ARE YOU OVERWHELMED with the events going on in the world? Do you reach for your aspirin bottle more often than you formerly did? An article in the April issue of Reader's Digest states, with specific examples, some things we have been saying off and on for the past 20 years.

The main point is that the mass media (network television, big magazines and newspapers) are guilty of spotlighting the bad news, at the expense of good news. The title of the article is "The Good News is the Bad News is Wrong."

Author Ben Wattenberg says that the following criteria are used to determine news value: (1) Bad news is big news; (2) Good news is no news or (3) Good news is bad news.

Wattenberg points out that many of the "scare" stories turn out NOT to be as bad as they are presented by the media. For example, the Love Canal, N.Y., episode, where companies dumped chemicals between the years of 1942 to 1953.

Several investigations have been conducted, and after a physicians' panel studied the issue, it was concluded "There has been no demonstration of acute health effects linked to exposure to hazardous wastes at the Love Canal site."

However, due to the big media hype, the residents of that area practically deserted their homes, and the federal government has paid out enormous sums of money.

Another item was the "mercury in fish scare." It turned out, Wattenberg says, that actual mercury levels were no higher than those found in ancient fish fossils or in 100-year-old pickled fish in the Smithsonian Institution.

Other results of the "scare tactics" include the following: saccharin is not dangerous in quantities consumed by humans; nitrates are apparently not carcinogenic, so the Food and Drug Administration and the U.S.D.A. have decided against a ban; Lake Erie is not dead from eutrophication; and the advent of super-sonic aircraft has not led to sonic booms yielding insanity nor to an increase in cancer.

Author Wattenberg is quick to point out that not all of the "scare" tactics turn out to be false. He lists a number of truly dangerous items, including thalidomide, Kepone, asbestos, lead, formaldehyde, environmental arsenic, PBBs, agricultural and industrial dusts, benzene, banned food dyes, carbon tetrachloride and PCBs.

And, he argues with charges that our nation's values are eroding. Our people are not necessarily falling away from religion. School drop-outs are down from 25 per cent in 1970 to 14 per cent in 1982.

The family unit continues to be a strong force in the lives of Americans, despite more divorces, more working women, more singles and unmarried couples. A survey revealed that 90 per cent of those polled thought one's family and children were very important.

Another "myth" which the writer helps tear down is the charge that the work ethic has declined in our country. Actually, he says, the work ethic is alive and well, as evidenced by numerous workers who will take pay cuts in order to keep their jobs and keep their plant from closing.

Wattenberg discussed the problem posed by a media which believes it cannot attract an audience without a daily massive dose of bad news.

People tend only to remember the worst parts of news reports, and the media does not make the big fuss over problems when they are corrected, or proven to have been stated in error. In fact, they are apt to just ignore such situations.

The result, according to the writer, is apt to be that Americans are likely to take what they hear and read in the mass media with a grain of salt. And this, too, could be a bad situation.

UNCLE AUSTIN ELLIS says "Kids are really good mimics. They act just like their parents in spite of every effort to teach them good manners."

Council Turns Down Memorial Park Bid

The Friona City Council voted unanimously against having the city assume ownership of the Friona Memorial Park located west of town, at its regular meeting April 16.

The proposition had been made by representatives of Friona Memorial Park at the council's March meeting, and was tabled by the council for further study.

In other business, the council canvassed the annual city election results.

Two requests for variances of the city's mobile home ordinance were approved. One was for Steve Jones at 1401 North Pierce, and another for R.N. Gore at 1403 North Washington.

Bids had been sought for the purchase of two fuel storage tanks with pumps. After opening the bids, a motion was passed to award the contract for the tanks and pumps to Wilborn Manufacturing Company of Amarillo, at a bid amount of $6,671.42.

The tanks will be used to store gasoline for use by the city's vehicles. At the present time, fuel for city vehicles is purchased from key-pump operators.

The council heard a presentation from the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper on the status of the city's sewer plant addition. Designs on the new plant are about 50 per cent completed, according to the report.

City Manager Beelee Goodwin gave a report on the status of the city's application for funds for a Community Development Block Grant, which is being sought to provide paving for 10 to 15 blocks of streets in southern Friona.

Application for the funds will be made through the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

Goodwin points out that the money is especially earmarked to benefit low to moderate income areas in the way of paving, drainage, etc.

The proposed paving is for an area on Ashland, Woodland and Prospect streets south of Fifth Street.

Cemetery Association Names New Officers

The Board of Directors for the Friona Cemetery Association met at City Hall, April 16, in their Annual Meeting to canvass the ballots that had been returned and determine the election of officers.

Those elected were Roy V. Miller, Geneva Williams and Russell O'Brian for a three year term. In re-organizing the Board Roy V. Miller was elected as president; John Fred White, vice president; Geneva Williams, secretary; Mary Joyce Barnett, assistant secretary; Juanita Reed, treasurer; and Johnny W. Hand, assistant treasurer.

The Association donated $1,200.00 to the City of Friona for the completion of the sprinkler system and installation of a water fountain and a water connection for the use of anyone who might want to use it.

The State Highway Department is to be contacted about placing an official sign on the highway showing direction to the cemetery, as there is no sign currently indicating this location. Other plans were discussed about improvements that could be made and suggestions are welcomed from anyone interested in the improvement and beautification of the cemetery.

"The City of Friona has been working at the cemetery and it is in very good condition at this time and the grass is beginning to green up. The weeds have been mowed and we appreciate this work being done," Miller said.

Additional names and addresses of anyone who is interested in becoming a member of the association should be given to any member of the board of directors and these names will be added to the current mailing list.

"We especially would like to have names and addresses of all property owners and relatives so that this mailing list can be kept up to date. Your cooperation would be appreciated by your association," Miller concluded.

Chiefs Will Compete In Extra Meet

The Friona Chieftains will enter a regional qualifiers' meet at Panhandle on Saturday, April 28.

Entering will be Daniel Gowens in the high jump; John Aguirre in the 400 meter dash; Eloy Caballero in the intermediate hurdles and Charlie Morgan in the long jump.

Both Chieftain relay teams will also participate, said Coach Steve Williams.

Field events start at 11 a.m. Running finals start at 2 p.m.

I SAW IT FIRST.... Youngsters who attended the regular story hour at Friona Public Library were treated on Thursday to an Easter egg hunt on the lawn at Prairie Acres Nursing Home.

Residents at Prairie Acres decorated the eggs, and enjoy having the youngsters come for the hunt.

The Friona restaurant will feature free coffee all day Monday, as well as free Pepsi Cola. It also will have free donuts from 9-11 a.m.

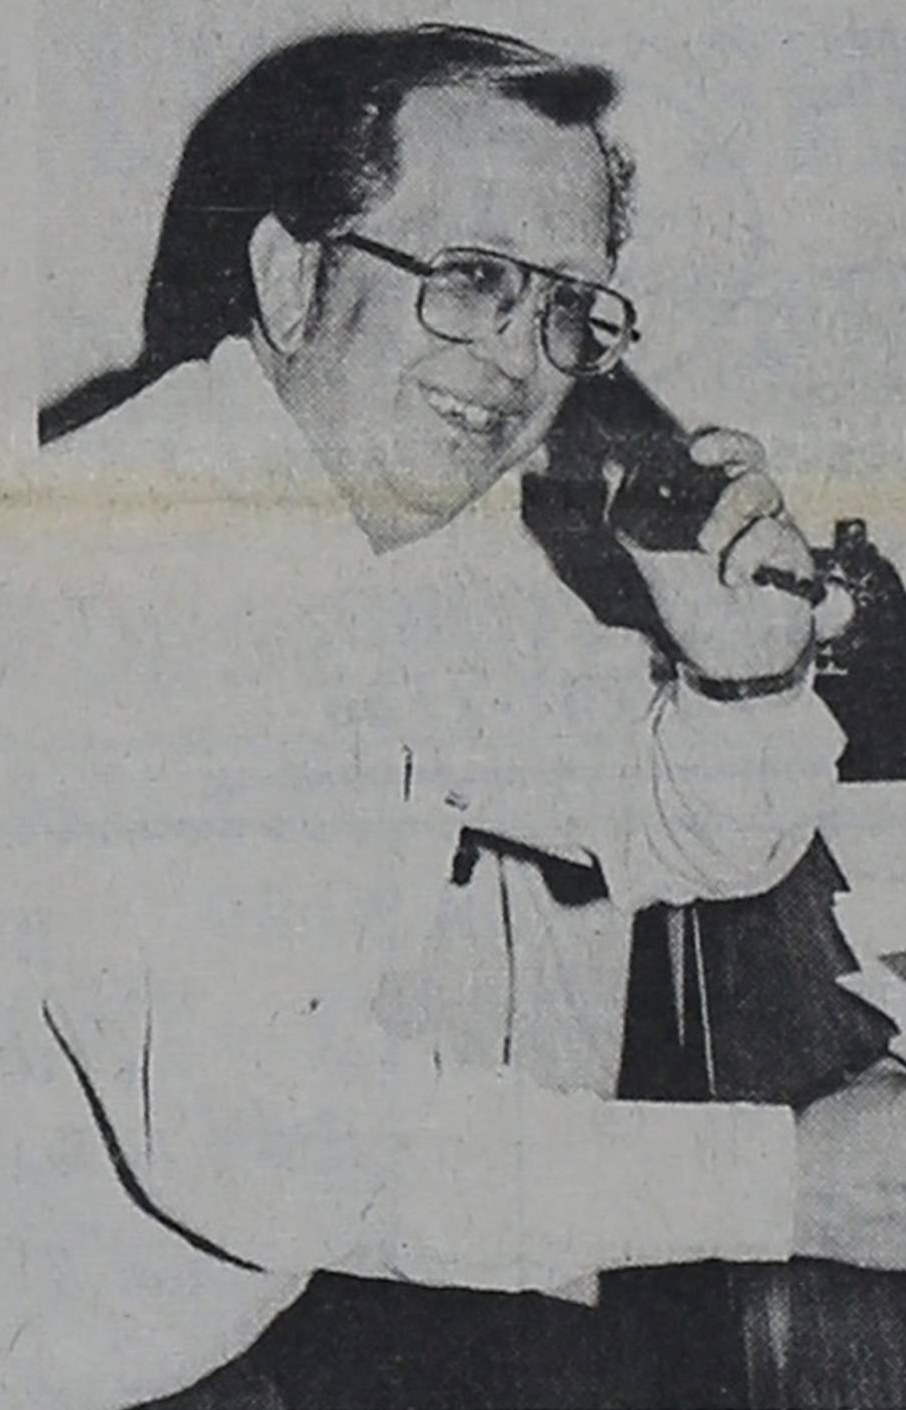

The noon lunch special on Monday will be $3.95, and for the evening meal, charbroiled steaks will be featured at $1 off the regular price.

Those attending the grand opening are asked to register for free door prizes, which include sets of steak knives, a rod and reel, and gift certificates. The drawing will be held at 8 p.m. Monday.

School Out For Easter

School dismissed at 2:45 p.m. Thursday for the Easter Holidays, and will be out the entire week of April 23-27.

Classes will resume following the week's layoff, at the regular time on Monday, April 30.

JIM TUCKER

Tucker Is Associated With Star

Jim Tucker has joined the Friona Star as advertising salesman.

Tucker has been a resident of Friona for the past four years. He has a broad background in advertising sales, mostly in the radio field.

He got his start in the advertising field at radio station KZOL in Farwell in 1968. For ten years (1970-1980), he sold advertising on the local, regional and national level for station KPAN in Hereford, and served as the station's farm program coordinator.

While working in Hereford, he received a number of awards from the Texas Assn. of Broadcasters for creative commercials.

He came to Friona in June of 1980, as a special agent for Parmer County Farm Bureau, and in July of 1981 established the National Farmers Union Insurance Company for Parmer County.

He has received a number of awards for life insurance sales while with the Farmers Union Company.

Tucker also holds his auctioneer's license, and one of his hobbies has been announcing and helping produce rodeos. He has conducted charity auctions, including 4-H and FFA livestock show sales and projects for Girlstown, USA.

While at Hereford, he served as director for the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame Rodeo and was general chairman for the rodeo in 1978 and 1979. He is a member of the Friona Riders Club and serves as Parmer County 4-H Horse Program adult leader.

Tucker and his wife Jeanie are members of Union Congregational Church.

8th Grade Band Wins Top Award

The Friona eighth grade band received a "Sweepstakes" award at the Lake Meredith Music Festival on Thursday, April 12.

The band received a Division I rating in the concert portion of the contest, performing "Korean Folk Song Medley" and "Russian Sailor's Dance."

The band also received a "I" in sight-reading. The band is directed by Zane Polson.

Gerald Smith, one of the contest judges, said "You did a good job on this piece. On everything today, the band sounded good overall. (It is) evident (that) good teaching is going on there. Kids--you have a good band--now, strive to make it better each year. I really enjoyed it."

The band received a trophy for its contest competition, which was conducted under the format of the University Scholastic League judging procedures.

Egg Hunt Slated Sunday

The Friona Riding Club is sponsoring its annual Easter egg hunt at 2 p.m. Easter Sunday (April 22), at the Riding Club Arena.

The hunt will be divided into four age divisions: one and two year olds; three to five year olds; six to nine year olds and 10 to 12 year olds.

Members of the club will hide 1200 candy eggs, as well as three dozen plastic prize eggs.

The boy and girl from each age division finding the most eggs will also receive a prize.

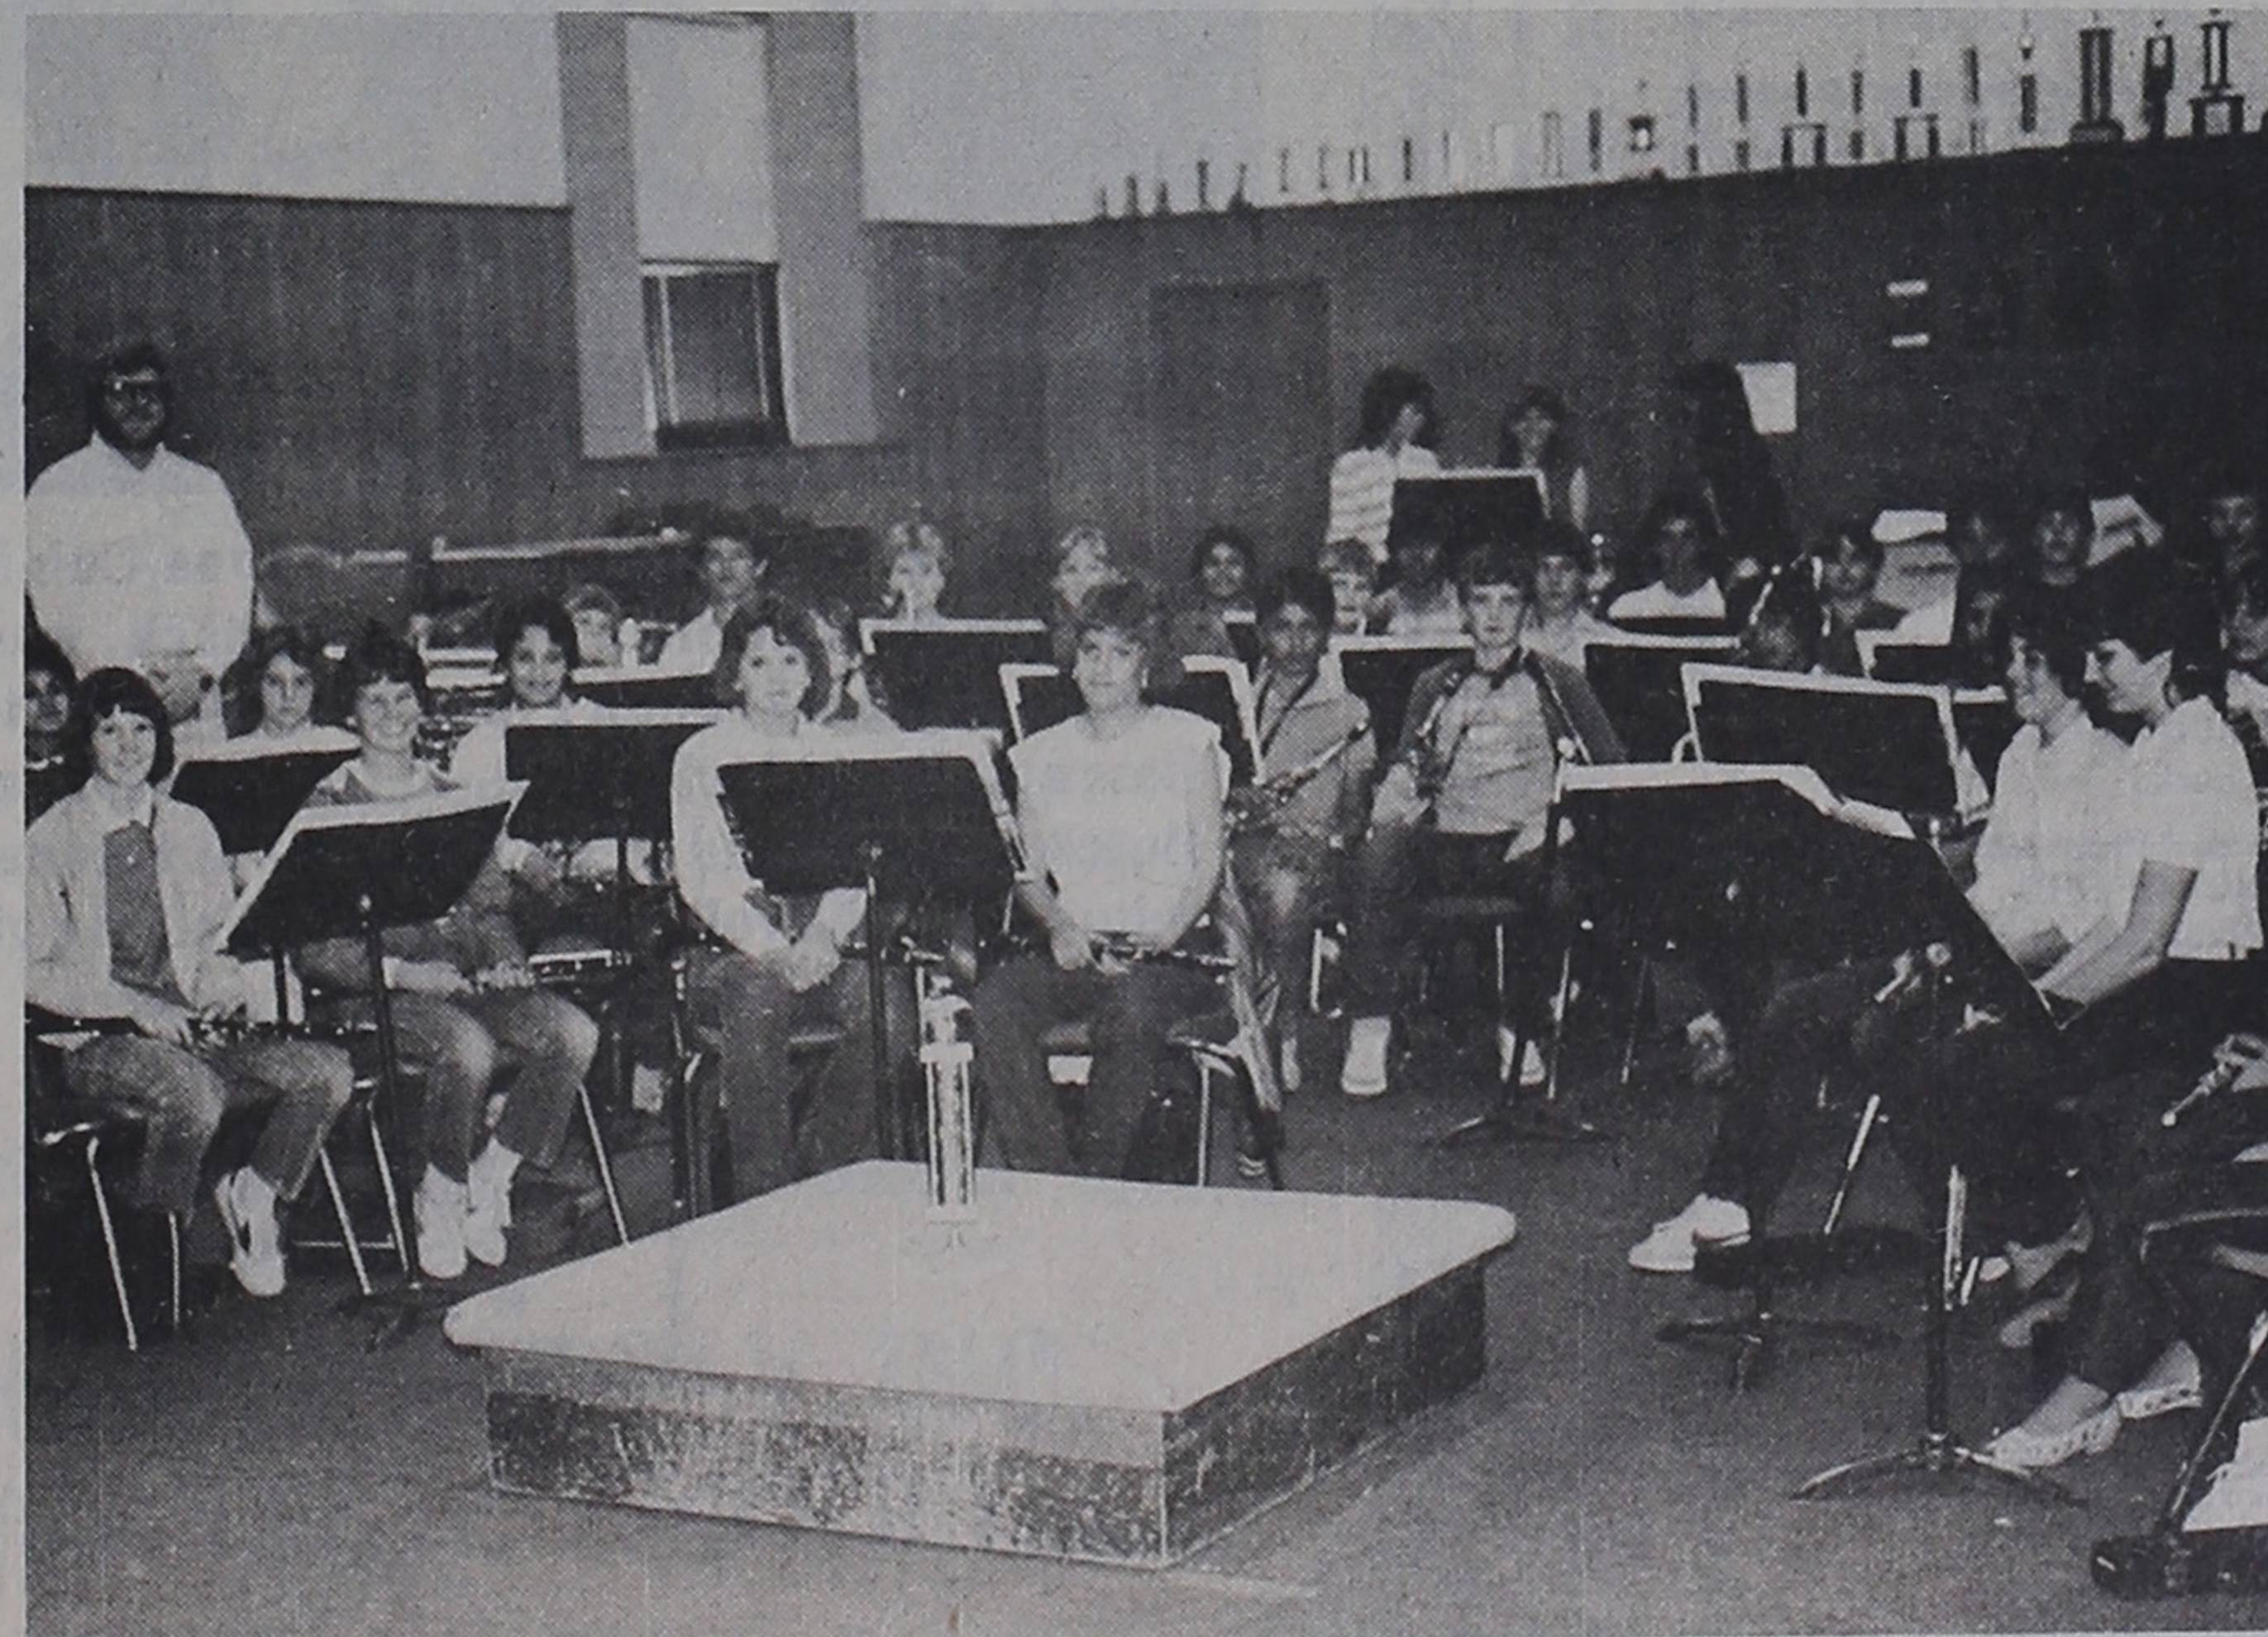

All residents of the area are urged to bring their youngsters and let them participate in the activity.

Absentee Voting Booth Locally

The first of two special absentee voting dates will be held next Thursday, April 19, at Friona Credit Union.

Those wishing to vote absentee for the Democratic or Republican primaries, scheduled May 5, may do so on that date, without making the trip to the Courthouse in Farwell.

The special booth will also be here April 26-27 at the Credit Union, during their regular hours.

Four-Millionth Book Hailed As Milestone

When the 4,000,000 copy of the 575 page, hardcover book, "Alcoholics Anonymous," was shipped to the newly-recovered alcoholic in September 1983, little notice was taken of the event. A. A. World Services, Inc., publisher of the book, was too busy filling orders from the more than 36,000 A.A. groups in the U.S. and Canada for other literature: over 1,000,000 books and 7,000,000 pamphlets in 1983.

Then, according to Bob P., general manager of A.A. General Service Office, it was recognized that this milestone in distribution of the Big Book, as it is affectionally known to A.A. members, also had significance as an indicator of the rate of growth of the A.A. Fellowship. "As we are anonymous," he explained, "and keep no records of individual members, we make no attempt to keep track of the size of our organization." "However," he pointed out, "since the Big Book is purchased mainly for new members, its sales indicate that membership is growing sharply."

In contrast to most other books, sales of "Alcoholics Anonymous" are constantly increasing rather than declining—and at an ever-faster rate. It took 34 years to sell the first million copies; only five years to sell the second million; three-plus years for the third million; and just two years for the fourth million. The first printing in 1939 was for 5,000 copies; that number is now sold every two days. This is especially remarkable in view of the following facts:

*The book is obtainable only by ordering from A.A. service offices. It is generally not available in bookstores.

*It has never been advertised or promoted.

*No author or editor is identified. It is truly "anonymous."

*The basic text, contained in the first eleven chapters, has remained unchanged and is exactly as written 45 years ago; the second portion of the book, consisting of personal recovery stories, has been changed in successive editions to reflect the mix of people coming into A.A. over the years.

*The 4,000,000 figure represents only sales of English-language editions in the U.S. and Canada. Countless copies are published by A.A. offices overseas in thirteen other languages—including Afrikaans, Dutch, Finnish, Flemish, French, German, Icelandic, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish.

Now ranked among one of the nonfiction, hardcover best sellers of all time, the Big Book did not have an auspicious beginning. The A.A. Fellowship numbered fewer than 100 members in 1938, when these pioneers decided to write down their experiences in recovery from alcoholism and make them available to a wider audience. The first printing was done on less than a shoe string and, for the next two years, the book attracted little attention and few sales. The financial picture was stark; only loans from sympathetic friends kept the publishing venture afloat. Then, in March 1941, following publication of an article on A.A. by Jack Alexander in The Saturday Evening Post, sales finally took off. A second printing was ordered the same month—only the tip of the iceberg as it turned out.

Originally priced at $3.50, the Big Book still retails for only $5.65 ($4.65 for A.A. members), in the face of skyrocketing book costs. Copies may be obtained by writing A.A. World Services, Inc., Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York, NY 10163.

THE FASCINATING HISTORY OF EYECARE-PART II

A shortage of elephants in 1863 resulted in the invention of plastics, later used in eyeglass frames and eventually in lenses, by John and Isaiah Hyatt. The Hyatts were the winners of a $10,000.00 award offered by a Philadelphia billiard ball manufacturer seeking a material to substitute for Ivory.

Advances in bifocals paralleled a growing need for them that came about as people lived longer and turned from farming to industrial and business occupations. People were better educated...read more...and did much more close work than previously. Two major optical firms were launched in the United States in the early 1900's and they managed to bring down the cost of eyeglasses in this country so that everyone could afford them. No longer did they need to import expensive eyeglasses from Europe. The good ole American free enterprise system was working at its best in many fields and the eyecare field was no exception.

Practical eyewear was acceptable for general wear by men, but fashionable women never wore spectacles in public. Instead, they used the lorgnette, a pair of glasses with a long handle. By far the most popular eyeglasses in the latter part of the 19th century were the pince-nez, which had no temples and were held on the nose by a spring bridge. Theodore Roosevelt took 12 pairs with him to the Spanish-American war.

Twentieth century improvements in the field of visual science led to the development of today's wide variety of fashionable frames; quality glass and plastic eyeglass lenses that can be ground to meet a wearer's exact vision needs. The profession of Optometry was born in 1898 to fill the need for person to examine the eyes. Manuals outlining the steps of a vision examination began to appear about the same time.

This message is brought to you in the interest of better vision by Drs. Armistead and Smith, Optometrists, Littlefield, Texas.

MONTH PROCLAIMED.... Friona mayor Clarence Monroe signed a proclamation naming the month of April as Child Abuse Prevention Month, as representatives of the Parmer County Child Welfare Board attended. From the left are Bessie Holt, Jo Blackwell and Shirley Schueler.

Child Abuse/Neglect Targeted By Group

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month and the Parmer County Child Welfare Board reminds that child abuse can happen anywhere, and it happens often.

There are three kinds of child abuse: physical, sexual and emotional. Physical abuse is inflicting bodily injury on a child. Sexual abuse is using a child in or exposing him to sexual activities, with or without his consent.

Emotional abuse is demanding that the child do more than he is able to do, severely criticizing him or humiliating him for not living up to a demand, or placing upon him such unclear requirements that the child cannot understand what he is supposed to do.

Child abuse can happen anywhere...In poor, middle-class and well-to-do homes, in rural areas, suburbs and cities. It can and does happen in Parmer County, the board spokesman says. Child abuse and neglect are against the law in Texas, and so is the failure to report suspected cases of child mistreatment.

If you report suspected child abuse or neglect in good faith to the Texas Department of Human Resources or a law enforcement agency, you are protected by law.

To report, contact your local Department of Human Resources office or call the special toll-free Child Abuse Hotline, 1-800-252-5400 from anywhere in the state to get the help a child needs.

"The important thing is that you tell someone what you suspect, so that specialists can intervene before more harm is done," the spokesman concluded.

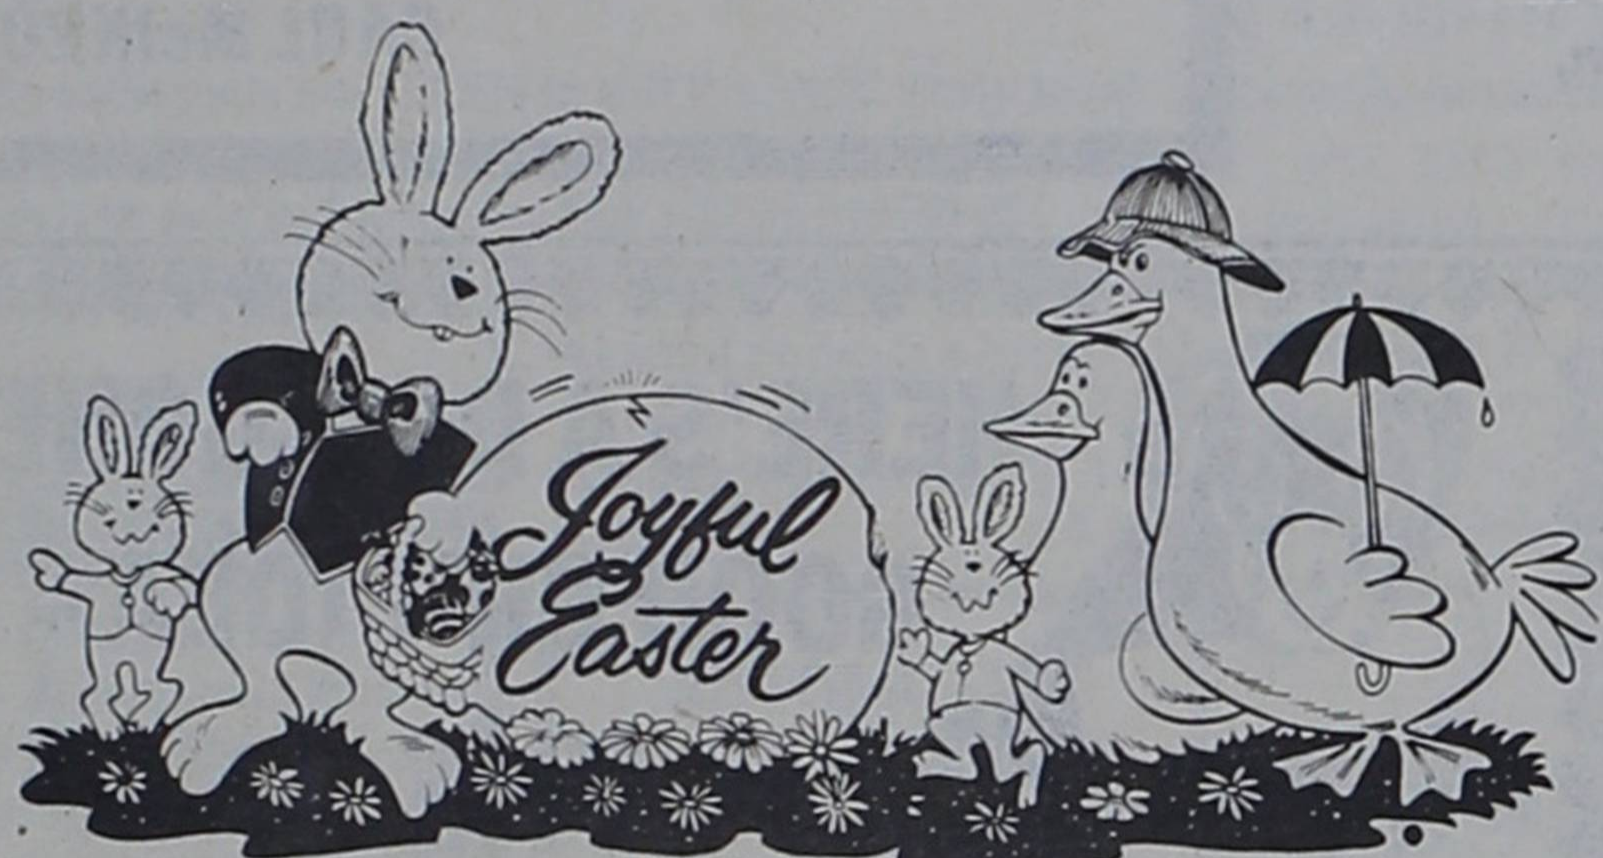

Let's close the book on forest fires.

RECORD-SETTER....Daniel Gowens, Chieftain high jumper, continued his outstanding track season by winning first place in the District meet at Abernathy on Tuesday. Gowens cleared 6-4 in the event, setting a new Friona school record.

DESPITE BAD LUCK

Chieftains Qualify For Four Regional Events

The Friona Chieftains qualified for regional in four events, and missed getting their relay teams in the meet by an eyelash, at the District 2-AAA meet Tuesday at Abernathy.

Sparking the performance was a school record performance by sophomore high jumper Daniel Gowens, who cleared 6-4 to win his event.

Other wins were turned in by John Aguirre in the 400-meter dash, with a 50.4 performance, and Eloy Caballero in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles. And Charlie Morgan caused some raised eyebrows by placing second in the long jump with a jump of 21-3.

These four will compete in the regional meet in two weeks at Odessa. Coach Steve Williams termed their performances as "gutty." "I was really proud of the entire team. Everyone turned in their best performances of the season, and this is where it counts," Williams said.

Williams was disappointed for pole vaulter Thomas Merritt, who placed third with a leap of 12 feet, missing regional by one place. "Thomas has had a great season, and deserved better," he said.

The 400-meter relay team (Charles Walker, Charlie Morgan, John Aguirre and Eloy Caballero) also came within inches of a regional spot, placing third at 43.6. Williams pointed out that it had been about five years since a sprint relay team had run the race that fast at FHS. Usually, that time will get the team to the regional meet. This time, Abernathy and Muleshoe's teams were each a step in front of the Chieftains.

Perhaps the biggest disappointment for the team, however, was for the mile relay, where a near-bump threw the Chieftains offstride, and knocked them out of the running. Two teams cut in front of Ricky Marquez as he got his baton, and he had to virtually stop to avoid a collision. Friona was running in lane

one. Coach Williams asked for a ruling and possible disqualification, but none was received.

"I hated it for those kids on the relay team, who ran their hearts out all year. That sort of ruined what had otherwise been a good meet for us," Williams said.

In addition to the events mentioned, Caballero missed by only eight inches qualifying in the discus throw, an event he added at mid-season, with a toss of 131-2. And Morgan placed third in both the 100 and 200-meter races. He ran the 100 in 11.09, and the 200 in 22.8.

Morgan and Littlefield's Ferrante Lewis were the only athletes in the district meet to bring home four medals for their day's work.

As a team, the Chieftains placed second with 92 points. Muleshoe won it with 149 points.

Coach Williams was lavish with his praise of the performance by his troops.

The three gold-medal winners didn't come by their first place finishes in easy fashion.

Gowens had two misses up to the 5-10 height in his event, and was the last of three jumpers to clear six feet, making it on his last try.

However, he settled down to finish with a flourish. He was the only one of the trio to clear the bar at 6-2, and then went over at 6-4, his season's goal, just for good measure. He barely missed 6-5 on three tries.

The jump gave Gowens sole possession of the school record in the event.

Aguirre came from a ten-yard deficit at the final turn to beat Abernathy's Chester Cooper by four yards. "He really 'blew him out' at the finish," Williams said.

And Caballero, challenged by Muleshoe's Mark Moten (he had beaten the Chieftain star at Tulia), responded with a great hurdles race. He ran the preliminaries in 39.0 flat, and Williams called his race in the

In placing second in the long jump, Morgan beat a bevy of talented jumpers in the district, including Moten, and Darin Shaw, who came into the meet with one of the best jumps in the Panhandle area.

Williams had inserted Charles Walker into the team's sprint relay team at Boys Ranch last Saturday, and the sophomore responded with a great performance. "It's tough to turn in the time we did Tuesday in that event and realize there were two other teams in district just a fraction faster," Williams said.

Kirk's 45-10 throw in the shot missed by only four inches in gaining him a regional spot.

Wennetter Jackson Is State Meet-Bound

Wennetter Jackson qualified for the state track meet in two events at the Regional meet at Odessa this week.

The Squaw senior, who is having a fabulous year in the shot put and discus throw, won the shot put event and placed second in the discus.

It marked the first time this season 'Netter has been beaten in the discus event. She threw it 119 feet, four and one-quarter inches, trailing only Windy Windham of Clyde, who tossed it 121-7.

In the shot put, Miss Jackson threw it 40 feet even, her personal best and a new school record, to win the event among the 16 regional contestants.

She was forced to come up with her best toss, as Monica Johnson of Electra threw it 39-8, and Loretta Goodwin of Tulia had a toss which measured 37-4.

Freshman Layce Osborn narrowly missed a regional berth, placing third in the finals with a time of 2:29.86. However, in Monday's preliminaries, Miss Osborn ran a 2:28.4, which is her best, and a new school record for the event.

Miss Osborn gained a measure of revenge by beating Dimmitt's Molly Waggoner, who edged her in the District 2-AAA meet. That was her first time to lose a race this season.

Ronda Ratcliff and Diane Johnston were entered in the high jump at regional, but went out with the bar at five feet. This was the height they had cleared at district.

Diane also entered the 400-meter dash. She ran a 64.2 in the preliminaries, but did not qualify for the finals.

"Wennetter has thrown better each week of the season," said Squaw coach Donald Herbert. He had put Wennetter through a rigorous work schedule the week prior to the regional meet, and apparently it paid off.

The four-year Squaw star had two throws in the shot put over 39 feet, in addition to her winning toss of 40 feet. Her best throw in the preliminaries was 36-9.

She had a throw of 124 feet in the discus, which would have made her a double-winner, but scratched on the throw.

Miss Jackson will be entered in the state track and field meet in Austin on May 4.

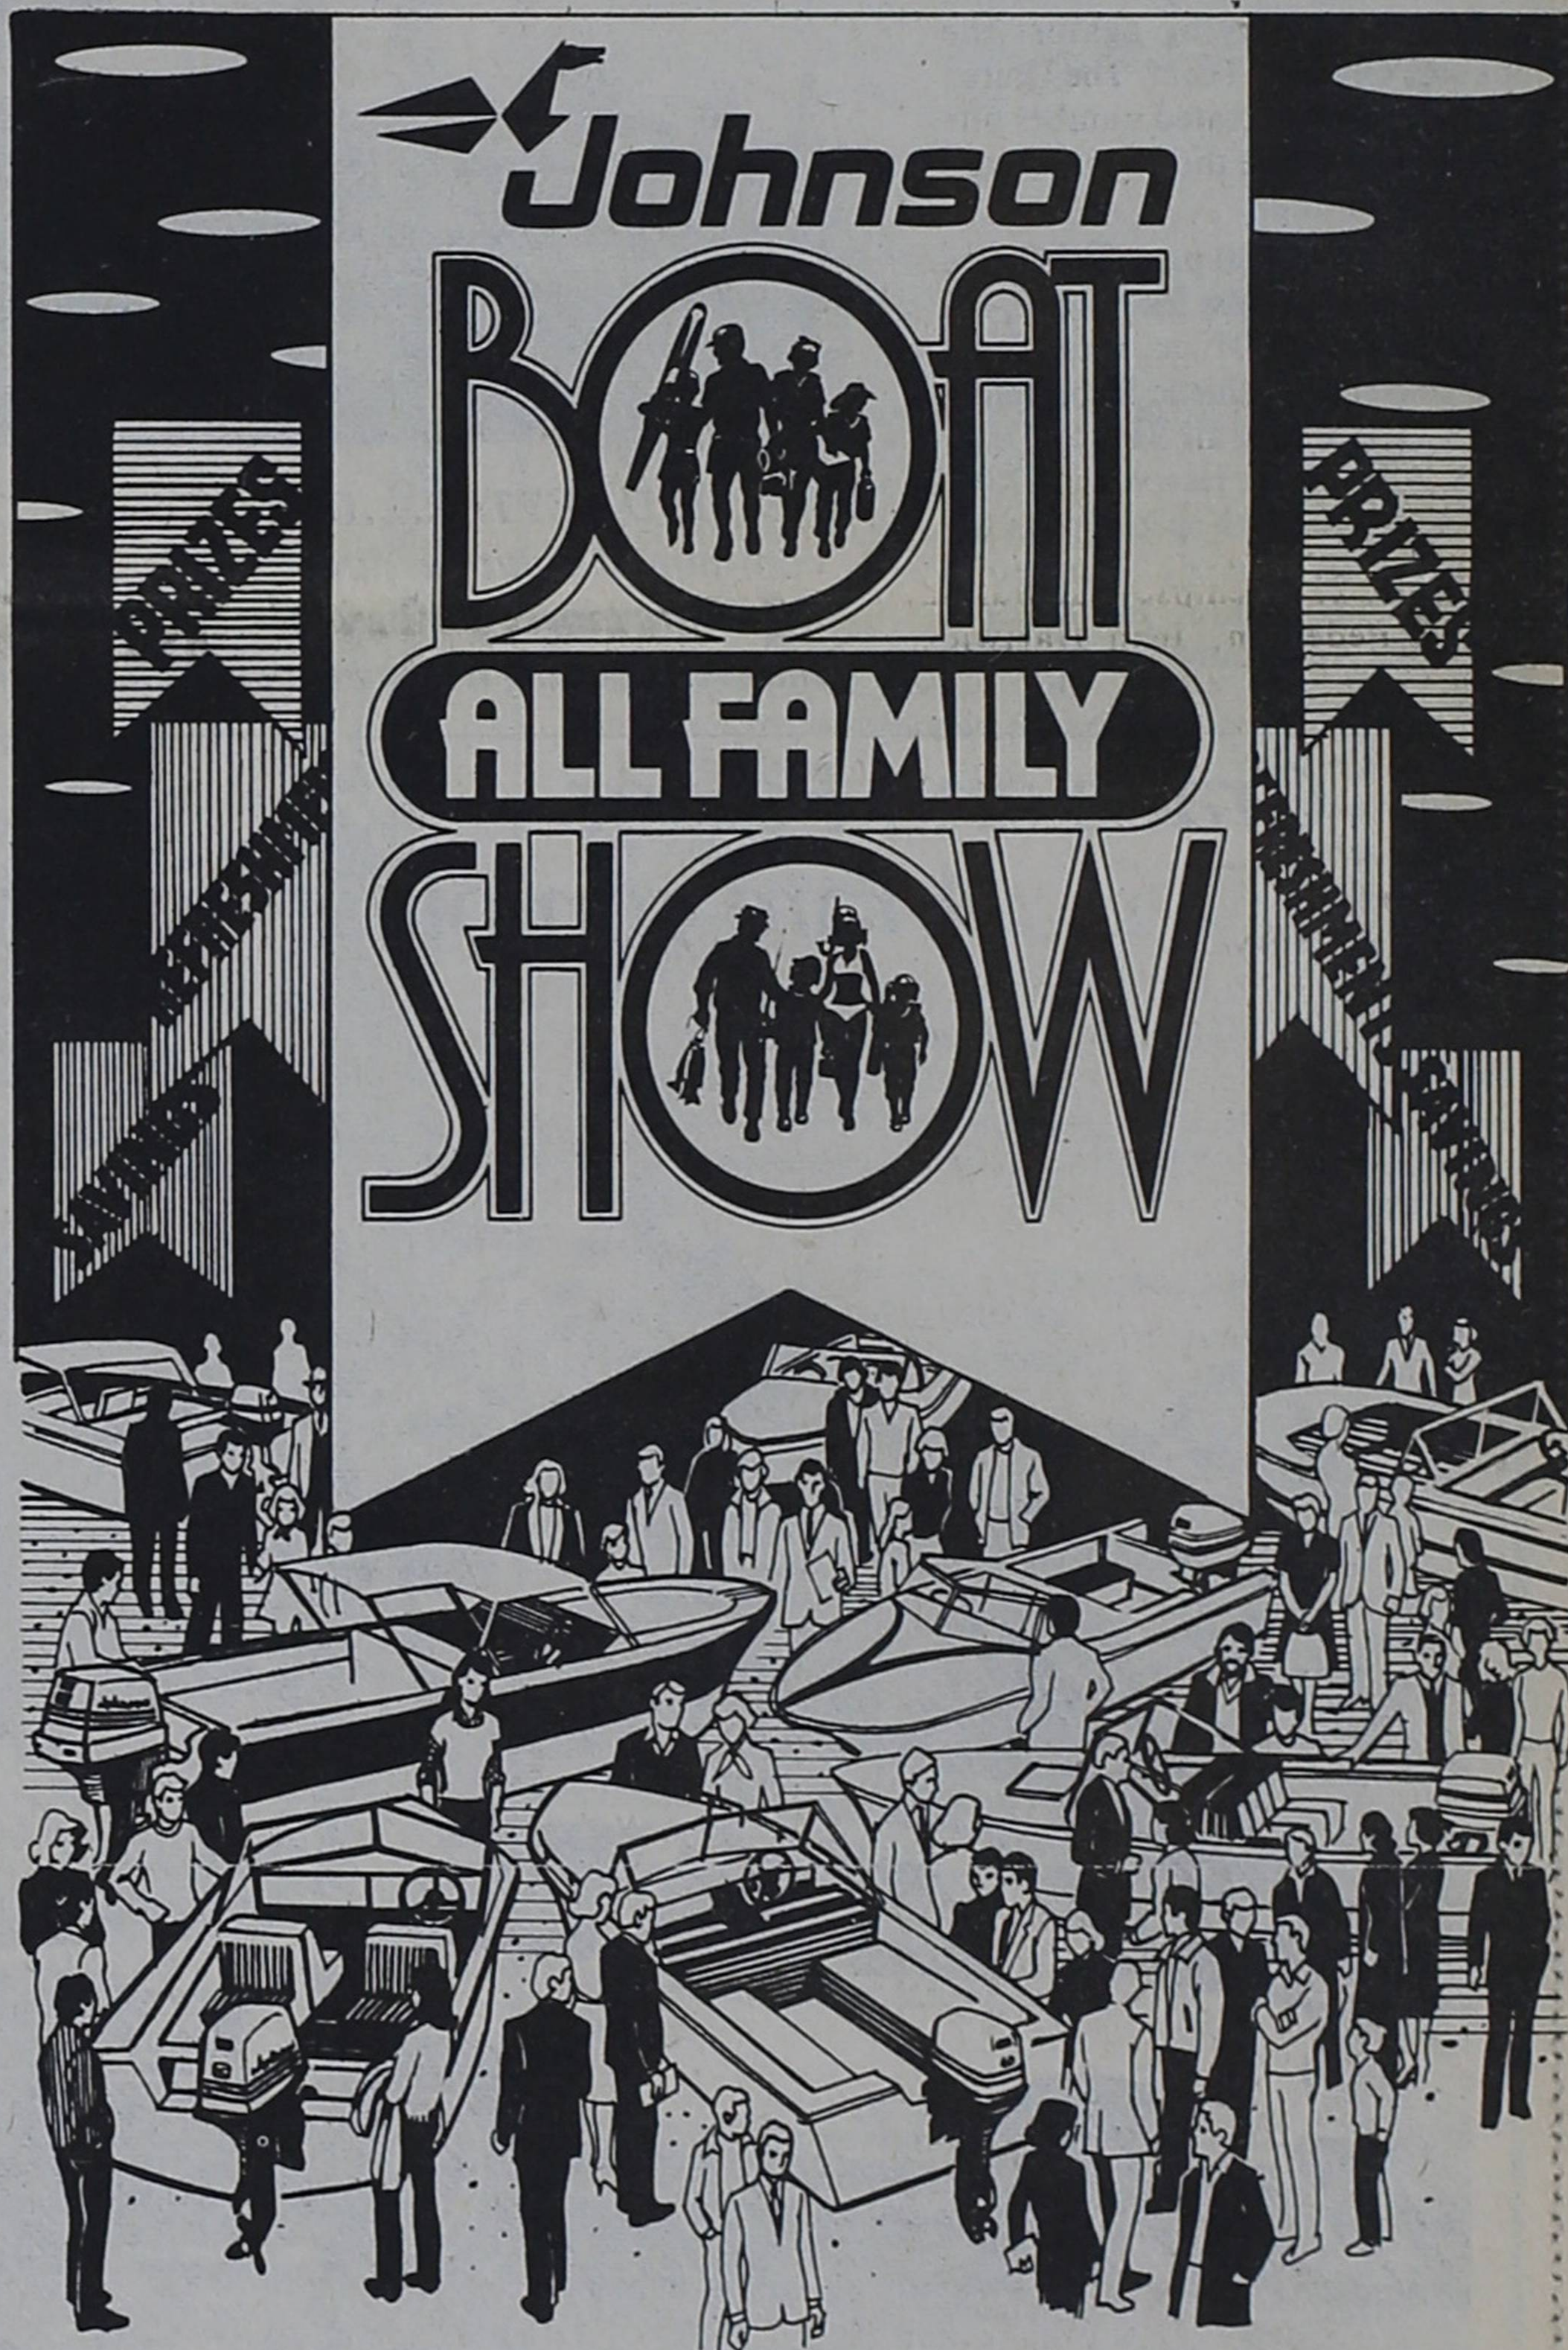

It will be her second straight trip to the state meet. This was Wennetter's third time in the regional meet. She competed in the shot put as a freshman after winning district, and in both the shot and discus last season.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Shipp of 1301 Maple, Friona.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Carr of 1200 Walnut, Friona.

The wedding party was taken to the church by Bruce Parr in the Tejas Kidd Concord Stagecoach. The bride and her attendants rode inside. The groom and his attendants rode on top. The remainder of the wedding party rode in a surrey driven by Dean Shipp, father of the bride.

The church was decorated with two brass spiral candelabras with the center arch decorated with red roses and white carnations. The altar was decorated with red rose and white carnation floral arrangements on brass stands. Pews were marked with white candles and red satin bows and streamers.

Musical selections were presented by vocalists, Sue Presley and Patty Carr, sister-in-law of the groom. They were accompanied by Anna Mae Thomas, pianist, and Gayla Brown, organist, as she sang "Wedding Prayer," "The Rose," and "Time In A Bottle."

As the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she wore a formal gown of organza over taffeta. The gown featured a portrait off-the-shoulder neckline and fitted basque waistline applied in alencon lace and tiny seed pearls. The sleeves were triple flounces falling to the elbow. The bouffant skirt was enhanced by a triple layer of chantilly lace flounces which swept into back fullness cascading to form a chapel length train.

She wore a three tiered chapel length veil of illusion organza trimmed with chantilly lace. The veil was attached to a circlet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath with seed pearls.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white baby roses, stephanotis, baby's breath, seed pearls and streamers of white ribbon tied with love knots.

Following bridal tradition, she wore the veil worn by her sister in her own wedding for something old. Her gown was new. She borrowed her mother's diamond necklace and earrings. Her blue garter was made especially for her by her great-aunt, Mrs. Ray Warren of Post.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a red rose boutonniere.

Mrs. Deann Presley of Seminole, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Laura Shipp of Seminole, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Denise Behlen of Weimar, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Cathy Shields of Clarendon.

The feminine attendants wore red taffeta formal length gowns featuring scooped necklines, full short sleeves, v-dropped waistlines and full skirts.

The attendants carried bouquets and wore circlets of red roses and white baby's breath in their hair.

Duane Artho of Hereford was the best man. Groomsmen were Doug Kelly of Hereford, Kevin Shank of Hereford, Billy Carr of Friona, brother of the groom, and Randy Corbell of Friona.

Serving as ushers were Neil Shipp, brother of the bride, and William Carr, brother of the groom.

The male attendants wore gray tuxedos with red rose boutonnieres.

Canna Ray of Friona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray, was the flower girl. She wore a white street length taffeta dress with red peasant bodice and apron with criss-crossed ribbon down the front.

Shannon Burnett of Friona, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Burnett, was the ring bearer.

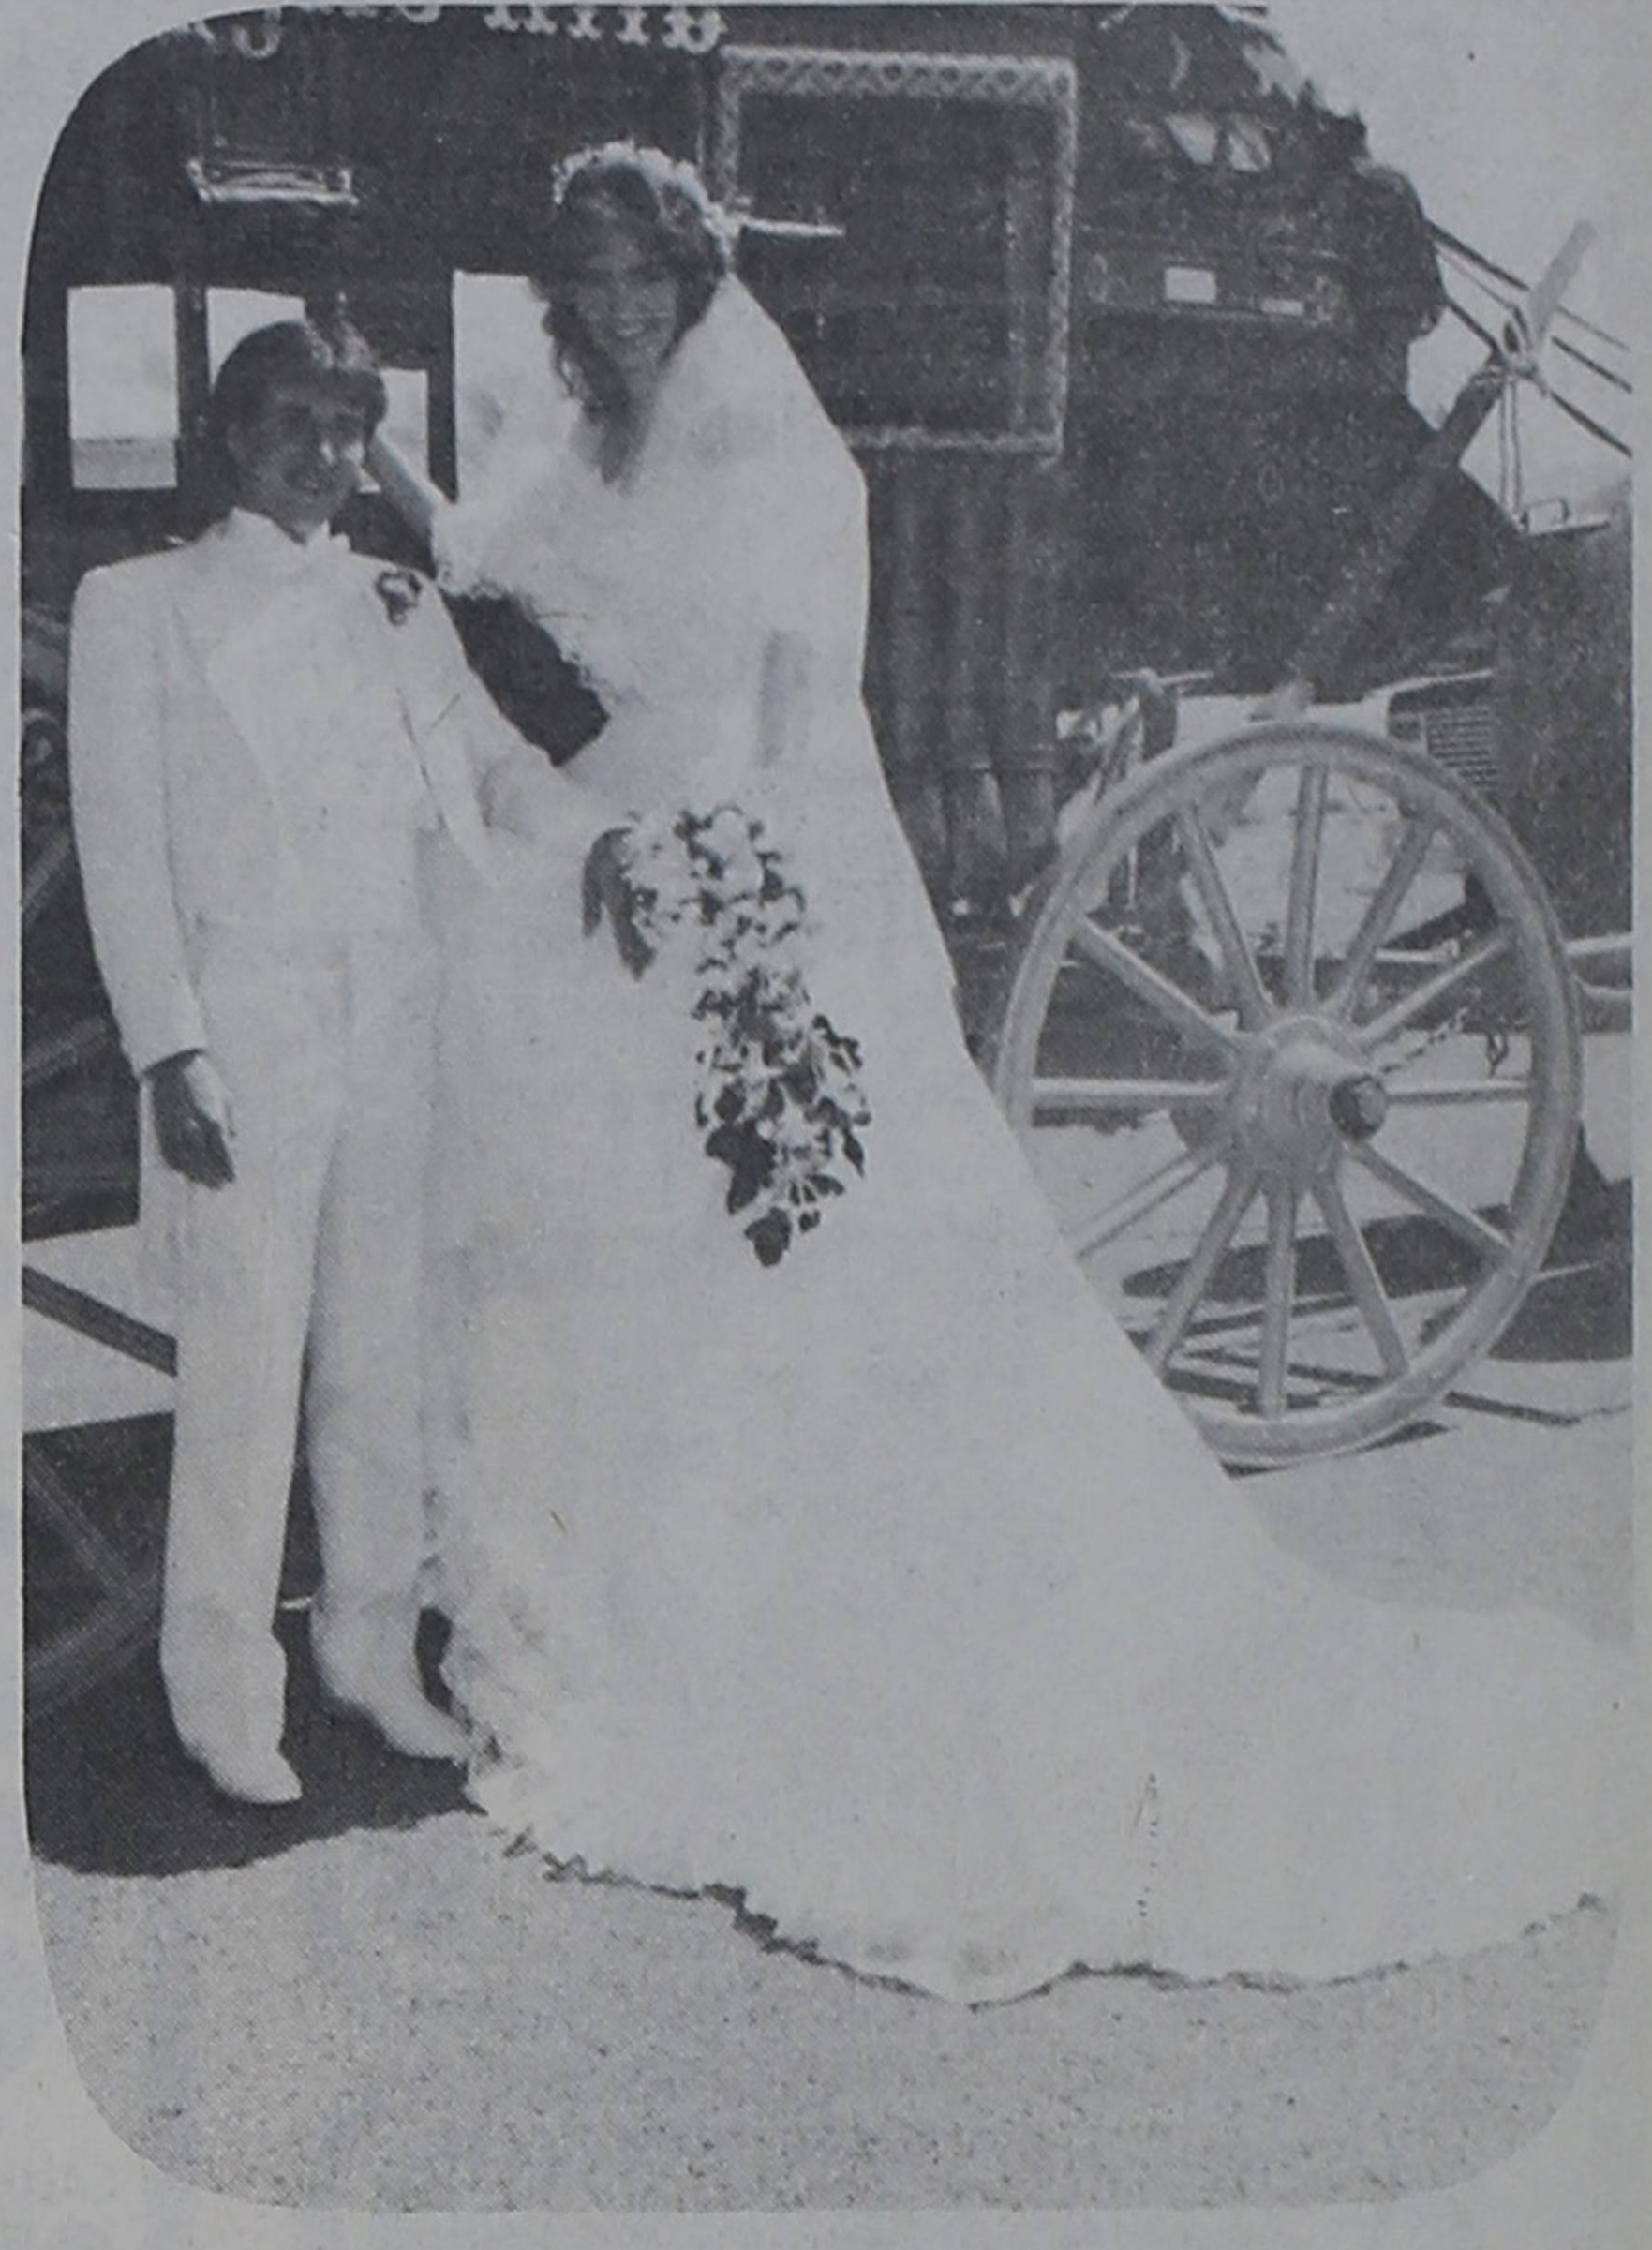

Candles were lit by Brandy Ray and Rena Burnett, both of Friona. They wore dresses identical to those worn by the feminine attendants in street length.

Following the ceremony, the bride's father took the couple to the reception at Friona Women's Club House in a two seated surrey.

Cindy Chesher presided at the guest registry.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over white with red bows at the corners. The centerpiece was a floral arrangement with different tiers of candles with red roses and white. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated in white with a red fountain underneath and was topped by red bells and roses. Red punch was served with nuts and red and white mints.

The groom's table was covered with a white lace cloth over red. The chocolate cake was decorated with white wedding bells with the bride and groom having their names in red on the bells. Coffee was served from the groom's table.

Cake was served by Mrs. Norma Hight and Kathy Baxter. Cindy Chesher served punch and coffee.

Election Report

"News of the election for United States Congress"

SPRING 1984

19th Congressional District

Former aide to Congressman Kent Hance

Don Richards, with extensive experience, leads race for Congress

Experience will be the key issue in this year's election to fill the vacancy created by Kent Hance's decision to run for the U.S. Senate.

Don Richards, 36, spent five years working for Congressman Kent Hance as an administrative aide and is the only one of the five Democratic candidates with Washington experience. No other candidate has the understanding of the legislative and political process that he has acquired. He participated in many of the legislative and political battles in Congress and that experience is something that cannot be learned from a textbook. Having worked with Hance, he will not need the usual three or four year training period required of freshmen congressmen.

Washington experience

When Kent Hance replaced George Mahon in 1978 in Congress, he recruited Don Richards to serve on his Washington staff as press secretary and administrative aide. Richards' legislative responsibilities included foreign affairs, military and a broad range of constituent services. Richards was cleared by the FBI for a Top Secret Security Clearance in order that he might be briefed on classified matters involving defense and foreign affairs.

Richards has an in-depth knowledge of the military strength and strategy of both the United States and the Soviet Union. He has been briefed on foreign affairs at the United Nations and on Soviet military strength by a former Russian pilot who defected to the United States. He has toured many U.S. defense facilities including the underground Minuteman Missile silos in South Dakota, the B-52 bombers on stand-by alert at Ellsworth AFB, S.D., the underground "war room" at Strategic Air Command headquarters at Offutt AFB, Neb., the U.S.S. Nimitz Aircraft Carrier stationed at Norfolk, Va., and Cape Canaveral.

During this time, his wife, Melba, served on the staff of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. Her knowledge and experience will be helpful to Don.

West Texas Native

Don Richards was born in the 19th Congressional District in 1947 in the Stonewall County seat of Aspermont. He is a 1965 graduate of Jayton High where he lettered in all major sports. Richards received his undergraduate degree from Texas Tech, then had a seven-year professional journalism career in which he won more than 40 awards.

DON and MELBA RICHARDS
West Texas natives . . . with Washington experience

His wife is the former Melba Herron of Brownfield. The couple attended Texas Tech Law School together and are now associated with a Lubbock law firm.

Election issues

Crucial issues such as the 1985 Farm Bill, the phase out of price regulations on natural gas, the site selection for a nuclear waste disposal site in West Texas and the federal budget will be facing the new congressman the day he takes office. Don Richards is the only candidate with solid working experience in all of the areas and can address them immediately. He was on Congressman Hance's staff while Hance served on the Agriculture Committee and also during the consideration of the last national farm program. Richards worked with Hance during the fight over the Windfall Profits Tax and the political battles over the 1981 tax and budget cuts.

None of the other candidates can match Don Richards' background or experience in Washington, the arena of the most professional political battles in the world. That experience is something you get only from on-the-job training.

The major issue in the race for Congress is experience, and which candidate has the qualifications to be effective immediately.

No other candidate can equal Don Richards and his extensive list of qualifications. West Texas cannot afford to send a political amateur to Congress.

Do you know the difference?

Don Richards — Tom Richards

Do you know the difference?

If not, then you may be confused when it comes time to vote in the May 5th Democratic Primary.

On the ballot the two candidates will be listed as "Don R. Richards" and "Thomas M. Richards." The order in which they will be listed will vary from county to county within the 15 counties in the 19th District.

Both of the candidates reside in Lubbock; both are in legal practice.

Don Richards, 36, served for almost five years as administrative aide to Congressman Kent Hance and last fall became the first Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office after Hance decided to run for the U.S. Senate. He brings into this race a broad background of experience in business, civic activities and congressional service.

Tom Richards (who is unrelated to Don Richards) did not formally announce until January 11, 1984, that he would be a Democratic candidate for the same office. Tom Richards was the next to last Democratic candidate to formally announce for the position. He has no prior Washington experience or elected service.

Meet the Candidates

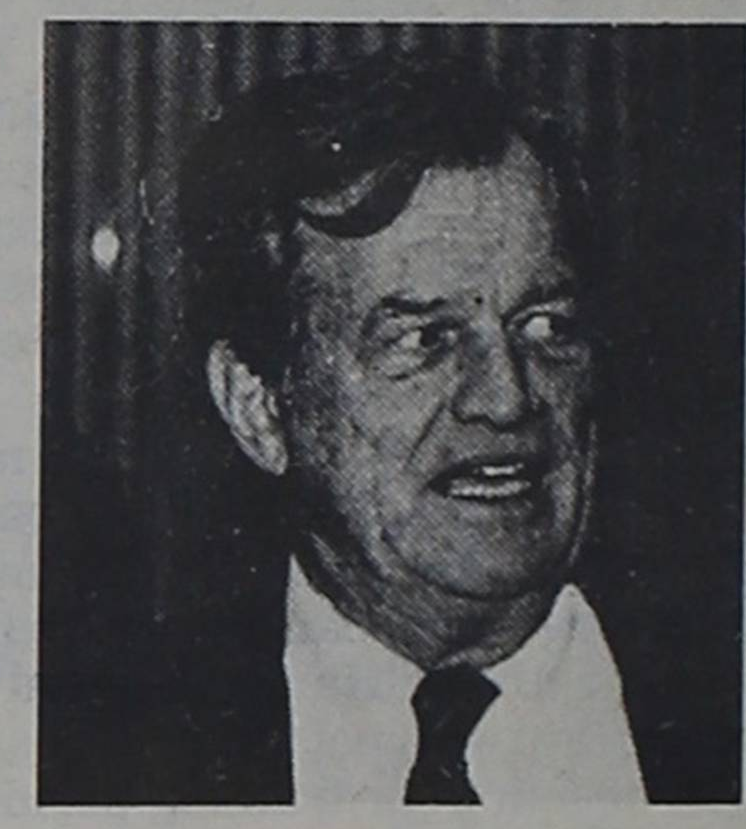

May 5th Democratic Primary
(in the order of their announcement)

Don Richards

Don Richards, 36, is a native of West Texas and grew up in the 19th Congressional District. Richards was the first Democrat to announce for the race last fall. A former administrative aide to Congressman Kent Hance, Richards is the only candidate of the five who brings into this race an extensive background of experience in Washington. In addition to his legislative knowledge, he also has handled a broad range of constituent services involving the federal bureaucracy. Richards is a graduate of Texas Tech University and has completed classes at Texas Tech Law School as well. He is associated with a Lubbock law firm.

Dr. John "Jack" Selby

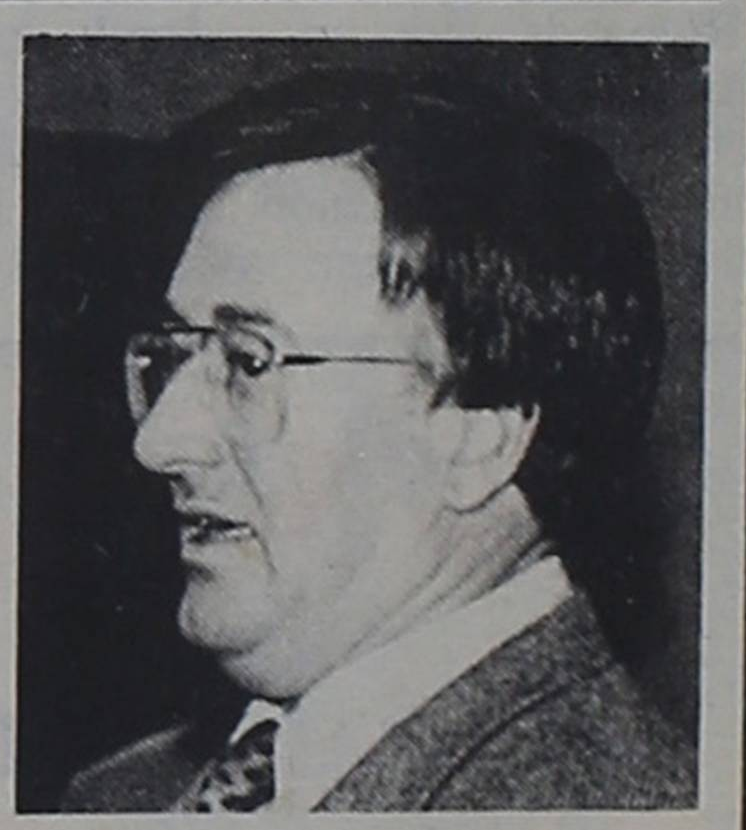

At 64, Dr. John "Jack" Selby, who earned his wealth as a thoracic surgeon, is the oldest candidate in the race. He attended school in Boston, Massachusetts and moved to Lubbock from the Northeast. Selby was the second candidate to announce for the Democratic Primary. He has no prior Washington experience and this is his first attempt to seek elective office.

Delwin Jones

Delwin Jones, 59, is a Lubbock businessman involved in the "rent-buy" television and appliance business. Jones failed in two bids for the Texas Legislature before being elected in 1965. He was defeated in that position by State Rep. Pete Laney of Hale Center. Thereafter, he again unsuccessfully campaigned for the Texas House, the Texas Senate and most recently lost a bid for Lubbock County Tax Assessor.

Thomas M. "Tom" Richards

Thomas M. Richards, 43, is a native of Paducah, with vast land holdings, along with oil & gas investments. A Lubbock attorney, Tom Richards was the next to last Democratic candidate to formally announce. He has no Washington experience and this is his first attempt at elective office.

Gary Condra

Gary Condra, 39, is a native of Ballinger, Texas, and has served the past several years as an agricultural economist. Condra has no prior legislative experience and was the last candidate to formally announce for this position. This is his first attempt at elective office.

Civic involvement

Don and Melba Richards have a history of civic involvement. Although they have not yet started their own family, both have worked with young people. Don has served as head coach of a Little League team and as President of the Chamber of Commerce. Melba has worked with the Girl Scouts and has been active in the Young Homemakers. In recognition of their achievements, one community honored them with a "Don and Melba Richards Day."

Loom Handweaving

Melba Richards is an accomplished hand weaver. Pictured at one of her two four-foot Macomber Looms, she weaves such things as placemats, towels, tablecloths, shawls, scarves and afghans out of such natural fibers as cotton, silk, wool and mohair. A native of Brownfield, Melba attended Texas Tech and is a graduate of Texas Woman's University with a degree in home economics. She also has completed Texas Tech School of Law. During the couple's three-year stay in Washington, D.C., she was employed on the staff of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas.

Enjoy being together

Don and Melba Richards enjoy being together, whether it's co-authoring a published law article (which they have done), or simply enjoying an evening walk through their neighborhood (which they still do). Married 12 years, the couple met in Lubbock while both were working at night to pay their college expenses at Texas Tech.

Don Richards already knows how to fight the bureaucracy

During the summer of 1982 we had planned a trip to England to visit my elderly father. Reservations were made, bags were packed, and we looked forward to our trip with great anticipation. However, as our departure date drew nearer, we became increasingly anxious as my husband's passport, which had been submitted for renewal, failed to arrive. After many frantic (also frustrating, fruitless, and expensive) telephone calls to the Houston passport office, I contacted Mr. (Don) Richards three days before our flight, and asked if there was any way in which he might help us. His response was immediate. Mr. Richards knew exactly who to contact and which channels to follow. Within an hour I had been contacted by the Houston passport office, and assured that the passport would be in the mail that evening. When the passport had still not arrived the day before our departure, Mr. Richards contacted post office authorities, and had the passport traced. The passport did, in fact, arrive only hours before our departure. Mr. Richards was thorough and diligent with his assistance. In the event that the passport had not arrived in time, Mr. Richards had ensured our travel plans by arranging for a clearance to travel (from the State Dept.) with the stipulation that upon arrival my husband would obtain a passport from the U.S. Embassy in London. Mr. Richards was not only concerned about our problem - he did something about it, with very prompt and timely results.

- Pat Hinkle
Plains, Texas

"The federal bureaucracy had me tied up in Red Tape. I was injured on the job and the bureaucrats sent me through dozens of forms and six doctors, all of whom confirmed my injury. Still they refused to clear up my case. If it had not been for Don Richards and his understanding of how to fight that bureaucracy, my case would still not be settled."

-Harold Adams, Lubbock
Former Postal Employee

I was returning from Washington, D.C., pulling a trailer loaded with tractors. Arkansas State officials refused to allow me to cross the state without a special permit. It was Saturday morning and the permit could not be issued until the following Monday morning. I contacted Don Richards in Kent Hance's office and he went to work immediately. He refused to take "no" for an answer and talked an Arkansas official into opening his office on Saturday and writing a permit to allow me to come home to West Texas that same day. Don is a fighter for West Texas people.

-Bruce Parr,
Friona, Texas

Ag Priority

Don Richards has made agriculture a top priority in his campaign for the U.S. Congress. "We must formulate agriculture policy around profit for our farmers. We must come up with a long-term farm program with supply management provisions which will allow our farmers and ranchers to again make a reasonable profit. Richards was in Washington during the passage of the last Farm Bill and has a thorough knowledge of the farm program. For the past few years he has assisted farmers with farm financing through governmental agencies such as FmHA.
