, covered middle and late season crop pests.

The workshop, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, was first held in 1973 to train scouts in the pest management programs conducted by Extension, part of the Texas A&M University System.

The workshop will begin at 8:30 a.m. with Dr. James Leser, Extension Entomologist, outlining the scope of the training and explaining general concepts. Leser will then open the cotton pest section with information on bollworms and budworms. Beet armyworms, loopers and aphids will be discussed by Greg Cronholm, Extension Agent-Entomology headquartered at Plainview.

The daylong workshop will conclude with a field session in which participants will identify pests and beneficials and practice scouting techniques.

Educational program conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Direct writing of all-risk crop insurance by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) will continue at least through the 1986 crop year.

On March 11 FCIC Manager Merritt W. Sprague proposed in a formal rulemaking action that FCIC discontinue direct writing and become strictly a reinsurance company. Sales and servicing of crop insurance were to be left in the hands of commercial companies reinsured under an agreement with FCIC.

Despite assurances to the contrary, Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the Texas Association of Cotton

Chris Hennagan is promoted

Chris K. Hennagan, son of Leel and D. Hennagan of Garfield, Arkansas, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of senior airman.

Hennagan is a weapons specialist at Vandenberg Air Force Base, California, with the 394th Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Test Maintenance Squadron.

His wife, Roxanne, is the daughter of Ray N. and Ann Ford of Floydada.

He is a 1980 graduate of Lockney High School.

Producers Organizations and others protested that such action would jeopardize the future of federal crop insurance as envisioned by Congress, eventually giving a few commercial companies too much control over premium rates, coverage levels and loss adjustment. Concern was also expressed that the current requirement that insurance be offered to all producers in all regions could be "lost in the shuffle," leaving producers in high risk areas without protection.

After three months of further study, Sprague announced earlier this month that direct FCIC writing of insurance would continue, but with substantial changes in both the "Master Marketing" agreement with agents and the FCIC structure.

Since implementation of the Crop Insurance Act of 1980, crop insurance has been sold both by Master Marketers, agents for the sales and service of policies written by the federal government (direct writing), and by private insurance companies who sell identical policies for which the companies assume risk but are reinsured by the federal government against catastrophic losses (reinsured companies).

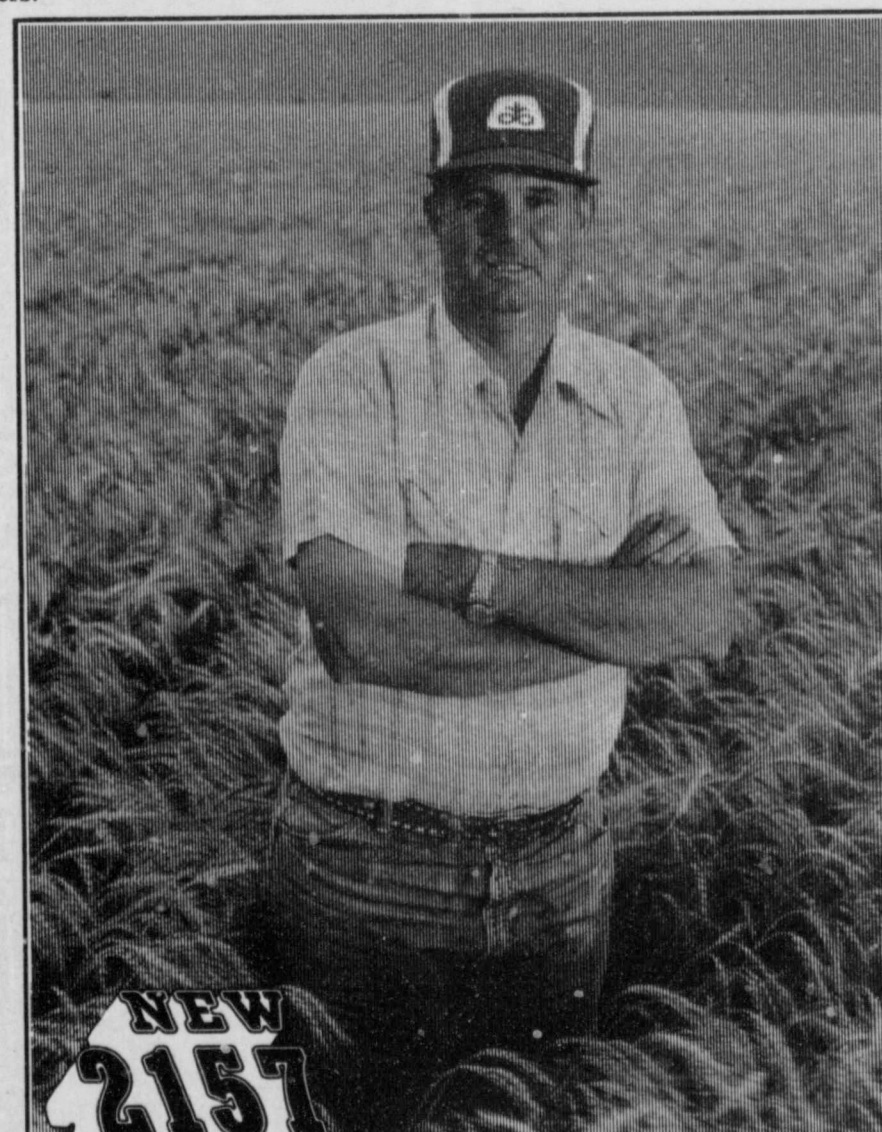

According to a USDA news release, Sprague said the decision not to convert

FCIC to strictly a reinsurance function was based on several factors "including the Administration's commitment that crop insurance be available to all farmers as directed by the Crop Insurance Act of 1980." He added, however, that "We fully intend to follow up on the commitment to scale down the federal operation and make it more reflective of the shift in business to reinsurance operations."

The current FCIC work force was designed to handle around $300 million in direct insurance, while recent estimates indicate that government policies in 1985 may only amount to about $130 million. Roughly $305 million, over 70 percent of the total, is expected to be written by reinsured commercial companies.

The USDA news release concluded by quoting Sprague as saying "The kind of program and operation that I am recommending is one that is fair, promotes competition, and assures a high quality of service to policyholders."

Superior grain yields with a good grazing bonus. Excellent straw strength, too!

Our researchers were impressed by the tremendous pasture production and grain yields from these new varieties during testing. And now that the varieties have stood the test of actual production on many farms under many conditions, the proof is in!

They grow off well and show strong resistance to SBMV, leaf rusts, fungal leaf blights, and the Hessian fly.

- New 2157 gives you good, early grazing, then stays with you through the winter. And the grain yields are right up there with anything you care to compare it against. Choose 2157 for dryland or limited water production.
- New 2165 works with your irrigation program to make the most of all you put into the crop. Pasture comes on strong in the fall and grain yields are among the best you'll find, bar none.

Down on the FARM WATCH UP FOR POWER LINES

Power lines can be dangerous.

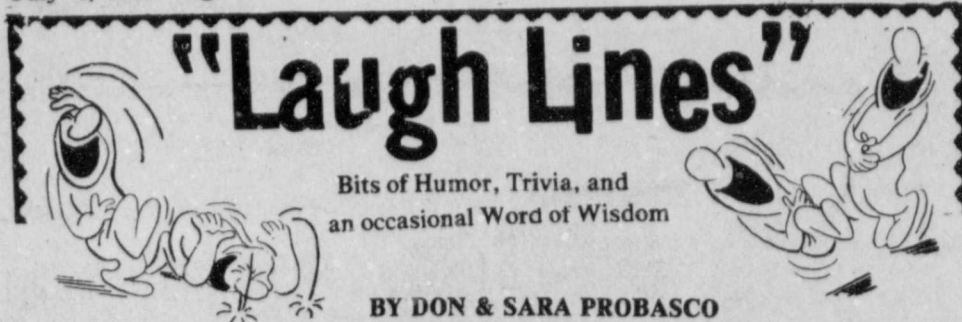

Touching irrigation pipe to a power line can divert the electricity through the pipe... and to anyone in contact with it. In this part of the country, this is the leading cause of farm injuries and deaths in electricity-related accidents. Any equipment of unusual height represents a potential danger. Lift arms on field equipment, combine auger spouts and even radio antennas can cause serious injury or death if they, and you, make contact with a power line.

Keep an eye up for power lines. Watch up, for safety's sake.

Boulter requests Social Security protection

In response to a breakdown in Budget Conference Committee negotiations, Congressman Beau Boulter (R 13th) has obtained seventy (70) signatures on a letter asking Conference Chairman Pete Domenici to take Social Security of Living Adjustments (COLAs) out of the budget negotiations completely.

The letter co-signed by Boulter and Jim Lightfoot (R-IA) stated that the signers "believe that Social Security is not part of the deficit problem and are opposed to eliminating, reducing or postponing Social Security Cost of Living adjustments."

"This letter was a direct result of the gridlock we had reached, and of the need we saw for Republicans to stand up and make clear the fact that there are plenty of us who are against a COLA freeze", said Boulter, the only freshman member of the Budget Conference Committee.

The Budget Conference Committee, made up of twenty-six Representative and Senators, began meeting in early June but made no significant progress toward a compromise budget resolution. "We were not getting anywhere", Boulter said, "and while I think the Social Security issue was a problem, I believe the real reason no progress was made is because the Democrats on the House side were willing to agree to any of the thirteen terminations proposed by the Senate."

The Boulter/Lightfoot letter was circulated on Thursday morning, requesting in addition to the Social Security provision, that the Budget Conference go back to the table and try again to work toward a deficit reducing package. "When I called Senator Domenici to tell him about the letter he told me that he was reconvening the Conference that afternoon."

During the afternoon meeting the Senate offered a proposal to House Members, which is being considered and will be discussed when the Conference reconvenes on July 9. "We aren't sure what will happen with the Social Security issue", Boulter admitted, "but we are now on record against a freeze, and are hopeful that the seventy House Republican signatures will weigh heavily in any further negotiations."

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS

South Plains, July 1.

The weather is beautiful this first day of July, and we pray the hails and hard rain escape us for this year. The days and nights have been very nice and cool. Young cotton and maize are growing well in this weather, and sunflowers continue to grow like weeds, as they spring up so fast.

Several visitors were present for Sunday services, and we were proud to welcome visitors from Florida and from Bossier City, Louisiana and Perryton, Texas. Mrs. Dee Ann Sullwood, Lauren and Nickolas were from Louisiana, and Bruce Julian, Clay and Wade were from Perryton. The David Julians and Susan, Mrs. Carla Julian, and Michelle Julian from Florida were all at the Baptist Church Sunday morning for services, and it was so good to have Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton back at church services. Latham Dickens was here with the Hendersons. He is from Plainview.

Fourth of July always seems such a hot time of the year, but not so much here this year. Remember to fly the stars and stripes on that day to show how proud you are to be an American.

We were happy to have Raymond and Nina Upton present at church services Sunday morning and also were so happy to have them back in church.

Bruce Julian and boys, Clay and Wade were here with the Kendis Julians and Mrs. M.M. Julian from Friday through Sunday, as they came down from Perryton.

We wish to add our congratulations to Frank and Ora Brown on their Golden Wedding anniversary which was held at the First Baptist Church in Lockney from 3-5 p.m. June 22. They are such good friends of many years.

Mrs. Rufus Yound of Floydada passed away at her home in Floydada this Monday night with a sudden heart seizure. We extend our sympathy to all her family and especially the children.

Visiting here this week in South Plains with Connie and Nathan Johnson and boys are Dee Ann Sullwood, Lauren and Nickolas. Mrs. Sullwood is Nathan's sister, and she and her family reside in Bossier City, Louisiana. She will be here several days visiting with the Johnsons, and will spend ten days with them. She flew here with the children. Sunday dinner guests with the Johnsons and guests were Rev. and Mrs. Cecil and Joyce Osborne.

Mr. J.A. Kinnibrugh of Truscott drove here and spent the night and part of Sunday with his son and family, Sylvan and Bobbie Kinnibrugh. Mr. Kinnibrugh is elderly and the Kinnibrughs were surprised to have him drive this far.

Mr. and Mrs. Early and Nell Pritchett from Ruidoso, New Mexico will be arriving here at their home on Tuesday to spend some time. Mrs. Pritchett has some doctor appointments while she is here.

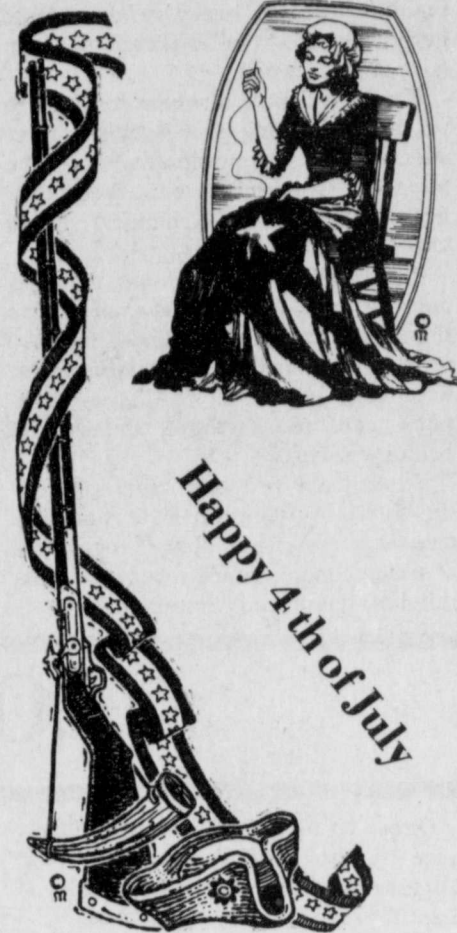

Mr. and Mrs. David Julian, their daughter Susan, and Mrs. Carla Julian and granddaughter Michelle Julian, all of Hollywood, Florida, came June 21 on Friday evening by motor van and are visiting the next ten days here with Kendis and Janis Julian and Tim and Mrs. Bonnie Julian. Mitzi Julian came home over the weekend from Lubbock, and from Perryton, Bruce Julian and boys, Clay and Wade came from Friday to Sunday evening. The Terry Julians, Leona and grandson Jason Barnes, were here during the week, and a wonderful vacation was in progress. They all visited Lubbock, Plainview and surrounding towns, and had a picnic in Quitaque Park one evening, among the various trips they made. Weather cooperated and there were some showers but not too bad.

Everyone was up early Monday morning, July 1, and all the guests departed for their own house, leaving a silence with me. We miss everyone of them, and yet how thankful we are that we were allowed to have this glorious vacation together, and we trust they liked us and Texas and will return. One of the things they enjoyed in Dallas was going to the set of "Dallas", where some of the filming will be going on for the fall opening of the show. We miss all our folks but how wonderful they could all come.
