GRACE WAS HARD TO COME BY--There was no way to gracefully hit the floor at Thursday night's Donkey Basketball game in Lockney. Riders actually spent very little time on top of the donkeys. Most of the time they were picking themselves up or trying to drag their stubborn partners from one goal to another. Staff Photo

Thomas loses home in blaze

By Alice Gilroy

A lifetime of memories was destroyed by heat and flames when the brick home of Keith Thomas, of the Blanco Community, was consumed by fire Monday afternoon, January 31. Floydada Fire Department was called to the scene, approximately 1/2 miles south of Hwy. 37 on FM 3111, at 2:20 p.m.

Keith Thomas, 50, lived in the house alone after his wife passed away several months ago. After the smoke cleared, Thomas was left with only the clothes he was wearing at the time of the fire.

According to his son Bryan Thomas the fire started in the laundry room in the middle of the house, possibly from a water heater. "It was a butane related fire," said Bryan.

Bryan Thomas was the first to spot the fire when he came out of the barn located on the property behind the house. "When I came out of the barn I heard a window explode," said Bryan. "I looked up and saw smoke coming out of the side window. I hollered for my dad who was also outside and we ran to open the back door. When we opened the door smoke poured out, and we knew it was hopeless."

The house that burned had been Thomas's boyhood home. He had grown up in the house and had spent all of his life in the same house.

Having just returned on Monday from a vacation, Thomas had put his suitcase (still packed) inside the house.

"He had only been home about 30 minutes," said Bryan. "He hadn't even unloaded his suitcase. If he had just left his suitcase in the car a little while longer he would have at least had some shoes and clothes left."

Floydada woman fatally injured in auto accident

Penny Womack, 40, of Floydada, was killed Sunday, January 30, in a single vehicle accident on U.S. Highway 82 near Wichita Falls. Penny was in route to Nocona with her husband, Joe Womack.

Joe Womack, 37, was taken to the Bethania Regional Health Care Center where he was treated and released.

The couple was in a 1987 GMC pickup southbound at about 6:45 a.m. Sunday when Joe, who was driving, lost control of his vehicle on the slick surface and crossed into the center median, where the truck struck a guard rail. The car overturned once and Mrs. Womack, who was asleep in the seat and not wearing a seat belt, was ejected from the vehicle. According to DPS reports, Joe was wearing a seat belt.

Mrs. Womack died at 7:30 a.m. in the hospital in Wichita County.

Penny had completed LVN training in Plainview and went on to Amarillo College where she received her nursing degree as a RN in 1986.

She worked as a nurse for Caprock Hospital in Floydada for several years. She served as the school nurse for Duncan Elementary and Floydada High in 1991-92. She then worked as Director of Nurses for the Lockney Care Center, and later for the Crosbyton Care Center. She was currently working at the Crosbyton Clinic Hospital.

She was born Penny Sue Arnold on November 6, 1953 in Tulia. She married Joe Womack on May 12, 1988 in Floydada.

She was a member of City Park

Church of Christ.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, February 2, at 3:00 p.m., at City Park Church of Christ with Gene McCarty, minister of City Park Church of Christ, officiating. He will be assisted by J.D. Nance, minister of Rockcreek Church of Christ.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under the direction of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home.

She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Amber of Floydada; one son, Kevin of Silverton; her parents, Fred and Vivone Arnold of Silverton; two sisters, Laura Mullin of Graham and Kerri Cannon of Tulia; and one brother Lannie Arnold, of Wartrace, Tennessee.

Lockney Main Street tradition closing doors

By Alice Gilroy

After 48 years of service to Lockney and other communities in the South Plains, Brown's Department Store will soon be locking up their doors one final time. The familiar and friendly family-owned clothing store will be greatly missed by its patrons and Lockney residents who have grown up with Claude and Wilma Brown and their business.

When it comes to finding just the right sport coat or suit, there aren't too many men in town who have not had the expert tailoring advice of Claude Brown. One look at you and Claude could pull the perfect size off the rack. If it wasn't a perfect fit a few pins here and there along with a new shirt, tie, shoes and hat would leave you feeling like a new man.

Why the fellas were being made over, the women were tailored, catered and pampered by Wilma Brown. With her kind suggestions Wilma made sure the women left her store with a spring in their step and feeling several years younger and a whole lot prettier in their new clothes.

Browns has always taken care of the community by carrying a complete line of clothing for men and women. You could also find your work boots, jeans, coveralls and long underwear for the working man.

Women could find jewelry and purses to compliment their outfits and "shower gifts" for weddings and "new arrivals".

The Brown's business venture began in Lockney in January 1946 with a dry cleaning shop and quickly grew into the department store that it is today.

Claude is a native of Lockney, born in the Muncy Community. He began a dry cleaning career at the age of 14, working for Glenn Carroll after school and on Saturdays in a small shop on Main Street. He worked in dry cleaning all thru school until graduating in the Lockney High School Class of 1939.

After graduation he began a full time career of dry cleaning in Tulia for two years where he met Wilma Holcomb, who later became his wife.

From Tulia, Claude moved to Lubbock and continued in dry cleaning, but military service called and Claude was drafted into the Air Force. He spent

BY THE WAY!

We were all very sorry to hear about Penny Womack's death. She will be sorely missed by not only her family but the community as well. Penny had a history of sacrificing her needs and giving to others—not only in her role as wife and mother but in her career as a nurse. There are hundreds of people whose lives have been touched by her loving hands.

I didn't know Penny very well, but I knew of her. Our path did not cross very often but when it did I remember her sweet smile and gentle voice. I'm sorry her children, her husband, her parents and all of her dear friends have to suffer this grief.

Just remember that sweet smile.

There is nothing left to say to those of you who attended the Donkey Basketball game in Lockney on Thursday night. There is no way I could say anything funnier than what you witnessed on that court.

If you didn't see the game—I don't think there is any way to describe what everyone witnessed on that court.

People sure got their money's worth! I'm obligated to comment on what happened to my husband. I just can't let it go by. Before I start making fun of him I want everyone to know that the Fire Department's Team (of which Lennie was a part of) won the Championship. You can tell they won because they are walking funnier than anyone else.

The whole evening was funny but Lennie topped it off.

I didn't think it was possible to laugh as hard as I laughed for as long as I laughed. Those big men precariously perched on top of those sweet itty-bitty donkeys was funny but it was only the beginning.

Every time a 200 pound fella scrambled on top of those precious and helpless donkeys you could see the wheels start to turn between the large floppy ears (on the donkey—not the 200 pound men).

Those donkeys never went past a fast walk even when the guys kept patting them on the hind quarters trying to hurry them to the basket. If the donkey ever did make it to a quick trot the rider was sure to slide off in one direction or the other. The slides were usually semi-graceful, but the landing on hard wood floor couldn't be softened no matter which end hit first.

Most of the time a sudden stop and a dip of the donkey's head was all it took to see your favorite team player fly over the long ears of his four-legged partner. A quick side-step sent the riders off of one side or the other.

When the riders tried to kick the donkeys into action all they managed to do was knock their own heels together. The donkeys were small and the riders were big and most of the men's legs almost touched the ground.

You kinda started feeling sorry for the defenseless animals—until my husband hit the floor (and I mean REALLY HIT THE FLOOR).

Lennie's team was the last team out on the floor. He had watched an hour of hysteria and everyone was having a great time. He figured there was nothing to it! Right before it was time to start, the donkey manager came up to Lennie and told him to get the last donkey out of the trailer parked out back. He had been saving this donkey until last (we found out why later).

Lennie got the donkey and brought him to the floor. This donkey was a little bigger than the other defenseless animals already on the floor. The manager told Lennie—"Now this donkey can be a little onery."

What an understatement! Lennie wasn't alarmed. Why he was alarmed??? He had watched an hour of sweet donkeys doing nothing more than slamming on brakes and side stepping.

Anyway—he got on the beast (I mean-defenseless animal). I'm not sure how long he was on the first time, but I think it was under thirty seconds before he hit the floor! It wasn't from brakes or side stepping! This donkey was a bucking bronc!

Lennie got back on and flew back off. Then he got back on and flew back off. Then he got back on and bounced across the floor with his right arm flying—he said he was going for the 8 second buzzer. He didn't make it. He flew back off. After three more falls he decided the donkey had had enough.

He didn't let anyone know (except the paramedic on his team) that he had hurt his shoulder in the very first fall. He didn't want to spoil all the fun everyone was having.

Anyway after the game was over, Lennie ended up in the emergency room getting X-rays. He has a separated shoulder.

Everyone in town has been so sweet asking about him all the time. They try very hard to be sympathetic but sometimes what they are really thinking can't help but come out.

The common inquiry goes something like this—

"How is Lennie? I'm sorry he got hurt. That is really too bad." A moment of silence and then the smile starts to creep across the face. In a few seconds it's a snicker and then hysterical laughter.

That's OK—its the same reaction he gets from me everytime we talk about it. The only thing that made me mad about the whole thing was finding out that he hurt himself on the first fall.

I asked him why he kept getting back on the donkey.

He said, "I didn't want that donkey to get the best of me."

Now I ask you—"Who got the best of who?"

Floydada Police Report

Floydada Police have solved another burglary connected to the juveniles who were suspected in the recent school burglaries.

According to Chief James Hale, during the investigations of the school burglaries and the recovery of stolen property police discovered a burglary that had not been reported. It is not known when the burglary occurred however police discovered fiberglass insulation, sheet rock and tools stolen from an unoccupied house in the 400 block of W. Houston.

"The same juveniles who were involved in the school burglaries were found with this property. The tools stolen from the building were used to burglarize the schools. Charges are pending concerning this latest burglary."

Police took several family violence reports last month but only one of the victims has expressed a desire to file charges. The charges are pending on an assault which occurred at a home in the 300 block of E. Tennessee on January 30.

January 26, police took a report of a 15 year old girl who did not return home. Police discovered that the juvenile had left with an adult female, telling school authorities that there had been a death in the family. The girl did not return home until the following day and charges of Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor are pending against the adult who took the child out of school.

January 27, police arrested Alicia Castaneda, 18, for outstanding traffic warrants.

January 28, at 5:40 a.m., Office Back stopped a Pickup occupied by two juvenile males, a 16 year old driver and a 14 year old passenger. The driver had no driver's license, the juveniles gave fictitious names and the tags on the pickup were registered to a Volkswagen. After an investigation police discovered that the truck had been stolen out of Yukon, Oklahoma. The juveniles were taken to Lubbock County Youth Center and are awaiting transport by Oklahoma authorities.

January 29, police arrested Calvin Jay Coleman, 29, for outstanding traffic warrants.

Also on January 29, police took a report of a Burglary of a Habitation. According to police report residents of a home in the 200 block of E. Houston failed to lock their front door while they were away from home. Sometime between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. someone entered the home and stole an Emerson 19" color TV valued at $180.00 and a Cable Converter Box value unknown.

Ricardo Camacho, 29, of Floydada, was arrested on January 30, at 12:30 a.m. for Public Intoxication.

IN LOVING MEMORY

The members of the Board of Directors and staff of the Crosbyton Clinic Hospital are immensely saddened over the loss of our friend and fellow worker, Penny Womack, R.N., last weekend in a tragic auto accident near Wichita Falls.

Our prayers and deepest sympathy go out to Penny's family in their hour of great loss.

Penny's loving professionalism in the care of patients, her ability to work so well with her colleagues, and her obviously unstinting dedication to her chosen calling leave a void in our staff which will be extremely difficult to ever fill.

We shall miss her and will always remember how fortunate we were to have had the privilege of knowing and working with her.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant
 FLOYDADA—Monday started the day as usual with morning coffee, juice and cookies. Irene Wexler came and played the piano for us. The Rev. Clark Williams couldn't be with us, so Jo Bryant gave the devotional. At 2:00 p.m. the residents painted ceramics.

Tuesday the residents had a discussion on homemade soup and what kind of soup they used to make. It was National Soup Week. They enjoyed reminiscing. Guess what the soup most cooked was? Potato soup and tomato vegetable soup, quite interesting.

Wednesday was Bingo time again. Bernice Robison had the first Bingo. Ray Beaty and Mary Alice Davis assisted with the Bingo.

Thursday the residents played ball toss game and listened to some music. At 2:30 the Companions 'n' Caring gave a reception for Professional Activity Director's Day. Jo Bryant was honored.

Thanks girls, I couldn't do it without you and also thanks for the family and friends who came.

Friday, Mrs. Bill Ferguson gave the devotional and Mrs. Freida Simpson and Mrs. Bob Alldredge played the piano. Jennelda Evans also came and helped sing. This was one of the Sunday school classes from First Baptist Church, also thanks for the peanut butter cookies.

At 1:30 the residents rode around town and Dairy Queen in Floydada treated them to some ice cream.

Be sure to vote for King and Queen and Jr. King and Jr. Queen for our nursing home Valentine Party. The children are from our employees' family or friends.

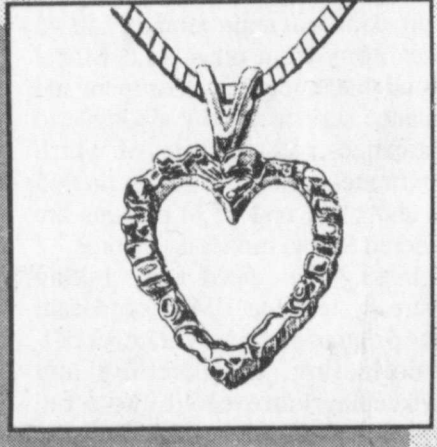

Until next week take care and come to see us and sit a spell.

Butler returns for February exhibit

FLOYDADA—The First National Bank of Floydada is happy to host a return exhibit for Marguerite Butler, well-known artist from Plainview. Throughout the month of February, viewers will be treated to a variety of subject matter in pastels and water colors.

As interesting as she is talented, the artist says she was a "late starter" in the art world. "There were no museums then in Plainview and no basic art training in the school, so I chose a business career rather than a creative one."

During World War II, the artist met her "yankee" husband, Robert Butler; and, it was when he took her to Buffalo, N.Y., that she became interested in art galleries and was introduced to abstract art. This initial interest was further inspired when they moved to Delaware, only a few miles from Chadds Ford, PA., the home of the famous Wyeth family. "I was thrilled to learn of the universal acceptance of this family who painted with skill the common-place things we all love!"

Excited and inspired by this family, Butler enrolled at the University of Delaware, took courses at the Delaware Museum, life-drawing classes with well-known artists. "A new dimension had been added to my life," she explained happily. "I began to see everything with a frame around it and I studied for six intensive years!"

Circumstances brought the couple back to Plainview where a large country home made possible a studio. She continues to paint using varied subjects and media. Her works hang in private and corporate collections in 15 states. She is an active member in the Plainview Art Ass'n., Lubbock Art Ass'n., and West Texas Watercolor Society. Her studio gallery is at 7109 Olton Rd.

Your Health
Our Care

By Trina Wilson, RN
LOCKNEY—Diphtheria remains a serious, although rare, disease in the United States. About 5-10% of all diphtheria respiratory cases result in death. Most cases, both in adults and children occur in unimmunized or inadequately immunized persons. Adequate immunization is thought to protect for at least 10 years. Unfortunately, serological surveys performed in the United States during the 1980's indicate that many American adults do not have protective levels of antibodies against diphtheria in their blood.

The disease of diphtheria is marked by severe inflammation of the pharynx, and lungs as well as formation of a thick, fibrous sputum over the mucous membranes. This thick, fibrous sputum can cover the inside surface of the respiratory tract causing profound difficulty in breathing.

Diphtheria immunization, given in conjunction with the pertussis and tetanus toxoid vaccines, is administered at 2 months, 4 months, 6 months, and 15-18 months of age. A booster is given before the child enters kindergarten and additional boosters are recommended every ten years thereafter.

For more information about diphtheria and other vaccine preventable diseases, contact your family physician.

FHS Whirlwinds beat Friona, 74-70

By Bill Gray

WINDS 74, FRIONA 70
Rod Vela's 26 points led all scorers as Floydada closed out the first half of District 2-3A basketball action with a 74-70 victory at Friona on January 25. Floydada led the game from the opening tip, but the Chieftains kept it close all the way. The Whirlwinds held a 43-38 lead at intermission and were up by six after three quarters.

Vela was 50% from three-point range (5 of 10), and hit 5 of 6 two-point attempts. Brandon Gilliland was 7 of 10 from the floor and 4 of 6 from the charity line for 18 total points. Gilliland also pulled down 10 rebounds and handed out 4 assists. Tyrone Henderson knocked down 13 points and had 8 rebounds. Tate Glasscock had 8 assists as Floydada's backcourt reduced their turnovers. As a team, the 'Winds had 19 turnovers (several under their season average), and hit 54% of their field goal attempts.

DIMMITT 81, FLOYDADA 57

The Whirlwinds opened the second half of district play at Dimmitt on January 28, and ran into a much-improved Bobcat club. The Bobcats, always tough on their home floor jumped out to a 10-point first quarter lead and sailed by Floydada 81-57. With the victory Dimmitt improved to 13-11 (5-1 in district play), as the Whirlwinds fell to 10-11 for the year and 2-4 in district action.

Floydada's Tyrone Henderson led all scorers with 28 points as he hit 11 of 15 two-point attempts and was 2 of 6 from three-point range. Henderson also pulled down 8 rebounds and two assists. In spite of the tight Dimmitt defense, Henderson managed to shoot a very respectable 62% from the floor. Rod Vela was the only other Whirlwind in double figures, as he was 2 out of 6 from three-point range and hit two of 4 two-pointers for 10 points. Tate Glasscock added 9 points and 4 assists in the losing effort.

Dimmitt's Derek Thomas and Tate Crow each had 14 points to lead the Bobcats' balanced scoring attack. Dimmitt's only district loss was to Littlefield in the first half of 2-3A action. The Bobcats and the Tulia Hornets are expected to battle it out for the other post-season playoff spot behind league leader Littlefield. The 'Winds must win their remaining four district games in the second half to have a chance of gaining a playoff berth.

BILL'S NOTES

The Whirlwinds continue to play well at times, but have the misfortune this year of being in a strong 3A district. Littlefield is state-ranked and off to its best season in a while. The Wildcats have already replaced perennial champ Dimmitt as the top gun in the district.

Tulia also has the tools to knock off Dimmitt or Littlefield — so it's a three-way race the rest of the way. All the 'Winds can do is win out and hope for the top three to beat one another — to allow the 'Winds to capture a #2 seed for post-season play.

The Whirlwinds have some solid underclassmen coming along (Zach Abshier, Vernon Cooper and Pete Luna), and with another year of Coach Merket's system, could figure in the thick of things next season. The 'Winds are hitting 44% of their field goal attempts and 30% of their 3-point attempts as a team. Turnovers have hurt this year, but they've reduced some of those miscues in the last couple of games.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

In a short time, citizens will be allowed to vote absentee in the primaries. It is extremely important for everyone to cast informed votes in the statewide judicial races. These judges do make decisions that affect everyone. If anyone wants to know more about the judicial candidates, I will be glad to share what information I have or refer them to an agency with such information. Please vote.

Sincerely,
Becky McPherson

Dear Editor,

I wanted to write and compliment the men who were working on the highway between Floydada and Lockney. On my way to work Monday morning at 8:00, the men were already out working on the highway and they were still out working on the highway when I drove home at 5:30. Tuesday morning the highway was in great shape. At least one lane was clear the entire way, and both lanes were clear most of the way. The work they do is invaluable in saving lives and I certainly appreciate it.

Sincerely,
Becky McPherson

Dear Editor,

I came across an op-ed in your January 13 edition under my byline that nearly through me for a loop — until I realized it was a piece I put out almost two years ago — July 2, 1992 to be exact.

It's not that I don't appreciate you sharing my words, but the dusty file they came from could get all of us in a lot of trouble with readers misled by your mistake.

I certainly hope you will do all you can to quickly correct the oversight — and prevent another one in the future.

Sincerely,
Bob Bullock
Lieutenant Governor

(Editor's Note: The story was inadvertently picked for a file that should have been discarded long ago. I'm very sorry for the confusion. The story was on the Lockney school page and titled "Schools are due additional state aid because of growth in Texas economy.")

Dear Editor,

For many years now February has been declared National Heart Month. There are very few families in Floyd County that have not been somehow affected by heart and/or cardiovascular disease, and we have all benefited from the extensive research conducted by the American Heart Association.

As one of the volunteers with the Floyd County Division of the American Heart Association I want to encourage you to continue to support this important and life-saving research and education with your contributions and memorials. Together we really do make a difference.

Thank you to all the businesses and individuals who do the hard, time consuming work and to the Hesperian and radio station for the publicity.

A special thank-you should also be offered to the First National Bank of Floydada for sponsoring its free weekly blood pressure clinic. If you have not had your blood pressure checked lately, you should take advantage of this opportunity. And if you are among those who need this monitored often, how about stopping by the lobby to tell the officers and employees how much you appreciate their effort?

Please remember February with an act that will not only help others, but will make your own heart feel better.

Thank you,
Deen Braly

Dear Editor,

The nursing staff, physicians, and other employees of Crosbyton Clinic Hospital are deeply saddened over the loss of one of their friends and fellow employees, Penny Womack. Penny was killed in a motor vehicle accident early Sunday a.m. in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Penny lived in Floydada and had worked as an RN in the Crosbyton Hospital since April of 1993.

In that short period of time Penny made a lasting impression on everyone around her. Penny was a favorite of the nursing staff, physicians, and the patients. She was always so warm and cheerful and always smiling. She was loved by everyone who knew and worked with her. Penny was one of the warmest, most congenial, most understanding and most pleasant persons we've ever worked with.

Her warm and caring attitude was only exceeded by her excellent nursing skills. She was well liked and respected by all the physicians, having been one of the most efficient and most competent R.N.'s this hospital has ever had.

There are no words to describe our heartfelt sadness. Our condolences go out to Penny's family and loved ones. She will always have a special place in the hearts of everyone having known her.

several months in Hawaii as post-exchange manager, the job he also held later in Okinawa. While in Okinawa he opened shop in a tent for sewing and alterations in addition to his post-exchange work.

He came home from overseas December 21, 1945 and within three weeks had opened his own dry cleaning shop in what was the Rose building at the corner of Main and Locust Streets.

In 1948 the Browns, Claude and Wilma bought a 12 foot wide building of their own, which is the original part of their current building (at 106 N. Main). They moved the dry cleaning operation to the rear of the store and started their men's retailing business at the front of the store.

Claude's first order of merchandise was $66.00 worth of Argyle socks. "I figured Claude would be wearing all those socks for a long time," laughed Wilma, "but they sold".

"I remember right after I put the socks on display," said Claude. "Joe Cunyus was walking by and saw the socks. He said they sure were pretty but he just didn't have the money right then. I told him I would charge it. He took the socks. Joe has told me that was the first thing he ever charged." Cunyus has had an account with Brown's ever since.

All the socks sold and the retail business was on its way.

The store's stock of clothing grew and so did the building. Approximately 5 years after opening the doors of their small dry cleaning and mens' clothier business the Browns expanded their shop to the north and added more men's clothing. In 1956 the Browns opened another store featuring men's, women's and children's clothing, fabrics and jewelry. This store was located in the building on Main Street which currently houses the pool hall.

Wanting to combine all of their businesses under one roof, the Browns moved their department store, in 1960, out of the old building and into their current location which had been the Woffords Sucker Rod factory building. The Woffords building had been connected to their dry cleaning business.

Brown's was expanded to the south side and now included under one roof—dry cleaning, fabrics, shoes and men's, women's, and children's clothing. A grand opening day for the newly remodeled and expanded business featured a special edition in the Lockney Beacon on September 29, 1960 and a live radio broadcast all day long on grand opening day, September 30.

It was in 1960 that the Browns also purchased the old Lockney Drug Store, at 103 S. Main, and renamed it "The Outlet Store." Seasonal merchandise which had been marked down were moved into the Outlet Store.

The dry cleaning operation of Brown's was stopped in 1980, however Brown's Department Store and The Outlet Store have continued to thrive.

The Outlet Store and Brown's Department Store have stayed in their same location since 1960. For those who get confused as to the original site of the store, just remember that the front door which enters the menswear is the original door to Brown's Dry Cleaning and Clothier.

and is currently the Chairman of the Hospital Board. Claude is also currently on the Board of Directors for the First National Bank in Lockney and is Chairman of the Lockney Housing Authority.

The Browns have also been assisted in their business by their daughter, Ann Race, who has served as bookkeeper. "Ann was three years old when we went into business," said Wilma. "She has always been a part of the store and helped us out."

Ann is married to Bill Race, who farms and helps in the store when needed. They have two sons, Randy, who farms, and Karl Race, a band director at Slaton.

Claude remembers the days of retail businesses thriving in downtown Lockney and he also knows how hard it will be for the community and for him and Wilma to say good-bye to the store. There have been plenty of tears shed by friends and customers stopping in to shop for the last time—saying good-bye to the Browns and one more retail store leaving Main Street.

"When we opened in 1960 we had people all over this store," said Claude. "The area was 'thicker settled', with six families living and working one farm. Over the years families have had to leave because it only takes one family to work a farm now."

There was a time when there were no empty stores in Lockney. As the businesses left—so did the people. Stores such as Wal-Mart move in and smaller businesses are run out."

"We used to have a very localized business," said Wilma. "The business is now more widespread. We have customers from Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Matador, Roaring Springs, Quitaque and Turkey to name a few—especially to our sales."

"I remember a coach from Lamesa that moved to Lockney. He told us he knew a man from Lockney who had told him that there were two things he would have to do when he came to town—one was beat Floydada and the other was shop Brown's sales!"

That coach learned what any newcomer to the area learned very quickly—don't miss Brown's sales. The semi-annual event in January and July brought eager shoppers creating large lines outside the sidewalk, waiting for the doors to open. Most people also remember the lack of parking spaces on opening sale day. Cars would be parked on both sides of the street and wrapped around the block.

The community has possibly taken the Browns' and their store for granted—assuming they would always be a part of downtown Lockney. Claude has been a familiar sight in his neatly tailored suits, sweeping the sidewalks and washing the storefront windows. It is a sight that will be greatly missed.

"We aren't closing because of a lack of business," said Wilma. "It's just time for us to retire. We don't have any big plans except that we will be free to do what we want."

They've certainly earned the right to do just that.

Better Business Bureau warns against misleading testimonials

By Nan Campbell, President
BBB of the South Plains, Inc.

The Better Business Bureau warns consumers not to fall prey to misleading or confusing advertising that uses glowing testimonials from "questionable" users of products and services that promise anything from "losing weight while you sleep" to "doubling your investment overnight."

A testimonial can be any advertising message that reflects the opinions, beliefs, findings or experience of a party other than the sponsoring advertiser. In cases involving dubious products and services, advertisers may intentionally use testimonials to confuse or mislead, often through vague statements or exaggerated claims by endorsers who are not easily identifiable.

One large source of testimonial advertising is television infomercials. Although many viewers don't realize it, the studio audience in some product infomercials, whose members seemingly spontaneously tout the product's virtues, are paid by the advertisers to attend the tapings. To sort it all out, ask lots of questions before you buy.

Often, the BBB staff is asked, "What does the BBB do?"

Your Better Business Bureau exists to provide services to consumers and businesses, such as investigating background information on companies giving reliability reports; acting as a mediator in complaint situations; giving general advice based on past experience; administering specialized programs such as Auto Line and BBB CARE; educating the public and arming them with information for making intelligent buying decisions; providing donors about local and national charities; monitoring advertising and selling practices; cooperating with and assisting local, state and federal agencies on various schemes and frauds; as well as disseminating information through the South Plains media.

The BBB exists because our local businesses believe they can regulate themselves more effectively than can the government. If you have a question or concern about a marketplace practice or simply wish to get a reliability report on a business before making a purchase, call the BBB at 763-0459.

Four hundred from across high plains attend Caprock Cotton Conference

By Shawn Wade
The 1994 Caprock Cotton Conference further solidified a reputation for excellence during its January 25-26 run in Crosbyton. According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, the meeting attracted cotton people from across the High Plains. Attendance estimates indicate well over 400 people were at the event.

Attendees were provided a wealth of information ranging from legislative and regulatory updates to reports on new production and management strategies.

Among the speakers present for the event were United States Department of Agriculture Deputy Secretary Richard Rominger, TDA Commissioner Rick Perry, and Commissioner Peggy Garner of the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission. Also addressing the meeting were High Plains Extension Cotton Specialist Kater Hake, Texas Extension Cotton Specialist James Supak, and other researchers from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock.

On the production side of the two-day program, producers heard the results of cotton variety and management system tests conducted across the High Plains region. They also learned about some of the newest irrigation and insect management strategies being developed and refined to increase their production potential.

PCG officials say producers were able to "get a feel" for the issues that face them in 1995 and beyond, especially during the discussions on topics such as the reorganization of the USDA, development of a 1995 Farm Bill and how environmental mandates will affect future production practices.

"The information provided to producers during the Caprock Cotton Conference was outstanding," notes PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "One of the best ways to avoid the potential pitfalls associated with issues like the reorganization of USDA and the 1995 Farm Bill is to inform producers and get them involved in the effort to avert potential threats to their business."

Johnson encourages producers to do what they can, either through an organization such as PCG or on their own. He adds that the key is getting involved.

The yearly process of selecting members to serve on the Plains Cotton Growers Board of Directors is now underway according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers. High Plains cotton producers will elect members to the PCG Board at county meetings to be held during the months of February and March.

The 50-person PCG Board is made up of two elected representatives from each of PCG's 25 counties, one a producer and one representing agribusiness, elected on alternate years for two year terms.

In 1994 PCG members from the 25 county High Plains area will elect Business directors to the PCG Board. The only exceptions to this are Hale and Swisher counties where Producer directors will be elected.

Under PCG By-Laws only current dues-paying members are eligible to vote in the elections or be elected directors to the organization. Information about county meetings can be obtained by contacting the PCG office in Lubbock at 806-792-4904.

Greenbug identification given

By David Kostroun
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)
Crosby/Floyd Counties

With the dry conditions we are currently facing, wheat needs all the help and protection it can get. Several species of aphids can attack wheat and cause significant yield loss. Wheat producers should be able to determine different species, and should be aware of the differences in the damage they can cause.

Greenbugs are pale green, approximately 1/16-inch long, and have a characteristic dark green stripe running lengthwise down the center of the back. The tips of the feet, antennae, and cornicles (tailpipes) are black. They can develop in large numbers under favorable conditions and may cause economic losses. Greenbugs inject a toxin while feeding that causes red spotting, and an eventual yellowing of leaf tissue.

The first appearance of the Russian Wheat Aphid (RWA) in the U.S. occurred in March, 1986 in the Texas High Plains. It has since extended its range throughout the Great Plains, into Canada and west to California. The RWA is relatively small, lime-green in color, with an elongated, spindle-shaped body. It is easily distinguished from other aphids by relatively short antennae, a projection above the cauda (tail) which gives it a "double tail" appearance when viewed from the side, and the absence of prominent cornicles. The RWA injects a potent toxin into the plant. Injured plants exhibit white or purple longitudinal streaks. Flattened plants and tightly rolled leaves are additional symptoms of RWA feeding damage. They exist in higher numbers and cause more damage in small grains that are stressed.

Bird cherry-oat aphids are particularly abundant on small grains in Texas. They are yellowish-green and characterized by a normally prominent reddish-orange spot on the back end. This aphid often occurs during the time greenbugs may be present. Control of the bird cherry-oat aphid is seldom required.

English grain aphids are green to bright green in color with black legs and antennae. This aphid can cause crop damage, but economic yield losses seldom can be attributed to the English grain aphid.

If you are experiencing problems with aphids (particularly RWA) and have further questions, contact the Extension Entomology office at 675-2426.

PCG business director to be named at Tuesday breakfast

—From PCG, Inc.

Floyd County cotton producers and agribusiness representatives will elect a Business Director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a 7:00 a.m. breakfast meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 8, at Janie's Restaurant in Lockney.

Announcement of the election comes from Dan B. Smith of Lockney, Floyd County Producer Director to the 25-county cotton organization, and Steve Lloyd of Floydada, current Business Director.

Each county in PCG's service area has two directors, one a business person and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years for two-year terms. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

All producers and business people are invited to the meeting. However, under PCG By-Laws, only current dues-paying members of PCG will be eligible to be elected a director or to vote in the election. This provision of the by-laws will be fully explained at the meeting.

A PCG representative will conduct the election, review and answer questions about recent and planned PCG activities.

Producers hear Cotton, Inc. report on funding program

By Shawn Wade

Producers and researchers got together Thursday, January 20, at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock to hear progress reports on projects funded through the State Support Program of Cotton Incorporated (CI) and the Texas State Support Committee (TSSC).

According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) the CI program was set up to provide 5 percent of CI's annual operating budget to producers in cotton belt states to fund cotton related research and promotion activities.

Projects presented for review during the day-long meeting received funding in 1993 through the TSSC. A total of 25 projects were reviewed that seek to find answers to a number of important questions facing the cotton industry.

Reports were presented on projects ranging from efforts to improve gossypol from cottonseed to developing improved pest management and cultural strategies for cotton production.

TSSC Vice Chairman Larry Nelson, a cotton producer and ginner from Edmonson, Texas, notes that several of these projects were also approved by the committee for further funding in 1994 and are therefore only partially complete. He adds that TSSC members will be meeting in the near future to select projects for 1995.

Funding requests totaling close to $600,000 were approved for 1994. Of that total $160,000 will fund projects specific to the High Plains and $340,000 will go to projects of interest statewide. The remaining funds will be divided among other cotton production regions to fund additional regional projects.

Gossypol-free cottonseed

If science can find a way to eliminate a toxic pigment called gossypol from cottonseed, then the market for cottonseed will expand tremendously. Dr. Gay Jividen of Cotton Incorporated says microbes are now being studied that can neutralize the toxic pigment.

"We're in the process of taking out the genetic materials that breaks down this gossypol, then we're going to put it into cottonseed by using a gene implant system." These altered seeds will then be made available to breeders around the country.

Cottonseed without gossypol could be used not only for cattle feed, but for chickens, hogs and other livestock, and maybe even for human consumption. Jividen says it could have many food processing uses. "For example, cottonseed can pick up artificial or natural flavors that you wish to enhance, so you could have cottonseed that tastes like pistachio or almond or walnut. It's a very adaptable seed and has a good mouth feel, so it makes a good product."

Jividen says gossypol-free cotton plants will still have glands, which some farmers prefer, because they help with insect resistance. In fact, he says farmers won't be able to tell any difference in their cotton crop, just an increase in its profit potential.

Denim continues to fuel cotton business

The denim business remained strong at retail. For the first nine months of 1993, sales of denim jeans gained 11.9 percent. Denim sales continue to outpace the overall apparel market and to meet demand, denim production for 1993 is expected to reach one billion square yards, up from 930 million in 1992. To keep interest in denim high, many manufacturers are expanding their lines to include midweight and lightweight denim skirts, shirts, dresses and other sportswear items.
